A Different Problem

I was reading an article in the Abilene Reporter News earlier this week concerning the Jayton School building being left open until 10:00 every night. The article was interesting. Seems the school is left open to allow students to use the gymnasium, etc., even check out a book from the library at 9:45 p.m. at night. I think it is a great plan. I know Jayton is small, probably small enough that the "open door" policy has worked with success. The article did say that barring any unforeseen incident (i.e. - vandalism) the school buildings would continue to be left open for the public. Here in Fisher County we have a different problem. Seems the Sheriff's Department has seen fit to offer a cash reward for information leading to the arrest and indictment of individuals involved in three burglaries in recent weeks. Recently someone burglarized White's True Value Hardware and took televisions and watches; last week a burglary of a private residence was reported where $617.00 in property was stolen as well as a burglary of the Boy Scout Building where $315.00 in property was stolen. Sheriff Counts is offering a $100.00 cash reward for information in the two most recent burglaries and a $200.00 reward for information in the White's burglary.

Jayton, to the north, leaves the school complex open so kids can play basketball in the gymnasium and have access to the library and in doing so apparently has not experienced any serious problems. In Fisher County we have to offer cash rewards for information leading to the arrest and indictment of individuals breaking into homes and businesses. That should say something about the caliber of people and quality of life in the two areas.

PUTTING IN COTTON SEEDS: Fisher County farmers began putting cotton seeds in the ground last Monday, the uniform cotton planting date. Above, Harold Roberts, loads seed hoppers on his farm West of Rotan.

Hustling Around Hobbs by Joy Walker

Well, how do you like this cooler weather? Snyder reported 44 degrees Monday morning, and it's an almost perfect morning, except we didn't get any rain. It rained so hard at Austin, everywhere was flooded, and they had a tornado to touch down at Bastrop which is just a little way from Lytton Springs. They got over 3 inches of rain in about 2 hours, and it was so dark, it looked almost like night time. They want sunshine now, to dry everything out, as they have had 11 inches of rain in a little over a week. Wish we could have got some of that.

Mrs. Sue Medrano came through her eye surgery just fine, but she is still in the hospital, and they plan on moving her to Baylor Hospital in Dallas on Monday. She is having heart problems, and Marcus said they will be doing heart surgery in the next day or so. We hope that she will soon feel very much better, as she has really been very sick. Our thoughts and prayers are with Sue and her family.

Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Cave celebrated their 56th wedding anniversary on Sunday. Happy anniversary to Alice and J.C.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Martinez attended the open house at the Fisher County Hospital on Saturday. Then they both helped take the church census on Sunday, so got to visit lots of folks.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Todd Etheredge of Dallas on the birth of a baby girl, who was born on Tuesday, May 13th at 6 p.m. They named her Skyler. Mrs. J.W. Etheredge and David Etheredge went to Dallas on Wednesday, and brought Chase Etheredge, the other little boy, back with them, and he is here spending a few days with his grandparents. He has also been visiting with the remainder of the family while he is here.

Mrs. Ann Neves from Snyder and Mrs. Laura Mae Williams from Hermligh visited with the J.D. Kincaids on Thursday. Mrs. Lisbon Letz from Old Glory visited with the Kincaids for a short while Saturday morning. Lucy is still not feeling very good, and we hope that she will soon begin to feel very much better.

Mrs. Opal Phillips went to Mr. and Mrs. Gary Hyers for lunch on Sunday. Mr. and Mrs.

Walter Cave and baby from Midland were here spending the weekend with the Hyers.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Hardin from Strawn are here visiting with Mrs. Bea Hardin. They came Friday and stayed until Monday. Wesley is doing real good after his heart surgery. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hardin and Kimmia visited with Bea and her company Saturday evening, and Mr. and Mrs. W.B. Hardin and Mrs. Joe Hardin and Chris from Merkel spent the day with them all on Sunday.

Jim and I left here early Friday morning and went to Austin, spending the weekend in Lytton Springs with Mark and Melody. We went early so we could go to the Giddings rodeo, which Melody won last year, but unluckily Dandy came up crippled that very afternoon, so Melody had to pull out of the rodeo altogether. We did go to the rodeo as Mark roped real late that night, and it was 2 a.m. before we got home. That was the only rodeo they didn't have to cancel because of all the rain, but their arena is covered, and is sure nice. Saturday was a big celebration in Lockhart, Chisholm Trail Round Up, in fact, it went on for three days, but that morning we all went to the big parade, which was the biggest one I have ever seen in Texas. It lasted around 2 1/2 hours, with more floats etc., and the weather didn't turn bad until after the parade was over. Then we attended a surprise anniversary dinner for Mark's parents, Mr. and

Mrs. Lynn Parrish, and there were about 25 folks there for dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Art Hammonds and Kalee were there from Ft. Worth, and Dr. and Mrs. Pete Fincher from Sterling City and they all spent the weekend, and we got to visit with them all, and with Mr. and Mrs. George Zimpleton and

Jenna who are from Bastrop. That night we met Mr. and Mrs. Donnie Gruben and Mrs. John Carl Gruben at Texas Stadium and we all went to the track meet to watch Donnie Carl participate in the 800 meter run. He placed 6th but it was so humid after all the rain, and it wasn't his best time. They had to cancel the track meet Saturday afternoon because of the bad lightning that accompanied the storm, so they completed it later Saturday night. We also met Mr. and Mrs. Pat Patterson from Snyder, and Mr. and Mrs. Gary Patterson from Henderson, at the track meet. Sure had a good week, and got to see a good rain, and the track meet was stupendous. We returned home early Sunday morning.

Well, this is all for now. It's sure a long drive, and I'm glad we could take our time and we got lots of visiting done.

One more thing, congratulations to the Fisher County Share-The-Fun group which won 1st place on Saturday in Vernon.

"A MINISTER WALKED BY"

So when . . . the children of Israel saw Moses, behold, . . . they were afraid to come near him. Exodus 34:30

In his book The Holiness of God, R. C. Sproul tells of having dinner at a friend's house in Amsterdam. The conversation was animated, and everyone was having a good time. Suddenly a momentary lull came into the conversation, and to break the silence one of the Dutch men said, "Er gaat een Dominee voorbij," which means in English, "A minister walked by!" Sproul was told that in Holland, whenever an awkward lull threatens to stop a good conversation, this phrase is used to explain the sudden silence. "The idea," Sproul summarized, "is that nothing could ruin the conviviality of a party faster than the presence of a clergyman."

Now, the presence of a minister of God should not dampen good, clean fun. But if the language is shady and the stories are off-color, a devout Christian should have a restraining effect on sin. When Moses descended from Mount Sinai, God's people, who had sinned in worshipping the golden calf, were afraid to come near him. He had been with God, and his presence radiated His holiness. So too, the impact of Christ's holiness should be manifested through His people. His righteousness should be evident in those who walk obediently with Him. People who take the Lord's name in vain should feel uncomfortable in the presence of a dedicated believer. May it be true of us that our presence will hush unholily conversation and thwart godless deeds — as if "a minister walked by." — D.C.E.

No reproff is so potent as the silent influence of a good example.

County Agent News

By Richard Spencer

To the typical rancher, the business of raising cattle is not too much different today, than it was back in the days of his grandfather. Certainly, pickup trucks and motorcycles have replaced many horses and new local auction barns have been built to service the rancher. With all this however, cattle are still raised in about the same ways as in days of old.

To most cattlemen then, the assumption is that the marketing of beef is also just about the same. After all, the calves are still born in the spring and sold in the fall. The price that the rancher receives is still determined by some "mystical power" between the market and the big major meat packers. Unfortunately, that is no longer the case. The beef marketing chain, today, bares only a slight resemblance to its counter part of just a few years ago.

Changes at the marketing level of the beef business have been dramatic and far reaching. Driven by forces emanating from consumers, scientists, and businessmen, today's beef industry doesn't even look like the marketing system of earlier years. Most of the changes which came at one level of the industry have caused a chain reaction that created other major adjustments throughout the system.

The familiar local butcher shops, so common before the 1950's, yielded to large self-service supermarkets. The retail outlets, unlike their predecessors, recognized the need for large volumes and a high degree of consistency for their customers. Consumer demands were translated into rigid buying specifications to assure to proper quality and quantities of beef needed. "Specializing" became common and beef was required to sell itself in the retail counter.

Almost about the same time, the "away-from-home" market began expanding. In response to higher consumer incomes, greater commuter distances to work, expansions of institutional food facilities and the working wife, the Hotel, Restaurant and Institutional trade expanded with a fantastic growth rate. It was thought this vehicle that the fast-food outlets emerged, which have now become a major channel for beef distribution.

The nation's meat packers, representing the functional level between these retail market segments and the producers of finished cattle, have responded to this new array of market force. The days of the dominance of Armour, Swift, and Wilson have yielded to new industry giants such as IBP, Swift Independent, and Excel. Foremost, among the changes was a relocation of the industry to points close to newly emerging production areas. Along with this, there has been a strong move toward increased specialization. That not only meant emphasizing either slaughtering or processing, but also a dependence upon handling just one species and frequently only one kind or class within one species. It is not unusual today, to have a meat packer who kills nothing but cows, and bones his production for the boneless beef market, while another handles only hotel type finished cattle and sells through jobbers.

This increased meat packer specialization also influenced market activity. Central Terminal Markets like Kansas City and Omaha have yielded to direct packer buying of finished stock. Many Terminals discontinued operations, forcing government market reports to also consider relocation. The growth of local auction markets, then, complimented this change and offered the ranchers a place to sell their calves, breeding animals, and cull cows.

As you would suspect, all these adjustments in beef marketing have also influenced the production level. While many of the changes cannot be identified on a local basis, they are easily felt at the national level. There have been tremendous changes in number of producers, locational shifts in production, increased specialization and important gains in the scale of operations. A paramount illustration of these changes is the dramatic rise of the commercial cattle feeder. The custom feedlot of the Plains states has demonstrated a fantastic growth in output, encroaching upon the rapidly dwindling fed cattle marketings of the midwest farmer-feeders.

An over view of the current beef industry structure and the strong dominance of a relatively few numbers of firms can be seen as follows: The 250 Corporate Retail Food Firms, when added to about 150 Independent Affiliated Retailers account for about 90% of all the grocery store sales; The 268 Federally Inspected Cattle Slaughterers account for 92% of all the cattle killed; the 1762 Large Cattle Feedlots represent 71% of the nation's fed cattle output; and of the 1.6 million cow-calf producers, 67% had less than 100 head.

As one would suspect, under this entirely new industry structure, the pricing of beef, the communication system and the timing, are all different. Selling calves once a year to get the feel of the market is not good enough. The various adjustments made at each industry level emphasize the need for the cattlemen of the 1980's to be a much better informed and astute businessman, if he is to survive.

WHERE OTHERS HAVE THEIR BRANCHES, WE HAVE OUR ROOTS.

Today's banking picture leaves a lot to be desired. The big financial networks have branches everywhere. The home office dictates policies for everyone... which means the real decision makers are often hundreds of miles away. While you're looking for personal service... big banks' employees are climbing the corporate ladder. Their main concern? Personal success. At our Independent Bank things are different. We have our roots firmly planted in the community we serve. When you need to see a decision maker, you see a neighbor who's responsive to the local economic climate and has the responsibility for making your money work here... in our community.

If your bank gives you the feeling you're out on a limb... maybe it's time to bank the Independent Way.

You Know Us. We Know You.

RETIREMENT PLANNING

Ninety-five percent of all Americans at retirement age are dependent on the government, charity, or their relatives for financial support.

Most of us can accomplish great things when we put our mind to it. If you have the discipline to do a little planning and a little saving, you'll be well ahead of the pack at retirement time.

Whatever our current station in life, we can all live with 10% less current consumption. If you will save (invest) ten cents out of each dollar you earn and follow a few simple rules, you'll have the retirement money you need.

So where do you start? Right now, and for each year from now on, make a list of everything you own and everything you owe. This allows you to determine your net worth. The change in this net worth from year to year is your measurement of how well you're doing on your retirement kitty. If you don't do as well as you had hoped in the first two or three years, don't give up. Just as dieters do, you have to keep at the program to be successful.

Next, you should draw up a statement listing your sources of income and your anticipated expenses over the next year. Determine from this how you can save 10% savings. The interest portion of your house payment is very much like rent; you should consider it a current expense.

Most importantly, don't procrastinate. A dieter is not going to lose weight thinking about the pounds he wants to lose. You must put a program in action and have the discipline to stick with it.

If you can't get the ball rolling on your own, ask your accountant for assistance.

Extension Homemakers Club Holds Meeting

The Extension Homemakers Club met with Nell Park Thursday, May 15. Our County Agent Alice Ballenger met with us.

Eda Bickerstaff presided and Gaynell Henry called the roll and read the minutes. There was a short business session and Ardell Floyd brought a reading.

The program was on Fashions in the 1800's. Alice showed pictures and explained each one. Of the clothes the women wore at that time, I'm so glad I was born in the 1900's when things are comfortable and wash and wear. Everyone agreed. It was a very interesting program.

Nell served refreshments to Oma Long, Beatrice Hargrove, Eda Bickerstaff, Gaynell Henry, Lois Sparks, Mary Posey, Ardell Floyd, Effie Murphree, Georgia Ashton, Wanda Floyd and Hilda Rollins.

Our next meeting will be with Oma Long, June 7th.

Card of Thanks

I would like to thank everyone who helped make my 90th birthday party such a happy occasion.
