Good Students Made, Not Born Superintendent Emphasizes

By Superintendent Bill Moore

As we get the second semester underway we are once again reminded that good students are made, not born. Many students do less than their best in school because they do not know how to study. Solid study skills take time to develop; they do not magically float into a student's mind when needed.

As your child gets older and progresses through school, his teachers will give him increasingly more homework as well as more responsibility for studying on his own, outside the classroom. One of our goals for this year is to develop a homework policy so that teachers, parents and students at every level will know what type of homework will be expected of the student. We believe that an important part of education is preparing a student to be organized, to know how to gather information, and to be able to meet deadlines.

We emphasize the development of study skills because we know that if a student never learns how to study effectively and efficiently, he will waste a lot of time, learn less, and be more apt to be frustrated. His grades will suffer and so, possibly, will his self-esteem. In addition, very often the same skills that we need for success in school are the same ones needed for success on the job.

No matter how old your child is, it's never too early or too late to start guiding him to acquire good study habits. Ask him about homework assignments, projects, or upcoming tests. Of course, you should not do his homework for him, but you can look over his shoulder

Albert Lee Files For County Commissioner

Albert Lee would like to announce his candidacy for Commissioner of Precinct One in Bailey County.

"I am running for the position of Commissioner of Precinct One on a Democratic ticket. I am 38 years old and have lived in Muleshoe for 33 years. I attended the Muleshoe Schools and graduated in 1972. I am married to Linda and we have two children, Audra, 15 years old and Justin 12 years old," Lee said. "We are an active family and participate in most of the activities Muleshoe has to offer a young family."

"I have run my own Custom Harvesting operation for 10 years in the Bailey County area. I am familiar with this area and the people of Bailey County."

"We are entering into some tough economic times ahead and it will be a challenge to our City, County, State and Federal Government to manage finances as well as some of the environmental issues that will face us in the future. I would like to accept this challenge and be part of the elected officials that work to make a bright future for Bailey County."

State Senator Teel Bivins Makes Stop In Muleshoe

Senator Teel Bivins, who is seeking re-election to the Senate flew into Muleshoe Wednesday morning speaking to a number of Muleshoe dignitaries who braved the cool weather to go out to the Muleshoe Airport.

Senator Bivins was on a two-day 16-city tour of the 31st. Senatorial District.

Senator Bivins highlighted the success of his term in office while outlining his plan for the future.

As one of two Republicans on the budget-writing Senate Finance Committee, Bivins said he led the fight to cut $3.5 billion from the state's budget deficit. He also said there are many opportunities to further reduce state government.

In speaking of the 16 paid holidays for state workers, Senator Bivins stated that they

Sue Michelle Haire Lombardi and Robert Charles Lombardi

Sue Lombardi Graduates from Texas A&M University

Sue Michelle Haire Lombardi, a 1988 graduate of Muleshoe High School, the daughter of Mrs. Vera Haire of Abilene and the late Lloyd F. Haire, graduated from Texas A&M University on December 20. Sue graduated Magna cum Laude with a Bachelor of Arts degree with a major in Psychology and a minor in English. Magna cum Laude graduates must earn a cumulative grade point ratio of at least 3.7.

Sue also earned membership in the Honor Society of Phi Kappa Phi. This is the highest academic honorary membership which can be awarded to a student at Texas A&M University.

While a student at Texas A&M University, Sue was named to membership in the Freshman Honor Society of Phi Eta Sigma, and was repeatedly named to the Dean's Honor Roll and the Distinguished Student Award list. Sue served as vice president of Psi Chi, the National Honor Society in Psychology. She was vice president for research and marketing of the Memorial Student Center Aggie Cinema. As a member of the Texas A&M Residence Hall Association, Sue served as a representative on the Hall Council. She also participated in intramural sports. Sue will begin work toward a Master of Science degree in Counseling at the University of Houston-Clear Lake.

Sue's husband, Robert Charles Lombardi, a 1987 graduate of Abilene High School, graduated from Texas A&M University on December 21, 1991. Robert graduated magna cum laude with a Bachelor of Science degree in Mechanical Engineering. Robert also earned membership in the Honor Society of Phi Kappa Phi. Robert is currently employed as an engineer with Shell Oil at the Deer Park Manufacturing Complex in Deer Park, Texas. Sue and Robert reside in Webster, a suburb of Houston.

Center Initiates No Smoking

Lamb Healthcare Center initiated a hospital wide "No Smoking" policy, effective January 1. The hospital previously had designated smoking areas within the building, but the new policy bans smoking anywhere in the building.

"As of January 1, all hospitals in the U.S. which are accredited by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Healthcare Organizations are required to ban smoking in their facilities," said hospital administrator, Jim Bone.

Lamb Healthcare Center is accredited by the Joint Commission, which is the nationally recognized body that sets quality of care and operations standards for hospitals and other healthcare organizations. The standards published by the Joint Commission apply to all facilities they accredit, regardless of location or size.

"There is one exception to the ban. Patients in the hospital who have a prescription from their physician."

Charles E. King Elected Fellow

Rodney N. Houghton, of Newark, New Jersey, President of the American College of Trust and Estate Counsel, has announced that Charles E. King, with the law firm of Gibson, Ochsner and Adkins, of Amarillo, has been elected a Fellow of the College.

His election took place during a recent meeting of the Board of Regents of the College in Palm Beach, Florida.

The American College of Trust and Estate Counsel is an international association of lawyers who have been recognized as outstanding practitioners in the fields of estate and trust planning and administration, related taxation, business succession and insurance planning, employee benefits and fiduciary litigation.

Creative Living

by: Sheryl Borden

Information on using a microwave oven browning element, customizing a pattern kit, and cooking with tomatoes will be the featured topics on "Creative Living" on Tuesday, January 21 at 12 noon and Saturday, January 25 at 2 p.m. (All times are Mountain.) "Creative Living" airs on public broadcasting station, KENW-TV, from Eastern New Mexico University.

Amy Makemson, product evaluation specialist with The Tappan Co., will demonstrate how to use a microwave oven browning element. Ms. Makemson is from Dalton, GA.

Ed Clements, owner of Frostline Kits in Grand Junction, CO., will show home sewers how to personalize their pattern kits so that the finished creation will be a "one of a kind."

Lena Mercurio, with Beatrice-Hunt-Wesson, will talk about what she calls "the versatile tomato." Ms. Mercurio is from Fullerton, CA.

On Tuesday, January 21 at 9:30 p.m. and on Thursday, January 23 at 12 noon, "Creative Living" will present information on setting up a taco buffet, machine quilting techniques, and preparing a delicious dessert made with maraschino cherries and hazelnuts.

Jane Butel, with Pecos Valley Spice Co., will demonstrate setting up a taco buffet and will explain how this can be a fun and easy way to entertain. Ms. Butel is from New York, NY.

Jane Schenck, with Pellon, will demonstrate two different techniques for machine quilting. One involves drawing lines on fusible fleece, fusing the fabric to the fleece and then stitching on the markings. The other variation is similar to trapunto. Ms. Schenck lives in Chelmsford, MA.

Oregon is number one in U.S. production of hazelnuts and number two in production of maraschino cherries. Cathi McLain, representative of the Oregon Department of Agriculture, is going to combine these two taste treats into a delicious dessert.

NUTTY CHERRY CAKE

- 1 jar (10 oz.) Oregon maraschino cherries
- 1 1/2 cups sugar
- 3/4 cup shortening
- 4 egg whites
- 2 1/4 cups flour
- 1/2 cup walnuts, finely chopped
- 3 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 3/4 cup milk
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 2 teaspoons almond extract

Preheat oven to 375 F. Grease and flour two 9" cake pans. Drain cherries, reserving 1/4 cup syrup. Finely chop 18 cherries; set aside.

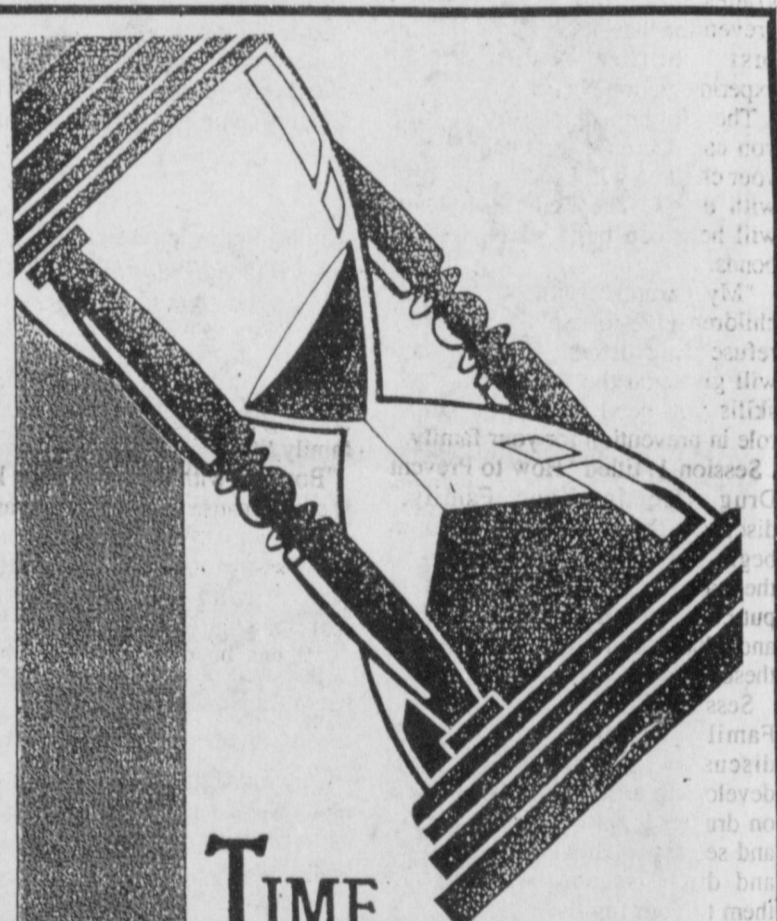

In large mixing bowl, cream sugar and shortening. Beat at medium speed for 8 minutes. Add egg whites; beat until light and fluffy. Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Combine cherry syrup, milk, vanilla and almond extract. Fold in dry ingredients alternately with liquid. Stir in chopped walnuts and cherries. Pour batter evenly into prepared cake pans.

Bake 20 to 25 minutes until pick inserted in center comes out clean. Cool in pans 15 minutes; remove and cool on wire rack. Frost with favorite butter cream or cream cheese frosting. Garnish with remaining whole cherries. Makes 10 to 12 servings.

Free Parenting Workshop Scheduled

Connie Kenmore, counselor at DeShazo Elementary and Liz Tipps, nurse at Dillman Elementary spoke at the Lions Club meeting January 15 in the Bailey County Civic Center. They were introduced to the group by Superintendent of Schools, Bill Moore. Tipps and Kenmore spoke to the group on parenting skills and announced a workshop that begins January 27.

Elementary school aged children are experiencing pressure to use alcohol and other drugs at increasingly earlier ages. Today's teenagers are most likely to start using alcohol, tobacco and marijuana before they are 15.

Preparing for the Drug (free) Years is for parents of children in grades 4-7, the grades when prevention has its highest impact just before widespread experimentation occurs.

The program demonstrates how you can decrease the chances that your children will become involved with drugs. The skills you learn will help you build strong family bonds.

"My parents" is the #1 answer children give to explain why they refuse drug offers. This program will give you the information and skills you need to take an active role in prevention for your family.

Session 1, titled "How to Prevent Drug Use in Your Family," discusses the times when children begin experimenting with drugs, the stages of drug use, factors that put children at risk for drug abuse and what families can do to reduce these risks.

Session 2, titled "Developing a Family Position on Drugs," discusses the importance of developing a clear family position on drugs. It shows how to clarify and set expectations about alcohol and drug use and communicate them to your family.

Session 3, titled "Avoiding Trouble: How to Say 'No' to Drugs" gives skills to help your children stay out of trouble while keeping their friends and having fun. Special techniques are taught for resisting peer pressure from individuals and groups.

Session 4, titled "Managing Family Conflict," will give the importance of managing family conflict constructively. Two anger management skills are taught: how to control anger and how to express anger so it doesn't drive a wedge between family members.

Session 5, titled "Strengthening Family Bonds," will discuss how to increase children's contributions to the family in five areas and recognizing each family member's special qualities.

The workshop will be held on five consecutive Monday evenings beginning January 27 and ending February 24. Time is 7 p.m. and the place is DeShazo Elementary. For additional child care information, call 272-7546.

The workshop will be held on five consecutive Monday evenings beginning January 27 and ending February 6. A sixth meeting can be held if the parents that have been there decide to do so. This would be a support group that can form. But, it's up to the parents.

The five sessions will teach two key lessons to parents. These are bonding and strong commitment to family life.

"Bonding with the very young kid is easy because they can be adorable at such an early age," Tipps notes. "However, maintaining bonding with the child as he gets older is a real challenge to the parent."

It has been shown that when parents and children have a strong commitment to the family, there is less of a chance of drug abuse later.

Communication between parents and children is another important element in prevention of drug use among young children.

One of the topics discussed early in the study will be that of setting family guidelines.

CHEWY MACAROONS

1 tablespoon flour
1/2 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 egg whites, at room temperature
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups flaked or shredded coconut
1/2 jar (10 oz.) Oregon maraschino cherries, drained, halved

Preheat oven to 325 F. In small bowl, combine flour, sugar and salt; mix well. In large bowl, beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Carefully fold in vanilla, flour mixture and coconut. Drop by spoonfuls onto well-greased cookie sheet. Drain cherries; cut in halves. Top each cookie with one-half cherry. Bake for 20 to 25 minutes, until slightly brown. Cool on cookie sheet. Makes 2 dozen.

children is not enough," Tipps says. "Children need to know the definite consequences."

"In the third week, the young people come with their parents. We teach them refusal skills, especially those that work with their peers. A child must learn to say no to drugs even if his best friend is suggesting it."

"We are teaching kids how to deal with anger because we realize that avoidance of all conflict in a family situation is not possible," Tipps says. "We will discuss how to express anger constructively in the fourth session as we investigate ways to manage conflict at home."

Sessions start at 7 p.m. and continue until 9. The last session will serve as a reinforcement to the whole process. Bonding strength, communicating, and thinking about the positives in home life will be emphasized in that session.

"Nancy Barrier and I have been taking special study in this area. We are not supermoms, but we are learning as we go," Tipps says.

decided to give the Friendship Coin to Glenn Morris. We tried out our TV and VCR. R.A. Bradley had the program and showed part of a video on the Ballon Glow and odd shape rodeo of the Albuquerque Balloon Fiesta.

The Balloon Glow is where they anchor the balloons to the ground and then light them up with their propane burner at night. It is very beautiful. This is quite a Fiesta, where from 60,000 to over 100,000 people attend each day. The Albuquerque Balloon Fiesta is the largest in the world. If you ever plan to go in August to see the Balloon Fiesta you need to make reservations in August or September.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

LITTLE FRIEND

Any mother can tell about a child's love for her doll, and the world of PRETEND that they live in. They confide in the doll, reprimand them, and care for them.

The church is a real and true friend. The church may be counted on in times of need, in times of trouble, and in times of sorrow. The church also wants to share in your times of joy.

"A friend loveth at all times."
