Morrow Boy Fine After Operation Due Home Soon

Tyler Morrow, oldest son of Wes and Terri Morrow of Rotan, was operated on at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock last week and was found to "have a low grade malignant tumor," according to a family member.

Tyler is scheduled to return home next Monday or Tuesday, stay for two or three weeks then return to Lubbock for radiation treatments for two or three weeks.

He is in Methodist Hospital, Room 517B, Lubbock, Texas for those desiring to send cards or can be reached by calling (806) 792-1011, extension 3517.

Rotan Book Review To Meet

The Book Review Club will meet March 17 at 3:00 p.m. in the First Baptist Church. The reviewer will be Bobbie Steakley of Colorado City, Texas.

In final action the board approved the placement of Eric Cupp, Pretresa Bolton, Keith Clifton and Teresa Clifton on the list of approved substitutes.

All Rotan Teachers Given Extensions To Contracts

All Rotan teachers were rehired at the Rotan School Board meeting last Monday night. After entering executive session, discussing individual teachers, the board went back into open session and approved the rehiring of all teachers, according to Superintendent Alton Fields.

School Superintendent Alton Fields reported to the board members on several items in his report. (1) He indicated that he intended on sending a letter of appreciation to the people who put on the "You and Your Daughter" seminar recently. (2) He had completed the securing of samples to be sent off o state officials to determine if asbestos was present in school ceilings and walls (3) Fields received approval to advertise for the purchase of a new tractor for the school and (4) he reviewed a recent health department audit with the board. It was basically clean and did not reflect any alarming irregularities.

Fields informed the board of four ineligible basketball players who were allowed to play and under UIL rules were not supposed to causing the forfeiture of four season games. A double-check system has been implemented to assure the oversight does not take place in the future. In ending his report, Fields informed the board that the new school bus budgeted at $23,000 was going to actually cost $22,329.00 and was to be delivered in

An apparent misunderstanding concerning the classification and computation of a "weighted course" in Rotan High School has resulted in the disqualification of four students and forfeiture of four district basketball games, according to a report given to the Rotan School Board Monday night by Superintendent Alton Fields.

An Algebra 1 course, weighted for the purposes of determining the top five students locally, was thought to be weighted for UIL purposes and has caused the forfeiture of three basketball games.

The school teacher, thinking the course was weighted by 10 points, assumed athletes taking the course could make a 60 instead of a 70 and still be considered passing. Consequently, the students making below 70 were not listed on failing lists and played in four district basketball games.

LAST WEEKS OBSERVATION: Within just a few minutes one day last week, I observed a fancy looking sports car race by the office barreling up the old hospital hill.....I thought to myself that "he's going entirely too fast", wonder where the police officers are? Not long after that I saw a motorcycle take the same route, not speeding however; but ridden by a young man and young girl without helmets. I thought how silly it was to ride a motorcycle without benefit of a safety helmet. You parents may not be able to do much about your child purchasing a motorcycle, but you should have enough swing to insist on the child wearing a helmet. I had a bad flashback of a young Rotan man who lost his life up by the old hospital 10 or 12 years ago - and it wasn't pleasant. He was riding a motorcycle, not wearing a helmet.

SORRY, I STAND CORRECTED: Last week in this column, I passed along a few roses to Ben Reaid and Archie Neeley, commenting that they filled non paying positions as Fire Marshal and Fire Chief, respectively, for the City of Rotan. I was in error. I don't intend to take the flowers away, because I do feel they are doing a good job. I do however want to set the record straight. Reaid makes $50.00 a month and Neeley makes $75.00 a month. Neeley is selected to serve by the members of the Rotan Volunteer Fire Department while Reaid is appointed to serve by the City fathers. Sorry for the error, I didn't intend to mislead anyone, I was actually under the impression they were non-paying posts. They almost are.

PADUCAH SQUAD: Supposedly these guys are giants and are expected to march to a state championship in Austin in round ball. One of the team members is the oldest son of former Rotan High School girls basketball Coach Sonny Barnes. Most of the team members are juniors. I understand they have only lost one game this year and that was to a 4-A powerhouse. Anyway, if you're interested in basketball - keep your eye on Paducah for the new couple of years.

MORE BASKETBALL: Former Rotan Coach Billy Dunn, boys basketball-left Rotan and was hired at Buffalo, near Houston. We understand he won his basketball district with an overall season record of 23-11 at Class AA Buffalo and is in the regional playoffs. He married former Rotan native Sonya Leverton May.

HAPPY ST. PATRICK'S DAY: For all you Fisher County residents with a touch of Irish Blood, next Tuesday is the day for the 'Wearing Of The Green'. My oldest son Kip, after graduating from Texas Tech in December of last year, accepted a job with the Shamrock, Texas newspaper. The entire town (men) grow beards for the big. St. Pat's Celebration. His is a little scraggly-saw him for the first time last weekend since moving to Shamrock on January 1st. He said his boss, age 71 grows his snow white beard and dies it green every year. Those folks take St. Patrick's Day seriously.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK: A lot of people who complain about their bosses being dumb would be out of jobs if they were any smarter.

Pastor's

By Alvin Petty First Baptist Church Roby, Texas

My mother was fond of using proverbs at appropriate times. When something was accidently broken or spilled, she would likely say, "Don't waste time crying over spilled milk, just clean up the

What a wonderful no-nonsense approach to life there is in the simple words, "just clean up the mess." These words have taught me not to magnify the ongoing destructive power of mistakes, accidents and tragic mishaps.

We increase the debilitating effect of bad incidents by reacting to them with self-condemnation. Statements such as "Why did I...", or "I ought to have," reflect our condemnatory spirit. Why not just clean up the mess the best we can and get on with the business of positive living by believing in God and in ourselves.

Some years ago I saw a humorous cartoon and title on the cover of a book. The book must have been about raising a family. There was a very frustated father looking at his food stained clothing while orange juice and oatmeal dripped from the baby's high chair next to him. The book cover read, "Where Two or Three Are Gathered Together, One Is Bound To Spill His Juice.'

One cannot prevent the mishaps of life. But one can prevent the mishaps from being so bad if he "just cleans up the mess" and goes right on.

I have actually found that quickly getting busy cleaning up the mess actually promotes an imperturbable spirit. Quick corrective action keeps me from taking off on a narrow guage track of griping and self condemnation which only magnifies the bad incident.

Sometimes it is a moral mess that we create by our selfish and foolish behavior. Even here the thing to do is "just clean up the mess." We do this by kicking the wrong attitude out of our mind, honestly telling God about our wrong and asking his forgiveness and working to repair any damage we have done to others or other things.

So, Mom, thanks for all the times you simply handed me a rag and told me to "just clean up the mess." And thanks for all the time you did not dwell on my mistakes and gripe about them.

Gov. Bill Clements lobbied Washington and lawmakers fine-tuned teacher testing last week while they waited for a legal green light on their $20 million emergency reform bill. Their action diverts $32 million from Highway Department to pay for prison reform and replenish the workers' compensation for fund state employees. But until Atty, Gen. Jim Mattox says the diversion is constitutional, and until the federal court accepts the bill as adequate, lawmakers cannot move to complete the budget process early. In past sessions, the budget was passed in the wanning hours, but Gov. Clements said he wants lawmakers to act earlier this year. Last week, some predicted a special summer session would be needed to approve the budget, an idea which Speaker Gib Lewis nixed as too expensive.

Clements In Washington

Clements met with President Reagan last week to urge an oil import fee and build the multibillion dollar supercollider in Texas.

He also discussed those subjects and relations with Mexico with other White House and Department of Energy officials.

And in a meeting with the Texas congressional delegation, he advised them to let DOE pick a Texas site and then pull together to it through Conpush gress.

Test Abolished

On the same day with no debate, the House and Senate voted to abolish subject competency tests for teachers, one of two tests for teachers required under the controversial HB 72 reform package. The governor is expected to sign the bill

Rain, Rain, Go Away!

"Rain, rain, go away; come again another day." Question: When?

For most of us there is no good day for rain to come. It cancels family outings, stymies outside games, and generally upsets our schedules.

But rain depends upon perspective. For the farmer, with crops dying in the field, any day is a good day for rain. And in our better, saner moments we all know that without rain the cycle of nature cannot happen and life becomes deserts.

The other night I got caught in the rain. I went into a meeting, damp all over and completely wet in spots. I complained, but then a poem by William Stidger came to mind. He wrote: "I saw God wash the world last night, and hang it out to dry.

Now that's perspective! And even in my damp condition the rain that had drenched me seemed a bit less damaging.

And then I remembered the last part of Stidger's poem: "I wish that He would wash me as white as that old birch tree.

As the Psalmist put it: "Wash me, and I shall be whiter than snow."

CAPITOL JOURNAL

STEVEN A. CARRIKER House of Representatives

School Taxes, Homeowner Tax Break, Ag Budget,

A study by the Legislative Budget Board confirms what many legislators have been saying about the Clements proposals to reduce state funds for public schools. The study projects that if the Clements cuts were enacted, local property taxes would rise as much as 17%. In West Texas where rapidly falling oil and agriculture evaluations have eroded the tax base, school personnel say the impact might be even more severe since the LBB study did not take into account the Governor's proposal to do away with one-half of the kindergarten funding and cut $125 million from vocational education.

Homeowners could retain their current tax exemptions if a bill I have introduced is adopted. HB 1093 would reinstate the option for local tax districts to grant up to a 40% exemption for residence homesteads and would raise the minimum exemption for a homeowner from $5,000 to $10,000. On the other end, the exemption for high value homes would be limited. High value homes could receive up to a 40% exemption of the first $125,000 of evaluation. With the mounting pressures on the local ad valorem tax, some exemptions may be necessary for many families to afford to own a home of their own.

The House Agriculture Committee voted unanimously last week to maintain rural services by basing program expenditures on 1985 levels. In so doing, the committee rejected the drastic cuts in farm and rural programs proposed by Governor Clements. The Clements plan would have cut the Extension Service 37% and would have eliminated the funding for the soil and water conservation service and the predatory animal control service. In adopting its own budget recommendation, the Agriculture committee pointed out that rual services have been cut more than other programs since the budget crunch hit the state three years ago.

Railroad Commissioner Jim Nugent urged a tax reduction for oil and gas producers in a speech to the Texas House last week. The Legislature's desire to aid the ailing industry may have been an inadvertent blow by the Commissioner's speech when we sighted figures showing that it costs $9.10 to produce a barrel of oil. Noting that the current price of oil is about $15.00, one East Texas legislator commented "sounds like a pretty nice mark-up to me." "Beats selling shoes," said another.

Members Of Chamber Of Commerce Review Possible Projects

A total of eleven directors of the Rotan Chamber of Commerce met last Wednesday afternoon for a monthly meeting and reviewed the survey taken of possible projects to be considered.

The survey reflected the following sugges-tions for consideration by members of the board of directors.

Rotan Chamber Directors voted to hold a kite flying contest. It has been tentatively scheduled for late in March or early in April. Additional information on the contest will be carried when available.

The Rotan Chamber currently has $156.93 in the bank and is studying a plan to contact Rotan businesses for memberships.

In final action the Chamber Directors approved a plan to hold a contest to design a logo and motto for the Rotan Chamber of Commerce. Rules and prizes to be offered will be reviewed.

The next meeting of the organization will be Wednesday, March

1. Hot check and/or Credit Check program to aid businesses in this

2. Scholarship Fund or monetary reward to those students named at end of school year for Science Award, Math English Award, Awards, etc.

3. Arrange for Activity Board on main street to be more useful; it is too small and not enough letters to write complete activity on both sides.

4. Select a Motto and Logo for the Rotan Chamber of Commerce.

5. Consider offering a monetary reward for information on any robbery or vandalism that occurs (offer award only after the crime, not before). (reward to be concerned with crimes against businesses only.)

'6. Fine Art Show for community and sur-rounding areas with name artists such as H.C. Zachry, Wayne Baize, Barry Arthur, etc.; Chamber of Commerce splits percentage with gallery director usually; allow students to attend.

Tax Planning By Richard Rodgers CPA

REDUCE YOUR SELF-EMPLOYMENT TAX

A self-employed individual pays his/her Social Security contributions as "self-employment taxes." These are computed on a special self-employment schedule along with the Form 1040 for regular income taxes. But the quarterly tax estimates filed by a self-employed person must take selfemployment taxes into consideration.

A self-employed individual may be able to reduce the self-employment tax by hiring his or her spouse, hiring minor children, lumping income into alternate years, or by incorporating and electing S

An unincorporated businessperson who hires a spouse will reduce the net profit subject to selfemployment tax. The spouse receiving the compensation does not pay Social Security taxes under a special exemption for spousal wages. The same is true if you hire one of your children under the age of 21. Keep in mind that the amount paid must be reasonable compensation for the services perform-

The maximum net profit subject to selfemployment tax for 1987 is $43,800. If your net profit is in the $43,000 range, consider shifting your income and deductions so that you pay the maximum Social Security in some years and substantially less than the maximum in alternate years.

If your sole proprietorship or husband-wife partnership is producing a net profit in excess of a reasonable compensation for your time, you could save money by incorporating and electing S status. You're required to take a reasonable wage but no more than that. If reasonable compensation for you or your spouse would be $10,000, for example, there is little point in paying 12.3% of $43,000 for 1987. If you incorporate, the salary you draw will also be subject to federal unemployment tax. This must be computed to determine what savings you would have under this technique.

To the extent you pay less than the maximum self-employment Social Security contribution, you will reduce your benefits. One should take the savings from the reduced taxes and invest them wisely.

National Hire The Older Worker Week March 8th-14th

Recognizing the importance of meaningful employment for older Americans, March 8-14, has been established as National Hire the Older Worker Week. An annual event, Older Worker Week, is designed to spotlight the valuable qualities of the mature worker. Texas Farmers Union Green Thumb encourages both public and private employers to join them in honoring older employees during this time.

Green Thumb, Senior Community Service Employment Program and sponsored by Texas Farmers Union, currently operates in 126 counties allowing over 1,000 senior workers to earn wages while assisting nonprofit organizations.

Fisher County wheat fields are very weedy and will seriously reduce yields and create harvest problems if not controlled.

Mustards and henbit are the two most obvious problems at this Mustards are time. those broadleaf weeds that are now beginning to produce yellow flowers in the wheat fields. Henbit has been producing purple flowers for some time.

One mustard plant per square foot can reduce wheat yields by 10%. Wheat will tolerate higher populations of henbit with less yield loss. In fact, 10 henbit plants are required to do the same damage as one mustard.

Some of the most effective mustard, henbit and other annual broadleaf weed controls are Glean, Ally and 2,4-D. Glean and Ally may be applied up to the boot state of wheat growth. For 2,4-D applications, damage to wheat can occur if treatments are made beyond the joint stage of wheat growth. In using any of these materials, remember that the smaller the weed the easier the control. Large weeds may require combinations of higher Glean or Ally with 2,4-D. The materials mentioned are labeled for liquid fertilizer and herbicide combination applications. The critical point in using this approach is that wheat and weeds each need to be in the correct stage of growth for each material for maximum effectiveness. It looks like 1987 might be a good year to combine those applications.

November is the best time to fertilize mature pecan trees. Apply one pound of 21-0-0 per inch of trunk diameter at the dripline and water it into the soil. Some homeowners like to drill holes 6 inches deep and 3 feet apart circling the tree at the dripline. The holes help prevent burning the grass and loss due to volatization. If your trees have a heavy crop set in May, a second application of onehalf the above rate can be made. We do not recommend using a complete fertilizer such as 13-13-13 because phosphorus potassium have not been shown to increase the growth or yield. On high pH soils the phosphorous can be counterproductive and result in severe zinc shortages. If the 21-0-0 ammonium sulfate is not available, 33-0-0 ammonium

Commercial producers are learning that extra nitrogen fertilizations can significantly increase tree health and production. Our standard recommendations have been 60 units of pure nitrogen per acre on natives, 90 units on planted orchards on river bottom soil, and chards. Some growers are going up to rates as high as 300 units on old non-bearing trees. As on home trees, if the orchards have a heavy crop set in May apply a second application of nitrogen at a one-half to equal rate as the first application. Tree growth is a good index on nitrogen requirements. If the trees have less than 6 inches of growth on nonfruiting terminals, more nitrogen is needed. If the trees are making over 12 inches of growth, less nitrogen is needed.

Your Chamber of Commerce

By Don Dawes

Your Chamber of Commerce is off to a running start. We met March 4th and had reports from each of our committees. After an exciting hour of planning, we realized that there was just too much to do in just one meeting per month. We will meet March 18th for more work. If you would like to join us feel free to come with a sack lunch and meet at the Lion's Club building. Your presence to our "Feed Sack" form helped us realize several things. First, we know now that you desire for our population and business district to grow. We will do all we can to help increase both in population and in more of the same quality businesses that you have come to enjoy in our city.

Kite Flying Contest: Your chamber is happy to announce that in the very near future we will host a kite flying contest. We will be award ing the winning entries with several divisions to enter your kite in. There will be no age requirement. Come one come all. Watch the paper for more details.

Logo and Motto Contest: We are also pleased to announce a logo and motto contest. Both the person with the best motto and the person with the best logo will each receive a $50.00 U.S. savings bond. So start now working on your entry in one or both of these award winning contests. (See page 1 for more

Well we had a beautiful week of just wonderful weather, and the days were just about perfect, although it was just a little cool every night. Now this morning that has all changed and the north wind is whistling and the clouds are heavy and it looks like it might try to rain. So Spring is gone for the next several days. All the fruit trees are in full bloom and the grass was growing so, we had to mow ours last Wednesday. Of course the pastures are just right, and the cows are very contented with all that green grass and lots of water, so they should grow big and fat. The James Ratliffs went to Abilene on Sunday and watched their son, Jim, play in the Wheel Chair basketball game against the Dallas Texans for the Zone play offs. Although they played an excellent game, the High Rollers of Abilene lost. Teressa Ratliff came to the game and visited with the Ratliffs. Trese Ratliff, son of Jim Ratliff, came back with his grandparents and is going to spend the week with them.

Mrs. Bea Hardin has been gone. She left last Friday and came back the following Tuesday. Larry McBeth from Abilene came after Bea and took her to meet Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hardin and she visited with them in Victoria. While she was there, the Doc Hardins celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary with a reception on Sunday. Congratulations to Doc and Joanne. Bea flew home Tuesday from Austin to Abilene, and then Larry McBeth brought her back to Hobbs. Ralph Hardin from Corpus Christi and Wesley Hardin and his daughter, Mrs. Linda Joskiev from Bellville were all at Victoria visiting with the Doc Hardins, so Bea really enjoyed her trip and seeing them all.

Mr. and Rudolph Martinez attended the reception that was given for Dr. C.U. Callan on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Phillips and their son, Michael, all from Arlington, and Mrs. Hazel Phillips, from Rotan visited for a short while on Saturday with Mrs. Opal Phillips. Sunday Opal ate lunch with the Gary Hyers; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cave, Brittany and Brandy from Midland were here visiting the Gary Hyers and the rest of the family. Opal was sure pleased to see them and their new baby, Brandy.

We were sorry to learn that Clarence Anderson had an accident Wednesday. He was trimming some branches from their trees, and fell about 8 feet. June took him to Cogdell Hospital in Snyder and they kept him overnight for observation. He has several broken ribs and his right

Governor's Veto May Cause Rotan Taxes To Escalate

Governor Clements threat to veto anything greater than a 2.9 billion tax bill may come back to kick Rotan School District residents in the pocketbook, according to a report given board members last Monday night by Superintendent

Alton Fields. Fields, in informing the board previewed his remarks by saying they were "frightening". He said the 2.9 billion anticipated would not be enough to pay the state bills and could necessitate a 17% reduction in state education

In trying to realize what a 17% reduction would be, Fields applied the formula to three options released by the state.

Option 1-calls for the increase of local funds assignment from .33.3% to 48.8%. This increase, if placed into effect. would cost the Rotan School District a total of $126,500 or an additional $253 per ADA. Translated into tax dollars, the adoption of Plan 1 would require a .23 cent tax increase to make up for the lost funds the Rotan ISD would have received in order to continue with all the present pro-

Option 2-calls for the elimination of funds from the State of Texas for vocational education, compensatory education, gifted and talented education and eliminating the funds for education improvement and career ladder allotment. It also calls for eliminating experienced teacher allotment and reduced Equalization Bilingual Education aid. Option 2 would cost the Rotan School District $153,500 or $307 per ADA and could cause local taxes to increase from .94 cents per $100 valuation to $1.22 or an additional hike of .28 To generate funds lost.

Option 3-calls for the elimination of funding for the price differential index, the elimination of small district adjustment, elimination of vocational education funding, eliminating the experienced teacher allotment, reducing the education improvement and career ladder allotment from $140 to $73 per ADA. This option would cost a total of $313,000 for the local district and would cause local taxes to jump from .94 cents per $100 valuation to $1.50 to keep the same services.

Some advocate the theory that it would be lesser burden if education were funded out of Austin on a state wide basis, rather than going through local tax increases to achieve the same objective.

Fields made it clear to board members that he was not advocating a local tax increase. He was only attempting to demonstrate the impact locally of a reduction in state education funds.
