They are Johnny Tiffin, president; Dwight Ramsey, fire chief; Tom Justice, first assistant fire chief; Alan Grimland, second assistant fire chief; Brad Enloe, secretary; Tom Burson, treasurer.

Work Continues On Ambulance Service Building

Work is nearing completion on the building that was purchased recently and is being converted into a permanent headquarters for the Silverton Volunteer Ambulance Service.

This work will require the expenditure of $20,000 to complete, and this includes the purchase price. The EMS group received a grant of $10,000 from the Amarillo Area Foundation, and this is being matched with $10,000 from local donations, which includes money from the Martha Ann Cogdell Memorial Trust Fund.

Projected completion date is in March, and at that time all equipment and supplies will be moved into the new facility.

Work continues inside the building with partitioning of new rooms. A new roof has been installed, along with a new heating system. The ceiling is being enclosed. New plumbing is finished, and the new overhead doors are in place. The building is being prepared for painting inside and outside.

Cabinets for storing supplies have been ordered and will be installed when they arrive.

The ambulance service appreciates very much the donations and assistance of local people to this project.

the Pee Wee Showmanship and Eighth Annual Don Burson Memorial Herdsman Award. The latter award is sponsored by the Burson family and is presented to the outstanding 4-H'er or FFA member who excels above all others in the areas of feeding, fitting, showmanship and personal effort throughout the feeding program. These and all other awards will be presented at the start of the premium sale.

Monday, January 24, at 5:00 p.m. the showbarn cleanup begins.

Bryan Burson is superintendent of the Sheep Show, and he will be assisted by Warren Lee Merrell.

Superintendent of the Prospect Swine Show is Max Weaver, and he will be assisted by Ken Wood, Don House and Butch Hughes. The same group of men will be in charge of the Market Swine Show.

Important AIDS Meeting Planned Saturday Night

Everyone, from school children up, is urged to be present at this important meeting.

Albright's term as a missionary is finished, and he now wants to begin a new program to teach people what the Bible says about sex, abstinence, etc. to the African people, among whom approximately 20% are said to be infected with AIDS.

Albright is seeking support for this work.

All the churches and individuals in the Silverton area who are interested in this work are invited to attend this thought-provoking program that Albright calls "Why Wait?"

Bennie Reagan is superintendent of the Steer and Beef Heifer Shows. His assistants for both shows will be Billy Farley and Matt Kast.

Larry Don Price, assisted by Rick Hester, will be in charge of the Dairy Heifer Show.

Perry Brunson is general superintendent of the show, and will be assisted by Bennie Reagan. Show announcers are Jimmy Davidson and Aaron Younger. This year's show secretaries are Nancy Wood, Bena Hester and Wilda Fuston.

Judging the sheep and cattle will be David Lust of West Texas A&M University.

Showmanship will be judged by Robert Herrington, Dickens County Agent.

Youth supervisors are Scott Strawn, Briscoe County Extension Agent; Ronnie Miller, Silverton Vo-Ag instructor; Ricky McKay and Darrren Martinez, Valley Vo-Ag instructors.

All exhibitors must be bonafide members of FFA chapters or 4-H clubs in Briscoe County and enrolled in the Silverton or Valley public schools.

Annual Meeting Of Extension Service Planned

The annual meeting of the Briscoe County Extension Service will be held Thursday, January 13, at 7:00 p.m. in the Fellowship Hall of the United Methodist Church in Silverton.

The program for the evening will include a progress report of youth development, program area committee reports and an annual report from the Briscoe County Extension Agents.

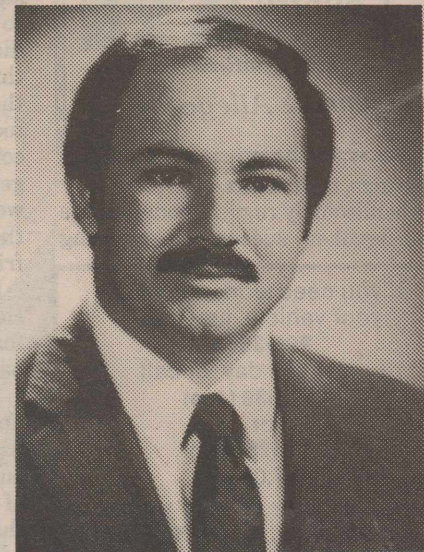

All Extension Program Council members are invited to attend the event. For more information, call the Extension Service office at 823-2131.

Computer Omits Names From the Honor Rolls

A computer error caused the names of Molly Bomar and Maria Justice to be omitted from the six weeks honor roll, according to an announcement by Principal Stan Fogerson.

Molly also should have been listed on the semester honor roll.

This error is regretted very much.

Senate's Only Farmer Files For Re-Election

Thirtieth District State Senator Steven A. Carriker has filed in the Democratic Primary for re-election to the office he has served since 1988.

At the age of 43, Senator Carriker is among the youngest members of the Texas Senate and the only member of the Senate to make his living as a farmer. He is a graduate of The University of Texas and his wife, Kathy, a Texas Tech graduate, is a public school teacher. They have three children: Jake, a student at Southwest Texas University, and Karen and Stephanie, who attend elementary school in Roby.

Senator Carriker has been active in health care issues and was responsible for the 1989 law that has helped create over 170 rural health clinics in communities that had lost or were in danger of losing their health care facilities entirely. His work in health care has earned him awards from the Texas Association of Community Health Centers, the Joint Conference on Aging, and a special resolution honoring him by the Texas Silver-Haired Legislature.

Senator Carriker has passed six bills reducing taxes and protecting taxpayer rights. Among those are bills reducing the oil severance tax, abating property taxes, and protecting retirees from illegitimate income taxes levied by other states.

Senator Carriker also has just completed a four-year term on the Texas Sunset Commission where his work resulted in the abolition or consolidation of ten agencies and a savings to taxpayers of 54 million dollars.

"I am proud of the confidence the people of the Thirtieth District have placed in me and am glad to have the opportunity to continue to represent them," Senator Carriker said.

cancer. He was 51. You remember him. He had that patriotic eagle tattooed on his hand and rode the range punching cattle like real men did in the Old West and he did something else the tobacco manufacturers would have us consumers think was the he-man thing to do—SMOKE! What not many of us did not know was that he spent the last three years of his life warning others of the dangers of smoking. Though it was too late for him, he thought that if he could just keep one kid from starting, or get one smoker to stop, it would be worth the price, whatever it cost. It is the same motivation of this little friendly article.

He was a convincing spokesperson. He knew all too well the price to be paid for becoming a slave to this dangerous habit.

As a former smoker, I am not unsympathetic toward those of us who have allowed this nicotine nemesis into our lives. I applaud the model's change of heart and eagerness to rectify the lie that was portrayed all these years of ads. Implied in these commercials was the notion of freedom and enjoyment and fresh air. FRESH AIR, indeed! I noticed no advertisers of cigarettes ever showed a smoke-filled room of coughing hacking people offering up their burnt offerings to the god of tobacco.

Before I stop this writing, allow me to list a few of the unheralded and unadvertised results of smoking: bad breath . . . second-hand smoke factor involving innocent family and friends . . . less money for healthier pursuits . . . clothes that reek . . . unfriendly stares in restaurants and other public places . . . high blood pressure . . . lung disease . . . loss of self esteem and self control . . . addiction to the point where it seems impossible to stop . . . and possibly finally the death of a loved one or friend, as well as one's own untimely departure from this world.

Labau-me-Childre Vows Exchanged in Holiday Ceremony

In a holiday setting, wedding vows were recited by Kelli DeAun LaBaume and Charles Bellinger Childre during a 5:00 p.m. ceremony on Saturday, December 18, at the First Baptist Church in Floydada. Dr. Joe Barnett, family friend of the groom and former minister of the Broadway Church of Christ in Lubbock, performed the double-ring ceremony. The bride was escorted and given in marriage by her father. After the giving of the bride, he offered a prayer of blessing.

Parents of the couple are Jon and Elaine LaBaume of Floydada and Stewart and Judy Childre of Lubbock. Grandparents of the bride are Ashel and Mildred McDaniel of Silverton and H. S. and Emma LaBaume of Stephenville. Grandmothers of the groom are Ruth Childre and Garnett Holbrook, both of San Antonio.

The bride chose a traditional white silk satin wedding gown by Demetrios, featuring a sweetheart neckline and leg-o-mutton sleeves, the fitted forearm of which tapered to a point on her hand. Underneath the large pouf of the sleeve was gathered Venetian lace. The gown had a fitted bodice that was embellished with appliqued lace over the entire front and back and dropped to a basque waistline. The gown was buttoned down the back with satin-covered buttons. The bouffant skirt had a large applique in the front and the cathedral-length train had multiple Venetian lace inserts. A wide floral lace edged the skirt and train.

The Venetian lace and appliques were accented with luxurious beading with hand-sewn pearls and iridescent sequins. Her tulle pouf veil was attached to a luminous crown interwoven with studded pearls and iridescent sequins that matched her bridal gown.

The bridal bouquet was a cascading arrangement of red and white Madam del Bard roses, red baby sweetheart roses, white stephanotis and baby's breath. Sprays of tiny pearls and white satin ribbon tied in love knots were intertwined into the bouquet.

Secured to the back of the bouquet was a white linen handkerchief given to the groom's paternal grandmother for her wedding on April 12, 1941. The handkerchief also was carried by the groom's mother on June 8, 1963, and the groom's sister on November 21, 1992.

The bouquet also included a wedding band belonging to the bride's maternal grandmother that she received on her wedding day, November 17, 1935. In following tradition, the handkerchief and wedding band were something old, something new was the bride's garter, a gift from her maternal grandmother, and a strand of pearls, a bridesmaid's gift from her matron of honor on July 17, 1993. Something borrowed was the bride's earrings from Kim Martin, one of the bridesmaids, and something blue was a blue topaz ring which was a Christmas present to the bride's mother in December of 1954, when she was in the eighth grade. In her shoes, her father placed a lucky sixpence.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was Jo Odom of Las Cruces, New Mexico. Bridesmaids were Kim Wall and DeLynn Fitzgerald, both of Lubbock, and Kayla Lindley, cousin of the bride, of Lakeview.

They wore one-piece tea-length dresses, with skirts of black Christmas plaid taffeta gathered to the bodice. The long-sleeved bodices were made of red moire taffeta with front insets of the black Christmas plaid. Each carried a bouquet of red poinsettias, holly leaves and holly berries. Red tulle poufs formed the backs of the bouquets with red silk ribbon streamers.

Flower girls were Meagan and Jessy Shur of Knox City. They wore one-piece tea-length long-sleeved dresses with gathered skirts. Bodices and contrasting collars were made of red moire taffeta with front insets of black Christmas plaid taffeta. Each carried a Christmas green basket lined with red moire taffeta. The handles of the baskets were covered with braided Christmas plaid ribbon and matching bows were on each side of the handle. As they went down the aisle, they dropped rose petals that were gathered and preserved for the occasion by Edna Duke of Floydada.

The mother of the bride wore a red shantung two-piece suit. The bridegroom's mother wore a royal blue one-piece dress. All of the bridesmaids' dresses, flower girls' dresses and the mother-of-the-bride dress were made by Martha Griggs of Floydada.

Best man was Craig Childre, brother of the groom, of Lubbock. The groomsmen were Mike Phillips of Dallad, Derek Martin of Lubbock and Scott Garner of Los Alamos, New Mexico. Ring bearers were Milton Holbrook of San Antonio and Steven Holbrook of Austin, cousins of the groom. Ushers were Coy LaBaume of Plainview, brother of the bride, and Zach Nutt of Floydada.

The entire altar area was lined with red poinsettias. The front of the church was decorated with a large Christmas wreath and garland highlighted with white mini lights. The couple was married beneath a red arch intertwined with evergreen garland and 400 white mini lights. Poinsettias lined the base of the arch.

The unity candle, lighted by the bride and groom during the ceremony, was accented with holly, berries and red poinsettias. A large Christmas plaid bow completed the setting. The bridal aisle was lined with white silk illusion and white bows marked the pews. The aisle up to the altar was covered with a white runner.

A musical piano prelude was provided by Wendy Pierce of Floydada. Musical selections were "How Beautiful" by Jo Odom, "Somewhere in The World" by Philip Jones of Lubbock, "As For Me and My House" and "Love Will Be Our Home" by Philip Jones and Connie Sawyer, sister of the groom, of Amherst. The wedding processional, "Trumpet Tune," wedding march and the recessional were played by Penny Ogden, organist, of Floydada and Glen Bell, trumpeter, of Dallas, uncle of the bride.

Registering the guests was Shannon Paty of Sweetwater. The registration table was covered with a white Battenburg lace cloth. Highlighting the table were a picture of the bride and groom, a double crystal candle holder with red candles and the couple's wedding invitation etched on glass.

RECEPTION

A reception following the ceremony was held in the Wall Street Parlor. White lattice-work lined the front of the reception area. Evergreen garland intertwined with white mini lights was hung along the top of the lattice. At the focal points of the lattice were Christmas plaid bows. The center of the reception area featured the bridal portrait and the bridal bouquet placed in a large crystal vase.

The bride's table was covered with a gathered, floor-length white lace cloth. The bride's cake was a five-tier red velvet cake. Italian cream icing was between each layer of the cake, which was made from a traditional family recipe used during the holidays each year by the bride's family. The cake was trimmed with red silk poinsettias and holly. The bride and groom figurine topping the bride's cake was the same one which topped her parents' wedding cake on October 4, 1964. The attire of the figurines was the same as that of the bride and groom.

Christmas punch was served from a silver bowl. Centerpiece of the bride's table was four cut crystal vases in different heights that held the bridesmaids' bouquets.

The groom's table had a red undercloth with an ivory Nottingham lace overlay. A large two-tier chocolate cake with chocolate icing was served. The cake was topped with large chocolate curls. Coca Cola Classic in the Santa cans was served from a red 1963 Coke ice chest filled with ice. Also on the table was a toy Coke truck and a Victorian Santa figurine holding a Coke. The groom and his mother have been collecting Coke memorabilia since he was 17 years old. As a surprise for the groom, the bride had her photo made in her wedding gown standing by a Coke machine and this was placed on the table.

The buffet table had an underskirt of Christmas green with a Christmas plaid overlay gathered at the corners with red moire taffeta bows. Silver appointments were used for serving an assortment of finger foods. Greenery intertwined with red ribbon accented the table.

Serving at the bride's table were Mary True of Plainview, Melode Watson of Brownfield and Denise Holcomb of Floydada. Serving at the groom's table were Holly Robbins, Angie Sellers and Amy Sellers, all of Lubbock. Serving at the buffet was Anna Leta Bradshaw of Floydada.

Members of the houseparty were Barbara Nutt, Eleanor McCarty, Kathy Becker, Judy, Bonnie and Melissa Dunlap, Shirley Morton, Elaine Galloway, Lorilla Bradley, Ruth Walker and Frances Hambricht.

Following a wedding trip to Jamaica, the couple are making their home in Lubbock.

The bride is employed by Texas Tech Home Economics Curriculum Center. The groom also is employed by Texas Tech University. Both the bride and groom are graduate students at Texas Tech University.

PRENUPTIAL COURTESIES

Prenuptial courtesies extended to the couple were a bridal shower in the home of Clara Bradshaw and a lingerie shower in the home of Denise Holcomb.

REHEARSAL DINNER

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the couple's parents in the fellowship hall of City Park Church of Christ. The meal was catered by Roye Pigg of Quitaque.

PTA Plans Art Contest, Science Fair At Meeting

Silverton PTA met Thursday night, January 6, in the school library. Plans were made for the Reflections Art Contest. A committee was set up to secure judges and make final plans. Every student is being encouraged to enter this National program. Silverton PTA has entered state winners in years past, and the rewards are gratifying. Winners on the district level and their families are treated to an awards program, where they can display their work and receive their awards.

Also discussed was the annual Science Fair. Plans are being made now for this event for all Junior High and High School students. The date will be announced later.

The next PTA meeting will be held Thursday, February 17. A nominating committee will be elected to fill a slate of officers for next year.

Immunizations To Be Given Here

A clinic to administer immunizations to anyone who needs them will be conducted Thursday, January 13, from 9:00 until 11:30 a.m. in the office of School Nurse Margie Pinkerton.

Please call for an appointment. Walk-ins will be seen on a first-come, first-served basis.

Immunizations offered include Flu for adults and high-risk adolescents, Polio, DPT, DTaP, Td, MMR, HIB for appropriate ages, and Hepatitis B for infants and high-risk adolescents.

Fees are on a sliding scale depending on monthly income. Flu vaccine will be $2.00 plus Co-Pay.

HELP YOUR HOUSE OF WORSHIP, WHICH HAS GIVEN YOU HELP

If you've been attending your House of Worship regularly, it's because you've had some good reasons for doing so. You have received God's blessings and guidance there, and perhaps you have been given some advice and comfort by your clergyman at a time when you needed it most. Now you should consider doing something in return for these benefits, if you haven't been doing it already. There are many helpful services you can perform, according to your talents and physical ability. Even such simple acts as making phone calls, typing announcements for the bulletin, or taking a turn watching the children in the nursery can be of great value. So do whatever you can to help your House of Worship, remembering all the times that it has been helpful to you.

Sometimes give your services for nothing, calling to mind a previous benefaction.
