PRESS RELEASE: Editorial Dated May 5, 2022 Will Be the Last Printed Issue for The Southwest Digest

Southwest Digest editorial dated May 6, 2021 featuring Amanda Gordon.

The Southwest Digest will be printing its' last editorial dated May 5, 2022. Newspapers will still be available at the normal drop off destinations such as; the United Supermarkets located at 50th & Avenue Q, East Parkway, Amigos, UMC, Covenant Hospital, some of the public schools, libraries, some local Houses of Worship, etc., wherever you normally would obtain one from.

After 44 years in business we believe our journey has been a successful one and we hope and pray that all of you as our readers, clients and customers have enjoyed the journey with us. A lot of information has been circulated within our community, within the City of Lubbock and from State to State. It is our prayer that each of your needs were met accordingly. We want to thank each of you for partnering with us to make this newspaper the success that we did achieve.

You will also notice a slight decrease in the number of pages that are now being printed. We are now printing 6 pages instead of the normal 8 pages. This means that available space will be limited requiring that you are timely in notifying us of your need which will ensure space is available to meet that need.

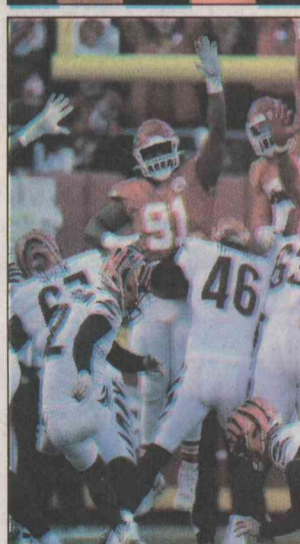

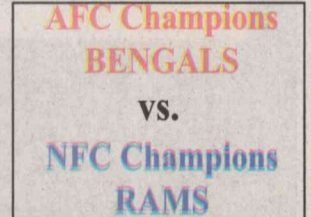

All paid subscriptions will continue to be mailed out or delivered to you, according to the service you have and all paid advertisement will continue to be published accordingly.

A last statement will be given in our final editorial, May 05, 2022. Until then, please continue to enjoy the services, the news of events, announcements, achievements, education, opportunities and other benefits this editorial brings with your help!

Cincinnati Bengals vs. LA Rams 2022 Superbowl Bowl LVI Contenders

Chiefs vs. Bengals:
Cincinnati advances to Super Bowl 56 with overtime win sparked by second-half rally.

Cincinnati Bengals kicker Evan McPherson (2) kicks a 31-yard field goal during the second half of the AFC championship NFL football game against the Kansas City Chiefs in overtime, Sunday, Jan. 30, 2022, in Kansas City, Mo. to beat the Chiefs.

Losing the coin toss in overtime isn't a death sentence, though you heard a lot about how the rules were unfair to the Buffalo Bills after an AFC divisional-round loss to the Kansas City Chiefs. To get the ball to your offense, the defense needs to keep the opponent out of the end zone on the first drive. And that's what the Cincinnati Bengals did.

Rams vs. 49ers:
The Los Angeles Rams are NFC champions after ending a six-game losing streak to the rival San Francisco 49ers with Sunday's 20-17 win.

Rams quarterback Matthew Stafford waited 13 seasons for his first playoff win but is now headed to the Super Bowl.

To reach the Super Bowl, the Rams had to overcome a 10-point deficit in the fourth quarter. Los Angeles rode a fired-up defense led by Aaron Donald and a connection between quarterback Matthew Stafford and wide receiver Cooper Kupp that has been the engine of their offense all season long.

Kupp led all players in Sunday's game with 142 yards and two touchdowns on 11 catches, while Stafford threw for 337 yards. The Rams will be seeking their second Super Bowl title and the first since the "Greatest Show on Turf" squad won it all after the 1999 season.

Super Bowl LVI will be played at 3:30 p.m. PST on Sunday, 2/13 at SoFi Stadium.

AKA CARE FOR THE CAREGIVER IMPACT DAY: DURING A GLOBAL PANDEMIC

Please join Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Inc., Eta Delta Omega Chapter in recognizing and honoring our Featured Caregivers.

Ms. Annetta Phillips and Mr. Javier Quinones are employed at Lubbock Heart & Surgical Hospital and Adult Protective Services (APS), respectively. Both agencies/organizations highly appreciate the value of these two exemplary professionals who are dedicated, productive caregivers. They have demonstrated that they are intentional in their professions, offering untold numbers of hurting people specific assistance and renewed hope. They positively affect precious lives by helping them to realize many life dreams.

What a worthy legacy both are building in our community! You are so encouraging! #AKA1908 #AKAImpactDay #WeareSouth-Central

Mrs. Lanitra Barringer

Mrs. Barringer cared for her mother and stepfather during a very difficult time. During that time she had to clean their home, do laundry, grocery shop, prepare meals, manage and order their medications, setup their care plans with home health, and take them to their appointments. Her selflessness was all conducted while still working a full time job. Mrs. Barringer and her mother enjoy watching tv together and talking about family memories.

Mrs. Shantell Turner

Mrs. Turner considers it an honor to care for her mother who has lived with her for over five years. Her mother's health has slowly and steadily declined, making it necessary for Mrs. Turner to resign her position as school attendance clerk. She has made untold sacrificial life adjustments while serving as her devoted caregiver, spiritual encourager, and health advocate.

She believes her responsibility to care for her mother is as much a blessing to her as it is for her mother. What an example of enduring love.

Ms. Camelia Riggs

Ms. Riggs is a selfless, self motivated caregiver with truly the gift of helps. She has been a caregiver for 11 years while also taking care of her grandmother and uncle.

Mrs. Venessa Garver

While planning their wedding, Mrs. Garver's husband suffered a severe leg injury. Soon after their wedding he was rushed into surgery and ultimately remained in the hospital for over 3 weeks. Not an ideal way to start a marriage, but she gave it her all.

Ms. Joan Hardeman

Ms. Hardeman has been a caregiver for over 20 years. She works in the field of home health to assist those that are deemed home bound. She continues to give of herself to help those that may need a helping hand. We are thankful for her love and dedication to the community.

Mrs. Sherry Ford

Mrs. Sherry Ford, wife of Rev. Dr. Ford, pastor of St. Luke Missionary Baptist Church, is a caregiver. She's been more than his wife the past several months; she's been his caretaker, helping him to regain good health. Proverbs 31:10 best describes Mrs. Sherry Ford, for she is indeed a virtuous woman.

“THE BIG PICTURE”!

Most of us are happy to see 2021 passed away. The requiem began long ago, probably as soon as it began. We were inundated with COVID-19 and it still lingers in nasty variants which has sent us a backwards stroke at the end of the year, to have a New Year immersed in cleanliness and sanitation.

The new thing is a shortening of quarantine time for someone suspected of testing positive for the virus and free testing stations are available at no cost.

We have had the COVID-19 virus problems now for over two years, and people are still being vaccinated and the un-vaccinated who contract the virus are dying and the vaccinated are still contracting the virus, but most are living and get better with not as much misery.

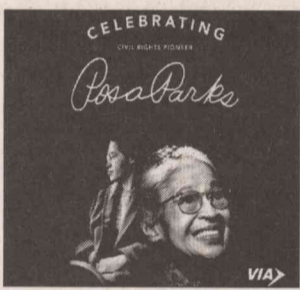

On a most serious scale, our President Biden and the Russian President Putin, have had a very serious conversation with both threatening the actions of the other one. So, that outlook bears watching. In addition, Mr. Biden has not completed a year as President, and the politicians have already pegged his party competition should he run for President in 2024, not to mention that Donald Trump is still in the Republican forefront as a candidate for 2024.

If nothing else, the outlook for 2022 is going to be very interesting as Critical Race Theory is causing plenty of commotion in the high schools, especially in the southern states. It has been a staple in colleges since around 1971, but it seems that anyone not bound for college does not need to know about how racism is embedded in the structure and laws of the United States of America.

There have been amendments to change The U.S CONSTITUTION, but various states have seen fit to make state laws which counter the national government making law suits headed to the U.S SUPREME COURT necessary. Though some verdicts have been rendered to reverse some state laws, they still have not had the impact in some situations which has made federal intervention necessary.

Before it is over, America will have to decide to accept the naked truth and move forward in a positive way. Let us get ‘in cinque’ and gear up to have a happy year with as little conflict as possible by praying, staying positive, accepting life’s truths and moving forward.

THIS N’ THAT c/o T. J. Patterson, Sr.

THIS MONTHS’ FEATURED STORY:

“Rosa Parks Day” - Friday, 4 February 2022

65 years ago, Rosa Parks “STOOD UP” for Civil Rights by “SITTING DOWN”

Rosa Parks Day is an American commemorative day that takes place on February 4, the day of Rosa Parks’s birthday. However, the States of Ohio and Oregon choose to celebrate this day on December 1st, the day of her arrest. It is not a public holiday, and as such businesses run on normal working hours.

The History of Rosa Parks Day

Rosa Parks Day became an official observance in the United States when a California State Legislature was passed in 2000.

The first celebration took place in Ohio after Joyce Beatty strongly advocated for the passing of the law that would mark a day for the recognition of Rosa Parks’s life and legacy. This day is also commemorated by the Columbus Ohio Bus System.

However, it was not until 2014 that this day was formally recognized in the States of Missouri and Oregon, by the hands of Governors Jay Nixon and Kitzhaber, respectively.

Who was Rosa Parks?

Rosa Parks was a leader of the Civil Rights Movement, who gained notoriety after refusing to give up her bus seat for a white person on a segregated bus. This led to the significant Montgomery Bus Boycott, which marked the end of racial segregation in Alabama.

For her efforts, Parks was awarded the Martin Luther King Jr.’s award by the NAACP, the Presidential Medal of Freedom and the Congressional Gold Medal.

Honoring Rosa Parks

In 2000, Troy University opened the Rosa Parks Museum in Montgomery, Alabama. More recently, in 2019, a statue of Parks has been unveiled in the same place, as a memorial to the 64th anniversary of her arrest.

The Rosa Parks Story, a movie about the activist’s life, was released in 2002.

On her 100th birthday in 2013, the US Postal Service released a Rosa Parks Commemorative Stamp. In the same year, President Obama unveiled a statue of Parks that is housed in the Capitol Building.

TOGETHER WE ATTACK

AKA CARE FOR THE CAREGIVER IMPACT DAY: DURING A GLOBAL PANDEMIC

Ms. Annetta Phillips
"Featured Caregiver"

Ms. Phillips has been employed at the Lubbock Heart & Surgical Hospital since 2003. She is an Instrument Room Coordinator CRCST/Lead Technician and is viewed as a valuable asset by her supervisors and peers. Physicians in particular respect her outstanding professional skills and appreciate her ability to do her job with passion, confidence, integrity and joy. When it became obvious that her mother needed vigilant healthcare, she readily moved her into her home where she cared for her over ten years until her demise.

During this time, she also adopted two young girls so they might have a better future. She is the epitome of a woman of faith with a servant's heart.

Gracie Taylor

Guard the good deposit that was entrusted to you. Guard it with the help of the Holy Spirit who lives in us. 2 Timothy 1:14. This particular scripture best describes the relationship Mrs. Gracie Taylor has with her husband, Mr. Charles Taylor. Never leaving his side, she has provided the quality care and attention he deserves. Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Inc., Eta Delta Omega Chapter applauds Mrs. Gracie Taylor for all that she continues to do for her husband, Mr. Charles Taylor.

Ms. Krystal Hopson

Krystal has been a nurse for 14 years. Of those 14 years, she practiced as a Dual Certified Nurse Practitioner in Primary Care for 3 years and as an Acute Care Nurse Practitioner for 6 months. Krystal is currently working as an Adult Gerontology Acute Care Nurse Practitioner. Her service is greatly appreciated!

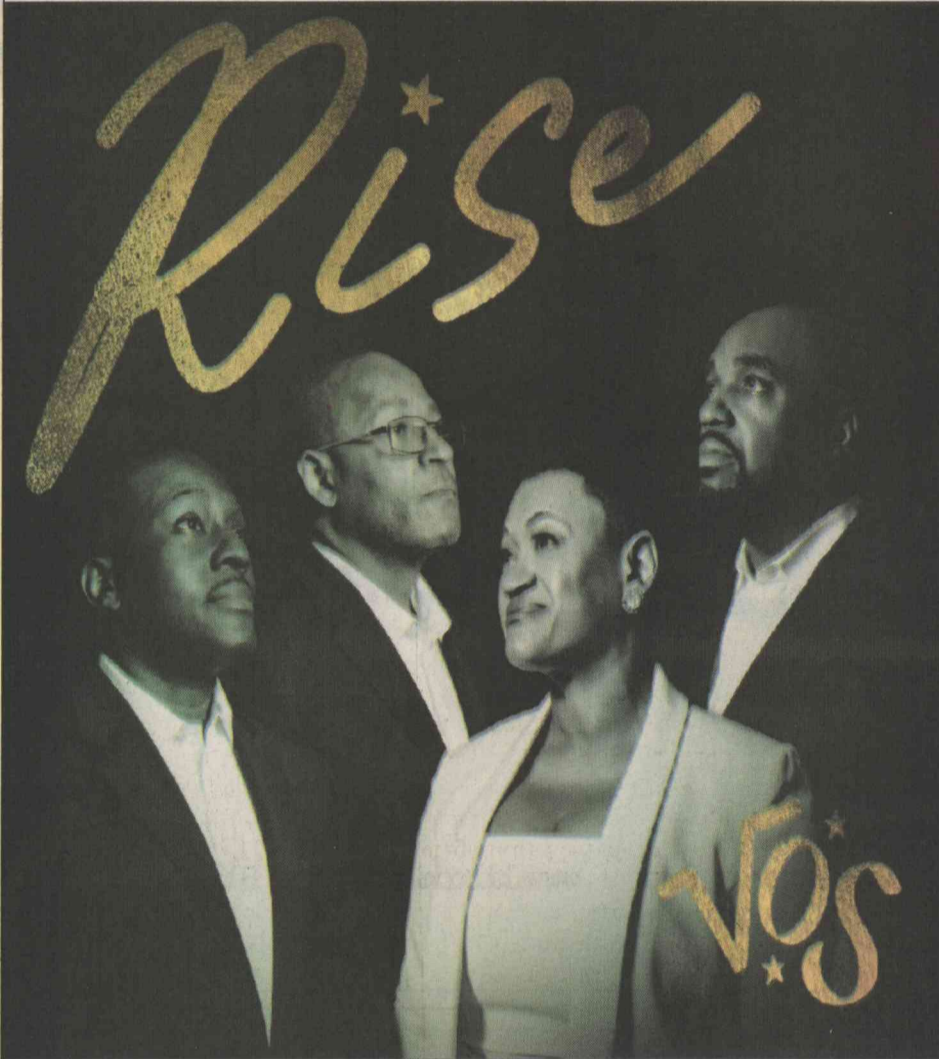

Mrs. Shirley Cleveland

Mrs. Shirley Cleveland genuinely is a caregiver who exemplifies a faithful servant's heart. She has taken care of numerous family members over the past 30 years. Specifically, her older sister, who she cared for in her home for twenty years until she passed this year. She offered this care with dedication, humility, compassion, and without compensation or acknowledgment. Your service is greatly appreciated!

VOICES of SERVICE
6 PM Frazier Pavilion

Voices of Services, part of the nonprofit Center for American Military Music Opportunities (CAMMO) is a singing quartet which includes retired Master Sgt. Caleb Green, retired Staff Sgt. Ron Henry, Sgt. Maj. Christal Rheams and Sgt. 1st Class Jason Hanna.

Voices of Services uses their platform to increase awareness of what music can do, for serv ices men and women who are coping with post-traumatic stress and other invisible/visible wounds.

They have been singing together six years and now their journey and purpose has now reached a new dimension. After their successful competition in Season 14 of America's Got Talent placing fifth, they have been able to create national awareness to the struggle our service members, veterans and their families go through when dealing with visible and invisible injuries. They represent the excellence that exist within our military and veteran communities and are an inspiring example for the nation that they serve, have served, and continue to serve through music. Voices of Services recently released their debut EP Rise.

Mr. Javier Quinones
"Featured Caregiver"

Mr. Javier has been with Adult Protective Services (APS) for three years. He is a model employee and a champion for the clients we serve. Javier is the first to volunteer to help, even taking on extra on calls. He is always willing to go above and beyond to help in any way he can to ensure our clients are safe and their needs are met. APS implemented a rigorous mentor program for new employees. This program requires a lot of extra work on behalf of the mentor. He was the first to volunteer. He has helped train four very successful new caseworkers. His experience is invaluable to new workers and the agency. Javier is a true champion for vulnerable adults.

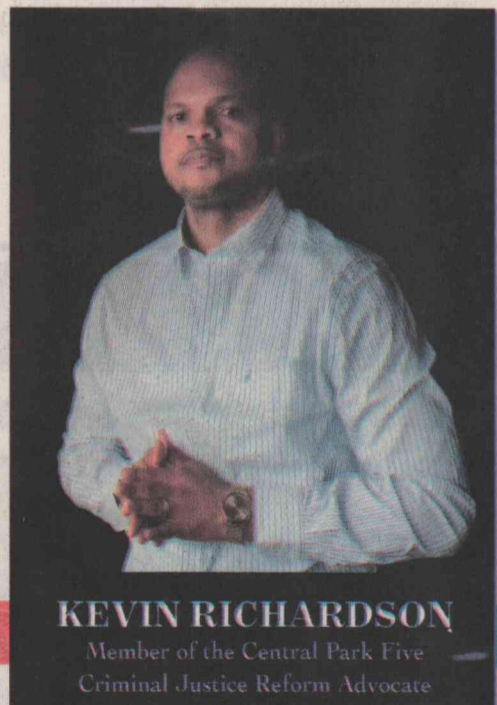

BLACK HISTORY MONTH

AFRICAN AMERICAN LECTURE SERIES

Richardson was as a member of the group known as "The Central Park Five", five Black teenagers who were arrested as suspects in the brutal attack of a jogger in New York City's Central Park in 1989. He was wrongly charged, convicted and sentenced to five to ten years in prison for a crime he did not commit. After serving seven years, he was released on probation and had to register as a sex offender. In 2002, the conviction was overturned. The 2019, Netflix miniseries, "When They See Us" chronicles the injustices Richardson and other members of the group experienced. During the moderated conversation Mr. Richardson will share his life experiences, his work with The Innocence Project, and thoughts of historical and current impact of the criminal justice system on Blacks and other minoritized groups in America.
