New Law Changes Vehicle Registration

In September, the simple matter of registering a motor vehicle in Texas will become a little more complicated.

The change is a result of insurance reform enacted by the 72nd Legislature.

Beginning September 1, the owner of a motor vehicle must submit current proof of financial responsibility with an application for initial registration, renewal of registration or transfer of registration. Also for the first time, Texans will have to show proof of insurance to receive or renew their driver's licenses and vehicle inspection stickers.

"Many states have found that tying these responsibilities to proof of insurance increases compliance with mandatory liability law," said Arnold Oliver, engineer-director of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation. "But the Legislature was really responding to public pressure. Insured drivers—that's about 75 percent of us—wanted to tighten enforcement on the other 25 percent."

The most common evidence of financial responsibility is a liability insurance card issued to the policyholder by the insurance company. Examples of other types of acceptable proof include insurance policies and binders, pool coverage documents, certificates of self-insurance, and certificates of bond.

The new law applies to registration handled in person or by mail. The original or a photocopy of the evidence will satisfy the requirement of proof of financial responsibility. All original documentation will be returned.

Questions about proper evidence of financial responsibility for vehicle registration may be directed to your automobile insurance company, your county tax assessor-collector, or to the local Division of Motor Vehicles regional office. For information about driver's licenses and vehicle inspection stickers, contact the Department of Public Safety.

September Field Day Planned At Research Site Near Halfway

Research results which can help Briscoe County farmers make more effective use of water and other resources to control crop pests and hold down costs will be featured at the 82nd annual field day of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Halfway.

The program will be September 10 at the Experiment Station's High Plains Research Facility at Halfway. It is 14 miles west of Plainview on U. S. Highway 70. Tours will begin at 1:00 p.m. and end by 4:00 p.m.

Visitors will be transported by trailers to four major stops. One stop will feature work being done to control pests in corn, a major crop on the High Plains. Other stops will feature farming systems and weed control; chemigation, and developments in use of low-energy, precision-application (LEPA) irrigation.

Walking tours will be conducted in the research vineyard and the vegetable plots. The new Texas A&M System Computer Training and Education Center at the Halfway facility will be open and will demonstrate a variety of computer programs for home and farm management.

Home economists with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service will have a display on corn processing and products. Other displays will show new farm and research equipment.

The field day is a cooperative presentation of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, High Plains Research Foundation, Texas Forest Service, USDA-Agricultural Research Service and Texas Tech University.

Sept. 10 is Last Day For Sorghum Voting in TGSB

September 10 is the last day for Texas grain sorghum producers to vote in the Texas Grain Sorghum Board (TGSB).

Elections are being held in the South Texas, Panhandle, West Texas and Upper Coast districts. Directors elected to the board must be grain sorghum producers or owners of land on which sorghum is produced.

Dick Perry of Robstown, who is currently serving as TGSB chairman, is unopposed on the ballot for the one seat open in the South Texas District.

Troy Sublett of Hereford, who is seeking his second term on the board, is the only candidate listed on the ballot for the Panhandle District.

Four producers from the West Texas District are vying for the district's one seat on the board. They are Jack Cobb of Plains, Pat George of Tulia, Ernest Michalewicz of San Angelo and Martin Stoerner of Lockney.

Two seats are open in the Upper Coast District. Howard Saige of Skidmore, also up for re-election to the board, is the only candidate nominated in that district.

Write-in candidates will be accepted if they are bona fide producers of grain sorghum and are willing to serve on the board if elected.

TGSB administers the funds collected by the state-wide assessment on grain sorghum. The funds are used for research, education, and promotion. Anyone subject to the assessment may vote in the election.

To obtain ballots, producers may contact the TGSB office at P. O. Box 560, Abernathy, Texas 79311, (806-298-2543). Ballots also are available at the County Extension Office and grain elevators. Ballots must be postmarked by September 10.

Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Sorter of Winfield, Missouri have been here visiting her mother, Lallie Patton, and other relatives. They enjoyed an outing at Lake Mackenzie, at which they skiied, fished, cooked and ate out and had a lot of fun.

A new scoreboard is being installed at Payne Field, and should be in operation by the first home football game. It was purchased by First State Bank and the Coca-Cola Bottling Company.

Gems & Allegorys

There is nothing more beautiful than a rainbow, but it takes both rain and sunshine to make a rainbow. If life is to be rounded and many colored like the rainbow, both joy and sorrow must come to it. Those who have never known anything but prosperity and pleasure become hard and shallow, but those whose prosperity has been mixed with adversity become kind and gracious.

If you see the hot tears falling from a brother's weeping eyes . . . Share them, by kindly sharing your own kinship in the skies . . . Why, oh why, should anyone be glad when another's heart is sad?

He who has conferred a kindness should be silent; he who has received one should speak of it . . . There is no debt so heavy to a grateful mind as debt of kindness unpaid . . . So many paths that wind and wind . . . When just the art of being kind is all this sad world needs.

Never mind about tomorrow . . . It always is today . . . Yesterday is vanished, wherever none can say . . . Each minute must be guarded . . . Make worth the while some how . . . There are no other moments . . . It's always "just now" . . . Just now is the hour that's golden . . . The moment to defend . . .

Just now is without beginning . . . Just now can never end . . . Then never mind tomorrow . . . 'Tis today you must enjoy . . . With all that's true and noble . . . And the time for this . . . "NOW".

When anyone has offended you, try diligently to lift your soul so high that offence cannot reach you.

Striking while the iron is hot is all right, but don't strike while the head is hot.

The doors of opportunities are marked "PUSH". Could it be that a Christian on his knees can see more opportunities than a philosopher on his tiptoes?

(It is with some reluctance that I pass this one on) . . . There was the case of the aged minister on the train who had lost his ticket. He was fumbling in his pockets when the conductor came. "I see you have lost your ticket," he said in a kindly tone. "It is alright; you need not bother about it." "But I must find it," said the preacher, "because I cannot remember where I am going." (Because it sounds so much like me.)

"I am a praying man," said the tramp to the minister. "just look at my knees, how worn they are from praying so much." The minister picked up the man's coat-tail and said, "Yes, and I note the seat of your trousers is worn from backsliding so much."

"Didn't the bride look stunning?" . . . "And didn't the groom look stunned?"

Benefits of Tough New Ryegrass Are Being Touted

A new ryegrass tough enough to survive Texas Panhandle winters also surpasses common varieties in yield, beef production per acre and crown rust resistance.

"We hope to see 70,000 acres planted this fall," said Dr. Lloyd Nelson, who developed the variety, TAM 90, at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

About 1.8 million pounds of TAM 90 ryegrass seed are available for planting that will begin in late October. East Texas ranchers annually plant about one million acres of ryegrass in pastures for cattle grazing.

TAM 90 was developed over several years. Plants derived from a cross of three parents were selected for the best high forage yield potential and crown rust resistance.

Those plants, grown at Amarillo, were chosen for winter hardiness through natural selection. Seed from those again were selected for best forage yields in subsequent trials.

Plants that eventually became TAM 90 were picked in 1985 and underwent five years of yield, disease resistance and grazing trials before the variety was released for commercial seed production in 1990.

Forage yields averaged almost 8,600 pounds per acre in the past four years, which was more than Gulf, Jackson, Surrey and Tetragold varieties. Marshall averaged more, about 8,900 pound per acre, but TAM 90 out-yielded that variety in two of the four years.

More beef per acre also was produced in grazing trials. In a 1989-90 test, TAM 90 produced a gain of 796 pounds of beef per acre. The result was 141 pounds per acre more than Gulf, the variety currently used by about 80 percent of the ryegrass growers in Texas.

Ranchers interested in planting TAM 90 should contact the Texas Foundation Seed Service, a unit of the Experiment Station, in College Station at 409-845-4051 to find out companies who market the new variety.

Habitat Can Be Developed For Bobwhite Quail

Bobwhite Quail habitat consists of space to live, food, cover, and to some extent, water. All these must be present and closely adjacent to each other ALL 12 months of the year.

A covey of quail generally will spend their lives within a small area. Their range is governed by the quality of habitat present. Optimum habitat can support about one quail per acre. With a decrease in habitat quality more living space will be necessary. A population of quail is generally considered to be adequate if a covey of quail (10-15 birds) occupies each 26-30 acres of quail habitat.

The bobwhite's diet consists of about 15% insects and 85% plant matter. Insects are particularly important to chicks and young birds which need high protein food for growth. Plant matter is composed of primarily large, smooth, hard seeds. Forbs commonly called "weeds" and legumes provide the bulk of these seeds. Seeds from plants such as sunflower, snow-on-the-mountain, western ragweed, partridgepea, small wildbean, fringleaf paspalum, switchgrass, and johnsongrass are readily eaten by quail. If a habitat evaluation indicates that additional food is needed for quail, this need can be satisfied by including in range seeding mixtures those adapted plants that have smooth hard seed. Some of these are switchgrass, kleingrass, bristleglass, blue panic, and sorghum album. If wildlife food plots are established they should be designed to create as much edge as possible.

Bobwhite require different cover types which must be located in a close proximity to each other and near food plants if quail are to be maximized.

1. Nesting Cover—Bobwhites prefer clumps of perennial bunch-type grasses such as bluestems, switchgrass, lovegrass, and kleingrass. Nesting site should contain grasses at least eight inches high. Several nesting sites should be present.

2. Loafing and Escape Cover—Quail spend a large part of the day, between the morning and evening feeding periods, near and under loafing and escape cover. This cover type is usually low-growing brush that is open underneath. This allows the bird to escape from danger. Motts of Wild Plum or Russian Olive provide good loafing and escape cover.

3. Travel and Feeding Cover—Bobwhites move from one place to another primarily by walking. Vegetation should be thin enough to permit movement, yet provide concealment from ground predators and tall enough to provide overhead protection. This cover is deficient on heavily-grazed pastures, but with proper grazing, a variety of plants provide travel and feeding cover.

4. Roosting Cover—Bobwhites usually roost on south or southwest exposures where vegetation is low and sparse-bare ground is sometimes used.

This enables the birds, which roost in a circle with heads to the outside, to flush straight up when disturbed. Roosting cover is rarely deficient.

Conservation Service, 823-2320.

Programs and services of the Soil Conservation Service are offered on a nondiscriminatory basis without regard for race, color, national origin, age, sex, religion, marital status or handicap.

1991 Property Tax Rates in MACKENZIE WATER AUTHORITY

This notice concerns 1991 property tax rates for MACKENZIE WATER. It presents information about three tax rates. Last year's tax rate is the actual rate the taxing unit used to determine property taxes last year. This year's effective tax rate would impose the same total taxes as last year if you compare properties taxed in both years. This year's rollback tax rate is the highest tax rate the taxing unit can set before taxpayers can start tax rollback procedures. In each case these rates are found by dividing the total amount of taxes by the tax base (the total value of taxable property) with adjustments as required by state law. The rates are given per $100 of property value.

Last year's tax rate:
Last year's operating taxes	$	116,708.97
+ Last year's debt taxes	$	325,819.27
= Last year's total taxes	$	442,528.24
÷ Last year's tax base	$	160,977,899
= Last year's total tax rate	$.2752 /$100
This year's effective tax rate:
Last year's adjusted taxes (after subtracting taxes on lost property)	$	444,200.26
÷ This year's adjusted tax base (after subtracting value of new property)	$	160,681,390
= This year's effective tax rate	$.27644 /$100
× 1.03 = maximum rate unless unit publishes notices and holds hearing	$.28473 /$100
This year's rollback tax rate:
Last year's adjusted operating taxes (after subtracting taxes on lost property)	$	117,506.46
÷ This year's adjusted tax base	$	160,681,390
= This year's effective operating rate	$.07313 /$100
× 1.08 = this year's maximum operating rate	$.07898 /$100
+ This year's debt rate	$.19602 /$100
= This year's rollback rate	$.27500 /$100

SCHEDULE A: Unencumbered Fund Balances

The following balances will probably be left in the unit's property tax accounts at the end of the fiscal year. These balances are not encumbered by a corresponding debt obligation.

Type of Property Tax Fund	Balance
ADMINISTRATIVE OPERATION & MAINTENANCE	$ 193,000.00
GENERAL OBLIGATION (I&S)	434,500.00

SCHEDULE B: 1990 Debt Service

The unit plans to pay the following amounts for long-term debts that are secured by property taxes. These amounts will be paid from property tax revenues (or additional sales tax revenues, if applicable).

Description of Debt	Principal or Contract Payment to be Paid	Interest to be Paid	Other Amounts to be Paid	Total Payment

with Kay Bailey Hutchison

Editor's Note: Texas State Treasurer Kay Bailey Hutchison addressed various issues related to personal finance and state government; however, these views are not intended to replace the advice of reputable financial advisers or other professional counselors.

Meeting the rising costs of a college education during these tough economic times can be extremely difficult. Scholarships, student loans and other financial assistance can be a big help. Here are a few suggestions to help you meet the costs of putting a child through college.

In applying for scholarships, make sure to check with the university's individual academic departments. If, for example, your child plans to major in business, call or write the university's school of business to find out if it offers scholarships to incoming freshmen. Some colleges and universities have a scholarship application that determines eligibility for all departmental scholarships.

When applying to a school for admission, I suggest you also complete the university's financial assistance application. This will determine your possible eligibility for financial assistance in the form of federal grants, loans, such as the National Direct Student Loan, and work-study programs. Some people are surprised to learn they qualify for financial assistance. It doesn't hurt to apply.

Student loans are another option you might explore. I suggest you check with the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board at (512) 483-6100 for information on the availability of student loans.

One such loan you might consider is the Stafford Student Loan. It currently guarantees a fixed interest rate of eight percent. The interest does not begin to accrue until six months after you leave the university and the loan must be paid back within 10 years after you leave school or graduate. Stafford loans and other loan applications are available through the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board or the university's financial aid office.

Another loan option, which is available through lending institutions, is the parent PLUS Loan. These loans usually are made to parents of undergraduates who have been turned down for other student loans. Interest rates and terms on these loans vary. I suggest you contact your local bank, savings and loan, or other lending institution for information on Parent PLUS Loans.

If you have a question, write Texas Treasury, P. O. Box 12608, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711.

Social Security in Briscoe County

by Mary Jane Shanes

Beware of Direct Mail Solicitations

Many people in the area have reported to me that they have received solicitations in the mail that offer to do many things—provide information about the Social Security death benefit, obtain a Social Security number for an infant, help a new bride change her name in Social Security records, to name a few. All of them have one thing in common—they all ask money to perform the same services provided free by Social Security. Please read these solicitations very carefully and if you have any questions about them, call us. Usually we can give you the information you need over the telephone, and it won't cost you anything.

Use our toll-free telephone number—1-800-2345-SSA (1-800-234-5772). You can get the best service if you call between 7:00 and 9:00 a.m. or 5:00 and 7:00 p.m.

If you use one of these firms to get a Social Security number for your child or to change your name in our records, the best thing that could happen is that the process will be delayed. At the worst, you could lose your money and have nothing in return. These firms cannot get a number for you. All they do is send you an application for a Social Security number card, tell you to fill it out, and mail it to the Social Security office serving you. You can do this yourself and save money by just calling us. You will get your number card about two weeks after you send your application and supporting evidence.

The aim of those firms who want to give you "free" information about the Social Security death benefit is to sell you insurance, or perhaps to build a list of prospects they can sell to an insurance company. So, unless you really want and need additional insurance, just toss this junk mail in your wastebasket. You can get any information you want about Social Security benefits by just calling us.

Some other firms offer to get you a free "Personal Earnings and Benefit Estimate Statement" if only you buy their product, a book or newsletter for example.

You can get your own free "Personal Earnings and Benefit Estimate Statement" by just calling Social Security and asking. There is no other obligation. And the book being offered? Well, I have never seen one that contained any information that was not available free from Social Security. We have a variety of publications that explain all aspects of Social Security. They are free for the asking.

We are concerned that you may needlessly pay for services that the Social Security Administration provides free, and that these businesses promote their services by fostering a false impression that either Social Security will not provide these services or it is difficult for the public to obtain them.

Remember, our services are free. So, just toss those direct mail solicitations in the trash. Our services are just as close as your telephone. Give us a call on 1-800-2345-SSA (1-800-234-5772).

NOTICE OF COMPARABLE TAX RATES AND REVENUES

The legislature has enacted a statute on school funding to comply with a court mandate enforcing the state constitution. Under prior statutes (SB 1) the tax rate for last year provides $ 5,204 per student in state and local revenues. Under this statute (SB 351) that same rate now provides $ 5,943 per student in state and local revenues.

State law only requires a minimum tax rate of $.5418 for county education districts. State law does not require a school district to adopt additional taxes. Neither does state law require a school district to adopt a tax rate that maximizes the receipt of state funds.

The board of trustees of the Silverton Independent School District hereby gives notice that it is considering the adoption of a tax rate of $.1703 that will provide $ 6,551 per student in state and local revenues.

Head Lice is Most Widespread Childhood Communicable Disease

Head lice is the most widespread communicable childhood disease, second only to the common cold.

A dermatologist at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston warns that parents should look for signs of head lice (pediculosis) as the new school year begins.

"School-aged children have a higher incidence of head lice because they come in close contact with each other daily," said Dr. John E. Wolf, jr., professor and chairman of dermatology. "Parents may keep their child clean; however good personal hygiene does not prevent the spread of lice. Also, head lice can appear in anyone regardless of socioeconomic class."

Lice are small, six-legged insects that feed on humans by sucking blood from the scalp. An adult female louse lays up to 10 eggs, or nits, daily. The nits latch onto hairs near the scalp, the back of the head, behind the ears and the eyebrows.

According to the National Pediculosis Association, an estimated six to twelve million Americans transmit head lice annually through body contact, infested clothing, combs, hairbrushes and furniture.

Children with head lice suffer intense itching, often leading to inflammation and infection of the skin. Nits can survive for several months depending on the extent of the infestation.

Solf suggests using pesticide-based shampoos equipped with a special comb to remove dead lice and nits. Although they are generally considered safe, Wolf said infants, children with allergies and scalp infections, pregnant women and nursing mothers should see a doctor before using such products.

Wolf recommends that parents of children with head lice notify the school or childcare center immediately.

"Prevention is impossible once the child has been exposed to lice," he said. "Alerting them immediately may protect other children and save everyone the anxiety."

He offers these steps to avoid lice:

★ Watch for signs of head lice, particularly frequent scratching.

★ Use natural light and a magnifying glass when examining the child's hair.

★ Wash sheets and recently worn clothes in hot water and dry on the hot cycle. Combs and brushes used on lice-infested hair should be soaked in hot water to kill any attached eggs.

★ Vacuum beds, rugs, furniture and stuffed animals which may serve as a head lice haven. Do not use insecticidal sprays, which may harm family members and pets.

★ Discourage children from sharing hats, clothes and grooming aids.

For more information on head lice, write to the National Pediculosis Association, P. O. Box 149, Newton, Massachusetts 02161 or call (817) 449-NITS.

Pest Control Expert Tells How to Get The Jump on Fleas

Fleas can be a major threat this time of year, according to Lee Van Sant, manager of the Amarillo Service Center of Terminix International.

"For the past week or so, our office has been flooded with telephone calls from homeowners concerned about flea infestation," says Van Sant.

It is not a concern Van Sant takes lightly. Fleas can infest any home. They can bite a child, live on a pet, make you sick and transmit tapeworms to your dog. Many people are allergic to flea bites, and almost everyone experiences severe itching and painful irritation when bitten.

FLEAS ARE VICIOUS

According to Van Sant, adult fleas feed on blood. They usually attack your cat or dog, but they also will bite any member of your family. And they are one of the hardest pests to control. "Fleas are survivors. They can survive months without food, and they can remain frozen for a year and then revive to jump on a dog or a child," says Van Sant. "Fleas have been around for millions of years, and they breed at an astonishing rate. They can jump 150 times their own length, which is equivalent to a human jumping nearly 1,000 feet."

FLEAS ARE HARD TO CONTROL

Van Sant says adult fleas can live in your home, on your pet, and outside in your yard or kennel. Flea larvae can live in your pet's bed, in carpets and rugs, or in cracks in the floor. Once you get fleas, they are extremely hard to get rid of. Fleas keep coming back. They hatch from eggs already laid and they are brought back into the house on pets.

TIPS FOR CONTROLLING FLEAS

Van Sant says there are several things homeowners can do to help control fleas.

1. Follow your veterinarian's advice about bathing your pet with "flea" soap.
2. Wash all pet bedding in hot soapy water on a regular basis.
3. Thoroughly vacuum your home to remove flea eggs, larvae, and potential food sources.
4. Pay particular attention to cracks and crevices, under furniture, and underneath sofa cushions, especially in areas frequented by the pet.
5. Discard vacuum cleaner bag or sweepings in an outside container immediately.

INFESTATION MAY REQUIRE PROFESSIONAL HELP

Controlling fleas is a tough job that may require the services of a professional pest control company, and sometimes even they may have difficulty getting rid of all the fleas with one treatment.

If you do seek professional help, Van Sant recommends that you follow these simple guidelines when choosing a pest control company.

1. Be sure the company you contact is reputable and reliable. (If you have doubts, call the Better Business Bureau.)
2. Many firms offer free inspections. Ask about this service when you call.
3. Get more than one estimate and compare services.

4. Make sure the pest control company you choose guarantees their work.

Notice of Effective Tax Rate

1991 Property Tax Rates in Silverton I.S.D.

This notice concerns 1991 property tax rates for Silverton ISD. It presents information about three tax rates. Last year's tax rate is the actual rate the taxing unit used to determine property taxes last year. This year's effective tax rate would impose the same total taxes as last year if you compare properties taxed in both years. This year's rollback tax rate is the highest tax rate the taxing unit can set before taxpayers can start tax rollback procedures. In each case these rates are found by dividing the total amount of taxes by the tax base (the total value of taxable property) with adjustments as required by state law. The rates are given per $100 of property value.

Last year's tax rate:

Last year's operating taxes	$ 404,387
Last year's debt taxes	$ -0-
Last year's total taxes	$ 404,387
Last year's tax base	$ 51,514,268
Last year's total tax rate	$.785 /$100

This year's effective tax rate:

Last year's adjusted taxes (after subtracting taxes on lost property)	$ 407,368
÷ This year's adjusted tax base (after subtracting value of new property)	$ 51,827,268
= This year's effective tax rate	$.7860 /$100

(In the first year a city or county collects the additional sales tax it must insert the following lines unless it made its first adjustment last year:)

— Sales tax adjustment rate	$ _____ /$100
= Effective tax rate	$ _____ /$100

× 1.03 = maximum rate unless unit publishes notices and holds hearing	$.8095 /$100
---	-----------------

This year's rollback tax rate:

Last year's adjusted operating taxes (after subtracting taxes on lost property)	$ 407,368
÷ This year's adjusted tax base	$ 51,827,268
= This year's effective operating rate	$.7860 /$100
— .72 for school district (or zero)	$.0660
× 1.08 (or add $.08 for schools) = this year's maximum operating rate	$.1460 /$100
+ This year's debt rate	$ -0- /$100

(A school district must insert the following lines)

= This year's rollback rate before adjustment	$.1460 /$100

= This year's rollback rate	$.1703 /$100
-----------------------------	-----------------

(A city or county that collects the additional sales tax (including one that collects the tax for the first time this year) must insert the following lines:)

State Treasury Has First $1 Million Day

For the first time in state history, Texas Treasury investments earned $1 million during a one-day period, State Treasurer Kay Bailey Hutchison has announced.

"This is terrific news for Texas. It was literally a 'million-dollar day' for state taxpayers," said Mrs. Hutchison in announcing the investments earning milestone.

On Friday, August 2, the State Treasury earned $1,019,965 by taking profits on its portfolio of marketable securities. Mrs. Hutchison attributed the state's record-breaking day to a combination of investment strategy and a weak money supply that led to a rally in the bond market.

"The day's events are proof positive of our commitment to manage the state's money in a sound, conservative and prudent manner, while earning as much interest as possible for Texas taxpayers," said Mrs. Hutchison, the state's chief investments officer.

 Just look at our accomplishment,
 Through all the things we did invent:
 From phones and light bulbs and the car
 To TV and the VCR;
 Plus all the hours that we save
 By cooking with the microwave.
 Now that's to mention just a few
 Devices which have aided you.
 God's love for us, as we can see,
 Provided the ability
 To make these things; so work and pray,
 And celebrate on Labor Day.
