

Spring around corner...

Chances for snow, additional showers in Snyder forecast

From Local Wire Reports

The possibility of snow returned to the Snyder forecast Thursday, three days before the official beginning of spring.

The Snyder area outlook for Thursday night has a 20 percent chance of rain, possibly mixed with snow with a low temperature reading expected in the lower 30s. Any additional moisture would add to the .37-of-an-inch received here overnight.

The winter-like conditions will be the result of a cold front which, at dawn Thursday, was located along a line from Wichita Falls to Midland.

By Sunday and spring's official startup, Snyder weather should be in the process of a warming trend. Thursday and Friday, however, are expected to be more of Old Man Winter.

Thursday, a winter storm warning was in effect for the Texas Panhandle, where snow, ranging in depth from four to 12 inches, covered the area, and a heavy snow warning was issued for northern sections of the South Plains.

A winter storm system located over New Mexico was moving eastward Thursday, a cold front was moving southeastward across the Panhandle and South Plains and a high pressure system located over the southeastern states was pumping moist air from the Gulf of Mexico into Texas.

There was four inches of snow on the ground at Amarillo and 12 inches at Perryton early Thursday. The snow covered most of central and northern sections of the Panhandle and was causing traffic problems with some roads in northern sections of the Panhandle closed.

U. S. troops are enroute to Honduras

WASHINGTON (AP) — The first of 3,200 American infantry and airborne troops flew to Honduras today in the most dramatic show of U.S. force in the six-year Nicaraguan war. Senate Democrats said President Reagan was guilty of "overreaction."

The White House described the movement as "an emergency deployment readiness exercise" triggered by what it called the invasion of Honduras by 1,500 to 2,000 Nicaraguan forces pursuing Contra rebels.

But the Nicaraguan government said again today that its troops had not crossed the border and called on the United Nations and the Organization of American States to "establish what the facts are."

Shortly after 7 a.m. two battalions — about 2,000 troops — of the 82nd Airborne Division from Fort Bragg, N.C., began leaving on a three-hour flight to Palmerola Air Force Base in Honduras, about 125 miles from the reported hostilities.

Those troops and an additional two battalions from the 7th Infantry Division at Fort Ord, Calif., due to leave later in the day, will be stationed at Palmerola.

Most of the men, being ferried on 26 transport planes leaving at 30-minute intervals, were flying directly to Palmerola, but about 800 would parachute into Honduran territory about 5 miles away and then move toward Palmerola, said the commander of the 82nd Airborne, Maj. Gen. Carl Stiner.

Accompanying the men was a giant C-5 transport loaded with three light observation helicopters, four Cobra helicopter gunships, one Blackhawk helicopter, a command vehicle and ammunition.

Postal official selected

A new postmaster has been named for Snyder, Charles Thornton, 47, who has served in a similar capacity in Rotan the past 12 years.

Effective April 9, he will replace D.C. Hendrix, who has been acting postmaster for the local facility since the retirement in December of Wendell Thomas.

Hendrix will return to his regular postal assignment as postmaster in Merkel.

Thornton is a native of Rotan who has been with the postal service for 22 years. He has spent this entire time at the Rotan facility, since 1976 as postmaster.

"Snyder is really like a second home to us, so we're looking forward to relocating there," he said Wednesday.

He noted he will likely commute for a brief time while making arrangements for a local residence.

He graduated from Rotan High School and attended Angelo State University and Ranger Junior College.

He and his wife, Jan, have two children, a married son living in Iraan and an 18-year-old daughter, who attends West Texas State University in Canyon.

His younger brother Mike is head of the Western Texas College Fine Arts Department here.

He also has three other brothers and his parents still live in Rotan.

He is a member of the Church of Christ.

Council list has new face

Of four expiring seats on the Snyder city council, two of these are now guaranteed to have new faces following the May 7 election.

On Thursday, local accountant Joe Coronado filed for single member district 3 and the incumbent, Mike Post, indicated he will not be a candidate.

A similar situation has developed with single member district 4, where Jack Greene Jr. has announced for the seat now held by Joe Fowler, who has said he will not run again.

Coronado, 37, is a partner in the local accounting firm Yorgesen, Blakey and Coronado. His residence is at 4113 Eastridge and he has been a resident of Snyder for 12 years and a resident of the district he seeks to represent for six years.

Single member district 3 is basically comprised of residential Snyder located east of Ave. E plus a small section involving the Noble Heights addition and an area bordered by Ave. V to the west, 30th St. to the north, Deep Creek to the east and 37th St. to the south.

Locally, Coronado also currently serves as a director for the Physician to leave...

ER staffing search renewed

Cogdell Memorial Hospital officials are again searching for ways to staff the facility with weekend emergency room doctors after negotiations with a local physician to provide this service were discontinued earlier this week.

Dr. Harold Miller, an internist here since 1984, has indicated he will be joining a doctor's group in San Angelo and, as a result, will not be able to provide the ER coverage.

He had been staffing the ER on weekends during March while details of a contract for the service were being worked out.

Miller has indicated he will continue to provide physician staffing for the ER through the remainder of this month.

The first weekend in April, Dr. Paul Thompson has agreed to provide coverage, according to hospital administrator Tom Hochwalt.

He noted the first "date of need" regarding ER coverage is April 8. "It looks like we're back to square one," Hochwalt said.

The agreement with Miller was reached after officials with the Texas Tech Health Sciences Center in Lubbock notified Cogdell that they would no longer be providing weekend physicians for ER coverage.

This service had been contracted to the Tech medical school for a number of years at an annual cost to the county of some $90,000. The physicians used were doctors completing their residency requirements through the med school.

When asked if he felt other local physicians might be willing to assume the ER weekend responsibility, Hochwalt said, "It

Vandalism reported at Hermleigh school

Sheriff's deputies Thursday morning were investigating two break-ins at Hermleigh, one at the elementary school and school cafeteria and the other at a service station.

The officers were still in Hermleigh near mid-day and were unavailable for comment, but the school reportedly had extensive damage in the cafeteria.

Richard's Chevron, off U.S. 84, also had been broken into, but there was no immediate report on what, if anything, had been taken.

The sheriff's office is also investigating a Wednesday morning report by Stanley Martin of 3604 Jacksboro Ave. that someone vandalized his Massey-Ferguson tractor northwest of Ira off County Road 3146.

Three windows and the headlights were broken on the tractor, and two speakers were stolen from it, a deputy said.

Carriker to make Farabee seat bid official tomorrow

Steve Carriker (D-Roby), who currently represents Scurry County as its state representative for District 78, will officially announce Friday as a candidate for the state senate seat now held by Ray Farabee.

Carriker, 37, said he will make his announcement in Fisher County, his home base, and will then make similar announcements during the day at Wichita Falls and in the Sherman area.

He noted he will be in Snyder to meet with constituents regarding the race either next week or the following week.

He now becomes the third Democratic candidate to announce for the post. Others include Helen Farabee of Wichita Falls, wife of the departing senator, and Charles Finnell (D-Holliday).

Carriker is also currently opposed for re-election to his District 78 seat by ex-Snyder mayor Rod Waller, running as a

According to an article discovered in one of those Sunday newspaper supplements, he is now ready to take full credit for our happy home—and claims he should be compensated accordingly.

Researchers at the University of Pennsylvania have determined that the risk of a family breakup is nine percent less likely if the family has sons rather than daughters. The research concluded that sons are actually an aid to marital success.

Just so daughters won't feel badly, the same researcher found that childless couples have the highest risk of marital disruption.

The sociologists contend that sons promote greater stability because they elicit a greater investment and involvement from fathers. On the other hand, mothers nurture daughters more, but women are involved equally with all children.

Cold and flu season, hopefully, are nearing an end. But other researchers have concluded that the average household may have something readily available to treat the common cold.

The solution is to heat up a cold and make it go away. As soon as a cold symptom appears, plug in the hair dryer and breath in hot air for several minutes, three or four times a day.

Maybe to avoid spreading cold germs to other family members, everybody—including ole daddy—ought to have their own personal blow dryer.

A. — No. The legislation did direct when all school districts would start the school year, but holidays are still left up to individual scheduling.

In Brief

Bailout begins

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. today advanced $1 billion to banks owned by First Republic Bank Corp., a Dallas holding company, in a rescue package that could ultimately rival the government's largest bank bailout.

FDIC Chairman L. William Seidman called the assistance "an interim step" to provide needed stability to First Republic's subsidiaries and depositors.

Seidman said his agency, which insures deposits at commercial banks, would guarantee all of the subsidiary banks' deposits as well as money owed to general creditors of the banks. This goes beyond the minimum the agency would normally be expected to back up, which is deposits of $100,000 and less.

First Republic Bank, Texas' biggest banking company, acknowledged Tuesday it had been forced to seek federal aid because of a deteriorating loan portfolio and difficulty in raising deposits.

Butcher wins

NOME, Alaska (AP) — Sirens wailed and hundreds of boisterous fans jammed the street to cheer Susan Butcher as she coasted to an unprecedented third straight victory in the 1,150-mile Iditarod Trail Sled Dog Race.

Bitterly cold winds raked Nome as the flushed and perspiring 33-year-old Alaskan cruised beneath the log-arch finish at 8:42 p.m. Wednesday.

Blood checks

Blood pressure clinics will be held at the Cogdell Memorial Hospital emergency room Friday from 1 until 2:30 p.m.

These are sponsored by the Cogdell Home Health unit.

Also during the week, clinics are held at county community centers from 1 until 2 p.m. These are held Monday at Fluvanna, Tuesday at Ira, Wednesday at Hermleigh and Thursday at Dunn.

Pension cheating reported

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. veterans are cheating the government out of tens of millions of dollars each year by lying about their incomes and collecting excessive benefits as a result, a congressional report says.

The report by the General Accounting Office, the investigative wing of Congress, compared Veterans Administration income forms filled out by pensioners with Internal Revenue Service data.

Sen. Frank Murkowski, R-Alaska, released the report Wednesday and said Congress should move to halt the abuses by giving the VA access to same tax information so it can verify what veterans tell it about income from jobs and investments. Murkowski is the senior Republican on the Veterans Affairs Committee.

The IRS information is compiled from reports supplied by employers and other income sources such as banks and stockbrokers.

The GAO's findings were based on an examination of such information from a single year. It said pensioners who understated their incomes to the VA potentially collected $182.5 million more in pension payments than they deserved in 1984.

Under the law, the size of a VA pension — which went to 1.4 million people in 1984 — is determined principally by a recipient's total income from all sources.

The GAO report said congressional investigators found that 549,000 pensioners failed to tell the VA about $947 million in income.

The report said that more than 26,000 veterans told the VA they had no earned income in 1984 but each actually made at least $1,000 through employment.

"Some cases had reported no earnings over several years, although tax data showed significant earnings in those years," GAO said.

Some 60 percent of the pensioners who understated their incomes to the VA failed to report that they received money through interest and dividends, according to GAO.

The report said it could not estimate the exact amount of pension overpayments by the VA, but it estimated that potential overpayments of $182.5 million went to 149,000 pensioners whose VA and IRS records had a difference of $100 or more.

Murkowski said the figures may be low because GAO made several conservative decisions in compiling its data, including ignoring all unreported income below $100. Murkowski and GAO urged the VA to overhaul its income verification system and said Congress should give the agency the legal ability to use IRS data to cross-check the income veterans report to the VA.

This is the type of system that has been used for several years to verify the income of applicants for and recipients of need-based entitlement programs such as Aid to Families with Dependent Children.

The senator said he would introduce legislation to give the VA the ability to use IRS records to verify what it is told by its pensioners.

Commando group also trains police depts. & corporations

FAYETTEVILLE, N.C. (AP) — A firm of ex-commandos credited with snatching a 7-year-old girl off a school bus in Jordan for her American mother is known among law enforcement agencies for its anti-terrorist training, officers say.

Fayetteville Police Chief Ron Hansen said Corporate Training Unlimited approached him last year and offered to train some of his officers in such areas as building searches, response techniques and hostage negotiations. "It was excellent training," Hansen said Wednesday. "I checked them out and found out they were very reputable and knowledgeable in their areas (of expertise)."

"They are extremely competent and detailed in what they do," said Hansen, whose 12-man emergency response team was trained by CTU specialists at no cost.

CTU's brochure touts the company as an "International Security Consulting and Training Firm specializing in both anti- and counter-terrorist tactics and techniques."

"Our staff is comprised entirely of Delta Force and Special Operations qualified personnel, each with many years experience in this field," it reads. "These personnel have passed a rigorous screening and selective process, participating in years of specialized training and have proven themselves under fire."

Oscar Adkins, a CTU employee, is teaching a 40-hour course on specialized weapons and tactics at Wilson County Technical College in Wilson, N.C., according to school spokeswoman Mary Lou Smith.

"Representatives from the agency have also taught other courses in the past," she said. "They came highly recommended from other law enforcement agencies."

Although CTU officials have denied involvement in the Jordan mission, the company reportedly was paid up to $200,000 by Cathy Phelps Mahone to recover her daughter, Lauren Bayan, from Jerash, north of Amman, in late January.

Ms. Mahone, who is said to be in hiding outside Dallas, claims her ex-husband, Jordanian-born Mohammed Ali Bayan, failed to return her daughter after a visit last October. A Dallas judge had given Ms. Mahone custody after the couple's 1980 divorce, but Bayan reportedly claims custody under Jordanian law.

The rescue operation was planned and executed Jan. 28 by CTU. The Philadelphia Inquirer reported last weekend, quoting anonymous sources.

CTU President Donald Feeney has denied involvement. A secretary at the company's office told The Associated Press on Wednesday that company officials would have no comment on the story.

State Department spokesman Charles Redman said earlier this week an American embassy officer in Amman has been recalled to Washington to answer questions about his knowledge of the matter.

Patient Isn't Smiling at Dentist Who Refuses to Pull a Tooth

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1988 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: Well, I thought I'd heard everything until I went to a dentist in a new town and needed to have a tooth pulled. Would you believe that dentist doesn't pull teeth? He sent me to an oral surgeon. I found it hard to believe that a dentist couldn't — or wouldn't — pull a tooth, so I asked the receptionist at the oral surgeon's office why my dentist wouldn't pull my tooth. She said my dentist wanted to make sure it was extracted correctly, as if there was an incorrect way to pull a tooth.

When I went in to see the oral surgeon, he told me that my dentist and he were lifelong friends. Then he assured me that my dentist was a very fine dentist. (If he was such a fine dentist, how come he doesn't know how to pull a tooth correctly?)

It cost me a lot more to have the tooth pulled by an oral surgeon than if a dentist had done the job.

Abby, I find it hard to trust a dentist who can't do a basic procedure like pulling a tooth, but sends me to a lifelong buddy down the road who just happens to be an oral surgeon. I personally think they have a nice little racket going. What do you think?

DISGUSTED IN VIRGINIA

DEAR DISGUSTED: You've heard the expression, "... hard as pulling teeth." It's true. Pulling teeth is a specialty, and while every dentist knows how to pull teeth, an oral surgeon has the special expertise and equipment — not to mention the experience — to handle any possible complication or adverse reaction. (It's not usual, but some dental patients have died during an extraction.)

Rather than assume that the dentist and oral surgeon had a "nice little racket going," be grateful that you had the best tooth extraction available in that little Virginia town, by gum. (Forgive me, I could have said, "The yanks are coming," but I resisted it.)

DEAR ABBY: Will you please tell women who depend on other women for rides to church, shopping or anywhere else women hitch rides to, to please shut up for at least two minutes?

I realize that most of these women who live alone need to talk, but if they don't come up for air once in a while, they will be looking for another means of transportation.

The minute the car door is open, they start to tell you everything they have done from the time they got up. Sometimes I have something important to say before I drive off, and I actually have to shout to keep them quiet. I no longer pick up some women for that reason.

Please print this, Abby. The talkers know who they are.

THE DRIVER (DRIVEN NUTS)

DEAR DRIVER: All right, so now that the talkers who "know who they are" have seen this, please review your own perceptible observation: "These women who live alone need to talk."

Indeed they do. So, please, be just a wee more patient.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of able-bodied people who park in places that are clearly marked "For Handicapped Only?"

SUSAN IN RICHMOND, VA.

DEAR SUSAN: I think they're lazy, insensitive and uncaring. Furthermore, they're dishonest to take something that doesn't rightfully belong to them. But lest we judge too quickly, not every "handicap" is visible. There are people with heart trouble, emphysema and numerous other health problems who cannot walk a block without resting.

Don't put off writing thank-you notes, letters of sympathy, etc. because you don't know what to say. Get Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions." Send a check or money order for $2.89 ($3.39 in Canada) to: Dear Abby, Wedding Booklet, P.O. Box 447, Mount Morris, Ill. 61054 (postage and handling are included).

Murder victim's daughter files $1 million suit

DALLAS (AP) — The daughter of two murder victims has filed a $1 million suit against the Texas Board of Pardons and Paroles, accusing the agency of "gross negligence" in failing to revoke the parole of the man convicted in the stabbing deaths of her parents.

Officials at the parole board and the Texas attorney general's office, which represents the board in such actions, said the case might be the first of its kind in Texas.

The suit was filed Wednesday by Mollie Finch Belt, whose parents, Fred Finch, 66, and Mildred Finch, 64, were stabbed to death during a burglary in 1986.

Kenneth Thomas, now 27, was convicted in the deaths and sentenced to death by lethal injection. He is awaiting execution at the Texas Department of Corrections.

Good technique scores the slam

By James Jacoby

Fortunately for bridge players, the language of bidding is easier to learn than, for example, Sanskrit. So it was that South knew that the four-heart cue-bid by North showed spade support and a sound hand. The partnership then bid up to six spades, showing first- and second-round control in both minors along the way. Luckily North-South stopped at six. (Sometimes aggressive players get caught in the rhythm of cue-bidding all those aces and kings and end up in a grand slam.)

With the Spring North American Bridge Championships getting under way tonight and continuing for the next 10 days at the Convention Center in Buffalo, New York, there will be many doubtful grand slams bid. More to the point, would most of our tournament competitors have the declarer skill needed to make today's small slam?

Of course, if trumps are 2-2, there's no problem. When they are 3-1, declarer must also provide for that sticky situation when the defenders' diamonds split badly. So the right play is to win dummy's heart ace (shedding a diamond) and play queen and jack of spades. Leave the spade king in dummy and attack diamonds. But in so doing, provide for the possibility that East, the defender with the remaining trump, may be short in diamonds. So ace of diamonds first, then a diamond back to the king. If East ruffs the low diamond led from dummy, you will save your king. If he discards, you will win your king and play another diamond and will still be able to ruff your last diamond with the king of trumps.

A dozen ways to use leftover Easter eggs

By NANCY BYAL
Better Homes and Gardens
Food Editor

As the Easter Bunny hops away, get the colored eggs he leaves behind into the refrigerator within 10 hours. You can store the eggs in the refrigerator for up to 7 days, and they'll be fresh for these dishes:

1. Tex-Mex Sandwich Filling: Stir taco seasoning mix into egg salad (1 tablespoon for every 3 eggs) along with a little sliced green onion and chopped tomato.
2. Eggs Bunny-Dict: Top a toasted English muffin half with thinly sliced ham, 2 hard-cooked egg halves and hollandaise sauce made from a sauce mix.
3. Green Bean-Egg Casserole: Stir 3 chopped hard-cooked eggs into the green bean-mushroom soup mixture. Top with crumbled cooked bacon.
4. Sunbeam Salad: Add chopped hard-cooked egg white to potato or pasta salad. At serving time, sieve egg yolks and heap in center of salad.
5. Scotch Eggs: Shape ground turkey sausage around hard-cooked eggs. Roll in beaten egg, then in crushed rich round cracker crumbs. Bake in a 375-degree oven 25 to 30 minutes. Serve warm or cold with chili sauce.

6. Chef's Salad Dressing: Stir a finely chopped hard-cooked egg and a thinly sliced green onion into a mixture of half sour cream and half mayonnaise thinned with a little milk. Serve over vegetable salads.

7. Pita Rabbit Breakfast Sandwich: Cut a pita in half crosswise; line each half with a thin slice of fully cooked ham. Stir together 1 chopped hard-cooked egg, 1 tablespoon dairy sour cream and 1/4 teaspoon prepared mustard. Spoon egg mixture into pita halves.

8. Tuna-Noodle Bake Plus: Stir 2 chopped hard-cooked eggs and 2 tablespoons chopped pimiento into your tuna-noodle casserole.

9. Potatoes and Eggs au Gratin: In a 1 1/2-quart casserole, combine 3 cups sliced cooked potatoes, 3 sliced hard-cooked eggs, 1 cup shredded cheddar cheese and 1 envelope sour cream sauce mix prepared according to package directions.

Top with buttered bread crumbs and bake in a 350-degree oven about 40 minutes.

10. Green Vegetable Garnish: Top buttered cooked asparagus, broccoli, spinach or greens with chopped hard-cooked egg.

11. Devilish Eggs: Prepare deviled eggs, adding 2 tablespoons of any of the following to 6 mashed hard-cooked egg yolks, 1/4 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing and 1 teaspoon prepared mustard: crumbled cooked bacon, finely chopped ripe olives, finely chopped pimiento-stuffed olives, canned chopped green chili peppers, thinly sliced green onion or drained sweet pickle relish.

12. Pink Pickled Eggs: Place 12 shelled hard-cooked eggs in a large bowl with 4 cups water, 1 cup of juice from canned pickled beets, 1 cup vinegar, 1 clove garlic, 2 teaspoons pickling spice and 1 bay leaf. Cover and refrigerate 3 to 4 days.

Festival honors Tune students

Barbara Tune recently entered 18 of her pupils in a Music Festival sponsored by the Abilene Music Teachers Association. In order to participate in the event, a student had to perform either a composition from the Baroque period or any movement of a sonatina or sonata or both.

Students receiving superior ratings and blue ribbons were Melissa Pratt, Brooks Pratt, Lisa Nix, Susan Bigham, Christa Cunningham, two, Hayley Brown, Jamie Brown, Tiffany Jones, Brandi Doyle, two, Valerie Winkles, Amy Steakley, three, Joellen King, two, Tabitha Lewis, two and Holly Joplin, three.

Those receiving excellent ratings and red ribbons were Amber Lyle, Jennifer Early, Susan Bigham, Jamie Jensen, two, Jami Brown, Tiffany Jones, Brandi Doyle, Valerie Winkles and Joseph Steakley.

Therapy can treat nymphomania

DEAR DR. GOTT: I'm a freelance novelist. In my latest book, I'm trying to create a character who is a recovered nymphomaniac. My assistants and I cannot agree on the causes and cures of this disorder. Can you help?

DEAR READER: Nymphomania, a disorder of women, is marked by an excessive desire for sexual activity, without much satisfaction. (In men, this disorder is known as satyriasis.) It is now considered to be a psychosexual ailment stemming from a personality conflict. This acting-out behavior may result when women inappropriately equate emotional closeness with sexual intercourse. That is, psychological conflicts prevent some women from experiencing security and love without the necessity of sexual activity. Other women try to "prove" that they are not frigid or homosexual. Nymphomania usually responds to counseling therapy.

Because of your interest in this subject, I'm sending you a free copy of my Health Report, MENTAL AND EMOTIONAL ILLNESS. Other readers who want a copy of this Health Report should send $1 and their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I have a sore spot in my stomach below my ribs. It hurts to touch and my stomach is upset most of the time. When I take aspirin, I bleed from the rectum. Upper and lower GI and gallbladder tests are normal. Is this an ulcer?

DEAR READER: This type of pain could arise from irritation of the upper abdominal muscles, an abdominal hernia or from a disorder of the internal organs, such as the pancreas. If you had an ulcer, it probably would have shown up on the upper gastrointestinal X-ray study that you had. See a gastroenterologist, a specialist who may be able to define a cause of your symptoms. Remember that aspirin does affect blood coagulation — that's why it may be effective in preventing heart attacks — so I think that you should avoid aspirin if it causes any bleeding from your intestinal tract.

DEAR DR. GOTT: My granddaughter has achalasia. It seems as if stress aggravates the condition. What can she do?

DEAR READER: Achalasia refers to the inability of muscle fibers in parts of the intestine to relax. The most common form is called cardiospasm, the inappropriate contraction of the round muscular sphincter between the esophagus and the stomach. Such a spasm is thought to be due to a disruption of the nervous impulses reaching the sphincter, hence, swallowing can be difficult at times because peristalsis is interrupted. The esophagus can become weakened and dilated. Stress often aggravates the condition.

A second, less common type of achalasia is Hirschsprung's disease, massive dilation of segments of the large intestine due to a congenital absence of nerve fibers.

Cardiospasm can usually be treated with muscle-relaxant drugs, stress control and attention to diet. Surgery to relieve spasm, is seldom required. However, in Hirschsprung's disease, the most effective treatment is removal of the affected portion of bowel.

I believe that your granddaughter should be under the care of an intestinal specialist who can determine which treatment would be most appropriate for her.

State senate race abandoned

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas Republicans have given up on fielding a November candidate for the state Senate seat now held by Democrat Grant Jones, an upset loser in the primary.

George Strake, Republican Party of Texas chairman, said Wednesday the secretary of state's office had said Rex Andrew, who had withdrawn after filing as the only GOP primary candidate for the seat, was not eligible because he did not pay his filing fee. Andrew, an Abilene television reporter, paid the $4,000 fee, but later cancelled payment on the check when he decided not to run, Strake said.

After Jones, D-Temple, lost to Sweetwater lawyer Temple Dickson in the March 8 primary, the Republicans tried to find a way to get Andrew on the ballot. But Strake said the secretary of state's office said the GOP did not "have a leg to stand on" because Andrew's filing fee had not been paid. "I think he would have had a very good chance at (beating Dickson). That's a district in which the numbers are very good for us, and we would have liked to have a candidate on there," Strake said.

The decision came Wednesday as both parties certified results from their March 8 primaries.

The GOP canvass confirmed Vice President George Bush's big win in Texas, a victory that gave him all 111 of the state's delegates to the national convention. Bush got 648,178 votes. Pat Robertson got 155,449 and Kansas Sen. Robert Dole was third with 140,795.

The State Democratic Executive Committee canvass showed Massachusetts Gov. Michael Dukakis, with 579,533 votes, picked up 43 Texas delegates to the national convention. Jesse Jackson, with 433,259 votes, got 42; Tennessee Sen. Albert Gore Jr., with 356,772 votes, won 25; and Missouri Rep. Richard Gephardt, with 239,939 votes, got nine.

Sixty-four more Democratic delegates will be selected at the state convention in June.

State Democratic Chairman Robert Slagle warned his executive committee that bitter brawling within the party could cost Democrats the chance to carry the state in November.

"I think we would do well if we keep our passions within due bounds and remember we are all Democrats, and we all are going to have to come together after the national convention to attempt to elect whatever it is we come out with," Slagle told the committee.

"That is not going to be an easy task, and there is no point in us handicapping ourselves by having a lot of savage in-fighting going on in the party between now and then," he said.

Also Wednesday, the SDEC unanimously approved a resolution supporting the Harris County Democratic Executive Committee's effort to write rules to restrict the power of Claude Jones, a Lyndon LaRouche supporter who surprised party officials by winning the Harris County chairmanship on March 8.

Jones takes office May 2. The resolution said Jones' "background and openly voiced goals and values are heavily repugnant" to Democrats.

"We got a little careless and a little sloppy," Slagle said of the Jones win.

Bailout could cost 5 billion dollars

DALLAS (AP) — Texas Sen. Lloyd Bentsen says it could cost up to $5 billion to prop up First RepublicBank Corp., but he says federal regulators are prepared to help the bank holding company avoid a financial collapse.

Separately, the First RepublicBank said it suffered an unspecified runoff of deposits Tuesday, the day it announced it was seeking federal aid, but added the situation had stabilized on Wednesday.

Bentsen said Wednesday he spoke with Federal Reserve Chairman Alan Greenspan, Robert L. Clarke, the comptroller of the currency, and L. William Seidman, chairman of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

"I've been assured that all of those financial institutions are standing by to help," Bentsen said. "They're going to do all they can to see that this situation is stabilized."

Bentsen said the Senate Banking Committee gave him the $5 billion figure, but he also said he did not believe there were any definitive figures yet on the cost of a rescue plan.

First RepublicBank, the state's biggest banking company, acknowledged Tuesday it had been forced to seek federal aid because of a deteriorating loan portfolio and difficulty in raising deposits.

A First RepublicBank spokesman said Wednesday the bank experienced a runoff of deposits on Tuesday, but that the situation apparently had stabilized. An earlier drain of deposits and customer defections had forced it to begin preliminary discussions with the FDIC, the spokesman said.

"Tuesday there was a significant amount of activity, and there were some deposit outflows," the spokesman said. "But there were no lines or confusion in our branches or banks."

The spokesman did not quantify the size of the deposit outflows.

The FDIC is prepared to assist with capital and the Federal Reserve with liquidity, Bentsen said.

"Each of these regulatory powers have assured me they will do everything they can that is necessary to keep that situation from unraveling," he said.

Bentsen said the agencies would ensure First RepublicBank branches statewide remained open, but would not comment on the status of the holding company.

Questionable votes found

GROESBECK, Texas (AP) — Limestone County officials say they have discovered 15 questionable votes cast in the recent primary election in which a race for district judge was decided by a single vote.

Thirteen of the 15 votes were cast in the Democratic primary, in which District Judge P.K. Reiter defeated Monte Akers, 4,501-4,500. An official recount is scheduled within the next two weeks.

Inmate found dead in prison cell

CLEVELAND, Texas (AP) — The Texas Rangers are investigating the death of a drug informant found dead in his jail cell about five hours after he was arrested.

An autopsy has been ordered on the body of Kenneth Simpson, 30, who was found dead about 4:34 a.m. Wednesday, Cleveland Police Chief Harley Lovings said.

Justice of the Peace Charlie Morgan, who conducted an inquest, said he found no outward indications Simpson had suffered a violent death. More than 100 people went to the police station Wednesday demanding information about Simpson's death, but they left peacefully after some of them talked to Mayor Richard Boyett.

Simpson was arrested after an officer went to his home demanding a pen he believed Simpson had taken Tuesday night from the police station, where he had gone to get the telephone number of the U.S. Marshal.
