Second Community Meeting Slated For Monday Night On Recreational Project

Taking the first steps toward turning the dream of a community recreational center into a reality, approximately 40 men and women met in the school auditorium last Monday night to discuss the most advantageous method of developing the 90-acre tract of land recently offered by the A. D. Meltons for a community playground.

Although the turnout was disappointing as to number, interest ran high as the group listened to Les Hewitt, Littlefield businessman and member of the Littlefield Country Club Board of Directors, give recommendations as to the best way to form and maintain a country club.

As the meeting progressed under the leadership of Carroll Cox, local lumberman, the following men were appointed to report findings and estimates at the next community meeting: fairways and golf course, Basil Sherman; club house and caretaker's house, Melvin Hines; water supply, Marshall Stone; Dr. Jim Fite, swimming pool; and Mr. Cox, tennis courts. Laus Hair, Jack Bristol and Dr. Lynn Fite were requested to contact the Meltons for approval of plans. Ed Harris of Hart and Billy Braden of Springlake were named as chairmen of their respective communities.

The next meeting was set for 8 p. m. Monday night, April 15, in the high school auditorium. Hope was expressed that a large group might attend the coming meeting in order that some concrete form of action might be launched.

The findings reported by the above-mentioned men will serve as the basis of establishing the minimum financing needs of a recreational project. The general feeling was to set the membership fees as low as possible in order to increase participation, in the event that the forming of a country club is favored.

Describing a golf course as the backbone of a country club because of year-around play in this area, Mr. Hewitt recommended initial concentration on a golf course, swimming pool, pro shop and showers. He stated that in his opinion it would be well to start with a minimum club house planned for enlargement at a future date.

He cautioned the group about the cost of incorporating the club as a yearly franchise tax is required, declaring "As long as you can stay out of debt, I wouldn't worry about incorporating."

He also emphasized the problem of a 18 per cent federal tax levied on all monthly dues which cuts sharply into maintenance revenue.

Other matters discussed pro and con were the setting up of stock and associate memberships and the advisability of opening the swimming pool and golf course to non-members.

These and other problems are slated for consideration at the meeting next week.

DIRECTORS SET SHOW SALE LIMIT

Exhibitors in the Olton Stock Show will be allowed to sell only five animals in the annual stock show sale, according to the FFA board of directors.

Up to now, exhibitors have been allowed to sell eight animals.

Exhibitors still may show three barrows, three lambs and two calves.

The board met Wednesday night. J. C. Hamby, president, presided.

enrollment and attendance. The average attendance for five-sixths of the year in white school was 1,013.5. This is about 85 over last year's figures.

The board also discussed needs for additional buildings and equipment.

If no further orders are received from the Post Office Department, Olton post office will be closed Saturday as will post offices across the nation.

This information came this week from I. B. Holt, postmaster. The Olton postmaster also said there will be no rural mail delivery Saturday.

Announcement of curtailing Saturday mail service came as Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield apparently made plans to carry out a threat against Congress.

The postmaster general has asked for funds which Congress has not yet seen fit to grant.

Mr. Macon was authorized to buy various sizes of balls and jumping ropes for the primary grades.

The board authorized Mr. Macon to apply through the Texas Surplus Property Agency for a pickup truck. If one can be purchased in this manner it may be bought at 10 percent of the actual value.

The school board received a report on the high school testing program and its aims which are to detect any weaknesses in subject areas in order to raise student standards in all fields. The board heard a report on

Red Cross Drive Is Continuing

Olton Red Cross workers will continue their annual drive through April due to the fact that only 67 percent of the national Red Cross quota has been reached.

Clovis Poteet, local Red Cross worker, stated that even after last week's Tornado Relief drive, Olton is still approximately $100 short of its goal. The Lamb County quota is short by around $2400.

"Because our county and national quota is so far short, we would surely like to see Olton go over its goal," declared Mr. Poteet.

He stated that many individuals were not contacted during the March drive who would probably like to make a donation. Those wishing to contribute may contact him, Elmo Bryant, Truitt Sides, or other local workers.

EGG PROFIT OPPORTUNITY

The United States Dept. of Agriculture reports:

- Chicks started in Jan.-Feb. were 26% less than last year.
- Eggs in incubators for March hatch were 26% less than last year.

This foretells a tremendous shortage of fall pullets and . . . high egg prices next fall and winter!

— HOW YOU CAN BENEFIT —

1. Raise your usual number of chicks, but start them now to get early eggs when prices should be highest.
2. If you're thinking about commercial egg production, now is the time to start.
3. See us for chicks now. We can supply good ones right away.
4. If you've already started chicks, be sure to grow them right for lots of eggs this fall. Our Purina Growing Program helps put good pullets in the nest.

"Americans Are A Fortunate People" Says Captain Gibson Kemp On Return From Korea

By Felicia Duncan

"Incredible" is the word," declared Capt. Gibson Kemp in describing his impression of Korea after returning from a 16-month tour of duty in that country.

"Americans who have been to Korea feel very keenly about our fortunate lot by contrast," he continued. "Korea is the poorest section of the world I've ever seen."

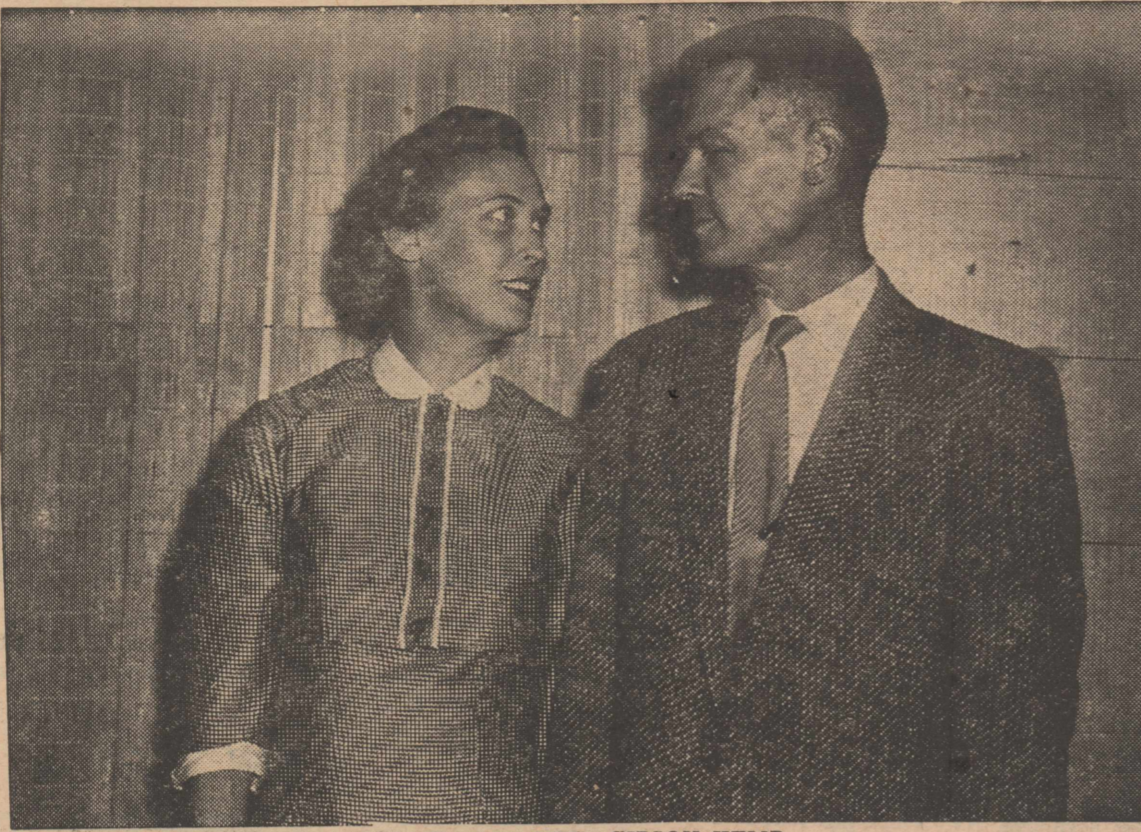

Captain Kemp, former Olton resident and brother of Bill and J. B. Kemp, is a career army officer and plans retirement when his 20 years' service is completed in three and a half years.

He landed in Amarillo April 1 for a 30-day leave—no April Fool's joke to him or his wife, Lynne, his English "bride" of 10 years.

Olton was home to Mrs. Kemp while her husband was in Korea, although thousands of miles from her native soil. Maintaining that she would have stayed here regardless, she had expected her mother for an extended visit to help alleviate the loneliness. But plans did not develop as her sister and three children who live in Canada decided to visit her mother in England.

So Lynne remained in Olton, where she had been for only short periods of time, and worked at Anne's Flower & What-Not Shop.

A tall slender blond, Lynne was stationed at Salisbury, England, with the British Army Auxiliary when she met her husband-to-be in 1945. After completing her service obligation in 1947, she came to the States aboard the Queen Elizabeth and they were married in Columbia, SC.

CAPTAIN AND MRS. GIBSON KEMP

She received her citizenship papers at Philadelphia in 1950, becoming a full-fledged American.

After their marriage they lived at Fort Bragg, NC, until late 1949 when Kemp was sent to Japan. His wife joined him six months later during the Korean war and they remained in Japan for three years.

"I thought he was in Korea then," Lynne laughingly said. "While on board ship going to Japan, Gib sent me a 'Happy Birthday' message on the 11th. Since my birthday was not until the 22nd, I thought this was 'code' telling me he would be in Korea when I arrived. But he had just gotten confused on the dates."

When they returned to Fort Dix, NJ, her mother made her first trip to the United States to visit her daughter and son-in-law and was convinced that America was a truly wonderful country.

Talking of Korea, Captain Kemp said a bright spot in that poor and unfavored area is that Christian missions are very active and apparently have a large following.

"Korea appears to be making a slow recovery," Kemp stated. "South Korea has principally an agriculture economy. Although the most primitive of implements are used, the yield per acre is considerably more than in the United States.

"Rice, barley, and vegetables the principal farm commodities. Koreans have no petroleum, little coal, and little wood. They need much industrial assistance, but who will trade heavy equipment for rice?"

Kemp's thinking is that a cheaper source of fuel would be the greatest hope for a reasonable degree of industrial development. At present a low-grade bituminous coal seems to be the best available. The industrial base is in Northern Korea where there are hydro-electrical developments that the Japanese built and coal mines that they developed.

"The whole country appears to have been largely denuded of timber and looks as if it has been besieged by unearthly-sized locusts," said Kemp. Stating that the reforestation program is very slow, he described the main sources of home fuel as raked leaves, weeds and small brush.

The principal mode of moving freight for Koreans are "A-frames" on their backs on which they carry fantastically heavy loads. The women also carry pots perched atop a cloth-covered doughnut shaped apparatus on their heads. One result is that both sexes have the very finest posture.

Kemp maintains that shipments of bicycle wheels would greatly aid Korean economy. As many Koreans do not even have carts, they expend much of their energy transporting freight on their backs.

Rice, vegetables, and small amounts of protein make up the basic diet of Koreans. Kimchi, a concoction of decayed vegetables, is the principle dish.

Kemp described a typical rural home as consisting of a framework of twisted sticks plastered with mud and a thatched roof. The "modern" heating system used to warm them in the extremely cold winters is a form of radiant heat, as the heat from their cooking pot area placed on the outside of the house flows under the floor and out through the chimney stack on the opposite side of the house.

Floors, which are usually on a stone foundation secured with mud mortar, are surfaced with mud and a top layer of paper.

Kemp says that the customs, manners, and dress of Koreans differ from the Japanese. Incongruous with the grime and poverty of the country, the typical dress of men and women is white, the Buddhist symbol of purity.

There are numerous streams in the extremely mountainous Korean country, and it is here that the women do the family laundry by rolling their clothing on rocks.

Sanitation facilities are nil and the mode of life is very backward even in the cities of Korea. Road systems are very poor and anything but a dirt road is an exception.

But Captain Kemp's Korean tour is over and he hopes to remain in the State until his retirement. "My own feeling is that the Army should shorten the Korean tour of duty to 12 months," he stated.

What are the Kemps' plans three years hence when they become a civilian couple? They smiled at each other and agreed, "A vacation trip to England."

Whew!
Just one short session of practicing volleyball in the high school gym and I'm done in!
Oh, it wasn't the few minutes I spent bouncing around on the volleyball court that pooped me—it was racing up and down those bleachers trying to keep up with Kaysee and Jamie.
Some of those gals can take it like a breeze. Volleyball, that is. If you play right, it doesn't take nearly so much out of you. In fact, it's just real interestin' to watch the "young mothers" show up so well to the teenagers. I congratulate them, even though the score wasn't always in their favor. (Now I'm referring to the just-closed tournament sponsored by the Senior Class. Understand they did so well financially, that the American Legion is doing a re-run; that is, sponsoring another contest. Evidently there were enough survivors among the participants to make the game interesting again.)
Anyhow, cheers to all!

And I was proud of my petunias. Hmp!
Visited Mamma and Papa Martin at Childress the weekend and there he has them thick as gumdrops down the middle of his driveway! Doesn't even tend to them. Just drives over them and abuses them and they keep coming up.
... Fallen feathers.
Papa's garden of corn, onions, English peas, spinach, and maybe some things else looks as if he measured each row with a yardstick. Perfect. The neighbors from all around come to admire it.

Say what you like about these TV and radio give-away shows, but come on, admit it, now, doesn't it make you a bit dewy-eyed when folks are united with some of their loved ones they haven't seen for a long while? Just can't help it!

Thursday, April 14, 1955, The Olton Enterprise printed, among many others, these news items:
Sitton Foundation Drive Growing As More Folks Join in Campaign—(This event made nationwide headlines as a result of contact with the AP through the Enterprise. And good news on the Sitton Triplets has been increasingly good since then.)
Begin Work on Baseball Fence Friday—(This has long since been completed, as you well know.)
Plains Agricultural Service and Olton Paint and Body Shop announced opening as two new businesses in Olton.
Burford Adams returned home from the navy.
Mary Ann Witt become the bride of Dee Stamps.
Just a few, at random. "Tempus fugit."

Yeau, I know, I know. We've harped so much about a community building that it isn't even fun any more. But please, indulge this columnist one last admonition at this very particular time:
About this playground in the sandhills. Would ask only this of you: KNOW the facts (i.e., WHAT is planned, HOW MUCH it will cost, WHO will be included) before you draw your conclusions. Please don't turn your back on the whole thing before it is even begun. It is YOUR project; DO speak your own mind; but PLEASE give it a chance!

We're off to the Panhandle Press Convention in Amarillo this week-end. Maybe come back all inspired and invigorated with new ideas to help make this publication better yet. That's the point, anyhow.

MISS NORMA JEANNE STOVALL WEDS DAVID CEARLEY IN CHURCH CEREMONY

Mrs. David Wilson Cearley

In wedding rites read Thursday evening, April 4, in the First Methodist Church, Miss Norma Jeanne Stovall, daughter of Mrs. Vaneta Stovall, became the bride of David Wilson Cearley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Cearley of Earth.

The Rev. Gene Matthews of Earth read the double ring ceremony before an archway of greenery centered with white bells. Baskets of flowers and candles in a multitude of spring colors completed the wedding setting.

Wedding music was played by Mrs. J. A. Williams, organist. She accompanied Miss Jean Stephens of Earth who sang "I Love You Truly", "Because", and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by Dr. O. H. Thompson of Lubbock, the bride wore a floor length gown of tulle over taffeta designed with a v-neck and a fitted off-shoulder bodice terminating in a point at front and back. The bodice front was fashioned of pleated tulle outlined in French lace. She wore elbow-length gauntlets fastened with tiny covered buttons at the wrist. Her fingertip veil of tulle stemmed from a crown of pearlized orange blossoms. She carried a white orchid arranged with Stephanotis and streamers of white satin.

Attending the bride as maid of honor, Miss Elaine Jones wore a ballerina length gown of orchid net over taffeta. Her head-dress was of white Camellias and she carried a colonial nosegay.

The bridesmaids, Misses Maerette Dennis of Olton and Eva Nell Thomas of Friona, wore ballerina length gowns of net over taffeta in respective colors of pink and blue. They wore matching headdresses of Camellias and carried colonial nosegays.

Donna Gullett, flower girl, wore yellow taffeta over net and a head band of small yellow flowers.

The bride's mother chose a sheath dress with a box jacket in dusky pink linen and wore a white gardenia corsage. The mother of the groom wore a two-piece turquoise suit in polished cotton set off with white accessories and a white gardenia corsage.

Candlelighters were Judy and Gerry Don McKinzie. Judy wore a pink net dress over taffeta and a head band and wristlets of pink Camellias. Mike Gullett was ring bearer.

Serving the bridegroom as best man was Don Randolph of Earth, and groomsmen were Doug Louder of Springlake and Bobbie Stovall, brother of the bride. Ushers were Davy Joe Taylor, Gene Tunnel and Richard Moore of Earth.

A reception followed the ceremony in the G. L. McKinzie home in Olton. Covered with a white linen cloth, the serving table was highlighted with silver appointments and a three-tiered cake topped with a miniature bridal couple and trimmed with clusters of sweet peas. Centering the table was a bridal doll belonging to Mrs. Homer Lee Rodgers, sister of the bride, surrounded by the attendants' bouquets.

Serving were Misses Linda Kemp and Ellen Jones, classmates of the bride. Miss Charla Granbery registered guests at the wedding and reception and Miss Carolyn Daniel furnished the musical background at the reception.

For a wedding trip to points in New Mexico, the bride chose

Olton Store Approved By Purina Firm

Olton Farm Store has been made an approved Check-R-Mix Station according to an announcement just received from the Ralston Purina Company headquarters in St. Louis, Mo.

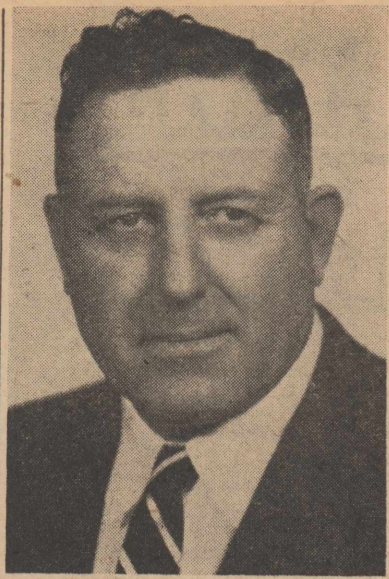

This means that the local feed company is being provided with approved formulas for mixing locally grown grains with Purina Micro-mixed supplements and concentrates.

The local feed dealer will also now have available to him the extensive training programs in nutrition and sanitation that the Purina Company provides its dealers, so that they may advise farmers and feeders in profitable feeding programs for their livestock and poultry. Facilities of the Purina Laboratories and Research Farm will be available to Olton Farm Supply for help with customer problems.

All the Approved Check-R-Mix Stations are required each year to send to the Purina Laboratories samples of their mixes for analysis. To continue as an Approved Check-R-Mix Station, the samples must show near-perfect efficiency in mixing, with a requirement of less than one half of one percent variation in protein content. This assures customers of the mill that their grinding and mixing will always be done at a high peak of efficiency.

Purina's Check-R-Mix Section has furnished the local mill with formulas for livestock and poultry feeding that blends Purina supplements with the farmers' corn, oats, wheat, barley, rye or sorghum grains.

The Press Battles for its Freedom

JOHN PETER ZENGER was arrested "for printing and publishing several seditious libels dispersed throughout his journals or newspapers..."

Zenger was a New York printer in the days when Governor Cosby ruled the colony. Governor Cosby ruled in such an autocratic, overbearing manner that several indignant citizens started a newspaper to arouse the public against his tyranny. Zenger undertook to publish the newspaper.

Zenger was thrown into prison, and his bail was fixed at 800 pounds, a large sum for those days and quite beyond his ability to furnish. He stayed in jail for months, and his situation appeared hopeless.

The case finally was called to the attention of Andrew Hamilton, a distinguished Pennsylvania lawyer, who took up Zenger's cause as a public service. Hamilton forced the case to trial, and his speech to the jury, which led to Zenger's acquittal, is a ringing statement of what the press in America must still vigilantly fight for.

All men have the right, Hamilton maintained, "publicly to retrace the abuses of power... and to assert with courage the sense they have of the blessing of liberty... and their resolution at all hazards to preserve it."

Today in our country encroachments by governments and private interests alike upon freedom of the press are counter to law. Nevertheless, even today the press must battle constantly to keep that freedom intact.

We have just taken on the new Purina CHECK-R-MIX Service. This means we have back of us the Country's largest and most experienced grain balancing program. We feel it will mean top quality livestock and poultry rations from your grain.

Next, we use Purina Approved Mixing Formulas—each one approved by actual testing at the Purina Research Farm.

And finally, our grinding and mixing accuracy is tested regularly by Purina Laboratories. With Purina Micro-mixed Concentrates and our very accurate mixing, we can make rations that get the best possible results from your grain.

Bring in a load of grain and you'll quickly see how fast and accurately we handle your grist. Pick out the rations you want from our list of Purina Approved Formulas. Feed them and SEE the top profit job they do for you.

Olton is full of women and men who do professional-looking hobbies.

Duward Price collects rocks and polishes them to a "glitter." So do Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Thomas and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schreier.

Mrs. Kenneth CampbeM does basket weaving.

Mesdames George Stewart, Carl Macon and W. E. Andrew do painting, (oil, water colors, pastels, etc.).

Decorating cakes is a hobby of Mrs. Joe Chester and Mrs. George Stewart.

Clarence Mason and sons do wood carving. (I hear he has a lovely carving of the Lord's Last Supper.)

There's more than I can mention in this space. But if folks will let me know their interesting and unusual hobbies—I'll be glad to write a feature story about them.
