T-38s launch Top Flight '94

Modified format spaces events, tests leadership

Reese T-38 maintenance and flight crews launched Air Education and Training Command's restructured Top Flight competition Thursday at Sheppard AFB, Texas.

The T-38 competition is the first of three short-notice events involving Reese aircraft in successive weeks. The T-37 teams will compete Thursday at Laughlin AFB, Texas. Reese will host the T-1A phase on July 28.

Representing Reese in the T-38 phase of Top Flight '94 were: Capt. David Specht, commander, D-Flight, 54th Flying Training Squadron and Capt. Dave Cool, instructor pilot, D-Flight. Maintenance team members included Lockheed's Jessie Hyman, aircraft mechanic, and crew chiefs Tim Martinets and Daniel Mojica.

The annual competition, which tests the leadership skills of AETC flight commanders and maintenance team leaders, is being conducted under a modified format from previous years.

In the past, flights competed at a single location over a two-day period. Under the new format, teams with like missions compete among themselves for the first phase of competition. All participating teams then deploy to Tyndall AFB, Fla., for the arrival competition and award ceremony set for Aug. 25-26.

Waste: Poor planning not only costs time it can quickly deplete wing funds

By MSgt. Jean Becerril
64th Logistics Squadron

Your commander has assigned you as the project officer for an important training meeting for all units on base. The wing commander will be there and you want everything to go smoothly.

You have three months to plan and make arrangements. You take care of all the important details like reserving a meeting room, notifying all attendees, and getting on the wing commander's calendar.

You put a notice in the Base Bulletin one week before and send out reminders to everyone. As you are checking over your materials, you realize one of your slides is incorrect.

You'll have to redo it, but you're out of transparencies for your one-of-a-kind machine. You pop over to base supply.

Whoops! Base supply is out of your transparencies. Boy do they have a lot of nerve. Don't they know how important this meeting is?

Now they tell you you'll have to do an emergency walk through like when you first bought your slide machine! They ask you where you bought the slides the last time and ask for an emergency walk through letter signed by your commander.

You explain the problem to your commander who happily signs the letter and you return to supply.

After it is loaded into their machine, the computer, and the contracting computer, they send you to contracting.

At contracting a GS-9 now must make the buy instead of the GS-6 who normally would. The difference in their pay is $3.50 an hour.

All other work stops while your buy is made. The customer service is great, but the best price may not be available since there isn't time to shop around.

You only want 10 slides, so a volume discount isn't available either. These slides are also available through regular supply and are $15 cheaper, but it takes up to two weeks to deliver.

The contracting representative calls the source and sends you down-town to pick up the transparencies. After you pick them up, you must return to base supply so they can process the receipt into the computer.

What a waste!

Yes, it is a waste — a waste of your time, the time of others and a waste of tax dollars.

Your oversights interrupted the work flow and slowed down other procurement requests and by a conservative estimate, cost over $100 in man-hours. Multiply this by 10-12 other oversights weekly and it adds up to "fraud, waste, and abuse."

Let's try to be smart and save time and money.

Plan ahead!

Don't get burned this summer

Be careful to keep the fun in outdoor cooking

by Chuck Gerrior
Reese Gound Safety Manager

Outdoor cooking is one of the most common summertime activities enjoyed by family and friends.

With a little thought, outdoor eating and cooking can be safe and enjoyable for all concerned. When someone is careless in the preparation, storage, or cooking of food, accidents will happen.

Outdoor cooking of meats requires caution to prevent the meats from spoiling in warm temperatures or direct sunlight. Both chicken and pork can spoil very quickly. Cook both types of meat thoroughly to prevent food poisoning. Each year hundreds of people eat under-cooked meat and within a few hours have reactions. The same problem of food spoiling occurs with salads, spreads and packaged meats which are allowed to sit in warm air or direct sunlight. The simplest way to be sure food does not spoil is to keep it in the refrigerator or cooler until it is ready to be cooked or eaten.

The outdoor grill, either fired up with charcoal or gas, is a common appliance in most American homes. The outside shell of a fired up grill is always hot to the touch.

Grills must have a steady base to prevent them from tipping over when in use. Locate outdoor cooking away from other picnic activities. After use, cool the grill before it is emptied or cleaned. Never put hot coals into a trash can or dumpster until the coals are completely cool or thoroughly soaked with water.

Outdoor eating and cooking is a great way to enjoy the summer; don't spoil it with food poisoning or burns.

From YOUR perspective

"A Careline column provides one of many opportunities for a commander to find out what people are thinking, what's bothering them, what they like, etc. If you've wondered why we do something, or just want to make a comment, don't hesitate to call. You can call the Careline 24 hours a day at 3273. If you leave your name and telephone number, we'll get back to you and answer your concern by telephone. Calls of interest to the Reese community will be published, without the caller's name, in the Roundup the following week. I look forward to hearing from you."

Spray for bugs later

It is 9:15 p.m. and they are spraying around base housing for insects. There are children out playing. Can't they spray a little later?

We appreciate and share your concern for the safety of the occupants of our housing area. We have changed the time we use the pesticide to later in the evening. For your information, we are using a new pesticide to control the mosquito population. This new pesticide is safer and does not pose a health or environmental risk. Our 24-hour civil engineer service call desk (885-3647) will be glad to answer any questions you may have that require an immediate response.

Reese schedules wing enlisted call

An enlisted call is scheduled at 9 a.m. Friday in the Simler Theater. Attendance is mandatory.

AETC senior officers receive assignments

Several Air Education and Training Command senior officers have received new assignments. They include: Brig. Gen. (Dr.) Paul Carlton Jr., from director of medical services and training to commander, 59th Medical Wing, Wilford Hall Medical Center, Lackland AFB, Texas; Col. Walter A. Divers Jr., commander 81st Medical Group, Andrews AFB, Md., replaces General Carlton; Brig. Gen. James D. Latham, from commandant Air Force ROTC, Maxwell AFB, Ala., to commander, 20th Fighter Wing, Shaw AFB, S.C.; and Brig. Gen. Albert D. Jensen, commander, 502nd Air Base Wing, Maxwell, is retiring and will be replaced by Brig. Gen. (select) Thomas C. Waskow, special assistant to the SACEUR, Mons, Belgium.

Wing cites Top Wheels winners

The 64th Civil Engineering Squadron's SrA. Eric Silver took top honors in the "general purpose" category of the monthly Top Wheels competition and the 64th Logistics Squadron's Chester Huxley took top honors in the "special purpose" category.

Legislators visit wing

All three of the U.S. legislators directly representing Reese and the Lubbock community visited the wing July 6 and 7. 52nd Flying Training Squadron T-1A instructor pilots Lt. Toby Calvo (USN) and Capt. Dan Nugteren flank U.S. Senators Phil Gramm and Kay Bailey Hutchison during the senators' tour of the T-1A hangar. At right, Lt. Col. Gerry Scroggins, deputy commander, 64th Operations Group, talks about the T-1A simulator with U.S. Representative Larry Combest. The legislators received briefings about the wing mission and various programs during their visits.

officer, the basic elements of the competition remain the same.

The first phase of Top Flight remains a "short-notice" test, giving only three days' notification to selected aircrews.

Pilot training and airlift competitors fly predetermined flight profiles with flight examiners accompanying the flights and grading areas such as mission briefings, instruction maneuvers and error analysis.

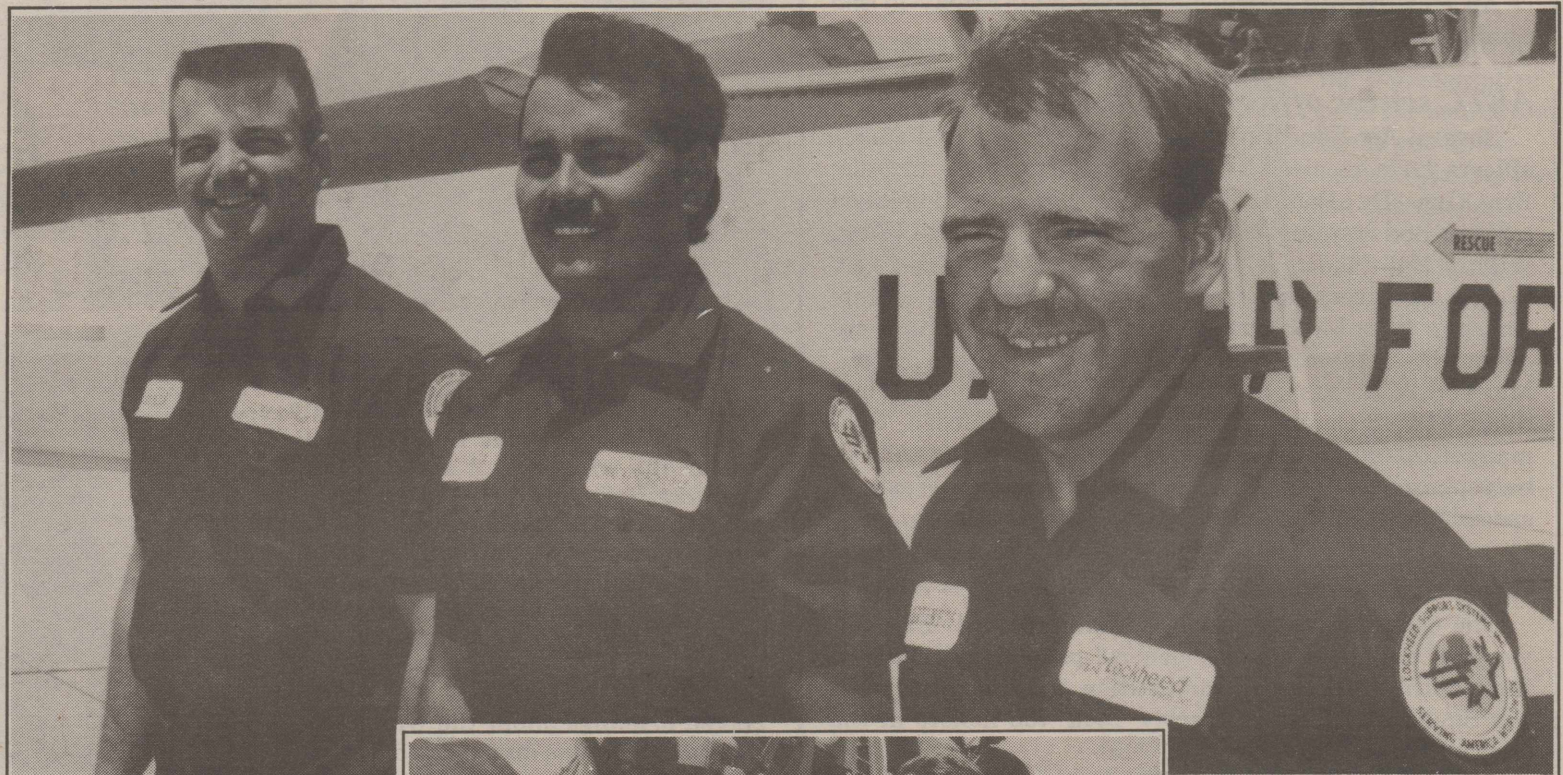

"This is a great for us to match our skills against the other T-38 squadrons in the command," said Lt.Col. Bob Herris, 54th FTS commander. "We expect the competition to be very close."

Maintenance teams are judged on preflight, launch, recovery, refueling and forms documentation.

The specific aircraft flown in the competition are also selected by 19th Air Force.

In all, 13 different types of aircraft will compete in Top Flight '94. In addition to the T-38, T-37 and T-1A, the competition will include C-5, C-141, KC-135, T-43, F-16, F-15, C-21, UH-1, T-3, and AT-38 aircraft.

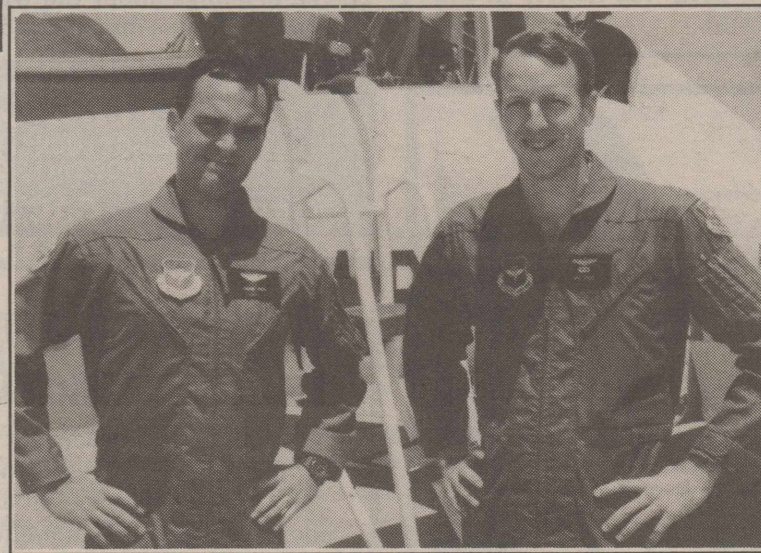

F-15s and F-16s will fly composite missions during their competitions. Grading will be based on tactical formation, low-level flying and weapons delivery.

During the final phase of the competition, each participating flight team will be assigned a specific arrival time at Tyndall with each flight being videotaped over the arrival point against the official clock.

Top Flight '94 award winners will be announced at Tyndall Aug. 26.

Colonel Gelwix assumes command of 64th OG today

Reese graduate returns, replaces Colonel Geisler

Nearly 22 years after receiving his pilot's wings here, Col. Randall Gelwix returns to assume command of the 64th Operations Group today.

The change of command ceremony will begin at 9 a.m. west of base operations. Col. Roger Brady, 64th Flying Training Wing commander, will preside over the ceremony formally transferring command of the 64th OG from Col. Frank Geisler Jr. to Colonel Gelwix.

A command pilot with more than 2,000 flying hours in the T-37, T-38, and F-4 aircraft, including 45 combat missions in Vietnam and Desert Storm, the colonel graduated from pilot training at Reese in August, 1972.

Colonel Gelwix has served the past year as the executive officer to the commander, Air Education and Training Command, Randolph AFB, Texas.

A 1993 graduate of the Air War College, Maxwell AFB, Ala., Colonel Gelwix holds a master's degree in international relations from Troy State University and a bachelor's degree in business administration from Kansas State University. He was commissioned through the Reserve Officer Training Corps in 1971.

Colonel Gelwix has also served as: deputy operations group commander, 52nd Fighter Wing, Spangdahlem AB, Germany; commander, 81st Fighter Squadron, Spangdahlem (including Desert Storm deployment to Sheik Isa AB, Bahrain); and as a staff officer and executive officer in the directorate of plans, Headquarters U. S. Air Force, Washington D.C.

The colonel has also served as an instructor pilot, flight commander, operations officer, and fighter personnel assignments officer during his career.

The colonel and his wife, Irmgard, have two children — Christ and Steve.

Colonel Geisler is retiring after more than 22 years of service. He has been the operations group commander here since September, 1993.

Awards

Class 94-11 graduates shine, recognize wing-wide support

Second Lieutenants Richard M. Kaplan and Andrew Macha were each recognized as the top overall students in their respective training tracks during graduation services for Specialized Undergraduate Pilot Training Class 94-11 here July 8.

The students each received the Air Education and Training Command Commander's Trophy, presented to the student who achieves the highest overall rating in flight training, academics and officership.

Lieutenant Kaplan, who also received the Academic Training Award, topped the T-38 track while Lieutenant Macha headed the T-1A track.

Other graduates receiving awards in the T-38 track were 2nd Lt. David Oakley, Flying Training Award, and Citizenship Award; 1st Lt. Jeffrey Paterson, Leadership Award; and 2nd Lt. Mark Kickbush, Outstanding Second Lieutenant Award.

Graduates honored in the T-1A track included: 2nd Lt. Paul C. Pearson, Flying Training Award; 1st Lt. Steven B. Treadwell, Academic Training Award; 1st Lt. Richard B. Neitz, Leadership Award; 2nd Lt. John T. Bowen, Citizenship Award; and 2nd Lt. Stephen F. Hamlin, Outstanding Second Lieutenant Award.

In addition to the student awards, several other Reese people were honored.

Recognized as the "mission maker squadron" was the 64th Services Squadron, commanded by Capt. John Povelones. Lt. Col. Timothy Philpott, 64th Medical Group, was selected as the top individual "mission maker" by the class.

The class also cited several instructor pilots. These were:

□ T-37s — Capt. Joseph Wolfer, academics; 1st Lt. Mathew Isler, flightline section-one; 1st Lt. Michael Tiltrum, flightline section-two,

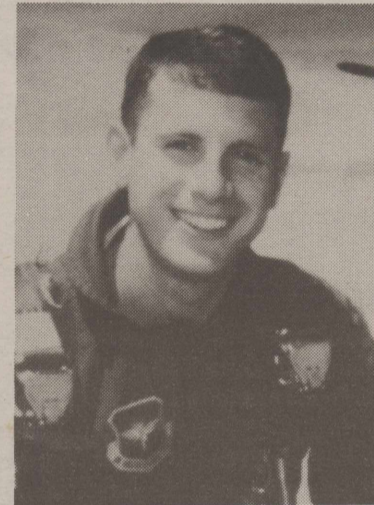

First Lt. Steven Treadwell has his pilot training wings pinned on by his mother, Mrs. Richard Treadwell, shortly after SUPT Class 94-11 graduated here July 8. The lieutenant was one of several people recognized for outstanding achievement or support. Second Lts. Richard Kaplan and Andrew Macha (below) were each named the top graduates in their respective training tracks.

and Robert Burbridge, simulators.

Class 94-11 also recognized several maintainers, including crew chiefs Dale Hall (T-37), Tony Oliver (T-38) and Morris Kelly (T-1A). Isabello Rodriguez was named the top aircraft mechanic.

64th MDG to relocate to Bldg. 420

Upgrade program prompts activation of temporary clinic

A temporary "field clinic" will be operated in Bldg. 420 Wednesday through July 24 to provide urgent medical care for the Reese community while renovations are being completed at the 64th Medical Group building.

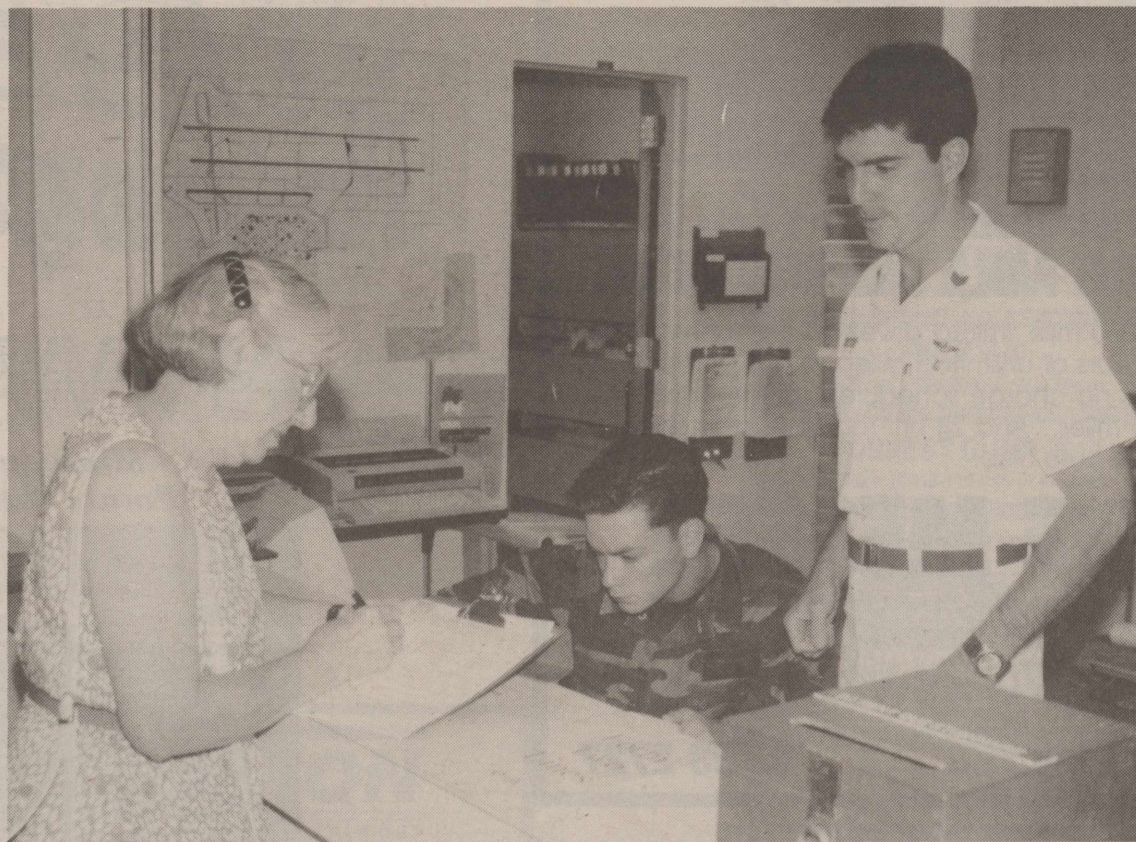

According to medical officials, most services will be available at the temporary clinic on a walk-in basis. The clinic will be located on the first floor of the Alexander Hall Dormitory (Bldg. 420).

"The clinic will operate much the same as our extended hours program" said 1st Lt. Cuvier Lipscomb, 64th MDG resource manager.

The relocation of services is mandated by the installation of new generator switching gear and the movement of a transformer. 64th MDG officials urge only those people who have an urgent medical problem to use the clinic.

"Routine services such as physicals, dental cleaning, eye exams will be handled when the facility reopens on July 25," explained Lieutenant Lipscomb.

No appointments will be made for or during the relocation period and all patients will be seen on a walk-in basis only. Hours of operation at Alexander Hall will be from 7:30 a.m. to 6 p.m., Wednesday through July 22 and from 7:30 - 11:30 a.m. July 23 and 24.

In addition, flying personnel will be able to receive urgent medical care at the 35th Flying Training Squadron during normal duty hours. Family members of flying personnel will be seen at Alexander Hall. One department not affected by the power outage is the 64th MDG Pharmacy. It will be open for business as usual, including

Lieutenant Lipscomb noted that additional services will be modified as follows:

□ Emergency services (911) will continue full operation.

□ Medical records, lab results, and/or x-rays for downtown civilian appointments should be obtained prior to close of business Tuesday.

□ No allergy immunization services will be available.

□ Individuals requiring pharmacy refills or civilian referral prescriptions must report directly to the main pharmacy located in the 64 MDG.

□ Active duty members needing emergency dental care report to Bldg. 420. No routine dental services will be

Faulty drive downs base telephones

Around 8:10 p.m. Monday, the base's telephone system was temporarily disrupted when the tape drive for the telephone switch failed.

According to Capt. Frank Rossi, the 64th Communications Squadron commander, GTE took emergency steps to get the telephone system back on line.

The telephones were back on line around 3:10 p.m., Tuesday.

During the outage, CS and GTE personnel provided emergency (but limited) telephone service to the flying squadrons, as well as emergency response forces, in case of aircraft mishaps.

The telephone outage only affected the base and did not impact Reese Village residents.

Also, the outage, for the most part, did not impact the flying mission.

Special Gulf War task force seeks aid for sick veterans

by TSgt. David P. Masko
Air Force News Service

WASHINGTON — Declassification of Gulf War records and continued research by a special task force highlight the Pentagon's new plan to help veterans with mysterious illnesses.

Deputy Secretary of Defense John Deutch said the Pentagon wants to provide as much data as possible to help answer questions and alleviate the concerns of those who fear they may have been exposed to chemical or biological agents.

Deutch told reporters during a Pentagon press conference June 23 that there's a continuing need for extensive research "before we will know the true extent and causes of the health problems of the Persian Gulf veterans."

"I want to assure every veteran that it is the policy of this department to provide them with every bit of information we have that may have an impact on their health," Deutch said.

At question is a wide range of health care problems that have eluded diagnosis and cure.

Over the past three years, some Desert Storm veterans have complained of fatigue, painful muscles and joints, bleeding gums, skin rashes, short-term memory loss and hair loss.

The task force was headed by biologist and Nobel Prize laureate Dr. Joshua Lederberg and distinguished civilian scientists from academic centers such as like Stanford University, Harvard and Johns Hopkins.

"There is no evidence that either chemical or biological warfare was deployed at any level, or that there was any exposure of U.S. service members to chemical or biological warfare agents," Lederberg said.

As for speculation that the oil fires in Kuwait caused the illness, Lederberg said there was no data to support that theory.

However, the task force report stated in its conclusions that "the overall health experience of U.S. troops in Operation Desert Storm was favorable beyond previous military precedent, with regard to non-combat as well as combat-related disease."

Meanwhile, the Pentagon and the Department of Veterans Affairs are moving ahead with medical research that Deutch said will examine all potentially hazardous exposures.

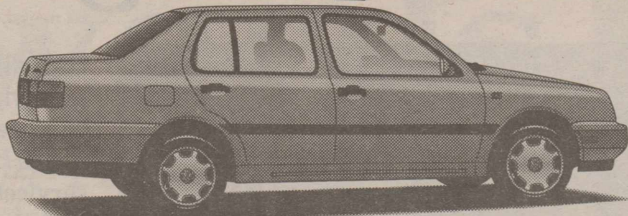

The departments' focus remain on the provision of health care to meet veterans' needs, research into the cause of their illnesses and compensation in appropriate cases, Deutch said.

Camp sign-up under way

Volunteer sign-up for Camp Blue Yonder, the annual youth camp at Reese, is under way. The girls' camp will be Aug. 1 through 5 and the boys' will be Aug. 8 through 12. Training sessions will be held for volunteers prior to the camp.

To volunteer or obtain information about the counselor training sessions, call 2nd Lt. James Chitty, 64th MSS, at 6323 or Cheryl Ortiz, family support center, at 3305.

64th MDG limits services

The 64th Medical Group will operate limited services from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. today as the group holds its annual sports/morale day activities. Walk-in services will be available in the primary care clinic. For more information, call SrA Kyle Gibson at 3174.

Commissary bakery opens earlier

The Reese Commissary bakery is now open Tuesday through Saturday at 7 a.m. The bakery will offer freshly baked breads and rolls as well as other products. During July, the bakery will offer a special on glazed donuts.

CHAMPUS information available

CHAMPUS beneficiaries can get information about "their rights" by calling the CHAMPUS regional review center toll free. Call 1-800-299-2363 and ask for "An Important Message from CHAMPUS" and a list of "Helpful Phone Numbers for CHAMPUS Beneficiaries in Texas."

Disability groups meet

The Disability Resource Network and DRN Disabled Children's/Siblings' Support Group will meet Tuesday at 9 p.m. in the family support center. The topic for the meeting is "Health insurance for individuals with pre-existing conditions." Contact Phil Thierry at 3305 for additional information.

Smooth Move workshop set

A Smooth Move workshop is scheduled Thursday from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. at the family support center conference room. The program will address the most commonly asked questions about military moves. For reservations call 3305 today.

Reese CGOC meets

The Reese CGOC will hold its monthly meeting at 11 a.m. Thursday at the Reese Club. Col Roger A.

Brady, commander, 64th FTW, will talk about his recent trip to Moscow.

Reading has rewards

Leanne and Ryan Shocklee, children of MSgt. and Mrs. Joseph Shocklee, 64th CS, select books at the Reese Library. The library is offering several special reading programs this summer, including a "read-to-bowl" program that rewards readers with free games of bowling. For details, contact the library staff at 3344.

Preschool registration set

The Reese Child Development Center will conduct preschool registration July 16 through Aug. 26 for 3- and 4-year-olds. Call 3541 for details.

TAP workshop planned

A Transition Assistance Program workshop for members and spouses scheduled to separate or retire within six months, or who have retired since Oct. 1, 1990, will be conducted from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Tuesday through July 22 in the family support center.

Résumés, veteran benefits and other topics will be covered.

The Thursday afternoon and July 22 morning sessions are mandatory for outprocessing members. Call 3305 today for reservations.

Dental clinic issues warning

Reese Dental Clinic officials warn that dependent dental care at overseas locations is very limited, and that family members enrolled in the Dependent Dental Plan should get any treatment they need before departing.

For more information on dental care, call the clinic at 3711.

Housing council in the works

Volunteers for a Reese Village council are being sought. Final selections from the list of volunteers will be made by the 64th Support Group commander. To volunteer, call housing management at 3913.

Senior NCO sought

The family support center is looking for senior NCOs interested in being the center's deputy director. People interested in this special duty assignment should call Phil Thierry at 6394.

Programs seek youth

The "Kids in Touch with Kids" and "Students in Touch with Students" programs are seeking 6- through 14-year-olds to act as sponsors. This is an opportunity for family members to introduce newcomers to Reese and Lubbock and for outgoing members to get familiar with their new assignments.

Call Gloria Coward at 3306 for more information.

Volunteers sought

Volunteers are needed for the July 25 through 27 Easter Seals day camp on base. Volunteers are also needed in the family services center, library office and legal office. To find out what these positions entail, call Cheryl Ortiz at 3305.

Hispanic committee meets

The Reese Hispanic Heritage Committee is inviting all base people to become part of their organization. They meet at 10 a.m. Thursdays in the family support center. Interested people should attend.

For more information, call SSgt. Curtis Montez at 3946, Sandy Montez at 3289 or Maria Canales at 6570.

Career Focus Program offers help

What is CFP and who is eligible?

CFP stands for Career Focus Program, a career resource for active-duty and retired spouses and immediate family members, located at the family support center, Bldg. 310.

What resources do they offer? they offer:

□ A Computer Resource Center that includes Microsoft Word, Word Perfect 5.1, Resume Maker, Quick & Easy SF- 171 (Federal Employment application), two worldwide job banks and Dunn & Bradstreet Information Services on U. S. companies.

□ One-on-one career planning, job search guidance, job referral with area employers (over 200 jobs listed monthly) and linkage with other CFPs prior to a PCS move.

□ A resource library of books and tapes to aid in career planning, developing job search skills and increasing opportunities for paid employment. Books and tapes are available on a loan basis, as well as many related pamphlets free of charge.

□ Information on area job fairs and other career events, local labor markets, vocational and educational resources, volunteer job development and self-employment resources.

54th FTS downs 64th OSS in thriller

by A1C Timothy E. Dempsey
64th FTW Public Affairs

After starting the season off strong, the 54th Flying Training Squadron and the 64th Operations Support Squadron were both on a three-game losing streak and battled each other July 7 to see which team could get out of their intramural softball slumps.

OSS jumped out to an early one-run lead in the top of the first inning, only to have the 54th FTS come back and go ahead 2-1 in the bottom of the inning. Capt. Bryan Radliff, who went three-for-four for the 54th FTS, opened the scoring by hitting an in-the-park homerun.

In the third inning, OSS's bats began to heat up, scoring three runs to take a 4-2 lead. But the 54th FTS would not give up, tying the game in the bottom half of the inning.

The game remained knotted at four, until the 54th's Capt. Jeff Wallace knocked in the winning run (5-4) in the bottom of the seventh inning.

"I tried to pull the ball to right field, but I didn't want to hit it as high as it went," said Captain Wallace. "I thought he (the right fielder) had a chance to catch the ball but the sun must have gotten in his eyes."

In other games July 7, the 64th Medical Group hospitalized the 64th Communication Squadron, 12-1; and the 64th Civil Engineering Squadron crushed AMT, 17-1.

In Monday's games, the 54th FTS beat the 64th Logistics Squadron, 16-7. In a double-header, the 52nd FTS held off a late surge by CES for their sixth straight victory, 13-8. In the 52nd FTS's second game, they spanked the National League's leader, MDG, 14-7.

The 35th FTS "A" also played a double-header as they defeated the 64th Security Police Squadron, 16-5; but then lost a close game to the 64th Missions Support Squadron, 6-4.

In this week's honor role for batting 1.000 and going 4-4 are: SSgt. John Murrell, CES vs. AMT; Capt. Bryan Radliff, 54th FTS vs. LS; MSgt. Dino Carroll, MDG vs. 52nd FTS; and Navy Lt. Jim Fleming and TSgt. Michael Harrison, 35th FTS "A" vs. SPS.

For outstanding on the field action, Navy Lt. Corl Leach, 52nd FTS pitcher, made a quick snag on a hard hit ball to turn a double-play against CES. The lieutenant made a similar catch in the next game against MDG. SrA. Greg Barnes, MSS outfielder, made a diving catch and throw to third for a double-play to stop the 35th FTS "A" in the top of the seventh.

Lieutenant Boddy posts winning time in flag run

by A1C Timothy E. Dempsey
64th FTW Public Affairs

The fitness center held a flag pole run Saturday at the flagpole in front of wing headquarters.

The overall winner of the eight-mile race was 2nd Lt. J.R. Boddy, the 64th Logistic Squadron, with a time of 48:13.42. A1C Jason Levine, the 64th Medical Group, came in second overall, 51:17.59.

In the women's open, only a fraction of a second distinguished first place from second. First place went to Jennifer Cosper, 1:06:21.07; and finishing in a close second was Aslee Ford, 1:06:21.43.

In the men's senior division, Ronnie Nugent took first place and third overall, 1:01:39.61; and second went to Bob Benero, 1:04:03.8.
