NUMBER 34

Compliance is Vital to Farmers

Time is getting short to have all scheduled practices completed on Food and Security Act Plans. Farmers, who developed FSA plans by the 1990 deadline, have completed many scheduled practices, and many were scheduled for 1993. Practices such as grass seeding, critical area planting and waterways should have been completed if they were scheduled for 1993.

If you had any of these practices scheduled and did not complete them, you are out of compliance. In routine servicing or spot checking by the SCS staff, when it is found that scheduled practices were not completed, it must be reported to ASCS. The SCS is like the Highway Patrol. If it catches someone breaking the National Law, a ticket must be written and presented to the ASCS. The ASCS will be the judge that issues a fine of $500 to $5,000 or complete forfeitures of all government payments that could be as much as $50,000.

The local SCS employees live in the community and do not want to write any tickets, but like the Highway Patrol, it is their duty. Time is getting short; therefore, no warning tickets will be given for a violation of the Food and Security Act law.

Not only scheduled practices must be installed, but management of existing practices must be completed. You should look at your terraces before planting wheat. If there are any breaks or blocks needing repair, this must be done before drilling wheat. If a crop is planted across a wash in a terraced field, the farm is out of compliance.

Another management practice is Emergency Tillage. If not enough residues or growing crop exist to protect the land from wind erosion, plowing of some kind is needed to control erosion. Many acres were in this practice or should have been.

Also, it is again time to be considering over-seeing small grains into cotton. This should be done as soon as possible and no later than September 15. Just over-seeding the small grains in cotton is not all that matters. The small grain must make a stand and produce at least 2,000 pounds of Flat Small Grain Equivalent of growing wheat. This must be kept on the soil surface through April 1. This means no deep breaking, listing or heavy disking before April 1. Wind strips are probably the best alternative.

It is very important for each farmer to look over his plans and carry them out as scheduled. All permanent practices must be installed by December 31, 1994. For this reason, no warning tickets will be given. All violations will be submitted for non-compliance to ASCS.

SCS will do its best to help everyone who wants to be kept in compliance, but can go only so far. The programs and services of the Soil Conservation Service are offered on a nondiscriminatory basis without regard to race, color, national origin, age, sex, religion, marital status or handicap.

She and the children will appreciate your assistance.

Silverton School Enrollment Is Slightly Higher

Enrollment in the Silverton Schools is slightly higher this fall, partly due to their being 12 children in the new pre-kindergarten class.

There were 247 students attending Silverton ISD last spring, but some moved away and some came to take their places during the summer months.

As of Tuesday, there were 75 students in high school and a total student population of 266.

Most teachers asked said that the new school year is off to a very good start.

Spirit Day Camp Planned Monday

Silverton High School's cheerleaders will be conducting a day camp for those in kindergarten through the eighth grades Monday, August 30.

Those participating in the camp should bring a sack lunch. Drinks will be provided.

Purpose of the camp will be to teach yells and chants to the elementary and junior high students. It is hoped that those who attend will be big spirit boosters at pep rallies and ballgames.

Music tapes will be on sale for $5.00 each.

BCAA To Meet Thursday Night

Briscoe County Activities Association will have a regular meeting at 8:00 p.m. Thursday, August 26, at the showbarn in Silverton.

Tips . . . From Social Security

by Mary Jane Shanes
 Social Security Office Manager
 Plainview, Texas

Here are some tips for you from Social Security . . .

If you work at a job where you make $20 or more per month in cash tips, that income is covered by Social Security. That means you and your employer are required to pay Social Security and Medicare taxes on this income. And reporting tips and other income now will mean more Social Security benefits for you and your family later when you retire, become disabled, or die.

When you earn tips, you must keep a daily record of the tips you receive. This includes tips received in cash directly from customers or from other employees and tips added to a credit

State Establishes Emergency Fund

During its recent session, the Texas Legislature enacted the Texas Fire Mobilization Act. This legislation established a statewide fire contingency account to provide funds to help volunteer fire departments meet expenses associated with cooperative wildland firefighting operations across Texas. No funds were appropriated for the account. The Act directs that funding should come from gifts and grants.

Elizabeth Chadwell, an absentee landowner living in California, accepted the challenge and has made the first donation to the fund. Her $190 donation hopefully will encourage others to join in toward financing cooperative firefighting efforts now in progress across the Texas landscape.

Extreme fire danger exists across much of Central Texas. Hundreds of personnel, including firefighters from municipal and volunteer fire departments and state agencies, already have spent countless hours on the fire line protecting homes and other rural property. With little or no relief from drought conditions expected in the Central Texas area in the near future, extensive firefighting resources likely will remain committed to wildfire control efforts for some time.

"It is estimated that annually the volunteer firefighters of Texas contribute over $31 million of their time—if they were just paid minimum wage," stated Bruce Miles, Texas Forest Service director. "It is incumbent upon the rest of us to support their operating expenses, especially when they leave their communities to help others on large fires," pleaded Miles. He asked that corporations, ranchers and other individuals show their support for these volunteers and the protection of Texas' natural resources with contributions to the Texas Fire Mobilization Fund. Funds from the account may only be used for wildfire control operations.

Contributions to the firefighting contingency fund should be made payable to the Texas Fire Mobilization Fund, c/o Texas Forest Service, College Station, Texas 77843-2136.

card charge. If your tip income totals $20 in a month, you are required to report the amount to your employer. Your employer is responsible for reporting the correct tip and wage information to the Social Security Administration and the Internal Revenue Service.

All employees who earn tips are affected by these rules. This includes workers in food and beverage establishments, hotel employees, cab drivers, hair dressers, etc.

To make sure that you receive credit for all your earnings, you should request a free earnings statement from Social Security at least every three years. When you get your statement, check it to be sure it's right. If you find an error, call the special toll-free number listed on the form to get your record corrected.

To get a statement request form, all you have to do is contact the nearest Social Security office or call our toll-free number: 1-800-772-1213. Ask for the "Request For Personal Earnings and Benefit Estimate Statement (Form 7004).

For more information about paying taxes on tips, call the Internal Revenue Service toll-free telephone number, 1-800-829-3676, and ask for Publication 531, Reporting Tip Income, and Publication 1244, Employee's Daily Record of Tips and Report to Employer.

It's difficult to have very many tourists without hospitable people to host them. Briscoe County seems to have an endless supply of hospitable people. The main thing we are in short supply of, seems to be tourists.

To help get out the word about the Best Kept Secret in Texas, the Briscoe County Extension Service will be publishing a Briscoe County Tourism and Recreation Guide. In this guide, we will be including any and all information related to Briscoe County. Topics to be included in the guide will be: Places To Eat, Places To Stay, Places To Shop and Visit, and Things To Do (hunting, fishing/boating, trail rides, special events, etc.). Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers (PCG) says heavy boll weevil pressure from the Rolling Plains has pushed the weevil far afield during the past few weeks.

PCG, operator of one of the largest pest management operations in the world, will meet the increased pressure head on, according to PCG Boll Weevil Coordinator Roger Haldenby, who explains that the 30-year-old PCG program will conduct mapping and control operations in several areas that normally do not feel the heat from migrating boll weevils.

PCG is in the process of completing the mapping of cotton fields in parts of Gaines, southwest Dawson, Martin and Howard counties where heavy weevil populations to the east and south have pushed weevils into High Plains cotton fields.

"The PCG Control Program was put in place to stop the westward migration of boll weevils and prevent them from gaining a toe-hold on the High Plains," says Haldenby. "To fulfill that role we will be doing everything we can to offset the heavy migration we have seen so far this year."

According to Dr. Don Rummel, Extension Entomologist at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station in Lubbock, the high number of weevils moving into the area this year results directly from the last three mild winters. Rummel notes that the mild winter temperatures allowed hibernating weevils to survive in environments where they normally would not.

As an example, Rummel points out that weevils were able successfully to overwinter in both mesquite and CRP grasslands, two of the least protective environments available to hibernating boll weevils.

ARSENIC ACID USE DATES ANNOUNCED BY TDA

Important dates concerning the use of Arsenic Acid on cotton have been released by the Texas Department of Agriculture, according to PCG.

Sale and use dates for Arsenic Acid are:

October 31, 1993—Last day anyone legally can sell, offer for sale or deliver for sale stocks of Arsenic Acid.

December 31, 1993—Last day any person legally can use any existing stocks (product in growers possession) of Arsenic Acid.

Provisions also have been made to take care of leftover stocks of Arsenic Acid. From December 31, 1993 through March 31, 1994, Elf Atochem will buy back unopened containers of Arsenic Acid from both retailers and growers. Procedures for returning unopened containers will be provided on or before February 1, 1994 and the buy back will continue for 45 days from the date the notice is given.

For more information about these dates, contact local Texas Department of Agriculture offices.

There was excitement at the Tule Lake Golf Course in the Wednesday Night Scramble when Bill Glenn aced #7 with a seven iron. It was Bill's first hole-in-one. He has only been playing golf this year. The hole-in-one was witnessed by Trent Morris, Justin Nash and Sue Glenn, Bill's wife.

Winner Wednesday was the team of Richard Combest, Joe Adams, Greg Faight and Jane Allison, with 29, won by playoff on the score card. Second place, also with 29, went to Randy Mahaney, John Wyatt, Billy Joe Young and Norland Dudley. Winning third place were Pat George, Hank Rossi, Jim Killham and Sue George, with 31.

There will be only two more Wednesday Scrambles and they will be August 25 and September 1.

Ladies Tuesday Playday was won by Gerry Payne with a 75. The play was a string tournament. Each player got the number of feet of string as their handicap. A good time was had by all—even without lunch.

The golf season for this year is almost over. All tournaments are gone and scrambles almost over, so golfers can start looking forward to next year. The Ladies Playday on Tuesdays will continue through fall and winter on days that are decent to play. All you ladies remember this, and plan to be there for the Playdays.

Dove Season On the Horizon

Shotguns are being cleaned, and camouflage clothes are being dusted off by Panhandle hunters in preparation for the September 1 opening of dove season. Mourning dove counts were conducted in May by Texas Parks & Wildlife biologists along 44 survey routes in the North Zone. The counts were very similar to last year, resulting in about 20 birds per route; however, TPWD biologists have incidentally counted 150 to 200 doves on several routes in the southern high plains and rolling plains when conducting quail surveys in August. Incidental observations of doves appeared to be very good for Dawson, Martin, Borden, Garza, Scurry, Kent and Fisher counties. Some counties are not censused for quail in August and may currently support good populations of mourning doves.

With the relatively dry conditions in the south plains, flocks of doves are being attracted to almost any form of standing water surrounded by clean dirt banks. These water sources can range from small lakes to mere puddles on a dirt road, and hunters can expect these areas to be a good bet during the first week of September if the dry conditions continue. A nearby sunflower patch would improve the odds of a "good shot" even more; however, as any old-time dove hunter knows, the migratory nature of mourning doves can result in a frustrating hunting season. The birds may "darken the skies" on August 31, but an early cool-front may send them south and many of the doves literally can disappear overnight.

As usual, mourning dove regulations in Texas are set forth according to hunting zones: North, Central and South. The Panhandle is part of the North Zone which is the area north of I-20 across most of the state, north of I-10 in the extreme west, and north of I-30 in the extreme east. Mourning dove season in the North Zone will extend from September 1 through November 9, 1993. In the Central Zone the season is from September 1 through October 31, 1993 and from December 26, 1993 through January 3, 1994. In the South Zone the season runs from September 24 through November 14, 1993 and from December 26, 1993 through January 12, 1994. Shooting hours begin one-half hour before sunrise and conclude at sunset. It is recommended that hunters check the official sunset time for their area prior to every afternoon hunt since official sunset changes considerably as the season progresses. The statewide daily bag limit for doves is 12. This daily limit of 12 may not include (except the Lower Valley) more than six white-winged and two white-fronted doves. Of course, almost all bag limits in the North Zone will consist of mourning doves. The possession limit is twice the daily bag limit.

THE FINEST WAY TO SPEND
 THIS DAY IS TO HELP SOMEONE

Now, what kindness did you display
 By the things you accomplished today?
 Did you do a good deed
 To help someone in need,
 Which that person can never repay?

And whenever you feel so inclined,
 There are numerous ways you can find,
 If they know you are near
 When they've lost someone dear,
 To help people regain peace of mind.

Then you'll learn what these lessons convey
 By attending your service, to pray.
 Let the Lord be your guide,
 For He'll walk by your side,
 And His wisdom will show you the way.
