Joe Boone Family Has Close Call

The Joe Boone family had a very close call recently when returning from the State Horse Show in Waco, a near-tragedy was averted.

According to Mrs. Boone, her husband had injured his back and she was driving. She became nauseated and believed it to be caused from looking through a gravel-break in the windshield directly in front of the steering wheel. However, their daughter Leah who began complaining of a headache and nausea. By the time the family reached Abilene, Mrs. Boone was too ill to continue driving and Joe took over at the wheel. He began feeling the effects of the carbon monoxide leaking inside the car by the time they reached Rule and when they reached Rochester, another daughter Kristi could not focus her eyes and began to panic. They realized by the time they got home, they had to get help as quickly as possible. Kristi was able to get inside the house, but Leah walked only a few steps away from the car when she passed out completely and fell on the lawn. Mary Ann said she realized that Leah had fallen but she was so dazed herself that she could not go to her. Kristi reached the hospital and Melba Pharr, director of nurses, summoned the ambulance and also called an LVN Nona Hutchinson, who was off duty, and her daughter Mindy to go to the Boones' residence and aid them until help arrived.

The Boones were taken to the Knox County Hospital by private car and ambulance and were admitted for an overnight stay.

Mrs. Boone said that it was the following Sunday before they really felt 'back to normal' and that afternoon the anhydrous ammonia tanks just south of their home blew out and the family had to evacuate themselves and also their horses for a while. The Boone family is definitely ready for things to get back to routine!

Items Missing From Community Center

City secretary Faye Railsback has asked the News office to remind persons who have occasion to use the Knox City Community Center that the furnished items belong to the center and should not be removed.

In the last inventory, it was discovered that a number of items, including dishes, vases, and other furnishings were missing. She said she felt that perhaps some who had rented the center had taken dishes or vases home to empty and just failed to return them.

However, the center is for the convenience of the entire town and persons are reminded that unless everyone respects the rules of the center, locks will have to be placed on the cabinet doors and use of the dishes, glassware, and silver limited to use of the various clubs.

Anyone having items that need to be returned should contact City Hall.

Local Band Performs In Abilene

Rock 'n roll was alive and well Saturday when KRBC Radio and Coca-Cola presented the second annual "Saturday In The Park". Knox City was well represented by the Ricky Averitt Band at Fair Park Stadium in Rose Park. Ricky and his band were broadcast live during several numbers and received numerous compliments from KRBC radio disc jockey Scott Kay Smith, who was the emcee for the show. One of the band's feature songs, an original called "Pretty Red Flower" got tremendous audience response.

The Ricky Averitt Band is one of the finest three piece rock bands in the area. Members are Ricky Averitt, lead guitar, and vocals; Richard Averitt, bass guitar and vocals; and Greg Webb, drums. The band is produced and managed by Storm Productions.

Several fans, friends, and family members from Knox City, Munday and San Antonio attended the performance. Several members of the crowd from the Knox City area were seen cheering the band on Abilene's KRBC television news Saturday night.

Volleyball Workouts To Begin

Coach Dale Waincott has advised the News office that all girls interested in high school UIL volleyball will be needing to make plans for their pre-season workouts beginning Monday, August 10 at 9:00 a.m.

At the present time, officials were unable to advise whether they would be able to use the high school gym due to floor repair. Coach Waincott also commented that she would provide more information to the athletes in a newsletter concerning physicals.

Due to lack of participation and conflicts in students' summer schedules, the gym will not be open nights anymore.

"Have faith in God," (Mark 11:22)

Jesus was a "man's man", who walked on this earth beside men, with long, purposeful strides over the rugged land of Galilee, through the wild deserts of the Southland, along the plains of Jordan. He loved the birds and animals. He enjoyed the flowers and trees. He thrilled to the rivers and the lakes and was closest to the earth and the sky. But above all, He loved people. He was irresistibly drawn to them, becoming a part of their lives. He was concerned with all "hurt things". He responded to the tears of children, the sobbing of mothers, the strong emotions of men.

Jesus of Nazareth was against no man or any group of men. He was against only four things: sin, disease, demons, and fear. He hated sin, but loved sinners. He hated sickness, but loved the sick. He hated the demons, but loved the demon possessed. He hated fear, yet loved the fearful. He possesses the power to forgive the sin, to heal the disease, to rebuke the demons, and dispel all fear with his great love. Perfect love casts out all fear. Only believe, your faith will make you whole. For Jesus said, "As thou hast believed, so be it unto you."

Allsup's To Take Part In Lewis Telethon

Allsup's Convenience Stores Inc., participants in the Jerry Lewis Muscular Dystrophy Telethon, will conduct pre-telethon activities during the month of August, according to Kurt Verlei, director of public relations. The company will display collection canisters in all 207 Allsup's Convenience Stores throughout New Mexico, Texas, and Oklahoma. "This is a very important part of fund raising prior to the telethon," said Verlei. "The association receives no tax supported grants nor does it seek or receive fees from patients for their families." Verlei added, "Their programs are funded almost entirely by private contributors and corporations and, of course, through the Labor Day Telethon."

The Muscular Dystrophy Association is currently seeking causes and cures for 40 crippling neuromuscular related disorders. Free diagnostic services, therapeutic and rehabilitative follow-up care are provided by Muscular Dystrophy Association's 230 clinics at no cost to any individual suffering from one of the diseases covered by the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

Allsup's will also be conducting the Allsup's Doorbell Brigade. Area youngsters are encouraged, on August 29 and 30, 1981, to visit their local Allsup's store and pick up a collection packet. After collecting donations for Jerry's kids and returning them to the store, Allsup's will give them a free fountain drink of their choice.

Local Rancher Is Growing Kleingrass

Bobby Day, owner of the Blue Goose Ranch near Truscott, has established 300 acres of selection 75 kleingrass.

Selection 75 kleingrass was certified and released by the Soil Conservation Service in cooperation with the Texas Agriculture Experiment Station. The grass was proven and put into use by the SCS Plant Material Center in Knox City.

Day entered into a Great Plains Conservation contract with the Soil Conservation Service in May, 1978, to do this and other work on the ranch.

The area treated was heavily infested with mesquite and root plowing or treedoing was needed. Since very few of the better range grasses were present, Day decided to rootplow for better control of mesquite and to aid in soil disturbance. After rootplowing, the area was raked to provide further soil disturbance. According to Day, this also had a smoothing effect on the area as a side benefit.

Two pounds of pure live seed was seeded in March of 1980. The area was deferred for the growing season and grazed as winter forage. Being a first year stand, spring grazing was limited to allow grass to recover from the hot summer of 1980 and winter grazing.

According to Pete Elliston of the local Soil Conservation Service office, deferred grazing is a must on any rangeland, but is especially important on first and second year stands to allow the young grass to establish a good deep root system.

Day and rancher manager, Roy Daniel, are well pleased with the results of this seeding. Day and Daniel are especially pleased with forage production and potential carrying capacity.

According to Pete Elliston of the local SCS office, kleingrass is adapted on a wide variety of soils in Knox County. Elliston provided some results of forage analysis made during the development of the grass. Samples of the young grass tested as high as 13.15 percent digestible protein. Samples taken in November from grass that had not been cut or grazed during the entire growing season ran 5.6 percent digestible protein.

Anyone desiring assistance on this or other conservation practices should contact the Soil Conservation Service located in Knox City.

NEWS OF BOOKS

The perfect family—loving parents, bright children, a house filled with contentment (no one ever argues at the dinner table!). It's a picture of something special... or is it?

That's the beginning of "Early Disorder," by Rebec Josephs, just published in paperback by Fawcett Books. It's the story of 15-year-old Willa Rahv, the middle child in this "perfect" family.

The unhappy story of an "ideal" child.

A student at a private school in Manhattan, Willa is tortured by fears she's unable to communicate, feelings of self-doubt and inadequacy, longing for love and attention from her ever-busy, seemingly ideal, mother.

Finally, she cries out in the only way she knows how. She stops eating, and goes on a "diet" that crashes her weight to below 70 pounds. In her own words, Willa sentences herself to the "voluntary confinement" of anorexia nervosa, the mental disorder that brings death by self-starvation to some 15 percent of its sufferers.

The book allows the reader to enter Willa's thoughts, to understand why she is forced to the deadly conclusion that calories are the only thing in her life that she can control, and to see the way her illness tears her family apart.

It's a story that will touch the hearts of teenagers and parents alike—the quest for perfection never found, a cry for attention that goes unheard. Willa's story will be remembered by all who read it.

You can get a free catalogue offering "Early Disorder" and other Fawcett books by writing to the Columbia Bookservice, 32275 Mally Road, P.O. Box 8469, Madison Heights, MI 48071.
