Germans Opening Air Assault On Island Of Samos

LONDON —(AP)— The Germans, quickly switching their attack from Leros, have begun an aerial assault on Samos, last of the Aegean islands in Allied hands, the Berlin radio announced Thursday.

The broadcast said German bombers and dive bombers dropped bombs of all calibers on military targets on Samos, a Greek island less than 20 miles north of Leros, which capitulated Tuesday.

Papers Criticize Loss
London morning newspapers sharply criticized the loss of Leros, with the Herald urging a full official explanation.

"We shall gain nothing by glossing it over," said the Herald.

All the editorials were filled with questions and stressed that the fall of the island to German attacking forces, announced Wednesday, constituted a political setback to the Allies in Turkey and the Balkans.

The News Chronicle put its criticism in blunt terms, "It is hard to resist the conclusion," it said, "that somebody has blundered."

The Daily Mail declared the failure "is bound to have an unfavorable effect upon neutral and satellite opinion."

Morley Richards, The Daily Express military expert, pointed out that Leros was out of easy reach of Allied aircraft and observed that it could have been saved only "by use of air bases on the Turkish mainland. These air bases were not available to us."

An Associated Press dispatch from Cairo Wednesday night quoted Marsland Gander, London Telegraph correspondent who escaped from Leros in the early hours of Nov. 16, as saying that 10 German landing craft had been sighted near the island's tip as a destroyer carried him away.

"The mystery is where they came from," said Gander, "for they approached from a northeasterly direction."

Delinquent Tax List Of Midland To Be Published

Midland's delinquent tax list was the prime topic of discussion at the City Council's regular meeting Wednesday evening, and it voted to publish the list in The Reporter Telegram January 10. Names of all delinquent taxpayers except those who have made arrangements to remit and those who are paying up in installments will be published, the council ordered.

The delinquent tax list which totals about $72,000 now is being compiled at the City Hall in preparation for publication. Names of persons who pay amounts due before January 10 will not be published.

Suits Will Be Filed
After publishing the list, the City Council agreed to make plans to file suits for collection of the taxes. The list will include all delinquents for 1942 and prior years.

The council agreed unanimously to go ahead with the campaign to collect the delinquent taxes. Several councilmen pointed out that it is unfair to persons who promptly pay taxes to let others escape payments. Several matters of routine business, including cooperation with Army officials, were discussed at the meeting.

Two Convicts Escape Eastham Prison Farm

HOUSTON —(AP)— Police searched Thursday for two convicts who escaped late Tuesday from the Eastham Prison Farm.

They are Jack Williams, 23, and Andrew Joseph Werle, 24. Williams is serving 37 years from Dallas, Harris and Walker counties for robbery. Werle is under 60 year sentences from Freestone and Tarrant counties for robbery and burglary. Williams escaped from a prison farm last year and was recaptured here.

American Planes Again Strike At Norway Targets

RAF Batters Nazi Industrial Centers During Night Foray

LONDON —(AP)— American Liberators bombers targeted over Norway again Thursday, blasting Hitler's far northern war industry only a few hours after a heavy RAF assault on the German chemical center of Ludwigshafen.

It was the second time in three days American bombers had blasted the section of German war industry hitherto relatively free of aerial bombardings.

A power station at Rjukan, about 80 miles west of Oslo, and a molybdenum mine at Knatten were blasted Tuesday.

Thursday's targets were not identified immediately.

Wednesday night's RAF attack on the German Rhineland city was carried out along with a raid on Berlin, hit by Mosquitos for the third time in seven days, and other attacks on unnamed targets in Western Germany.

The world's largest chemical works, operated by the I. G. Farben trust, is situated at Ludwigshafen, where high explosives are made along with submarine parts, tanks, trucks and Diesel engines.

The assault was the first heavy attack on Germany since American Flying Fortresses blasted at Bremen in daylight Saturday.

Wednesday night's secondary raid on Berlin was the 17th visit that RAF's twin-engine plywood bombers have paid the German capital since mid-August, but the first since Nov. 3.

French Get Warning
At the very moment the RAF's great four-engine bombers were roaring through the darkness, warning their target, Allied radio stations were telling the people of France to stay away from factories producing war materials for the Germans.

Mayor A. N. Hendrickson Sees Bright Future For Midland Following War

Mayor A. N. Hendrickson told Rotarians at their meeting Thursday noon Midland needs 150 to 200 more housing units now, and then predicted a bright future for the community.

He said he believed there would be more demand for houses here after victory is won than now and said Midland's population now is estimated at 13,500.

Making his predictions he asserted 1,200 Midland men now are in the armed forces and 75 per cent of them will return here when the war is won to make their homes. He also said oil companies are operating with short staffs which are working long hours and that he believed when men are available, hours will be reduced and employment lists increased. He predicted jobs will be available in Midland for 500 to 1,000 more men when the war ends.

"Midland has the future and prospect of being the outstanding city of the Permian Basin," he continued. "People in the oil business are trying to make a city out of Midland and they deserve the aid and support of the community."

Need More Buildings
"We need a six or eight story apartment-hotel here and the need exists for another large office building. We can't build them today, but we should start making plans. More business houses also will be needed."

"More Midland citizens should take an optimistic view of the city's future. Midland now has the greatest opportunity it ever had to grow and prosper."

He discussed increases in postal receipts and bank deposits, and as- (Continued on Page 4)

Allied Bombers Cause Mounting Losses For Japs

Sea-roving Allied bombers now are ranging along more than 2,000 miles of Japan's supply-strained outposts of defenses in the South and Central Pacific—from Northeastern New Guinea to the Marshalls—looting and burning.

Latest activities embraced the probable sinking of a 2,500-ton enemy ship off New Guinea, a 6,000-ton vessel off New Britain, the dropping of 40 tons of bombs on an airfield on Bougainville, and harbor and harbor fires set during the raid on Saipan.

These Marshall and Gilbert raids presently catch the eye. For they are being made from undisclosed bases by land-based Army Liberators of the Seventh Air Force, which has headquarters in Hawaii.

Ret Hawaii is more than 2,000 miles removed from the raiding scene. Nearer to the Marshalls and Gilberts are the Ellice Islands to the southwest where American air bases recently have been acquired at Nanumea and Funafuti.

Although Japan has air bases in the Marshalls and Gilberts, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz reported no enemy interception encountered by the Liberators which struck Monday at Jaluit and Mill in the Marshalls and Makin in the Gilberts. On the preceding Saturday and Sunday the Liberators had bombed Mill in the Marshalls and Tarawa in the Gilberts. None of the big bombers has been lost or damaged in these attacks.

The raids have followed close upon the heels of the weather-battered Nimitz at Pearl Harbor that his Central Pacific forces soon will launch an offensive against Japan.

The heavy damage caused by the 6,000-ton vessel near Rabaul by bombs of Catalina flying boats which were attacking a convoy Monday night and early Tuesday brought to 50 the number of cargo ships listed as sunk or damaged in that area in General Douglas MacArthur's November communique.

Member Of Famed 19th Bomb Group Is Killed

GREENVILLE, TEXAS —(AP)— Aviation Student Millen S. Marshall, 19, member of the famed 19th Bombardment Group and twice cited for outstanding duty, was killed Wednesday night when his plane crashed near Majors Army Air Field.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Marshall, Canton, Ohio.

Slavs Score Success In Drive On Germans

LONDON —(AP)— Fighting fiercely against strong German attacks, aggressive Yugoslav partisans nevertheless scored some offensive successes including the capture of a coal mine near Lazaravac which supplies fuel to war factories and power plants in Belgrade, a communique broadcast by the Yugoslav Army of Liberation said Thursday.

But German breakthrough was acknowledged in Eastern Bosnia, and only successful defensive operations were claimed in Dalmatia and Croatia.

Another Victim Of Alpine Shooting Dies

ALPINE —(AP)— Mrs. Pearl Ferris Henderson, 33, wounded in a double shooting at the Henderson ranch 10 miles from Fort Davis late Sunday died in a hospital here Thursday morning. Funeral services are pending.

Funeral services for her father, W. C. Davis, 74, retired trapper, who was killed instantly in the shooting, were held here Wednesday.

Soviet Attitude Toward Small States Set Forth

MOSCOW —(AP)— The Soviet attitude toward the post-war status of small European states was set forth Thursday by Izvestia. The government newspaper called for a transition period to give these nations time to determine their own futures, and strongly opposed any federation of these countries against Russia.

Moscow Meeting Paved Way For Lasting Peace

Secretary Of State First Cabinet Member To Address Congress

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Secretary of State Hull, the first cabinet member ever to address Congress, declared Thursday before a joint session of both houses that "we can and will remain masters of our own fate" through cooperation with other nations likewise intent upon security.

The decisions made at the Moscow conference, from which he returned a national hero, point the way, he said, to a world free of "spheres of influence for alliances, for balance or power or any other of the special arrangements through which, in the unhappy past, the nations strove to safeguard their security or to promote their interests."

"We of today," said the white-haired 72-year-old Hull, "shall be judged in the future by the manner in which we meet the unprecedented responsibility that rests upon us—not alone in winning the war, but also in making certain that the opportunities of future peace and security shall not be lost."

He said the United Nations are on the offensive and that "our enemies are suffering defeat after defeat."

But victory, he added, will be hastened only as all the United Nations continue to press their advantage without the slightest relaxation or deviation.

He said the Moscow conference "is believed to have been an important step in the direction both of shortening the war and of making provision for the future."

It is increasingly clear, he continued, that the time is nearing when more and more of the territory held by the enemy will be wrested from his grasp, "and when Germany and its remaining satellites will have to go the way of Fascist Italy."

The secretary of state said the Moscow discussions were concerned with many of the new problems which would arise out of such developments.

Important agreements were reached but there were no secret agreements, and none was suggested.

In enumerating the accomplishments at Moscow, Hull told how the meeting decided to set up a European advisory commission in London and an advisory council for Italy.

He described the principles set forth in the declaration on Italy as "among the most basic human rights in civilized society."

Garza Gets Test To Permian Lime Southeast Of Post

M. L. Richards, Big Spring, and R. E. Carter, New Orleans, have filed application to drill a 3,300-foot wildcat 5 miles southeast of Post in Central Garza County.

The new development will be No. 1 K. Stoker, 1,650 feet from the west and 330 feet from the south lines of the northwest quarter of section 32, block 5, GREGG survey.

Nearest production is about four miles west in the Garza field where a few small wells have been making oil for several years from the Permian line at an average depth of 2,510 feet.

Drilling is scheduled to start Nov. 23, with cable tools. Crockett Wildcat Coring Saturation Duquesne Oil Corporation No. 1 J. M. Shannon estate, wildcat project in Crockett County two miles south of the World field, encountered some saturation in coring hard lime at 2,452-95 feet and at 2,462-70 feet.

The formation is extremely hard and shows very little porosity. Coring was proceeding below 2,530 feet. Top of the lime was marked at 2,450 feet. Surface elevation is 2,703 feet. Proposed objective is 2,700 feet or oil or water above that depth. No. 3 Mabee To Swab.

The Texas Company No. 3 Mabee, Southeast Andrews County development, cored from 4,678-95 feet and recovered 9 feet of grey finely crystalline dolomite with some bleaching oil. Another core at 4,696-4710 feet brought out 18 inches of tan dolomite with anhydrite interstices and slight saturation.

Operator was preparing to run tubing Thursday morning and test with the swab.

The Texas No. 2 Mabee cored at 4,710-30 feet and recovered two feet of slightly stained dolomite. A Schlumberger survey will be run and then casing will be set above the pay section to allow a test. Bay Going Deeper.

C. U. Bay No. 1 Bitler & Lowe, new discovery in Northwest Andrews, was in process of killing oil flow of around 10 barrels per hour to start drilling deeper from present bottom of 7,189 feet. Humble Oil & Refining Company (Continued on Page 4)

It Was Not As Peaceful As This Looks

The fighting was heavy near Paestum, Italy, when this American landing barge was disgorging its men and material, and those Liberty ships in the background had brought men and supplies from Africa for the invasion. At Salerno, nearby, and at this beach, the Nazis put up a desperate fight to drive the Americans back into the sea. They failed.

ATHENS AIRPORT BOMBED AGAIN

American Planes Attack Two Nazi Airfields In Greece As Heavy Rains Reduce Ground Operations In Italy

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, ALGIERS —(AP)— American aircraft attacked two German airfields in the Athens area Wednesday while heavy rains and flooding rivers reduced ground operations in Italy, it was announced Thursday.

One of the sweeps across to Greece was made by American Flying Fortresses. They hit the Elefsis airfield in the third attack on that objective in as many days. At the same time Mitchell mediums bombed the Kalamaki airfield.

Despite adverse conditions, Germans mounted several counterattacks on the eastern end of the Italian battle line but all were repulsed by the British Eighth Army.

Many rivers near the front swept out of their banks.

At least 100,000 men were crowded into temporary structures, were turned into torrents, and the heavy rains effectively washed out traces of the thousands of mines planted in front of German positions.

Enemy preparations for a counterattack along the middle sector of the Sangro River front were smashed by the Eighth Army artillery a mile northwest of Atesa near the villages of Archi and Perano.

From the entire Fifth Army front only intermittent fire, in which small German boats on the Garigliano River were hit, was reported.

Fighter-bombers and fighters carried offensive patrols along the battle front despite the adverse weather and light bombers hit industrial targets at Piombino on the west coast opposite Elba.

Explosions were seen among the blast furnaces and coke ovens of the town's industrial district.

The Fortresses, unscathed to Elefsis, braved an intense barrage to pour explosives on the hangars, storage dumps, runways and parked aircraft. Black columns of smoke rose from revetments. And three explosions marked hits in the storage areas.

Eight fires blazed from the Kalamaki airfield, visited by the Mitchells which had to fight their way with Lightning escort through a thin screen of enemy planes.

While returning, the broadcast said, the raiders encountered 100 Allied fighters and shot down six. Japanese losses were put at 10 planes.

The Japanese claims were totally without confirmation from Allied sources.

Nation May Take Active Part In Battling Axis

Turks Said Ready To Join United Nations As Result Of Talks

By WILLIAM B. KING — ANKARA, TURKEY — (AP) — Turkey is moving toward war with the Axis.

Turkey's sub rosa assistance to Allied armed forces, which closely approximates that which the United States gave Britain in the months before Pearl Harbor, is rapidly carrying the nation toward a war footing.

Details of the help which already is being given naturally cannot be disclosed, but this correspondent is convinced that what was only friendly neutrality a few months ago is rapidly approaching genuine cooperation.

That this cooperation may grow into Turkish participation in the war on an all-out scale is recognized by the Turkish government, which is making its plans for that eventuality.

(This is the broadest indication of Turkey's new attitude to come direct from Ankara through a censorship which, so far as it concerns Turkey's foreign relations, has been one of the most cautious and rigid in Europe. King's findings are supported by information supplied by a man in London with authoritative connections, who cannot be identified. He said two weeks ago that outright Turkish participation in the war, qualified though it might be, was in the cards.)

Real war may not become Turkey's lot for several months.

A few weeks ago I was convinced that Turkey would not enter the war before spring, but now I am convinced she will be in the war (Continued on Page 4)

Rumanians Seek To Flee Country

BERN, SWITZERLAND —(AP)— Thousands of Rumanians are crowding neutral consulates seeking visas to go abroad as a result of tensions created by the nearness of Russia's armies, the revival of a dispute with Hungary and increasing indications of a government crisis.

A Bucharest dispatch to the Gazette De Lausanne said 30,000 persons had asked visas to Turkey, and 55,000 to Switzerland.

Refugees from the north, streaming into the capital from areas threatened by the Red Army advances west of Kiev, created an acute housing problem.

Rumors of a government change slanted more toward a "democratic regime" have increased, the Bucharest dispatch said, with the report that King Mihai saw Julius Maniu, aged peasant leader and chief of the opposition who fought the Nazi alliance from the beginning.

Preview Of Post-War Follies

On the official Washington vaudeville stage today are a number of impromptu acts which begin to look like bit rehearsals for that super-duper attraction which will probably be billed as "The Post-War Follies of 1947." The question mark will of course be filled in when it is known in what year the war ends.

The White House headlines its act with that grand old man of the capital theater, Bernard M. Baruch, who will do his stuff under the direction of Office of War De-Mobilization maestro James F. Byrnes.

This steals top billing from an act which was being quietly rehearsed in War Production Board. Producer Donald M. Nelson's stars apparently had an elaborate scenario already prepared, telling just how they thought they might put on the post-war show. WPB didn't think it would help the actual war effort to promote their play just now, so it was kept secret. Now this plan must be kept on the shelf, unless Mr. Baruch likes it. But the White House appointment of Baruch stole a march on the WPB planners.

War and Navy departments—the former much more than the latter—have their ideas about reconversion to peace. In the Army's limelight is Undersecretary of War Robert P. Patterson's trial balloon speech on putting Selective Service into reverse, to release men from the service only when and as jobs were available in civilian life.

Department of Justice is full of plays about curbing post-war cartels, Treasury has its ideas for post-war stabilization of currency, Commerce its private industry-sponsored Committee for Economic Development. Agriculture has a farm plan.

Congress gave the hook last summer to the National Resources Planning Board, which had been doing research on post-war problems ever since the war began, obviously thinking this act would stop the executive end of the government from doing a lot of plotting for post-war boondoggling. The Baruch appointment also stole a march on Congress.

Opinion on the Capitol Hill lots being almost unanimous that the Congress should do the post-war planning, you will find there several scripts that have now reached the shooting stage.

Uncle Sam's Tax Headaches

U. S. Treasury officials estimate that some $39 billion tax dollars will be collected from the citizenry during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1944.

If this figure sets you back on your reclaimed rubber heels, you must of course let your reflexes react promptly so as to recover for realization of the walloping shock that this is nothing at all. For the total cost of running the government this year is $106 billion, $100 billion of which is this year's cost of the war, the total appropriated cost of the war to date being $330 billion.

The $39 billion collected in taxes this year is therefore only about 12 per cent, or one-eighth of the cost of the war up to now, but taking this $39 billion for whatever it's worth, consider—while Congress debates over how much to raise taxes for next year—what a stupendous job it is to collect that sum of only $39 billion.

The whole story of this collection job was revealed by Bureau of Internal Revenue experts, headed by Assistant Commissioner Harold N. Graves, when they appeared recently before the House Ways and Means Committee to ask for more money to complete the year's collection. Originally the BIR had been given $95 million, but when Congress passed the pay-as-you-go tax bill, the cost of collection went up so high that the BIR boys had to come back and ask for $22 million more.

College Greeks And Spartan Living

The old grad's nostalgic memories of fraternity life would suffer quite a jolt, we understand, if rationing and travel restrictions would allow him to visit alma mater this year. For it seems that the sumptuous quarters, sentimental comradeship and amiable hell-raising traditional to Greek letter brotherhoods are among the minor casualties of war.

There will be plenty of fun in fraternities again, as students flock to college in increasing number after the war, many of them with government aid. And if they find that some of the simplicity and seriousness of the wartime program has remained, at the expense of a little rah-rah atmosphere, it won't do the boys a bit of harm.

Winter Woolies

A lot of us brave souls have borne unflinchingly such warborn hardships as eating chicken instead of steak, riding a bus to work and spreading oleo on the morning toast. But now the war really begins to hit home.

There is a prospective shortage of winter woolies. Yes, Roy A. Cheney, president of the Underwear Institute, takes a very dismal view of the red flannel situation. And with a coal and oil shortage, and winter coming on apace.

It isn't yarn and it isn't price, says Cheney. WPB and OPA have been kind to the underwear people. No, it's manpower. Workers have been lured to other, more militarily thrilling jobs, and the scanty outlook is even scantier. Cheney puts it squarely up to the War Manpower Commission.

Well, don't just stand there shivering, Mr. McNutt. DO something!

Marble Pie Is Easy

Marble pie makes an easy de luxe Thanksgiving dessert.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Don't slave over the Thanksgiving dessert. It's neither necessary, nor good form in wartime. But make dessert good to eat and good to look at—also easy on ration points.

Marble Pie

One package prepared chocolate pudding, 1 package prepared vanilla pudding, 3 1/2 cups milk (1 3/4 cups per package), 1 baked 9-inch pie shell.

Prepare puddings as directed on packages, reducing milk in each recipe to 1 3/4 cups. Cool to lukewarm. Put by tablespoons into cold pie shell, alternating light and dark puddings. Then with knife or spatula, cut through filling in wide zigzag course; repeat in opposite direction. Chill.

Apple Pan Dowdy (Serves 6-8)

Eight tart cooking apples, 1/4 cup water, 1 cup molasses, 2/3 cup sugar, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons butter, pastry.

Peel, quarter and core apples. Place in covered casserole dish; add water, molasses, sugar and salt. Cover and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 30 minutes; remove cover and bake for 15 minutes longer. Remove from oven; cool; dot with butter. Roll pastry to 1/4-inch thickness, prick with fork; cover apples. Bake in very hot oven (450 degrees F.) for 10 minutes; reduce heat to moderate (350 degrees F.) and continue baking 20 minutes longer.

Cranberry Apply Sauce

(Makes about 1 1/2 quart sauce) Two cups sugar, 2 cups water, 2 apples, peeled and cubed; 4 cups fresh cranberries, 1 one-inch stick cinnamon.

Boil sugar and water together 3 minutes. Add cubed apples and cook gently for 3 minutes. Apples should be slightly softened but still hold their shape. Add cranberries and stick cinnamon and boil without stirring until all the skins pop open (5 minutes is usually sufficient). Remove from fire and allow the sauce to remain in saucepan until cool. In an address prepared for a dairymen's League Cooperative Association food forum, Roy F. What do you like about Coffee Strength?

DOWN HERE in the Southwest we have several schools of thought on coffee. Some graduates insist the best coffee is strong, black, and hot. Others prefer it light and delicate, flavored with cream and sugar. Or sugar alone. Then there's the minority who are content any which way—just so long a saucer accompanies the cup! It doesn't matter which school you support. Admiration is blended to accommodate all tastes. It has sufficient heavy bodied coffee to enable anyone to make a "strong" cup. By using less coffee, a lighter brew of course can be made. In neither instance is there a sacrifice of Admiration's wonderful aroma and flavor.

LAMOFILM—THE PERFECT PROTECTION

Buy Admiration in the Lamofilm Package. This specially designed container, thrice sealed against flavor loss—(moisture, air, and deterioration of freshness)—gives you vacuum-pack protection. All the goodness of Admiration's famed blend is locked in at the roasting plant. And it stays in too! You'll instantly observe this when you open a new package. How? By the generous, fragrant aroma that will flood the room.

FOR FIFTEEN MINUTES OF FUN, Tune in PARKER WILLSON and His Coffee Grinders, 12:30 Noon Weekdays, Lone Star Chain.

The Fine Arts Club will present Mrs. J. Howard Hodge, who will review "Mother Russia," a book by Maurice Hindus.

The Friday meeting is in observance of National Book Week, November 14-20.

Assisting libraries is one of the major projects of the National Federation of Women's Clubs. At this meeting, each federated club in Midland will make a contribution to the Midland book fund.

Mrs. James H. Goodman will report on the State Convention held at Austin last week which she attended as a delegate.

Mrs. Rosita Kollar, librarian, extends a cordial invitation to all the women of Midland to attend this meeting and join the inspection tour of the library she has planned.

Mrs. G. C. Galligan spoke on "Food on the Foreign Front" and told of the part America is playing in feeding the people of Europe and the problems confronting leaders in carrying out this program.

A report from the convention of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs which was held in Austin last week was submitted by Mrs. George Vannaman.

Mrs. Ben Picheer was admitted to the club as a new member. Mrs. Al Borling and Mrs. Glenn Mershan were special guests.

Members present were Dorothy Bracewell, Dorothy Hamilton, Janie Johnson, Aileen Maxwell, Bee McClure, Louise McClain, Jo Ann Montgomery, Leola Sears, Ruth Simmons, Lillie May Stovall, Marjorie Warner, Kathryn Weeth and Lucille Wannamaker.

About 40 Volunteer Nurses Aides Attend Initial Meeting Wednesday

Approximately forty volunteer Nurses Aides attended a meeting at the courthouse Wednesday night when Mrs. Margaret Kohler of Chicago, who will be instructor of the course, was presented to the trainees by Mrs. W. H. Sloan, chairman of the Nurses Aide committee. Miss Edith Tiffany of St. Louis, nurses consultant for the middle west area of the American Red Cross, who has been here this week assisting various agencies of the organization in future plans, spoke briefly to the assembly and outlined the duties and requirements of an aide. She emphasized the importance of the work in view of the wartime shortages of nurses and urged the trainees to maintain their enthusiasm all during the training period as well as later. "You must be ready to serve the Office of Civilian Defense and the Red Cross whenever you are called," she explained. "and I hope this fine showing of enthusiasm you have demonstrated tonight will become a habit of the Red Cross Aide unit here in Midland."

Mrs. Kohler, whose husband, Lt. R. G. Kohler, has recently been assigned to the Midland Army Air Field, arrived in Midland Tuesday and has been conferring with officials and committees concerned with the aide program.

Served in Philippines
Mrs. Kohler is a graduate of Eureka College, Eureka, Ill. She later studied public health instruction at the University of Minnesota and is a graduate of the Methodist Hospital at Peoria, Ill. For two years she was instructor in nursing at the Norwegian-American Hospital in Chicago, leaving there to go to Manila as instructor of nurses training at the Mary Johnston Hospital. While in the Philippines she made frequent trips into

China and to the Sun Yat San medical center at Canton in a professional capacity. After spending nearly two years in the Orient, she returned to the United States in 1940 to continue her Public Health work. Since her recent marriage she has been dividing her time between the promotion of the nurses training program and the public health work.

In view of Mrs. Kohler's wide and varied career in health instruction, the Midland Red Cross chapter feels it has been extremely fortunate in having her here for the aide course of instruction.

Siren Blows To Get Boys—Not Fire—Out

HOT SPRINGS, S. D.—(AP)—The fire siren shrieked, trucks craned to find where the smoke was coming from and a few addicts jumped into their cars. Editor C. J. Twomey called the fire station. "No fire," came the reply. "A lot of the boys are late for the firemen's banquet at the church and we're tryin' to get 'em out!"

Garza Gets Test -- City Will Purchase Inhalator For Police

No. 1 McKean-Eilers is a new development in the area between the Bay wall and the Fulerton field to the west. The new test will be 660 feet from the south and west lines of section 13, block A-32, ps1 survey, and about a mile west of the No. 1 Bitler & Lowe.

Union Oil Company of California No. 2 Biles, in the Union region of Northwest Andrews, has drilled below 6710 feet in line.

Union No. 3 Biles has progressed under 5415 feet in line.

Shell Oil Company, Inc., No. 1 Scarborough is progressing past 4307 feet in line.

New Crane Deep Project

Standard Oil Company of Texas No. 2 Barnsley estate, 660 feet from the east and 1,980 feet from the south lines of section 27, block B-27, ps1 survey in Crane County, is a new Ellenburger effort.

The venture is one location west of a Gulf Oil Corporation Ordovician producer and one location north of Standard of Texas No. 1 Barnsley which was dry in the Ellenburger. The new test is due to drill to 5,850 feet or pay in the lower Ordovician section.

Lane To Perforate More

After tubing packer was renovated to hold the flow and the well kicked off by swabbing during Wednesday, Texas Pacific Oil & Gas Company No. 52-A Lane, McCamey area Silurian producer in Southwest Upton County, flowed oil at the rate of 5 1/2 barrels per hour over a 7-hour period.

Gas was lifted at 423,000 cubic feet per day which made the gas-oil ratio 3,204-1.

Plans are to perforate 35 feet more of the pipe from around 7,125 feet to the top of the present perforations at 7,193 feet which extends to 7,200 feet.

Possibilities are that after the new openings are cut in the casing more acid will be injected in the upper section and then additional testing will follow.

Harless To Deepen

Tubing was being extracted Thursday morning from Woodley Petroleum Company No. 1 Harless, East Hockley County discovery, for Clear Fork lime production.

In 8 hours before the well was shut in prior to start of the tube pulling the swab recovered 87 barrels of oil. Present total depth is now 5,952 feet plugged back with calseal from 5,955 feet.

Plans are to drill to more oil pay or water.

Lease Play Spreads

Reports from the area adjacent to the new Woodley well indicate widespread lease buying is going on in the territory. Considerable amounts of leases have been taken in Lubbock County and the play is extending east through Crosby and Dickens counties and on into King, where Humble recently completed a wildcat on the Bateman ranch for production.

McCandless No. 1-101

Eryce McCandless No. 1-101 Atlantic (Cordova-Union) Pecos County wildcat, was reported waiting for a swabbing unit.

The project was plugged back from total depth of 4,103 feet where it had encountered water, to 4,079 feet. The 5 1/2-inch casing was perforated with 69 shots at 4,012-37 feet, near the top of the Ellenburger.

After considerable washing with clear water it had not kicked off into flowing and swabbing was planned to further attempt that condition.

McCandless No. 1-10 Atlantic, another Pecos exploration, is rigging up rotary.

by spring. I have reached this conclusion despite the fact there has been no visible effort by the government to prepare the public for approaching participation in war. The man in the street is still convinced that Turkey will not enter the war soon.

Actual war likely will not come until this necessary preparation has been taken.

Conference Led Way

The new Turkish position naturally stems from the Moscow conference of foreign secretaries and subsequent Cairo talks between Anthony Eden, British foreign secretary, and Numan Menemencioğlu, Turkish minister of foreign affairs. The best information on the subject, however, still is that Eden made no specific demands on Turkey.

The Moscow conference was so obviously a turning point in the war that Turkey is believed to feel it politically necessary to change from her quiet role of neutrality—which every Turk will remind you has been of tremendous benefit to the Allies.

Menemencioğlu is further reported to have said that Turkey would go on helping the Allies sub rosa and would eventually enter the war, but the time and conditions could only be decided later.

Many Good Airfields

When Turkey grants air and naval bases to the Allies it will be tantamount to open warfare. This will doubtless be done until Turkey's coast and large port cities are fully protected against aerial assault.

There already are developed in Turkey large airports and landing fields which need hardly more than the arrival of Allied bombing planes and servicing crews to become bases for far-reaching operations against Axis-held territory.

Turkey's army, which is made up of some of the bravest soldiers in the world, probably will get no opportunity to go into action before spring in any event, since winter definitely is not fighting weather in Thrace, the adjoining Axis-held territory, even for foot soldiers.

Other cities where Frenchmen were warned to take precautions included Metz, Nantes, Lemans, Limoges, Toulouse, Moutauban, Pines-Lille, Denain, Strasbourg, Molsheim, Albert, Lyons, Ivry, Colombes, Billancourt and Argenteuil. The warnings were repeated several times.

LONDON—(AP)—Hanging in his cabin aboard the British minesweeper Kellett is the private victory symbol of E. Hodges, peacetime pub keeper and wartime chief engineer of the vessel.

It is the bowler hat he wore before the war. "As soon as the victory news reaches the Kellett," Hodges says, "that bowler is all ready to come into its own again."

Bank Clerk Doubles As Naval Chaplain

WILLIAMSBURG, VA.—(AP)— A bank clerk in civilian life, then a petty officer in the Navy's Seabees, George W. A. Schreiner, of Alexandria, Va., found himself substituting for a chaplain to Seabees and Marines on a Pacific island. Schreiner, who calls himself an "ordinary guy, who sometimes went to church," took over the assignment when the need for a chaplain arose as the invasion party was at sea. He conducted church services to which the friendly natives as well as service men came.

Bulldogs Play Lamesa In Last Home Game Of Season Friday

Midland football fans will see their last home game of the season Friday when the Midland High School Bulldogs meet the Lamesa Golden Tornadoes on Lackey Field here at 2:30 p. m. The Bulldogs will wind up their season next Thursday in a Turkey Day battle with the Odessa Bronchos on the Broncho field.

The Tornadoes will be seeking their first conference win of the season in the Bulldog game, and have been working hard the past week in preparation for the game.

The team combines speed with deception and although it has been luckless in all but one game it has consistently been a threat to each of its opponents.

Team In Good Shape
The Bulldogs are in good shape after a three weeks lay-off, and fans will see the Midland team at its best in the Lamesa encounter. John Spurge, guard, has an injured foot but probably will start the game. His is the only serious injury among the Bulldogs.

The Tornadoes work from a box formation, the Bulldogs from the T. The visitors have gained some recognition for their deceptiveness and it is this trait which apparently has Coaches Gene McCollum and Jack Atkins worried. Although the Bulldog backfield is adept at stopping open smashes, they have not yet run up against a truly tricky squad. A favorite stunt of the Tornado runners is to hide the ball behind their backs and break for the open. They are able to rack up many gains before the opposing players can determine which one is carrying the mail.

Passing Threat
The passing combination of Roberts to Hawkins has proved disconcerting to opponents all season, and in anticipation the Bulldog coaches have been trying to improve the team's pass defenses. The probable lineup since he has been off the team for a time, but he is expected to be used in this game.

The probable starting lineups:
LAMESA Pos. MIDLAND
Bretcher LE Watson
Patterson LT Spurge
L. Sharp LG Taylor
D. Moore C Edwards
Bizzell RG Roy
A. Roberts RT Funk
E. Hawkins RE Daugherty
E. Hawkins TB Richards
Billingsley HB Stuckney
Wise HB H. Drake

Huntsville High Seeks Admission To AA Class

PALESTINE — (AP) — Huntsville High School has made application for membership in District 12-AA of Texas Interscholastic League football, District Chairman Bonner Prizzell said Thursday.

Huntsville, which has been playing in the A division, now has sufficient enrollment to qualify for a place in the AA class.

Texas Interscholastic League Seeks To Cut Season Schedules To 9 Games

ABILENE — (AP) — Schedules would be cut to nine games a season ending Thanksgiving Day. This would cut one game from the present schedule and also shorten the season by a week. Most schools have been operating the campaign since the middle of September. The committee submitted a rule limiting the value of awards to $7.50 per athlete per season except in the last year of participation when the limit would be $15.00.

The rule on eligibility would end competition after a student had 12 credits or more on entering the ninth semester of school. This would prevent athletes "laying over" for participation their fifth and sixth years in school.

Practice Sessions Limited
Many schools have been agitating for suspension of spring football training because of interference with baseball and track. Fatherree said, but the rule as passed by the council for submission to referendum did not suspend this training. However, it would provide no schools could have group football meetings or conditioning before Sept. 1. This tightens the old regulation which provides that no uniforms or equipment may be issued before Sept. 1.

The present transfer rule requires a student to be in school a year before he can compete in football or basketball if he has competed in those sports in the school from which he transferred. Under the new rule to be submitted to the schools for ratification the athlete would be ineligible the first year after he transferred from a school where he had played but afterwards he could compete in any school.

Sports Roundup

By Hugh S. Fullerton Jr.

NEW YORK — (AP) — Texas always does things in a big way, so it's no surprise to learn that the Lone Star State will present two championship games next week. Besides the Texas-Texas Aggies tilt for the Southwest Conference crown Thanksgiving Day, there'll be a "service" title clash between the Randolph Field Ramblers and the Southwestern Louisiana Institute trainees at San Antonio, Nov. 27.

Ought to be quite a game, too, when Glenn Dobbs runs up against Alvin Dark. Of course, the Arkansas Aggies may have something to say about that championship tag. When the Marines took Angelo Bertelli from Notre Dame, they also took ten first-rate basketball players, but Coach Moose Krause still has a pair of 6-foot, 7-inch sophomores forwards and a lot of other good material.

Observation Post
The Oklahoma football players, who upset Missouri recently after receiving farewell kisses from a bevy of beautiful co-eds when they left for the game, now insist they won't play unless the girls repeat the act before each game. That shows the difference between this year's football and the old-fashioned variety — when the boys wouldn't play unless they received their pay envelopes first.

Service Dept.
The only officer in the game when the Casablanca Yankees beat the Algiers Street Walkers in the North African world series last month was Lt. Walt Singer, former Syracuse and Giants footballer. He stocked a decisive home run in the second game. Ensign Stanley Pitts, 1938 Kansas State grid captain and more recently line coach at South Dakota State, has completed his training for naval guard duty at New Orleans and is ready to ship out as C. O. of a Navy gun crew on a merchant ship. That must make him a head coach now.

State Guard Rolls Will Be Increased

AUSTIN — (AP) — Strength of the Texas State Guard will be increased to more than 25,000 officers and men as a result of the recruiting campaign conducted during State Guard Week Nov. 7-13, Adj. Gen. Arthur Knickerbocker believes.

Knickerbocker said final reports were not in but that they were expected to show an increase of nearly 10,000 members in the state's military force.

Before the campaign the guard contained 16,600 officers and men, he said.

Yankees To Train At Atlantic City In 1944

The management of the world champions Wednesday completed arrangements to train in Atlantic City with permission to use the National Guard armory in case of bad weather.

Bobcats Facing Crucial Test In Drive For Title

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

The chips go on the line Friday night for San Angelo's Bobcats who began talking about a Texas schoolboy football championship last summer and thus far have made good every boast.

They met the only team left to contest their drive to a District 3 title and a spot in the December play-off.

Sweetwater, which bars the way, is undefeated and untied the same as San Angelo and that's the reason this game will be tops in the state for the week.

Bobcats Have Edge
Off their records it appears San Angelo and Sweetwater are close to the same strength. San Angelo probably will be a slight favorite in most parts but a victory by Sweetwater certainly would not be regarded as an upset.

Meanwhile district championships will hang in the balance in the Ysleta-Bowie (El Paso), Waco-Bryan and Goose Creek-Beaumont games Friday night. Ysleta can win the District 4 crown by a tie or victory; Bowie has to win to tie for the top. Waco and Bryan are division winners and the victor in their game will be the champion. Beaumont is out of the District 14 race but could throw Goose Creek into a tie for the lead with a victory. A win or tie would definitely make Goose Creek champion.

44 Games Scheduled
There are four important battles but none of decisive nature barring big upsets.

All of the state's undefeated, untied teams—Amarillo, San Angelo, Sweetwater, Ysleta, Highland Park (Dallas), Lufkin, Goose Creek and McAllen — have games, although only San Angelo and Sweetwater appear in great danger, and that's because they play each other.

There are 44 games on the week's schedule in the state. District 3-AA tilts are:
Lamesa at Midland, Sweetwater at San Angelo, Big Spring at Abilene.

Japan Still Great Naval Power

Despite Loss Of 170 Warships Japanese Navy Still Can Oppose Any Major Move In Pacific

By C. YATES McDANIEL

SOUTHWEST PACIFIC ALLIED HEADQUARTERS — (AP) — Battered and bested in every action since the early phases of the first Solomons campaign, the Japanese navy could still oppose any major move in the Western Pacific with a formidable battle fleet.

A tabulation of published Allied claims covering all major war theaters and engagements in the Pacific reveals 170 Japanese warships — destroyers or larger — have been sunk and another 153 damaged.

In December of 1941 Japan was known to have approximately 200 vessels in these categories in service or nearly completed. While at first glance Japan would appear to have no fleet left at all, numerically her losses have been primarily cruisers and destroyers — warships that can be most quickly replaced.

Still Has Power
Despite heavy and unbalancing Jap losses, an analysis of all available information, both before and since Pearl Harbor, leads to the conclusion — which doesn't necessarily reflect official opinion — that the third greatest sea power could face a showdown today with a battle fleet which would compare with what Japan had in December, 1941, like this:

Battleships — Qualitatively, if not quantitatively, slightly superior.
Aircraft carriers — Numerically about equal but definitely inferior in battle potential because of the loss of her best carriers in the Midway, Coral Sea and Solomons actions last year, forcing her to resort to slower, less battleworthy, converted ships.
Heavy cruisers — Strength reduced about one third.
Light cruisers — Recent construction has not equalized war losses but has increased speed and hitting power.
Destroyers — Shrinkage from 35 to 50 per cent.
Seaplane carriers — Approximately the same.
Had Nine Carriers
At the outbreak of the war Japan had ten battleships in service and three, or possibly four, under construction. The Japanese naval program between 1937 and 1940 provided for building four additional "armored ships." These have been variously described as battle cruisers, aircraft carriers and heavy cruisers. The last description is probably correct.

Japan started the war with nine, possibly eleven, aircraft carriers, of which seven were first class vessels. She also had nine large seaplane carriers in addition to a number of smaller ships described as tenders.

Identified Japanese cruisers totaled 35 in 1941. Of these, probably 16 were heavy ships carrying eight-inch guns. At least four or five more vessels, probably more lightly armed ships, were then under construction.

There were only 108 known Japanese destroyers two years ago but more were believed to have been laid down in the late thirties.

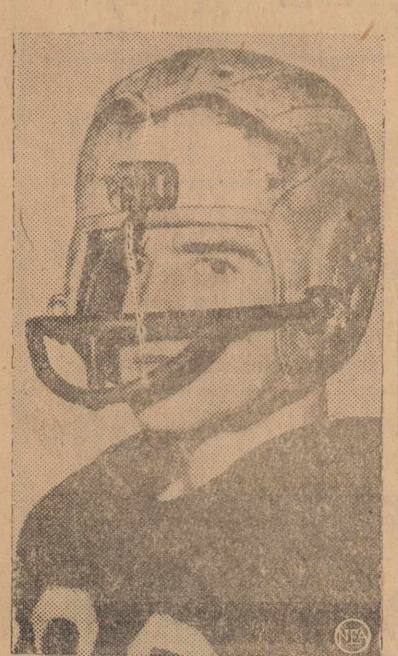

Japan also had twelve or more torpedo boats and at least 18 minesweepers — 500 to 800-ton craft — which looked like they were capable of performing some of a destroyer's duties.

Negro Woman Bites Nose Of Another Negro

Police arrested the other woman and she posted $15 bond for appearance in municipal court.

Notre Dame Meets Iowa Seahawks To Determine Nation's Greatest Team

CHICAGO — (AP) — Fortunately for Frank Leahy and Lt. Don Faurot, the social datum that it's not polite to point doesn't hold true in football circles.

So the coaches of Notre Dame and the Iowa Pre-Flight Seahawks, the nation's top ranking teams, are hard at it this week pointing their respective unbeaten and untied elevens for Saturday's showdown engagement.

The result should establish one or the other definitely as the country's greatest football team—college or service. A crowd of 50,000 is expected to watch this unofficial championship battle at Notre Dame Stadium.

Two Spottless Records
Both teams have spottless records of eight consecutive victories. The Irish string, however, is far more impressive. It includes decisive triumphs over such front ranking teams as Georgia Tech, Michigan, Navy, Army and Northwestern while the Seahawk opposition has been of second rate variety.

Notre Dame, practically unanimous choice as the nation's No. 1 team, has run up 312 points while holding its formidable foes to 37. Only one team—Georgia Tech—has scored as much as 13 points against the sturdy Irish line. Michigan, with Bill Daley playing, managed to register 12. Navy and Northwestern got six apiece and the other four, including Army, had a grand total of zero.

The Seahawks, standing in No. 2 position in the latest Associated Press national poll, have trounced Illinois, Ohio State, Iowa State, Iowa, Missouri, Ft. Riley, Marquette and Camp Grant. Not a first rater in the lot.

Rosenbloom Almost Runs Into Trouble
LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Slapsy Maxie Rosenbloom, the veteran boxer, returned from a 19,000-mile USO tour to New Caledonia, the Fiji Islands and other South Pacific points, tells this one on himself. "In the Fijis, when it got to raining too hard and dampening my gags, I'd challenge anybody in the crowd to come up and box four rounds with me. It worked fine until a big Navy guy really gave me a workout.

"Gosh, you know who he turned out to be? Tom Heeney, who fought Tunney for the title some time back."

Sgt. Thomas Marcell Has Directed Band Since Opening Of Army Air Field; Now Has Finest Bunch Of Musicians In Central Flying Training Command

October 14, 1941, was a great day for Staff Sgt. Thomas Marcell, Sgts. Leonard Maki, Edward Cunningham and Edgar Bicknell, for on that day they were transferred from the infantry to the air corps, now the Army Air Forces.

They arrived at Sloan Field, now Midland Army Air Field, headquarters of the nation's bombardier training program, to activate the 330th AAF Band, which has achieved the reputation of the best band in West Texas.

Here's why: The band consists of 32 members. From these members two dance orchestras, the "Hell from Heaven Swingsters" and the "Jive Bombers," plus the "Sextette," compose the finest collection of musicians assembled at any one Army air field in the Central Flying Training Command.

Studied in Italy. Master Sgt. Marcell enlisted in the Army when he was 19 years old at New Castle, Pa., and has served at Fort Thomas, Ky.; Pensacola, Fla.; Fort Miltree, S. C.; Fort Sam Houston, Eagle Pass, Randolph Field, all in Texas; Fort Warren, Wyo., where he served 15 straight years, and prior to transferring to the Air Forces he was stationed at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. All these years he engaged in band and dance music work with Army musical organizations.

Sergeant Marcell studied music at the Municipal Conservatory of Music in Rome, Italy, now a strategic advantage point for the Allies on their march to stamp out Hitlerism.

On returning to the United States after completing his course there, he joined the concert band called the "Creator" (meaning creator) in Pittsburgh, Pa. At present during his off-duty time he is studying for a master degree in music from the University Extension Conservatory in Chicago, Ill., under the direction of Adolph Rosenbecker and Daniel Protheroe.

On arriving at the uncompleted Midland Army Flying School at Midland, Sergeant Marcell was sent to Randolph Field on temporary duty until the newly activated 330th AAF Band instruments and personnel arrived. While at Randolph Field he played trombone with the field's band and dance orchestra.

Band Gains Popularity. On January 4, 1942, the new instruments for the new popular band arrived at Midland and following the course behind on a train from Randolph Field was Sergeant Marcell with great plans for his new band as he had been selected the leader for this new musical organization.

During the rehearsal of the band Sergeant Marcell was also rehearsing a dance orchestra and following weeks following the initial appearance of the band, the head nurse at the post hospital, Lt. Nora Capps, engaged the dance orchestra for a big informal party given by the nurses on the post. The orchestra clicked so well that their rating on the musical world climbed steadily during the months that followed and today it is tops. When the first class of bombardiers was graduated at special ceremony held in the post theater, the band was one of the feature events and they in turn serenaded the newly commissioned second lieutenants who were nick-named the "Hell from Heaven Men." And this name was adopted by Sergeant Marcell for his newly organized dance band.

The popularity of the band was growing daily and when the Army Air Forces needed men with specialist training from Midland, Odessa and Monahans, the 330th AAF Band was one of the feature attractions in the recruiting drives. At Monahans the recruiting drive was under the direction of Lt. Wilbur F. Saul, who said at the time, "The 330th AAF Band was one of the best sources of morale during the recruiting drive, and the boys in the band deserve a lot of credit for the swell work they did."

Plays For 19th Group. Two of the bands best engagements were playing for the first group of veterans of the 19th Bombardment Group who had returned from combat duty in the Southwest Pacific at a gala celebration held in Odessa and was playing for the graduation and dance for the first class of WAFS (Women's Army Ferrying Service) at Avenger Field, Sweetwater.

The "Hell from Heaven Swingsters" first public appearance took place at the Scharbauer Hotel Crystal Ballroom when they played for a dance given by a group of Midland people welcoming the arrival of new bombardier cadets in Class 42-9.

On May 8, this year, the band was moved from its first home into a special area where a completely remodeled band barracks was made ready for them, and from the band's own special funds new furnishings were moved into their new quarters.

The 330th AAF Band is the feature attraction at all functions of the officers, cadets, enlisted men and WACs. They march in reviews, parades and drives. They have appeared at many city and county functions held in Midland and Odessa. The band plays for retreat ceremony every night except Saturday and Sunday nights and on these nights, Bugler Pfc. Marshall Rowe, fills in for the band.

Sextette Is Popular. During the absence of Master Sergeant Marcell, Staff Sergeant Maki is in charge of the entire band. And when either the "Swingsters" or "Jive Bombers" are playing Sergeant Marcell is the leader, and when both orchestras are playing the same night, either Sgts. Vincent DeLuca or Bob Mayhew lead one of the dance orchestras.

Corp. Dominic Bisciglia makes the arrangements for the "Jive Bombers" and the "Sextette," the band's newest musical organization, assisted by Pfc. Val Krieb. When the Swingsters alone are playing, Sergeant Mayhew is assistant leader to Sergeant Marcell. The "Sextette" has become very popular at the post hospital due to their many appearances there to serenade the convalescing patients.

Corp. Fred Lybarker, a pianist extraordinary, is the band's drum major, and he plays with both dance orchestras when they are playing single engagements.

One of the main features of the 330th AAF Band is its Friday morning route around the post serenading each and every department on the field.

The "Hell from Heaven Swingsters" have appeared on the "Bombs Away" radio program, a weekly feature from Midland Army Air Field, for the last 64 weeks.

Simplified Gas Ration Program To Start Dec. 1

The Office of Price Administration has announced a simplified gasoline rationing program, effective December 1, the Midland County War Price and Rationing Board reported Thursday. Under the new program all "B" and "C" gasoline books issued by rationing boards will contain fewer coupons than in the past, but each coupon will be good for more gallons than before. No increase in the amount of gasoline allowed is involved. Mrs. T. H. Stringer, assistant chief clerk, said.

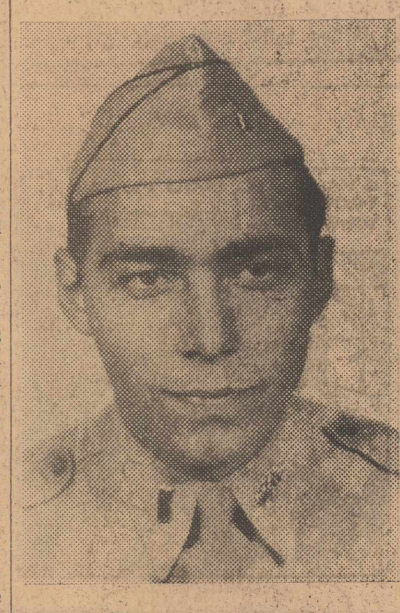

All "B" and "C" coupons issued throughout the country on and after December 1 will be worth five gallons each, as compared with the present value of two gallons for coupons of those types in the East and Midwest and three gallons in the Far West.

The new supplemental gasoline ration coupons of five gallons value will be issued with the designation, "B-2" and "C-2" on their face. As present "B" and "C" and "B-1" and "C-1" coupons run out, they will be replaced by the new higher-unit-value coupons. Meanwhile, outstanding coupons issued before December 1 will continue to be worth only two gallons in the East and Midwest and three gallons in the Far West.

OPA explained that "B-1" coupons are a reprint of the earlier "B" coupons, they are used in the same way and have the same value. The same thing is true of "C" and "C-1" coupons.

New Citizens Are Especially Urged To Visit Library

Mrs. Rosita Hollar, librarian, has issued a special invitation to new residents of the county to visit the Midland County Library this week during the observance of National Book Week, which ends Saturday. She urges them to become acquainted with the excellent library and to learn of its facilities.

The slogan for Book Week, which is especially dedicated this year to the purpose of bringing young people and good books together, is "Build the Future With Books." Mrs. Hollar pointed out in this war year the aim of the observance is even more vital than in peacetime. The children of today will find great opportunities and tremendous responsibility tomorrow. The manner in which they face both will depend upon the imaginative spur received now. They will find much to interest them in a visit to the library and to book stores during this week.

Special displays and cards calling attention to the week and to the value and pleasure of proper use of the library are on display in the library and at the Midland Drug Store.

The Midland County Library was founded in 1929 as a result of the work of the Wednesday Study Club and the County Library Association. A bronze marker on the wall near the entrance to the library commemorates the work of the association and its officers are listed as follows:

Mrs. J. M. Caldwell, president; Mrs. E. P. Cowden, vice president; and Mrs. H. W. Rowe, secretary-treasurer. Directors and committee heads are given as Mrs. S. R. Preston, Mrs. Clarence Scharbauer, Mrs. C. M. Goldsmith, Mrs. J. M. Speed, Mrs. E. J. Moran, Mrs. J. M. DeArmond, and Mrs. M. R. Hill. The date on the marker is 1909-1929.

Knifing Coincidence

ALAMOSA, COLO.—(AP)—When the American Legion was collecting hunting knives to send to soldiers in the South Pacific for jungle fighting Robert E. Thalmann of Alamosa donated a fine blade.

Recently he received a letter from S/Sgt. W. D. O'Steen, from the South Pacific, who said he had been issued Thalmann's knife and would return it after the war.

In World War No. 1 Thalmann had a buddy in France and his name was W. D. O'Steen. He's trying to find out if the sergeant is the son of the World War No. 1 soldier.

TEMPORARY INTEREST

CHAPTER XVI

The Club was gay, the lights danced over the water, the orchestra was smooth and good. Emily, revolving in Frank's competent arms thought every now and again, with utmost astonishment, why she had a good time. The little frock she had bought on her way home Saturday noon was simple and effective, a dotted swiss, red and blue dots on a white ground, with a soft navy blue belt. The skirt was full and the bodice tight. She looked enchanting and did not need Frank's eyes or comments to tell her so. He warned, spinning her around a corner.

"I'm falling in love with you, Emily."

"Please don't," she said, gravely. Then she laughed. "It's my red, white and blue, it's the night and the music. Tomorrow you'll feel quite differently."

She hoped she spoke true prophecy for every now and again she forgot she was having a good time. She remembered Millicent's eyes, her unhappy mouth and the anxious, triangular frown between her brows. And later, walking out on the big veranda, which faced the water, feeling Frank's hand possessively on her arm, she was miserable and lonely. Nancy was home, alone. Jim was home. . . .

"A triumphal return to the social whirl," Frank suggested. "I've not had one full dance with you."

She said:

"I'm having a grand time. I'll have to do it more often, I suppose. . . . I'd forgotten the Club could be such fun!"

"If you do it more often," he said, "it will have to be with me. Look, Emily, don't you like me at all?"

He looked and spoke like an old man and very sulky boy.

She said mildly: "I like you very much, I always have."

"Hell," he said, unapologetic, "I hoped you'd say you didn't, and that you couldn't stand me. Dislike is something you can fight, get your teeth in—even hatred's a pretty good sign. But indifference. . . . Liking is indifference. . . . as far as I'm concerned."

"You asked me," she said, unmoved, "and I answered, Frank, don't be idiotic. Why spoil such a very pleasant evening?"

"I'm not giving up," he said. "I wish you'd take me seriously."

"I wish you'd take yourself seriously," she told him, and then felt sorry she had said anything. Two years in the Army had taken care of his personal debt to society.

He stiffened.

"Meaning what?"

Emily felt she might as well finish what she'd begun.

"I mean your work at the mill," she said. "The responsibility of the job you've taken on. Oh, I know it probably doesn't seem very important to you right now that you're still so close to the other side of the war. But, believe me, it is important. I don't mean just making money for yourself and your stockholders, naturally. I mean the responsibility of fair dealing with the people who work for you, Frank. . . . I wish some time you'd find a legitimate excuse to go into some of the homes."

He turned and looked at her sharply.

"What's the matter with them? I thought we had a pretty good setup."

"You have," she agreed, "on the surface. It's none of my business but—"

"You could make it your business."

She said, slowly: "Perhaps. And then I could say that the means were justified by the result. I suppose I could take advantage of your temporary interest in me—

"Who says it's temporary?"

"I DO," she answered calmly. She faced him smiling a little, her hair soft and cloudy around her face, the full skirts stirred by the fresh breeze from the bay. "Temporary in the extreme. You're home and you're bored. Most of the girls are—or could be—responsive to you. You've been away a long time, you're new to them now and there is very little competition for you. Which does not mean that you are not one of the most eligible men in town by any count as well as one of the most attractive. You've been here a few weeks and it's all been very easy for you. And fun, I've no doubt. Then I come along, and I haven't the time to give you, I've a job I like, work which means a great deal to me. I don't flatter when you approach. You're not used to that. So you think that—"

"For heaven's sake," he asked helplessly, "is this a course in psychology?"

She laughed.

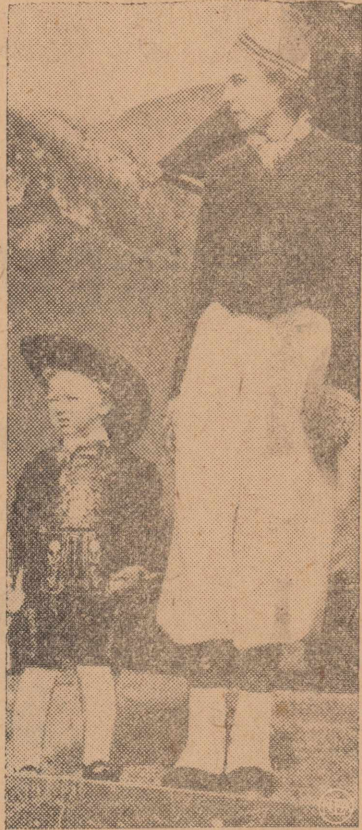

"I'm sorry," she told him, "forgive me. I meant only that I might use your sudden, if evanescent, attention, blackmail you into doing more for your father's employees than has been done in a great many years. Well, I won't. I like you too well for that, I think too highly of the intelligence you go out of your way to hide. All I ask is that you investigate for yourself. I don't think I'll have to say another word."

Dan Graham came out on the porch and grinned at Frank. "Devastated to interrupt," he said mendaciously, "but the music's started and I want a dance with Emily."

He put his arm around her and moved toward the dance floor. Frank stared after them. She was probably right. He was bored, she was new, different, and, as she had said, indifferent. That had piqued him, aroused his interest. Nancy. . . . all quick answers and provocative allurements. . . . he'd met a thousand girls like Nancy, but none like Emily. Temporary, was it? He'd show her!

Town Is Tanking Up

GREAT FALLS, MONT.—(P)—Great Falls has solved the problem of how to dispose of old, junked hot water tanks by using them for street markers.

The old tanks are of no value for war scrap, experts said. The city paints them attractively and sets them at street intersections. The street names are painted upon the sides of the tanks.

Woman Owner Is Barred From Own Bar In New York

By ADELAIDE KERR AP Features Writer

Dorothy Kirwan can't set foot inside her own business.

If her customers want to see her they have to come out in the street.

Mrs. Kirwan owns McSorley's Ale House in New York. But the bar has an unbroken rule—"No women allowed." So the nearest its owner comes to it during business hours is parking her car outside.

But that's near enough to bring her in close touch with her customers. The sight of her car in front of the ale house sends a half dozen old timers flocking out to the curb to tell her all the gossip—who is getting married, who has a baby, who has become engaged. All McSorley's customers know the boss, as they knew her father when he ran the place.

As far as the business itself is concerned, Mrs. Kirwan learns about that from her husband, Harry Kirwan, who runs the ale house. And if she feels a yen to step into a bar she can always go downstairs to the modern one built in the basement of her Flushing house.

A recent survey shows that 8,000,000 lunch boxes are packed daily throughout the country for war workers.

Midland County Producers Must Increase Output

Midland County farmers and livestock raisers are being urged to plan now for greatly increased production in 1944 to assist other producers of the state in reaching the huge goals set for Texas by the Department of Agriculture.

Increases in production of almost every farm product will have to be made to meet the stepped-up goals for next year, Miss Blanche Sisk, Midland County AAA administrative officer, said Thursday.

Some of the goals set for the state have been listed by Miss Sisk as follows, with expected 1943 production given first and 1944 goals following:

Milk, 4,611,000,000 and 4,659,000,000 pounds; milk per cow, 3,200 and 3,233 pounds; eggs, 271,833,000 and 272,000,000 dozen; hens and pullets, 33,331,000 and 35,997,000; chickens raised, 52,047,000 and 51,000,000; chicken broilers, 12,350,000 and 9,650,000; hogs to farrow, spring 364,000 and 310,000, fall, 328,000 and 295,000; cattle and calves, all ages, 1,723,000 and 1,751,000; beef cattle, 1,230,000 and 1,230,000; sheep and lamb, 10,677,000 and 9,990,000.

Early Mailing Of Christmas Gifts And Cards Urged

Midland Countians were urged again Thursday to mail Christmas cards and packages this month to insure delivery by Christmas and to help the Postoffice Department handle the large volume of holiday mail. The department expects the largest volume of mail in history this year, and because of a shortage of help and the already congested transportation system, is urging citizens throughout the country to mail early.

Miss Elma Graves, assistant postmaster, said Thursday that few Christmas cards and packages have been mailed here. She expressed the hope that the greater portion of the Christmas mailings will be completed this month.

Christmas cards going overseas must be mailed within a few days to arrive at their destinations in time for the holidays, Miss Graves said. Cards going overseas must be sent by first-class mail.

It is suggested that packages and cards be mailed with "Do Not Open Until Christmas" admonitions if the senders do not want the recipients to open them until the arrival of the holiday.

Sloans Get Christmas Greeting From Pacific

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Sloan have received Christmas greetings from the South Pacific in the form of a V-mail cartoon. The message is from Sloan's cousin, Lt. F. B. Sloan, and depicts an alligator in a soldier's helmet waving a friendly "hello."

Lieutenant Sloan's home is Breckenridge and he is a graduate of Rice Institute where he was captain of the football team in 1939-40. He is with the Marine Corps somewhere in the South Pacific.

When our troops moved into Italy after the landings at Salerno the retreating, defeated Germans were unable to destroy all of their material. In one ammunition dump was found a supply of the much talked-of German rocket shells. The one shown here is about four-inch size.

Stork Flies With British Navy Flag

LONDON—(AP)—When the British submarine United returned to base recently those awaiting her were puzzled to observe not only the Jolly Roger success flag but another flag they'd never seen.

The Jolly Roger meant the United had sunk an enemy warship. The other flag was a white sheet with a black stork carrying a baby in its beak.

While on patrol, the United's commanding officer, Lieut. J. C. Y. Roxburgh had received word of the safe arrival of a daughter.

After the United picked up enemy survivors including the commanding officer, the latter's first request to Roxburgh was that his wife be notified of his safety.

His reported loss might affect her condition, he explained, adding: "You see, we are expecting an addition to the family."

Builders Class Entertains For Church Leaders

In one of the most colorful and attractive events to be held during the fall season, the Friendly Builders Class of the First Methodist Church entertained Tuesday night at the Scharbauer building for officers and teachers of the church at the second annual banquet of the Sunday School department.

Floral decorations were also handled by the sponsoring class and many lovely flowers were placed about the room and on the long dining table.

District Judge Cecil Collins was principle speaker and he was introduced by M. C. Ulmer. His address concerned responsibilities to the church and nation during times of war.

"The three elements of Christian citizenship," he said, "are love of God, country, and obedience to the laws of the land."

Over 60 officers and teachers and their guests enjoyed the gala event.

Mr. and Mrs. Stacey Allen were presented with a bouquet in honor of their wedding anniversary.

The Rev. W. Carl Clement was toastmaster and invocation was pronounced by S. Ross Carr. Pfc. F. L. Gantz, Jr., presented several humorous skits and Miss Patsy Arrington gave a vocal solo. She was accompanied by Miss Peggy Eiskel. "Early Midland Lore" was discussed by C. C. Watson. A violin solo by Mrs. E. S. Hitchcock, accompanied by Mrs. Holt Jewell, followed. Judge Collins' address closed the evening program.

P.-T.A. Thanks Firms For Contributions

The North Elementary P.-T.A. announced Wednesday $430 was cleared in proceeds from the all-school carnival last month. Members are especially grateful to the large group of merchants who responded to appeals for merchandise for use at the carnival, and whose generosity was largely responsible for the carnival's success.

More than 100 firms and individuals answered the sponsoring organization's appeal.

8-B Grade Is Awarded "Visitation" Prize

As a part of the National Education Week program, the Junior High School conducted a "visitation" contest last week in which parents of students were invited to visit the classrooms. More than 250 parents called during the week and students of Miss Lowry, in 8-B, won the prize for record attendance of parents.

An aquarium has been purchased for the room as a reward for winning the contest, and it will be installed soon.

Activity Teems In South Ward School Classes

Plenty of activity and varied interests are evident in reports of the various classes at the South Elementary School.

In Miss Johnson's first grade room the students are reading "We Look and See," which has pictures and stories about "Dick and Jane." The students also have made a border of pilgrims around the room to remind them that Thanksgiving is nearing, and have constructed several bookcases of boxes and have painted them blue. Students in Mrs. Buchanan's first grade room have constructed and furnished a playhouse, and have a cradle in which they place their dolls. They have made a chair out of a box and have painted it green to conform with the color of other furniture in the room.

Miss Cox's first grade students have completed a red house with a brick-like appearance out of boxes and have made furniture for it. They made a chair out of a box and have also built a dressing table, a bookcase and a four-postered bed.

Stamp Booth Made
Students in Miss Merrill's second grade room have made a war stamp booth of wood and covered it with brown paper. "We buy war stamps so we make a place to sell them," they explain. Nearly everyone in the room buys at least one war stamp each month. The students have learned to say the pledge of allegiance to the flag.

Second grade pupils of Miss Orr's room have built a recreation reading room and have built all the furniture for it. They built chairs out of boxes, put cotton over them and made covers for them, ending with overstuffed chairs. They also made an overstuffed couch and a round table, which they painted red. A bookcase for the room also was built.

Miss McCubbin's third grade students have made a bank to have a place in which to save their money to buy war stamps. Through use of the bank they can save coins until they have enough to purchase stamps.

Students in Miss Barrow's third grade room have done many extra services to earn money with which to become members of the Junior Red Cross. Membership costs 50 cents. They have listed the tasks in alphabetical order as follows:

Increased Allowances In Sugar Inventories Extended Indefinitely

Increased allowances in sugar inventories permitted wholesalers and retailers on a temporary basis through November 15 will be maintained indefinitely, the Midland County War Price and Rationing Board announced Thursday.

Temporary increases were originally allowed by OPA to take care of the anticipated demand for sugar for home canning, and were later continued in effect to supply the heavier supplemental rations allowed to bakeries, confectioners and other "industrial" users.

Since the industrial user continues heavy and at the same time transportation difficulties make it important that adequate stocks of sugar be kept in the hands of both wholesalers and retailers, the increased allowances for inventories will be continued indefinitely. They may, however, be cancelled by OPA on 30 days' notice if such action should become necessary.

Bargain Rate — Fifty Cents Buys Carton Of Smokes For Fighting Man

How about giving one of the soldiers overseas a "smoke"?

Midland citizens can provide persons in service overseas with the same amount of money they spend for their own "fags" in about three days.

The Woods W. Lynch post, American Legion, has placed boxes on counters of a number of Midland business houses. Each 50-cent piece dropped into the box will purchase a carton of cigarettes for the fighting man, and each nickel will buy him a package of smokes.

The Legion post urges citizens to skip a cup of coffee and buy a package of cigarettes for a fighter instead.

Won't Forget Again

PITTSBURG, KAS.—(AP)—A lieutenant at the Pittsburg army air training field forgot to pick up the choke blocks after a plane took off the other day and you know what they did to him? They made him wear the blocks on a rope, around his neck, all day.

HELPFUL HOUSEHOLD HINTS

WAR demand for rubber and copper means your electric cords must last for a long time. So give them proper care. Don't play "tug of war" like the young lady above. Take a firm grasp on the plug itself and pull it out quickly.

How to INCREASE the LIFE of Your ELECTRIC CORDS

- When you're finished with appliances with detachable cords—irons, toasters, etc.—pull out wall plug first, then appliance plug.
- Coil cord loosely over hooks of vacuum cleaner. Be sure cord is free of knots or kinks. Avoid bends; they break insulation.
- Don't run cords under rugs where they'll be walked on. Keep cords away from radiators and steam pipes. Don't wrap them around hot appliances.
- Take care of little troubles before they become big. Repair frayed cords with friction tape. Bend prongs of loose-fitting plugs to make them fit securely.

How to conserve eyesight and light!

Eyesight and light are both vital to the war effort. Use them wisely by following these suggestions.

1. Clean lamp bulbs and bowls regularly with a damp cloth. Dry thoroughly before using.
2. Use shades with white linings that reflect light, not absorb it.
3. Keep all lights properly shaded to avoid harmful glare.
4. Arrange furniture so one lamp serves two or more people if necessary.
5. Always turn off lights in unoccupied rooms.

Don't waste Electricity just because it isn't rationed—use what you need, but need what you use.
