VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

The time is near at hand when the approval or disapproval of its public and national policy.

When the public speaks it always is a significant and consequential. The verdict applies to national politics, a utility, a private business or an individual. It is an incontrovertible force in which the victor or the victim must abide.

The public demands, and is entitled to—good service and constructive action. No other kind will develop confidence and perpetuate loyalty and patronage.

This sort of service forms one of the principles upon which the West Texas Utilities Company is founded. It is with pride that we point to the thousands of satisfied customers who stand loyal and steadfast. We like to believe that it is a commentary to our unswerving efforts that our industry continues to grow and thrive in such gratifying proportions.

Lucile Reagan Circle Has All Day Meeting.

The Lucile Reagan Circle met Tuesday, Oct. 2nd, at Mrs. Reagan's in an all day quilting party. Three quilts were quilted for the following ladies, Mesdames Leon Gilliam, H. R. Whatley, and Reaves, the hostess. Although it was cloudy and rainy out side, there was sunshine inside. The day was spent in quilting, merry making and fishing in the old Hemphill lake. At the noon hour, we were invited to the dining room, where we found the table groaning under its load of good eats, namely turkey and all the trimmings that go with a turkey dinner, all kinds of nice salads, fresh vegetables, pickles, chow chow, and pies. After we had all eaten to our capacity of this bountiful feast, the hostess served ice cream and cake. Those partaking of this bountiful repast, were the following visitors, Mesdames Clarence Norton, Hughes, Sam Roberts, B. M. Whiteaker, H. R. Whatley, Mother Whatley and Jim Gilstrap. Members, Mesdames Crain, Clifton, Clanton, Gilliam, Glenn, Bob Barnett, A. C. Roberts, Lampkin, Williams, Scott and Reaves.

The only damage, so far as reported that was done, after the dinner was served, four of the heavy weights seated themselves on the bed and the result was a meeting of the head and foot board with badly bent railings, the sad part, it was a nice new bed.

A Haskell Young Lady Weds

The Spur paper gives an account of the marriage of Miss Virgie Johnson daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Johnson of the Sayles Community. Miss Johnson is well known in Haskell county having taught school in the county a number of years before going to Spur where she engaged in teaching last year. Her many friends from the Free Press in extending congratulations.

Below we give the account of the wedding as it appeared in the Texas Spur.

Mr. A. G. Dunwoody and Miss Virgie Johnson were quietly married at the home of Rev. and Mrs. F. G. Rodgers Wednesday evening of last week. Miss Johnson had been attending the Teachers' Institute at Lubbock and arrived home late where she found Mr. Dunwoody waiting for her. They had planned the wedding for Thursday evening but set it up one day in order to defeat a number of friends who had planned to make conditions a little unpleasant for them.

Long after work hours, very long after-prayer meeting they called at the home of Rev. Rodgers pastor of the First Baptist Church, and he spoke the words which officially united them husband and wife.

Mr. Dunwoody has been in Spur ever since the opening of the store of B. Schwarz & Son. He has been with that firm continually and is considered one of the best dry goods salesmen in Texas. He has many friends here and an extended acquaintance all over West Texas.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Johnson of Haskell and was a teacher in Spur Schools last year. She was employed for the term this year and will continue her work in the schools. She has been with B. Schwarz & Son during the summer months and made a very efficient saleslady for that firm.

Mr. and Mrs. Dunwoody have an apartment in Mrs. D. G. Hisey's home and are living there. Friends join in wishing them success in life.

This is why we offer such wonderful bargains throughout our store:
The more business a store does the less it costs to do business.
To increase our volume of business and then pass the saving in cost on to our customers.
This store does business on a very low percentage of cost, because we sell goods twelve months in the year, we extend accommodations to every one who in our opinion is entitled to it. We double our volume on the same overhead expense. Therefore, we can afford to sell goods cheaper because of the less percentage of doing business. It is not necessary that we make our years profit in three months of the fall. We have had nine months of good business, we have made a legitimate profit. Now we can share our profits with you.
Come everyone and share in these wonderful savings.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

Superintendent's House Robbed

Some person, whose identity is as yet unknown, entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Horace Bass Thursday, Oct. 4 and stole around $35.00. The money had been given them for safekeeping by children of the North Ward for the purpose of buying song books, and they had had no opportunity to put it in the bank. No traces were left by the thief and we are at a loss to know who would participate in such a theft.

Vocational Agriculture Exhibit

Nothing in our opinion, attracted so much attention or received so much praise during the fair as the Vocational Agriculture Exhibit. The exhibit consisted of such things as clothes trees, tables, chairs, bookcases, stools, etc., and everything in the booth had been made since the opening of school.

The boys and their supervisor, Mr. Henry, deserve especial credit and praise for being able to put on such an exhibit.

AGRICULTURE STUDENTS TO GO TO STATE FAIR

Arrangements are being made for a trip by Mr. Henry and several agriculture students to the State Fair at Dallas, Texas, next Friday evening. They plan to leave Haskell directly after the football game between Haskell and Rotan.

The excitement was great when brave Hatus Thornton, aviator, made airplane ride Sunday afternoon.

On Saturday night a number party was held at home of Ruby Fay Thornton, by Miss Bell Kemp, Henrietta Isbell, Janie Gay Martin, Frances Ratliff, Clara Landin, and the hostess.

After several hands of bridge, refreshments of olives, pickles and candy were served. With only a few hours of sleep the girls indulged in their morning exercise of rubbing their sleepy eyes.

Four Sophomores, one Freshman, one Junior and one Senior decorated a car for the parade, on Wednesday, from one until six o'clock. The car was covered in cotton and pink hearts. After finishing the car the seven girls went to the carnival and later to the show.

Ode to the Juniors

Here's to the Junior Class of Haskell High.
They are always peppy and always alive.
They are enemies to boys and friends to all.
They help those who win and those who fall.
They are always loyal to their High School, so dear.
And for her home and land, there's nothing they fear.
They always laughing and happy are,
As they boast their school near and afar.
They treat all classes in school the same.
If they are fish, apples or seniors in name.
In fact, not a better class can be found
In Haskell High or the world around.

Foods Car in Parade

The Foods Class of Haskell High School decorated a car for the parade. It was decorated in white crepe paper and some of the members of the class rode on it.

The girls wore white dresses and their caps and aprons. The girls that rode in the car were Nova Griffin, Pauline Frierson, Hazel Redwine, Linnie Adkins, Lou Stoker and Selma Maples.

The rest of the foods class either rode in floats or marched with the Pep Squad. They were Ethel Lou Clanton, Annabelle Burt, Alpha Le Claire, Thurza Bowman, Ise Weaver, Doris Davis, Ora Burson, Mary Frazier, Ethel Frierson, Mabel Bland, Martha Lou Rogers, Naomi Pateet, Geneva Golden, Ruby Cox and Velta Mae McKnight.

Almost fifty pints of fruits and vegetables were on exhibit. All of this with something like seventy more pints of fruits and vegetables, have been raised by the girls since the opening of school.

HASKELL HIGH SCHOOL ORCHESTRA ORGANIZED

An orchestra has recently been organized in Haskell High School. The director, Mr. Meacham, is also director of a similar orchestra in Stamford High School, and has had a great deal of experience along this line. He is also director of the Haskell Municipal Band.

The high school has always shown a great deal of musical talent and we are unable to see why we cannot have a first class orchestra which ranks with the best.

The orchestra now has twenty members and more are expected from time to time. The following is the roster at present:

Buck Bland, G. T. Bynum, Alfred Bland, Billy Burt, Cornets: Morris Lancaster, Jeff Davis, McDonald, Clarinets: Annie Belle Burt, J. O. Chitwood, Pianos: Martha Lou Rogers, Marvin Gholson, Maxine Simmons, Ruby Spurlock, Violins: Ed Hester, Alto: David Ratliff, Banjo: Floyd Taylor, Mauter, Baritone: Barton Welsh, Saxophones: Ellis Medley, Drums: James Mullins, Trombone.

Sports

By Jerry Irby

The Haskell Indians and Rotan will have a football game here Friday, October 12. Rotan has a good team this year and the Indians will have to fight for the game.

Bull Dogs Beat Greyhounds 26-0

On October the 8th the Stamford Bull Dogs beat the Knox City Greyhounds 26-0. The Greyhounds threatened the Bull Dog goal line once or twice, but they could not get any closer than the ten yard line to the goal. This means that Stamford and Haskell will have a hard game. According to score Stamford will beat Haskell, but the Bull Dogs did not show any real football in this game.

Pep Squad Car Wins First Prize

The Pep Squad was very disappointed in not having their new suits for the parade Thursday, but they made the best of the situation and entered a decorated car. The pep leaders, assisted by Miss Mills, decked a car in school colors, black and gold. Their efforts were awarded by winning the first prize for the school section, which was ten dollars.

TODAY'S JOKES

A Good One On Tom Patterson

During a recent football game Tom kept himself busy squabbling with the opponents. After arguing ten or fifteen minutes, he bet them there was no one out there that could take him out of the line. About that time Coach called him. Tom would not pay off, because he forgot about coach being there.

Alpine Climbers

High school football put about 25 or 30 boys in good shape this year. They proved it last week by rushing the gates and climbing the high fences at the carnival grounds.

A Bridegroom's Duty

Mr. Dodson has been on a rampage the past week. His wife made her first sponge cake, and it was so large that as yet he has not eaten all of it. Mr. R. J. Reynolds was the cause of it because he sent too many sponges.

Concited

I hope the pep squad do not feel hurt about winning first prize. They should have as they did not have any competition.

Use Palmolive Soap (To keep that school girl complexion) O. B. and his bride might have won first place, but there was too much feminine charm missing. I suppose.

Cake Eaters

Somebody please tell some certain school boys that it is not nice to cut into first prize cakes, and eat them. That happened last week at the exhibit hall. I am going to help Mrs. Pinkerton find who did it, because she thinks it was I.

EACH day more and more of the millions who count the cost of motoring recognize the obvious superiorities of the new Plymouth in full size, style and performance.

But this is only to be expected in the Plymouth, as in every Chrysler-built car, because of the unique Chrysler principle of Standardized Quality in scientific engineering and precision manufacturing under which these cars are built.

Such features as the "Silver-Dome" high-compression engine, using gasolene, slender profile radiator, arched windows, "air-wing" fenders, internal expanding hydraulic squeakless 4-wheel brakes—are convincing naked-eye evidence of Plymouth's greater dollar-for-dollar value in the lowest-priced field.

See it. Drive it yourself. You are then bound to know the reasons for the spectacular demand which has already necessitated a doubling of the Plymouth production capacity to meet mounting sales.

TRIP TO CALIFORNIA

By W. M. Free

In our last week's letter we had reached the city of San Diego, California which is a very beautiful city with much interesting history connected with it, which we will give briefly and we trust our readers will enjoy.

San Diego has properly been named "The Cradle of Civilization" of the Pacific Coast. In 1542, but fifty years after the discovery of America by Columbus, Juan Rodriguez Cabrilla a navigator in the service of the Spanish Crown, found and charted the waters of San Diego Bay.

In 1769 the famous Franciscan Padre Junipero Serra (Some Name) first planted the cross on California soil and erected the first of California Missions, San Diego Mission de Alcalá. The beautiful facade and the stannch adobe walls of this interesting old structure are still standing.

The section called "Old Town" within the confines of the city is the most interesting spot in all Southern California. Here a monument marks the spot where General Fremont first raised the United States flag in 1846. Other absorbing sights of interest at Old Town are: the first palm trees planted in California; the picturesque old dam built by the Indians under the instruction of the Franciscans; the old grave yard and jail, the first brick house and Fort Stockton. Here, too is the romance and laden and very beautiful marriage place of Ramona, and now restored to its former condition with thick adobe walls, heavy mission timbers and hide-bound rafters.

From the days of the "Dons" down to the present, San Diego has ever been a city of Romance, of beauty and hospitality that makes the stranger within the gates thoroughly enjoy his visit to the city.

The business section of San Diego justifies its ranking as one of the most modern cities of America.

Balboa Park is the former site of the Panama-California Exposition. The visitor will find much interest and beauty in seeing this 1400 acre park. The Zoological Garden, peopled with 1200 varieties of birds, animals and reptiles. The Spreckles outdoor organ upon which recitals of classical and popular music are given nearly every afternoon. The horticultural exhibits are noteworthy, comprising the Rose Gardens, the Montezuma Gardens and Lilly Pools and near by is the Japanese Tea Gardens.

The California and Fine Arts building, retained from the Exposition houses and interesting collections of ancient American art, Aztec and Mayan coins jewelry etc. The Natural History Museum, the Pepper Grove and Childrens play ground, are very popular features of the park.

Point Loma is the site of the Old Town of La Playa, with its traditions of Dana and the hide houses; the Government Military Reservation and Fort Rosecrans; Ballast Point, on which was located the old Spanish Fort; the Quarantine Station; Roseville, U. S. Naval Training Station and Marine Base.

Tia Juana (Meaning Aunt Jane) Old Mexico is about sixteen miles from San Diego to the south. A famous racing plant and many varied amusements are said to be in that city. We are not able to say because of the business proposition before us, we did not have the time to take in any thing of Old Mexico on this trip.

Mission Cliff Gardens is another beautiful park verging on the cliffs and bordering Mission Valley where flowers grow in great profusion. A large Aviary is maintained which is also adjoining a large Ostrich farm and a deer paddock.

San Diego has 150,000 population and within its gates are pleasures of the sea, the bay and mountains. Not many cities in America can claim this great distinction.

We left this city at 8:30 a. m. Thursday morning going up the Coastal highway along the beach of the great Pacific toward Los Angeles. Not a great way out from the business section we stopped on the shore of the Pacific and made some pictures of the bunch standing on the tide washed sands.

This is a wonderful drive, the great blue ocean to the left and the great Coastal range of granite crest mountains to the right rearing their lofty heads rifting the sky, almost as high in the heavens as the eye could see. There were homes, resorts, parks and small cities all within the incorporate limits of San Diego for about 23 miles to the north.

The highway ran near the shore for many miles up the coast. This highway leading up the coast is U. S. Highway 101, a concrete road at least 28 feet wide.

After getting out of the city of San Diego, we turned to the right along the 101 highway into the interior of some of the farming sections along the coast which lies in the foot hills of the great Coastal range of mountains. We found large projects of farming in the sections, through which we passed. Thousands of acres were being farmed some with irrigation and some without.

There are two things that are characteristic with the California farmer, one is "Concentration of Effort." The other is "Co-operation." These two things they do regardless. The effort of the farmer is this. When one farmer plants a crop, there is enough farmers engaged in the production of this commodity to create a good shipping market by raising sufficient quantity. Then they are organized into a corporation which handles their products in bulk and it is all marketed together and a better price is received through their co-operation.

We passed through a bean district, where beans are grown by the thousands of acres. And when you find a bean section they all grow some beans. Not an exclusive crop, like the one crop farmer, but they all plant some acreage to this crop. They also grow the same variety so they can sell together on the market. They are absolutely co-operative. When you find dates olives and citrus fruits you will find them growing the same variety and grade and of a sufficient quantity to have an attractive market for their products. Some of these crops are grown by irrigation and some by dry farming. English walnuts are grown in large sections of southern California and we passed through some wonderful sections where hundreds of acres of trees were bending with fruit which will soon be gathered. Some had already begun picking walnuts.

Wheat farming is another industry which commands attention because of the way it is grown and harvested in that mountain section. My idea of a California wheat farm carried the thought of a level plain of fertile lands where great combines were run and the most up-to-date implements used. But to my surprise the wheat farms are very hilly almost mountainous, many of them so steep that they can not be farmed with horses and mules, but instead they use catapillar engines which crawl up and down the grades pulling the plows and combines. Their rains are more like mists in that country. If they had floods like we have these hills would wash away in a few years. All this wheat on the mountains is grown by dry farming. The rains in the winter and spring furnish the moisture. There are thousands of acres of this land in wheat culture.

When the ground is too steep for cultivation it is grazed with cattle sheep and goats. The animals on the hillsides have trails running around the hills which look like rows laid off, made by the stock going around the hills in grazing. They can not eat grass from these hills any other way. They know how to do it. This made our Texas boys appreciate our level plains land the more and many compliments of Texas with her broad level acres were heard from the boys. Yes, they were learning to like Texas.

We passed through Laolla, Delmar, Encinitas, Oceanside, Capistrano, San Juan, Santa Anna, Anaheim and Fullerton, turning east from Fullerton and leaving the 101 highway going further into the interior toward Riverside, which has come into notoriety here of late because of a murder farm where

HASKELL, HASKELL COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, OCT. 11, 1928—10 PAGES.

FORTY-FIRST YEAR

ORAGE ERECTED AT MOODY WELL

The Moody Corporation well in the southeast part of the county, which came in unexpectedly Monday afternoon of last week, has continued flowing by heads, and is producing about 100 barrels daily, according to visitors who have been to the location this week.

The unexpected completion of the well caught the operators unprepared, and workmen have been busy erecting storage to care for the production. Tuesday night the well had filled the 710-barrel storage which had been erected, and workmen were at work on a 1000-barrel tank brought from Cisco. It is expected that the well will be connected with the Humble Pipe Line, which traverses the eastern part of the county, as soon as the connecting pipeline can be laid.

At present the well has been drilled only two feet in the sand, and it will be drilled deeper just as soon as ample facilities to care for additional production are completed. Drillers were reticent as to the possibilities of the well, but state that it would indicate a very profitable field as it is at present. Those in close touch with the oil situation, however, are sure that production will be materially increased when the well is drilled deeper into the sand. The Moody well is at least twenty miles from the nearest production, and indicates the discovery of an entirely new oil pool in that section. Several locations have been made in the vicinity of the producer, and much activity in drilling is expected within the next few weeks. The nearest test now drilling is the Kour-Sheehan well, which was spudded in several weeks ago, located about two miles north of the Moody well.

He was frequently cheered during his speech, most of those present seeming to hold the views of the speaker. At the close of his speech, Norris took a straw vote of those present, asking those who were going to vote for Hoover to hold up their hands. FAMOUS FILM IS SLATED AT TEXAS THEATRE

The latest feature to be added to the amusements which the State Fair of Texas will offer its patrons this year is that world-famous moving picture, "The King of Kings," an absorbingly interesting and thrilling picture showing the last days of the Savior.

This picture will have its first showing in West Texas on October 25, 26, and 27 when it will be brought to the Texas Theatre in this city.

The picture has been endorsed everywhere by the clergymen of all denominations as the most reverentially treated and the most Biblically correct treatment of this sacred subject ever put on the screen or stage. Aside from this, as a spectacle, the picture is said to be tremendous. 15-YEAR SENTENCE IN ARSON CASE

J. W. Adamson of Abilene, who was tried in District Court last Friday on a charge of Arson, was found guilty by the jury and his punishment assessed at 15 years in the penitentiary. Motion for a new trial was over-ruled, and the defense attorneys gave notice of appeal.

This case was an outgrowth of the burning several months ago of a house in the south part of town occupied by Wylie Quattlebaum and family. The fire occurred about 10 or 11 o'clock at night, after the family had retired, and they barely escaped from the burning building.

A standing reward of $100 which is offered by the city for the arrest and conviction of any person guilty of arson, will be paid in this case, stated Mayor T. C. Cahill, Tuesday.

BURGLARS GET JEWELRY VALUED AT $2,000.00

Thieves entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Murchison in this city last Thursday night while the family were at the fair grounds, and secured diamonds and jewelry valued at $2,000, and a small amount of money. The loss was not discovered until the next morning.

The home of City Marshal Weish was also entered Thursday night during the absence of the family, but nothing was reported missing. At the sheriff's office, it was reported that several other houses were ransacked, but no loss was reported.

In connection with the theft of diamonds from the Murchison home, Sheriff Al Cousins arrested Buck Gibbs Saturday morning, and it is reported that one of the diamond rings was recovered. The young man denied any knowledge of the theft, stating that he had found the ring Friday morning while coming to work, naming a witness whom he says was with him at the time the ring was found. Gibbs, not knowing the value of the ring, gave it to another man to learn if it was worth anything. This led to the arrest of Gibbs, who was placed in jail, and several others were questioned in the case. Gibbs was released from jail Tuesday under $750.00 bond in two cases, charged by complaint with theft of property over the value of $50.00.

Sheriff Al Cousins stated that no other arrests had been made in the case, but officers are confident that the missing jewelry will be recovered shortly.
