

Shuttle blasts off spectacularly today

Comeback mission returns America to space

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — More than 2½ years after the trauma and tragedy of the Challenger disaster, the shuttle Discovery rocketed spectacularly from its launch pad today, carrying five astronauts on a comeback mission that would return America to space.

"Good luck and Godspeed," was the sendoff from Launch Control.

Riding two redesigned booster rockets, the winged spacecraft blasted off its perch at 11:37 a.m. EDT. Liftoff was delayed 98 minutes while NASA awaited a shift in peculiarly light winds along the Discovery flight path. The ship, with Navy Capt.

Frederick Hauck in command, was headed for an initial orbit about 110 miles above earth.

"America returns to space as Discovery clears the tower," said NASA launch commentator Hugh Harris.

Trailing a 700-foot geyser of fire, Discovery vaulted from pad 39B and within seconds rolled into its desired course to orbit. An estimated quarter-million people watched from roads, river banks and other viewing spots in the Kennedy Space Center area.

The atmosphere was tense as the shuttle moved through the stage of maximum aerodynamic stress at which Challenger broke apart, dooming its crew of seven on Jan. 28 1986 just 73 seconds after liftoff.

Two minutes and four seconds after launch, the flight passed its most critical milestone when its two 149-foot-tall solid fuel booster rockets burned out on schedule and jettisoned toward the Atlantic Ocean.

The failure of a joint in one booster allowed flames to escape and trigger the Challenger explosion. The accident triggered hundreds of modifications to the shuttle and a new launch-oversight procedure in which former astronaut Robert Crippen held one-man authority to approve launch.

He did, sending the shuttle toward orbit through partially cloudy skies.

The morning countdown was smooth, excepting Florida's fickle weather. Spacecraft computers, configured to expect autumn winds in a certain range, did not have adequate data to steer the craft through weak winds at high altitude. NASA waited until conditions improved, abandoning its original 9:59 a.m. launch target.

Had the winds remained unacceptable, officials would have scrubbed the launch effort for the day.

"Stay with us, I think we'll make it," the launch director Bob Sieck told the astronauts after receiving an improving wind analysis. Hauck joked in reply, "We don't want this thing to leave without us."

Hauck and his crew of four veteran astronauts donned their orange, specially pressurized flight suits and drew enthusiastic cheers as they left to board the $1.5 billion spacecraft. Once on board they had to overcome problems with cooling systems in two of the space suits.

Hauck's crew included Air Force Col. Richard Covey; Marine Lt. Col. David C. Hilmers; John M. Lounge; and George D. "Pinky" Nelson.

Ask Us

Q. — Is it legal for a company with 20-25 employees to not have workman's comp insurance?

A. — Texas law does not require workman's compensation insurance, but there is a catch. Texas courts have ruled that if an employee is injured on the job, employers essentially have no defense against claims made against them.

Pointeau family will face deadline with brief reprieve

By DONNY BROWN
SDN Managing Editor

While they have received no official word from the U.S. Dept. of Immigration, the Jack Pointeau family has been notified that efforts on their behalf to help them stay in the U.S. should for the time being circumvent the Friday, Sept. 30 date they were given for "departure" from the U.S.

The family, which operates the Trevelodge here and has graduated three of four children from Snyder High School, were notified Sept. 8 that an "investor's permit" issued through the department would not be renewed.

With that notification, the Immigration Service indicated they would be expected to "depart" the country by Sept. 30.

Last Thursday, U.S. Rep. Charles Stenholm (D-Stamford) filed a private bill on behalf of the family seeking a permanent visa for them. If granted, pending a five-year waiting period, the family could be considered for citizenship in the U.S.

Thursday, the family was notified by Stenholm's office that this legislation would likely be sufficient to warrant a reconsideration of their case with the federal agency.

In addition, a motion for reconsideration in the case has been filed, although no word regarding this motion has been received either.

"We were told it might take a week to six months before we have a reply," Jack Pointeau said Thursday.

Snyder CofC nominates four to fill vacant board positions

Chamber directors have approved four nominees for the 12-member chamber board and the membership is now being polled for any further nominations.

Those proposed by a special chamber-nominating committee include Cindy Banta, owner-operator of Suits Us men's clothing store; Fran Farmer, vice president and manager of Olney Savings and Loan; Joe Sentell, longtime insurance man; and Eddie Williams, owner of ABC Rent-All and Williams Construction.

Under chamber bylaws, the membership now has a 10-day period to propose any other candidates. This must be done by a petition bearing the signatures of at least 10 other members of the chamber.

If no other names are submitted, the four nominated by committee will be considered and elected by the chamber board at its regular October meeting scheduled the 18th.

Directors serve three-year terms beginning Jan. 1 of each year.

Cogdell surgeon accepts new post

Dr. Mark Pate, one of two local surgeons on staff at Cogdell Memorial Hospital, will be accepting a position with a Texarkana group practice effective Nov. 1.

Pate, who has practiced medicine here since the spring of 1984, will be joining the Southern Clinic, a multi-specialty group practice.

His area of specialty will include general surgery and endoscopic surgery, which involves the use of an endoscope for such procedures as gastro-intestinal surgery.

Pate said the opportunity to perform these more highly specialized types of operations was the main factor in his decision to relocate from Snyder.

"That's what I trained in as my area of interest going back to medical school," he said.

Regarding the decision to leave, he noted, "It wasn't something I had even thought about. It's just that this opportunity to develop further professional skills came up."

With the Southern Clinic, Pate will be associated with both St. Michael's Hospital and Wadley Medical Center Hospital in Texarkana.

He said his decision to leave was made last Wednesday and that the offer to relocate had been extended only some two weeks prior to that.

He notified the Cogdell Memorial Hospital Board of his decision last Thursday and has since that time been notifying his patients.

He said he will likely close out his practice here by mid or late October. The more specialized surgical procedures he practiced here are expected to be handled at least for a brief time through a Sweetwater-based surgeon.

Pate and his wife Margie have two children, Christina, age 4, and Russell, age 9. Locally, he is a member of Rotary and a director with United Way.

Buff auction changes to gain more bidders

Chamber officials say they have scaled down their meal-offering for Saturday's White Buffalo Days four-part auction to attract larger crowds but they add the list of items offered for bid will be as large as in past years.

Rather than a sit-down dinner, Saturday's meal will be hors d'oeuvres. The cost will be $10 per person this year as opposed to past costs of up to $25.

The event serves as the major fund raiser for the annual White Buffalo Days celebration, scheduled for a day-long spectacle the following weekend, Oct. 8.

This Saturday's event will begin at 7 p.m. at the Willow

Park Inn.

In addition to the "finger food," those attending will have the chance to bid at a signature auction, silent auction, blind auction and live auction on merchandise that has been donated by 112 local merchants.

Among the more notable items, organizers said, will be a one-third carat diamond from Haney's Jewelry, a Dec. 18 trip to see a Dallas Cowboys game from McDonald's, an Indian vase from Special Moments and an Elephant Walk purse from Margaret's.

Tommy Marricle will be the auctioneer and Jerry Baird the master of ceremonies.

The SDN Column

By Roy McQueen

The feller on Deep Creek says, "Careful grooming may take 20 years off your age—but it will never fool a flight of stairs."

Preachers have a tough job. In addition to enduring comments about one-day work weeks, they have to please a variety of people—all with different needs and different personalities.

We were reminded of this when we heard a story about a new preacher in town. The congregation was made up of farmers and ranchers, all who were wishing for a much-needed rain.

Some of the church leaders suggested that the new minister include a special prayer for rain during his next sermon.

The rural church was his first assignment right out of school, and he was eager to please. He pledged to devote the entire Sunday service to an appeal for rain.

The preacher made big plans and spread the word in the community. That Sunday morning the church was full. The minister was forceful and enthusiastic. He prayed, he cried, and he implored. The appeal went on for more than two hours.

Finally exhausted, the preacher slumped to the floor and a skeptical congregation filed out. But before long, dark clouds began to gather. Thunder was heard accompanied by brilliant lightning. The rain had indeed arrived.

It came down in torrents. The dry ground drank it up, and the farmers and ranchers in the congregation rejoiced. But the rain didn't stop. Before the topsoil began to wash away, crops were drowned and fields were water-logged.

The farmers and ranchers gathered at the coffee shop. "Well," said one, "the Lord sure heard our prayer for rain. But he kind of overdid it."

"It's not his fault," said one of the deacons. "We wanted a simple prayer, but that young whipper-snapper gave us a whole revival. The Lord just sent what we asked for. It's what we get for hiring a preacher who don't know nothin' about farming."

DR. GOTT
Various symptoms of a child's disease

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: When my nephew was a year old, he had a high fever for days. When it broke he developed hives all over, became horribly swollen, and had red blotches between the hives. He now is 5, has colds and allergies all the time, dark circles under his eyes, and gets bluish-white around his mouth when he is tired or hot. His doctor at the time of his original illness said to watch for "mucocutaneous lymph node syndrome." What is this?

DEAR READER: Mucocutaneous lymph node syndrome is also known as Kawasaki Syndrome. It occurs in young children as a rash, red eyes, swollen glands and fever, followed in some cases by arthritis, pneumonia, meningitis and heart inflammation. The cause is unknown and no specific therapy is available, although recent reports indicated that intravenous gamma globulin may reduce the incidence of complications.

Unfortunately, the fatality rate is about 2 percent, almost always within six months. However, the most dreaded consequence of Kawasaki Syndrome is coronary artery aneurysm, a weakness in the wall of one or more blood vessels supplying the heart muscle. The aneurysms can cause trouble as long as 10 years after the illness.

Your nephew is probably safe at this point because I doubt that he had Kawasaki Syndrome. Nonetheless, his pediatrician is the best judge of the child's health status and whether further tests ought to be performed.

DEAR DR. GOTT: My mother and my husband say I sleep too hard. They can't wake me. Is this a problem?

DEAR READER: People show amazing variations in both their sleep patterns and the depth of their sleep. Some individuals are extremely light sleepers and awaken at the drop of a hat. Others sleep so deeply that they must be aroused by shaking. Still others can ambulate and carry out complex tasks while asleep. In large part, sound sleep is related to fatigue; the more tired you are, the deeper your sleep.

Unless your mother and husband are unable to wake you in extreme circumstances — if the building is on fire, for example — you have a problem only if your deep sleep causes apnea, periods when you stop breathing. If you are experiencing sleep apnea, you should see a physician. For more information, I am sending you a copy of my Health Report "Sleep/Wake Disorders." Dear Abby

AIDS Is Eye-Opener for Wife Who's Looked the Other Way

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1988 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for many years to a man who has cheated on me since our honeymoon. In the beginning, it hurt, but I chose this man, and there have been good times along with the bad.

Because of the publicity about AIDS, I have begged him to get an AIDS test, but he refuses. He travels for business reasons, and although I am not aware of any serious relationships, I know there have been countless one-night stands.

Abby, there must be an entire group of middle-aged wives out there like me who have "looked the other way" for one reason or another. How do they handle this AIDS problem? And have you any concrete advice for us?

MIDDLE-AGED WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Most wives who know that their husbands have been playing around within the last seven years are as frightened as you are. The smart ones refuse to engage in unprotected sex. (This means using condoms and a spermicide containing nonoxonyl 9 whenever they have sex.)

The fact that your husband has not had a long-term relationship is no cause for complacency. The more partners he has, the greater his risk of being exposed to the AIDS virus. (Most prostitutes have been.) AIDS is on the increase among heterosexuals because many are not aware that they are carriers.

DEAR ABBY: I won $10,000 in a church raffle. I bought the raffle ticket from a co-worker thinking I never had a chance; I stuck it in my wallet and forgot about it.

When I learned that I had won, I gave the woman who sold me the ticket $300 as a gesture of appreciation.

Later, I was told that she thought she was entitled to more than $300 for a $10,000 win. (I would have been delightfully happy if someone handed me a $300 gift.)

Maybe I'm naive, but is the person who sold me the ticket entitled to a certain percentage of the winnings? Someone suggested that 10 percent would be "about right."

PERPLEXED IN JERSEY

DEAR PERPLEXED: Unless a deal has been made beforehand, the seller is not "entitled" to anything. You gave her a $300 gift, which was very generous. Most people who sell a winning raffle ticket don't even get a verbal "thank you."

DEAR ABBY: I am writing in reference to the lady in Colorado who mourns the loss of her beloved cat, Tissiack. (Her grief was even more painful because she had paid so little attention to Tissiack. She thinks her pet died of a broken heart.)

I read her letter with tears in my eyes, so the next day when I came home from work, I found "Babs," my faithful cat, at her usual welcoming spot. Instead of giving her just a pat on the head, I scooped her up in my arms and said, "This one's for Tissiack." Then I gave her a great big hug.

Abby, I feel bad to think that it took someone's grief to make me realize that all pets need affection, and when they're constantly ignored, their feelings are hurt and they can lose their will to live, as Tissiack did.

I hope things are better for Tissiack's owner now. I just want to let her know that from now on, I am giving Babs a great big hug every day just for being mine — and another one for Tissiack.

ROBERT S., WEST PALM BEACH

DEAR ROBERT: A lot of cats (and dogs, too) are going to get a lot of extra loving — thanks to Tissiack.

Problems? What's bugging you? Unload on Abby, P.O. Box 69440, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. For a personal, unpublished reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Assets reportedly unaccounted for

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — A trustee representing creditors of T. Cullen Davis claims that millions of dollars once counted among the assets of the Fort Worth oilman remain unaccounted for in bankruptcy records.

The assets include proceeds from stock sales and rare art objects that were once counted among Davis' assets, Twalla DuPriest, trustee for the creditors, told U.S. Bankruptcy Judge Massie Tillmon in a court document.

Davis, who has been waging a legal battle since July 1987 to declare bankruptcy and escape paying an estimated $865 million in debts, suffered a setback in court Wednesday when a federal bankruptcy judge ordered his attorney to produce financial records detailing the one-time billionaire's income over the last several years.

Man suspected in check scheme

DALLAS (AP) — A man suspected of using credit cards and personal checks under assumed names, possibly including some professional athletes, is under investigation by Dallas County authorities, a prosecutor says.

Investigators have recovered $250,000 in stolen property during their investigation of Solomon Hobbs Jr., 25, who was being held Wednesday on check theft charges in the Collin County jail at McKinney.

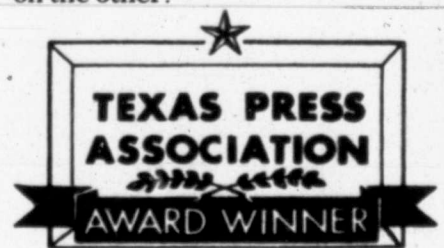

Hobbs was charged in Oklahoma with passing bad checks in 1985, but Dallas investigators were reluctant to give many details of their investigation.

"I can confirm that we have Solomon Hobbs under investigation here in Dallas County," Assistant District Attorney Ted Steinke, chief of the specialized crime division, said. "We are in the possession of a lot of documentation and evidence seized through the use of search warrants, and we are in the process of reviewing that documentation and reviewing the evidence."

Police at Midwest City, Okla., asked the Oklahoma County district attorney's office in 1985 to file charges against Hobbs, a police spokesman said. Hobbs was accused of stealing more than $20,000 from a local bank through a fraudulent checking account.

Sid Stell, spokesman for the Midwest City Police Department, said, "it was determined that Hobbs has the names and addresses of several professional athletes."

Kelly Kristine Powell, identified by investigators as an associate of Hobbs, pleaded guilty earlier this year in Dallas County to two charges of credit card abuse and was sentenced to eight years in prison on one charge and 10 years' probation on the other.

North raised to game. West's heart lead was covered by dummy's queen and East's king, and declarer grabbed the trick with his ace.

Declarer went after clubs, West winning the first round. West continued the nine of hearts to dummy's jack. Declarer saw what was happening now, but it was too late. West won the second club and returned the eight of hearts. Because of the curious disposition of the heart spots, West now had two good hearts. Sooner or later South had to lead a diamond. When he did, West won and cashed two more hearts for down one.

"Unlucky," said South. "If dummy had had my six of hearts, I'd have made four no-trump. Or if West had led the nine of hearts."

Declarer was right on both counts, but it didn't help the fact that he should have made three no-trump.

On the bidding, West was known to have five hearts plus all the remaining high cards. Winning the heart at trick one would predictably result in down one. If South had recognized the potential of holding up in hearts, he would have succeeded. East would have won trick one, but declarer's three heart stoppers would be safe for the moment since East could not attack them.

One commonly used bridge technique is the holdup. Most holdups tend to be obvious and are usually handled correctly. Some holdups are a little more subtle.

When one heart was passed to South, he reopened with one no-trump and

Music lovers hear Berlin

Musical Coterie opened the 1988-'89 season with "A Night with Irving Berlin." The dinner and table decor carried out the theme and members of the Snyder High School Swingers served as waiters and serenaded members as dinner was served.

Sue Parham led a study on Berlin's early years, revealing many interesting facts of his early life. One of Berlin's first jobs was waiting tables.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lyon, accompanied by Lynn Bethel, sang songs made popular by Berlin.

Called to order by Bethel, the meeting was held Sept. 8 at Martha Ann Woman's Club. Members were reminded of their participation in White Buffalo Days.

Berlin's middle years will be featured at the Oct. 13 meeting of the club.

'Too Tall' too much for most opponents

IRVING, Texas (AP) - Ed "Too Tall" Jones would have made a great blocker for the United States Olympic volleyball team. In his last nine NFL seasons with the Dallas Cowboys, the 6-foot-9 Jones has batted down 73 enemy aerials from his left defensive end post. Dallas didn't keep records of batted passes before then.

On three occasions, including Danny Noonan's 17-yard return in a 26-20 victory over the Atlanta Falcons on Sunday, the blocks have been returned for touchdowns.

Jones, a first round draft pick in 1974, has never had the pleasure of catching one and returning it himself although he came close against the Falcons.

Dallas' defensive co-captain batted a Chris Miller pass into the air but Jones couldn't quite catch it before it hit the artificial turf.

"That would be the ultimate wouldn't it?" Jones said. "I've hit all those passes into the air yet I haven't returned one for a touchdown myself. It's kind of ironic."

His teammates kid him that he would be too slow to score anyway.

Jim Jeffcoat, the right defensive end, has returned two of Jones' tipped passes for scores, both of them against the New York Giants.

"Oh, Ed doesn't have the speed to score on one of those that's why he should leave it to me," Jeffcoat said.

Jones is the Cowboys' "iron man."

He has never missed a game in his 14-year career.

When he lines up against New Orleans on Monday night, it will be his 197th consecutive game.

"I just have a physical structure that lets me come back from injury," Jones said. "I just have a body chemistry that lets me take punishment and shake it off."

Somehow his body and his legs have been able to hold up to the pounding. The 35-year-old Jones has a career 99 1-2 sacks to prove his mobility.

"I feel great but you never know how much longer you can go," he said. "I get excited more now than I did when I was 25-years old looking forward to game day Sundays."

Fightin' Tigers host Lake View...

4-4A action kicks off Friday

Top-ranked Sweetwater tests the district waters this Friday night when 4-4A opens its 1988 season.

The undefeated Mustangs, ranked No. 1 in the state, entertain a pesky Fort Stockton ballclub in the Mustang Bowl. Fort Stockton is 1-2.

For outsiders looking in, Friday's key game could be at Monahans, where the Lobos and the Big Spring Steers both figure to bid for district runner-up honors.

Monahans is 2-1, Big Spring is 0-2 after losses to Lubbock Estacado and Plainview and a pair of open dates.

The district's only other undefeated team, Pecos, entertains Andrews. The Eagles last week popped 3A toughie Kermit 23-14 to post a 3-0 predistrict record. Andrews comes in with a 2-1 record.

The other 4-4A ballgame takes place locally, where the Snyder Tigers look to break into the win column for the first time this season. They'll take on a San Angelo Lake View team that is 2-1.

All four district ballgames are scheduled for 8 p.m. kickoffs. Locally, Snyder entertains the Chiefs at Tiger Stadium. Tickets are $4 each at the gate.

Despite the 0-3 record, Coach David Baugh's Snyder Tigers rank fifth in the district in defense, giving up 241 yards a game. The Tiger offense has been struggling, averaging just 116 yards. Snyder managed 188 yards in a 19-7 losing effort to Littlefield last week, however, and look to give Lake View problems.

Jayson Presley, with 88 yards rushing and 41 receiving, and Tommy Lane, with 60 rushing and 62 through the air, have been the top producers for the Tigers so far. Quarterback Tracy Odom has hit nine of 25 receivers for 123 yards and a pair of TDs.

Offensively isn't where the Chiefs have been hurting. The Lake View attack has cranked out 776 yards and 64 points in three games. Defensively, however, the Chiefs have allowed 934 yards and 58 points against them.

Lake View is led by quarterback Will Burney, who has connected with his receivers 28 of 53 times for 348 yards and two touchdowns. Tony Allen has five of those catches for 97 yards while at least three other receivers have four or more.

In Sweetwater, Fort Stockton will find a team which has a high-energy offense and a stingy defense. The Mustangs are averaging almost 400 yards offensively a game - with Kenneth Norman's 198.3 leading the way - and are giving up a paltry 54.3. Norman, who already has six touchdowns on the season, has romped for 585 yards rushing in three ballgames.

Fort Stockton's top threat is quarterback Pete Martinez, who leads a balanced Panther attack. Martinez has thrown for 442 yards and three touchdowns. His favorite target has been Joe Parks, who has pulled in 13 passes for 214 yards.

Despite an 0-2 record, the Big Spring Steers go into their game at Monahans ranked second in offense, churning out 371.5 yards per game. The problem is the Steer defense, which is allowing a league-high 375 yards and 32 points.

Tony Lewis has caught nine passes for 206 yards and two touchdowns for the Steers.

Meanwhile, the days of Charles Thompson are gone for Monahans, but the Lobos still have talent. Ronnie Ramsey figures to contend for district honors at tailback. He already has 223 yards on 35 carries - a 6.4 yard per-carry average.

Pecos boasts scrambling quarterback Bobby Ray Smith, who has thrown for 236 yards and four scores and run for another 142 steps. He is averaging 126 yards a game for the Eagles.

Andrews gets its punch from an attack that includes running back Mike Hernandez (50 carries for 217 yards, 5 TDs).

Cats play this evening

Snyder freshmen take an undefeated record into tonight's 6 p.m. game with San Angelo Eddison at Travis Field.

The Cats, 4-0, haven't been scored on in 12 quarters. Also in action will be the Tiger junior varsity, 1-2 on the season. The JV plays Lake View in San Angelo at 7:30 p.m. Snyder junior high teams are idle this weekend.

Area six-man roundup...

Ira to battle Borden County

IRA - After a couple of years aiming in different directions, one of the area's best rivalries resumes here Friday night when the Ira Bulldogs entertain the Coyotes of Borden County High School.

The ballgame, celebrated as part of Ira's homecoming activities, is set for a 7:30 p.m. kickoff.

The contest is a non-district one. Ira hails from 7-1A, Borden from 6-1A.

Hermleigh and Trent are idle

Friday, preparing for the Oct. 7 start of District 7-1A play. In other games involving 7-1A teams this Friday, Highland visits Paint Creek, Blackwell hosts Panther Creek and six-man newcomer Loraine tries Christoval.

The Loraine-at-Christoval battle features one of the state's top matchups. Christoval is ranked second in the state while Loraine, which moved down to six-man ball this season, is ranked eighth.

Ira goes into Friday's contest with a 2-2 season record. The Bulldogs lost by six points to ninth-ranked Jayton (20-14) and by only two points to Wilson (46-44).

Borden, seemingly the underdog at 1-3 on the season, was soundly defeated by both Jayton (57-12) and Wilson (62-16), as well as state ranked New Home (40-22).

Sox still looking for title

The Boston Red Sox keep trying to blow the American League East, but the rest of the division won't let them.

The Red Sox lost again Wednesday night, falling 1-0 as the Toronto Blue Jays completed a three-game sweep at Fenway Park. Still, Boston's magic number for clinching the division is still two because New York and Detroit also lost.

"Good, we love it," Red Sox manager Joe Morgan said. "That's the best news we've had."

The Yankees, who lost 2-0 to last-place Baltimore, and the Tigers, who were defeated 4-2 by Cleveland, each stayed 3½ games behind. Milwaukee managed to close within 2½ games by beating California 4-3.

Elsewhere, Oakland downed Minnesota 5-2, Chicago beat Texas 3-2 and the Seattle at Kansas City game was rained out.

'Kitten' now leads rejuvenated, happy life

KILLEEN, Texas (AP) — For a little more than seven years, Lauren Chapin was America's perfect little sister.

But when her career ended, the child actress who played "Kitten" became a drug addict, unwed mother and prison inmate.

During her traumatic and turbulent adolescence, Ms. Chapin became a has-been at 14, married at 16 and a heroin addict by her early 20s.

She spent three years in prison and bore two children out of wedlock.

But today she has found solace as a born-again Christian and as a high school science teacher in the small central Texas town of Killeen. "In Killeen, of all places," Chapin laughs. "It's neat. I'm not their token actress. My friends here love me for who I am now, for what I do now, not who I was."

Kathy Anderson, or Kitten to her TV father, played by Robert Young, in the 1950s comedy "Father Knows Best," is now 43.

Her once brown hair is strawberry blond, her face angular and unfreckled, her childhood chubbiness trimmed down now in tight jeans and T-shirt. But when she breaks into her cheek-splitting grin and pealing laughter the kid Kathy Anderson comes through loud and clear.

"I tried a lot of philosophies before I found the peace I'd been looking for," she said. "But when I did, my life changed. There was a boldness that I had not had before — the ability to say: 'This is where I have been. This is what I have come through. This is where I am. Let me, by example, show you the pitfalls.'"

The third show-biz child of non-show-biz parents, won her first part before her seventh birthday, defeating 250 other girls to play the youngest offspring in "Father Knows Best."

Ms. Chapin says the TV show cast almost was a family and when the series ended suddenly she was not prepared.

"They never even said goodbye. We left one Friday night and got a letter that we were not to return to work. It was total abandonment," she said.

As a short-statured, baby-faced 14-year-old, type cast to millions as the all-American little sister, she found herself icily rejected by the industry, she said.

She attempted to return to school, but it was a discipline for which she was unprepared, she said.

"I never went to school longer than a month, and it was hard to acclimate, to talk their lingo and try to fit in, especially when you're a movie star, and the kids think you're conceited," Ms. Chapin told the Dallas Times Herald. "They don't make friends with you, and I was an insecure child who didn't know how to relate to other children."

At home, Ms. Chapin's mother was a creative, classically trained pianist supportive of her daughter's ambitions.

Third conviction just the beginning

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The conviction of three Mexican nationals in a U.S. drug agent's murder in Mexico is being hailed by federal law enforcement officials as "only the beginning" toward bringing all the killers to justice.

"Our goal is to see that everyone who participated in the torture and kidnapping and murder of agent Enrique Camarena is brought to justice," U.S. Attorney Robert Bonner told reporters after Wednesday's verdict against the third of three co-defendants.

In Washington, John C. Lawn, chief of the Drug Enforcement Administration, said he will press "the crusade for justice" in Camarena's killing, which authorities allege was masterminded by reputed Mexican drug baron Rafael Caro Quintero.

Crash of bomber one year ago recalled

ABILENE, Texas (AP) — A year after a B-1B based at Dyess Air Force Base collided with a lumbering pelican, killing three officers, the love affair between man and machine still seems to be as strong as it did before the tragedy.

Many mourned for the three wives who were widowed a year ago Wednesday and the four children left fatherless in the nation's first crash of a controversial B-1B. But others wondered how a $282 million, state-of-the-art war machine could be downed by a bird.

Accident investigators later said the 15-to-20-pound North American white pelican struck the supersonic plane "like a bowling ball at the speed of sound." The bomber exploded in a brilliant fireball over a Colorado prairie. Three on board parachuted to safety.

With stinging criticism of the plane compounding their pain of personal loss, the men and women of the 96th Bomb Wing who fly and maintain the B-1B rallied around "their" plane as closely as they did the survivors.

Elaine Whitlock wasn't notified for nearly 12 hours that her husband, Maj. Wayne D. Whitlock, had been killed, but she said she "knew it in my heart" within minutes of the 10:54 a.m. crash.

She said she had a premonition two nights before "that something terrible was going to happen." Then, she said, God gave her a peace with it.

"When the peace came, I knew that meant the Lord would be with me, and there would be light at the end of the tunnel," she told the Abilene Reporter-News.

She buried her 39-year-old husband in his family's plot in his native Tennessee on Oct. 13, one day after their 13th anniversary. Then she returned to Abilene to start what she calls "the rebuilding process" with her daughter, Amy, now 12, and son, Scott, nearly 8.

She says the compassion shown her by her Abilene friends has convinced her to remain here.

Meanwhile, the family of the ill-fated plane's pilot, Maj. James T. Acklin, moved from Abilene only recently.

After burying her husband in Indiana, Rose Acklin remained in Abilene so that sons, Jamie, then 13, and Joey, then 9, could finish up the school year. The family later moved to a suburb of South Bend, Ind., Mrs. Acklin's hometown, so the boys could begin school there.

Acklin, 37, a senior pilot with more than 3,500 hours of flying time, was a graduate of Notre Dame. Investigators believe he heroically attempted to keep the burning plane airborne long enough for Whitlock and Capt. Ricky Bean, the student pilot, to attempt a manual bailout — but there was not enough time.

According to the official accident report, Acklin's ejection seat failed. Whitlock and Bean were in "jump seats" which are not equipped with an ejection system.

French family awaiting news

Regarding Stenholm's bill, he said it is hoped there will be an indication at least by next week from a sub-committee studying it.

With the U.S. Congress to adjourn in early October, it is doubtful the bill could be passed during this session. A favorable recommendation from the sub-committee will serve as a go-ahead to re-introduce it when the body reconvenes in January, however.

As part of documentation for both the bill and the new hearing application, copies of petitions generated locally were sent last Thursday.

When picked up, those petitions netted 1,837 names of individuals supporting the family's efforts to stay in Snyder and the U. S. Those names were received in just more than a one-week period.

The family arrived in America for a visit in the fall of 1981 and later decided to make their visit a permanent move by purchasing a motel in California.

To stay in the U.S., they applied for and received an E-2 visa, a so-called "investor's visa," in September of 1982.

In February of 1983, they sold the California motel and relocated to Snyder after having learned that the Travelodge here was for sale.
