Allies Pledge Unified Peace Program, Promise Retribution For Atrocities

Allies Seize Teano In Flanking Move; Nazis Reel Along Crimea Escape Roads

British Capture Town In Center Of German Line

Other Gains Made Despite Furious Enemy Resistance

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, ALGIERS (AP)—The Allied Fifth Army seized Teano, control point to important roads flanking the enemy's Massico Ridge...

With equally steady progress, the Eighth Army smashed through the mountains to capture the villages of Cantalupo—the Town of the Singing Wolf—along with Machiagodena and Frolose, with this advance placed Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's warriors within nine miles of Isernia, central bastion of the German mountain line.

American Gains Between these two sectors American troops performed one of the campaign's most spectacular single day achievements when they advanced five miles through mountain slopes to seize Vallegricola, a citadel perched on a 2,000-foot hill...

A military commentator said reaching this objective would have been "hard enough for an ordinary peace-time Sunday afternoon walk," but the Americans covered the distance in the face of intense enemy artillery mortar and machinegun fire...

Gen. Mark W. Clark's troops wasted no time in capitalizing on the success of the vital road center fanned out swiftly to the east and northwest to cut highways piercing the German defense lines to the North-Asio Ridge.

Gen. Montgomery's Eighth Army pushed the high ground on both sides of the road that runs from Isernia and thence to Rome.

These veterans slugged through bitter resistance to capture Cantalupo, nine miles from Isernia and on the southwest side of the road, in a three-mile drive.

Macchiagodena, the same distance southeast of Isernia, is on the northeast side of the road and was taken in an advance of a mile and a half.

Further to the northeast, Frolose, log fell to units of the Third Army's Tenth Army, which established themselves 12 miles from Isernia.

Nazis Tell People Allied Preparations For Large-Scale Invasion Now Are In Progress

LONDON (AP)—With the Nazi home front already disturbed by a new wave of semi-official invasion alarms, a German broadcast Monday warned its listeners in the Reich that "Allied preparations for amphibious operations on a grand and versatile scale" now are in progress.

The broadcast by DNB, German news agency, specifically cited a new American landing device—and amphibious 12-man glider—which it said was able to land on the sea off the coast to establish swift invasion beachheads.

British newspapers played up heavily the German invasion scare, notably Berlin's assertion that huge forces of Allied ships, troops and planes are massing in Southern England, Corsica and Gibraltar for a "double-barreled smash into Hitler's European fortress."

DNB reported from Algiers, Spain, that an American convoy left Gibraltar with North American troops for its destination at the weekend and added this curious admission, "the convoy sailed without escort. Nothing is known for the reason of this unusual sailing." This seemed to be a backhanded acknowledgment of the Allied claim to control over waters of the Mediterranean.

More to their concern, a number of cargo and troop ships apparently destined for Choiseul, or possibly little Treasury (Mono) Island nearby which was invaded on Wednesday, were destroyed or damaged by Adm. William F. Halsey's bombers.

On Treasury Island the New Zealanders continued their advance toward Mars, wiping out pockets of resistance.

Russian forces storming into Novo-Alexeyevka, about 40 miles east of the Perekop land bridge, had already cut the only other railway line leading out of the Crimea, and the capture of more than 200 settlements between the Dnieper and the Crimea put the Red Army virtually in position of the entire Novorossiysk Steppe.

It is questionable how desperate a defense the Nazis can put up for the Crimea. They had a strong defense line from Zaporozhe through Melitopol to the Sea of Azov, but the Russians cracked it. The Germans had prepared for this by erecting lighter, but impressive, lines behind this one. These too fell and with their crumbling the Red Army ran roughshod over the fleeing Germans.

Residents of every home in Middleburg were called upon to give to the fund which combine the efforts of the USO and 16 other war-related agencies and which will administer to the needs on the military front, the United Nations front and the home front.

Reports Are Optimistic Mrs. Fred H. Fuhrman, chairman of the drive in the residential sections, said the canvass would be completed as early in the week as possible and that results will be announced as soon as figures are compiled.

Fourteen team captains are directing the drive in as many sections of the city. Early reports indicated the workers were meeting with success in their efforts to reach Midland's quota of $15,000.

The campaign in the downtown district will start early Tuesday when 20 businessmen will call on every firm, employer and employee, urging all to give liberally to the war fund. Percy J. Mims and T. Paul Barron are co-chairman of the drive in the business area. Supplies have been distributed to the workers.

Meanwhile, members of the special gifts committee, composed of Tom N. Sloan, chairman; Mayor A. N. Hendrickson and Frank Cowden, continued their solicitations among larger donors of the county. Workers hope to reach the record quota by the end of the week. Persons missed in the drive may leave their contributions at the Chamber of Commerce.

MORGENTHAU RETURNS WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary Morgenthau returned to the Treasury Monday after a three week tour of Mediterranean battle fronts to discuss fiscal problems with Allied military leaders.

Rabaul Battered In Massive Raid; Allies Are Battling Japs On Choiseul

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC (AP)—Rabaul staggered Monday under another massive bombing, while to the south, American and New Zealand troops were locked in battle with the Japanese for possession of Choiseul Island.

Vanataneu airfield at the important New Britain airbase took a 15-ton bombing from high flying heavy bombers and fighters Friday, General Douglas MacArthur announced.

Forty-five Japanese planes were destroyed, 25 of them in combat. This brought to 820 the October total of enemy aircraft destroyed for certain in this war theater.

Four Allied planes were acknowledged lost. Japanese camouflaged troops who landed at two points on Choiseul Thursday morning met enemy resistance the next evening

Slav Guerrillas Repelling Heavy German Attacks LONDON (AP)—Gen. Josip (Tito) Broz' red-starred guerrillas are repelling heavy German infantry attacks near Kolasin and Beral in the interior of Montenegro, an Army of Liberation communique said Monday.

The communique, broadcast by the Free Yugoslav Radio, reported an outbreak of fighting between units of Tito's Fifth Division and forces of the Puppet Field Marshal Milan Nedic and Yugoslav War Minister Draza Mihalic near Pribor on the Serbian-Bosnian frontier. "The enemy is suffering heavy losses," said the communique.

It added that "archives of the so-called 'Vlastibor Chetnik Brigade' had been captured along with three freight cars and quantities of war materials by partisan units operating in Serbia.

An earlier communique reported that the combined forces of Tito and Albanian guerrillas, coordinating their offensives on the Albanian border, had captured the Yugoslav town of Debar, near the Albanian border.

United War Fund Campaign Swings Into High Gear Urging citizens to "Take A Texan's Share," more than 100 women workers launched Midland's United War Chest campaign in the residential districts early Monday.

Residents of every home in Middleburg were called upon to give to the fund which combine the efforts of the USO and 16 other war-related agencies and which will administer to the needs on the military front, the United Nations front and the home front.

Russians Block Only Railroad From Peninsula

Nazis Attempting To Flee Death Trap Bombed Unmercifully

MOSCOW (AP)—The Germans were reeling back in utter confusion Monday along choked retreat roads above the Crimea as the Russians' Fourth Ukraine Army battered its way to within eight miles of the last rail exit from the peninsula.

With the Russians driving toward the Crimea over a broad front, it now is impossible for the Germans to evacuate large forces any longer by the only railway, which runs up the Perekop Isthmus, only four miles wide at its narrowest point, to Kherson on the Lower Dnieper River.

Railway Almost Useless The railway, which the Russians brought within easy artillery range Saturday with the capture of Chanklinka, has become virtually useless to the Germans as a line of communication by day and in another 24 hours it should be severed.

Nazi troop concentrations and transport columns attempting to flee the death trap were being pounded endlessly by the Red Air Force.

Seizure of Novo Troitskoe also gave the Red Army strong central positions for operations westward toward the Perekop-Kherson railway.

200 Places Taken Russian forces storming into Novo-Alexeyevka, about 40 miles east of the Perekop land bridge, had already cut the only other railway line leading out of the Crimea, and the capture of more than 200 settlements between the Dnieper and the Crimea put the Red Army virtually in position of the entire Novorossiysk Steppe.

Increase In Postal Rate Gets Approval Of House Committee

WASHINGTON (AP)—An increase from three to four cents in charges on out of town letters was voted Monday by the House ways and means committee.

The revenue group previously had raised the local letter rate from two to three cents.

The committee decided to cut back the air mail rate from a tentatively approved 10 cents to 8 cents. The present rate is six cents.

The committee also decided there shall be no postage rate increases on newspapers and church and religious publications, but doubled all other second-class postal charges.

Survey Indicates Almost Complete Production Halt

Strikers Awaiting Developments From Committee Meeting

By The Associated Press The vast bulk of the nation's 374,000 soft coal miners laid down their tools Monday to await fresh developments in the long-drawn-out dispute over a new working contract.

An early morning survey showed virtually complete shutdowns of operations in West Virginia and Pennsylvania, each having about 110,000 bituminous workers. Similarly, Ohio reported all of its mines closed and about 21,000 idle. Indiana production had about stopped, with 7,000 out.

Policy Group Meets These reports came in as members of the United Mine Workers policy committee gathered in Washington for a session scheduled Monday afternoon. Momentous decisions were in the offing, involving a choice between ordering the mine workers back to the pits or taking other action which might provoke presidential intervention and a new government mine seizure.

All Saints' Day, celebrated Monday, was not a factor in the soft coal picture, because it is not a regular holiday in bituminous fields. (Many anthracite workers do observe All Saints' and Pennsylvania reported some 80,000 hard coal local officials said the men were closed, on this account.)

The soft coal situation in the various states shaped up this way: West Virginia—The shutdown of the state's 600 mines was apparently complete, with about 110,000 idle. There was no demonstration and a local official said the men were "sitting tight and awaiting the report from the policy committee."

Pennsylvania—Information from both union and operator sources showed a virtually full shutdown in Western Pennsylvania soft coal fields, employing 110,000 in 1,220 mines. All captive mines of the U. S. Steel and Jones and Laughlin Steel corporations were closed. Union sources said hospital and other emergency needs would be taken care of.

Alabama—A survey of operators indicated no Alabama mine was working. Some 22,000 are normally employed. Ohio—All mines closed and 21,000 idle. Indiana—Operations virtually at standstill and nearly 7,000 idle. Illinois—Early estimates indicated (Continued on Page 5)

President Asks Congress To Extend Administration's Food Price Subsidy Program In Long Review Of Situation

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt in an exhaustive review of the world food situation urged Congress Monday to continue and increase the administration's $900,000,000 food price subsidy program to assure an adequate supply and prevent a "serious and dangerous cycle" of inflation.

To a legislature which has been sharply critical of federal subsidies and which has leaned rather toward higher farm prices to encourage greater production for war, the Chief Executive sent the longest special message of his nearly 11 years in the White House—10,000 words. He had checked and rechecked it many times and spent almost a month writing it.

Food Is Sufficient Short of its historical data, the message assured the American people that there will be "enough food to go around," specifically denied reports of a "meat famine" this winter, and declared the price support program is proving reasonably successful in these two objectives:

Increasing production, and maintaining fair food prices for the consumer. "I am convinced," the Chief Executive said, "that to abandon our present policy would increase the cost of living, bring about demands for increased wages which would then be justified, and might well start a serious and dangerous cycle of inflation—without any net benefit to anyone."

He said some people say a little inflation will not hurt anyone, adding: "They are like the man who takes the first shot of opium for the sensation he thinks it will give him. He likes it, although he swears that he will not make it a habit. Soon he is taking two—and then three—and then four—and then he loses all control of himself."

"Inflation is like that. A little leads to more. I am unalterably opposed to taking the first shot by congressional, or by any other, action. The nation cannot afford to acquire the habit. We have children to think of."

Those advocating "an inflation course," he continued, would have to be ready to accept responsibility for the results. Requests CCC Extension The President did not say how much new money the government would need for price supports in the unprecedented production goal year of 1944, but he said it would be more than the $800,000,000 used this year because farmers must have some inducement to meet these new goals while consumer charges are being kept down.

Organization To Maintain Peace Will Be Formed

Non-Fascist Italy And Free Austria Will Be Restored

HARMONY REPORTED

Persons Guilty Of Atrocities Will Be Punished By Allies

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States, Great Britain, Russia and Canada have pledged themselves to united action in the peace to follow defeat of their enemies and to establishment of "a general organization" for maintaining peace and security.

This declaration was signed by the big four of the United Nations at the Moscow conference attended by Secretary of State Hull, Foreign Minister Anthony Eden of Britain and Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov. It was made public simultaneously Monday in Washington, London and Moscow.

Punishment Promised Highlighting provisions which included nations concerning the and a Roosevelt-C pledge to punish those guilty of atrocities, the four-power declaration stressed unity of action and consultation between powers with a common enemy (Russia is not at war with Japan) until unconditional surrender was achieved.

In a joint communique, the tripartite conference agreed to establish an American-British-Russian "European advisory commission" in London to examine European questions arising as the war developed. The foreign ministers also decided to set up an advisory council on Italy with representatives from the French committee, Yugoslavia and Greece.

The council on Italy will deal with day to day questions other than military preparations and make recommendations designed to coordinate Allied policy with regard to Italy.

The three foreign ministers also said that military experts at the conference should define operations already decided and now being prepared "to create a basis for the closest military cooperation in the future between the three countries."

Other questions besides current problems taken up at the conference, the communique concerned treatment of Hitlerite Germany and its satellites, economic cooperation and assurance of general peace.

Frank and exhaustive discussions to the measures to be taken to shorten the war against Germany and her satellites in Europe" also took place, the communique declared.

Peace Organization Needed In the four-power declaration, to which China adhered, the nations said:

1. That their united action, pledged for the prosecution of the war against their respective enemies, will be continued for the organization and maintenance of peace and security.

2. That those who take up arms with a common enemy will act together in all matters relating to the surrender and disarmament of that enemy.

3. That they will take all measures deemed by them to be necessary to provide against any violation of the terms imposed upon the enemy.

4. That they recognize the necessity of establishing at the earliest practicable date a general international organization, based on the principle of the sovereign equality of all peace-loving states, and open to membership by all such states, large and small, for the maintenance of international peace and security.

Peace Actions Planned 5. That for the purpose of maintaining international peace and security pending the reestablishment of law and order and the inauguration of a system of general security, they will consult with one another and as occasion requires with other members of the United Nations with a view to joint action on behalf of the community of nations.

Removing Temptation

The Senate, with a one-two punch at unessential spending and further centralization of government, has scored a technical knockout over the Educational Finance Bill by sending it back to languish in committee. This bill was the latest version of a proposed federal subsidy of public schools that has been floating around for the past half-dozen years. It would have turned over to the state an annual appropriation of $300,000,000, two-thirds of which would have gone to raise teachers' salaries, and the remainder "more nearly to equalize educational opportunities."

No one can deny that teachers in many states are pitifully underpaid, or that many educational inequalities exist. But now was scarcely the time to try to remedy those conditions by adding to an already staggering national debt, especially when most states are enjoying greatly increased prosperity.

Supporters of the bill invoked the Unknown Soldier and the heroes of Bataan in an attempt to prove it an emergency measure, immediately and vitally necessary to winning the war. They cited the rejections for illiteracy from the armed forces and the current shortage of teachers, both of which are certainly serious. But they failed to show how any appropriation could wipe out illiteracy in time to aid the war effort, or how could 200 to 300 extra dollars for each teacher coax back those who have gone to really high-paying war jobs.

Our educational problems, of which there are plenty, are essentially and traditionally the province of state and local governments. They should continue to be so, although more Educational Finance Bills may come floating, as this one did, with clauses assuring control of all school administration. There are too many precedents to show that where Washington pays the bill, the states also give the orders.

Business will do well, even in wartime, to remove such unnecessary temptations in the future. Most states are jealous of their state rights, and resentful of federal intrusion. But it is awfully hard to resist the financial bounty that has flowed so freely from Washington in the last few years.

As Senator Taft of Ohio pointed out, in opposing the Educational Finance Bill, the states have turned down the offer of federal aid. "A state may refuse any grant," he said, "but states never have, so far as I know."

Legal Therapy

It is a pleasure to be able to pass along, from the Army, a kind word for the much maligned tribe of American lawyers. Members of the legal profession are working hard alongside medical officers in Army hospitals to speed the recovery of wounded soldiers by giving them free advice on the financial problems and other perplexing difficulties.

This work is carried on not only by officers of the judge advocate general's department, but by civilian lawyers, appointed by the committees on war work of the various state bar associations. Army doctors report that this free counsel often imparts to the patient a mental calm that is as important as medicine.

Tinsel And Red Tape

If you sent a Christmas gift of rationed food to a soldier overseas in time to meet the shipping deadline, you had to fill out OPA forms, obtain special stamps, and generally do a bit of walking and fussing around. Now it appears that OPA meant to save you all that trouble.

Well before the Oct. 15 deadline a simple scheme had been devised whereby the dealer who sold you the food could fill out the extra papers, shipping forms, and so on, collect the necessary stamps to compensate his sale, and leave you with nothing more to do than tell him the address and pay your money.

But somewhere along the line things got bogged down. One officer didn't like the wording of the announcement. Somebody else didn't like the general tone of the press release that would inform the public of this time-and-trouble-saving arrangement.

On Oct. 19, four days after the Christmas shipping deadline, the press release was issued.

Tempest In A Samovar

The commentators have been in a diplomatic tizzy since it was learned that Stalin, hurrying home to Moscow to greet his guests, called on Eden before he did Hull. Some circles hadn't been so upset since the feud between Mrs. Gann and Mrs. Longworth over the dinner-table protocol ruffled the placid surface of the Hoover administration.

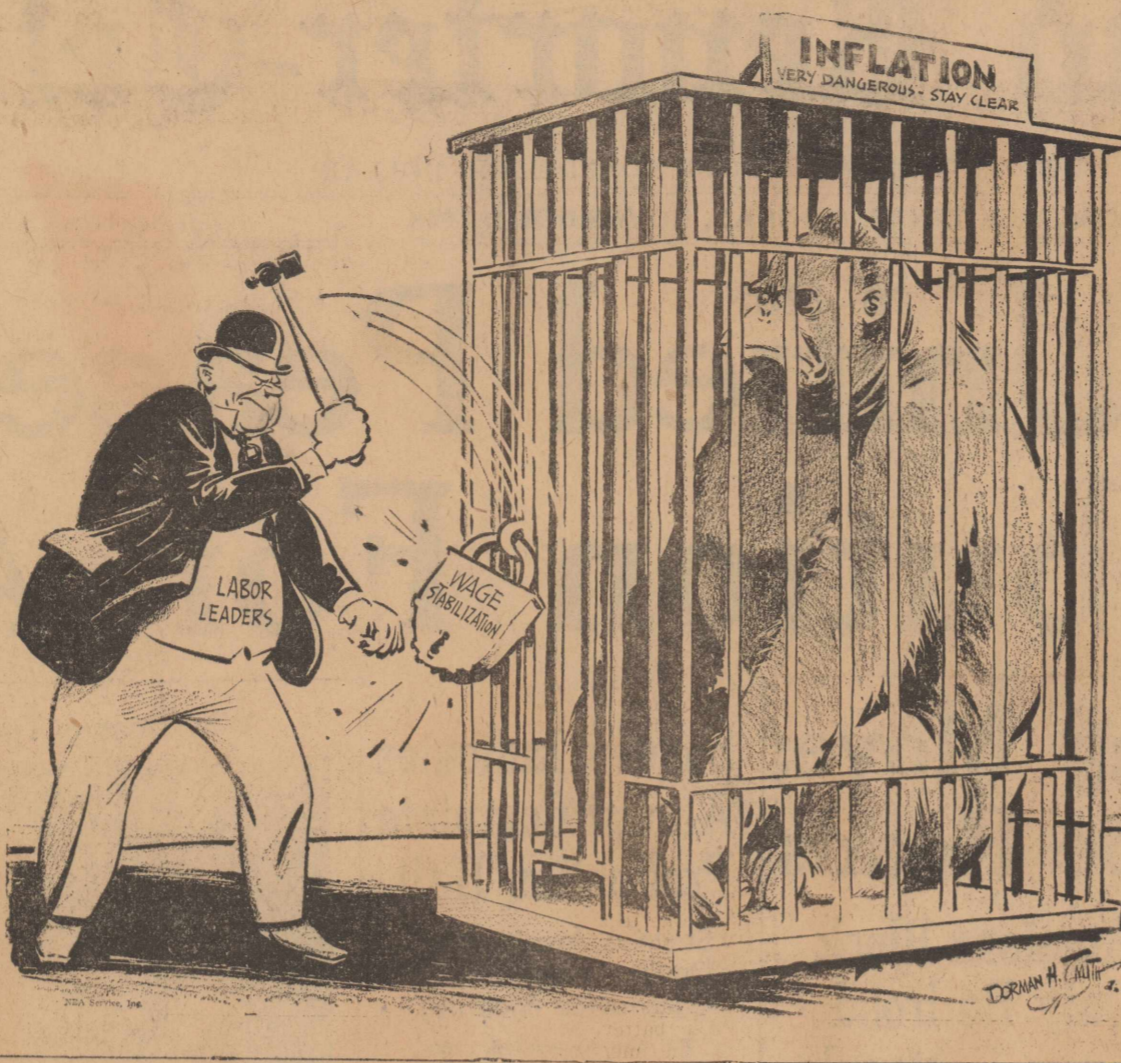

Is the understanding among the three statesmen how conferring in Moscow under such delicate balance that a fancied snub could send it toppling? If it is, this is a time to do some serious worrying. If it isn't, let us stop putting, remove the chip from our shoulder, give Hull credit for the common sense that he possesses, and allow the gentlemen to proceed with the important business at hand without any more distracting attacks of vapors from the onlookers.

WACs Want Hose Above All Else For Christmas
TYNDALL FIELD, Fla. —(AP)— What would WACs like for Christmas?
Above all else, they want hosey. The public relations office found that out when they interviewed members of the WAC company at the Army Air Forces Flexible Gunnery School here.
"If you can't send a dozen pair, send one pair," officers advised parents and friends of girls in the service. "And if you send a dozen nylons which you found in a forgotten corner of your dresser, Technician Fifth Grade Betty Lou will go right out and win the war single-handed. They must be of the prescribed GI shade, of course."
Cosmetics, too, are high up on the want list. However, Uncle Sam frowns upon the too-bold use of mascara and eye shadow, so Yule donors were advised to be discreet. The Army emphasized:
"Stick to the standard rouge, lipstick, powder, perfume, and cologne. The containers should not be too elaborate, either, because your WAC daughter or friend may be transferred and a barracks bag is not particularly suited to carrying fragile objects."

Palette Club Has Hallowe'en Party
The Palette Club held its first meeting of the fall season Saturday afternoon when a Hallowe'en party was held in the home of Mrs. D. B. Snider, 204 South A Street.
Mrs. Ben W. Smith was co-hostess.
Following a business session the guests played bingo and favors were awarded Mrs. Josephine Ligon, who won high score; Mrs. Ben Golliday, who won second; and Mrs. N. W. Bigham, who was presented the consolation.
Hallowe'en decorations were used effectively throughout the rooms, and the refreshments carried out the black and orange motif.
Present were Mesdames Mary S. Ray, G. H. Butler, L. H. Anderson, N. W. Bigham, John Hix, Tess Walker, Robert M. Turpin, F. H. Lanham, Mittie Estes, and Ben Golliday.
Special guests were Mrs. J. D. Robinson and Mrs. Josephine Ligon.
The club will meet the first Monday in December in the home of Mrs. R. M. Barron.

Western Auto Associate Has Good Stocks Of Christmas Gifts; Early Shopping Is Urged

Stocks of Christmas goods will be limited this year, and as the Yuletide season draws near good items will be hard to obtain.

That is why the Western Auto Associate Store at 120 West Wall Street is urging that citizens shop early while good stocks of gifts of all kinds still are available.

Despite merchandise shortages caused by the conversion of resources and materials to the war effort, the Western Auto Associate Store has been able to maintain a good stock of hard to get items. This has been made possible by the many markets to which the store has access through unlimited buying connections.

Western Auto still has electric phonographs and radios, although these items have been out of production for many months, and there are few auto parts and tools which cannot be found at this interesting store.

Practical items will make ideal Christmas gifts this year, and the Western Auto Associate Store is packed with them. There are household items, electric clocks, silverware, glassware, and many other perfect gifts. For the children, there are hundreds of toys and games and a good collection of beautiful dolls, bicycles, tricycles, sports equipment and many other items.

Persons desiring to obtain their Christmas gifts now while stocks are complete and those who wish to get ideas for presents are given an special invitation to visit the store and "browse." It is open from 9 a. m. until 8 p. m. daily except Sunday.

Spark Plug Check Should Be Made Before Winter

With gasoline rationing placing more and more emphasis on efficiency, the demand for new spark plugs is increasing today as never before and the supply is diminishing. The need for gasoline economy should direct motorists' attention to their spark plugs, Pierre J. Gomer, manager of the Firestone Store at 624 West Wall Street, says.

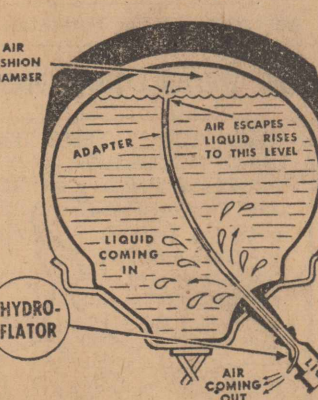

By having their spark plugs cleaned and bad ones replaced, the motorist can avoid improper function of the motor and waste of gasoline due to improper combustion in the compression chamber. The Firestone Store is equipped to properly clean and adjust spark plugs to give maximum performance with a spark plug cleaning and testing machine.

Spark plugs which no longer can give maximum performance should be discarded, since they can cost up to 10 per cent of gasoline consumption. Firestone Spark Plugs are the only plug made with a Polonium ground electrode—one of the world's most precious metals, many times more expensive than radium and emits rays 4,000 times more powerful. Use of Polonium reduces the voltage necessary to generate the spark and speeds the spark itself, regardless of temperature—in requiring quicker starting and requiring less voltage.

Only the finest, strongest and highest heat-resisting white porcelain is used in making the insulators for these spark plugs; the center electrode is made of high-grade nickel alloy, giving a positive electrical connection and greater heat dissipation; the double guard ridge at the top of the porcelain reduces flashover shorts; and each plug is a one-piece design, insuring uniform gastight construction. Polonium spark plugs are the only ones sold with a money-back guarantee which means guaranteed performance, Gomer says.

While checking your spark plugs, be sure your battery also is giving its maximum performance. Gomer

New Development

INCREASED FOOD production and the conservation of rubber will be two results of the development by The Firestone Tire & Rubber Company of the Hydro-Flator shown in this diagram. The Hydro-Flator inserts liquid in farm tractor tires, admitting exactly the right quantity to assure longer wear and maximum efficiency.

Use Light Oils During Winter, Foster Advises

One of the main services offered by the Conoco Service Station No. 1, 410 West Wall Street, is that of helping motorists get more performance from their cars and more miles from their gasoline rationing coupons.

Because present cars must last for the duration and beyond Bob Foster, operator of the station, is especially anxious to help his customers keep their cars rolling and in good shape.

"Overweight oil makes old cars older—fast," Foster reminds, "while a light grade of oil can make good, with your engine winter oil-plated."

Oil-Plate Now

Motorists can change to an oil-plated engine by changing to any grade of Conoco Nth motor oil—from lightest to heaviest—and they can change to any grade of Conoco Nth at the same popular price, he says. But the lightest possible grade of oil that's fit for the winter change cars need now will help to save the battery, gasoline, and engine. The more the oil is overweight the greater the wear, and when that makes a motorist try still heavier oil he gets still more wear—still more oil and gasoline consumption—worse and worse.

"Short-circuit this ruinous process by having your engine oil-plated now," Foster advises. "We will be glad to change your car to Conoco Nth and save it from damaging results of cold starting and other wear."

The Conoco Service Station No. 1 specializes in washing, greasing, and polishing, and offers expert tire repairing and vulcanizing. It is an official tire inspection station.

Foster also reminds motorists that batteries will have to be in top condition for cold-weather starting and urges them to drive by and have their batteries checked now before winter arrives.

Quick, Economical And Safe Transportation Provided Midland Citizens By Yellow Cab Co.

Whether it is a trip downtown, into the residential section or to the Midland Army Air Field, Midland citizens have learned to rely upon the Yellow Cab Company for quick, economical and safe transportation at all hours of the day and night. A telephone call—555—usually brings a cab immediately.

Because of the large volume of business being handled by the firm, service sometimes is not as prompt as the management would like, but the taxi rarely is more than a few minutes late in answering calls. H. C. Watson, manager of the company, says the majority of the customers understand the reasons why they sometimes are unable to get instantaneous service and he expresses his appreciation to them.

The Yellow Cab Company is well-equipped for providing transportation facilities for the city and it operates five late model cars. Experienced and careful drivers are employed and service is available 24 hours daily.

Each of the company's taxis are being painted yellow to enable patrons to distinguish them easily. Each is in good mechanical condition, is insured, and is equipped with a governor to conform with ODT regulations for conserving tires. Eight drivers are employed by the firm.

The company's office is located at 107 North Colorado, and the telephone number is 555.

"The thinking fellow calls a Yellow" is the slogan of the company.

CHAPTER I

A YEAR ago Nancy Hall sat on the steps of the Hall house with her pointed chin in her hand and told herself savagely that she was bored to death, that she might as well be dead as live in Cranberry for the rest of her life.

The old Hall house is on Atlantic Street, which as everyone who has ever been to Cranberry knows is THE street. Every three years Doctor Hall has the house repainted. It shone, white and gracious, in its setting of ancient, tended trees, and velvet green lawn. It was June, the roses were out, and the garden, which was the doctor's love and relaxation, was flowering into delicate, sturdy beauty, delphinium, fox glove, shasta daisy and verberna, lupine and sweet William.

Cranberry is picturesque. Long wharfs on the Bay. Mud flats shining with oily rainbow colors at low tide, blue water, blue sky, nets drying and the smell of fish. Cottages, enveloped in rambler roses in due season.

Cranberry is prosperous. The fisheries are still second only to Gloucester, though the Navy has claimed a good part of the fishing fleet; the woolen and stocking mills are on Army time now, and the shoe factories hum with activity. In addition, there's a new cartridge clip plant and a new munitions arsenal that has added many defense workers to Cranberry's 30,000 New Englanders born and bred. Once upon a time, Cranberry struck a telling blow for liberty. In a different way, she is doing so again.

Cranberry is a typical American town, progressive and proud, carrying her share of the burden toward Victory.

A year ago Nancy Hall was not impressed.

NANCY was 24. She had acquired a veneer of sophistication from the two years she had traveled on the Continent—a continent now ravaged and blood-stained—with her mother's widowed, childless sister, Martha Roberts. The first two years that she had been out of school.

Martha was rich, erratic, generous, and grasping. She was also restless. When she learned that Nancy was through with the Seminary and completely uninterested in going on to college or on to a career, she was delighted. She had never forgiven her sister for marrying David Hall. "Goes to Cranberry for the summer, falls in love with a boy just out of medical school and buries herself for the rest of her life," she would boastfully. "She could do anything she wanted to do. She could do anything I ever saw, men do about her. . . . No, she forgives Nancy's mother marriage nor for Doctor Hall's assistance that the Halls were not objects of charity. When Martha married a man with a thick neck and a thicker bank book she had relented toward Millicent, a little. It pleased her to play Lady Bountiful. But David Hall would have none of it, so she was cheated of a small, mean triumph. But later she had an ally in Nancy. When it was proposed that Nancy become her aunt's unpaid—but fed and clothed—companion, Doctor Hall had been very much against it. In the end his wife, his wife's sister and his younger daughter had defeated him. They had wept, shouted, argued and pled him down.

Nancy had been vastly entertained by the world her aunt had revealed to her. When international circumstances beyond Aunt Martha's impatient control had turned Europe from a playground to a battlefield, there had been cruises to the Caribbean, to South America. . . . marvelous cruises, dancing under the stars, attentive young men and pretty clothes. . . . I earned them, thought Nancy, her eyes somber.

"Fetch me this, fetch me that, rub my neck, bring me my hand bag, turn off the radio, turn on the radio—that sort of thing. But she had earned it willingly enough, she was in essence fairly minded, she expected to pay for all she received.

And then when even the cruises had come to an end, Aunt Martha, completely blind to the war and the changes that had come to other people's lives, trailed restlessly across her own country from one fashionable resort to another. Hot Springs to Del Monte and back Nancy had danced attendance.

Now, Nancy was home again. Some foolish business about priorities in travel, and all but a few hotels being taken over by the Army. And, as if that weren't bad enough, Aunt Martha had seen fit to fall in love with the golf pro at that place where they stayed last summer. She had become immense, with the face of an obese parrot, and she had 15 years his senior. But she had married him. And she didn't want an attractive young girl around.

NANCY looked off down the street and there came Emily walking along with her light, swinging step, her dark head high and a look of soundless whistling about her.

"Hi," said Nancy, without enthusiasm. Her sister—the elder by two years—turned in at the walk, sat down on the step beside her, swept off her severe hat and commented, "Golly, it's a grand evening."

"You would think so," said Nancy. She added, "That uniform—I can't get used to it."

"You'll have to," said Emily cheerfully. "You'll see it often enough." "It should be unbecoming," said Nancy, "but on you, it isn't." She regarded her sister thoughtfully. "You're really very good-looking," she remarked dispassionately. "Better-looking than I am," she said, with faint astonishment, "character and all that sort of thing. But of course you don't make the most of yourself." "Thanks, dear," said Emily and

I think that East should have doubted the four-spade contract, especially in view of his partner's overall. On the opening heart lead, the ten was played from dummy and East played the jack. South dropped the six-spot, concealing the deuce. Most East players now cashed the ace of clubs and led the other club. But West had bid clubs, and if he had wanted the suit played, he could have opened it. East's correct play at this point is to lead the heart seven. West will ruff and his side is bound to make a club and a spade trick, setting the contract.

With a club return, South won the second round with the king, cashed the king of trumps and led the jack. East covered and South won with the ace. Now the declarer knew that East held the missing trumps, and in all probability the missing hearts also. He had seen East play two clubs, and hoping that he held two diamonds, South cashed the ace and king. The high trump and another one put East in the lead and he was forced to lead into dummy's ace-queen of hearts.

Thailand Capital To Be Moved To Petchbun

NEW YORK —(AP)—The Japanese radio said Monday that the Thai government was moving its capital to the "naturally fortified" city of Petchbun (Bejrabun), about 190 miles north of Bangkok, the present capital. The broadcast, recorded by the Federal Communications Commission, said that the new capital "nestled in the Pasak River Basin, a tributary of the Mekong," and that high mountains flanked the city on both east and west. The move, it added, was expected to be completed by next June.

Legion Delegates Select Crane For Next Conference

Delegates to the sixteenth district war conference of the American Legion and Auxiliary here Sunday acclaimed one of the most instructive and successful held in recent years. About 80 delegates from throughout West Texas were present for the all-day session.

The spring conference of the district will be held at Crane, which was designated the site by unanimous vote. Date for the meeting will be announced after the first of the year.

Rehabilitation and community service were the main topics for the session, with special emphasis being placed on rehabilitation of veterans of the present war. Reports on child welfare, membership and other matters were made.

Delegates approved a resolution commending the Woods W. Lynch post and Auxiliary for their hospitality, and the Legion delegates especially lauded the excellent program arranged under the direction of C. Roripaugh, commander of the post.

 territories of other states except for the purposes envisaged in this declaration and after joint consultation.

7. That they will confer and cooperate with one another and with other members of the United Nations to bring about a practicable general agreement with respect to the regulation of armaments in the post-war period.

8. Austria to be Liberated
 China did not participate in the other declarations, dealing with the European war. They were:

1. President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill and Premier Stalin promised that those German officers and men, and members of the Nazi party, who have been guilty of atrocities—either directly or by consent—will be taken back to the scene of their crimes after the war and there tried according to the laws of the country concerned.

2. Britain, Russia and the United States agreed on Allied policy toward Italy, based on a determination to wipe out Fascist influence and to give the Italian people every opportunity to establish governmental and other institutions based on democratic principles.

3. The three also declared that "Austria, first free country to fall victim to Hitlerite aggression, shall be liberated from German domination."

No Separate Peace
 The joint four-power declaration obviously left the way open for Russia to remain neutral as far as Japan is concerned, but provided a guarantee that neither Russia nor the Western Allies would sign a separate peace or take other separate action against their joint enemies.

While recognizing the "necessity of establishing at the earliest practicable date a general international organization," the four powers did not attempt to specify the nature of that organization beyond the well-known American policy of insisting upon equality of sovereignty of all peace-loving states, with membership open to all such states, large and small.

Regulation of armaments after the war was left to such a time as the United Nations "will confer with one another... to bring about a practicable general agreement."

Balkans Future Affected
 In their declaration on Austria, the three powers said they regarded the Anschluss with Germany as null and void and considered themselves in no way bound by any changes in Austria since then.

The future of the Balkans may be affected by the next clause: "They declare that they wish to see re-established a free and independent Austria and thereby to open the way for the Austrian people themselves as well as those neighboring states which will be faced with similar problems, to find that political and economic security which is the only basis for lasting peace."

491st BOMBARDIER TRAINING SQUADRON:
 Each evening last week between the hours of 4 and 5 p. m. the buildings in the squadron area resounded to the commands of Sgt. Jack Wood as he barked the cadence for the drill team, whipping them into shape for the track and field meet held Saturday. The boys were taught several neat trick maneuvers, along with the other required movements that the team had to perform to enter the competition.

Hardly had the paint set in the new reading room when the painters moved over to the day room and began the laborious task of re-finishing that building, inside and out. The reading room was thrown open to the squadron members last week and is one of the finest lounge rooms to be found on the post. It is not any post in West Texas. The entire work of renovating this room was done by squadron members and it is indeed something to be proud of. Although other lounge rooms and recreation rooms on the post have been redecorated, the boys of the 491st will put up their lounge room against any other in the country as a match for beauty and sheer comfort.

Last week friends and buddies said goodbye to Staff Sgt. Amos Perry, 1st E flat, who is a philosopher from Arkansas and long time member of this squadron. Sergeant Peyton was originally in the Field Artillery but was transferred to the Air Forces and was graduated as an aircraft armorer from Lowry Field, Colo. He is at the bombardier school he was armament chief for the squadron.

Pvt. Leonard Sparks decided that walking was too much of a bother so he purchased a "brand new" makeshift jalopy. Due to numerous repairs and alterations it has undergone in its years of service, it was difficult to ascertain just what make or model it is, but its registration title claims it to be or have been a 1929 Chevrolet. In spite of its hard looks and doubtful appearance the proud possessor of the ancient chariot believes in its ability for he has named it "Miss Kirkwood." Evidentially Pvt. Sparks has much respect for the four-wheeled "A" coupon burner to place such a beautiful handle thereon.

Holiday Mincemeat Now More Expensive
 WASHINGTON — (AP) — Mincemeat, which rarely fails to show up on the festive board just about the time the "frost is on the pumpkin" is going to be more expensive this year.

The Office of Price Administration announces that a new pricing formula—to take into account new apple prices and increases in the cost of raisins and rum—will boost the cost of the holiday delicacy for the housewife about 1½ cents a pound.

The formula will increase manufacturers' prices about one cent, effective Monday.

Eight Stop Sign Violators Arrested
 Eight motorists who ignored stop signs Monday morning had tickets to report at Police Court, and police continued their campaign to halt careless driving here.

Chief Jack Ellington instructed officers to give a ticket to each motorist who fails to stop at a stop sign or a red traffic light.

Allied Headquarters May Be Moved To Italy
 ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, ALGIERS — (AP) — While no official announcement has been made of possible plans to move headquarters to Italy, a number of units formerly stationed here already have gone forward and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and many other top-ranking officers spend much less time here these days.

overrun and from which they are being steadily expelled."
 "What is new," continued the joint statement, "is that many of these territories are now being redeemed by the advancing armies of the liberating powers and that in their desperation, the receding Hitlerites and Hungars are redoubling their ruthless cruelties."
 "This is now evidenced with particular clearness by monstrous crimes on the territory of the Soviet Union which is being liberated from Hitlerites, and on French and Italian territory."

J. W. Poole Becomes Manager Tire Store

J. W. Poole has been appointed manager of the Sanders Tire Company here and has assumed his new duties.

Mr. and Mrs. Poole moved here from Hobbs, N. M., where he represented the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company, managing its retail store there and also serving as district manager. He was with Goodyear more than seven years and is well known in the tire business.

The Sanders Tire Company came to Midland about eight months ago and its store is located at 113 East Wall Street.

Mrs. James F. Sledge will return to Midland from Odessa, where she is working for the Sanders company, to become bookkeeper in the store here.

Poole said three factory-trained men will join the force at the store within a few days. They are experts in recapping, vulcanizing and tire repairing.

British Capture --

 San Salvo railway station into a heavily guarded fortress.

Meanwhile American Flying Fortresses carried the air offensive into Southern France from Mediterranean bases for the second time in the war, bombing the important road and railway viaduct on the coastal route five miles southwest of Cannes.

The Fortresses, unscathed by the French Riviera, scored at least four hits at both ends of the 500-foot span across the Siagne River and rendered it impassable. They also put out of commission a 40-car train at its edge. This is on the main route between Marseille and Genoa for German troops and supply movements.

Albanian Field Hit
 The first raid from France from this theater was in mid-August when the Fortresses hit Marseilles airfields.

American 12th Air Force planes made another strike outside the limits of this theater with an attack by two waves of Lightning fighters on the German airfield at Tirana, Albanian capital.

Warhawks set a small tanker, after west of Solt (Sule) Island off Split, Yugoslavia.

In Italy itself American medium bombers attacked Civitavecchia and Anzio, the two main harbors of the Rome area.

Games This Week To Give Answers To Questions On Conference Race

By The Associated Press

Most of the questions will be answered this week on the course of the Southwest Conference football race.

The Texas Aggies, not only unbeaten in title play but undefeated over the season route, will engage Southern Methodist at College Station. The Mustangs will therefore be the guinea pigs. Aggies Are Underdogs

The fact that Arkansas was able to give A. and M. a hard battle whereas the Razorbacks did little against Texas is not too strong an indication that the Aggies won't be tough for Texas on Thanksgiving. There are two factors to be considered in the Aggie-Arkansas game:

1. A. and M. had a hard, bruising game with the North Texas Aggies. They couldn't have been "up" against Arkansas.

2. The Razorbacks probably played their best game of the year since it was homecoming and they had an open date the week before and had a better chance to get ready for the Aggies.

Texas won over S.M.U. 20-0 and there never was any doubt about which team would take the decision, but the Longhorns encountered a very stubborn defense when they got in scoring territory. A. and M. doesn't have a running game to compare with Texas and the interesting point will be what the Aggie aerial offense is capable of against S.M.U. If it doesn't click, you can put it down that A. & M. won't have much chance against Texas.

Sports Roundup

By Hugh S. Fullerton Jr.

NEW YORK —(AP)—The United States Golf Association is initiating a move to have golf clubs provide employment that will help rehabilitate war veterans—and incidentally help the clubs, too. . . . Employment seems to be what they can provide best, judging from the trouble some courses had keeping the fairways trimmed this summer. . . . It's healthy outdoor work, and probably the hardest part of it is listening to members' alibis.

Observation Post

Gunder Haegg, like Paavo Nurmi, is going into the haberdashery business. . . . That doesn't necessarily mean he's breaking off ties with the sports world.

Monday Matinee

All four big radio networks will broadcast the Army-Notre Dame Saturday—indicating that the gridiron is more in the broadcasting booth. Two of the best players in Saturday's Yale-Dartmouth game were Don Kasprzak, the Dartmouth passer, and Ed Strype, Yale tackle, both of whom were at Columbia last year. . . . No wonder Lou Little is in the hospital.

Luck Of The Irish

With Angie Bertelli doing the chunkin', the Irish could probably score with a pumpkin and you safely can bet your wife's only reason that Army is still hell is at Paris Island. Notre Dame must depend on Substitute LuJack, who also can pass and hit like a Beau Jack.

Service Dept.

Proving that the Marines can do almost anything including rescuing the Army from Bertelli, Capt. Orin W. Todd, Jr., has been teaching his Marines in the Southwest Pacific to play British rugby and the local fans to appreciate American baseball. . . . When he staged a game that drew 35,000 spectators, Captain Todd received a note from J. Taylor Spink of The Sporting News saying that club owners all over the country soon would be writing to ask how he did it.

Irish-Army Game Slated This Week

By TED MEIER

NEW YORK —(AP)—Notre Dame vs. Army—regarded as the game of the year—headlines this week's college football program as the season swings into November, traditionally a month for upsets. . . . Although the unbeaten and untied Irish—preclaimed the best team in the country—will be minus Angelo Bertelli, their nifty forward passer, and the Cadets lost a degree of prestige in being tied by Pennsylvania, the game will unfold before a capacity 75,000 crowd at the Yankee Stadium. It was sold out weeks ago.

Another sellout crowd of some 72,000 is expected at Franklin Field in Philadelphia where Navy, crushed by Notre Dame, seeks to rebound against Penn. This game ranks second billing for the week.

Sammy Baugh On Trail Of Eighth Pro Pass Record

CHICAGO —(AP)—Slingin' Sammy Baugh now holds seven all-time passing records in the National Football League and is hot on the trail of another. Sunday he leads the Washington Redskins against Phil-Phitt, which has one of the most porous pass-defenses in the circuit.

Draw your own conclusions. If you tabulate Baugh's achievements since he turned pro seven years ago, you get these results: 598 completions out of 1,084 attempts for 7,436 yards and 70 touchdowns—a batch of five records when you count the number as well as the percentage of completions.

Sets Two Game Marks

In four games this season he has hit 52 out of 94 passes for 811 yards and 14 touchdowns, which has helped him account for most of his new marks. If he twirls 11 more scoring passes in his remaining six games he will surpass Cecil Isbell's record of 24 for one season (1942).

Baugh established two single game records Sunday when Washington smashed Brooklyn 48-10. The 376 yards he gained on 16 connections in 28 pitches bettered Isbell's 333 in the Green Bay-Chicago Cardinal game last year. Baugh also shot six touchdown passes, beating the previous mark of five held jointly by Isbell (1942) and Ray Buivid of the Chicago Bears (1937).

Major League Clubs Reach Into Minors At Draft Meeting

CHICAGO —(AP)—Foreseeing a player shortage created by service calls, major league officials Monday were expected to reach deeply into the Class A, Double-A, and A-1 minors for talent at the annual player-draft meeting with Commissioner K. M. Landis.

Virtually all the 16 major league clubs planned to attend the baseball raffle with prepared lists of available 4-E youngsters and oldsters. The first selection will be made by the Philadelphia Athletics and the second by the New York Giants—both being given preference after finishing last in their respective leagues. The American League cellar team gets first selection over the National on odd years.

Plans To Help Mama With Washing And Papa To Keep His Beer Cool Being Made By Agency

WASHINGTON —(AP)—Uncle Sam is making plans to help mama with the wash and help papa keep the beer cool.

The government is working on a program to permit manufacture of mechanical refrigerators and washing machines again.

Production of both was halted after Pearl Harbor because of the war needs for the materials and facilities used in making them.

Now the Office of Civilian Requirements has found in a national survey that both types of machines are badly needed in American homes.

One official of OCR, which is drawing up the program, gave as his "guess" that the machines would not appear on the market before mid-1944.

OCR is part of the War Production Board. Its program will have to be approved by WPB's requirements committee before it can be put into operation.

Soldier Ired After Finding Coffee Not Bullet Struck Him

(The following story was written by Tech. Sgt. John W. Black of Woodbury, N. J., a Marine Corps combat correspondent.)

SOMEWHERE IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC—(AP)—The Marines had just sat down for noon chow when Jap bombers arrived for a luncheon raid and everybody scrambled for shelter.

Pfc. James Vesey of Casper, Wyo., toted along a canteen-cup full of steaming coffee. As he scooted into a dugout while bombs thundered nearby he stumbled over Pfc. Joe Kaminsky of Brooklyn, N. Y., and spilled some of the hot coffee on him.

"My god, they got me!" shrieked Joe.

It took Vesey some time to convince Joe that coffee, not shrapnel, had got him.

"Then," says Vesey, "the guy bawled me out for depriving him of the Purple Heart. That's gratitude for you!"

Mexican Consul To Investigate Levelland Case

MEXICO CITY —(AP)—The foreign ministry announced that it had asked the consulate general in San Antonio to investigate reports of recent alleged discrimination against Mexicans in Levelland, Texas.

The chamber of deputies committee on Mexicans abroad issued a statement Sunday expressing the opinion that differences between Mexicans and North Americans in the United States "are the result of political propaganda spread by feudal lords of Texas who do not want to believe that slavery is gone."

Hockley County Sheriff Ed Hockett said serious trouble was averted by arrival of officer reinforcements after a crowd of more than 1,000 cotton pickers of Latin-American origin gathered in the streets of Levelland Saturday soon after a brief fight involving some of their group.

The sheriff said the disturbance started after some of the cotton pickers were refused service at a restaurant and some of the restaurant patrons sought to enforce the refusal. One cotton picker was injured slightly, he said.

Nazis Report Arrest Of Duce's Son-In-Law

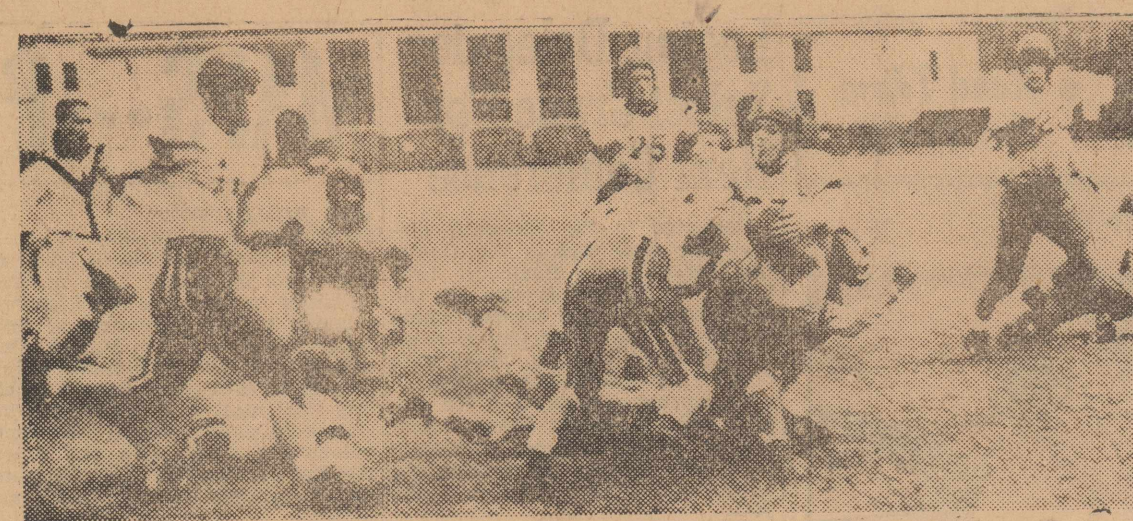

LONDON —(AP)—The Berlin radio said Monday that former Italian Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano, Benito Mussolini's son-in-law, had been arrested and imprisoned at Verona.

Mussolini's Republican Fascist regime was reported by Berlin Sunday to have demanded the death penalty for Ciano for his part in Mussolini's downfall, along with King Vittorio Emanuele, Premier Pietro Badoglio, generals and admirals who cooperated with Badoglio, and other members of the Fascist grand council who voted to oust the former premier.

Put Me In, Coach

Lufkin Panthers have reached the spot delegated to them before the Texas schoolboy football season started. They now rank with the top three teams of the state and appear to have a claim as strong as any to No. 1 rating.

In September they were called championship favorites. Then they lost all-state jitter McKinney through ineptitude. The critics promptly forgot all about them. But they soon refreshed everyone's memory by rolling over some good teams. Last week they got definitively back into the picture when they removed a strong Marshall eleven from the unbeaten ranks 19-7.

Leading Candidates

This is not saying Lufkin is better than Amarillo or San Angelo or Vernon or Highland Park or North Side or Breckenridge or other teams entrenched in the top rankings, but the Panthers do look as good as any and appear to be the top team to stop in the southern bracket. Meaning, they are leading candidates for the state finals.

There are ten undefeated, untied eleven left but they do not represent the ten strongest teams. Breckenridge, for instance, has lost a game but the Bucks are the leading scorers of the state with 279 points in seven games. Vernon was beaten out by Amarillo but the Lions look as good as the Sandies. North Side, which defeated Breckenridge, was tied by Sherman but the Fort Worth team still rates with the best six or eight in the state. And so on.

Schedule Is Light

This week will find one of the unbeaten team eliminated from the championship race when North Side plays Polk. It not only is the state's top game but it also will virtually determine the Fort Worth district championship.

Otherwise, the schedule is rather slack in Texas as many teams skip this week for traditional battles on Armistice Day. There are only 36 games in all with 31 of them conference affairs.

The undefeated, untied teams appear in little danger outside of Polk, Amarillo, San Angelo, Longview, Lufkin and McAllen don't have games while Sweetwater plays Abilene, Ysleta meets class A Monahans, Highland Park entertains Arlington and Goose Creek engages Orange. Defeat for any of these teams would be a smashing upset.

Lufkin Panthers Step Into Lead For State Finals

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

Lufkin Panthers have reached the spot delegated to them before the Texas schoolboy football season started. They now rank with the top three teams of the state and appear to have a claim as strong as any to No. 1 rating.

In September they were called championship favorites. Then they lost all-state jitter McKinney through ineptitude. The critics promptly forgot all about them. But they soon refreshed everyone's memory by rolling over some good teams. Last week they got definitively back into the picture when they removed a strong Marshall eleven from the unbeaten ranks 19-7.

World's Largest Hotel Reopened After Army Use

CHICAGO —(AP)—The Stevens, world's largest hotel, reopened its doors Monday after 13 months of Army occupation, and found 1,100 of its 3,000 rooms were ready and rented.

This wasn't any surprise to Arnold S. Kirkeby, president of the Kirkeby Hotels, who bought the Stevens for $5,251,000 when the Army decided it didn't need the huge structure any longer. All he said was that other rooms would be ready as quickly as decorators can finish.

Girls will replace men on the elevators, but Kirkeby thought other help would be present in sufficient numbers. All told he needs between 1,000 and 1,500 to operate the hotel.

It took 300 persons to put the $26,000,000 building back in readiness as a radio school. The ballroom floor was covered with linoleum and the clocks were marked for 24 hours' time; the tower, formerly a cocktail lounge, was set up for courts-martial, and the Oak Room, once a swank bar, was turned into a civilian employment office.

America's Secret Weapon Revealed As Deadly Mortar

OSHKOSH, WIS.—(AP)—America's secret weapon—a 4.2-inch mortar with the power of a 155 millimeter gun—is holding its own, employees of the company that makes the gun found out Monday.

Some details of its performance were revealed by Col. Harry R. Leibkicher, head of the Sixth Service Command's chemical warfare service, in a commendation to employees of the Bell Machine Company.

"The manner in which these mortars—America's secret weapon—are performing should be the pride of every American citizen," Colonel Leibkicher said.

Colonel Leibkicher said artillery officers have elevated the weapon above the famous French 75 of the last war. It can be carried by its crew to an advanced position, assembled in three minutes, and can pour out shells comparable to the 155 MM every two seconds.

It was developed by the chemical warfare service, which believes the rifled, muzzle-loading weapon holds an authoritative answer to any threat of chemical warfare. Besides artillery use, the mortar can also be used for demolition.
