Ask Us

Q — What is the meaning of "glasnost?"

A — While it is not a direct translation from Russian, it is generally considered to mean a "new openness."

In Brief

Mattox says

AUSTIN (AP) — Attorney General Jim Mattox criticized Texas Republican Party officials today for their decision to allow all six major presidential candidates to win delegates in Texas despite allegedly forged signatures on four candidates' petitions.

"We're not dealing with some JP (justice of the peace) race, we're dealing with the race where they're truly going to select delegates to pick the potential president of the United States," Mattox said. "So I don't think that you can just fly by the seat of your pants in this matter."

Mattox also noted that a lesser-known Republican presidential hopeful, Benjamin Fernandez, now says his name should be on the Texas primary ballot even though he didn't turn in a 5,000-name petition.

"I think that the Republican Party has created a real mess for themselves because of what has taken place," said Mattox, a second-term Democrat.

Launch failure

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A Trident 2 missile exploded today in the first test-flight failure in nine launches for the Navy's new submarine weapon.

The 44-foot, three-stage weapon thundered off a launch pad at 5:08 a.m. and appeared to observers to be flying well. But nearly an hour later, the Navy reported that a malfunction had occurred 2 minutes 43 seconds after liftoff, near the end of powered flight and well down the Atlantic tracking range.

When the malfunction was detected, the range safety officer sent a radio signal to destroy the Trident 2, but the missile may have destroyed itself before the signal got there, a statement said.

Prices change

NEW YORK (AP) — Oil prices are eroding as traders remain puzzled over which way the market is headed over the near term.

February contracts for West Texas Intermediate, the main U.S. crude, closed down 10 cents from Tuesday's close at $17.25 per 42-gallon barrel at the New York Mercantile Exchange Wednesday.

Prices for refined products also fell. Wholesale unleaded gasoline for February delivery dropped 0.15 cent to 45.69 cents a gallon, while wholesale home heating oil for February delivery finished up 0.24 cent lower at 50.95 cents.

Illegal contributions alleged...

Hart won't comment

By The Associated Press

Gary Hart declined comment today on new allegations of possibly illegal campaign contributions, while his Democratic rivals sharpened their rhetoric on the budget and taxes at their second debate in a week.

Hart, in New Hampshire, spent most of Wednesday answering questions about a newspaper report that his campaign had accepted aid that skirted federal limits on contributions. Asked to day about further details provided by former staffers, he had no comment, though aides said he might address the issue after checking into the specifics.

On the Republican side, Bob Dole said Wednesday that George Bush "has to win in Iowa to be credible." Most polls put the Kansas senator well ahead of the vice president in the state, the site of Feb. 8 precinct caucuses that are considered a key early test for the candidates.

As the Democrats squared off Wednesday night in Des Moines, Rep. Richard Gephardt came under fire for voting in favor of the 1981 tax cut, a key part of President Reagan's economic program.

"Look at the record, not just speeches and commercials," said Sen. Paul Simon of Illinois. Although he did not mention Gephardt by name, Simon has been maintaining that the Missouri congressman's voting record doesn't match up with his ads and his stump speeches.

Simon was in turn attacked by former Arizona Gov. Bruce Babbitt, who said Simon's proposals would amount to "widening the deficit with a gigantic public works program."

Hart, along with Tennessee Sen. Albert Gore, skipped the Iowa debate.

Some political observers suggested that the campaign finance questions, coming less than three weeks before the Iowa caucuses, could cripple the Hart campaign in the state.

"He might get buried by this," said Iowa Democratic Party spokesman Phil Roeder.

The former Colorado senator, campaigning in New Hampshire, faced a barrage of questions Wednesday about reports that Hollywood video producer Stuart Karl helped bankroll his campaign and paid a salary of $3,000 a month to Hart advance man Dennis Walto.

Some former Hart campaign staffers, speaking on condition of anonymity, told The Associated Press that Hart's 1984 and 1988 campaigns had a history of accepting services and goods from people who did not expect to be paid for them, without reporting them as contributions.

Federal election law limits individual contributions to $1,000 and forbids corporations from making any contributions. The rules also prohibit an employer from assigning an employee to work on a candidate's behalf for more than an hour a week unless the work is reported as a "contribution in kind" subject to the same $1,000 limit.

"I will hold myself responsible for whatever happened and not shift the blame to anyone else," Hart said in Keene, N.H., adding that he was not familiar with the exact nature of Karl's financial involvement with the campaign.

25-year sentence ends kidnap trial

A 25-year jail term—a sentence "enhanced" due to previous felony convictions—was handed down by a 132nd District Court jury Wednesday afternoon in the aggravated kidnaping trial of Larry Dan Beard.

The nine-man, three-woman jury took only some 30 minutes to decide the punishment phase. After summations from both District Attorney Ernie Armstrong and defense counsel Frank Conard of Sweetwater, jurors began deliberations at 2:06 p.m. and returned a verdict at 2:35 p.m.

For Beard, 32, the 25-year term was the least possible. He could have been assessed up to 99 years in prison due to two felony convictions attached to his indictment last November.

A Scurry County grand jury had indicted him and two other defendants for the Oct. 27 abduction of a 24-year-old man.

That incident arose from what was described as a "ripoff dope deal" in which the three claimed relatives of their victim had "burned" them for $60 offered for the purchase of cocaine.

The man was later released unharmed after two acquaintances paid the three some $54.

The jury had initially found Beard guilty of aggravated kidnaping around 10:30 p.m. Tuesday after hearing 1½ days of testimony. The testimony portion of the trial began around 3 p.m. Monday.

Grass fire burns 2,500-acre stretch

A grass fire of as yet unknown origins burned an estimated 2,500 acres of pastureland Wednesday afternoon and night about 18 miles north of Snyder on the west side of U.S. 84.

Fire Chief Terry Don McDowell said 17 men in three trucks from his department battled the fire from 3:14 p.m. to 7:30 p.m., along with five Fluvanna firemen, a roadgrader operator from Pet. 2, a roadgrader operator and two Caterpillar operators from Grimmett Brothers and a half-dozen Santa Fe Railway employees. The fire burned most of four sections of land covered mostly with mesquite trees and "knee-high" broomweed, much of it on property owned by Foch Browning and Buddy Drum.

Several large stacks of cut mesquite trees caught fire and burned through the night after the Caterpillars and roadgraders had cleared trees and foliage ahead of the fire to stop its advance.

McDowell said the burned area is close to a mile wide at its widest base.

Heavyweight wins county pig exhibit

Brent Withers' heavyweight crossbreed hog from Ira was named grand champion over about 200 other animals in the first night of the Scurry County Junior Livestock Show Wednesday night.

Lambs will be shown at 6 p.m. Thursday and steers at 7 p.m. Friday in the ag annex of the Scurry County Coliseum.

The hog show started at 5 p.m. Wednesday and was concluded about 11 p.m. when Taylor County Agent Carl Wilson of Abilene chose Withers' animal from among the four breed champions.

Brendon Blair of Hermleigh had the reserve champion, a heavyweight in the other pure breeds category, and Chuck Barbee of Ira was awarded the showmanship trophy.

J.N. and Wanda Eicke donated the grand championship trophy and the Snyder Kiwanis Club the reserve championship trophy.

It was announced that Wilson Howell would be awarded the Breeder's Trophy at the premium sale at 1 p.m. Saturday.

Other hog show results were as follows:

HHS 'quiz team' wins at state

A Hermleigh High School scholastic club has won statewide honors in a "quiz bowl" competition held last weekend at the state convention for the organization.

Members of the Hermleigh team were seniors Ben Smith, Lori Tate and Rodney Foster and junior Daniel Ramey. Bobby Brown, a junior, served as alternate.

The four-member team won third place, competing against teams of larger size than the Class A Hermleigh. The top two teams were entered by Cleburne and East Central of San Antonio.

The third place finish qualifies them as the alternate team for national competition. It will be held in Little Rock, Ark.

The quiz bowl contest, patterned after the "College Bowl" television competition of past years, was part of activities at the state convention for high school Beta Clubs held in Austin.

The National Beta Club is an academic honor society. To be eligible for membership, students must have a 90 or above average in every subject.

Other members of the Hermleigh Beta Club are April Blair, Andrea Smith, Crystal Church, Tisha Crumly, Lucy Mireles and Beverly Sandefur.

Accompanying the group at the convention were Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Church and Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Riley.

The feller on Deep Creek says, "Half the things you say you can't do anymore are probably things you never could do."

Jimmy "The Greek" has created a nation-wide stir with racial remarks concerning professional athletes. That incident has probably caused another item related to professional sports to be overlooked.

Just prior to the Washington-Minnesota NFL championship game Sunday, the controversy reached its peak.

Concerned American Indian Parents, a Minneapolis group, contended that the Washington team name, Redskins, is a racist insult to Native Americans. The group demanded a name change.

As part of the crusade, the group distributed posters showing a pennant for the Cleveland Indians and pennants for three hypothetical teams: the Pittsburg Negroes, the Kansas City Jews and the San Diego Caucasians. It read: "Maybe you know how Native Americans feel."

The organization's leader is taking aim at all

Indian-related names but claims that the Redskins is probably the most racist of all.

Washington team officials say the name has been used for 51 years and no slur is intended.

"The Redskins are as much part of the nation's capital as the White House or Smithsonian.

The campaign began several years ago when the group's leader attended a high school basketball game that featured an Indian mascot complete with war paint and headband. He was successful in persuading the high school to change its name from Indians to Lakers.

The group has support from another organization which hired an airplane to fly over the stadium Sunday pulling a banner that read, "Make Washington America's Team. Change the Name."

Don't be surprised if animal lovers mount a campaign against use of such names as Tigers, Lions and Mustangs. And the federal government could get involved. Water district officials are having to spend a half million to make sure they don't endanger the Concho water snake.

Pelican caused B-1 accident

WASHINGTON (AP) — A B-1B bomber that crashed in Colorado last September probably struck a lone pelican that smashed through a wing like a "bowling ball," setting off a fire that quickly doomed the plane, the Air Force said.

Two of the victims were not in ejection seats and did not have time to bail out manually. The third crewman, the co-pilot, died because his ejection seat malfunctioned, the accident investigation report released Wednesday said.

The bomber, which was based at Dyess Air Force Base in Abilene, probably could have survived if the pelican had struck an engine or been pulled into one. But Gen. James W. Meier, Strategic Air Command assistant director of operations, said at a Pentagon briefing that the bird apparently struck with great force in a critical area, setting off the fire.

The pelican struck the underside of the wing just above the engine housings on the right side of the plane, which was flying about 600 feet above the ground. The plane was moving at such a high speed — 640 miles per hour — that the bird's body tore through the aluminum skin into the wing, ripping apart critical hydraulic and fuel lines.

"What we believe happened in this was an extremely unlucky penetration of an area that produced a fire that subsequently burned through a sufficient number of hydraulic lines" that the plane became unflyable, Meier said.

"The mass of that bird is like a bowling ball operating at the speed of sound. It's a large, large projectile."

The 3-inch-thick accident report presents a detailed chronology and probable cause based on interviews with three surviving crew members, examination of the crash debris, experiments with B-1B simulators and reports from witnesses on the ground.

It does not offer a precise explanation as to why the co-pilot's ejection seat failed to operate. Rather, it suggests there was a malfunction involving some switching devices within the automatic ejection system that left the co-pilot's seat in the plane after his hatch had been blown clear.

Meier suggested the system could have been damaged accidentally during maintenance. Some modifications are being made now to the ejection systems on all the B-1Bs, Meier said.

The Air Force said Wednesday it would spend $62.5 million this year strengthening certain sections of the plane to better withstand bird strikes, including the wing section above the engines. The service said it would spend another $1.6 million on the modifications to the ejection system.

Meier said B-1Bs would not resume low-level, high-speed training flights until each aircraft had been modified.

PUC will review Dial-a-Porn service

AUSTIN (AP) — State utility regulators want Southwestern Bell to show why Dial 976 services, including "dial-a-porn" calls, shouldn't be disconnected in Texas.

"I think that we have to take a look at whether all of the kinds of problems that are surrounding 976 as it is being offered now truly makes this service in the public interest," Public Utility Commissioner Jo Campbell said

Wednesday. The 976 problems include complaints from the Texas PTA, which told the commission Wednesday that dial-a-porn is too accessible for young people.

"We feel very strongly that such material should neither be readily available to everyone, and especially children, nor should telephone subscribers have to pay to keep the access to this unwanted pornography out of their homes," said Kathryn Whitfill of Houston, Texas PTA president.

The 976 lines are leased by Southwestern Bell to companies that provide a variety of recorded information. The price of the calls is set by the companies that provide them. Southwestern Bell does the billing and sends the company its share.

"You cannot always control, as an example, at a business, who happens to walk in the door of their business or which employee happens to pick up the phone. You're asking them to be jailers with their own employees," said Commissioner Marta Greytak.

Ms. Greytak and Ms. Campbell said they would prefer a system in which 976 service would be available only to customers who pay a fee to have access to it, instead of the current system of having to pay for blocking. They also said they have concerns about all 976 services, not only dial-a-porn.

Dear Abby

Noses of Allergy Sufferers Know What Eyes Don't See

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: You had a letter from a man who hadn't visited his mother for four years. She lived 1,000 miles away, but that wasn't the reason. His wife and daughter were highly allergic to cats and his mother had a cat.

You offered the "purrfect" solution: "Have someone keep your mother's cat once a year while you and your family visit." Your solution was shortsighted. Many persons who are highly allergic to the animal will also be allergic to the dander and hair that the animal has left all over the house. My family learned this the hard way, after we'd bought a house that had been vacant for over a decade. The previous owner had kept numerous animals, and the hair they'd left made our breathing so difficult that we had to have an industrial cleaning crew come in to vacuum and clean before we would move in. I'm glad that man is considerate enough to ask for advice in this matter. Too often persons who do not have allergies are unwilling to acknowledge the sensitivity of those who do.

MARGO HABLUTZEL, CHICAGO

DEAR MARGO: The fur has been flying in my office all week. Most wrote from their firsthand experiences. I knew there were millions of cat lovers in the USA and Canada, but I learned from my readers that the number of people who are allergic to cats is nothing to sneeze at.

DEAR ABBY: The following true story could save someone's life. While my sister-in-law and I were on the golf course last week, I was sipping a soft drink straight from the can. After taking a big swallow, I felt a very angry bee in my mouth! (I had not noticed any bees around.) Before I could spit out the bee, it had stung me on the tongue! My sister-in-law carefully removed the stinger and poison sac from my tongue, then we raced the cart to the clubhouse where I filled my mouth with ice and held some alongside my neck. (Both were numb.)

I thought of the thousands of picnics and other occasions when someone pops open a can of beverage, takes a swallow and thinks nothing of it. To most people a bee sting isn't very serious, but a person who is highly allergic could die from it.

From now on, I will always carry a plastic cup or a tape to cover the opening in a beverage can if I don't plan to drink it all at once. Thank you for warning people, Abby.

WENDY IN VICTORIA, TEXAS

DEAR WENDY: Thanks to you for caring enough to warn others.

DEAR ABBY: Help! I live in what is considered an affluent condominium complex.

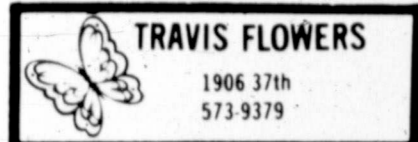

A new neighbor moved in who cooks fish four or five times a week and the odor wafts into our apartment. Because we meet socially now and then, and everyone is congenial, I don't want hard feelings or resentment to occur.

Is there a way to resolve this without confrontation?

IRRITATED IN TAMPA

DEAR IRRITATED: Unless you communicate your displeasure (annoyance, irritation) to your neighbor, nothing will change. There are ways to minimize, mask or eliminate disagreeable cooking odors, but ideally it should begin at the source. Either speak to your neighbor, or write her a pleasant note — with a carbon copy to the president of the homeowners' association.

To get Abby's booklet, "How to Be Popular: You're Never Too Young or Too Old," send a check or money order for $2.99 ($3.99 in Canada) and a long, stamped (39-cent), self-addressed envelope to: Dear Abby, Popularity, P.O. Box 447, Mount Morris, Ill. 61054 (postage and handling are included).

Ex-supervisor questions plant safety

AUSTIN (AP) — The Nuclear Regulatory Commission, notified by a former South Texas Nuclear Project worker about possible safety problems, has investigated and found no violations, an NRC spokesman says.

Lonnal Wilhelm, who worked at the STNP construction site near Bay City from 1978 until 1984, said Wednesday that safety re-checks were made on equipment that later proved to be inaccurate.

From February 1982 until August 1984 Wilhelm was supervisor of the Measuring and Testing Equipment Calibration Laboratory, which tests instruments used to check safety-related items.

Under federal rules, the calibration lab must send notices to departments which used an instrument that wasn't within required tolerances. That department then determines whether retesting is needed.

Many of the notices concerning instrument problems were answered with "false or misleading statements," Wilhelm said.

"This calls into question the integrity of many of the safety-related tests performed on the plant," said Wilhelm, who is now unemployed and would only say he lives in South Texas.

But a spokesman for Houston Lighting & Power Co., managing partner of the project, said Wilhelm's concerns were addressed and no safety problems were found.

Tejas Cattle Women meet in Snyder for club session

Tejas CattleWomen met Jan. 14 at the Golden Corral for its first meeting of 1988 with 10 members present. Women came from Borden, Howard, Mitchell, Nolan and Scurry Counties to promote beef production and beef products.

Sharon Applin with Gentle Dove ministries spoke of her desire to serve area women in prison. Applin stressed their many needs including clothing, non-perishable food, household items, funds, literature and prayer.

Following her presentation, members voted to donate beef gift certificates to the women's ministry.

Lucille Sterling, past president, Texas CattleWoman of 1987 and a member of the Beef Industry Council, gave the featured program. She pointed out that the Beef Promotion and Research Act of 1985 was approved by the United States Department of Agriculture and Congress to provide for the establishment of a coordinated program of promotion and research designed to strengthen the beef industry's position in the marketplace, to maintain and expand foreign and domestic markets and uses for beef and beef products.

The Beef Industry Council is composed of 113 members with 108 of these representing producers and five representing importers. They volunteer their services to represent the interests of beef, dairy, veal and farm organizations.

The "Dollar Checkoff Program" was begun in October of 1985 as the council's response for a unified nationwide promotion program which includes the following conditions: everyone pays the same rate, importers pay, a limit is placed on administrative costs and both state and national producer-controlled beef promotion organizations decide where promotion and research efforts are directed.

Beef producers and importers will vote in May to decide if the program will continue.

President Yvonne Nunn presided at the meeting and Jean Everett offered the invocation. Treasurer Dovie Brownfield gave the financial report and Lisa Buchanan, secretary, read pertinent minutes concerning club activities.

Guests were Barbara Hamlett and Shirley Drum.

The next meeting will be held Feb. 11 at 10 a.m. in Furr's Cafeteria of Big Spring. Ladies interested in the promotion of beef are invited to attend.

Guidelines for a squeeze

By James Jacoby

The most recent book by Alan Truscott, New York Times bridge editor, is "Basic Bridge in Three Weeks" (Putnam Publishing Group). The interesting concept of this work is that the learning process takes place over 21 days, with the beginning player presumably absorbing the material in easy stages. Today's deal is taken from Day 19, which describes a squeeze play in a six-heart contract.

In the bidding, North responds one spade and then makes a non-forcing invitational jump in hearts on the next round. South then asks for aces and bids the slam. After the king of diamonds lead, declarer would have easy going if West tried to cash a second diamond trick. However, West switches to a trump. The right procedure is for declarer to take all his trumps and then all his club tricks. At the end, he will have K-9-3 of spades, and dummy will have A-8 of spades and the queen of diamonds. West must reduce to three cards and since he must keep the diamond ace as a guard against dummy's queen, he will come down to only two spades. When declarer plays a spade to dummy's ace and a spade back to his king, the lowly nine becomes a winner.

The guidelines to remember in developing a squeeze are (1) lose quickly any tricks that must be lost, (2) look for situations that may be problems for the defense — in this case the diamond queen and length in spades, (3) lead out sure winners, while preserving communications.

James Jacoby's books "Jacoby on Bridge" and "Jacoby on Card Games" (written with his father, the late Oswald Jacoby) are now available at bookstores. Both are published by Pharos Books.

ART GUILD MEETS — Study club members met Tuesday at Martha Ann Woman's Club to see slides of Spain and hear exchange student Ramon Yanez (center) describe his culture and home. Hostesses for the session were Margaret Dell Pilcher (left) and Ethel Mae Sturdivant (right). From Vigo, Spain, Yanez is living with Merle and Betsy Griffin and their son, John. He commented on his family, summer and winter homes, and answered questions from club members. President Katherine Williamson presided at the meeting. (Club Photo)

Writers and poets meet for readings

Scurry County Penwomen met in the home of Dorothy Cox for its January meeting. Christine Killgo offered the invocation.

Members paid club dues to September and Dorothy Cox passed out program books. Mary Westmoreland was welcomed as a new member to the society.

During the business session, President Garnet Quiett appointed committees as follows: nominating committee, Chairman Killgo, Janelle Burk and Westmoreland; program committee, Chairman Cox and Sherry Bryant; yearbook committee, Cox as chairman and Sherry Bryant.

Burk and Cox were congratulated on winning November and December monthly contests of the Poetry Society of Texas. Burk won the November popular prize with "How Long" and third place in the December critic judges award with "Walk in the Park" with an award of $5.

Cox won the "Galaxy of Verse" contest with "A Treasure." Her prize was an issue of "Galaxy of Verse." She also won an award merit certificate for honorable mention from "World of Poetry" for "A Walk in Winter."

Cox also had an article, "Wagon Tracks Across Texas," published in the February issue of "Good Old Days."

Burk served as a judge during the January contests of Poetry

Society of Texas.

Bryant presented the featured program on writing for children and teenagers. She said you must know and love children to write for them.

She commented that picture books for 2- to 5-year-olds should have lots of pictures and very little text and that story books for 6- to 9-year-old children should also limit text material. Stories of adventure, mystery, history and family are liked by 9- to 12-year-olds while teenagers like to be entertained. Use boy and girl characters in teenage stories doing things teenagers can relate to. Choose words that impress them while teaching valuable principles.

During the reading session, Burk read her article, "Not a Bad Place," and her poem, "Walk in the Park." Killgo read "A New Year Prayer," a poem; Bryant read her article, "Special Delivery for Mother," and a poem, "Keepsakes of My Soul." Westmoreland read her article, "I've Created a One-Pound Monster;" Cox read an essay, "Winter Reflections." Quiett read her article, "A Dream Come True," and her poem, "When I Am Gone."

Refreshments were served. The Feb. 15 meeting will be held in the home of Janelle Burk. Writers and visitors are welcome to attend.

Toasting almonds brings out their flavor and helps them stay crunchy in the salad. Place the almonds in a 9-inch pie plate. Bake in a 350-degree oven for 10 to 12 minutes, stirring once during baking.

EASY APRICOT SALAD

One 8 3/4-ounce can apricot halves, drained

1 small apple, cored

Lemon juice

One 8-ounce can pineapple chunks, drained

1/2 cup thinly sliced celery

1/4 cup slivered almonds, toasted

1/2 cup dairy sour cream

1 tablespoon apricot preserves or orange marmalade

1 teaspoon lemon juice

1/4 teaspoon ground nutmeg

2 cups torn lettuce or salad greens

Cut apricots into bite-size pieces. Coarsely chop apple. In a bowl combine apricots and apple. Sprinkle with lemon juice; toss to coat. Stir in pineapple, celery and almonds.

For dressing, in a small bowl stir together sour cream, preserves, 1 teaspoon lemon juice and nutmeg. Before serving, pour dressing over fruit mixture. Add lettuce; toss to coat. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Kids will love these shapely salads for a birthday dinner or just for fun. If you don't want to cut shapes, chill the gelatin in a 9-by-5-by-3-inch pan and cut into rectangles to serve.

APPLE-STRAWBERRY SHAKY SHAPES

1 1/4 cups apple juice or cider

One 4-ounce serving size package strawberry flavored gelatin

1 tablespoon lemon juice

1 cup applesauce

In a saucepan heat 3/4 cup of the apple juice to boiling; remove from heat. Add gelatin; stir until dissolved. Stir in remaining apple juice and lemon juice. Chill until partially set.

Stir in applesauce. Line a 9-by-9-by-2-inch pan or dish with clear plastic wrap. Leave enough wrap to hang over edge of the pan. Pour gelatin mixture into pan. Chill at least 6 hours or until firm. Carefully lift plastic wrap and gelatin from pan to a hard, flat surface. Use cookie cutters to cut gelatin into shapes, placing cutters close together. Cut through to bottom of gelatin. Remove shapes to lettuce-lined salad plates with spatula. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

LAFF-A-DAY

DENNIS THE MENACE

Scurry County Coliseum, 8 p.m.

WTC hosts Broncos tonight

Coach Tony Mauldin's Westerners were outrebounded 46 to 18 in a 99-85 loss to Midland earlier this week and he doesn't want to see that happen again tonight when the Broncos of New Mexico Military Institute invade Scurry County Coliseum.

"I thought what really hurt us in that game (with Midland) was the boards. They really hurt us on the boards. We just gave them too many shots," said Mauldin. "What worries me about New Mexico Military is their big man, Francis Ezenwa. He's a strong defensive player for them, a good shot blocker."

Ezenwa, a 6-9 freshman from Lagos, Nigeria, leads the conference in blocks with 64, while averaging 7.9 rebounds and 11.5 points a game.

A top floor leader for the Broncos is Karl Dopwell, a 6-3 freshman from Washington, D.C. Dopwell leads the team in scoring with a 15.7 per-game average, and is among the conference's top leaders in steals and assists.

New Mexico comes into the contest with a season record of 9-12 and is 1-5 in conference play after a 71-61 loss to highly-touted New Mexico Junior College on Monday. Western is 4-16 overall, and at 1-4, is looking for its second Western Junior College Athletic Conference victory.

"We have to play our game and not get into a half-court game with us because they are bigger than us," said Mauldin. "I think it should be a very good ballgame."

Western Texas' Dusters also play tonight, taking on Fort Hood in a non-conference contest at Killeen. The Dusters are 15-5 for the season.

In an important WJCAC men's game tonight, Midland (15-4, 4-2) plays South Plains (13-5, 3-2) at Levelland. Other games have Clarendon (7-10, 1-5) at Hobbs, N.M. to play New Mexico JC (17-3, 5-0) and Howard College (8-13, 3-4) at Borger to play Frank Phillips (9-7, 1-3).

In women's action, Howard (4-17, 2-3) visits Frank Phillips (5-9, 0-3) and Clarendon (12-6, 2-2) is at New Mexico JC (8-11, 0-3).

Western Texas is being led by 6-5 sophomore Darrell Nelson, who averages 30.1 points and 8.9 rebounds an outing. Bobby Spear is averaging 12.3 points and 7.9 boards.

Lewis leads Horned Frogs past Tech's Raiders, 55-52

by The Associated Press Moe Iba got his first victory as a Southwest Conference basketball coach, but was more pleased for what it meant to his team than for himself.

John Lewis scored 22 points to lead Texas Christian past Texas Tech Wednesday for Iba's first SWC victory.

In other games, Texas A&M remained unbeaten with a 75-70 victory over Rice and Arkansas defeated Baylor 70-62.

"That (his first SWC win) isn't as important as what it might do for our basketball team," Iba said. "It's a good thing to have happen. Maybe it will show our team what it takes to be competitive."

"I just felt like their defense played a lot better than ours did," Tech coach Gerald Myers said. "Their play on our guards was terrific, and we couldn't do anything offensively that we wanted to do."

Lewis, a native of Lubbock and a transfer from Western Texas College in Snyder, said things just went his way, and that he really wasn't looking to score 22 points.

"I didn't feel any pressure to score," he said. "Coach (Iba) doesn't want you to shoot if you don't have your shot, but if you've got it and you're hot, he wants you to take it. I knew I had to control Sean (Gay) cause he's one of the leading three-point shooters in the conference and he can hurt you."

TCU improved to 7-9 for the season and 1-3 in league play. Tech dropped to 7-8 overall and 2-2 in conference action.

Gay, with 15 points, was the Raiders' only player in double figures.

Freshman Freddie Ricks scored 20 points and three other Aggies hit in double figures as Texas A&M defeated Rice, 75-70, to stay atop the conference standings.

Donald Thompson scored 14 points, while Keron Graves and Darryl McDonald had 11 each for the Aggies, now 4-0 in league play and 12-6 overall.

Andy Gilchrist scored a game-high 29 points for Rice while D'wayne Tanner added 13 and Ronald Robertson had 10 for the Owls, now 2-3 in conference and 5-10 overall.

"There was a five-minute stretch in the second half that was the difference in the whole ballgame," said Rice coach Scott Thompson. "They scored on us about eight straight times."

Texas A&M coach, Shelby Metcalf agreed.

"The big difference between the first half and the second half was our defense. It played much better in the second half," Metcalf said. "In the first half we were moving around going about three-quarter speed and we took some bad shots."

Arkansas Coach Nolan Richardson had high praise for Andrew Lang, who scored 20 points, grabbed nine rebounds and blocked four shots to lead the Razorbacks to a 70-62 victory over Baylor.

"This was one of Lang's best games," Richardson said. "He got after it on the offensive end and we got the ball to him. When Lang hits his first two shots and gets a chance to play, he can be tough."

"Every time we play Baylor we have a tough time pulling away. We had a 17-point lead then threw the ball away a couple of times and they had some people who haven't been doing much all year come in and hit some 3-pointers."

Lang, a 6-11 senior, took advantage of a frequent double-team on forward Mario Credit, who was held to 10 points after a 27-point game in a losing effort to Texas A&M last week.

Tim Scott had 11 points for Arkansas, now 13-3 for the season and 4-1 in conference.

The Bears, 10-7 overall and 1-3 in conference, were led by Darryl Middleton with 21 points. Michael Williams added 14.

Pro-basketball roundup...

Warriors finally win on road

By The Associated Press It was the biggest on-court celebration the Golden State Warriors have had all season.

Hugs, high-fives and smiles all around followed a short jumper at the buzzer by Steve Harris that gave the Warriors a 103-101 NBA victory over the New Jersey Nets on Wednesday night at East Rutherford, N.J.

Not only was it only their seventh victory in 34 games this season, it was the Warriors' first of the year on the road after 17 straight losses. "We got the monkey off our back, but Terry Teagle said it was a gorilla," Warriors Coach George Karl quipped.

With the score tied 101-101, Golden State's Ralph Sampson forced Dwayne Washington to alter his driving layup attempt with less than 10 seconds to play. Sampson rebounded the miss and got it to Harris, who missed one shot, got it back and made the second try.

"Ralph made a super defensive play and made a quick outlet pass down the side," Harris said. "I took a jumper, but (Orlando) Woolridge got the ball. I didn't know how much time was left, so I just tried to get it and shoot it again. It definitely beat the buzzer."

Referee Jess Thompson agreed with Harris. New Jersey Coach Bob MacKinnon and his players saw it differently.

"I thought the buzzer went off before the shot," MacKinnon said. "On our video (replay), it proves it was six-tenths of a second late."

But the Nets' protests fell on deaf ears and they are now the only NBA team still winless on the road (0-14) this season.

Elsewhere, Boston beat Philadelphia 131-115, Washington topped Philadelphia 110-98, Detroit nipped Utah 120-117, the Los Angeles Clippers upended Indiana 104-97 and Seattle rolled past New York 108-96.

Celtics 131, Suns 115

Larry Bird scored 23 points, Danny Ainge added 21 and Boston opened the third quarter with a 14-2 spurt that helped the Celtics to their fourth straight home victory by at least 16 points.

Bird gave the Celtics the lead for good with 4:51 left in the first

Tigers play Ft. Stockton

Coach Ken Housden's Lady Tigers return to Snyder High School Gym on Friday for an important District 2-4A confrontation. The Lady Tigers, who fell to the Panthers in their first meeting of the season, try again at 7:30 p.m. A junior varsity tilt is set for 6 p.m.

On the road, Snyder's boys will play the Panthers in Fort Stockton at 7:30 p.m. That game will also be preceded by a junior varsity contest at 6 p.m.

Snyder's girls are 14-7 for the season, and at 7-3 in league action, are in second place in the standings. Fort Stockton is 12-8 overall and 5-4 in district play.

Snyder's boys are also in second place in their division with a 7-1 record. Coach Larry Scott's Tigers are 16-6 for the season. Fort Stockton is 13-8 overall and 4-4 in district competition.

Hall of Fame inductees

LARCHMONT, N.Y. (AP) - John McKay, who coached Southern California to three national championships, and Doyt Perry, who compiled the third-best winning percentage while at Bowling Green, are among four persons elected to the National Football Foundation's College Football Hall of Fame.

The others announced today are the late Jack Mollenkoof, who coached at Purdue from 1955-69, and the late Marty Below, an All-American tackle at Wisconsin from 1921-23.

McKay and Perry will be formally inducted into the Hall of Fame at the national Football Foundation's annual awards banquet Dec. 6 along with 11 players who will be announced this weekend.

Mollenkoof, who died in 1975, and Below, who died in 1984, will be inducted in special ceremonies at their respective schools this fall. All four will be enshrined in the Hall of Fame at Kings Island, Ohio.

Anglers welcome plastic tree reefs

LAKE CONROE, Texas (AP) - Recreational and tournament fishermen cheered the announcement earlier this month that plastic tree reefs soon will be placed on Lake Conroe.

Because of a lack of natural cover on the lake, fish have become harder to catch in recent years, said Bill Phillips, director of aquatic resources for the Plastics Research and Development Corp.

Phillips is counting on the plastic tree reefs to make it easier to catch fish.

"The whole nation has been looking at Lake Conroe as a fishing center, and when all the hydrilla was taken out, the lake received adverse publicity," Phillips told about 100 fishermen who gathered for a seminar at the lake.

"We want to turn that around," Phillips said. "The lake needs more fish habitat, and with these reefs, which are composed of seven trees each, the number of fish should increase, along with improving the fish and the fishing."

Phillips' company, based in Fort Smith, Ark., owns many lure companies and hopes the improved fishing will benefit both parties.

"We're in the lure business, so this is sort of our good neighbor policy," Phillips said. "We won't be in the business long if the fishing continues to go down. We foresee strong economic benefits for the fishing business and the fishermen and are looking for thousands to come back here to fish."

The plastic tree reefs will be secured by PVC pipe anchors and are environmentally sound, Phillips said.

"I was in Washington the week after Thanksgiving and received the blessing of the Environmental Protection Agency, the National Fishing Wildlife Service, the Sport Fishing Institution, and the National Wildlife Federation," Phillips said.

"(The plastic trees) won't grow and will have a positive impact on the environment," he added.

The hydrilla was so heavy on Lake Conroe at one point that attempts to control it were made, but most of the hydrilla was destroyed in the process.

"Because of the lack of structure on the lake, there were problems fishing because the fish were moving all around and not concentrating in any one area," Phillips said.

"With the reefs, you can catch some fish almost immediately. In some of our tests, we caught fish 15 minutes after putting them in."

"Using depth finders and the maps that we will furnish, recreational fishermen should be able to catch fish immediately."

Davis may hire black successor...

Raider coach retires

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles Raiders may soon have the first black head coach in the modern-day National Football League. And maybe they won't.

"I would say that with all our great records, one characteristic of the Raiders in that race, color, creed - and even sex - has never interfered," club owner Al Davis said Wednesday during a packed news conference called to announce the retirement of Coach Tom Flores. "I'm going to choose the best person who can lead the Raiders."

Flores, 50, retired after nine years as the Raiders' head coach, saying that although he wasn't burned out, he was tired and the timing was right for him to go in another direction.

The recently completed season no doubt took its toll. The Raiders had a 5-10 record, their worst in 25 years.

Even before Flores' decision was officially announced, speculation centered on his replacement and the possibility that the new coach might be black.

Among those considered possible successors are San Francisco assistant Dennis Green, Raiders assistants Charlie Sumner, Art Shell and Willie Brown, and Pittsburgh assistant Tony Dungy. Only Sumner is white.

"I would hope that the Raiders would have a new head coach by the league meeting in March," Davis said. "I haven't thought about it and I won't discuss it. The last time, it took about a month. It's a very big, a very tough decision."

"I would not hire a college coach who has no pro experience. Yes, I would (hire somebody outside the Raider organization). I have a strong loyalty, but I also realize that we want to win."

The Raiders had an 83-53 regular-season record and won three AFC West championships in Flores' nine years as the coach. The team was 8-3 in postseason play under Flores.

But the Raiders, who managed the only two Super Bowl wins by AFC teams in the 1980s, have lost 14 of their last 19 games. They were 8-4 in 1986 before losing their last four games to fall out of playoff contention.

"I've won. I think it's time to smell the roses. It's time for me to step aside," Flores said. "I have no regrets. I've experienced just about everything you can."

$26 Million Man

by The Associated Press ABC had "The Six Million Dollar Man." Now HBO has the $26 Million Man.

That's the price tag on Home Box Office's new seven-bout contract with Mike Tyson, who defends his heavyweight title Friday night in Atlantic City against former champion Larry Holmes. The live telecast begins at 10 p.m. EST.

Boxing has always meant big business for HBO, which started out primarily as a movie and entertainment channel before branching into sports. HBO's five highest-rated original shows have all been fights, and four of them involved Tyson.

Well-known pianist may accompany Philharmonic

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — Pianist Van Cliburn may return to the Soviet Union with the New York Philharmonic later this year, the Fort Worth Star-Telegram reported today.

Quoting informed sources, the newspaper reported that negotiations are under way for the famed pianist to join the orchestra when it tours the Soviet Union this summer.

Marcia Young, an associate in the public relations office of the New York Philharmonic, said a Soviet tour by the orchestra would be announced in late February, but refused to say whether Cliburn has been engaged to join the tour.

Cliburn, 53, could not be reached for comment Wednesday, the newspaper reported.

The Soviet Union was the scene of one of Cliburn's greatest triumphs when in 1958 at the age of 23 he won the Tchaikovsky international music competition in Moscow.

VA is seeking to meet needs

The Veterans Administration is working to address the needs and concerns of women veterans following a series of recommendations from an agency advisory committee, E. H. (Dan) Dever, Jr., Scurry County Veterans Service Officer, said.

A recent report from the advisory committee covered such areas as health care, the homeless issue and data collection. The VA will be expanding specialized substance abuse treatment programs for women veterans as the number of female veterans seeking treatment increases. A woman veterans advocate is being proposed to attend meetings of the Department of Labor Advisory Committee on veteran employment and the VA is consulting other federal agencies about forming an interagency study group to encourage women veterans to stay in federal employment.

The VA Advisory Committee on Women Veterans was formed in 1983 to review VA policy procedures and make recommendations to the administrator.

Local veterans who would like information about VA programs may contact Dever's office, located in the Western Texas College Administration Building.

Foods won't cause sweating

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: What foods, in addition to peanuts, make people sweat?

DEAR READER: This is a "when did you stop beating your wife?" question. Peanuts do not cause sweating, nor do I know of any foods that do. Sweating is one of the body's methods to alter temperature by releasing heat through perspiration. It is under the control of the nervous system. Sweating occurs with exertion, fever and stress — not from eating certain foods. Before I get irate letters from chili lovers, let me add that some spicy foods cause dilation of blood vessels. This dilation can produce a feeling of heat and warmth in the skin.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Why do some people get flea bites? What can be put on the bites right away to relieve the pain?

DEAR READER: People get flea bites when fleas, in a pinch, decide to eat out. Fleas usually prefer a four-legged animal source for their blood meals, but if none is handy, they make do with humans. Witch hazel, alcohol, cortisone cream or calamine lotion — in fact, any anti-itch compound — will usually relieve the discomfort of flea bites. However, the most satisfactory answer to the problem is to have your animals and house de-flea.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I have a yearly colonoscopy for colon cancer. As you know, to prepare for this, one must have eight enemas. I can do this at home, which I am inclined to do, given the high cost of an overnight hospital stay. This would mean the colonoscopy would be done on an outpatient basis. Is this a wise thing to do or should I just stay overnight in the hospital?

DEAR READER: The answer depends on your age and general state of health. The preparation for colonoscopy is designed to empty the colon of all fecal matter. For young, healthy people, the laxatives and enemas usually present no more of a problem than inconvenience. The preparation can be given at home.

On the other hand, for older, infirm patients, colonoscopy preparations — even easy-to-use purgatives, such as X-Prep — can pack a wallop. After a couple of days of a liquid diet, followed by laxatives and several enemas, the most stoic senior citizen can become weak in the knees.

I advise you to follow your doctor's advice. Ordinarily, patients for colonoscopy can prep themselves at home. However, in some instances, the procedure is clearly more appropriate to a hospital setting.

I should add that Medicare, in its wisdom, does not "allow" patients to be prepped in a hospital when the routine can be performed on an outpatient basis. The government does not acknowledge the risks of prepping a sick, frail person. Therefore, insurance coverage may be as important as medical considerations to you.

Millions to be laid off in USSR

MOSCOW (AP) — About 16 million Soviets will be laid off in the next 12 years because of campaigns for job efficiency and discipline, the newspaper Pravda said today.

The Communist Party daily said it had received letters from readers who worry that Soviet leader Mikhail S. Gorbachev's drive for "perestroika," or economic and social restructuring, will revive the specter of mass unemployment.

The article was the latest indication of widespread concern over the consequences of the economic changes. The paper said that in factories and offices, layoffs or preparations for them has begun.

Pravda's account also was the first to give a figure for the number of citizens Soviet authorities believe will lose their jobs as a result of the reforms.

Joblessness officially ended in the Soviet Union in the 1930s, and the Soviet constitution guarantees each citizen a job.

However, a new law went into effect on Jan. 1 that forces many factories and agencies to pay their own way and that empowers local managers to trim employment rolls.

"It's like long-forgotten times are repeating themselves," S. Sokolov of Moscow wrote Pravda.

But the newspaper quoted Igor I. Prostyakov, a deputy chairman of the government Bureau for Social Development, as saying that no one who is willing to work would be left jobless.

The government, Communist Party leadership and trade unions issued a resolution this week that mandates the creation of job placement centers, which will provide retraining and occupational counseling for Soviets who are laid off.

"In other words, a nationwide system is being created to consolidate the social guarantees offered to Soviet people in the most vital matter — work," Prostyakov told Pravda.

Prostyakov said according to estimates, "before the year 2000 about 16 million people will be laid off" because of higher-labor productivity and incentives granted for better work.

According to Novosti, the government news agency, more than 120 million Soviets work in industry, agriculture or in office or service jobs.

Defense secretary resigns

MANILA, Philippines (AP) — President Corazon Aquino today announced she accepted the resignation of Defense Secretary Rafael Ilet, who said he quit because his plans to fight the growing communist insurgency were ignored.

The president named Chief of Staff Gen. Fidel V. Ramos as Ilet's successor, and Lt. Gen. Renato de Villa, vice chief of staff and chief of the Philippine Constabulary, to replace Ramos.

Lt. Anselmo Cabangan, a military spokesman, said Brig. Gen. Ramon Montano, Manila area commander, would succeed de Villa as chief of the constabulary, the government's internal security force.

A congressional committee must first approve all appointments.

The moves were expected to lead to a long-awaited reshuffling in the senior ranks of the 160,000-member armed forces. Military mutineers had complained that the presence of Ramos, 59, and other older officers in senior posts stymied chances for promotion.

Ramos was credited with blocking the numerous attempts by military dissidents to topple Mrs. Aquino's government. He also played a key role in the 1986 military revolt that ousted Ferdinand Marcos and brought her to power.

Critics have accused Ramos of indecisiveness, political ambition and of failing to instill a fighting spirit in the armed forces still trying to recover from the corruption and decay left by the Marcos regime.

In her television address, Mrs. Aquino praised Ilet's service and said she accepted his resignation with "much regret."

Ilet was named to the post

Kidnap trial ends yesterday

The jury heard Beard testify that he went along with the abduction in part because he feared his two companions believed he was "part of the burn."

In handing down the lightest sentence offered, the jury apparently took into account Conard's argument that his client had tried to "defuse a situation" which he said he believed he could not walk away from.

District Judge Gene Dulaney presided in the case.

Club prompts weapon charge

A 25-year-old Lubbock man was arrested for unlawfully carrying a weapon and not having a driver's license or liability insurance at 3:23 a.m. Thursday in the 1200 Block of 26th St.

Police said a man who was with the individual was questioned and released, but that the vehicle was towed from the scene after a club was found inside it.

They said a pair of boltcutters was also confiscated from the vehicle.

when Mrs. Aquino fired Juan Ponce Enrile following what the government called a failed coup plot by Enrile's followers.

Ilet's spokesman, Ed Pangilinan, said the defense secretary had submitted several proposals for reorganizing and improving the combat effectiveness of the armed forces but they had been ignored.

A 1943 West Point graduate and expert in counterinsurgency, Ilet had complained that the factional, politicized military was ineffective against the 24,000-member communist New People's Army insurgency, now in its 20th year.

In his letter of resignation, Ilet said he agreed to take the defense post in November 1986, because the country faced "an insurgency which has grown alarmingly strong because of a regime that had not addressed the welfare of its people," an apparent reference to Marcos.

"It has been my distinct impression that the reorganization of the military has not proceeded as I had envisioned," he wrote.
