Steele goes out winner as Red wins Brazos Bowl

KNOX CITY -Former Knox City coach Charles Steele got to taste victory one more time here at Greyhound Stadium Saturday night, serving as the defensive coordinator for the Red team, which scored a 44-20 victory over the Blue in the fourth annual Bra-

Steele, who will coach at Covington this fall, didn't waste a lot of time talking about the score, however.

"The most important thing about this all-star game is it allows many kids the last chance to play football and gives their parents and coaches one last time to see them put on pads," he said.

Court rules against pro-life law

Special to The News-Courier

WASHINGTON, DC-The Supreme Court reversed part of a pro-life Texas law that protects women's health and has also saved the lives of thousands of unborn children and closed abortion clinics that can't ensure adequate protection for women.

The high court ruled 5-3 against the Texas pro-life law with Justice Stephen Breyer writing the decision. Justices Anthony Kennedy, Ruth Bader Ginsburg, Sonia John Roberts and Justices of Texas' pro-life omni- are protected."

Samuel Alito and Clarence Thomas dissented.

Breyer's majority opinion for the court held that the regulations are medically unnecessary and unconstitutionally limit a woman's right to an abortion.

The ruling is the most significant decision by the court on abortion in two decades and could serve to deter other states from passing

Tie vote deals Obama legal defeat

Special to The News-Courier

WASHINGTON, DC- President Barack Obama suffered the biggest legal defeat of his administration last week when a deadlocked Supreme Court failed to revive his stalled plan to shield millions of undocumented immigrants from deportation and give them the right to work legally in the United States.

While the justices' votes were not announced, the court's liberals and conservatives split at oral argument earlier this spring and likely voted that way. The tie means that a lower court's decision that the president probably exceeded his powers in issuing the executive action keeps the plan from being implemented.

The court's decision crushed the hopes of dancers earn awa

MUNDAY-Eight of the Movement Space Company dancers were awarded All-American awards and have been invited to perform in the Buffalo Wild Wings Citrus Bowl, scheduled Dec. 31 at the Camping World Stadium in Orlando. Included were Tess Decker, Madison Edgar, Kayla Jo Hunter, Kristen Kuehler, Karsyn Sanders, Kendall Thompson and Bergen Waters.

The dancers took part in a recent three-day workshop, taught by instructors of the MA Dance in Dallas, learning new choreography, experienced technique classes, were evaluated on their performances and enjoyed team building experiences, according to Cori Corcoran.

The dance company has started rehearsing for the regional and national dance competition, scheduled July 6-10 in Arlington.

Spiritual application to questions

For several days Doug Greenway was repeatedly asked four questions to assess his condition. He writes: "I had brain surgery on December 11 and spent four nights in the ICU. Every 30 minutes one of the nurses would come in and ask what I thought were dumb questions. They knew I was having blood pressure problems from the surgery and did not want to miss it if I began to decline mentally." The four questions were:

Can you tell me your name? Do you know where you are? Do you know why you are here?

Can you give me a "thumbs up"? Consider some spiritual applications of these basic questions:

Can you tell me your name? Who are you? Your ability to recall your name can be an indicator of your health, but it's your identity in relation to Christ that is most important. For "salvation is found in no one else, for there is no other name under heaven given to men by which we must be saved" (Acts 4:12). Only through Jesus can we be saved (John 14:6).

Do you know where you are? Are you "in" or "outside" of Christ? In Christ is found every spiritual blessing (Ephesians 1:3). Outside of Christ there is no hope (Ephesians 2:12). Penitent believers are baptized into Christ (Acts 2:38; Galatians 3:26-27). Are you in Christ? Are you following Him faithfully?

Do you know why you are here? People have sought to answer that question in a myriad of ways since the world began. The correct answer is: we are here to glorify the God who made us. "Therefore, whether you eat or drink, or whatever you do, do all to the glory of God" (1 Corinthians 10:31). We glorify God by being a Christian, a Christ-follower (1 Peter 4:16).

Can you give me a "thumbs up"? Are you doing well in living by God's priorities? The apostle Paul gave a "thumbs up" near the end of his life: "For I am already being poured out as a drink offering, and the time of my departure is at hand. I have fought the good fight, I have finished the race, I have kept the faith. Finally, there is laid up for me the crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous Judge, will give to me on that Day, and not to me only but also to all who have loved His appearing" (2 Timothy 4:6-8). It is through the gift of Jesus that we understand what life is all about and how to receive eternal life through Him. (copied)

U-boat beer runs to Alabama

German U-boats sank ships in the Gulf of Mexico? Who knew?

They didn't teach us that in school.

Now I'm a semi-expert, having just watched a documentary on the 1942 sinking of U-166 off the Louisiana coast, shots of the wreckage included.

I first

about

U-boats

Gulf circa 1975,

HANABA WELCH Alabama

me the Germans took their subs into Mobile Bay. I was shocked, like Aunt Pittypat when she heard Yankees were approaching Atlanta:

"Yankees in Georgia?! How did they ever get in?" At least I think it was Anyway, my friend -Georgia, by name - told me not only that U-boats were in Mobile Bay but also that German submariners came ashore!

Georgia got her information firsthand from her father (deceased by then), who was too old to enlist when World War II began but who was not too old to note the German presence on his home beach.

The best part of Georgia's father's story is what the Germans did when they set foot on Alabama soil. He said they'd walk into a bar and order a beer.

Well, why not? Bier or beer, it's what any U-boater would want to drink after crossing the Atlantic and much of the Gulf and Mobile Bay. Right?

I filed away the believeit-or-not story in a specific corner of my brain, leaning toward believing it because Georgia did.

As for her dad, seems he was a merchant marine who'd traveled to some exotic places in his day. He told Georgia about his adventures while he sat and smoked unfiltered Camels - or maybe it was Chesterfields -- discarding the butts in the tall brass shell of a vintage projectile that stood by his easy chair in their little house tucked back in the pines near Loxley, a little town just 15 miles inland on the east side of Mobile Bay.

In 1942, the area must have been rustic. Even in the mid-70s, when Georgia took me crabbing there, the atmosphere was laid-back on that shore, far from Mobile across the Bay. If you wanted to sneak onto land from a U-boat by the dark of the moon, better to aim for the environs of Fair Hope near Loxley - not Mobile and its big shipyards.

When I learned only recently that the Nazis sent two spies ashore in rural Maine from a U-boat, I began to think again about Georgia's story. Why not Mobile Bay? Upgrade those thirsty submariners to spies. It's time for another PBS documentary.

But how could visiting beer-drinking Germans have gone virtually unnoticed? Maybe the regulars in the shoreline dives didn't waste second glances on strangers who didn't cause trouble. The bartender, more astute, must have shared his observations with Georgia's world-wise dad.

But what to do? Summon the FBI to nab the suspicious guy in the corner? Yeah, right.

They were left to take the Scarlett O'Hara approach:

"I'll think about that tomorrow."

And no doubt they did.

DPS encourages safe driving during 4th

Special to The News-Courier

AUSTIN - The Texas Department of Public Safety (DPS) is encouraging Texans to make safe driving practices a priority during the July Fourth holiday weekend. From July 1 -July 4, DPS Troopers will join law enforcement from across the state in looking for drunk drivers, and speeding, seat belt and other traffic violators.

"DPS is calling on Texans to help keep our roadways and communities safe by celebrating responsibly and using extra caution during Independence Day festivities," said DPS Director Steven McCraw. "During the holiday weekend, Troopers will be on the lookout for impaired and dangerous drivers; and anyone who plans to drink alcohol should also plan to take alternate transportation or designate a sober driver."

During the 2015 Fourth of July enforcement period, DPS Troopers made 496 DWI arrests, and issued 7,211 speeding citations, 1,156 seat belt/ child safety seat citations and 1,007 no insurance citations. In addition, Troopers made 268 fugitive arrests and 187 felony

According to the Texas Department of Transportation, in 2015, 960 people were killed in motor vehicle traffic crashes where a driver was under the influence of alcohol, accounting for 27 percent of the total number of last year's traffic fatalities.

DPS offers the following tips for a safe July Fourth holiday: Do not drink and drive.

Slow down - especially in bad weather, construction areas, traffic and unfamiliar areas.

Monitor weather conditions. In the event of inclement weather, avoid high water and use extra caution on roadways.

Eliminate distractions while driving, including the use of mobile devices.

Buckle up everyone in the vehicle - it's the law ... "Click It or Ticket." Be careful when driving off road since hot catalytic converters can ignite dry vegetation. Do not use personal fireworks - attend sanctioned, professional displays instead.

Never toss a cigarette out of a car window.

I believe summertime has arrived! The days are certainly warmer, and it really doesn't get too cool at night. But it is late June, and July and August are just ahead, so I doubt if there will be very many cool days for several weeks. It was a little cloudy earlier in the week with a small chance of showers. That would be nice!

News of our friends on the "not feeling well" list is much as it has been.

Carol Dickson was in Houston for a checkup last week, and according to her sister, Thelma Burt, she is not feeling too well right now. I haven't talked to Carol in a while. Dick is doing much, much better since his stay in the hospital a while back. He's out and about more and getting his strength back, and that's great news.

Dennis Duke says he's feeling lots better. He still has some problems the doctors are keeping up with, but he, too, is out and doing things much like he always has. He did say last week that he usually doesn't like office work, but lately has found himself working in his office at home quite a bit. Do you suppose the heat may fit into that mix somewhere? I imagine it does.

Just remember, as I always say, to keep these friends and everyone else with problems in your prayers.

The birthday was my 80th, and after that wonderful get together, I decided 80 is not so bad after all. Cake, punch, nuts, and mints were served the guests, and lots of visiting (with many stories shared about me) took place. It was a wonderful afternoon—one I'll never forget. Happy Fourth of July, have a wonderful holiday weekend. Many of you will be having gatherings or going on picnics. I think I'll be cooking on the grill. Hamburgers and hot dogs. I know, sounds boring. I happen to love hamburgers and hot dogs, besides what foods are more American? The side dishes and desserts are equally important. This week I have something red, white and blue, perfect for gatherings or taking on picnics to go with whatever main course you choose. Have a wonderful and safe holiday, remember why we are blessed to be able to celebrate on this day. Until next time, love to you all.

you all.

STEPHENVILLE-While others spent time at the beach, pool or simply hanging out with friends, Knox County students learned about business and free enterprise. Kendall Thompson and Kristen Kuehler of Munday attended this year's Texas Farm Bureau (TFB) Youth Leadership Conference (YLC) here at Tarleton State University to gain a leg-up in the path to their dreams.

"YLC is an excellent opportunity for students to learn about the Free Enterprise Speech Contest, how our nation operates and develop valuable leadership skills that will last a lifetime," Tyler Thompson, Knox County Farm Bureau president, said "We're proud Kendall and Kristen were able to attend on behalf of Knox County and bring back the many lessons they've learned."

The annual conference helps students network and evaluate their ideas and abilities.

"For more than 50 years YLC has instilled patriotism responsibility and leadership in students from across Texas,' Thompson said. "It prepares them for the next stage of life and ensures a better Texas for both today and tomorrow."

Students who attend YLC are eligible to enter TFB's Free Enterprise Speech Contest in the fall.

The contest allows students to earn scholarships by sharing his/her knowledge about the free enterprise system learned at YLC. Information about both YLC and the Free Enterprise Speech Contest are available under the "Youth' tab at www.TexasFarmBureau.org.

Acreage reporting deadline July 15

Special to The News-Courier

KNOX CITY -Knox County USDA Farm Service Agency (FSA) Executive Director Nancy Birkenfeld announced that producers who file accurate and timely reports for all crops and land uses, including failed acreage can prevent the potential loss of FSA program benefits.

Please pay close attention to the acreage reporting dates below for 2016.

"In order to comply with FSA program eligibility requirements, all producers are encouraged to visit the Knox County FSA office to file an accurate crop certification report by the applicable deadline," said Birkenfeld.

The following acreage reporting dates are applicable for Knox County:

July 15: all spring seeded crops including, but not limited to cotton, corn, grain sorghum, sesame, guar, sunflowers, sorghum forage (hay grazer) and CRP acreage

The following exceptions apply to the above acreage reporting dates:

If the crop has not been planted by the above acreage reporting date, then the acreage must be reported no later than 15 calendar days after planting is completed.

If a producer acquires additional acreage after the above acreage reporting date, then the acreage must be reported no later than 30 calendars days after purchase or acquiring themlease. Appropriate documentation must be provided to the county office.

If a perennial forage crop is reported with the intended use of "cover only," "green manure,""left standing," or "seed" then the acreage must be reported by July 15.

According to Birkenfeld, Noninsured Crop Disaster Assistance Program (NAP) policy holdersshould note that the acreage reporting date for NAP covered crops is the earlier of the dates listed mabove or 15 calendar days before grazing or harvesting of the crop begins.

For questions regarding crop certification and crop loss reports, please contact the Knox Countym FSA office at 940 658-3537 Ext 2.

obviously didn't take the necessary preventive measures of using sunscreen.

Since doctors say only about 29 percent of women and 14 percent of men regularly use sunscreen, I thought it would be worth reminding everyone on some tips to avoid getting sun burn.

A sunscreen's sun protection factor (SPF) indicates the strength of its protection against UVB rays and the length of time you spend out in the sun. SPF 30 is the minimum that doctors recommend, allowing about 10 hours of protection. SPF 50 allows about 16 hours. However, after SPF 50 the increased protection is negligible and might give you a false sense of security. Dermatologists do recommend reapplying ever couple of hours because sunscreens do break

Make sure to use sunscreens that have broad spectrum on the label as they will also guard against UVA rays, the ones that penetrate deeper and are to blame for aging wrinkles.

When swimming or even near the water, make sure to use water-resistant sunscreen, but also don't forget to reapply. I learned this lesson once in Hawaii when my ankles got burned really bad.

Make sure you apply enough. Dermatologists recommend a one-ounce amount for good coverage of most bodies and a nickel-size dollop for

"Our Spring Market for FSA

WASHINGTON, DC -The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) announced that the nomination period for farmers and ranchers to serve on local Farm Service Agency (FSA)county committees has started.

"Through the county committees, farmers and ranchers have a voice. Their opinions and ideas get to be heard on federal farm programs," said FSA Administrator Val Dolcini. "I encourage all eligible farmers and ranchers across the spectrum of American agriculture, to get involved in this year's elections. We have seen an increase in the number of qualified nominees, especially among women and minorities, and I hope that trend continues."

To be eligible to serve on a FSA county committee, a person must participate or cooperate in an FSA administered program, be eligible to vote in a county committee election and reside in the local administrative area where they are nominated.

Farmers and ranchers may nominate themselves or others. Organizations representing minorities and women also may nominate candidates. To become a candidate, an eligible individual must sign an FSA-669A nomination form. The form and other information about FSA county committee elections are available at www.fsa.usda. gov/elections.

2016 nomination forms must be postmarked or received in the local USDA Service Center by close of business on Aug. 1.

FSA will mail election ballots to eligible voters beginning Nov. 7, 2016.

Ballots must be returned to the local county office via mail or in person by Dec. 5, 2016. Newly-elected committee members and alternates will take office on Jan. 1,2017.
