Sue can never quite be replaced at The Enterprise.

Oh, we'll get another society editor; one who can take care of women's news, general news, feature stories, office duties, and maybe even write a column. But even if she can do all those things Susy has done for a year and a half, "there'll never be another Sue."

Susy was a "first" for us; she has a natural nose for news; Mesdames Jordan, Critchfield, Fancher, Featherngill, Nichols, Hall.

she has an insatiable enthusiasm; an enviable way of getting along with people; a matchless devotion to her job.

We miss her very much, as I'm sure our readers do. But we wish for her the very best of all things; especially right now, the very best of health.

TAKE CARE OF YOURSELF, SUE!

Mrs. H. A. Hysinger—one of our long-time phone buddies—nominates a "good neighbor of the year"—Faye (Mrs. C. T. Hulsey).

"For over a year," Mrs. Hysinger says, "Mrs. Hulsey made trips to the A. G. Cooper home to give him shots day and night. She never missed, except when he was hospitalized. She did the washing, drying and ironing for Mr. and Mrs. Cooper; she even canned their corn. All this—in addition to taking care of her own three children."

And the world is a heap more livable because of Faye Hulseys.

"Splash" was the theme the steering committee chose for this year's senior scout conference a few days ago. Mrs. Paul Burrus was so impressed with their ideas that she brought the program, favors, etc., down to The Enterprise.

We thought the menu for the banquet dinner especially clever; you might get some ideas for banquets yourself. See if you can figure out what the girls really had to eat; here's their menu:

- Avalanche
- Thunder Bolts
- Icebergs
- Snow Balls
- Rain
- Dew Drops
- Hail Stones
- Lightning
- Sleet

Five-year-old Johnny Lewis seems to have already mastered the indirect approach.

Before leaving for Lubbock the other day, his mommy had put some stew on to cook so lunch would be ready when they returned. But Johnny certainly does like to eat out. And about mid-morning, he cautiously approached the subject:

"Daddy, I surely wish Mother hadn't fixed that stew, don't you?"

Not much response . . . so a little later:

"You know, that stew surely would be good for supper." . . . And it was.

Just take the shade off a table lamp, turn the lamp on, and fit the sleeve over the light bulb. Home-made steam iron! You've never seen a puffer sleeve. No squashed effect; no crease down the middle of the sleeve.

Caution: Put on your sunglasses or you won't be able to finish ironing for about five minutes.

It must, indeed, seem a dirty trick to play on a little three-and-a-half year old boy, to take him to the hospital feeling perfectly tip-top, and waken him a few hours later with the sorest sore throat imaginable!

But such is the way with tonsillectomies!

BADGES TO BE GIVEN MONDAY AT PACK MEET

Cub Scouts, Troop 120, will hold a pack meeting Monday night at 8 o'clock in the fire station.

A number of badges will be presented the cubs.

Cubmaster Charles A. McClain states:

"A number of boys are wanting to join cub scouts but are unable to because of the shortage of den mothers. You do not have to have children in cub scouts in order to be a den mother. Anyone interested please contact me or V. L. Smith.

Protection of His Vision Is Protection of His Future

Your child should have a thorough, professional eye examination before another school term rolls past. Eighty-five per cent of his future earning capacity and his ability to learn will be attained through vision.

But be sure he gets an adequate visual examination. Beware of "quickie" eye tests and assembly-line testing and fitting methods. Look for the seal of the Texas Optometric Association. It's your guide to thorough, competent service. There's more to good vision than glasses at a price.

TIPS FOR SURVIVAL

FCDA Offers Practical Defense Against Fallout

In a split second during the pre-dawn hours of a morning in November 1952, radioactive fallout came of age as a potential hazard to every living thing.

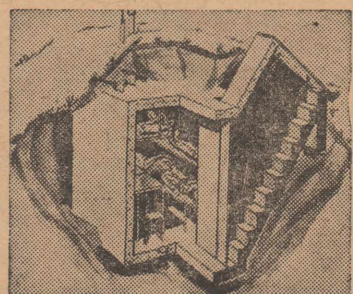

Since then, millions of words have been written and spoken about it. We are told that it cannot be detected by any of the human senses, only by radiation detection devices. It can hitch a ride on the wind for hundreds of miles from a nuclear blast, settle to earth even in remote places and make entire areas temporarily uninhabitable.

BUT WHAT, ACTUALLY, is fallout? Can its movement be predicted? And what can people do to protect against it? Fallout is nothing more than tiny dust particles blasted into the air when a nuclear weapon's fireball intersects the earth's surface. This material is then made radioactive by the fireball, and thus carries dangerous radiation to wherever the dust falls.

By plotting high-altitude winds, weather men can predict the area of fallout, and tell approximately where it will land. Radiological monitoring would then establish specific fallout patterns.

People can protect themselves mainly by staying under cover, and tuning a battery-operated radio to emergency civil defense frequencies for expert instructions. A basement makes a fair shelter, an old-fashioned root cellar an excellent one. This is because only 1/5,000th of the radiation that would hit a person in the open will penetrate three feet of earth.

MOST IMPORTANT, remember that fallout leaves no margin for errors, or amateurs. For example, just because the surface wind is blowing from a "safe" direction doesn't mean that the winds above 10,000 feet—which would usually dominate the direction of fallout—weren't blowing some other way. Only the experts have the equipment to predict fallout areas.

FALLOUT shelter designed by the Federal Civil Defense Administration would provide almost complete protection from fallout at low cost if built as a do-it-yourself project. It would also be a welcome tornado and hurricane haven. (FCDA Photo)

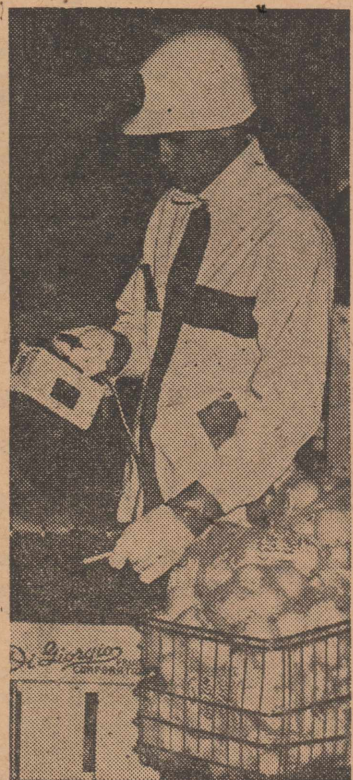

Duncan Infant Services Held

Graveside rites for the infant granddaughter of Mrs. Bill Dennis were held last week in San Jose, Calif.

The baby is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Duncan; a sister, Becky; maternal grandparents; Mrs. Dennis; and an aunt, Mrs. F. C. Crowder of Olton.

VISIT SLUDERS

Rev. and Mrs. E. M. Jennings of Austin were dinner guests in the Tom Sluder home recently. The J. A. Ragler called later in the evening. Rev. Jennings formerly was pastor of Cumberland Presbyterian Church here.

RADIOLOGICAL monitor at Springfield, Ill., food store uses "survey meter" to measure mock "fallout" during Operation Alert 1956. Thousands of these and similar instruments are being stockpiled, and personnel are being trained by the Federal Civil Defense Administration against the day when they would provide the only way to detect "hot" areas and warn people to avoid contaminated articles.

Mrs. Herman Rose will be favored Tuesday afternoon with a post-nuptial party in the home of Mrs. E. R. Higgins.

VISIT SON

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Boykin of Childress visited Tuesday and Wednesday in the home of their son and family, the W. J. Boykins.

Interior decorating was originated as a profession by Elsie de Wolfe, Lady Mendil.

It took 1,000 artists three years to make the movie "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs."

Texas Law Says You Must Stop For School Buses

Thousands of school children are now trooping back to school throughout Texas. Many of them will be transported by school buses. Most people are careful when approaching a school bus which may be standing beside the road or school to pick up school children or allow them to alight. However, we have already had some very bad accidents this year because a child or a motorist, or both, were careless at that very time.

Most Texans are aware of the law which requires a driver to come to a complete stop when overtaking from the rear a school bus which has stopped to receive or discharge school children. After stopping immediately behind the bus, he is then allowed by law to proceed past same at a speed "which is prudent, not exceeding ten (10) miles per hour, and with due caution for the safety of such children."

What many persons do not realize is that the very same rule applies when MEETING a stopped school bus. While everyone is interested in protecting our children, unthinking violators of this simple safety rule greatly outnumber those who comply. Failure to follow the law in this case can lead to fines up to $200.00 even when no accident occurs. Following an accident in which some child is injured or killed, the penalties are naturally much more serious.

Although the above rule does not always apply when passing a stopped school bus in a business or residential district of a town, the necessity for extreme caution even in those locations is obvious.

When it comes to overtaking and passing moving vehicles, exercise of ordinary common sense will generally keep a driver within the law. For instance, when passing a car it is only common sense to proceed on past it a safe distance before cutting back to the right side of the highway. Also, any driver would realize the danger of increasing his speed while another is attempting to pass him.

In the same category is the prohibition against passing on the right under most ordinary conditions. Of course, you may legally pass on the right in a few specific instances, such as when the vehicle overtaken is making or about to make a left turn, or upon a one-way street with two or more lanes, or upon a four-lane highway.

However, our traffic laws state that even when passing on the right is allowed, it shall be done only under conditions permitting such movement in safety. And in no event should such passing be accomplished by driving off the pavement or main-traveled portion of the roadway.

Familiar to all are the no passing zones designated by dash lines placed to one side of the center stripe on our highways. Not so well known are the restrictions against crossing the center line when approaching within 100 feet of or when traversing any intersection or railroad grade crossing.

A driver should never cross the center line of a highway when the left side of the road is not clearly visible and free of oncoming traffic. Generally speaking, when not engaged in passing another vehicle, one should not drive to the left of

To survive, little pigs must have heat. Under natural conditions they depend on each other and good weather for their heat. Little pigs piling up creates a hazard, and the weather is unpredictable; also the mother sow often rolls over or lies down on the piglets crushing out their lives. The next best bet (safe, too) is the artificial heat created by electric energy.

While most pig raisers will use electric heat lamps, Panhandle Agricultural and Mechanical College at Goodwell, Oklahoma, has been using a manufactured brooder for the last nine years.

Baby pigs get the heat they need to survive in a safe dry corner of the pen, under the electric brooder.

Grants Move To Carlsbad

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Grant, who lived in Olton for a number of years, moved three weeks ago. They are now living in Carlsbad, NM.

Sunday, the C. W. Grants and Mrs. E. A. Iverson and Timmy visited in Carlsbad.

the center of the roadway.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Harvest Tempo Increasing

Harvest activity accelerated this week but farmers were complaining of a shortage of hands.

The six ginning firms serving the Olton area—including Circle and Thompson Gins—had ginned 1247 bales through Thursday morning.

Cotton is popping open but the shortage of hands is acute. Farmers blame two factors for the shortage of farm labor. One is, they say, that the Texas Employment Commission waited too late to certify the county for bracero labor.

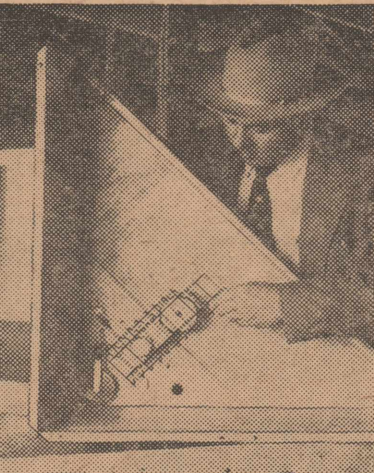

The other is the fact that native Mexicans have never been needed in such number so early in the season. Many native Mexicans also have waited for fiesta celebration to be completed before coming north to the harvest. In the meantime, Ben F. Smith thirty-five head of brooding sows for 1956.

At current feed prices Professor England calculated that a baby pig is worth about $10.00 at weaning time. So obviously every pig that can be saved to go to market is a ten dollar bill in the seller's pocket. Conversely, every baby pig that dies is a ten dollar loss. A few cents worth of electricity can prevent this loss.

While the professor has had good results from the pig brooders using the electric heating elements, he expresses the opinion that heat lamps would do the same job. The main thing is to give your baby pigs the warmth they need at birth continuing until they are large enough to withstand the cold. One sure thing, there's no chance of electric heat rolling over on a baby pig and crushing out its life.

Professor Milton England, Head of the Agriculture Department, Panhandle A & M College at Goodwell, Oklahoma, shows the working parts of a pig brooder used by the College Farm.
