Three Elections Set For Saturday

Krista Kirkland, a former Silverton resident and member of the National Champion Lady Raiders, will be guest speaker for the Athletic Banquet to be held here Saturday, May 8, in the school cafeteria. Everyone is invited, and is asked to bring a dessert and vegetable or salad dish. The meat will be furnished. Miss Kirkland, who was recruited from Spearman, is the daughter of Jim and Phyllis Kirkland, now of Corpus Christi. The Lady Raider senior is presently doing her practice teaching and will be receiving her degree from Tech soon. She is majoring in exercise and sports science with a minor in math.

There will be a special election, a city general election and a school trustee election on docket here Saturday, and some voting precincts have been combined.

All the regular voting places for the special election will be open with the exception of the one (#5) at Lake Mackenzie which will vote with Precinct 4 at the Towe office building, and one of the Quitaque precincts (#6) which will vote with Precinct 2 at the Quitaque Community Center.

Precinct 1 votes at the Silverton City Hall, and Precinct 3 votes in the Pioneer Room at First State Bank in Silverton.

Both the school trustee and the city officers' elections will be voting at the Silverton City Hall. This will be a little confusing, since there will be three elections being held at the City Hall, but if you'll be careful you'll not have problems. The special election will be voting in the front part of the City Hall, the school trustee election will be conducted in the Council meeting room (on the left), and the city officers' election will be held in the kitchen (to the right).

In the special election, there are 24 candidates for United States Senator, to fill the unexpired term of Senator Lloyd Bentsen. There also are three proposed constitutional amendments having to do with school finance. The first proposal deals with allowing limited redistribution of ad valorem taxes for schools, authorizing the legislature or local districts to set a minimum tax rate in county education districts and placing a cap on the ad valorem tax levied by county education districts.

The second proposition exempts a school district from the obligation to comply with unfunded state educational mandates, while the third authorizes the issuance of $750 million in state general obligation bonds to assist school districts in financing facilities, and repealing the authorization for $750 million in state revenue bonds guaranteed by the permanent school fund.

In the school trustee election, voters will be choosing two of three candidates to fill the expiring terms of Tom Burson and Dewey Estes. Joining these two on the ballot is Penny Carpenter.

In the city election, a mayor and two councilmen are to be elected. John Bowman is a candidate for mayor, and those in the race for councilman are Ricky L. Minyard, Lane B. Garvin, James R. Edwards, Ned V. Childress and W. D. Rowell. The terms which would have been expiring this year are those of Bowman and James Griffin, who resigned recently when he and his wife moved to Lubbock.

Be sure to exercise your rights of citizenship Saturday by voting in these three elections.

New Loans to Disadvantaged Groups Available

Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) has a new loan program designed to help members of socially disadvantaged groups, including minorities, acquire land for farming in Swisher/Briscoe counties.

Under the new program, FmHA will try to find persons in those categories who are interested in farming and can qualify for FmHA farm ownership loans. The agency is prepared to sell or lease to them a farm held in its inventory or make a loan for purchase of land on the open market.

Socially disadvantaged population groups include Hispanics, native Americans, Blacks, Asians and Pacific islanders. Persons who think they may be eligible and who are in farming or have farming experience should contact the FmHA office, 219 NW 2nd Street, Tulia, 806-995-2319.

Another Clean-Up Planned May 8

May 8 is the day that has been designated for another community clean-up day. An effort is being made to clean up the two buildings north of the Briscoe County News, to prepare them to be brought into useable condition.

The clean-up will begin at 8:00 a.m., and everyone who can help is encouraged to be there.

Tom Justice, chairman of the project, expresses appreciation to all those who helped with the clean-up held last Saturday. "We appreciate your efforts," he said. "Weather permitting, we will continue the clean-up May 8," he added.

Mrs. Brown Gets Probation In Plea Bargain Saturday

Cynthia Kay Brown, 41, has pleaded guilty to voluntary manslaughter charges in connection with the May 2, 1992 shooting death of her husband, 38-year-old Michael Trent Brown.

The plea and subsequent conviction came during a brief court appearance at the Hale County Courthouse Saturday. She was sentenced to 10 years probation and given a $1,000 fine under the terms of a plea bargain agreement.

Mrs. Brown had been scheduled to go on trial on murder charges Monday.

Briscoe County District Attorney Becky McPherson said the decision to offer the woman the plea bargain came at the request of the victim's family.

The agreement includes Mrs. Brown's admission to killing her husband in "a moment of sudden passion," Mrs. McPherson said.

The plea came before State District Judge Randy Hollums.

Mrs. Brown also faces probation revocation in Swisher County, where she has been held for the past several weeks.

The victim, a Silverton farmer, was shot once in the head while working in a pasture about a half-mile from the couple's rural Briscoe County home.

Police reports indicate Mrs. Brown summoned Briscoe County Sheriff Richard Roehr to the farm and at gunpoint took him to where her husband lay dying. She then fled in her car, leading law enforcement officers on a chase that ended on a county road near Floydada.

Following a two-hour standoff in which Mrs. Brown allegedly held a .223-caliber rifle to her chest and threatened to commit suicide, she gave up and was taken to the Crisis Stabilization Unit of Lone Tree Recovery Center at what was then Central Plains Regional Hospital, now Methodist Hospital-Plainview. She was later taken to the Hale County Law Enforcement Center. She was subsequently held in the Swisher County Jail in Tulia.

As the standoff was taking place, her husband was taken to Swisher Memorial Hospital, arriving in critical condition at 8:15 p.m. He later was transferred to Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo where he died.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

So many persons have asked for a copy of this poem that was composed by Dave's friend, Gilbert A. Melott, (for Dave's memorial), I thought others that were unable to attend, might like to read it, so please publish it as a tribute to his memory.

Also, for those who watch Ch. 11 in Lubbock, there will be a documentary in May on AIDS, and Dave will be the main focus of that three-part series. I still do not know specific dates, but if I do learn in time to put it in the paper I will do so.

I hope all will enjoy the poem as the composer wrote from a true experience.

Lovingly,
Maebelle

This Man's Soil

A man stood with his feet buried deep in the dark and rich soil of a wheat field, near a place he called home.

I stood beside him
and gazed at his face
It was handsome His eyes danced with knowledge beyond his youthfulness, and his smile radiated a friendliness beyond anything I had known before.

I watched him lift his arms straight out from his side
He brushed his hands gently over the top of the proud wheat Then he turned to me and asked me if I could hear it.

For a moment I was perplexed
by this strange question.
Then as if on cue,
the winds swept in from the north and the wheat began to sing.

We listened to the rhythms.

He spoke of a time in his youth
when the wheat taught him
the lessons of the soil and sang in his ear about the difference he would make on soils far from home.

Quietly and deliberately he bent down and gathered a fistfull of black dirt and handed it to me in my right hand and placed a note in the other.

Then he turned and walked toward the purple and red and yellow wall of light to the west.
As I watched him saunter away,
I read the small, wrinkled paper:

To My Friend—

Peter: Chapter 1/Verse 24

All flesh is grass and its glory
like the wildflowers.
The grass withers, the flower falls,
but the word of the Lord
remains the same.

Ultimately,
my friend was a farmer
and this was one man's soil.
Reap the harvest.

Caprock Cowboy Camp Meeting Set May 20-23

The second annual Caprock Cowboy Camp Meeting, sponsored by Ranchmen's Camp Meeting Association of the Southwest, will be held on the Johnnie Burson Ranch, located six miles east and 2 3/4 miles north of Silverton, May 20-23.

Ron Hart of Tucson, Arizona will be the camp preacher, and Jeff Gore of Liberty Hill, Texas will be the song leader.

The camp meeting is an interdenominational Christian camping experience for people of all ages. There are no hookups, but you are welcome to bring your bedroll, tent, RV, travel trailer or motor home. Meals are provided, but donations to help defray the cost of the camp meeting will be accepted.

Included on the schedule are worship services, bible studies, crafts classes and demonstrations, horseback trail ride, games for all ages, trail hikes, singing, campfire fellowship and the prayer tree.

Cowboy camp meetings are over a hundred years old in Texas and over 50 years old in New Mexico. In the later 1930s, the organizing committees decided that cooks should be hired, beef donated and cooked over an open fire, and tents provided for services. There would be arranged four preaching services each day plus a men's prayer meeting under a tree and a women's prayer meeting under a tent. It was not uncommon for there to be 700 to 1000 in attendance at these early camp meetings.

Ministers of many faiths came to preach and when people made their professions of faith, they were urged to go back to their ranch, attend the nearest church and become active Christians.

In those early days, a manager was selected to be in charge. His job was to secure outstanding ministers to preach, ring the bell before each service, lead the opening worship services four times a day, and see that meals were ready on time. He also was responsible for all the equipment necessary to shelter and feed 1000 people for the meeting.

The cowboy camp meetings are conducted in much the same way today. They are still held on ranches under tents and meals are cooked over the open fire. There is no charge for these events but donations are accepted to help cover the operation costs.

Anyone may attend a camp meeting; you need not be a cowboy. It is a great opportunity to get away from the fast lane for a few days and to enjoy the country atmosphere and dynamic worship services without the distractions of city life.

The camp meetings are a gathering of all kinds of people from all Christian faiths. Bring your children and youth to the meeting because there will be opportunities for worship, nature walks and hiking along the canyons for all ages. Come for one day or for all four. Wear your blue jeans and bring your Bibles. It will be an exciting experience you will never forget.

From Silverton, drive three miles southeast of Highway 86 to the junction of Highway 86 and Highway 256. Take Highway 256 east three and a half miles to a camp meeting sign at the entrance of a county dirt road. From here turn north for two and three-quarter miles and you will be at the entrance of the Burson Ranch. For information, contact Johnnie Burson, Box 304, Silverton, TX 79257, or call (806) 847-2524.

Officers of the Ranchmen's Camp Meeting Association are Steve Cody of Lenapah, Oklahoma, president; Buddy Cortese of Fort Sumner, New Mexico, vice president; Wilma Fulgham of Clovis, New Mexico, secretary; Frank Radar of Clayton, New Mexico, treasurer.

Assisting with the bible studies during the meeting will be Brad Enloe, Steve Ulrey and Steve Cody.

All those who play instruments are invited to bring them to take part in the campfire fellowship.

Clardy Meets NCAA Marks At UTA Event

Gwen Clardy, a former Silverton resident, recently ran the best race of her life. Twice.

Miss Clardy, a track freshman at the University of Texas-Arlington, met provisional qualifying standards for the NCAA Outdoor Championships with her showings in both the 100- and 200-meter runs during the UTA Invitational at Maverick Stadium.

"It's exciting, especially as a freshman," Miss Clardy said. She won the 200 with a school record 23.65-second time. "I was trying to get under 24 and I did it."

Miss Clardy, also on the 1600-meter relay team that reset the Lady Mavs record, turned in a school-best 100-meter showing of 11.44 seconds but finished second in that event to TCU's Beverly McDonald, who broke the meet and stadium record with an 11.05-second performance.

"I thought it was outstanding," UTA Coach Monte Stratton said of Clardy's performance. "I think her 100 time will get her in the national meet."

Roselyn Shanklin, Lisa Austin and Tara Ford teamed with Miss Clardy to win the 1600 relay in three minutes, 45.9 seconds. The foursome improved upon their record of 3:47.61, turned in the previous weekend at the Texas Relays in Austin.

Miss Clardy is the granddaughter of Joe and Elzora Gallington of Silverton.

Estimating the number of acres planted to cotton on the High Plains is usually a fairly straight-forward procedure says Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers (PCG).

PCG officials note that a good way to estimate 1993 cotton acres in the 25-county High Plains area is to take the number of cotton base acres and subtract the acreage set-aside percentage.

This calculation indicates 1993 planted acres will be close to 3.24 million acres on the High Plains. This is roughly 90,000 acres more than were initially expected in 1992 and reflects the 7.5 percent Acreage Reduction Program (ARP). The 1992 ARP was set at 10 percent.

Planting is expected to begin picking up across the area in the next week to ten days. Dr. John Gannaway, a plant breeder at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station (TAES) in Lubbock says he expects the majority of producers in the area to wait until the first week or two of May to begin.

Several counties on the southern end of the High Plains report planting activity starting in the last week. Dawson County Extension Agent John Farris reports that some irrigated producers in his county are well underway and others will get started in the next few days. Many producers are waiting for soil temperatures to stabilize further, or for rain, to get into the field.

"We're starting to see a few planters running in the southern areas, mostly in Dawson and Gaines counties," notes PCG Executive Vice President Donald Johnson.

Johnson adds that most people expect planting activity to increase in the next week or ten days, and be well underway by the second week in May.

Statewide planting estimates for 1993 are put at 5.7 million acres.

Producers are reminded that the end of the sign-up period for 1993 farm programs is April 30, 1993. Anyone intending to participate in the 1993 program needs to sign-up before the April 30 cut-off date.

Prior to the end of the sign-up period it is expected that the 1993 Commodity Credit Corporation Schedule of Premiums and Discounts will be released early next week.

Producers are anxiously waiting to see the new schedule which has been totally reworked to accommodate the separation of Color and Leaf grades in the USDA classification system. Also being announced will be premium and discount schedules for micronaire, strength, bark, and other factors.

Secretary of Agriculture Mike Espy is now in the process of reviewing recommendations concerning the 1993 loan schedule.

Ginners' Convention Attracts Large Crowd

Texas Cotton Ginners' Association (TCGA) brought about 5500 people to Lubbock for its 86th Annual Cotton Trade Show and Convention, the highlights of which included over two hundred exhibitors and featured seminars on labor, environmental and safety issues.

The labor seminar featured two speakers from Washington, D. C., who discussed discrimination under the Immigration Reform and Control Act (IRCA). These speakers provided tips on how to avoid discriminating against prospective employees.

"It was an excellent opportunity for our members to learn more about the laws that regulate them," said Tony Williams, TCGA executive vice president. "The labor laws are becoming more and more complicated and the speakers from Washington D. C. did a great job of clearing the muddy water."

The association staff engineer, Kelley Green, provided a short overview of air pollution regulations, including obtaining an air permit. He also provided advice on meeting workplace safety requirements under OSHA regulations. According to Chris Breedlove, TCGA president, "Kelley's remarks were very informative, and should help ginners stay out of trouble with the Texas Air Control Board and OSHA."

During the convention each year, the ginners recognize a "ginner of the year," the most prestigious award a member can receive. Wilburn E. Beckhusen, this year's recipient, is a long-time resident of Buckholts in Milam County. He operates Modern Gin in Buckholts, and farms several thousand acres of cotton and grain with his son. He has served on the numerous boards and committees in his local community and area. Beckhusen is a board member of the TCGA, and has served in that position for twenty-five years.

Chad Jones of Lubbock was the winner of the 4-H Cotton Book Record Award. This award is given annually by the TCGA. Chad is a senior at New Deal High School, and is extensively involved in school activities. He is the son of a cotton grower, and has relatives in the ginning business. Chad plans on attending Texas Tech University in the fall, majoring in agricultural economics or agricultural education.

New officers were elected during the convention. Chris Breedlove of Sebastian was elected president, Ron Riley of Loop was elected vice president, and Bill Mikeska of Eola was elected secretary.

The 1993 executive committee also was elected: Sig Brough, Edroy, James Stone of Taylor, Tommy Chapman of Wall, Myrl Mitchell of Lenorah, Ron Craft of Plains, Max Jackson of Slaton, Bill Mason of Plainview and Tommy Woolam of O'Donnell. The officers also serve on the executive committee.

Letter to the Editor

Isn't it great to have friends like Elton and Lanita who can express themselves so well? Their card of thanks this week 4-22-93 expressed our sentiments by the statement "We much prefer to be givers than receivers." We read somewhere an original definition of "love".

"Love is the doorway through which the human soul passes from selfishness to service and from solitude to kinship with all mankind."

All of you have, as we've tried to say "laced our lives with your prayers."

So we do know that God is a good and generous Heavenly Father, whatever plans He has for us. We ask for patience and strength to carry on since March 4, especially.

Our love to all,
 Obra and Jessie Mae

Sherman is New Store Manager at McCoy's

McCoy Corporation and McCoy's Building Centers are pleased to announce the promotion of Joe Sherman to store manager at the McCoy's in Plainview. Sherman was promoted while he was the assistant manager at the East Lubbock McCoy's and is effective immediately. Sherman was graduated from Plainview High, served in the Navy from 1963 to 1965 and was graduated from Wayland Baptist University in 1982.

He has been with McCoy's since the fall of 1991. He came to McCoy's with ample management experience. He was with Sherman's Plainview Plumbing from 1979 until it closed in 1990. He had some banking and insurance experience while in Plainview. He has been associated with numerous civic and church groups in the past.

McCoy's philosophy is that they offer low storewide prices on all items, not just the "leader" items. The McCoy's Building Supply Center is located next to K-Mart on Olton Road in Plainview.

McCoy's Building Supply Centers extend an invitation to everyone to come by and visit and say "hi to Joe" and his crew. If you need help with a project, an estimate for an addition, or some friendly advice, drive by today.

FAITH CALLS A BABY THE CONTINUATION OF OUR OWN LIVES

Of all the miracles of God's creation, there is none more wonderful than a baby. It's a traffic stopper wherever it goes, and a great source of pride to its parents. It demands constant attention, and it's so noisy that we wonder how anything that tiny can produce so many decibels of sound. Moreover, that sound seems to be magnified at the House of Worship, where the baby should be baptized or christened, according to the custom of the creed, but otherwise should either sleep through the sermon or be exiled to the nursery. In any case, faith will remind the parents that this cute, noisy little morsel of humanity is the ultimate extension of their own lives, to be molded into one of tomorrow's good citizens in whose hands the future of our nation will one day lie.
