OCCA Members Set Meeting Friday Night

General membership meeting of Olton Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture is scheduled for Friday night, according to Wayne Cooper, manager.

Mr. Cooper said the meeting will be held at 7:30 o'clock in the high school auditorium. It will be open to the public.

The Chamber manager said suggestions for improvement of OCCA will be sought.

Induced Current Hampers Phone Service Here

Olton has had only four long distance circuits in operation during the past week.

General Telephone Company officials said change in the load of adjacent electrical circuits has induced electrical current into the lines.

This knocked out all physical circuits. The company has relied upon four high frequency carrier circuits to handle telephone traffic in and out of Olton. High frequency circuits handles communication by means of radio frequency induced into the carrier wire and is not affected by the electric current, company officials reported.

Telephone company officials said the circuits are being restored with all haste by means of special equipment.

FOUR JAILED

Nab Young Thugs In Home Looting

Four young men from Levelland—three of them teen-agers—are in jail at Littlefield in connection with the late Sunday afternoon burglary of the George Bohner home.

Three of the boys are brothers, police reported.

The Bohner home is located 3 miles west of Olton.

Mr. and Mrs. Bohner returned home to surprise the foursome in the act of burglarizing the house.

Mr. Bohner held two of the boys until Olton Police Chief Vernie Head arrived to take them into custody.

Relatives described his condition as improving Wednesday. Mr. Bearden is an Olton farmer and former member of Olton Chamber of Commerce & Agriculture board of directors.

March 16 Date Set As Deadline On A, B Choice

Lamb County cotton growers have until March 16 to choose between A and B plans for cotton production of their farms.

This information comes from the Lamb County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office in Littlefield.

D. C. Terrell, ASC chairman, said that no choice may be filed until after the farm operator receives notice of price supports applicable to the 1959 cotton crop.

He said these should be forthcoming about the end of January.

If the cotton grower elects choice A and complies with it, his 1959 crop will be eligible for price support at not less than 80 percent of parity. If he elects and complies with choice B he may have a 40 percent larger cotton acreage but his crop will be eligible for a price support 15 percent less than under Plan A.

The operator must elect the same plan for all farms which he operates.

STREAKS OF BRILLANCE

Mustangs Downed In District Tilts

Although they turned occasional streaks of brilliance on the maplewood, both Olton's boy and girl cage teams suffered smashing defeats at the hands of two conference opponents during the past week.

The girls lost 34 to 66 to Morton last Friday night and then took a 45 to 15 pasting from Muleshoe here Tuesday night by a score of 42 to 38.

High pointer for Olton girls in the Morton game was Gayle McAnally with eleven tallies. Second was Sharon Dennis with nine.

High point for Olton girls in the Muleshoe game was Sue Witten with seven.

Morton's Indians took a twelve point lead in the first quarter of that game with Olton's Mustangs. That was just about their margin of victory.

Community Must Be Used Says Downing In Banquet Speech

A community will remain only so long as its people appreciate it and use it.

This solemn declaration came Friday night from Delbert Downing, Midland Chamber of Commerce manager, as he addressed a gathering of more than 200 people at the annual Olton Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture banquet.

Trading at home and building a community is a two-way proposition, Mr. Downing declared.

"People ought to be ashamed to go somewhere else to trade," the gifted speaker continued.

Be Competitive However, he pointed out that the merchants in the small town should offer the community something more than just a hometown store at which to trade.

"If a merchant thinks he'll get the business just because he lives there (in the town), he's made a mistake," Downing emphasized.

He said the hometown merchant should keep his windows just as clean, his merchandise just as up to date and be just as competitive in other ways as the merchant in the bigger city.

Be Proud The Chamber of Commerce should always be working to "make people proud they got it in Olton," Downing went on.

"If people appreciate Olton and use it, it will live," the speaker reiterated.

Downing said the continued existence of the small town has a greater significance to the nation as a whole.

"Strength of the morals of this world lies in the small community and rural area—never in the larger cities," he declared.

530 Gone Downing pointed out that some 530 communities have gone out of existence during the past quarter century.

"They are gone," he asserted.

CAFES SPONSOR COFFEE DAY

Dimes Drive Rolls

Olton's campaign to raise funds for fighting dread diseases got underway this week.

Co-chairmen of the drive this year are Ralph Glover and Eldon Franks. They placed coin receptacles in most Olton business houses Monday morning.

Mr. Franks quoted Dr. Jonas Salk, discoverer of Salk vaccine, as having said "Money now being raised will be used to find ways to combat not only polio but also birth defects, arthritis, virus diseases, cancer and heart disease".

The county committee, of which Mr. Franks and Mr. Glover are members, began laying plans for the fund-raising campaign back in September.

Mr. Glover said cafes will be asked to sponsor a coffee day during which all money paid in for coffee in the participating cafes will go into the fund. There will be a mothers' march.

"We will certainly appreciate any help the club women of Olton can give us on this," Mr. Glover declared.

During a week to be designated, golfers at Olton Recreation Center will be asked to pay a penny a stroke for one round of golf.

Mr. Franks said that although polio has almost been conquered, much remains to be done combating other dread diseases.

He quoted Dr. Jonas Salk, discoverer of the famed Salk vaccine, as having said, "most birth defects may be corrected before the child is born." He said the doctor also has promised great things in the battle against arthritis and cancer.

Reporter Tells Of Doane Survey

By Burl McClellan
KGNC-TV Farm Reporter
(Special To The Enterprise)
 Thoroughness and sound predictions are two things that seemed most impressive about reports made by the Doane Agriculture Survey on Sherman County.

As a reporter for the KGNC Farm and Ranch Department, we sat in on most of the meetings the Doane's representatives had with the people of Sherman County. The first meeting was early in March and the report on the completed survey was made in October.

The results of the survey, as presented in the report were not startling. In fact, many of the recommendations made in the final report were things that people were talking about long before the survey was made. However, this report showed what one can expect in profits from different size operations and how big you should try to get with the amount of capital, land and labor you have.

The research into markets and market possibilities is probably one of the best features in the Doane work. They do not come in and find that you can grow Mexican Jumping Beans and then recommend you plant a big crop, unless they are sure there will be a market for Mexican Jumping Beans for the next several years.

In Sherman County the Doane representatives found new crops, but they either recommended that the farmers go very slow or not try them at all because of the unstable market possibilities. An example of this is vegetables. Sherman County has the soil, climate and is developing the irrigation water for vegetables, but because of the instability of the vegetable market, the lack of experience in growing and marketing vegetables by Sherman County farmers and the high cost of production, the survey recommended that Sherman farmers stay away from vegetables, or experiment with them on a very small scale.

However, if their research into new crop possibilities produces crops that will grow in the area and Doane's can find a suitable market for the next few years, they will recommend the new crops. We understood that their market predictions were made on a 10 year basis.

The Doane research people told the Sherman County farmers and businessmen that they would try to help develop markets for Sherman County products and also interest buyers in any new products the survey showed the county could produce.

Before the report was finished, on the recommendation of Doane's, representatives from Holly Sugar

Co., in Colorado, came down and put out three test plots of sugar beets. The planting was late, and two plots were hailed out, but the sugar people were pleased with what they found on the third plot.

The Doane report showed that livestock feeding would be the most profitable activity for Sherman farmers. When they made this report, Doane's brought a fat cattle buyer from Colorado who was interested in buying Sherman County fattened cattle.

Another impressive thing about the operation of the research organization is that they try to help finish the job their figures start.

After a report is made, the organization does not drop a 200 page book of figures in your midst and forget you. They help you set up committees to get the suggestions and finding in operation and producing for the people who paid for the research work. Also, officials from the research staff are available to come back to the county later and help get the program operating, if it hits a snag and they will come back on their own just to see what progress is being made.

Much of their research work and community revamping has been done in the southeastern part of the United States and it has had unusual success.

However, from their work we have seen and what we have heard them say, Doane's doesn't have anything that will make you rich if you sit in the shade all day, but their research can take much of the guesswork out of future planning.

BY BOB COLLINS

Why does price of raw cotton make a difference when there is only 30 or 40 cents worth of cotton in a $4 garment??? The answer is simple but often not understood... first, the mill that buys cotton doesn't make the garment... it makes "grey goods", an unfinished fabric sold to the garment maker in a very competitive market... one-eighth to one-quarter cent per yard determines who makes the sale... in this example let's say that the cotton cost per yard to the weaver is 10.25 cents (this includes purchase price, cleaning, etc.)... now, the weaver can buy enough rayon for a 50% blend at about 3.5 cents... so he mixes 3.5 cents worth of rayon with 5.12 cents worth of cotton and the material cost is 8.62 cents per yard... if you aren't lost by now you can see that the weaver has saved over a cent per yard and cotton has immediately lost one-half its market... in other words, cotton first meets its competition at the mill... if it doesn't compete here, it never gets a chance to compete at the retail counter.

Record growth of cotton in foreign countries has hit a hard blow to cotton grown here at home... U. S. exports of cotton are low, far down from last year and it looks like there is more cotton being grown in the world than there is being used... about a half-million bales more... and we can expect the foreign production to keep on as long as the price of U. S. cotton is held so high that farmers in other lands can sell their cotton at a price just under ours and still make a profit.

How long will it be before there is a hybrid cotton seed on the market?... we'll guess that the next three years will see a hybrid offered and that six years from now there'll be an excellent seed with yields you just won't believe... right now a new hybridizing method promises to raise yields by 25%.

In figuring taxes don't forget possibility of a 20% depreciation on certain property used in producing your crop... new and used machinery may be eligible if the full life is six years or more... deduction is possible if the item was bought any time in the tax year... there's a maximum purchase level and buildings don't qualify... it's a new angle so you better talk to an expert... all we know about is cotton.

Would you like to have the work sheet used by a leading agricultural service for figuring whether it is best to go "A" or "B" next year?... we'll be glad to send you one free... just send name and address to: Corner on Cotton, P. O. Box 1022, Memphis 1, Tenn... it may help.

Kenneth Ellis Closes Letter Home With "Pearl Of The Indian Ocean"

(Editor's note: This is the last in a series of one letter sent by Kenneth Ellis to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard V. Ellis of Olton. Kenneth is in the Navy and serving aboard the USS GREENWICH BAY. His letter is telling about the GREENWICH's experiences the last months.)

PART 5

And now we were heading for Colombo, Ceylon—"The Pearl of the Indian Ocean"—with its various attractions and Oriental culture. As we boomed out a 21-gun national salute and entered the harbor we were making our furthest penetration East and were nearly half way around the world. The highlight of this visit for some was the 72-mile tour to Kandy, the home of the ancient Sinhalese kings, and the last of the beautiful mountain strongholds to fall into the hands of an invading foreigner. The Temple of the Tooth at Kandy, the quaint customs of the people, and the lasting impression of the lush tropical luxury made this visit profitable indeed. Many of us contented ourselves with the city of Colombo itself, an attractive tourist stop. The City Zoo (one of the best in the world), the snake charmers, the souvenir objects of ivory, the Buddhist temples and the small pound bags of pure Ceylonese tea were just a few of the things that attracted us. Some of the men went in big for diamonds and the star sapphires for which Ceylon is famous. And we will not soon forget the ship's annual overseas party which was held in the fashionable Galle Face Hotel. Neither will the Hotel for that matter!

Leaving Colombo, we made a short journey back up to the coast of India to the "Venice of the East," the port of Cochin. It was here on October 27, that we fully dressed ship in celebration of Navy Day 1958 and entertained over 1500 guests aboard the ship. Never did the People To People Program function more smoothly or more successfully. Indeed, it seemed the utter culmination of our ambassadorial efforts. Cochin, the primary training center for the Indian Navy, received us with open arms. This was important because Cochin lies in the state of Kerala, the only state in India in which the Communist party gained majority powers in the last elections. After visiting the Portuguese church where Vasco De Gama was first buried and the other sights of this picturesque locality, we sailed past the primitive bamboo pronged fishing nets at the mouth of the harbor and finally set our course westward toward home.

Spirits were high on our week long voyage across the ocean to Aden with thoughts of our relief here by the USS DUXBURY BAY. Yes, today was the day! Just a few hours ago the "Dux" appeared over the horizon and pulled up alongside the GB. Naturally, we planned a rousing welcome for our relief ship and razzle-dazzled them with our Arab costumes like true Sons of Sinbad. I only wish you could have been here to see the famed "Passing the Sack" ceremony. Currently, the two ships are in a state of organized confusion as the Flag personnel who have been aboard with us for the last four months are moving over to the "Dux."

Tomorrow morning, the official Transfer of the Flag Ceremony will take place, followed by a formal personnel inspection and the GREENWICH BAY'S Commanding Officer Change of Command Ceremony. At this time we will bid a long and affectionate farewell to our esteemed departing skipper, Captain James M. Wright. His replacement, Captain Robert E. Riera, comes aboard to assume command and, later in the day, he will be at the conn as we depart Aden for the westward transit of the Suez.

We have scheduled two stops in the Mediterranean. One is at Naples, Italy, where many of us hope to be able to get on a short tour up to Rome. On the way to Naples we expect to pass by the famous island of Stromboli. The other port of call is to be Palma in the Balearic Islands prior to refueling at Gibraltar. We are looking forward to each of these stops but our highest anticipation is naturally reserved for Norfolk, Virginia, USA, on December 8. We are expecting to experience a lot of rough weather on the way but as the old saying goes—"It won't be long now!" If you're planning to be in Norfolk on the 8th, don't be too surprised if a suntanned or bearded version of the man you once knew rushed to greet you in an Arab costume. With a little patience and care you'll be able to restore him to his former self. Yes, it has been a long, a very long cruise. There have been times when we wondered if we could go on another day, and we know that it has often been equally trying for our wives and families at home. Just remember . . . nobody likes to leave home. We had a job to do and now we are coming home. See you soon, Kenneth Ellis

Demons Win Trophy In Tournament

Bohner's Demons brought home the consolation trophy from the Crane tournament last weekend in spite of the fact that they were competing with some of the larger schools of the state.

The Demons were defeated only by powerful McCamey and then by a score of only 71 to 61. Bohner suffered a bitter blow in the third quarter of that game when their towering pivot man, Euel Jackson fouled out of the game.

The Demons downed Floydada 59 to 28 and Levelland 42 to 37 for consolation honors.

Jackson scored 23 points against McCamey, 17 against Floydada and 17 against Levelland. He was chosen as an all-tournament player.

Crane place two and Levelland and Odessa one each on the all-tournament team.

Bohner defeated the Littlefield All-Stars 35 to 16 earlier this week. In that fracas, Jackson scored 11 points for top scoring honors.

The Demons now command a 16-3 record for the season. They were scheduled to play Sudan here Thursday night.

Books On Parade
By Mardema Ogletree

Mrs. Harris Goes To Paris by Paul Gallico, Doubleday, $2.50.

This is a story for every dreamer who ever wanted the unattainable. It is a story to read when you are disillusioned with people. It will restore your belief that there is hope for democracy even in a world gone mad for fashion and conformity.

Mrs. Harris, an impoverished London cleaning woman, wanted more than anything else in the world to own a Dior dress.

By winning some money, and by saving what little she earned over a long period of time and doing without most of the necessities of life, Mrs. Harris managed to get enough money for a trip to Paris and a Dior gown.

How she changed the lives of the people she met in Paris makes a touching little story.

Meet Christine Irlbeck Brave Sixth Grader

CHRISTINE IRLBECK

(Editor's Note: Below is an account by Christine of her life as a crippled child. She is a very bright, cheerful youngster and we fell in love with her at first sight. We know you will, too. Christine is a sixth grader and her teacher says she is always pleasant, never complaining. Mr. Whitson, school attendant, made a special desk for Christine.)

My name is Christine Irlbeck. I am the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Irlbeck of Route N, Tulla.

I was born June 4, 1945 and I am 13 years old.

When I was eight years old, I went to Galveston to a school for crippled children. While I was there I had lots of fun. There were about 45 children there. We had Christmas parties. I got to go home for Easter and Christmas. While I was there, I had my picture taken with Governor Shivers. I was there for fifteen months.

When I came home, I started to school at Happy. I went to school there for two years.

In August 1956, I moved to a farm ten miles from Hart. I am now going to Hart School and I enjoy it very much.

I would like to have some rights as an individual.

Would you think those things too much to ask, if you were moving into a community as a teacher?

We should be thankful for our many blessings, for the community in which we live, for all the people who work together for our common good, for a group of people, acting in the interest of the future, who brought into our school excellent teachers.

We should be thankful the teachers REALIZE our need and are working wholeheartedly to help us.

When we are striving very hard to achieve a certain goal, there naturally is some misunderstanding, some friction and all of us make mistakes, but working together we can overcome the problems to the benefit of all, especially our children.

This & That

BY MYRT LOMAN

No, I probably would not have made a cake but at least you would not have found me with a dirty dress and apron on and I would have had my hair dried and combed Thursday night.

There surely are a lot of folk who can do and did a marvelous job of keeping a secret at least from the "Snooper," or Hart Beat Reporter as you really surprised Pappy and I last Thursday night with the Housewarming. Not only was our house warmed but our hearts were warmed. Again I know there are no better people and friends than in HART.

There were approximately 75 friends in our home and more than 200 signers of cards of good wishes to us in our new home.

We received individual gifts of an ash tray, plates and a cake. Will try to get you the recipe of the cake for it was delicious. One of the plates and the ash tray were handmade and hand decorated.

APPRECIATE—

 "You would have to have help to find the place where they were."
 Downing pointed out that there is a possibility of six big shopping centers serving the entire state of Texas within the next few years. He predicted speeds on the ground of more than 200 miles per hour.
 "What's going to happen to Olton?" he asked.
 "Be proud of Olton. Please keep it strong. Let it live!"

Good Citizen
 Highlight of the banquet was presentation of a plaque to Ralph Glover who was named Olton's outstanding citizen of the year.

Mr. Glover was cited for having been a 1958 Chamber of Commerce director; chairmanship of the Chamber highway and transportation committee, chairmanship of the Olton Recreation Center tournament committee; work on Olton's Christmas lighting program; vice-presidency of the Lamb County March of Dimes drive; service on the Chamber house numbering committee; and Lions club lion-tamer.

Don Williams received a plaque for "outstanding service." Mr. Williams served as president of OCCA last year.

Touch Of Humor
 In a touch of humor, Wayne Cooper, Chamber manager, presented Mr. Downing with a cup for "outstanding ability as a golfer." Mr. Cooper said Mr. Downing had complained at a Muleshoe banquet that "every-one receives plaques at these banquets but me."

President Major James acted as master of ceremonies for the banquet.

Retiring directors were recognized including Bill Kelley, Russell Grimes, Tom Carlisle, Clovis Poteet, Ralph Glover, W. W. Bearden and Glen Exter.

New directors recognized include Emmett Harper, Melvin Hines, W. T. Hall, Jr., Tom Ross, Fred Thompson, Joe Harper and Herman Meyer. Holdover directors include Mr. James, Bob Duncan, Don Williams, Merrill Brigance and Fred Hicks.

Board officers include Mr. James, president; Emmet Harper, vice-president; and Bob Duncan, secretary-treasurer.

Committee chairmen recognized include Clovis Poteet, agriculture; Luis Hair, budget and finance; Bill Kelley, retail trade; Louie Mack Hardy, civic affairs; Allen Johnston, highway and transportation; and Joe Harper, membership.

Accomplishments
 Mr. Cooper enumerated some of the accomplishments of the Chamber of Commerce during the past year.

The Chamber was instrumental in finding a market for some $60,000 worth of cucumbers grown here in 1958. The organization sought and believes that it has found recreation facilities for Mexican labor here.

A house numbering program initiated last year is nearing completion. The Chamber has done considerable work toward the widening of Highway 70 through Olton.

Newcomers have been welcomed to Olton and given hospitality books. The Chamber has maintained a house rental service. OCCA gave a cash premium for the first bale of cotton ginned here last fall.

The Chamber has sponsored a trade day each Saturday and given cash prizes.

Mr. Cooper said prospects are good for a dentist and optometrist for Olton in the near future. Olton school will have a new tennis court soon, largely because of the work done by a Chamber committee.

The Chamber erected welcoming signs at the outskirts of town on Highway 70 and sponsored a Christmas party for the kiddies just before Christmas.

NOTICE!

To Parents Of School Age Children

The school census is being taken during the month of January this year. All children who are six years old on or before Sept. 1, 1959, but will not be 18 or older on or before that same date should be counted in this census. It is very important that all children six to 18 years be counted in this census. The child should be counted even though he may not be in school and even though he or she may be married.

If you, as a parent, have not received and filled out a school census blank on or before January 21 you are being overlooked and should do one of the following:

1. Phone Superintendent at No. 3611 or the School Tax Office No. 3781 and ask for a census blank.
2. Call in person at the school Tax office and get a census blank and fill it out.

Remember, if your child will be six years old next Sept. 1st he should be counted in the census now, even though he is not in school now. If he is six but not 18 or older on next Sept. 1st he should be counted now. All children from six to 18 should be counted. The six year olds who start next September to school are the ones most often overlooked in the census. Failure to count them costs the school and taxpayers extra money. Please help us not to overlook anyone.

Please read the census blank carefully, fill it out completely, and return it by your child next day to the teacher. Thank you.

What Makes You The World's Best Shopper?*

* IT'S THOSE CLIPPINGS IN YOUR HAND!

It's a fact that American women are the most qualified shoppers in the world. Because of the intensity of newspaper advertising, American women have more information about more products, and so can compare value and price to get the most for their money. The largest single advertising voice in our country is the local newspaper. And what's more, take it with you when you shop. Or you can clip the ads out, as reminders to you to take advantage of the bargain you read about.
