THE RECORD SPEAKS

(Fairness has always been the watchword of this publication. The Olton Enterprise has given this space free of charge to the supporters of Price Daniel to express views on the gubernatorial campaign. Andrew W. Stroebel, Olton attorney and campaign chairman in Olton for Price Daniel, wrote the following letter to the editor on the subject. Views expressed herein are not the views of the management of this publi-

Qualifications and records in the opinion of the writer should be the criteria with which to judge a man for candidacy of a high elective office rather than the amount of handshaking and empty campaign promises droned out by some political aspirants. A candidate such as Price Daniel who has been through several political wars and still remained on top is easy prey for criticism from his opponents who have not gone through the trials of public office except two unsuccessful campaigns for governor.

It has been asserted that the big daily press, big business, and the oil interests in the State of Texas are supporting Price Daniel. Is that such an abominable sin? A tally of the ballot boxes on July 28th would show that the common man, including the farm vote, is also behind him.

Price Daniel has supported the Democratic farm program (90% parity) ever since going to the Senate, and the author of the first feed grain amendment ever adopted by Congress to provide mandatory supports of feed grains. Laws such as these are still made in Washington and not in Austin as other candidates would have the voters believe. While Attorney General of Texas the Texas Tide Lands were returned to Texas. This does not mean that the Oil Interests have profited alone as the voters are lead to believe, but it has already meant $57 million for our Permanent School Fund and an assertion of States Right from Federal Encroachment. Graft and corruption have been laid at the foot of Price Daniel by Ralph Yarborough and associates. If the facts were known, they would show that the major scandals occurred AFTER Price Daniel left his position as Attorney for seat in the US Senate which has been four years ago.

Are we, the voters of Texas, going to say that a man who has served our State as Speaker of the House, Attorney General, and who now holds the highest elective office we could give him, is not worthy to occupy the Governor's mansion in Austin?
