PRESIDENTIAL TOUR OF SOUTHWESTERN DROUTH AREA REPRESENTS BASIC AMERICAN DEMOCRACY

By Felicia Duncan

Of greatest significance to this writer was an awe-inspiring realization stemming from Monday's coverage of the presidential tour of Curry County, N.M. Namely, that we live in a country where the opportunity exists for an average citizen to walk alongside our president on a dusty, wind-swept Southwestern farm, far from the pomp and ceremony of the Washington Merry-Go-Round.

One can have the special hearing and receiving lines of the White House—we'll take the unforgettable sight of the leader of our country scuffing his much-polished shoes against dry, parched earth as he walks and talks with Mr. Average Farmer on his own land.

From the moment President Eisenhower alighted from his personal plane—a silver beauty bearing the name and picture of a blue columbine, the state flower of Colorado—we were aware, regardless of political leaning, that here was a truly great American.

With marked sobriety, he walked down the ramp from the super constellation, a man aware of his mission—that of inspecting the drough-parched land that has imperiled the livelihood of Southwestern farmers and ranchers.

As a gusty wind swept across the Clovis Air Base, he paused to greet the dignitaries at hand and strode briskly through a 20-man Air Force honor guard.

Standing behind a rope several feet away, we closely observed every outward detail of this man—his proud carriage and free stride, his brilliant blue eyes, and yes, his apparel. No pace-setter in the fashion world, he was clothed as an average business man in a dark brown suit, brown snap brim hat, brown shoes well-polished but obviously much worn, and a charcoal heringbone topcoat. Because of some unexplainable quirk, we took special note of his tie—a dark maroon marked with tiny multi-colored stars. The thought crossed our mind, "Wonder if Mamie picked that one out?"

After a smile and wave to the thousands of spectators, he stepped into the awaiting black limousine belonging to New Mexico Gov. Edwin L. Mechem to start his scheduled tour. With him were Agriculture Sec. Ezra T. Benson and Sec. of Interior Fred Seaton.

As we piled into buses with approximately 200 newspeople and cameramen, we were elated that we had viewed the President from such close range and felt that our trip was well rewarded, never thinking that the best was yet to come.

Within the ensuing hour, the President toured an area of four square miles with our press buses close behind. Our attention focused on the depressing sight of sun-scorched fields, so depleted of moisture that stubs of stunted grain which never reached maturity stuck up from the powder-dry soil and mounds of soil were piled in the corners of the fields.

This our President had come to see for himself, and we felt that he had come to the very source of greater understanding of the drough problem.

Highlighting the tour was a half-hour stop at the Raymond Worrell farm. Mr. and Mrs. Worrell and their five children, dressed in everyday work clothes, greeted Mr. Eisenhower and his party and took them on a personal inspection tour of their farm.

Mr. Eisenhower strode along with the Worrells—seemingly oblivious to the newsmen and photographers—deeply engrossed in conversation with the Clovis

Death Claims Olton Masonic Leader; Final Rites Held For Albert Walthall

Albert Walthall, prominent Olton farmer and Masonic leader, is dead. He was 58 years old.

Mr. Walthall died at 8:23 o'clock Sunday night in Olton Memorial Hospital. Physicians at the hospital said Mr. Walthall died of a heart attack.

He had been transferred to the Olton hospital Saturday from Methodist Hospital in Lubbock, where he had undergone treatment for injuries suffered in a traffic accident last week.

Mr. Walthall suffered severe injuries in the early morning hours of January 9, when his pickup truck overturned near the Walthall home.

He was treated in Olton Memorial Hospital and then transferred to Lubbock for treatment by specialists. His condition appeared improved and members of his family said he was returned to Olton to the care of the family physician at his insistence.

Mr. Walthall was born Oct. 2, 1898 at Emhouse. He was the eldest of 12 children born to Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Walthall. He was brought up on the farm.

He was married Aug. 14, 1921 to Miss Era Maye Peters at Kerens. The Walthalls moved to Olton in 1928 and had farmed in the same general area since that time.

He was a member of Olton First Baptist Church, having become a member of the church when he was 12 years old.

Mr. Walthall became a Mason when he was only 21 years old farmer. As he tested the powdery soil with the toe of his shoe, inspected an ensilage pit, and looked out over the Duroc swine, his expression was grave and of deep concern. Occasionally we would gain a further insight into the personality of this man as his eyes would crinkle into a smile when his attention would be diverted to the young Worrell children, ages 8, 6 and 4. The teen-age Worrell boys, who work a 40-hour week on the farm during school months, were as intent on the problem at hand as their father and Mr. Eisenhower.

To be sure, secret service men were on hand to guard Mr. Eisenhower at every moment; but they were so unobtrusive that they proved no barrier to our full enjoyment of this half-hour as we stood and walked only a few feet away from the President, watching his every change of expression and his every gesture.

There was no press conference with Mr. Eisenhower after returning to the Clovis Air Base, for there he met only with a group of New Mexico farmers and ranchers for a short conference before continuing his drough tour into Arizona.

Out on the flight line, an hour and a half from his arrival time, we caught our last glimpse of Mr. Eisenhower.

As he stood alone for a brief moment at the door of the plane before disappearing from sight, with no cheering or waving from the crowd, we felt a deep peace. Instilled into our being was an even greater pride in our United States. It seemed that the basic principles of democracy were embodied in this presidential visit—a serious problem arises and the people and their leader join forces in an attempt to find a solution.

Where else but in America?

When he was only 21 years old and except for a short interval had been active in lodge work to the time of his death.

He was a past master of the Olton lodge. He was a representative of Scottish Rite and had been a Certificate Mason for more than 15 years. He was beloved of his fellow Masons.

"He must have taught more boys Masonry than almost any other man in the Panhandle," Mrs. Walthall said Monday. "He was a fine family man and good citizen," declared a member of his lodge. He became affiliated with the Olton lodge in 1941 and served the lodge as master in 1946-47.

He was worthy patron of the Order of the Eastern Star here in 1945-46, 1948-49 and in 1953-54. Mrs. Walthall served with him as worthy matron in 1953-54.

He was a member of Khiva Shrine of Amarillo, and was serving as special representative of the Potentate at the time of his death.

He was a member of El Paso Consistory No. 3 and was a 32nd degree Mason. He was a member of Plainview Council 164, R. & S. M., and a member of Plainview Chapter No. 228, R. A. M.

He was a past District Deputy Grand Master.

Funeral services were held at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in Olton High School Auditorium. Officiating were Rev. John Lewis, pastor of Olton First Baptist Church, and Rev. E. S. Weathers of Plainview.

Masonic rites were conducted. Burial was in Olton Cemetery under direction of Lemons Funeral Home of Plainview.

Survivors include the wife; two daughters, Mrs. James Bledsoe of Odessa and Mrs. Jack Coleman of Olton; four grandchildren, Larry and Jimmy Bledsoe and Lisa and Bentley Coleman.

Other survivors include the mother, Mrs. A. T. Walthall; six brothers, E. T. of Odessa, George of Berkeley, Calif., Elmer of San Bernardino, Calif., Loyd of Richmond, Calif., Dale of Littlefield and Johnny of Lake Dallas; and two sisters, Mrs. Foy Dodson of Anaheim, Calif., and Mrs. Louise Hively of Fresno, Calif.

Mr. Walthall's father preceded him in death exactly six years to the day. He also was preceded in death by two brothers and a sister.

Pallbearers were Truit Sides, Laus Hair, Marshall Stone, Ira Foster, Jim Fite and Eldon Franks.

Glover Heads

March Of Dimes

Ralph Glover, manager of Southwestern Public Service, has been named to head the local March of Dimes campaign according to announcement of Kenneth Ware of Littlefield, Lamb County chairman.

Glover stated that March of Dimes containers have been placed at all business houses and that school cards have been distributed to all schools. Bohner School is planning a benefit basketball game.

REGISTRATION DAY

Friday, January 18, is registration day for pre-school children who will be six years old by Sept. 1, 1957. They are due at the school at 9 o'clock and are to be picked up at 11:30 a.m. First grade children will not attend school Friday.

-BULLETIN-

Lt. George Richards, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. George Richards of Springlake and brother of Mrs. Owen Norfleet of this city, was killed in an airplane crash near Las Vegas, Nev., Wednesday at 12:40 p. m.

A Navy jet pilot stationed at San Diego, Richards lived with his wife and two children at La Jolla, Calif. He graduated from Olton High School in 1941 and from Annapolis Naval Academy in 1945.

His parents and Mr. and Mrs. Norfleet and children left for California by plane from Amarillo on Wednesday night after receiving word of the accident. They were to arrive in Los Angeles at 8 o'clock Thursday morning.

Eight Pistols Taken When Five Indiana Boys Arrested Sunday

Five swaggering punks with a small arsenal were captured here early Sunday morning by an alert Olton policeman.

The collar uncovered a string of burglaries from Springlake back to Phoenix, Ariz. Sheriff Dick Dyer and Deputy V. L. Smith said one of the boys already has implicated his group in eight break-ins.

Officer Emmett Burrow became suspicious when he was accosted by three members of the quintet about 4:30 o'clock in the morning in front of much-burglarized Cash Way Food Store.

The boys—on foot—asked the officer where they might find a soft drink. Burrow played for time, telling the boys they could get a soft drink at Edwards Gulf Station across the street.

He then did some radio checking—thinking that the lads might have been the boys who ran away from Boys Ranch at Old Tascosa.

When the officer turned his attention to the boys they fled. He finally caught them in a car parked adjacent the Thompson Chevrolet car lot.

Their car, a late model bearing Indiana license tags, was out of gas, they said. Burrow said the boys came quietly to city hall. They ranged in age from 16 to 21.

Officers confiscated eight pistols, two switch-blade knives and a dagger in the boys' possession. A considerable amount of merchandise and clothing was found in the car.

Three of the boys bragged of having "done time" before. "We'll be out of here before night," one roared and roll tied with a duck tail hair cut decorated with a smirk.

Deputy Sheriff Smith said the boys would be charged specifically with the early Sunday morning burglary of Elroy's 66 Service Station at Springlake.

The cash register was taken from Elroy Wislan's service station and then tossed by the highway after being plundered of about $25.00. The cash register was recovered.

One of the boys said they were frightened away from the Springlake Texaco Service Station by a huge dog which stood guard over the property.

One of the boys was not as cocky as the rest and told Sheriff Dyer and Deputy Smith of a burglary rampage half way across the nation and back as far as Olton.

Smith quoted his informant as saying the group left Indiana 13 days before their arrest here Sunday.

The officer said the boy admitted burglaries in Phoenix, Las Vegas, Albuquerque, Mountairaire, N.M., Sudan and Farwell.

Sheriff Dyer said a cash register with $1.38 was taken from a service station at Sudan. It has not been found. Authorities did not connect the boys with the burglary last week of Cash Way Food Store.

The sheriff quoted the informant as saying the guns were taken in the Phoenix burglary of a gun shop.

Ironically, the boys had no ammunition to fit the guns they carried.

Among the loot carried by the boys was a miniature slot machine.

"We were the ones that hit the jackpot," one of the officers declared as he hustled the prisoners off to Lamb County Jail in Littlefield to await arraignment.

CHICK DAY

Olton Farm Supply's annual free chick day will be staged next Tuesday. Don Spain said several hundred baby chicks will be given away free.

Mishap Hurts Olton Family At Plainview

Three Olton people were injured about 7:15 o'clock Sunday evening when the pickup truck in which they were riding overturned on a curve about a half miles northeast of Plainview.

Hospitalized were Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Measles. Treated for minor injuries and dismissed from Medical Center Hospital in Plainview were their daughter, Wilma Measles, and Mary Alice Traylor, Kress.

Mr. Measles suffered fracture of the left hand and a gash over the left eye.

Mrs. Measles suffered severe bruises. She remained in the hospital Tuesday.

Crooks Take Money, Merchandise In Burglary Of Cash Way Grocery

JACKPOT REACHES $119.00

Cash Way Food Store was burglarized Thursday night of last week and some $300 in cash and a quantity of merchandise taken.

Deputy Sheriff V. L. Smith said the break-in took place some time before 4 o'clock in the morning.

The officer said the crooks apparently smashed a rear window to gain entry.

He said the thieves took about three cases of Folger's coffee, five boxes of Hershey chocolate, three cases of hair oil, several pounds of steak and some ammunition for a .22 calibre gun. Value of merchandise was set between $300 and $400.

Mrs. Herman Meyer said this is the fourth time Cash Way has been burglarized since its establishment here.

Mrs. F. V. Dodson would have been the winner in the first Olton Appreciation Day award here last Saturday had she been present.

The jackpot then was $75.50. Mrs. Dodson received $100 as she was not present.

Next Saturday the jackpot will be $119.00. The award will be made on the northeast corner of the square at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

Size of the jackpot will be run each week in the Olton Cleaners ad.

Olton Reporters Get Close Up View Of President Eisenhower At Clovis

By Troy Martin

Air Transport's most distinguished airplane banked steeply as it headed into the wind and sloped toward the Clovis Air Force Base runways.

Seconds later the Columbine III would touch down on the concrete bringing the first Presidential visitor to New Mexico since its statehood.

Hosts for the occasion were two distinguished young men—General Bill Momyer, base commander, and New Mexican Governor Ed Mechem.

Days of planning were to be climaxed during the 125-minute visit of President Dwight Eisenhower.

There were some 118 of us local and area reporters on the spot to cover the President's tour of the Clovis area. Just before the Columbine landed a commercial plane came in with 77 members of the Washington Press Corps.

This was old stuff to the Washington boys and they seemed content to let the local yokels have a field day.

To begin the story at the beginning, the Air Force had invited several area representatives of the press to be present. Names of these had to be certified by various editors and then presumably cleared by security.

Myself, Mrs. Martin and Mrs. Felicia Duncan made the trip from Olton. Korkey represented The Hale Center American.

We arrived at the air base about 10 o'clock Clovis time and were directed immediately to the officers club.

There we were briefed on the behavior expected of us while we were in the vicinity of the President.

At the officers club I renewed old acquaintances with newsmen with whom I had served in one capacity or another during the years in the business.

Some of those names are fairly well-known. I chatted with Claude Leyendecker of New Mexico Farm and Ranch and talked with Leonard Johnson of Salt Lake City, who was covering the event for the American Farm Bureau Federation.

The Air Force graciously provided a battery of teletype machines for the convenience of wire services and reporters. Operators were brought in from all over the area. Among them was Mr. Melvin Hinson of Hereford.

A public information officer told us to park our cars about three blocks away from the officers club.

"If they are here when the President arrives they will be hauled away by the Secret Service," declared the Major in charge.

We ate lunch with Morely Drake and Bill Turner of Littlefield. We were two tables away from that occupied by General Momyer and Governor Mechem.

Soon it was time to go to the flight line. We scrambled into buses—four big specials were provided.

The Air Force had constructed an elaborate ramp for the benefit of the Press. Just as we arrived a big black Cadillac belonging to the governor pulled onto the runway.

Secret Service men seemed to sprout out of the concrete.

Judging by the way they went over the car an unformed observer might have drawn the conclusion that they suspected the governor of evil intent upon the life of the President.

They looked under the Cadillac, inspected the cushions and even examined the lights.

The President was protected at the air field with a rope barricade lined with Secret Service men whose sole purpose in life is to protect Mr. Eisenhower.

Ike was whisked away from the air base and naturally I thought that this would be the last we'd see of him. We clambered back onto the buses and followed the big black Cadillac driven by a New Mexico State Policeman.

We soon learned that we would get a close-up look at Mr. Eisenhower and his party. We arrived at the Raymond Worrell farm and found that only newsmen were to be allowed on the farm during the President's visit.

The President already was inspecting a pit silo when we got there. It was some time before we recognized Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson and Secretary of Interior Fred Seaton.

Jim Rowley, chief of the White House Secret Service, personally directed the President's body guard at the farm. A rope was held up by Secret Service men at the mouth of the silo.

The Secret Service men were very courteous but very firm in their instructions. You immediately had the feeling that behind those soft voices were men of steel ready to start shooting should their polite instructions be ignored.

As soon as the Secret Service men had time to check to see if any unauthorized persons were among the newsmen—we all wore badges—the rope was rolled up and the party mingled with the news group.

The Worrells and their five children talked freely with the President without seeming embarrassment or lack of self confidence.

Mr. Eisenhower talked earnestly with Ray Worrell. I stood close enough to catch snatches of the conversation. Worrell was no groveling pity seeker. He was a good farmer who had been droughed out.

He and Mr. Eisenhower looked into each other's faces with a mutual respect which made me proud of my President—even though I voted against him—and proud of the farming class of my ancestry.

As I walked along by the President of the United States, close enough to touch his shoulder I thought, "Oh God how I love my country, where even the top man is just a man."

Mr. Eisenhower's face had a rather tired appearance but he walked with a spring in his step that belied the recent health problems with which he has been beset.

We arrived back at the officers club for a brief and fruitless session with Jim Haggerty, Presidential Press Secretary, and then went back to the flight line.

We stood by General Momyer as the Columbine took off.

As the young general stood there at attention we could almost discern his thought, "God, let it be a good take-off. Don't let anything happen to that plane on my field."

In his illustrious career flecked with actual combat command, he probably had never been under greater pressure.

The Columbine rose gracefully, stuck up its landing gear and headed west into the sinking sun toward Tuscon.

General Momyer turned with smile flashing. We shook hands. I thanked him for his hospitality.

Say, Patsy Moss, don't you like for people to knock on windows?

Marty Singletery, do you still wait for those letters?

Melba Kirby, are you and that certain fellow getting along all right?

The FHA girls are selling little booklets of eight different tickets which say: "Have a coke with me." "Shine my shoes," "Clean my locker," "Sit with me at lunch," "Carry my books to class," "Free ticket may be used as any of the other seven cards," "Be my lesson helper." The girls sell them to the boys and they in return give a ticket to any girl they choose and she must obey what it says. By the way, no cheating anyone. All proceeds go to the FHA club.

Congratulations to Sherill Alexander and Royce Bearden on sporting new cars. They sure are snazzy, boys.

TO NEW ASSIGNMENT

Major and Mrs. Arnold Amundsen, Linda and Chris, who have been visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Thomas since the holidays, are on their way to another overseas assignment with the army.

The Amundsens lived in Olton from 1945 to 1950 during which time he owned and operated the Olton Hardware Company. Since then they have had tours of duty in New York, Germany, France, and Memphis, Tenn. Maj. Amundsen's new assignment will be with the Engineer Section, Eighth Army, Japan.

Enroute to San Francisco where they will embark, they intend to visit places of interest such as Boulder City, Knott's Berry Farm, Disneyland, Marineland, as well as Chinatown in San Francisco for a preview of what they can expect in the Far East.

Amundsen sent word that he wanted to thank all the Oltonites that "paid him out" during his numerous coffee breaks and that it was a pleasure to return to Olton for a visit with old friends and relatives.

ATTEND SERVICES

Attending funeral services for Bill Cummings of Wellington last Thursday were Mr. and Mrs. O. B. LaFrance, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Daugherty, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Daugherty, Mr. and Mrs. Raymon Carson, and Mrs. Sallie Copeland.

Mr. Cummings was an uncle of these Olton residents.

Harlon Watson was in Amarillo Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard McCaskill of Denver City visited Sunday with her mother, Mrs. Almon Whitford.

There were 112 in Sunday School at the Baptist Church Sunday—59 in Training Union.

Vegetable Meeting Set For Jan. 22

Hopes for more vegetable production in Lamb County will get a push January 22, when a day-long meeting will be held at the County Courthouse to explain four aspects of the industry.

Dist. Agricultural Agent W. H. Jones of Lubbock and Joe Cole, vegetable specialist with the Lubbock division, will be on hand for the meeting along with four Texas A&M Extension Service specialists who will speak on production plant diseases and control, insects and control, and marketing.

Extension service officials were invited to explain methods and problems encountered in vegetable production. County Agent Bill Kimbrough and Asst. County Agent Bob Haney will aid in coordination of the meeting.

Two sessions are planned in the day-long activities, with local business scheduled to meet with the group at 10 a. m. and area farmers slated to attend an afternoon session at 1:30. Both sessions will be held in the District Courtroom at the county courthouse, Littlefield.

The tentative program is as follows:

Production of vegetables—B. G. Hancock, Extension Service Horticulturist.

Plant Disease and Control—Dr. Harlan E. Smith, Extension Service Plant Pathologist.

Insects and Controls—C. F. Garner, Extension Service entomologist.

Marketing—Jeff Rosborough, Extension Service Marketing Specialist.

Guest Speaker Discusses Modern Landscaping

Contemporary landscaping was discussed by Tom Scarborough, owner of Tom's Tree Place in Lubbock, at the Olton Garden Club meeting held Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Walter Schreier. Co-hostess was Mrs. Preston Sampler.

Scarborough concentrated on landscaping principles for the low, modern homes prevalent now in new building. He described landscaping as the "overall picture of the outside." As a method of creating an outdoor indoor living area, the use of sliding glass doors was advocated.

Stressing that the maintenance of shrubbery is as important as the planting, Scarborough declared that shrubs should be properly pruned to retain attractive lines.

He showed film strips on landscaping which included several examples of the "natural" landscaping that is preferred by most West Texas home owners.

Mrs. Lee Green was accepted as a new member, filling the club's quota of 25 members.

Present were Mesdames C. E. Bley, George Bohner, Lindsey Dennis, R. G. DeBerry, Lloyd Graham, Emmett Harper, Charlie Jones, A. D. Melton, Jake Mitchell, C. M. Owen, Doyle Pinson, L. E. Silcott, E. R. Spain, Horace Walker, Tom Whitaker, George Brown, H. A. Hysinger, Roy Dobbs, J. D. Thomas, H. B. Carson, Green, and the hostesses.

Mrs. Bill Matlock Is Shower Honoree

SPRINGLAKE — A pink and blue shower honoring Mrs. Bill Matlock was given recently at the community building.

An arrangement of pink snapdragons and tiny plastic storks centered the serving table which was covered with a lace cloth. Blue candles in crystal holders were placed on each side of the centerpiece.

The honoree was presented a carnation corsage by the hostesses. Background music was presented by Mrs. Howard Bridges and games were directed by Mrs. Harlon Watson and Mrs. Jimmy Winder. Mrs. Richard Stockstill registered guests.

Regular Meeting Held By WSCS

Regular meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service was held at the Methodist Church Tuesday morning, January 10.

Mrs. Henry Miller opened the meeting with a prayer and Mrs. Thurston Tollett presided over the business session. Mrs. Horace Walker presented a devotional reading from the tenth chapter of Mark.

"What Epiphany Is and What It Means To Us" was discussed by Mrs. Lee Green. Mrs. Russell McAnally gave a scripture reading of Epiphany.

Other program topics were "Let's Go Through Together" by Mrs. J. C. Brown, and "Let Us Be Loyal" by Mrs. Horace Walker. Mrs. Leo Ross Bryant closed the meeting with a prayer.

The program pertained to the gifts of money, prayer and service that should be brought at the beginning of a New Year, representing the gifts of the Wise Men brought to the Christ Child.

Attending were Mesdames Russell McAnally, Thurston Tollett, Henry Miller, E. R. Spain, Glen Singletary, Horace Walker, Lee Green, J. C. Brown, W. T. Whitaker, Gene Wilson and Lee Ross Bryant. Mrs. Singletary and Mrs. Wilson are new members.

Mrs. S. Stinson To Head Bykota Club

Election of officers for 1957-58 highlighted the regular meeting of the Bykota Study Club held Tuesday night, January 8, in the home of Mrs. Fred Burgess.

Mrs. Spud Stinson was elected to serve as club president. Other officers elected were as follows: vice-president, Mrs. Burgess; recording secretary, Mrs. Andrew Stroebel; corresponding secretary, Mrs. John Carson; treasurer, Mrs. Edd Lynn Burrus; reporter, Mrs. Carol J. May; parliamentary, Mrs. Don Franks; federation counselor, Mrs. R. V. Allcorn; and critic, Mrs. Jim Brown.

Preliminary plans for a club-sponsored style show in February were discussed.

Present were Mesdames Clinton Green, Jimmy Briggs, Allcorn, Brown, Burrus, Carson, Franks, May, Stroebel, and the hostess.

The next meeting will be on January 22 with Mrs. Clinton Green.

Panel Discussion Marks P-TA Supper

A group of P-TA Dads highlighted last Thursday night's Pot-luck Supper with a spirited discussion of Parent-Teacher Associations and current educational problems such as the teacher shortage and building needs.

On the panel were Dub Hall, leader, Cleo Smith, Delmer Givens, Jethro Pinkerton and Merrill Brigrance.

Mrs. William DeBerry, Mrs. Merrill Brigrance and Mrs. Gene Cade sang "The Love of God" and "Ivory Palaces." Harold Dean Carson, accompanist, arranged the music.

Mrs. Harold Lloyd Is Shower Honoree

A miscellaneous shower complimenting Mrs. Harold Lloyd, the former Miss Carlene Lyons, was given in the home of Mrs. Archie Curry on Thursday afternoon, January 10.

A gold centerpiece decorated the serving table which was laid with a lace cloth over pink. Presiding at the tea service were Mrs. T. C. Kennedy and Mrs. Les Kennedy.

A reading was presented by Mrs. Freddy Warren.

Hostesses were Mesdames Les Kennedy, Lewis Ball, T. C. Kennedy, Paul Feathergill, Barton Prestridge, W. T. Hankins, Homer Curry, Freddy Warren, C. T. Wood, Norman Smith, Ruth Huggins, Clifford Curry and Vernon Jefferies.

An electric skillet and a bedspread were presented to the honoree by the hostesses.

Ironing things out

by korkye martin

Imagine going to see The President of the United States with a run in your stocking! Well, that's exactly what yours truly did Monday.

Because when you're about 61 miles from your dresser drawer, arriving at Clovis AFB to see The President, popping a run in your nylons, catastrophic though it is, becomes very unimportant.

You're stuck with it, so you just have to learn to live with it—for a day. The next few minutes are the worst, then after a while you forget about it, and except for occasionally through the bustling day, you don't even worry any more.

Like most things in which the government is involved, there's red tape. A part of our red tape Monday was "waiting."

Well, not exactly just "waiting," either. Because from 10:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m., there were things to do, like receiving your accreditation badge, being briefed, meeting other members of the press, eating lunch, looking for dignitaries, and in general, trying not to miss a thing.

The Officers Club at the base was at our disposal—ours and about 150 other members of the fourth estate. And we found out in a hurry that nobody whose name wasn't already on the certification list was allowed within. Troy and Felicia were official representatives of The Olton Enterprise. I had the honor to represent The Hale Center American for our friends, the Rambos, who were unable to attend the affair.

reporter, observe the two different spellings of the word "drouth" on the literature. Our press badges had "drouth," other material used "drouth."

Met a vivacious lady from Tucumcari, Mrs. Murphy, who leads a double life. She is news writer for radio station KTNM there and a Presbyterian minister's wife. She assured us they received the whole-hearted approval of their parish for her to become a news-woman. Interesting combination to say the least.

She knew her way around, and got a personal interview from secretary Benson.

Overheard this exchange between Troy and Woodfin Camp, Globe-News photographer:

Troy: Woodfin, how in the world did you clear the Security to get in here?

Woodfin: No problem. Just using a different name.

We were given a minute-by-minute account of the plans for the arrival, stay and departure of The President—even how long it would take the base band to play "Flourishes and Ruffles."

While eating lunch in the cafeteria of the Officers Club, kept noticing a gentleman at the next table being repeatedly photographed and hand-shaken. Then we learned it was New Mexico's Governor Mecham. I remembered, fleetingly, the hole in my stocking.

Felt like school-kids scrambling for seats on the press busses when the time finally came to leave for the runway. There was a fair-sized crowd on hand to see Mr. Number One.

We scurried off the buses onto the area roped off for us. As we waited in the cold wind, trying to keep our hats on, we were all nervously trying to be clever and observing.

(Just get that large an aggregation of journalists together, and you never heard such talk—everyone trying to out-guess and out-observe each other.)

The plane carrying about 70 persons of the Chief's press entourage came in first, and landed behind us with actually no fanfare.

Then a few minutes later, here came the breath-taking silver "Columbine."

Once more, in a split instant, I thought of my nylons.

Then suddenly, there he was at the top of the ramp, looking very small and alone for an instant as he paused, solemnly and unsmilingly.

There were no cheers, no hats thrown in the air. Rather it seemed a reverent silence engulfed the area for a few seconds. That was what I felt—a sort of awe. For inauspicious as he appeared, it suddenly seemed I was gazing at a very great gentleman, the like of which I might never meet again.

And in the ensuing moments in which we followed The President on his farm tour, that impression was more strongly confirmed. We walked along within feet of him as he talked with Farmer Worell in his enslavement pit, beside his windmill, at the edge of his pig pen. And never once did he become affected, or lose his solemnity and sincere audience to the answers of Mr. Worell. He—as well as the farmer—seemed oblivious to the more-than 100 newspaper crowd, ing around.

Now, with Secretary Benson, it was a different matter. It seemed to me he was not concerned with much but making an impression on the press, and posing for pictures. I felt he was superfluous. He was all grins. Whereas, President Eisenhower flashed his famous smile rarely. I appreciated that, for I felt this was a mission too serious and crucial for smiles.

We were pleasantly surprised, and a bit frightened, at the Secret Service. Surprised that we could get as close as we did to the Chief, and a bit frightened that we could. They were there, though, on the job, and we have an idea they saw much more than we think.

Things went perfectly on schedule, and before we realized

DEATH CLAIMS GRANDFATHER OF LOCAL RESIDENT

Funeral services for Chelsey B. Bostick, 90, grandfather of Mrs. Basil Sherman of this city, were conducted at the Hart Baptist Church Wednesday afternoon.

Officiating minister was the Rev. G. C. Applewhite, Baptist pastor at Lone Star, and the Rev. S. J. Ellis, Plainview Primitive Baptist Church pastor.

Bostick died Monday night at home of a daughter, Mrs. H. E. Newman, five miles southwest of Hart, after a long illness.

Born at Newmarket, Ala., he came to Texas as a young man and farmed in Erath County for 50 years. Ten years ago he retired and moved to Hart to make his home with Mrs. Newman and another daughter, Mrs. F. M. Holland, who is Mrs. Sherman's mother.

He was married to Miss Mattie Mooney on Jan. 8, 1890, at Elora, Tenn. She died Aug. 8, 1950.

A member of the Primitive Baptist Church, Bostick is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Newman, Mrs. Holland and Mrs. Bill Sharp of Rankin; six sons, A. R. Hart; D. M. and G. V., El Paso; C. B., Borger; Sercy and Earl, Stephenville; 25 grandchildren, and 19 great-grandchildren.

Interment was in the Hart Cemetery under the direction of Lemons Funeral Home.

Membership Meet
Co-Op Holds
Hart Producer's

Forty-five farmers attended a membership meeting for the Hart Producer's Co-Op at the Hart Legion Hall on January 14. Charter for the co-op was granted on November 26, 1946.

Guest speakers were Otha Key, ass't. manager of Cotton Oil Mill, Lubbock, who discussed the organization of cooperatives; Floyd Wilson, manager of the Edmondson Co-Op Gin, pointing out how co-op gins show a profit; John McQueen, manager of Co-Op Compress in Plainview, speaking on how money is raised for a co-op gin; Tom Brown, manager of Co-Op Compress, Lubbock, setting forth the greatest dividends a farmer receives from a co-op gin.

Interest rates on the preferred stock sold for the purpose of organizing a co-op gin were discussed.

LAST RITES HELD FOR MRS. POWELL

Funeral services for Nellie Frances Powell, 76, long-time resident of Hale Center, were held Wednesday afternoon at the Hale Center Church of Christ. Mrs. Powell was the mother of Andy Powell of this city.

Death came to Mrs. Powell at 2:15 Tuesday morning at the Lubbock home of a son, Alfred Powell, where she had lived since suffering a hip fracture at her home in September.

Mrs. Powell was born May 4, 1880, at Whitt, Texas. She was Nellie Frances Cook until her marriage to Monroe Powell at Whitt in 1895. He died in June of 1928.

The family moved to Hale Center 29 years ago from Clarendon. Mrs. Powell was a member of the Hale Center Church of Christ.

Survivors are three sons, Andy of Olton, Sidney of Hale Center, and Alfred of Lubbock; one brother, Joe Cook of Claude; nine grandchildren and thirteen great-grandchildren.

Officiating at the services were Albert Trent, Hale Center pastor, and Bill Brown, Plainview Church of Christ minister.

Interment was in the Hale Center cemetery beside the grave of Mr. Powell. Lemons Funeral Home of Plainview, directed arrangements.

Farmers Union
Elects Delegates
For Capitol Trip

Carl Hooper, Tom Carlisle and Roy Roberts were elected as delegates from the Olton Farmers Union last Friday night to make the bus trip to Washington, DC.

This is the third year for such a delegation to descend upon the national capitol, timing of which coincides with vital farm legislation.

The Olton delegates will join 32 other Texas delegates in Wichita Falls on January 25 to start the bus trip. The delegation will spend four days in Washington.

Representatives from Farmer, Bailey, Lamb, Cochran, Hockley, Terry, Lynn, Crosby, Lubbock, and part of Hale County implemented plans for a coordinated program for the area, climaxing many months of intensive effort by these volunteer workers.

Miss Virginia Burgess from the regional scout office in Dallas installed new officers. Mrs. A. W. Young of Lubbock will head the council as president.

Attending the meet from Olton were Mesdames Jack Edwards, Roy Roberts, Leamon Bryant, Tom Carlisle, Frank Struve, Garrett Bley, Leo Ross Bryant, C. S. Silcott, Bill Yates, Granbery and Burrus.

Services Held For Uncle Of Several Local Residents

Funeral services for Bill Cummings, 93, of Wellington, father of Frank Cummings of Littlefield and uncle of several Olton residents, were held at the Wellington First Baptist Church last Thursday, January 10. Interment was in the Wellington cemetery.

In ill health for several years, Mr. Cummings died in the Amherst Hospital on January 8.

A prominent cotton farmer, Mr. Cummings settled in the Wellington community over 50 years ago. He was born in Albany, Ky., on Oct. 14, 1863.

He was a member of the First Baptist Church at Wellington.

Olton relatives include Mr. and Mrs. O. B. LaFrance, Mr. and Mrs. Raymon Carson, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Daugherty, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Daugherty, Mesdames Ann Blythe, Jim Fuller, Roscoe Thomas, J. T. Gibson, Roy Granbery and Sallie Copeland.

Plans Laid
For County
Field Day

Plans are going forward for the Lamb County agricultural field day to be staged here January 31.

Olton Farmers Union has arranged for several outstanding speakers for the occasion.

Local GS Leaders
Honored As Caprock
Council Is Set Up

Mrs. Paul Burrus, veteran Girl Scout worker, was named among the district chairmen of the new Caprock Council as it was officially inaugurated at a meeting held January 8 in Lubbock.

Elected to the membership nominating committee was Mrs. D. M. Granbery, also well-known in Girl Scout circles.

Representatives from Farmer, Bailey, Lamb, Cochran, Hockley, Terry, Lynn, Crosby, Lubbock, and part of Hale County implemented plans for a coordinated program for the area, climaxing many months of intensive effort by these volunteer workers.

Miss Virginia Burgess from the regional scout office in Dallas installed new officers. Mrs. A. W. Young of Lubbock will head the council as president.

Attending the meet from Olton were Mesdames Jack Edwards, Roy Roberts, Leamon Bryant, Tom Carlisle, Frank Struve, Garrett Bley, Leo Ross Bryant, C. S. Silcott, Bill Yates, Granbery and Burrus.

CUBS TO SELL PEANUTS

Olton Cub Scouts will undertake the sale of peanuts as their effort in the March of Dimes campaign. Den 5 will begin selling the bags of peanuts on Friday afternoon, January 18, according to Mrs. Quentin Redinger, den mother.

All cubs will wear their scout uniforms and will carry the standard March of Dimes container.

As the peanuts and bags have been donated to the cubs, all proceeds from the sales will go to the March of Dimes fund.

FLOYDADA MEET

Attending a district MYF meeting in Floydada Wednesday night, January 9, were Joyce Curtis, Kay Howard, Gayle McAnally, Janet Oak, Butch Hatley, Freddy Gordon, Winfred Hair, Mrs. Herschel Curtis, and Mrs. Russell McAnally.

Guest speaker at the meeting was Dr. John Larson, missionary to India.

GIRLS' CLUB MEETS

The JUG's, a Methodist girls' club, met Monday night in the home of Mrs. Gene Wilson. Attending were 11 regular members and three new members, Kay Gregory, Jean Williams and Becky Hall.

Legionnaires Lay Plans For 1957

Members of the Olton Post of the American Legion laid plans for the coming year at their regular meeting Thursday night, January 10, at the Legion Hall. A major point of discussion concerned the encouragement of respect for the American flag and of local merchants' displaying the flag on occasions such as Flag Day, Memorial Day, and Independence Day. The group decided to have several socials during the year and brought up the possibility of holding a Memorial Day service. Decision was also made to continue the sponsorship of baseball in Olton.

It was announced that a visit from the district commander, Warren Limer of Seminole, is expected in the near future. Legionnaires attending the meet were Garrett Bley, post commander, Gene Trotter, Russell Grimes, Truman Moore, Doc Holt, J. A. Carruth, Guy Watson and Billy Hankins. The next meeting is scheduled for February 7.

PASTOR'S INSTITUTE

Hand-hoe close? Easy with the MH50. You work right up next to the row... cleaning out more weeds, loosening and aerating the soil for fast, sturdy plant growth. That's because you see where you're going. You look ahead... get a full view of what the shovels are doing.

You can move in close without damaging young plants or pruning root systems. The MH50 and cultivator turn as a unit... dodge... move into or away from the row as one implement.

Massey-Harris front-mounted cultivators attach quickly. Take less time to get ready. Spring Trip or Spring Tooth fronts and rears—or combinations. Attaches to ALL MH50 models.
