

Reagan awaits new Democrat plan

Humanitarian assistance to Nicaragua to be unveiled

WASHINGTON (AP) — With the defeat of military aid for Contra rebels in Nicaragua, the White House said today it was anxious to see the package of humanitarian assistance being drafted by congressional Democrats.

"The first step is to see what they have in mind," said presidential spokesman Marlin Fitzwater. "We will be anxious to see what the Democrats propose. ... Show us something to respond to." A day after the House dealt a fatal blow to the administration policy of supplying the rebels with some military aid, the White House salvaged a purely symbolic victory when the Senate voted, 51-48, in favor of the $36.2 million plan. The earlier House vote meant the measure already was dead, and the Senate action Thursday had no practical effect.

With just over three weeks left before all aid to the rebels runs out, Democrats are grappling with the same problem the Reagan administration had faced and failed to solve: how to construct a delicately balanced aid package that can win a majority in a sharply divided Congress.

Fitzwater said "we're certainly very gratified by the Senate vote. We think it sends an important signal to Nicaragua, to the Sandinistas, that the United States government is watching very closely what happens there.

"It also shows the strength of support for aid to the resistance and the idea that pressure needs to be kept on the Sandinistas as they go through the peace process," Fitzwater added. Referring to two congressional critics of Contra aid, Fitzwater said the administration would be watching closely to see if Nicaraguan President Daniel Ortega "does indeed live up to the standards

Mr. (Tony) Coelho (D-Calif.) and Mr. (Christopher) Dodd and others have told us that he will be meeting."

Asked why he mentioned the two members of Congress, Fitzwater said, "I just think it's important that we not forget the advocates who have put so much confidence in Mr. Ortega and the Sandinistas and that we keep that in mind as we judge the peace process."

Senator, 30th District...

Not official, but Mrs. Farabee says she wants position

By BOB CAMPBELL
SDN Staff Writer

Probable state senatorial candidate Helen Farabee said Thursday that she "was as pleased as Ray was" for Snyder to be awarded a Texas Department of Corrections unit.

Announcing that she will seek the office if her husband, longtime Wichita Falls State Sen. Ray Farabee, resigns later this month, Farabee spoke and then

Her husband is expected to accept an offer to become vice chancellor and general counsel for the University of Texas system.

TU Electric manager and former Austin lobbyist Jack Smartt introduced her and expressed appreciation for Sen. Farabee's support in helping Snyder to be selected by the TDC.

"I know the doors to knock on, and I think I would be invited in and listened to," she said, discussing her experience and status in the state capital.

Farabee, 53, said the differences between she and her husband would be more a matter of style than positions on issues, emphasizing that she is as conservative as he is. She said he is

Snyder post office to have half-day cut

Nationwide cuts in the U.S. Postal budget will affect the Snyder post office beginning Feb. 17 as window service at the facility will have a "one day" hourly cutback.

Each Wednesday, window service will close at noon beginning on the 17th, reported interim postmaster D.C. Hendricks.

He stressed that Wednesday will be the only day of the week affected. On that day, window service will operate from 8:30 a.m. until noon. On all other week days, service will continue from 8:30 a.m. until 5 p.m.

At the postal facility, the change is expected to reduce by nine hours weekly the time paid to what is classified as "part-time flexible" employees, Hendricks explained.

This hourly cutback will affect several staffers, but none to a large degree. Hendricks estimated no single employee would see their hourly work cut by more than two hours weekly. No personnel cuts are involved.

On Wednesday afternoons, the duties normally performed by the part-time staff will be taken over by fulltime postal employees who would otherwise be working the front.

On Wednesday afternoons, Hendricks pointed out also that almost all services normally offered at the main post office may still be received at the local postal contract station located at Snyder Drug, 3609 College Ave.

The operating hours of that facility will not be affected. They currently offer such services from 9 a.m. until 7 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

In addition, all other services, to include collection and dispatch of mail and home delivery, are not affected, Hendricks said.

He noted Wednesday afternoon was chosen for the service window cutback since it traditionally

Storm brings snowfall

From Local Wire Reports
Flurries of falling snow were experienced off and on in Snyder Friday morning, glazing city streets, overpasses and bridges.

At daybreak, a dusting of snow had fallen here, preceding the heavier accumulations of mid-morning. More snow was in the Snyder area forecast for Friday and Saturday, but accumulations were expected to be less than 1 inch.

Based upon an early morning prediction for snow, school officials canceled morning bus routes Friday morning, but school bells rung at the normal time at Snyder, Hermleigh and Ira.

Snyder schools also canceled weekend out-of-town school activities including a junior high volleyball tournament and a choir competition.

Friday night here is to be cloudy and continued cold with a 40 percent chance of light snow. Low temperatures are expected in the low to mid teens.

Saturday is expected to be more of the same with snow flurries in the morning. The day's high Saturday is forecast in the mid 30s.

Some areas of West Texas are expected to get an additional 1-3 inches of snowfall by Friday night.

Any West Texas snow accumulations are projected to begin gradually tapering off from the west Friday night and ending most sections by midday Saturday. Decreasing cloudiness late Saturday is forecast with continued cold.

Snow and sleet was widespread Friday across the northern half of the state and rain and drizzle fell across South Texas.

ER service contract has noon discussion

Terms of a contract were to be discussed at a noon meeting here Friday to allow the assumption by a local physician of weekend emergency room duties at Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

The proposal was first broached to the hospital board at a meeting Jan. 28 and received an unofficial go-ahead at that time.

Administrator Tom Hochwalt indicated at that meeting he would begin discussions with Dr. Harold Miller related to the contract.

Details agreed to by Hochwalt and Miller were expected to be discussed during Friday's regular billing paying session of the board.

The change in ER coverage was prompted by an announcement from physicians with the Texas Tech Health Sciences Center in Lubbock that they would no longer be able to furnish the ER weekend doctors.

The arrangement with the Tech medical center is to continue through Feb. 22, however.

For the past several years, Cogdell was contracted with the Tech center to provide the ER coverage at an annual expense in excess of $90,000.

As proposed, Miller would be paid an hourly wage for his service, estimated in the range of $34.

A tentative changeover date has been set for the first weekend in March.

Gene Dow, in the Colorado City Record, says it's still early in the new year to make positive changes. He suggests more of the following is needed in 1988:

"More to improve, fewer to disapprove. More doers and fewer talkers. More to say 'it can be done,' and fewer to say 'it can't.' More to inspire others with confidence, fewer to throw cold water on anyone taking even one step in the right direction."

"More to get into the thick of things and do something about it, while fewer to sit on the sidelines merely finding fault. More to point out what's right, fewer to keep harping on what's wrong. More to 'light a candle,' and fewer to 'curse the darkness.'"

Kim Pease, in the Rotan Advance, says the woman who complains about the man she married should realize that she could have caught a bigger fish if she had used better bait.

It was Pease who noticed that the mayor of Charleston, W. Va., was nicknamed "Mad Dog" for his progressive pursuit of drug dealers. It appears the mayor was introduced to the goose recently.

It seems the mayor pleaded guilty to six charges of cocaine possession and agreed to resign from office. In return, federal prosecutors agreed to drop 24 other charges.

Said Pease, "What's good for the goose is good for the gander—hey, Mayor."

Ask Us

Q. — Is there anything being done to prevent the prairie dog town from catching the "plague?"

A. — County officials say they have checked the local colony in Towle Park and that there is no sign of any dead animals or of any being ill. They noted the fence around the prairie dog town would likely keep away any wild animals—skunks or rabbits—which might have the infection.

In Brief

Waite killed?

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — A Christian-controlled radio station said today that hostage Terry Waite had been killed by his captors, but police said they doubted the Anglican Church envoy was dead.

In London, a spokesman for the Archbishop of Canterbury dismissed the report, broadcast by the Voice of Lebanon radio station.

The station, based in Christian east Beirut, has never been accurate in any report concerning foreigners held hostage in Lebanon. It is controlled by the right-wing Phalange Party.

In addition to Waite, 23 foreigners are being held hostage in Lebanon.

Two Scandinavians were seized today as they were driving just outside the southern coastal city of Sidon. They were identified as Jan Stening, 44, of Sweden and William Jorgensen, 58, of Norway. They worked for the U.N. Relief and Works Agency.

6 to 18 years

NEW YORK (AP) — A white teen-ager convicted of chasing a black man to his death on a highway in the Howard Beach section of the city and battering a second black was sentenced today to six to 18 years in prison.

The sentence given to Scott Kern, 18, was lighter than the 30-year maximum term imposed two weeks ago on a co-defendant.

The judge said he found redeeming and mitigating circumstances in the case of Kern, whom he described as a follower rather than a leader in the assaults.

Police are investigating a burglary that was discovered Thursday morning at the American Legion at 1802 Ave. R.

Entrance was gained by breaking the glass in one of the front double doors of the building, an officer said.

Missing was a large quantity of liquor and snack bar items such as gum and potato chips, he said.

AIDS...

Tests average 15 positive

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two years after launching the world's most extensive AIDS screening program, the Pentagon has tested nearly 4 million people and identified 5,890 carrying the deadly virus.

The testing has cost $43.1 million so far and is projected to cost another $25.5 million this fiscal year.

The latest statistics, released Thursday, include test results not only for recruit applicants — those men and women trying to join the military — but also for those on active duty and those serving in the National Guard and reserves.

They are the first statistics to provide a complete picture of test results through fiscal 1987, which ended last Sept. 30.

If all the groups are combined, the Pentagon has tested the blood of 3.96 million individuals since October 1985, when it launched the AIDS screening effort. Of that total, roughly 1.5 cases of AIDS infection have been detected out of every 1,000 individuals screened — or 5,890 all together.

On the active-duty side, the Pentagon said it had screened 2.18 million individuals over the past two years, of whom 3,336 tested positively for exposure.

Among the Army National Guard and Air National Guard members tested to date, there have been 387 positives out of 300,702 screened, the statistics show.

As for the reserve units of the four services, where testing is only now becoming widespread, 183 cases have been found after screening 99,191 individuals.

And on the recruit applicant side, the Pentagon said that as of December it had screened 1.38 million men and women since the fall of 1985. Of that total, 1,984 tested positively.

AIDS — acquired immune deficiency syndrome — is an incurable disease caused by a virus that attacks the body's immune system and its ability to resist infection. It is most frequently spread through sexual intercourse or the sharing of drug needles. According to the Centers for Disease Control, 51,916 Americans had been diagnosed as having AIDS as of Jan. 25, and an unknown but much greater number of people have been exposed to the virus.

The Defense Department decided in the fall of 1985 to begin testing all recruit applicants as well as all active-duty personnel, citing the need to protect military blood supplies.

The program is by far the largest in the world and has provided medical researchers with much of the statistical data they use in tracking the disease.

Dear Abby

Even Short Letters Break Up Long Days for Sailors at Sea

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1988 By Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: I'm not on an aircraft carrier. In fact, I wish I were — spending six months aboard a carrier would be fun. They have video game rooms, snack bars, live USO shows and they receive Operation Dear Abby III mail. My ship is the smallest in the Navy, a guided missile destroyer. I realize it is impossible to get "Operation" mail to every ship under way at Christmas. I just would like people to stop and think about us — the ones who, for six months, live in a world that is 400 feet long and 40 feet wide. A world that rocks and vibrates constantly. A world where 300 people live and work. It's a place where you forget what day it is. Those of us on "small boys" have little time off, and when we do, where can we go?

We are the ones who protect our valuable carriers, recover downed pilots or men overboard. We live with the knowledge that our job is to get between the carrier and the incoming torpedo (or missile); we take the hit so the carrier can continue to fight. We're also the ones who escort tankers in the Persian Gulf. We've been there since the crisis began.

Just a short while back, we were up at 5 a.m. to refuel the ship, then at noon we unloaded ammunition. By 3 p.m. we finished working, and realized that it was Thanksgiving Day! I have been separated from my wife for two months — only four more to go and we'll be a family again.

Abby, I'm not complaining. I love my country. But next Christmas, when I am a civilian, my family and I will take a minute or two to think about, and maybe pray for, the guys out there on large ships and small, keeping Americans respected and free, at any cost.

COUNTING THE DAYS IN THE I.O.

DEAR COUNTING: Thank you for your very informative and heartwarming letter.

Soviet author, playwright pushes for peace effort

WASHINGTON (AP) — Genrikh — Henry to Americans — Borovik has had a very busy week just outside the capital in Alexandria, Va., talking up peace and friendship.

An author of 15 books, a TV talk show host back in Moscow and the author of an off-Broadway play, "Agent 00," that spoofs both the CIA and the KGB secret police, he also is president of the Soviet Peace Committee.

That brought him here with a cross-section of 102 other Soviet citizens to discuss with some 400 Americans some practical and

DEAR ABBY: An imaginative member of the Older Women's League came up with an idea similar to the "maverick table" you mentioned in a recent column.

Once a month she chose a reasonably priced restaurant — usually on a Sunday evening — where any OWL member could turn up and enjoy the company of other OWLs. It worked very well, and provided companionship and a pleasant supper to many women who otherwise would have been dining alone. Since the lady who thought of it was named "Lucy," we called the program "Lucy's Table," so one could ask for "Lucy's table" when she enters the restaurant alone.

DOROTHY SATIR, SAN FRANCISCO

DEAR DOROTHY: Hooray for Lucy and other imaginative people who dream up creative solutions for today's social problems — and the loneliness of dining alone is certainly one of them.

some unusual cooperative projects — all with the intention of drawing the people of the two superpowers closer together.

Some examples: A Soviet sculptor is approaching the city fathers in Reston, Va., about erecting a monument to foster better understanding between the two countries.

A musical version of the Greek play, Lysistrata, is being produced for showing in Washington and in Moscow by a team of American and Soviet writers, composers, directors and actors — evenly divided between the two countries.

In Aristophanes' comedy, the women of two warring Greek cities withhold their favors from their husbands until the men agree to make peace.

There also are tentative plans to have a conference of young American and Soviet soldiers.

On Thursday, two Soviet cosmonauts, Georgy Grechko and Svetlana Savitskaya, went to Arlington cemetery to place a wreath at the memorial to the American astronauts who perished in the Challenger disaster.

Would this have been possible without Mikhail Gorbachev?

"I don't think so," Borovik replied. "Not because it was impossible. But because people thought it was impossible."

Borovik knows America fairly well.

He worked in New York as a journalist for the Literary Gazette and for Novosti, the Soviet feature service, from 1966 to 1972, was here again for short stays three times since, and has traveled around the country.

Alien student ineligible for West Point gets recruited COLLEGE STATION, Texas (AP) — A top-ranked Hispanic high school student who has received a scholarship to attend Texas A&M University says she will continue to pursue her goal to go to West Point.

But Xochilt Carreto, who ranks first in her senior class at Dallas' L.G. Pinkston High School, intends to enroll at Texas A&M and join the Corps of Cadets.

"Since the nominations for West Point already went in, I said to myself, 'Why not go to A&M?'" Miss Carreto told The Dallas Morning News. "It's also an excellent ROTC program. I thought it would prepare me for West Point."

The 17-year-old was not allowed to enroll at the U.S. Military Academy because she is not a U.S. citizen, having moved from Mexico with her mother less than three years ago.

But as a result of efforts by several former A&M students, she will be offered one of the university's President's Achievement Award scholarships, A&M officials said Thursday. The four-year award totals $10,000.

John Meek, Junior ROTC program director at Pinkston, encouraged Miss Carreto to attend A&M where both his son and daughter-in-law went. Ed Castillo, a Pinkston counselor and Aggie alumnus, also encouraged her to try Texas A&M.

Dark circles may be normal

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: A few years ago both of my eyes were blackened in two separate incidents about a week apart. I still have big black circles under my eyes. I'm 26 and tired of looking like a racoon.

DEAR READER: Blood that seeps out underneath the skin of the lower eyelids often seems to take forever to be reabsorbed into the body. However, "a few years" seems to me to be a longer time than usual. Check with your doctor to make sure that the black circles under your eyes don't reflect the presence of another condition, such as exhaustion.

You also should remember that dark discolorations like these may be an inherited trait. If this runs in your family, you may have to learn to live with it, use face makeup to cover the areas or investigate the possibility of having plastic surgery to achieve a better cosmetic result.

DEAR DR. GOTT: My husband used to drink two gin-and-tonics a night and he also wore heavy cowboy boots. He had repeated attacks of gout. He switched to rye and water, gave up his boots and has not had an attack in a year. He was able to stop taking Allopurinol. Do you think it was the gin or the boots?

DEAR READER: The boots. Gout is a disease of either excess uric acid production or reduced uric acid excretion by the kidneys. The increased amount of uric acid in the body is converted to sodium urate crystals that settle into joints and other tissues, causing pain. Acute gouty arthritis is often triggered by injury to joints, such as would occur from wearing shoes or boots that pinch.

To my knowledge, no reputable scientific studies have linked gout to modern alcohol beverages. In bygone days, lead was added to wines to promote clarity. This lead caused a form of gout that is no longer a problem because of prohibitions against adding lead to alcohol drinks.

Although your husband no longer suffers from gouty arthritis, he still has gout: The elevated level of uric acid probably remains in his system. Therefore, he should be under the care of a physician and should probably continue taking Allopurinol, a drug that blocks the formation of uric acid. Despite the absence of joint symptoms, your husband's sodium urate may be causing painless damage to internal organs, such as the kidneys.

To give you more information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report, ABOUT GOUT. Others who would like a copy should send $1 and their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

February designated Methodist Hospital emphasis month

LUBBOCK--The Northwest Texas Conference of the United Methodist Church has designated February as Methodist Hospital emphasis month. During the celebration, all pastors and church leaders in the area are invited to learn about the various activities and services of Methodist Hospital's Chaplaincy Department.

Special activities of the Chaplaincy Department will include submitting a special news supplement to the United Methodist Reporter, a newspaper distributed to Methodist churches within the conference.

The supplement describes the wide array of activities conducted by the Chaplaincy Department. Among the articles will be included an examination of the SHARE program, chaplaincy involvement in the Hodges Cancer Center and the CPE Program. The Wellness Program of Methodist Hospital which offers instruction in physical, mental and spiritual health, also will be discussed.

During the month, tours of the hospital can be scheduled for any interested parties. To arrange a tour, schedule a film or obtain magazines and brochures about the hospital, contact the Chaplaincy Department at 793-4027 or the Public Relations Department at 793-4199.

The first Pan-American Conference opened in Washington in 1889.

One bid too many

By James Jacoby

Aggressive bidding by South propelled his side into a reasonable game contract that might have made with normal breaks. But the scientific approach taken by North-South allowed the opponents to exchange some important information that doomed the final contract.

North opened one club rather than one no-trump because his 15 high-card-point hand contained no 10s or nines. After West's two-diamond overcall, he raised hearts. But then came the science. South bid three clubs as a game try, and North tried three diamonds, thinking that maybe South could bid three no-trump with a holding such as K-x in diamonds. That gave East the opportunity to double, but South went right to game anyway. Now the stage was set for precise, surgical defense.

West opened his singleton seven of clubs. Declarer won in his hand and played the heart jack. West grabbed the ace immediately and led the two of diamonds. East won the king and played a club back ruffed by West with the heart deuce. The ace of diamonds then was the setting trick. Without the double of three diamonds by East, which was an easy way to say, "Hey, partner. I have the king of diamonds," no one can say for sure how the defense would have operated. But the actual bidding gave West a blueprint for defending.

James Jacoby's books "Jacoby on Bridge" and "Jacoby on Card Games" (written with his father, the late Oswald Jacoby) are now available at bookstores. Both are published by Pharos Books.

Strike keeping 1,200 Mobil employees away from jobs

BEAUMONT, Texas (AP) — Oil refinery workers continued to strike Mobil Corp. today, and no talks concerning a new contract are scheduled, a union official said.

"We're on the picket line 24-hours a day. We're fighting for our jobs, for the future," said Tony Guillory, president of the local Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers union, which represents about 1,200 members here.

"No talks are scheduled," Guillory said late Thursday night.

The local OCAW strikers are among more than 2,500 oil refinery workers on strike against Mobil Corp. and units of BP America Inc. in five states over a series of issues ranging from union jurisdiction to pension benefits.

The walkouts were called by locals of the Denver-based OCAW, which represents about 40,000 workers in 300 contracts.

Affected are Mobil operations in Beaumont, Torrance, Calif., Ferndale, Wash., and BP America, which is wholly owned by British Petroleum PLC of London. The strikes against Mobil, Sohio and BP Oil began late Wednesday.

In Beaumont, union members went on strike early Thursday. Some were picketing by boat in front of the company's docks on the Neches River and others were outside the refinery.

Meanwhile, Mobil spokesman Roy Dickerson said Thursday that the Beaumont plant is operating as usual. Supervisory employees were working 12-hour shifts, and some employees are sleeping at the refinery, he said.

At issue in the Beaumont strike is who will run the refinery's new centralized control center — company supervisors or OCAW members.

B.H. Blackmon, the refinery's general manager, said allowing OCAW members to run the control center would be inefficient and uneconomical.

But Tom Montalbano, chairman of the workmen's committee, said the list of job duties for supervisors in the control room is virtually identical to the current duties of OCAW operators. The only difference is that current operators do not have responsibility to enforce company rules and procedures, he said.

On Thursday, union members were scheduling benefit payouts, planning picket schedules and helping union members with individual financial problems.

"We're walking in 17-day cycle shifts split up between the 1,200 employees. So you walk once every 17 days and we're going by alphabetical order," union representative Ray Taylor said.

Picketers were walking in eight-hour shifts, Taylor said, adding he had no idea how long the strike would last.

"That's entirely up to the company. There are no negotiations at this point. We gave them an orderly shutdown notice last night around 10:55 p.m. and they told us all they wanted was an orderly takeover and that's where we're at right now," he said Thursday.

Along with the local OCAW, 48 members of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers Local 390 struck Mobil on Thursday over who should operate the plant's electrical switches. The union calls it a safety issue, while Mobil says it's a craft jurisdictional problem.

Mobil's refinery in Torrancia also wants to use supervisors to staff its control room.

'Tough loss to take'

Western slips to FPC, 60-56

Carlos Harris hit a 3-pointer with a minute to go and Leonard Whyte nailed two free throws in the waning seconds as Frank Phillips' Plainsmen enjoyed their first victory over Western Texas College here Thursday night.

"This is the first time a Frank Phillips team has ever beaten Western Texas," said a happy Plainsmen coach George Hill, whose team edged the Westerners 60-56.

Harris' long distance shot gave Frank Phillips a 54-53 lead in a game that had been back and forth all night. Unofficially, there were 14 lead changes and the teams were deadlocked almost as many times. FPC had built an eight point lead midway through the second half, but it disappeared as Bobby Spear led Western on a tear that saw the visitors outgunned 9-2.

Spear, a 6-5 freshman from Albuquerque, N.M., put the contest in doubt with 35 ticks remaining when he tied it up at 56-56. Frank Phillips was able to turn the game back around via the fast break, however, and Whyte put the Plainsmen back on top with a slam dunk.

Western attempted to catch the Plainsmen again but Derrick Greene's 18-footer bounced off the rim, and Whyte rebounded. He was fouled, and heaced two free shots with seven seconds left, giving the game its final look.

Neither team had its full compliment of players for the game, but Western was especially hampered. Leading scorer Darrell Nelson, recovering from an extracted tooth, did not suit out, and starting sophomore Melvin Thompson went down in the last minute of the first half with an apparent sprained ankle.

Thompson, who was to have X-rays taken Friday morning, sat out the second half after leading the Westerners with 12 points and a half-dozen boards over the first 20 minutes.

"It was probably one of the toughest ones (losses) we've had this year," said Coach Tony Mauldin. "We didn't have Darrell and Melvin didn't play the second half because of a bad ankle. Even despite all that we had a chance to win and just let it get away. We got quite a few steals but we just couldn't seem to convert."

FPC had been averaging over 100 points a game early this season and came into Thursday's contest still putting in over 87 points. The Plainsmen elected to slow it down, however, and found success.

"I don't care if we don't score more than 60 points the rest of the season as long as the other team has less," smiled Coach Hill. "This is the third game we've slowed it down. The first game we lost, but now I think the kids understand what we're trying to do."

What Frank Phillips did was force a half-court game much of the time, utilizing the height of 6-7 freshman Lowell Myrie, 6-6 Whyte, and 6-8 Donald Dixon inside. The Plainsmen frequently allowed WTC just one shot each trip up the floor.

Western's full court press was effective, but several missed conversions on the fast break were costly.

Spear led the Westerners with 18 points. Greene put in 7, Chris Cannon and Gerald Wells 6 each and Malcom Waters 5. Keith Hawkins managed just 2 points, but directed Western's floor game with eight assists and eight steals.

Cannon, 6-7 from Hale Center, shows promise, indicated Coach Mauldin.

"It was his first role of contributing in a crucial situation and he came in and played well. Most of the guys who came off the bench did. I can't knock the kids for their effort. We just didn't have any offense. I think we just tried too hard sometimes," said the coach.

The loss knocks Western to 6-18 overall and 3-6 in the Western Junior College Athletic Conference. Mauldin's crew will attempt to regroup Monday when they play the Hawks of Howard College in Big Spring.

FPC was led by the conference's leading scorer - Harris, who buzzed in 32 points. Myrie scored 20.

The Plainsmen, 11-10 and 2-7, are scheduled to play in Odessa tonight.

Unsold selected for Hall of Fame

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP) - "I never played pretty," said Washington Bullets Coach Wes Unseld, who called his election to the Basketball Hall of Fame a surprise.

"I wasn't flashy," Unseld said after results of the election were announced Thursday. "My contributions were in the things most people don't notice. They weren't in high scoring or dunking or behind-the-back passes."

Also elected were high-scoring center Clyde Lovellette, Oregon State Coach Ralph Miller, the winningest active major-college coach, and the late Bobby McDermott, who dropped out of high school to star in the pros in the 1930s.

On May 3, they will join 165 individuals and four teams previously inducted into the hall in this city where the game began.

Court reporter dismissed for testifying

CONROE, Texas (AP) — A court reporter says she was fired because she testified against her boss during a hearing for death row inmate Clarence Lee Brandley.

Mary Johnson said a letter she received this week informed her that she no longer worked for State District Judge John Martin. The judge's letter, dated Jan. 29, made the firing effective Jan. 29.

Ms. Johnson, an employee of Martin's for six years, received the letter Monday — Feb. 1. "I feel the reason I was fired by Judge John Martin is for testifying about the truth concerning the matter on death row in the Brandley hearing and that's the only reason I was fired," Ms. Johnson, 49, said Wednesday. "They could have reassigned me to another court."

Martin confirmed that Ms. Johnson had been fired, but he would not comment further since Brandley's appeal has not concluded. He did say that he did not see how he could be expected to continue working with her.

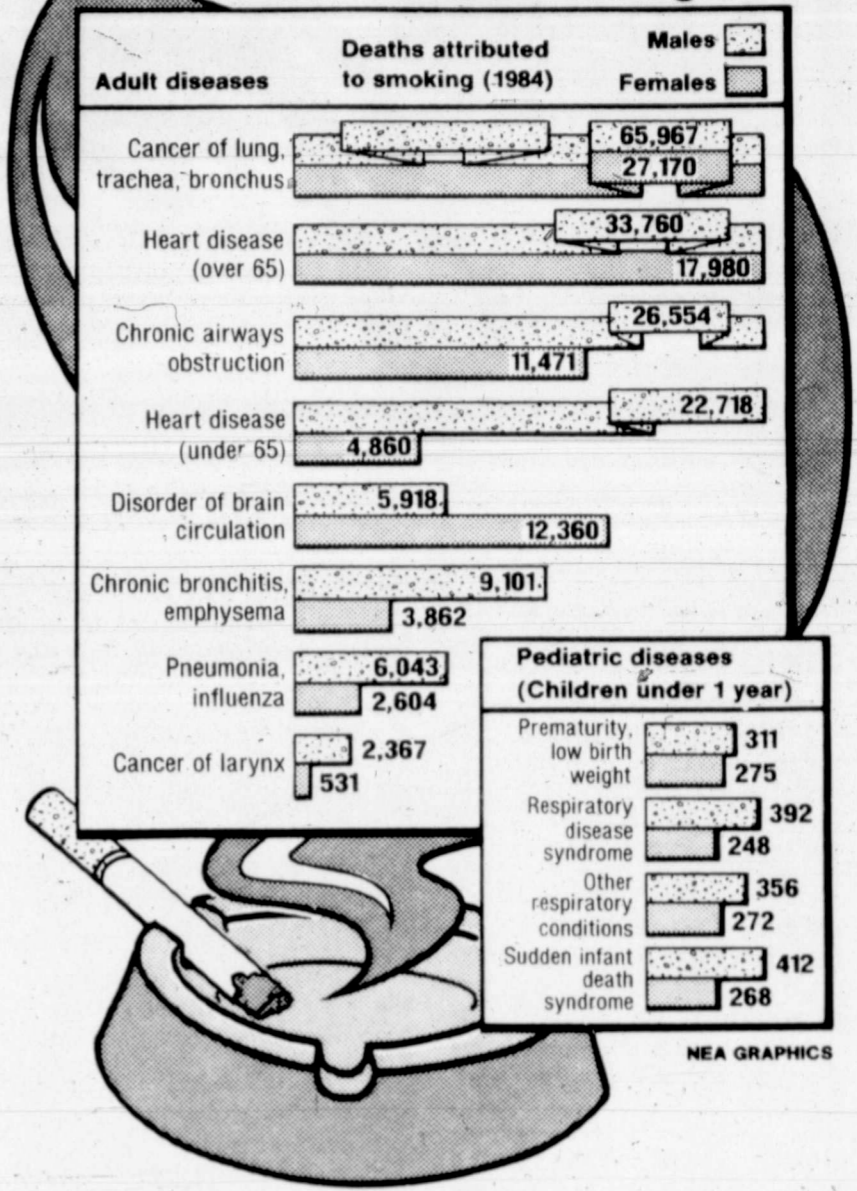

Brandley, who is black, was convicted in 1981 of capital murder in the Aug. 23, 1980, rape-slaying of a 16-year-old white girl. The teen-ager was killed at Conroe High School where Brandley, 37, worked as a janitor.

During an October evidentiary hearing in Galveston, Ms. Johnson testified that Martin set Brandley's first execution date on Jan. 16, 1986, to coincide with her birthday and that of District Clerk Peggy Stevens.

SMOKING'S TOLL

Deaths attributed to cigarettes

Source: Federal Office on Smoking and Health

According to a study by the U.S. Office on Smoking and Health, almost 16 percent of all deaths in the United States each year can be attributed to smoking. The study looked at the approximately 2 million deaths in 1984 and linked 320,000 of them to cigarettes.

Dole, Bush bring rivalry to Capitol

By The Associated Press

The battle between Republican presidential rivals Bob Dole and George Bush boiled over from the campaign trail to the Capitol, and Pat Robertson scored a landslide victory in a straw poll in Hawaii just days before the Iowa caucuses.

On the Democratic side, Gary Hart launched an advertising blitz in Iowa, including a television spot in which he gazes into the camera at close range and says: "Character is the test."

Hart, who dropped out of the race for seven months amid reports of his relationship with Miami model Donna Rice, says in the ad that "there's been a lot of casual talk about character this year.... They use that word as a smokescreen because they don't like someone who is different, who doesn't play by their political rules."

Bush campaign chairman Lee Atwater denounced Dole as a "schoolyard bully" after he strode up to the vice president on the Senate floor Thursday and demanded to know whether Bush had approved an aide's harsh statement the previous day.

After the confrontation, Dole accused the Bush campaign of "groveling in the mud" in its statement from George Wittgraf, Bush's Iowa campaign chairman.

In the statement issued Wednesday, Wittgraf attacked Dole's "cronyism and mean-spiritedness," made reference to the "posh" lifestyle of Dole and his wife Elizabeth, raised questions about Mrs. Dole's blind trust, and implied that Dole accepts favors from the wealthy in exchange for political influence.

"It doesn't have to be this nasty, mean, personal and vindictive," Dole said of the statement. "It's below the belt."

Dole demanded an apology, at least for his wife, but Atwater said none was forthcoming. He said although Bush had not approved Wittgraf's statement in advance, "We are not going to condemn it."

"Senator Dole seems to be like a typical schoolyard bully. He can dish it out ... but if someone hits him back, he starts whining," Atwater said in a telephone interview.

Dole approached Bush on the Senate floor again later, and said afterward the vice president had agreed to meet and discuss the matter. But no date was set.

Rep. Jack Kemp, at a county GOP meeting in Iowa, criticized his two rivals for their bickering.

"I want Bush and Dole to stop getting nasty with each other and start telling us about what they're going to do to help make America stronger," the New York congressman said.

Both Bush and Dole took a back seat to Robertson, the former television evangelist, at a straw poll of Hawaii Republicans on Thursday night. Robertson, whose supporters had signed up thousands of new GOP members in recent weeks, swept away all opposition, picking up more than nine times the number of votes as Dole, his nearest rival. With 85 percent of the precinct caucuses reporting, Robertson had 923 votes, while Dole had 102, Bush 92, Kemp 9, former Delaware Gov. Pete du Pont 4 and former Secretary of State Alexander Haig 1.

Bush and Dole backers had acknowledged beforehand that Robertson had the numbers to win the straw poll at Hawaii Republican precinct meetings. The results are non-binding; but prefigure the makeup of the 20-member Hawaii delegation to the Republican National Convention.

In other campaign developments:

—Democratic non-candidate Mario Cuomo said in an interview that the Democratic party needs to change its image as a party that will "sacrifice defense for social programs." The New York governor also told the San Francisco Examiner that White House chief of staff Howard Baker, a Republican, would "get a horde of Democratic votes" if he ran for president.

French revolutionary writer Jean Paul Marat was murdered in 1793 in his bath by Charlotte Corday.

CBO projects deficits exceeding budget summit

WASHINGTON (AP) — "We know election-year Federal deficits for the next three years will soar above the $148 billion level of 1987, even with the spending cuts and tax hikes approved in last year's budget summit, the Congressional Budget Office says. Juvenile male arrested for pickup theft at Ira Ave. J.

A 16-year-old male was arrested for unauthorized use of a motor vehicle early Friday in connection with the earlier theft of a pickup from an Ira oil field firm. The youth, reportedly a recent release from a Texas Youth Council detention center, was taken into custody at 3:47 a.m. at an E. 37th St. apartment complex. Billy Calley had reported that a 1987 Chevrolet one-ton owned by Calley and Fowler and a 1984 Jeep Scrambler owned by Myron Calley were taken at 7:35 p.m. The pickup was recovered at the time of the youth's arrest, but the Jeep still had not been found Friday morning. Other arrests included two men, 21 and 28 years of age, who were reportedly caught in the act of attempting to steal wheels from a vehicle at 11:01 p.m. Thursday in the 2400 Block of Ave. J. They were incarcerated on the preliminary charge of Class A misdemeanor theft. Two females, 17 and 18, were arrested for public intoxication at 12:25 a.m. Friday in the 2400 Block of Ave. J. Another arrest reportedly cleared a hit-and-run incident first reported at 8:06 p.m. Wednesday accident in which a 1949 Ford pickup and a fence belonging to Roger Cloe were hit and damaged in the 1600 Block of 28th St. The driver was cited for not having liability insurance, leaving the scene of an accident, not having a driver's license and failure to control speed. A 21-year-old woman was arrested for DWI at 1:20 a.m. in the 1600 Block of Ave. L, and two men in the vehicle, 39 and 51 years of age, were arrested for public intoxication.

Cut your own taxes and save Kiddie tax eyes wealthy children

By Robert Metz and Sidney Kess (Fourth of 14 parts)

When the federal government searched for extra income, it didn't overlook the resale value of those silver spoons in the mouths of privileged babes. Now some children under the age 14 may find their taxes greatly increased, because new tax rules apply to their unearned income such as interest, dividends and gains from stock sales over $1,000. While the first $500 in unearned income escapes is not taxed, the second $500 is taxed to the child in the lowest tax bracket. Unearned income over $1,000 is taxed to the child at the parent's top marginal tax bracket. This is referred to as the "kiddie tax." At the same time, the government is not taxing earned income up to $2,540. For earned income over $2,540, the child is taxed at his or her marginal tax bracket. If the child's parents are divorced, the custodial parent's tax bracket is applied. If parents are not divorced but merely file separately, the tax bracket of the parent with the greater income is used. The kiddie tax does not apply if the child is an orphan at the close of the year. In a related family matter, a marriage ending in divorce or separation creates tax problems for both parties. Any time one ex-spouse can deduct the alimony payments he or she makes, the other ex-spouse must report it as taxable income. Conversely, if the payments do not qualify as an alimony deduction for the spouse who makes them, they also need not be reported as income by the spouse who receives them. New tax rules took effect in 1985 and were modified by the Tax Reform Act of 1986. Payments by one spouse are deductible by the payer and taxable to the recipient spouse if they are made in cash, the parties do not live in the same household, and the payments terminate on the death of the recipient. For post-1986 decrees (and pre-1987 decrees in which the parties agree to abide by the new rules), a new, highly complicated rule applies. Under the old rule, if, during a three-year period, the alimony payments decreased by more than $10,000 from the previous year, the difference must be "recaptured." This means that the excess must be reported as income by the payer but is deductible by the recipient. According to a new rule, however, if payments in the first year exceeded the average payments in years two and three by more than $15,000, the excess is recaptured in year three. You reduce the average payments in years two and three by the recaptured amount in year two. A similar rule applies to the extent that payments in year two exceed payments in year three by more than $15,000. If alimony is paid according to decrees or agreements in effect before 1985 and these instruments have not been modified as expressly subject to the new rules, the old law applies. Child support payments are not alimony and are not deductible by the person who pays them, nor are they income to the person who receives them. Although child support payments are never deductible, they may enable you to claim an exemption for the children in the case of a pre-1985 divorce or separation. In the case of later decrees, the custodial parent is entitled to the exemption regardless of support payment, unless that parent waives the exemption. If both alimony and support payments are arranged in a settlement and you receive less than the amount specified, the payments apply first to child support and then to alimony.

Form 8615: Computation of Tax for Children Under Age 14 Who Have Investment Income of More Than $1,000. Includes instructions and a table for calculating tax.

Under the new tax law, a child's investment income above $1,000 is taxed at the parent's top marginal bracket.

County judge lashes out at fed judge

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — Bexar County officials gave a federal judge documents to show they are addressing a jail overcrowding problem, County Judge Tom Vickers said.

U.S. District Judge Lucius Bunton of Midland had given county officials until Thursday to respond as to why overcrowding had not been reduced as required by a 1981 federal court order.

Bunton, who became chief judge for the Western District of Texas after Williams Sessions became FBI director, threatened the commissioners with a jail sentence if the overcrowding was not eased.

Vickers, who had responded angrily to the threat, delivered documents to the federal district clerk Thursday and one of Bunton's law clerks gave the papers to the judge late Thursday.

The documents outline the county's plan the past six years to reduce jail overcrowding, including a letter of praise from Sessions, Vickers said.

"We know what the conditions are in there," Vickers said. "All of these documents are to show, by golly, we've just been doing everything that we can."

"We can't produce this jail space overnight. We're not miracle workers," Vickers said. More than 1,347 prisoners are in jail, far above the 739 limit imposed by a federal court order in 1981.

The opening of a new $60 million jail, with an initial capacity of 1,000 beds, has been delayed more than a year because of design flaws in the smoke evacuation system. It is scheduled to open in April.

"It appeared to me that ... we (have) a new federal judge who has come swashbuckling on the scene, spewing rather harsh rhetoric," Vickers said Wednesday.

Vickers said the county has to keep hundreds of convicted felons each week because the state will not accept them.

First Assembly plans Missions 88 events

First Assembly of God Church will have its annual missions convention, Missions 88, this Friday through Sunday. The theme is "Love enough to give enough."

Guest speakers will be the Rev. and Mrs. Neil Unwin, West Texas District Missions Directors for the Assemblies of God.

Missions 88 will begin at 7 p.m. Friday with an un-banquet. There will be banquet decorations and festivities, but no food will be served in order that everyone present will be fasting and praying for the spread of the gospel of Jesus around the world. The banquet theme will be "So they may hear...fast."

The film "Till the Whole World Knows" will be shown and Rev. Unwin will sing and speak. The brief film is about the Assemblies of God foreign missions.

On Saturday, the film "Mission America" will be shown. It is about the Assemblies of God home missions. Rev. Unwin will lead a brief devotional to be followed by a time of prayer for the missionaries that First Assembly of God supports.

The Sunday morning service will begin at 10:40 a.m. with a parade of prayer missionaries.

They are the families of First Assembly of God who have pledged to pray for a specific missionary for 1988. They will be dressed in the fashion of the country they represent and will carry that country's flag.

Sixteen missionaries in 14 different countries will be represented. Rev. Unwin will preach the Sunday sermon.

The Sunday evening service will begin at 7 p.m. with a special presentation by Rev. Vernon Hagar, and his wife, Ozella, who were missionaries to a leper colony in New Hope Town, Liberia during the mid 1960s, but now reside in Snyder. Hagar will wear his African chief's robe and will share his missionary experiences.

Missions 88 will close with the film, "Greatest Story Never Told," and an invitation to commitment to tell the story of Jesus to the town will be given by pastor Cary G. Moore.

All are invited to these special services. Call 573-3316 for more information.

Texans donate to Contra cause

DALLAS (AP) — Texans who support the Nicaraguan rebels say the recent congressional defeat of an aid package has boosted their efforts to raise private donations for the Contras.

"Our telephone lines have been jammed," said William J. Murray, director of Freedom's Friends, a Dallas-area non-profit group that transports humanitarian aid and paramilitary gear into the rebels' Honduran refugee centers.

Murray said Thursday that after the U.S. House of Representatives rejected a $36 million Contra aid package Wednesday night he received a $10,000 pledge from one Texas man and a $100,000 pledge from a woman.

"This Contra vote has just done wonders for us," he said. "If other groups are having the same response that we're having, we can tell of Jim Wright and whoever else in Congress that it doesn't look like we need their money at all."

But conservative fund raiser Bert Hurlbut of Austin said the benefits of the congressional vote may be offset by the Iran-Contra affair.
