VOLUME 83

NUMBER 23

Farmers Reminded of Planting Rule Changes

Jerry D. Harris, chairman of the Texas State ASC Committee, would like to remind Texas cotton and rice producers that the rules for 1991 prevented planting for cotton and rice are different from previous years.

Producers now have the option of crediting the acreage they were prevented from planting to either the prevented acreage of cotton or rice or they may choose to use the acreage as Conserving Use (CU) for payment acreage under the 50/92 provisions of the Food Agriculture, Conservation and Trade Act of 1990.

Harris says, "If producers choose to credit the acreage as prevented planting for cotton or rice, the acreage may then be devoted to acreage of another crop which would be considered as ghost acres for program purposes. These prevented planted acres will not be eligible for any deficiency payment for 1991."

A new provision of the 1990 Farm Bill would allow producers who were prevented from planting cotton or rice because of drought, flood, other natural disaster, or other condition beyond the producers' control to devote the acreage to CU for payment. This acreage must be maintained as CU for payment for the remainder of the year, and cannot be planted to another crop for harvest. Cotton producers who choose this option would be eligible for the 10 cent per pound guarantee without regard to the 50 percent planting requirement if the sum of the prevented planting and actual planting totals at least 50 percent of the maximum payment acres for the farm.

Harris wishes to remind producers that if the acreage is planted to cotton or rice in order to qualify the acreage for crop insurance that the acreage would be considered as the crop to which it was planted and would not be eligible for the guaranteed deficiency payment under the 50/92 provisions. Planted acreage of the crop which failed is eligible for deficiency; however, this would not be at the guaranteed rate.

The Texas State ASC Committee strongly recommends that producers contact their local ASCS County Office if they have any question concerning the prevented planting provisions of the 1990 Farm Bill.

County Approved For Emergency Haying, Grazing

Briscoe County has been approved for emergency haying and grazing of 1991 ACR and CU for payment acreage through December 31, 1991. This acreage normally cannot be grazed during the five-month restricted period of June 1 through October 31.

Producers must designate their ACR and CU for pay before any haying or grazing occurs, and sign a register in the ASCS office.

Check with the ASCS office for further details. Emergency haying and grazing authority does NOT apply to land enrolled in CRP.

We heard settlers were beginning to come into Briscoe County and that a county seat was to be established in a few years. We decided to move our stock up there and start a town. We decided we did not know the plans of the settlers and had in mind cooperating with Goodnight, as most of the territory was controlled by Goodnight and Moore. I went to Briscoe County early in February 1891. After passing through the Matadors I went through the F winter pasture. It was heavily stocked with the biggest cows I have ever seen on the range. Lots of big red and roan cows that would have been a credit to the up-to-date farms of Northwest Missouri. When I reached the Plains I found most of the school land had been filed on, but not many

Perhaps one of the most pleasant claims is, "I remember when . . ." So many aged are content to live in the cage of their past, now allowing their memory to serve as an inducement to ponder the future. Memory alone is a poor substitute for thought. One of the best usages of memory is to remember to forget the unpleasant things.

Memory is the receptacle storage room of all knowledge and should be the sheath in which the sword of the Lord is kept. Happy was the thought that led to the institution of "Memorial Day". May we keep it with all its solacing thoughts and its language of flowers.

Food for Thought: It might be better to give a humble bouquet to a living friend today than to bring a basket of roses

Food for Thought: It might well be better to give a humble bouquet to a living friend today than to bring a basket of roses when he is dead.

"Conscience," said a wise old Indian, "is a three-cornered thing in my heart that stands still when I am good, but when I am bad it turns around and around and the corners hurt a lot. If I keep on doing wrong the corners wear off and it doesn't hurt any more" . . . The teacher was discussing "conscience" and asked one of her small charges, "What is that still small voice you always have with you?" "A transistor radio," he replied . . . Another small boy's definition of "conscience": "Something that makes you tell your mother before your sister does" . . . Another has said conscience doesn't keep you from doing evil, it just keeps you from enjoying it . . . There is no pillow as soft as a clear conscience. And a quiet conscience sleeps in thunder, but rest and guilt live far asunder . . . Now, e'er you remark another's sin, bid your own conscience look within.

"Old fashioned," you say! Well, yes. There would be less delinquency of juveniles if parents would lead the way instead of just pointing to it . . . I wonder sometimes whether the conversion of so many woodsheds into garages hasn't had something to do with the alarming increase of said juvenile delinquencies . . . But "whoa up" . . . It is a sad commentary that ninety percent of youth problems are adult, and a deplorable fact that prisons are monuments to neglected children.

Are you seeking constantly for happiness? Hear! Happiness is a beautiful butterfly, which when pursued is always just beyond your grasp, but which if you will sit down quietly will light upon you . . . The happiness of your life depends on the character of your thoughts . . . Some folks bring happiness when they come, others when they go . . . The constitution guarantees only the pursuit of happiness, not the ability to catch it . . . Happiness is not the end of life; character is!

had yet moved onto their claims. Tom Anderson and Walter Boehms had claims west and southwest of where Silverton is, and both were living on Walter's place while Tom was getting his improvements ready on his own. When I reached the Plains most of the settlers had just returned from Plainview where they had gone for protection on account of an Indian scare down in Hall County. The scare had proved to be a false alarm. As spring advanced more settlers began to come into the county. The rains became more frequent and finally heavy downpours that filled all the basins. Water flowed across, half a mile west from where the courthouse now is, for a month or more. Grass was fine, there were many antelope on the Plains and many quail, both Mexican or Blue and Bob Whites. Occasionally a boar was killed around the edge of the breaks. On a trip to Amarillo I first met Mr. Grant Montague. He told me that in going after supplies he had hauled a load of horse bones from the "Old Mackenzie Battleground." The report was current that many hundreds of Indian horses were killed there by Mackenzie's men, but some time later, when I visited that location on the Tule, the bones were all gone. Bones were a fair price and in going to Amarillo for merchandise, it was convenient to take a load of buffalo bones. On one trip I hauled a load of buffalo bones I gathered northeast of Silverton . . .

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company (Company), in accordance with the rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas (Commission), hereby gives notice of the Company's intent to implement a new schedule of telephone rates in Texas for residence Custom Calling Services, effective August 1, 1991, unless otherwise determined by the Commission. The Company has filed an application with the Commission to restructure and change the rates for certain residence Custom Calling Services.

The Custom Calling Services affected by the Company's application are optional telephone service arrangements that provide the following features: Call Waiting, Call Forwarding, Three Way Calling, Speed Calling 8 and Speed Calling 30.

The Company's proposal would increase the monthly rate for the individual Call Waiting feature from $2.10 to $3.10 for residence customers. Also, the rates for certain combinations of Custom Calling Features (Call Waiting, Call Forwarding, Three-Way Calling and Speed Calling-8) would increase or decrease depending upon the combination of features. In addition, the company proposes to obsolete the optional Custom Calling Service feature Speed Calling 30 for residence customers except for existing customers at their existing locations. Following are the feature combinations and their current and proposed rates.

One Feature Per Line	Current	Proposed
Call Waiting	$2.10	$3.10
Call Forwarding	2.10	2.10
Three-Way Calling	2.10	2.10
Speed Calling-8	2.10	2.10
Two Features Per Line	Current	Proposed
Call Waiting, Call Forwarding	3.75	4.50
Call Waiting, 3-Way Calling	3.70	4.50
Call Waiting, Speed Calling-8	3.70	4.50
Call Forwarding, 3-Way Calling	3.70	3.50*
Call Forwarding, Speed Calling-8	3.70	3.50*
3-Way Calling, Speed Calling-8	3.70	3.50*
Three Features Per Line	Current	Proposed
Call Waiting, Call Forwarding and 3-Way Calling	5.30	5.90
Call Waiting, Call Forwarding and Speed Calling-8	5.30	5.90
Call Waiting, 3-Way Calling and Speed Calling-8	5.30	5.90
Call Forwarding, 3-Way Calling and Speed Calling-8	5.30	4.90*
Four Features Per Line	Current	Proposed
Call Waiting, Call Forwarding 3-Way Calling, Speed Calling-8	6.90	7.30
Speed Calling 30	3.20	3.20

* denotes rate decrease
** Southwestern Bell's application proposes to obsolete residence Speed Calling 30 except for existing customers at their existing locations.

Most of the Company's residence customers in Texas who subscribe to one or more of the Custom Calling Service features will be affected by the proposed rate restructuring. It is expected that the proposed rate restructuring of Custom Calling Services will increase the Company's annual revenues by $15.9 million, which is an increase of approximately one half of 1 percent in the Company's adjusted revenue for the twelve-month period ending December 1990. The restructuring will result in an increase in the Custom Calling Services rates for approximately 2.5 million residence customers and rate decreases for approximately 15,000 residence customers. Also, the obsolescence of the optional feature Speed Calling 30 will affect approximately 156,000 residence customers.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Public Information Office at (512) 458-0256 or (512) 458-0221 teletypewriter for the deaf.

Mrs. Darrah McCammon's third grade class surprised her last week with a quilt for which each of them had decorated a square and which their mothers had quilted as a special keepsake for their teacher. Mrs. McCammon has been in a rather unique situation with this class because she taught some of them in kindergarten, in first grade and again in third grade. The gift was accompanied by a poster that read: "Mrs. McCammon, we love you. Class of 2000." Refreshments were served to the class following the surprise.

Twins Are Honor Grads at Dimmitt

Ninety Dimmitt High School seniors walked across the stage in the Dimmitt High School Auditorium and accepted their diplomas Friday night, and twins Michelle Hardee and Ryan Hardee were valedictorian and salutatorian of the class.

The honor graduates have a lot in common! They are the daughter and son of Dr. Gary and Cenci Hardee of Dimmitt, and their grandparents are Cecil and Wynona (Francis) Franks of Amarillo. Mrs. Fannie Francis of Plainview is their great-grandmother.

The twins were reading complicated books in the second grade and both were in every honors class they could take. They were on the same Odyssey of the Mind team that qualified for World one year.

Michelle edged out her brother, Ryan, to take the valedictory honors with a 97.68 average. Ryan claimed the salutatorian honors with a 96.92 average.

Michelle has been president of both the choir and Science Club and captured the state championship in UIL Literary Criticism. She has been involved in Key Club, Fellowship of Christian Athletes, Interact and National Honor Society. She also competed in UIL Accounting and Spelling, Solo and Ensemble, all-region choir, junior varsity basketball and track. She was named a "Commended Student" by the National Merit Scholarship Committee and is listed in Who's Who Among American High School Students, and in the Society of Distinguished High School Students. She enjoys jogging, playing piano and collecting Madame Alexander dolls. She plans to work toward a bachelor's degree in zoology at Texas A&M University, do graduate work in marine biology and ultimately earn her Ph.D in cetacean biology.

Ryan was active in many organizations and football during his high school career. He has served as president of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, secretary of Science Club and reporter for the National Honor Society. # First Year Building Has Been Tough on the Royals Silverton has had some pretty good hardball teams in years past, but there have been none in the past ten years or so until one was organized here this past spring. Playing in the Memphis Little League as the Kansas City Royals, these fourteen boys and their coaches are finding the building process to be a sometimes painful one.

In their first outing against the Atlanta Braves (Memphis), they were defeated 23-2. The Braves have a very good team with solid experienced pitching and still are in contention for the league championship. Many of the players in the Memphis League have played since they were five years old.

The Royals played the New York Mets (Memphis) in their second game, and dropped that match 18-2. The Mets recently lost a 4-1 decision to the Braves, and also are in contention for the league championship. In their second game last Saturday night, the Royals were defeated by the Mets 16-5.

David Brunson, who coaches the Oakland Athletics (Quitaque), was one of the umpires working Saturday night's game and praised the team's improvement. His team played the Royals to a 15-15 tie last week after the Royals had jumped out front and led 12-2 at one point in the game.

On Thursday night of last week, the Royals played the Los Angeles Dodgers (Memphis) and again held the lead throughout most of the game. The Dodgers rallied late in the game to take a 9-8 victory.

The important thing to note is that the Royals are gaining confidence with every game. The boys are becoming less intimidated by the pitchers they face and are swinging their bats a little more. One of the Dodger pitchers hit four of the Royal players in their game, and many of the players find it hard to stand up to the plate to face a pitcher who doesn't have control.

Pitching for the Royals so far this season have been Leland Wood, Zach Baldwin, Hector Martinez and David Donahoo. Wood and Baldwin also alternate as catchers for the team. Martinez is the third baseman when he isn't pitching. Donahoo plays in the outfield.

Brandon Sarchet starts at first and Jeremy Holt is the second baseman. Trey Ziegler starts at short to round out the infield. Andy Bullock usually works in the outfield, but he has subbed in the infield.

The outfielders are Paul Donahoo, Jared Holt, Jordan Sarchet, Martin Younger, Aaron Wederski and Charlie Bomar. They range in age from Jordan, who is eight, up to Hector and Brandon, who are twelve, and Zach, who won't be twelve until July, who is classified as a twelve-year-old. All will be back next season except the twelve-year-olds.

Coaching the team are Russell Baldwin and Ken Wood.

The team will be traveling to Memphis tonight (Thursday) for its second game with the Braves. Saturday night they will have their first game with the St. Louis Cardinals (Memphis), and Monday night the Royals will have their first match with the Baltimore Orioles (Quitaque), a co-ed team coached by Gary Chandler.

Memphis has four teams in the league, Quitaque has two and the Silverton team rounds out the league at seven. They play each team twice, and finish the season on June 21.

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company (Company), in accordance with the rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas (Commission), hereby gives notice of its intent to implement a new schedule of telephone rates in Texas for Directory Assistance Services, effective August 1, 1991, unless otherwise determined by the Commission. The Company has filed an application with the Commission to restructure and change the rates for Directory Assistance Service.

To help recover its costs, the Company is proposing to increase the rates for Directory Assistance calls from $.30 to $.40 per call (after the three-call allowance). Southwestern Bell is proposing that there be no change in the number of free Directory Assistance calls allowed each month (currently three) and that customers who qualify for exemption of Directory Assistance charges because of visual or physical handicaps continue to be exempt from these charges. The company also proposes to begin charging $.25 per call for Directory Assistance from pay telephones.

If approved by the Commission, this proposed rate change for Directory Assistance will increase the Company's annual revenues by $15.4 million, which is an increase of approximately one half of 1 percent in the Company's adjusted revenue for the twelve-month period ending December 1990. This proposed rate change would affect approximately 900,000 residence customers, approximately 155,000 business customers, approximately 500 private pay telephone owners and all customers who make Directory Assistance calls from public pay telephones.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Public Information Office at (512) 458-0256 or (512) 458-0221 tele-typewriter for the deaf.

Help on the Way For Those Confusing Computer Operations

Fixed disks, floppy disks, files, directories, RAM, Rom, CPU, and on and on. Does the computer jargon confuse you? Are you comfortable using your word processor and spreadsheet, but get all tangled up when you get out of those programs? Do error messages throw you for a loop?

For many first-time computer users, and those more experienced, the way their computer operates is a mystery. If you would like to begin to unravel this mystery, you are a perfect candidate for an introductory course on the disk operating system, more commonly called DOS.

This course on DOS will be offered June 10 by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. It will be 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. at the Texas A&M University System Computer Training and Education Center, 14 miles west of Plainview on U. S. Highway 70. The cost is $50, which includes materials and a catered lunch. Registration is limited to 14 to allow hands-on experience.

The disk operating system is the link between you and the computer, according to Dr. Jackie Smith, Extension Service economist and management specialist. When you type in a command, DOS interprets the command and makes the computer respond appropriately.

Formatting disks, creating directories and copying files are examples of uses of DOS. The more you understand computer lingo and DOS functions, the more comfortable and effective you will be using your computer.

Included in the course are description of the parts of a computer and the role of the operating system. Floppy and fixed disks will be described, and storage capacity, formatting and care explained.

Directories, files and the commands used for these will be covered. Using batch files to increase the efficiency of your computer, installing new software and common error messages will be included.

Prior experience with computers isn't required.

Additional information is available from Curtis Preston, Briscoe County Extension Agent at 823-2131, or by phoning Dr. Jackie Smith at Lubbock, 746-6101.

Social Security In Briscoe County

by Mary Jane Shanes
New Law Helps Fight Mail Fraud

A new law to combat mail scams will take effect in May. Called the Deceptive Mailings Prevention Act, it gives the United States Postal System (USPS) specific power to stop delivery of certain mail solicitations.

Under this new authority, mailings promoting the purchase of goods or services, or asking for donations, will not be delivered by the USPS if the public might reasonably be misled into believing that the mailing comes from the Government or is somehow approved by the Government.

The law says that any envelope (or the face of any postcard) that includes a name, seal, insignia, term, or symbol that could reasonably be mistaken for a Government-issued mailing will not be delivered unless it also has a prominent "disclaimer". The disclaimer must appear on the envelope (or face of the postcard) and must clearly state that the mailing is not from or endorsed by the Government.

Many companies use "Social Security" or "Medicare" as a "come-on" to get people to read their advertisements. Even worse, some of these ads appear to try to deliberately mislead the public into thinking they have to respond or they might lose Social Security or Medicare benefits. The Social Security Administration supports the new law because it should help stop mailings designed to take advantage of people who are concerned about their Social Security or Medicare benefits.

What should you do if you get mail that seems to be from the Government, but actually isn't? You can either take it to your local postmaster or postal inspector or send a complaint to:

Chief Postal Inspector
United States Postal Service
475 L'Enfant Plaza, S.W.
Washington, D.C. 20260-2100

If you want to lodge a complaint, it's important that you forward everything you received, including any envelope or wrapper. Also, be sure to include your name and address, the nature of your concern about the mailing, and the date you got it in the mail. All of that information will help the Postal Inspector take action.

FRESHMAN OPINIONS:

Is Flunking a Positive Teaching Tool?

In my opinion, flunking is a positive teaching tool. If a student does not participate, the teachers should have the right to flunk the student. By this, the student would be encouraged to try his or her best. The results from this teaching tool would not disappoint the professors. —Mark

Yes, I do think flunking the student is a good teaching tool. It will make the students try harder to pass and to do their best on their school work. —Lance

Flunking is a positive teaching tool. With flunking we learn we have to accept learning or we cannot obtain our independence. Teachers are not around to help us when we get out in the real world. When a teacher flunks us, we learn by disappointment. —Christi

In my opinion, flunking is a positive teaching tool. Flunking gets through to the child to study and bring his/her grades up in order to make the grade. Flunking scares them, causing them to try. Flunking is the key to a good future because students learn from their mistakes; however, if the student is trying and doing everything he/she can, then I think they deserve a second chance. —Angie

In my opinion, flunking is not a positive teaching tool. I think if a student is trying real hard and is not passing, the teacher should try to help the student pass. If a kid is not paying attention and talking all the time, the teacher should move him to a place so that the student will not talk and pay more attention to the teacher and study real hard. The teacher should ask the student if he/she understands and if the kid does not understand, the teacher should help the student until he/she does understand. There is not one student that likes to fail, but some kids have a harder time to learn things so that means that the student should try to get help from the teacher and succeed through life. My personal opinion is that if a kid flunks his/her self-esteem will be poor and they will drop out of school. —Stoney

Yes, I think flunking students is a positive teaching tool. Many students do not understand that learning is the foundation for their future. Teachers have the right to tell the students to pay attention or listen to him/her. If the students do not listen, they will not advance to another grade because they have not mastered their work. If the students do not try hard or work for their success then there will be no success in their future. —Kami

In my opinion flunking is a positive teaching tool, for some students. When students notice that they are flunking, they will try harder to pass so they do not have to take a class over or go another year of school. Some people do not care if they flunk. They will not try even if they know they are going to flunk. These are the people that drop out of school. —Matt

Flunking is a necessary positive teaching tool. Some students really just don't care if they pass or fail. They will drop out of school and think their problem is solved. —Trent

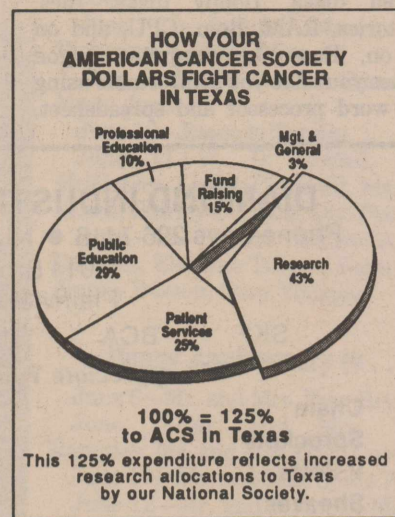

In my opinion, flunking is a positive teaching tool because it makes students try harder. If they know that they might possibly fail, they will want to work harder so that they won't flunk. If the student does flunk, he will want to get the help that he needs so that he won't fail again. —Maria

Yes, I believe flunking is a positive teaching tool. A person should not succeed and get further in society if he/she cannot do the work. If a student flunks, he/she should realize they are not capable of advancing to an upper level. Students should master everything they learn. Just barely passing will not cut it. If you apply for a job, you will more than likely not give it. Students have to keep their grades above passing to play all extracurricular activities. Every teenager may not be totally capable of pulling A's, but every student should apply enough knowledge to pass! —Kayla Flunking is an important positive teaching tool! If teachers do not require difficult assignments to task students and insist they learn, then in the future students will not be very capable of becoming successful. Later on in life, students will have a more difficult time in the real world, while the students who applied themselves will not have difficulty. If a teacher flunks a student, students will have a better chance to re-learn and understand the unmastered material than if he or she were passed to the next grade level. Hopefully, teenagers will realize that they need to settle down and apply themselves to master their basic skills. If teenagers master their basic skills, then it will make things much easier later on in life. —Christa

LET'S HONOR OUR FLAG
AND THE FREEDOM IT REPRESENTS

It's just a piece of cloth, they say,
Who don't appreciate the way
Our precious banner came to be
The symbol of our liberty.
Its colors and unique design
Were brought together to define
The sacrifice and high ideals
That even now our flag reveals.
The freedom it will signify
As long as it's allowed to fly
Enables us to live the way
Our founding fathers in their day
Established, using God's own laws,
Adapting them to freedom's cause;
So that our flag, the way they planned,
Will wave forever in our land.

- Gloria Nowak

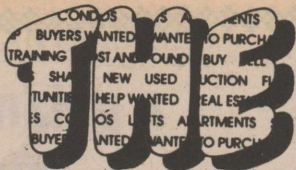

*A thoughtful mind
...sees not the flag only, but the nation itself.*
- Henry Ward Beecher

"In the name of God we will set up our banners."
- Psalm 20:5

CARDS OF THANKS

Words are inadequate, but they are the only instruments at our disposal to convey our feelings. We appreciate the food, cards, flowers, calls and memorials given in memory of our wife and mother. The visits and concern shown helped sustain us in our time of shock and grief. To list those to whom we owe so much is impossible, but we must recognize Don Taylor and the unknown persons who stopped to render aid. Their compassion will never be forgotten.

All we can say to each and everyone of you is Thank You for caring.

The Boosters and Class of '92 would like to extend a special thank-you to the businesses and people who donated their time, money and support during our Junior Rodeo. We appreciate the generosity of everyone taking part in the drawing, and the support of the spectators.

To all who worked so hard (and stayed so late!) as well as the businesses that donated - thanks again! We couldn't have done it without you!

Tobe Riddell won the beef gift certificate. Another beef gift certificate will be given away at the Briscoe County Birthday Celebration in August.
