The 'Blue Law'

Texas' new Sunday (or Saturday) closing law presents various questions which doubtless will be debated by merchants, lawyers and other before and after its effective date, Nov. 7.

One of the questions, whose answer might settle all the others, is whether the act will be tested in court, and if so, what the result will be. Some months ago the Supreme Court upheld the "blue" laws of some states, but lawyers may see in Texas' new act issues not resolved in the court decision.

The new law, a compromise measure, admittedly is aimed at forcing the big discount houses to close one day a week. Presumably the old established merchants

If the law stands, its effectiveness will depend largely on its enforcement in the communities. As a practical matter it amounts to a local option law; city governments that like it can enforce it, and if any do not, who is to compel them to enforce it? The act makes no provision for state enforcement officers to cover the entire state and see that none of the 42 forbidden articles of merchandise are sold on the closing day—Saturday or Sunday, as the merchant may choose. Local public sentiment, if strong enough, might induce a municipal administration to enforce the law, or not to enforce it.

who have complained of the seven-day "unfair competition" of the discount houses will use their influence to see that they observe the law.

Otherwise, it remains to be seen whether the new statute will be enforced more or less zealously than the old one, and more or less generally. In Houston there was only token enforcement before, with a dozen or more charges filed each Sunday; some of them repeatedly against the same offenders. Even these arrests petered out after the new law was enacted in August.

Penalties under the new law are stiffer—$100 fine for the first offense, and ranging up to six months in jail or a $500 fine, or both, for subsequent convictions. And any business which continually violates the law may be declared a public nuisance, subject to injunction.

From the consumer's standpoint, the new law is not a great imposition. It permits seven-day sales of what may be termed emergency items—food, ice, drugs and newspapers, along with certain others. It is not likely that the public will become excited over the law, for or against. What reaction there will be among merchants, and how effectively it will be enforced, are questions remaining to be answered. Reprinted from The Houston Post.

Going, Going, Gone

WASHINGTON-- The most widely used textbook for college economic students is "Economics, An Introductory Analysis."

The author is Prof. Paul A. Samuelson of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He also is president of the American Economics Association. Here are extracts from successive editions:

First and second editions, 1948 and 1951: "If price increases could be held down to, say, less than 5 per cent per year, such a mild steady inflation need not cause too great concern."

Third edition, 1955: "If price increases could be held down to, say, less than 3 per cent per year, such a mild steady inflation need not cause too great concern."

Fourth edition, 1958: "If price increases could be held down to, say, 2 per cent per year, such a mild steady inflation need not cause too great concern."

Fifth edition, 1961: "Price increases that could be held down below 2 per cent per year are one thing. But..."

And on the TV program Meet the Press, March 1961: "... if we can hold things down so that the official index of prices goes up by no more than 1.5 or 2 per cent, I shall be very content."

Some people hope the professor will keep on talking and that his book will go through many more editions.

Hart Takes Happy 28-24 In Last Three Minutes

A happy homecoming crowd looked on Friday night when the Hart Longhorns took the Happy Cowboys 28-24 in the last three minutes of the game. Hart tallied first when Larry Lee scored in the first quarter. The Cowboys then intercepted a pass on the Hart 20-yard line and Jim Blackburn capped the scoring drive by plunging across from the two yard line. He also ran the extra points. Both teams failed to score in the second period, but Happy bursted back after the half and scored twice in the third quarter. Blackburn again blasted over from four yards out and also ran the extra points. Quarterback Ronnie Middleton scored a touchdown and then tossed to Jerry Stevens for the extra points.

Hart finally scored in the third quarter when Lee went across from three yards out. Joe Rubalcaba passed to Johnnie Kittrell for the extra points. Hart came up from behind to score 14 points in the final quarter of the game.

Scoring Lee went over from the 12 for one and then ran 40 yards for another touchdown, downing the Cowboys 28-24.

Lee, nominated for the back of the week, has now scored 104 points. Hart now stands at a 4-4 season mark. The Longhorns will host Lazbuddie Friday night.

Eligibility For FHA Housing Loans Increased

Families living in small rural communities and in rural areas, even though not engaged in farming may now be eligible for housing loans made by the Farmers Home Administration, according to Truman J. Jones, the agency's supervisor for Lamb County.

The Housing Act of 1961 broadened the eligibility requirements for rural housing loans. As a result owners of non-farm tracts in rural areas and in small rural communities of not more than 2,500 as well as farmers, may be eligible for this type of credit.

"This program is an important new tool in promoting the development of rural areas," Jones said. "Rural housing loans will not only help families obtain better homes but will put more carpenters, plumbers, and electricians to work, and will increase the sales in lumber yards and building supply firms."

Housing loans are made for construction, repair, and remodeling of dwellings and essential farm buildings and to provide water for farmstead and household use.

In addition to major construction, funds are available to modernize homes, add bathrooms, central heating, modern kitchens, and other home improvements, as well as enlarge and remodel farm service buildings and put in related facilities as paved feedlots, yard fences, and driveways.

Rural housing loans may also be used for construction of fall-out and storm shelters. The interest rate is 4 per cent per year on the unpaid balance of the loan. Loans may be scheduled for repayment over periods up to 33 years.

The proposed housing must be adequate to meet the family's needs yet modest in size and design.

To be eligible an applicant must own a farm or a housing site in a rural area; be without decent, safe and sanitary housing; be unable to obtain sufficient income to meet payments on existing debts, take care of his other expenses, and make the payment on the proposed loan.

The local county supervisor of the Farmers Home Administration will review building plans and inspect the housing construction as it progresses in order to make certain that the borrower obtains sound and acceptable construction.

The local county or area committee of the Farmers Home Administration determines the eligibility of applicants.

Farmers who need to enlarge or develop their farming operations in order to obtain enough income to pay for housing loans may obtain farm enlargement and development loans and farm management help from the Farmers Home Administration.

More than $400 million has been authorized for rural housing loans over the next four years.

The Housing Act of 1961 also authorizes the Farmers Home Administration to insure loans for housing and related facilities for domestic farm labor. These loans may be made to farm owners, associations of farmers, state and local government units and non-profit associations.

Funds for these insured loans are provided by private investors. The Farmers Home Administration will make and service the loans, and insure their repayment. The total volume of insured loans may not exceed $25 million in any one year.

Further information on rural housing loans may be obtained at the county office of the Farmers Home Administration located in the basement of the Post Office building at Littlefield.

BURRUS GAINS 15—Halfback Charlie Burrus moved 15 yards on this play, going to the Lockney 20 before he was spilled. The run came in the third quarter as the Mustangs moved to the Lockney 13 before losing possession.

Lockney Nips Ponies In Last Minute, 20-14

If somebody proposed that 12-minute quarters be changed to 11 minutes, they'd get no quarrel from Olton's Mustangs this week.

The Mustangs' ball game with Lockney lasted just about a minute too long for Olton last week as the Ponies dropped a 20-14 District 2-AA decision to the Longhorns.

The winning touchdown came after Lockney got the ball with 59 seconds to go in the rock 'em, sock 'em game.

The Longhorns broke a 14-14 tie with a beautifully executed 38-yard run by Fullback Ronnie Belt, a 190-pounder who runs like a scabbard with power.

Olton lost the ball at the Pony 38 after a fake punt try on a fourth down play with four yards to go failed for the Mustangs.

Quarterback Johnny Belt, brother of Ronnie, tried two pass plays, both times faking a hand-off to Ronnie. Both tries failed, but they set up the important pay-off play.

Johnny faked as though to pass on third down, but this time he gave it to Ronnie on the draw play. The big fullback found a wide hole and raced for the TD.

Thirty-five seconds were left after the Longhorns' try for points missed.

Schenck completed a 23-yard pass to Halfback James Loveless, but the play carried only to the Lockney 45 as time ran out.

For the second straight week, the Mustangs opened the game like a house-a-fire, driving for a touchdown on their first possession.

The Ponies had a 14-8 lead at the half, but early in the third quarter, three Mustangs were shaken up by the hard-charging Lockney eleven.

With Schenck, Charlie Burrus and Johnny Moses out much of the time, the Lockney team chalked up the tying touchdown.

The Mustangs never again reached the calibre of ball they played in the first half and Lockney dominated the play much of the last two quarters.

Olton's first touchdown came at the end of an 11-play, 55-yard drive, with a fourth-down, 12-yard pass from Schenck to Loveless doing the trick.

After a penalty moved the ball to the one, Schenck ran the extra points and Olton was ahead, 8-0, with 2:47 left in the first period.

The Mustangs used short gains by Loveless, Moses, Schenck and George Jones to get to the Lockney 30. Then Schenck ripped off a 13-yard run to the Lockney 17 to set up the touchdown play.

Lockney quickly tied it up. The Longhorns moved the ensuing kick-off back to their 28, then drove 72 yards in 12 plays for a TD.

The big play in the drive was a 43-yard pass from Johnny Belt to End Ronnie Kidd. The play carried to the Olton 15.

Three plays later, Ronnie Belt drove across from the eight. QB Belt passed to Tommy Moore for the extra points and it was 8-8 with 9:05 left in the second quarter.

On Olton's next drive, the Mustangs pushed to the Lockney 33 before a third down pass was intercepted by Clem Zavala. Lockney took over at the Longhorn 27.

Lockney's first play was a pass, and it was intercepted by Olton linebacker Jimmie Lawson at the 40 and returned to the Longhorn 17.

The Mustangs had the go-ahead touchdown four plays later.

Moses gained five and then Schenck got nine for a first down at the three. Jones carried the next two plays and scored from a yard out. It was 14-6 after Schenck's run for the extra points failed. The score came with 1:45 left in the half.

On the first play from scrimmage in the third quarter, Lockney recovered a fumble at the Olton 48.

Fourteen plays later, the Longhorns had the tying score. Big Ronnie Belt did most of the damage, gaining 29 yards in seven carries, but it was Terry Mosely who got the touchdown from a yard out. After the extra points try failed, it was 14-14 with 5:53 left in the third period.

With Schenck and Moses out of the game after being shaken up in the Lockney touchdown drive, the Mustangs seemed on the march after the kick-off.

Jones took over the quarterback slot and Burrus moved to halfback. The Mustangs moved from their 33 to the Lockney 13, with Burrus contributing runs of six and 15 yards to spark the march.

Schenck came back with the Mustangs facing third down and seven at the 17 and he picked up four to the 13.

A five-yard penalty on the next play moved the ball back to the 18, however, and on fourth down, the Longhorns nailed Schenck for an eight-yard loss to the 26.

Lockney took over as the third period ended and gave Olton the ball for only 11 plays in the fourth quarter.

The Mustangs got to the Longhorn 46 on one occasion and to the 45 on the last play of the game, but that was the extent of the Olton offense during the quarter.

Olton did turn in some fine defensive play midway in the fourth, stopping a Lockney drive at the Olton 34. The Mustangs turned the tables on Fullback Belt, nailing him for no gain on a fourth-and-one situation at the 34.

However, Belt came back with his 38-yard run to ice the game away for Lockney with 35 seconds left.

The Mustangs got some fine defensive work from Lawson, Linebacker Robert Duncan, Tackle Joe McKnight and Halfbacks Jones and Loveless during the fray.

Cattle Gain Is 2.77 Lbs. Head Daily

Final weighing last week in Olton's first self-feeder cattle demonstration showed the cattle had gained 2.773 pounds per head per day during the 112-day project.

The 20 Whiteface heifers, owned by Allen Johnston, showed an average finishing weight of 857.95 pounds per head. Average starting weight per head was 547.35.

The cattle have been on Purina's cattle feeding program. Average daily consumption per head was 24.081 pounds at a daily cost per head of $4.234.

The demonstration showed the cattle gained a pound for each 8.68 pounds of feed they consumed. Feed cost per pound of gain was 19.717¢.

The demonstration is sponsored jointly by Olton Farm Supply and the Ralston Purina Company, in cooperation with the Olton Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture.

Efficient, fast-gaining cattle feeding was the goal of the project.

Members of the weighing committee were Owen Norfleet, Dick Whiteley, Bill Kimbrough, Calvin Horn, Bill Turner, Truitt Sides, Art Nafzger, Lloyd Graham and Elmer McGill.

Helping in the cattle weighing were Eldon Franks, C.E. Bley, B.C. Cooner, Frank Struve and Clovis Poteet.

Slow Rains

Olton, 12 miles northwest of Olton, reported 3.6 inches of rain through Wednesday and a "whole lot" of hail Sunday night.

"We were fixing to start stripping Monday morning, but it will be at least the middle of next week before we can start now," Mrs. Gibson noted.

Five miles north and one west of Olton at the Wilton Bodkin farm, one-half inch of rain and no hail was reported.

"I don't think the crops are hurt at the present, but the cotton grade will be lower," he said.

Most farmers, including C.D.

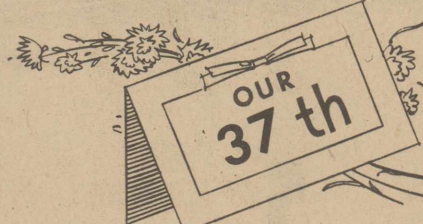

Kirkpatrick, who farms eight miles north of Olton, felt that the biggest damage the rain would do to the crops is to lower grades. Norman Smith, who farms five miles east of Olton, reported one inch of rain. He said three-fourths of his cotton is open and he expected it would be a week or 10 days before he could get back in the fields. One mile south of town at the George Kidd farm, .80 inch of rain was reported. He said he was still combining grain and had been hand pulling a little cotton before the rains started.

THOMPSON

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1 thing I want." He has a 14-volume set of encyclopedia on gardening. "I wish I had more time to read them and learn more about it." He is studying the organic method of gardening. "My one great ambition is to have a greenhouse," he commented. He said he wanted it to be air-controlled, humidity controlled and made of aluminum glass. "When I go to Plainview or Lubbock, I just go through greenhouses and wish, but someday I'm really going to have one." Other activities Lester likes are water skiing and roller skating. The Thompsons go to Plainview at least once a month to go roller skating and in the summer they go water skiing in their spare time. "I really love to fish, but it is just too far to a good fishing place. When I was a kid, we used to fish every week. I sure miss it." He explained that with his work and his church work, there isn't too much time left for other things. The Thompsons are members of the Methodist Church. Cooking takes up another part of this versatile man's time. "When I get hungry, I cook," he said. "I really enjoy cooking. I cook cakes, pies, hot rolls and loaves of bread." For Halloween, he made popcorn balls. "The good old earth and home baked bread are the two best smells in the world," he concluded.
