Freight Dock Is Sought By Chamber Group

An effort is being made this week to obtain a freight dock for Olton.

Allen Johnston, Major James and Wayne Cooper of the Olton Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture were to go to Amarillo Thursday in an effort to get one established here.

Location of a freight dock here would hasten shipping and cut down considerably the shipping expense of local merchants, Mr. Cooper declared.

Mr. Johnston is chairman of the highway transportation committee of the Chamber. Mr. James is Chamber president and Mr. Cooper is OCCA manager.

Legion Meeting Set Monday Nite

A called meeting of Olton American Legion post has been set for 8 o'clock next Monday night by Russell Grimes, post commander.

Olton city council made two sweeping moves at a called meeting Tuesday night.

Discuss Olton Trade Stamps At Meeting

Findings of a committee assigned to investigate the possibility of Olton getting its own trade stamp will be discussed at a meeting of the Special Promotions Committee of Olton Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture.

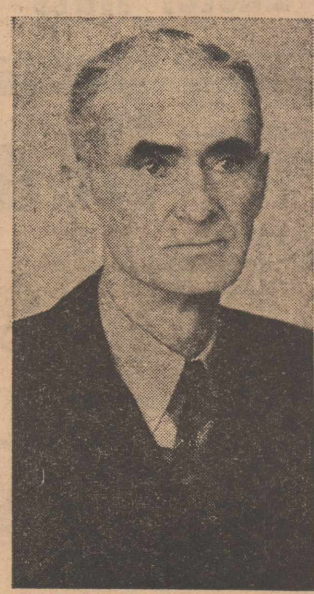

The meeting has been called for 7:30 o'clock the night of Thursday, March 26 by Chairman Charles Polk. It will be held in Olton High School study hall.

"Everyone is urged to attend this meeting," said one Chamber official. "Even if you have definitely decided against giving of any type of stamp, it will affect you indirectly."

The Olton stamp would be redeemable in merchandise at any of the participating stores.

Said the Chamber spokesman, "The Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture is not trying to promote redemption stamps, but this stamp would be for the purpose of eliminating outside stamp companies and would keep thousands of dollars in Olton which otherwise would be spent elsewhere."

"The merchants will have to be the ones who initiate this type of program and make the decision as to whether they want it or not."

Committee Will Discuss Farm Topics Friday

Doane Agricultural Survey and possibility of a commercial feed lot for Olton will be two of the things discussed at 6:30 o'clock Friday morning when the Olton Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture committee on agriculture meets at Ideal Cafe.

Present plans for the feed lot envision feeding of 2,000 head of cattle a year.

Fund raising for the Doane Survey is nearing completion. Deadline on the fund drive was extended because campaign workers in many instances had not yet been able to cover the territory assigned to them.

Doane's Russell Krutzman said his firm would like to begin working on the survey in the Olton School District about April 1.

Olton Folks' Mother Dies

Mrs. Mervle Caddell, Torrance Calif., mother of two Olton people, died Sunday in California. She was the mother of Mrs. Ray Montgomery and Sam Kendall. The two attended funeral services in California Wednesday.

A Mr. Fox from Nations Co-Ops will speak at 7:30 o'clock next Tuesday night in the high school study hall. This information came this week from Clovis Poteet, one of the leaders in the movement to establish a feed lot here.

Mr. Poteet said Mr. Fox will talk on organization.

Ben F. Smith Dies After Long Illness

BEN F. SMITH

Olton lost one of its best friends Wednesday morning.

Ben F. Smith died at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning in a Houston hospital. He had been in failing health for several years and had been critically ill and in the Houston hospital about three weeks. He was 69 years old.

Mr. Smith was owner of Ben F. Smith Grain Company here and was one of the developers of Hillcrest addition at the western outskirts of Olton.

Mr. Smith was born in Seymour and left high school to take a job in his aunt's variety store in Amarillo.

He and an uncle rode a freight train from Weatherford to Needles, Calif., when Ben was only 18 years old. They took a job in a smelter.

Mr. Smith worked in the smelter only eight months and returned to Amarillo to take a job as a grocery delivery boy.

He drove a grocery cart on deliveries and then became a grocery salesman. As a young man he was a member of the Olton Senior Class.

Johnston Sees Area As Center, Market Prospects Appear Bright

A bean processing plant will be constructed in Olton in the near future.

It will be erected by Allen Johnston and associates. Mr. Johnston said his group already has purchased a bean cleaner and will have the processing plant in operation by harvest time this year.

OHS Thinclads Take Third At Floydada

In spite of the fact that Olton did not even compete in field events, the Mustangs galloped off with third place in the Floydada track meet Saturday.

In a snarling sandstorm, the Mustang thinclads swept the relay events and brought home two glittering trophies to commemorate the occasion.

Twenty-two schools participated. Rande Buchenau ran the 100 yard dash in 10 flat to win second place. Royce Bodkin was second in the 440 and Arno Hall was fourth.

The 440 yard relay team took the 440 event. The team was made up of Buchenau, Jimmy Robbins, Hall and Bodkin.

Buchenau was third in the 220. The mile relay team was another first place winner. It was made up of Billy Hair, Robbins, Hall and Bodkin. Phil Neinst was third in the mile run.

American Legion Volleyball Tilt Slated March 30

American Legion volleyball tournament will be held March 30 and continue through four and possibly five nights.

Deadline for entries is Wednesday, March 25. Entries should be registered with Gene Trotter. Entrance fee is $10.00.

Olton Senior Class will have charge of the concession stand.

Plans call for sacking beans in 100 pound bags at first. If there is a demand for a packaging unit to package beans in bags suitable for grocery store handling such a unit will be installed, Mr. Johnston reported.

Mr. Johnston said he and his group will build a plant about 50 by 100 feet. Site for the plant has not been decided as yet.

Mr. Johnston has just returned from the bean country of Colorado where he visited with Ralph Strong of the Northern Bean Company.

Fine For Beans

He quoted Mr. Strong as saying this area is fine bean country. He recommended that the Olton area produce a hybrid pinto bean developed in Idaho and known as the F-111. It is especially adapted to irrigation growth.

Mr. Strong said that the San Juan variety which farmers in this area have been accustomed to planting actually is a dry land bean.

Mr. Strong was quoted as having said that the major supply of Texas beans now come from Colorado. Mr. Johnston said he hopes to see the Northern white bean tried here. Cleo Smith may try a small amount of this variety.

It goes into the government loan at a support price of approximately $9.00 per hundredweight.

Market Good
Mr. Johnston said the Colorado climate during the growing season is about the same as the climate here.

Mr. Johnston said the market future looks good for the pinto bean. He pointed out that there are no surplus beans on hand at the present time.

The Olton man toured bean processing installations all over Colorado while visiting in that state. He said the plant he proposed to build here will employ some 10 persons during harvest time.

GIRLS' P-E, HOME-EC, BUSINESS

Evaluation Group Studies Courses

Home economics, girls' physical education and business education were under study this week by Dr. B. J. Fallon, also of the Tech education department.

Analysis of the home making department reveals an excellent physical plant, the committee reported.

Due to changing of teaching personnel in the department almost every year for the past few years, there has been little opportunity for curriculum building.

"Now that we have two home making teachers," said Superintendent Harper, "We have started building a curriculum which soon will be as adequate as any in the state."

Mr. Harper said the school will add fourth year home making next year. It will have one teacher on a 10-month basis and one on a 12-month basis.

Girls' physical education program in the school is far from adequate, Mr. Harper declared. The committee found that little has been offered in this category except basketball.

This has been due to lack of facilities, Mr. Harper said.

"We will have adequate facilities next year," the superintendent stated. The evaluation committee recommended employment of a full-time girls' physical education instructor.

Typing I, bookkeeping and shorthand now are offered in the business education department.

The committee found that these subjects are being well covered and there is adequate equipment. Mr. Harper said the school next year hopes to add courses in business machines, junior business and business law.

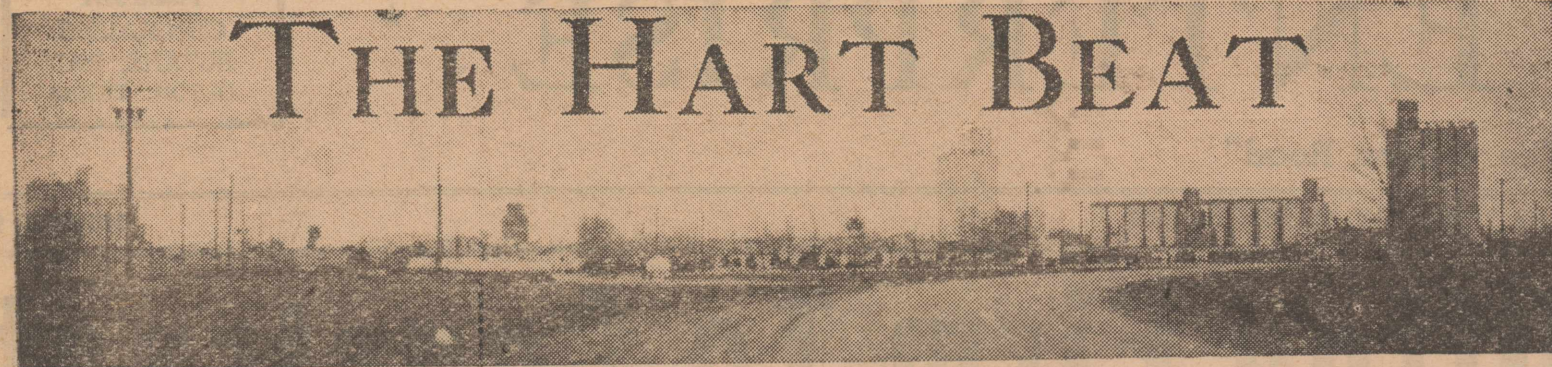

The evaluation committee is making a long-range study of the school's curriculum with an eye to improving it.

School people worked here early this week on phases of Olton's curriculum. It is a part of a long-range program to improve the school curriculum. From left are Dr. B. J. Fallon and Dr. M. S. Wallace, both of the Texas Tech education department; and Joe Harper, superintendent of Olton School system.

Student Interview Reveals Awareness Of Discipline, Interest Of Parents

By—B. H. Rogers, Public Relations, Hale-Alken Committee

An interview of various members of Junior and Senior High School students reveals interesting and challenging facts. Interesting because of obvious progress thus far this year, and challenging because of the high goals the school and parents are attempting to reach.

Almost all of the students contacted obviously recognize changes in the operation of the school. As a result of some of these changes, the students realize many things. All of these point to the ultimate purpose of any school: opportunity to learn.

The students recognize a more rigid disciplinary force in action, a greater interest on the part of the faculty and administrative officers, and they are learning more each day the results of yesterday's failure and tomorrow's need for education.

The students are beginning to realize that there is a source of interest outside the school. Their failure to bring home an honor roll report card is one of many things that has aroused the interest of parents. The degree of interest and concern of parents of those interviewed is greatly reflected in the child. We, as parents, have an important role to play in the education of our children; therefore our reflection in them must be of a progressive nature.

Our great automobile manufacturing plants could have tons of steel, yet without tools and molds, would fail to produce. We have a wonderful group of boys and girls. The school and home should join together today in our efforts that they might be a quality product of tomorrow.

This & That BY MYRT LOMAN

Dates To Remember:
March 23—Lions Club
March 24—Zealot Club.

Another of our fourth grade poems:

A BUTTERFLY
By—Mary Inscore
I wish I were a butterfly
To go fluttering in the sky.
So children will chase me
And they usually catch me.

Now is a very good time to give the bouquet of the week to Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Loman—Myrt and Pappy, as they are affectionally known to many. They have donated both time and money to so many of our worthwhile projects. They share their garden with all of us who don't have one. Myrt visits the sick and especially those in need. Myrt is on hand to help and calls our attention to it so we can all help if we want. There are so many things they do I could not attempt to mention them all. Myrt is an active member of the Baptist Church. It is a pleasure to know such a grand couple.

Here is a good salad for Easter:
Marshmallow Salad
½ lb marshmallows
1 small can crushed pineapple
½ pt. whipped cream
Cut marshmallows in small pieces and mix with pineapple let stand until the following is ready.

Mix together and cook until slightly thick:
2 eggs well beaten
Two-thirds cup sugar
¼ cup vinegar
¾ cup pineapple juice
1 tablespoon flour
Cool, then add to marshmallow mixture, fold in whipped cream and chill.

It is easier to believe a lie that one has heard a thousand times than to believe a fact that one has never heard before.

Did you notice that pork is listed as one of the good buys this week? It's a good time to buy some for your freezer.

I had a card from Myrt this week telling me she will not be back until after March 25. If you would please call me your news at 2695, I would greatly appreciate it. Thank you, Lela Gallion.

I know you will all be happy to hear that little Glenda Beeson is going to get to come home on Friday, March 20. Glenda talked to her sisters, Barbara and Scarlet on the phone last Friday and said to tell everyone hello. She was very happy to be coming home. We will all be so happy to see her.

man he was a traveling salesman for National Biscuit Company. "Persistence is the golden key," Mr. Smith once told a young friend while discussing his days as a salesman. "I certainly believe that if you just keep trying there is always a way to success."

Mr. Smith moved to Plainview in 1915 as a grocery clerk. He went into the grain business in 1919 and was connected with the grain industry in this area until the time of his death.

In 1953 he bought out the Rex Kee grain company here and founded Ben F. Smith Grain Company.

Mr. Smith also was associated with James M. Speer here in development of a 40-acre tract in the western edge of Olton which brought Hillcrest Addition into the city. That project is still under development but more than a score of houses already has been built there.

Mr. Smith was active in the affairs of his church, First Methodist Church of Plainview. He was a member of the board of stewards. He served as a Plainview councilman and was extremely active in civic affairs of his town and area.

Funeral services were scheduled for 4 o'clock Friday afternoon in Plainview First Methodist Church. Lemons Funeral Home of Plainview is in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Smith is survived by his wife; two daughters, Mrs. Jack Bell of Los Angeles, Calif., and Mrs. W. H. Long, Lubbock; a son, Ben Hardy Smith of Plainview; a brother, Burwell Smith of Kennewick, Wash.; a sister, Mrs. Sid Parker of Lindale and four grandchildren.

round to it as soon as they are able to pay," he declared. "Methods of making assessments have heretofore of necessity been haphazard."

"There have been inequalities," the city attorney continued. "You pick up some men for the equalization board and they are busy and they just guess at it."

Mr. McMorries said he and his associates will make a detailed study of costs and property values here in Olton before beginning the survey.

The evaluating men will go to each house and look at each piece of property in town. Representatives of the firm then will work with the city's board of equalization as evaluation experts.

Mr. McMorries said his firm has just completed an evaluation program for Quitaque. "They are very pleased with it," he said. The firm also is doing an evaluation for Briscoe County.

Mr. McMorries, who also is city engineer, presented specifications for 2,500 feet of water pipe which is to take water to the northwestern outskirts of town. Sealed bids will be opened at 7:30 o'clock the night of April 14.

At that time the city also will open bids on cleaning and painting the city water tower.

22.7 Percent Lamb Farmers Choose "B"

Some 578 of Lamb County's 2,550 farms have been put into the "B" Cotton plan, Lamar Aten of the county ASC office reported this week.

This would be roughly 22.7 percent. As a result, Lamb County's cotton allotment for 1959 will be 202,000 acres or about 18,000 acres more than the regular allotment given the county earlier.

The deadline for a farmer to exercise an option on Plan A or Plan B was 5 o'clock last Monday afternoon.

Mr. Aten said a few more requests were being received by mail and postmarked earlier than the deadline and that a final count would not be available until later.

Plan B offered farmers a 40 percent increase in allotment with price support at 65 percent of parity. Plan A gave the farmer his regular allotment with price support at 80 percent of parity. Lamb County's regular allotment was 184,068 acres.

THE NEW FORD SELECT-O-SPEED TRACTORS to put more GO in your farming

Tractor Shifts On-The-Go

Two great advantages for tractor operators are to be found in Ford's new Select-O-Speed transmission. First is operator convenience. Using only the small selector lever (shown in insert), the tractor operator can shift to or through any of ten forward and two reverse gears without stopping and without using a clutch pedal. Second advantage is the greater efficiency and economy resulting from easy selection of exactly the right gear for every job. The local Ford tractor and implement dealer invites your inspection of the Ford Select-O-Speed transmission in gold demonstration tractor now on display.

Golfing Rules Are Listed

How to Decide Ties in Handicap Events

Rule 36-3 empowers the Committee to determine how and when a halved match or a stroke play tie shall be decided. The decision should be published in advance.

The USGA recommends:

Match Play
A handicap match which ends all even should be played off hole by hole until one side wins a hole. The play-off should start on the hole where the match began. Strokes should be allowed as in the prescribed round.

2. Stroke Play
A handicap stroke competition which ends in a tie should be played off at 18 holes, with handicaps. If that be inexpedient, there may be a shorter play-off which permits the competitors to use an equitable percentage of their handicaps. For example, if in an individual competition A's handicap is 10 and B's is 8, it would be equitable to conduct a nine-hole play-off with A receiving 5 strokes and B 4 strokes.

"Preferred Lies" and "Winter Rules"

The USGA does not endorse "preferred lies" and "winter rules", and recommends that the Rules of Golf be observed uniformly. Ground under repair is provided for in Definition 13 and Rule 32. Occasional abnormal conditions which might interfere with fair play and are not widespread should be defined accurately as ground under repair.

However, adverse conditions are sometimes so general throughout a course that the local committee believes "preferred lies" or "winter rules" would promote fair and pleasant play or help protect the course. Heavy snows, spring thaws, prolonged rains or extreme heat can make fairways unsatisfactory and sometimes prevent use of heavy mowing equipment.

When a committee adopts a local rule for "preferred lies" or "winter rules", it should be in detail and should be interpreted by the committee, as there is no established code for "winter rules." Without a detailed local rule, it is meaningless for a committee to post a notice merely saying "Winter Rules Today."

The following local rule would seem appropriate for the conditions in question, but the USGA does not endorse it and will not interpret it:

A ball lying on a "fairway" may be lifted and cleaned, without penalty, and placed within six inches of where it originally lay, not nearer the hole, and so as to preserve as nearly as possible the stance required to play from the original lie. After the ball has been so placed, it is in play, and if it move after the player has addressed it the penalty shall be one stroke—see Rule 27-1d.

If the adverse conditions extend onto the putting green, the above local rule may be altered by adding the words "or the putting green" after the word "fairway."

If it is desired to protect the course, the above local rule should be reworded to make it mandatory rather than permissive to move the ball from certain areas. The above rule does not require a player to move his ball if he does not want to do so.

Before a committee adopts a local rule permitting "preferred lies" or "winter rules", the following facts should be considered:

1. Such a local rule conflicts with the Rules of Golf and the fundamental principle of playing the ball as it lies.

2. "Winter rules" are sometimes adopted under the guise of protecting the course when, in fact, the practical effect is just the opposite—they permit moving the ball to the best turf, from which divots are then taken to injure the course further.

3. "Preferred lies" or "winter rules" tend generally to lower scores and handicaps, thus penalizing the players in competition with players whose scores for handicaps are made under the Rules of Golf.

4. Extended use or indiscriminate use of "preferred lies" or "winter rules" will place players at a disadvantage when competing at a course where the ball must be played as it lies.

Handicapping and "Preferred Lies"
Scores made under a local rule for "preferred lies" or "winter rules" may be accepted for handicapping if the committee considers that conditions warrant.

When such a local rule is adopted, the committee should insure that the course's normal scoring difficulty is maintained as nearly as possible through adjustment of tee markers and related methods. However, if extreme conditions cause extended use of "preferred lies" or "winter rules" and the course management cannot adjust scoring difficulty properly, the club should obtain a Temporary Course Rating from its district golf association.

Station Tests 147 Varieties Corn Hybrids

One hundred and forty-seven varieties of white and yellow corn hybrids were included in the 1958 corn research program at the High Plains Station of the Texas Research Foundation at Halfway. The tests were under the supervision of Lawrence Gundy, corn breeder from the Texas Research Foundation.

Three hybrid corn yield tests, each containing 49 entries, were conducted. The average yields on these tests were 77 and 97 bushels per acre while individual entries ranged from 56 to 135 bushels per acre. The tests included hybrids now available in the High Plains plus a number of midseason and early commercial and experimental hybrids.

Nine yellow hybrids out of 50 tests produced yields above the test average of 97 bushels per acre. The top yielding yellow hybrids were: Texas 28, 134.8 bu.;

Asgrow 104, 122.4 bu.; Watson III, 121.6 bu.; Conrad 3, 121.3 bu.; Texas 30, 116.3 bu.; Texas 26, 116.1 bu. and Conrad No. 1, 115.5 bu.

The high yielding white corn hybrids were: G779w, 132.9 bu.; Asgrow 105w, 121.3 bu.; Asgrow 101w, 114.2 bu.; TRF 9w, 105.2; Asgrow 107w, 102.3 bu. and P.A.G. 633w, 101.4 bu. White corn acreage increased in 1958 in the High Plains. White corn buyers discovered that the Angoumois grain moth, a serious problem for corn in storage in the corn belt, had not yet heavily infested corn storage in this area. This has increased the market for white corn especially in the Muleshoe area. The variety tests were planted April 25 with 26 pounds of nitrogen and 78 pounds of phosphorus applied in bands at planting time. This was followed by 150 pounds of nitrogen applied as a side dressing on May 5.

There is often more to an object of art than the mere surface discloses. A man of discriminating tastes has an instinct for evaluating real craftsmanship. This is the kind of man who buys a GAS Range for his wife's kitchen. In appearance, anyone can see its cleanliness of line . . . glamour of design. Most ranges can claim this. But it's in performance that a Gas Range achieves superiority! For here is a precision-engineered, automatically-controlled instrument that removes guesswork from cooking. Closed-door, smokeless broiling, instant ignition, and shut-off with no heat hang-over . . . here is performance that assures success in the fine art of cooking.
