What Shall Be Done To Deliver Ourselves From The Folly of Us?

[(By Geo. B. Terrell, Alto, Texas)
The above pestion has reference to the depression and the fool laws passed to relieve it, and may be answered by doing certain things, which will be mentioned later. What improvement we have had so far, has not been the result of these laws, but in spite of them. The spending of billions of dollars of relief money has given some temporary relief, but this must be Rev. C. E. Political Explosion

Already there is confusion and suspicion in the ranks of the prohibitionists of Texas. Many of the stalwart drys who have carried the white flag for 30 years in opposition to the open saloon, are wondering what happened in the legislature in submitting the repeal amendment to be voted on on August 24th next.

The amendment by its plain language puts the ardent dry on the spot. It starts out by saying "that the open saloon is hereby prohibited." The amendment then provides for repeal of the present prohibition amendment and the right of the people of any political subdivision to have local option liquor sales if they so vote and lastly the amendment then provides that if any county, or justice precinct was dry when the present amendment went into effect then it shall remain dry unless the people again vote it wet.

Thus it will be seen that when the voter is presented with a ballot embodying these provisions that such voter is put on the spot and no option is left to vote against the open saloon and against repeal and against local option. It is plain that the dry voter must vote aganist prohibition of the saloon if he votes against repeal and local option.

Prominent drys are now asking what happened at Austin that put them on the spot by requiring them to vote for the saloon which they have been fighting for years.

I heard a very prominent dry in Houston this week say that notwithstanding the prohibitionists have made the open saloon their main argument through all these years, that the first chance their leaders got they permitted themselves to be outwitted into putting forth a ballot that required them to vote against prohibiting the open saloon.

Already many prohibitionists have begun to get on to the predicament they are in, and many of them admit their fight is lost already. They regret that the prohibition leaders in the legislature have nobody to blame but themselves, as they demanded that an open saloon declaration be put in the amendment, before concern and increasing militancy session of congress. Under it, by they would vote to submit the question.

Another prominent dry puts it this way: "If we prohibitionists vote against prohibiting the saloon as stated on our ballots, then if we should win the election by a majority vote then our friends in the legislature could not consistently vote against any open saloon legislation because we had voted against prohibiting the saloon. If they (the legislators) carried out our instructions they would have to vote for the open saloon. On the other hand if we vote for prohibition of the saloon, with the antis, then we must vote for repeal of the present prohibition amendment, because it is in the amendment. We are driven to the condition that we must take it or leave it. We can't divide our ballot."

Thus it will be seen that the drys are in a bad political predicament. If they vote with us antis to prohibit the saloon then they must also vote for repeal of prohibition and the right of local option.

If they vote against us then they must vote for the saloon and gainst its prohibition. Their ballot so

If they the pros vote down the prohibition of the saloon then their brother pros can and will point the finger of scorn at them and say that if you want to stop the prohibition of the open saloon then you must to change through orderly procest the powers granted to congress by want the closed saloon, with the blinds, the women, the music and the liquor like we used to have.

My opinion is that the fair minded conservative pros will refuse to be put in any such rediculous posiand striking down personal and loaded with buckshot. Five of the tion as their leaders in the legislature has placed them, and to maintain a consistent record they will vote for repeal of the present prohibition amendment, because that is the only way they can permanently destroy the open saloon. The prohibition politicians will likely be too smart to permit themselves to cast a vote or ask anybody else to cast a vote that will protect the open saloon, even if the political preachers and pro fanatics try to drive them into doing so.

> When the people understand and learn just what this amendment says and means, I think and predict that all the antis and half the prohibitionists will vote for repeal of prohibition which will be forever dead, with none to do it reverence. Moral: Vote for repeal and thereby banish the open saloon, the bootlegger and

PONCA CITY, OKLAHOMA

Ponca City, Oklahoma, 17,000 population, has everything that any other city has—excellent parks, neatly kept streets, fine city buildings, a municipal airport—and yet in three years it has not needed to raise any money by taxes to pay city expenses. The reason? It has its own municipal water and light plants. And the rates are no higher than in near by towns where public utilities, with their great profits, are in the hands of private companies.

And, remember, this is during depression times, when people are struggling for existence, and starving at it. These brilliant birds might have been able to achieve a decent income, if conditions had been normal. Perhaps the check-up on the present year efforts will show improvement.

We are not to become pedantic or morose about these things. Such is the price of a glorious civilization which marks our achievements up to date. It is glorious, doncher know, to be able to point with pride to our great captains of industry; our pandering ter opponent of war, and author of a book "War is a Racket," press which fawns at their feet; our heroic congress which permits these things; the foolish, simple-minded public whose patriotism makes toadies of them. RAMBLINGS IN RHYME

(By A. P. PEIRCE) WHY BEGGARS? Why are so many beggars; Why are so many poor? Because they have been shiftless; Layed nothing up in store? 'Tis easy to say shiftless, Bad management and such And pass that on for reasoning,

Yet many of the very poor Have labored like a mule Been ever useful citizens And faithful is their rule; Have wasted nothing any where, Been saving to extreme; Could get no start in capital To help them, it would seem.

Is it true that any man, To get himself a start, Must get himself some capital To help him do the part? Will labor never get him there, When only that he see, Though it produces all our wealth; Made capital to be?

Labor should, once Lincoln said, Be placed on higher ground Than that we give to capital. His reason thus he found. Labor was first, his thinking ran, All capital it made; The creature made by labor's hand Above it should not grade.

The question next for us to solve; How capital demands The highest place of every thing; Takes it from our hands; Demands high intrest or high rent, Demands the profits all;

When partnership, with labor formed Leaves labor only gaul. Can it be labor's been robbed By interest that they pay?

They pay it in the price of goods They buy from day to day. It gets into the price of goods Because processors all Have to use bank credit when Money supply's kept small.

Bank credit bore the interest, when Processors had to call It overhead expense, and then, To price 'twas added all. In last analysis 'twould seem Scarce money turned the trick And gave the bankers chance to use This scheme, so very slick.

A scant supply of money then Gives capital that pull. A chance to lord it over all, Who labor to the full. Make slaves of all our labor folks, As Lincoln once foresaw, And give a money trust the whip To lash us 'till we're raw.

Poverty must be wiped out. No nation can call itself either Christian or civilized that permits babes, little children and the aged to suffer for food, clothes and shelter .-Labor's Voice.

THE DU PONT GANG

The DuPont gang made a profit of $228,000,000 out of the World War. In 1933 it contracted with Germany to fix her up with arms for another world war, and was kept from doing business only by the objections of Uncle Sam. It is this gang that is in the fight against paying the veterans their bonus. One of the gang made $29,586,000 in five years, and on this paid not one penny of income tax.
