

Storm Clouds Roll In

FARMERS hope they've seen the last of this sort of cloud for awhile, for it was such weather that halted the cotton harvest throughout the area last week. This photo was snapped last Thursday halfway between Hart and Olton, as bad weather put an abrupt end to clear skies in the south. The weather cleared this week, and farmers went back to work.

Square Future Is Still Clouded

Question On Taxes Is Issue

C-CA Opinion Poll...

Most Want Hospital, But Many Are Skeptical

The future of Olton's square remained in doubt this week as what appeared to be a new problem came to light.

Development of the square—and the possibility of part of it being used as a site for a new post office here—hinges on untangling a tax question now shrouding the property.

The property cannot be sold at this time, Hank Gowdy, Littlefield attorney, declared Wednesday.

Gowdy represents Drs. Lynn and James Fite, owners of the east two-thirds of the land, according to a settlement made with Dr. Ben Souders in July.

Gowdy said the U.S. government had taken a lien on the property "several" years ago in connection with income tax owed by Dr. Souders.

"I am trying to get that part of the property owned by the Fites released," Gowdy said. He added that until the tax question is settled, the property cannot be sold.

Dr. Souders, contacted at his office in Lubbock, said:

"It is my impression that I am caught up on my income tax. If there was a lien on the property, I would think it should have been removed."

Gowdy, asked when he thought the present question might be settled, said:

"It may be three months from now. It may be three months from now. It may be never."

Andrew Stroebel, Olton attorney who has represented Dr. Souders, said:

"If the income tax money is paid as Dr. Souders thinks, it should be a simple matter to get a government release."

In a settlement agreed upon by the three osteopathic physicians in July, the Fite brothers received 240 feet of the east side of the square. Dr. Souders received 96 feet on the west. The block is 250 long from north to south.

The Fite brothers also received the building and all contents except an x-ray machine, which went to Dr. Souders.

The old hospital building was razed shortly after the settlement was agreed upon.

At that time, all three doctors planned to sell the property.

"I don't feel that there will be any complication," Dr. Lynn Fite said this week. "The property is still for sale."

The question as to whether the property can be sold apparently came up after the northeast corner was offered by the Fites as a site for a new post office here.

"Hurry!" This single word placed under comments on a returned hospital questionnaire aptly expressed at least one person's feelings on the subject.

Approximately 50 of the cards sent out recently by the Olton Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture had been returned this week.

Majority of those returned approved a hospital for Olton though some expressed doubt that the town was large enough to support one.

Ten of the cards stated that they were against a hospital here under any circumstances. Most gave as their reason for disapproving the project the statement, "it's been tried before."

Those who were for the project listed a variety of suggestions for financing.

Most were for a bond issue, with the number evenly divided between those who favored government help and those who did not.

Six favored public donation and five suggested private financing. One suggestion was for a co-operative hospital and one suggested the Community Clinic be expanded.

Although a few of the cards were definite in their feelings of a need for a hospital here and a few were just as definite in their feelings that we do not need a hospital here, most approached the subject with reservations.

While the majority felt that they would like a hospital here, many expressed doubts that it could be worked out satisfactorily.

One man said:

"Our experience with hospitals here has been very disappointing. We definitely need a hospital, but there seems to be a problem in operating on a profitable basis. Managers are apparently hard to secure. Wish I had a plan to offer."

Some said "Yes" but added:

"Let's keep the government out of it."

One man wrote:

"Just keep working on it."

On the other hand, another wrote:

"Forget it."

One person said he did not think the hospital would be supported here and added:

"Any other ideas I might have, I do not think you would want."

11 Names In Hat For C-CA

Names of eleven men nominated for the Olton Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture Board of Directors were released this week by Dick Whiteley, manager of the Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture. Farmers nominated are George Redinger, Delmar Givens and O.J. Lee. Businessmen are Laus Hair, Basil Sherman, Lester Thompson, Rex Chitwood, Ed Thompson, Dan Gregory, Ezra Whittington and Glen Singletary.

Whiteley said others had been nominated but had not been contacted yet.

When all the nominees have been contacted, ballots will be sent to members of the Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture.

Going off the board will be Allen Johnston, Don Spain and Percy Parsons, businessmen. Farmers will be Roy Roberts, Lacy Armstrong and Melvin Hines.

Three farmers and three businessmen will be elected to the board. Whiteley said the elections should be completed this month.

Date for the annual Chamber banquet has been set Jan. 26. Speaker will be Louie Throgmorton, vice-president of the Republic National Bank, Dallas. Throgmorton is known as a humorist.

Archie Davis Resigns As ORC Golf Pro

Resignation of Archie Davis, golf pro at the ORC, was announced this week by Eldon Franks, president of the ORC board. Franks said the resignation was effective Nov. 3.

Sherman Davis will remain in Olton and be in charge of the Pro Shop.

Other business coming before the board at a meeting Monday night included the rental on the club room. Rental fee has now been set at a flat rate of $10. Previously, charges were made according to the number of people expected to use the room.

PAY YOUR POLL TAX

Poll tax receipts may be obtained at the city hall here from now until Jan. 31, 1962.

Farmers Back In Field As Weather Clears Up

Area farmers were beginning to get back in the fields this week after several days of soaking rains last week put a halt to the harvest.

Some hand pulling of cotton was reported early this week and a few farmers were beginning stripping operations.

Glen Peterson, who farms one mile east and one mile north of Olton, reported he is hand-pulling some cotton now but he hasn't started stripping yet.

"My cotton is OK now and dry," he said, "but the rain hurt the grade some."

Cotton ginnings Wednesday afternoon stood at 4,856 bales, with only 413 bales ginned during the past week.

Most ginneries reported a pick-up the first part of the week after the weather had cleared.

Melvin Mitchell, who farms eight miles north and one-fourth east of town, reported he had pulled 26 bales by hand and had stripped about seven bales.

"I guess I've got about 20 percent of mine done," he said. Mitchell agreed with most area farmers that the rain had hurt cotton grades.

"I guess it might have damaged the grade as much as two points," he said, "It will probably grade strict-low middling now, where it would have grade strict middling or better before the rains."

Raymond Cooper, who farms two miles west of Olton, said he hadn't started on his cotton. He plans to strip it all.

Sam Kendall, who farms five south and 1 1/2 east of Olton, reported he has hand pulled about 25 bales.

Lee Simmons, who farms two miles west and one-half mile south of town, said:

"I haven't gathered any cotton at all, but I will when it gets dry and opens. Mine is slow in opening up." He plans to strip it all.

At the Paul Burrus farm, two miles south and two and one-half miles west of Olton, both stripping and pulling were reported. Burrus said his cotton was "pretty dirty."

Leroy Bodkin Again Wins Enterprise Grid Contest

Leroy Bodkin of Olton became the year's first repeater for the top prize in the Olton Enterprise football contest last week.

Bodkin nosed out two other contestants on the tiebreakers. All of the top three picked 12 of 13 games right.

Second place went to Larry Green, while third place cash was picked up by James Hall. First place is worth $10, second $6 and third $4.

Bodkin was only 24 points off on the tiebreakers, while Green missed by 27 and Hall by 31.

Contestants may enter this week's contest by picking up a copy of the Nov. 2 Enterprise, filling out the entry page and turning it in to any of the sponsoring merchants.

Mustangs Battle Unbeaten Floydada

It won't be news to anybody, but Olton's Mustangs will be the underdog again Friday night as they play host to the play-off bound Floydada Whirlwinds.

Floydada, unbeaten in nine games and assured of a berth against Dalhart in bi-district, will come into the contest favored by three to four touchdowns.

Paced by Quarterback Rodney Teague, a hot All-State candidate, the Whirlwinds have ripped through nine opponents with ease.

Comparative scores show Floydada to be anywhere from four to 56 points better than Olton.

Floydada barley nudged Muleshoe, 20-12, while Olton beat the Mules, 12-8, in their best showing of the year.

The "Winds also licked Abernathy, 29-0, Lockney, 35-7, and Morton, 17-8, while Olton was losing to the same three by 27-0, 20-14 and 26-15, respectively.

Coach Walter Bryan will be pointing his Mustangs to the future in the game, last of the year.

"We'll play mostly with boys who will be back next year," the coach said this week.

Co-Captain Robert Duncan, a senior center, re-injured a leg last week in the 27-0 loss to Abernathy and probably won't play much.

In the line will be Co-Captain Jimmy Lawson and Ronnie Parsons at ends, Joe McKnight and Larry Fancher at tackles, George Phillips and Jimmy Bennett at guards and Leon Kendall at center. Lawson is the only senior in that group.

George Jones is scheduled to get another workout at quarterback, with James Loveless, Charlie Burrus and Johnny Moses filling out the backfield.

All of these boys will be back next year.

QB Johnny Schenck, a senior, will play, but he still is recuperating from rib injuries received in the Lockney game.

Five seniors will be playing their last game—Duncan, Schenck, Lawson, Gary Johnson, Gary Bizzell and Dickie Hudgens.

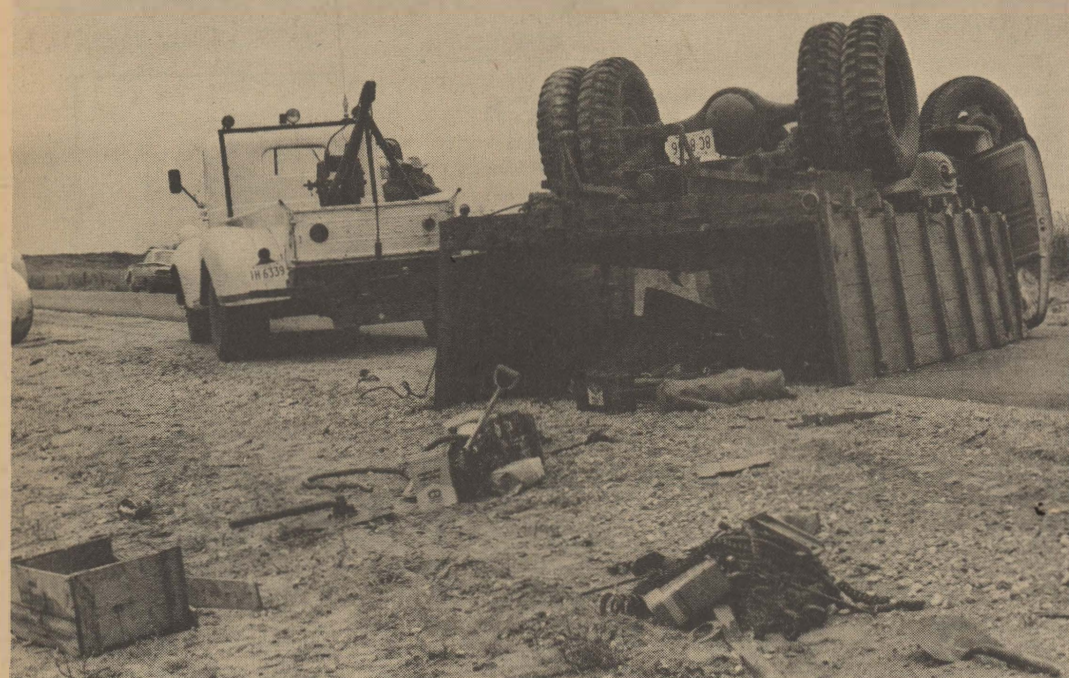

Besides Teague, the Whirlwinds boast a fine halfback in Charles Christian and a great 202-pound tackle in Joe Dunn.

The Floydada line averages 175 pounds, about seven pounds-per-man heavier than Olton's.

TRUCK FLIPS—This truck, owned by Jim Williams Potato Co., Olton, overturned Sunday about noon on FM 168 between Hart Camp and Olton. The driver, Eustacio Mendez, 35, who was not hurt seriously, told investigating officers he attempted to avoid an oncoming car, then lost control as the truck hit the loose shoulder. Damage to the truck was estimated at $600 by Highway Patrolman Bill Angel, Littlefield.

Thompson Chevrolet Observes Company's 50th Anniversary

Thompson Chevrolet, owned by Fred Thompson, is observing Chevrolet's 50th anniversary this month.

Chevrolet's early hardships stemmed from the company's meager beginnings in an old garage building in Detroit with shoe-string financing and an organization which produced and sold less than 25,000 cars during its first five years. The car legend then was that of Henry Ford and his Model T, an automobile which aroused great public appeal as a car for the masses about the time Chevrolet was seeking a foothold in the automobile business.

Chevrolet's "Golden Anniversary" lineup is the largest and most varied in the company's history, according to E.N. Cole, general manager of the Chevrolet division and a vice president of General Motors. A total of 32 models are included in the Corvair, Chevy II, Corvair and regular Chevrolet lines plus 200 different truck models.

Chevrolet's nationwide operations today are a far cry from the company's localized and faltering activities during its first few years of existence.

Chevrolet was founded by William C. Durant, a Flint businessman who in 1908 had organized the General Motors Company which later became General Motors Corporation. Because of financial difficulties, however, Durant lost control of his youthful consolidation in 1910 and immediately was looking for a new vehicle with which he could regain power in the automotive industry. To this end, he organized the Chevrolet Motor Company which was incorporated on Nov. 3, 1911.

To design a car for his new company, Durant hired Louis Chevrolet, one of three French brothers who had gained worldwide fame as race drivers. Chevrolet spent two years designing a car which, with some styling modifications, was put into production in 1912 but received limited public acceptance.

Even before his 1911 experimental model had been put into production, however, Louis Chevrolet left the company to return to his first love of racing.

The first Chevrolet plant was a small barn-like garage on West Grand Boulevard in Detroit. With employment of a few hundred people, the plant turned out 2,999 cars during its first year of operation in 1912. The year 1913 began a period of accelerating popularity for Chevrolet cars and expansion of plant facilities to accommodate the increasing demand.

During this same year, Durant merged Chevrolet with the Little Motor Car Company of Flint and moved his Detroit operations to the Flint Wagon Works. A second assembly plant was also leased in New York City in 1913.

Main reason for the increasing customer demand was the introduction of two new models called the Baby Grand touring car and the Royal Mail roadster which replaced the original 1912 car. These new models met with strong public approval and production jumped to 5,987 units in 1913 and to 13,292 in 1915.

During its first five years of operation, Chevrolet was competing in a market just above the low-price class. But in 1916, with the introduction of the famous "490" model—so named because of its price—

Chevrolet made its first important bid for volume sales in the American mass market.

Chevrolet became a part of General Motors in 1918 and embarked upon a new era of growth and expansion.

By 1920, Chevrolet production had passed the 134,000 mark, but competition in this perilous new market was far from easy. Nearly 200 automobile companies existed when Chevrolet was founded in 1911 and while the number had dropped to 136 by 1920, successful competition—particularly against some of the established makes—was extremely difficult.

This is dramatized by the results of a survey taken of all General Motors properties in 1920 by a top firm of industrial engineers. The study recommended that Chevrolet be liquidated because it "could not hope to compete in its field." Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., then GM vice president in charge of operations and later long-time GM president and board chairman, argued strongly against the recommendation. He won his point with GM President Pierre S. Du Pont and Chevrolet was saved.

During its 50-year history, Chevrolet has built more than 45 million on cars and trucks for both domestic and foreign distribution. It took Chevrolet nearly 12 years to produce its first million vehicles. Today it takes about 5 1/2 months of regular operations.

Equal Rights ?

Thank heavens for Women's Suffrage, equal rights and all that jazz.

In stories I've heard of days past—long before my time—the unfortunate weaker sex was required to do all that washing, cooking, housework and various "wifely" chores.

But you just can't fool us women. We know what's fair and what isn't. Today, we have freedom. . . lots and lots and lots of it.

Today we get to do the washing, committee work, cooking, committee work, housework, committee work, bookkeeping and of course, some committee work.

Lucky us!
Just think of those poor gals who had to take time out every day for a leisurely drive in the county, who had to take a day for letter writing to friends, who had to plan all those meals so that someone could do the shopping.

No longer do we leave the kid's school work to the Mr. or civic projects or the fund collecting. No stree. We've shown 'em we can do all that.

Why, we can paint the house, mow the yard, wash the car, wield the pliers and the screwdriver like a veteran and all this in our spare time, too.

This is indeed a woman's world. Just keep telling yourself that. . . over and over and over.

You might get to believe it.

MR. FARMER: The Facts..Not 'Chin Music'

Here's How Our 112-Day Self-Feeder Cattle Demonstration Was Run:

These 20 heifers are the property of Allen Johnston, Sanders Paris Grain Co., Olton, Texas. The heifers were purchased for Allen by an order buyer and delivered to Olton. Upon arrival the cattle were placed on a 50% roughage (Hulls) ration with Purina Cattle Aid (Supplement with 350 mgs. antibiotics per ton) for a period of 8 days. The cattle were wormed in the ration using Purina's Cattle Wormer, sprayed for grubs with Purina Co - Ral, back-scratcher installed for fly control using a mixture of oil and Purina Back - Scratch Concentrate. Purina Livestock Mineral was available free choice, as well as fresh clean water. On July 3, 1961 or after being in the lot for 8 days the cattle were weighed under the supervision of a weighing committee comprised of local business men, farmers and cattlemen. The cattle were not shrunk at this weighing or any subsequent weighing. The cattle remained on Cattle Aid for another 6 days at which time Purina Special Steer Fatena with 5 gr. Stilbesterol per ton replaced the Cattle Aid in the ration. Each 28 day period from the starting date the cattle were weighed, supervised by members of the committee, records for each period were made public and published in the Olton Enterprise. The feeding rations were changed periodically according to Purina's cattle fattening program when using a "Built In Roughage" in a self-feeder. Livestock Mineral was available free choice throughout the feeding period.

Abernathy Beats Ponies

Olton's Mustangs never got started and Abernathy never slowed down as the Antelopes won a surprisingly easy 27-0 victory over the Ponies at Abernathy last Friday night.

The Antelopes rolled to three second quarter touchdowns and posted another in the fourth period as they picked up 336 yards by land and air.

The Mustangs, meanwhile, were limited to a pair of first downs and only 53 total yards, by far their shortest output of the season.

The loss was the Ponies' sixth in nine games and third in four district encounters. Abernathy ran its season mark to 3-6 and district record to 3-1.

Olton was hampered by injuries to its offensive leader, Quarterback Johnny Schenck, who played with his chest heavily taped.

The little signal-caller wasn't able to maneuver in usual fashion and wound up with a total of minus six yards on nine carries. Fullback Johnny Moses was the only Mustang ball carrier who met with any success, gaining 32 yards in six trips.

The ball game started as though defense would be the order of the night. It was the last play of the first period before Abernathy made the initial first down of the contest.

Olton got five yards in three plays on its first possession, then Schenck kicked to the Abernathy 15.

After Abernathy failed to move, End Jack Waters punted, his kick traveling only 19 yards to the Abernathy 35.

Moses grabbed the ball, but fumbled and Abernathy's Billy Hackler, a tackle, recovered and the Mustangs lost perhaps their best opportunity of the night.

Again the Mustangs stopped the Abernathy attack, with Linebacker Robert Duncan and James Loveless nailing an Antelope ball carrier on fourth down at the Abernathy 43.

From there, the Mustangs moved to the 36 in three plays, but on fourth down Gary Johnson's pass to Ronnie Parsons went incomplete.

That was the last time the Mustangs had the ball in Abernathy territory.

The teams continued to get nowhere until four minutes deep in the second quarter, when Abernathy's fleet-footed Joe YBarra broke loose on a 53-yard touchdown run.

After the kick-off, Olton gained eight yards in three plays, then Schenck punted to the Abernathy 43.

The Antelopes moved from there to a touchdown in four plays, with George Reagan ripping off 13 yards, YBarra 22, and Larry Boyce the final 21.

Randy Henson kicked the extra point and Abernathy led, 13-0, with 3:49 left in the first half.

After the kickoff, the Mustangs again found tough sledding as two George Jones passes went incomplete and a 15-yard penalty moved the ball back to the Olton five.

On third down, Schenck punted against a stiff wind and the ball traveled only 23 yards to the Pony 27.

The Antelopes got their third touchdown in three plays. The payoff was a 12-yard pass from Bobby Pettit to End Waters. Henson kicked the point to give Abernathy a 20-0 lead with 1:51 left in the half.

The Mustangs got their only first down of the first half after the kick-off, as Moses broke free on an 18-yard run to the Mustang 47. Four plays later the half ended with Olton operating from its 40.

Olton held the Antelopes scoreless in the third quarter, with Moses recovering a fumble to stop one drive at the Olton 40.

Late in the third period, an Olton fumble was recovered by Abernathy's Jim Stillwell, a guard, at the midfield stripe.

The Antelopes then drove to their fourth touchdown in nine plays, with the key play a 29-yard pass from Pettit to Waters. That gain carried to the Olton 9 and two plays later, Pettit passed to End Don Hughes for a TD.

Henson kicked the point and it was 27-0 with 8:23 left in the game.

The Mustangs moved to their second first down of the night after that, but they could get only to their 37 before passes started falling incomplete.

As the game ended, Abernathy again was driving in Olton territory.

Despite the big margin Abernathy enjoyed, Olton got some fine defensive work at times, with Loveless, Duncan, Moses and End Ronnie Parsons the standouts.

A Famous Automotive Writer Looks At THE NEW GENERATION OF POWER

Note: To thousands of people, Tom McCahill is "Mr. Automobile." In the past 20 years he has written hundreds of articles on both American and European cars after giving them the "McCahill" test. Now, in a new role, Tom turns to tractors. He draws upon his knowledge of engines, mechanical features, and modern manufacturing techniques to analyze the John Deere line.

As King Solomon once said, "There is one best of everything." Regardless of the field, there has always been a leader, whether it is diamonds by Tiffany, shotguns by Prudy, or dancing by Fred Astaire. In farm tractors it's John Deere—the Rolls-Royce of the industry.

A great many parallels can be drawn between the automobile business and the farm tractor business. However, in the case of John Deere there are many places where the automotive and tractor businesses are miles apart. For example, many auto manufacturers aren't nearly as concerned with endurance. They like to feel that each buyer of a new car will be in the market for another new car at least once in every three years. They make changes every year for the sake of change alone, in order to attract more buyers. If the John Deere Company operated this way, they would definitely be shortchanging the farmer. They offer their very best efforts in design and engineering, right, now, without holding back on items that might be sales come-ons a year or two hence.

John Deere's success through so many generations means that a farmer is sure when he buys John Deere equipment that he's getting the best that can possibly be produced. He buys with assurance that John Deere is anxious to see his confidence justified. When the sale is made, the Deere organization sincerely hopes that their tractor will meet the farmer's expectations not only now, but also far into the future. To make this statement about the automobile business would be sheer absurdity. John Deere's creed is "Carefully Planned Endurance"—not "Carefully Planned Obsolescence."

John Deere builds the Rolls-Royce of tractors; this I believe, and here's why: I spent several days going through the gigantic Deere factories at Waterloo and Dubuque, Iowa. I was anxious to check on their quality control and how closely tolerances were kept, compared to automotive practice. I also wanted to see firsthand the type of material and metallurgy going into these machines that would undergo hardships and many times more severe than family sedans are ever subjected to.

Before I'd been in the factory many hours, one fact stood out like antlers on a hog—there was no nickel-and-dime savings influencing the quality of even the most hidden of parts. For instance, we know that many auto makers don't use the best or most expensive plating methods; we know that many cars reflect the influence of cost engineers whose purpose is to save a dime here and a penny there, where such savings wouldn't be dangerous. Many parts on cars could be graded as "passable." This grade would not be tolerated in any component at Deere—everything must be the best they can build.

John Deere makes most of the parts that go into their tractors. The quality control and close tolerances of such things as gears, splines and shafts is very refreshing in this day of general production mediocrity. Some of the smaller parts—for example, those used in hydraulic systems—are held to tolerances so close they equal the specifications required for guided-missile work and other high-precision military uses.

Deere's testing equipment alone has a dollar value large enough to buy several banks. The precision inspectors went into long detail with me on how their foolproof methods keep gear machining, for example, within tolerances that would frighten some automotive engineers. Every worker I talked with in these factories took a real pride in the fact that the material and tools he was working with couldn't be topped anywhere. These John Deere Tractors, regardless of size, reflect American workmanship at its finest. It's a shame we don't see more of it in other industries.

For many years, the Deere Company built thousands of two-cylinder tractors that were known throughout the farming world as "The Mechanical Mules That Never Quit." They lasted for years, were easy to service and were as reliable as cool weather in Little America and heat in Panama.

However, with today's modern farming requirements, Deere recognized the need for a change that would bring the farmer still greater efficiency and more comfort; in fact, more of everything for his money. They decided not to "hang" new features on the old John Deere line, but to build an entire new series of power units from the ground up.

Five years of planning and testing went into this New Generation of Power, utilizing the fullest space-age advances in technology and design. It was Deere's ambition to bring the farmer a degree of working comfort unknown before; to keep the fatigue factor down to a minimum; to produce more usable power than ever before at less cost per horsepower; and, to provide features and accessories to handle working equipment with greater efficiency and ease. Even the seat, so important in a long day's work, is as comfortable (in fact, probably more comfortable) as any seat in your living room. It moves on an inclined rail, back-and-up or forward-and-down, to match any size operator's particular body specifications. It was designed by a well-known doctor, specializing in this field, to eliminate typical tractor backaches. The seat's springing can even be controlled exactly to match the weight of the operator! I found this new seat as comfortable as the finest sports car bucket seats.

I drove several tractors on the Proving Grounds at the John Deere Research and Engineering Center near Waterloo. The first new feature I really appreciated was the wide platform (I weigh 250 pounds!) where the operator can stand up and move around. In most other tractors, the operator has less room than a trap with three mice in it, but not so with the new Deere jobs. You could practice your tap dancing on one of these rigs while it's running down a furrow.

I also found that you don't have to be a pole vaulter to get aboard a new Deere tractor. There are convenient mounting steps and good handholds, and you don't have to cross any plumber's piping dreams to swing into the seat. The instrument panel is right before you and easy to read. It contains a speed-hour meter and electric fuel gauge. At the sides are easy-to-reach dash-mounted transmission and hydraulic controls. The battery is located in a convenient compartment where it is easy to service.

The biggest sensation I got from driving these tractors came from John Deere's new full-time power steering. Even with a heavy front-end load, the giant 4010 Diesel model required no more effort to spin around than my Imperial. The steering was actually feather-light, as positive as taxes and as accurate as a tournament rifle. And talk about visibility! Well, you just can't top Deere tractors in this field. The narrow, tapered hood and high centered seat location allow you to see everything ahead and to the sides without any neck-twisting or other physical contortions. On some competitive tractors I drove, the visibility was as limited as a fat man's view into his watch pocket.

The accessories that go with the John Deere Tractor—from the crankcase heating element to the cold-weather shields and muffler covers—extend into the dozens, as you may require them. They include such outstanding designs as the new Quik-Coupler (which allows you to attach or detach three-point equipment without even getting out of the seat). The new eight-piston hydraulic pump (on larger models) provides more-than-ample power for steering, braking and equipment control... singly, or all together if you please!

The new multi-speed Syncro-Range Transmission and the variable-horsepower engine give a complete selection of usable power and ground speeds. This means efficient speed and power for all jobs, and high-way speeds up to almost 20 miles per hour when transporting from location to location.

John Deere, with the New Generation of Power, features the first power brakes on any tractor. They make tight turns at the end of a row as easy as inheriting money. The brakes run in oil, seldom require adjustment, and should last longer than the national debt.

It would take a big book to describe all the features of the John Deere Tractor line, and to cover all the models from the four-cylinder gas job to the big six-cylinder Diesel giants.

As I put them through their paces, including the test-ground mud bath, I could only conclude: These are the tractors farmers have dreamed about, and needed, since the mule first began to look tired.

In summing up, John Deere Tractors aren't cheap. They are the Rolls-Royce in the field; built to last for years by a company that takes genuine pride in building the best. For the professional farmer, there isn't a sounder investment, as this equipment will be serving him well long after his investment has paid off several times, and he has regretfully come to the end of his depreciation schedule.

Frankly, as I met the men of John Deere and closely checked all their manufacturing stages, I found myself with only one big regret, "Boy, if they'd only build cars this way!" Of course, if they did, they wouldn't sell half as many cars—you wouldn't need another one for many years.

Hart Victor Over Lazbuddie

In the battle between the Hart Longhorns and the Lazbuddie Longhorns, Hart came out ahead 24-8.

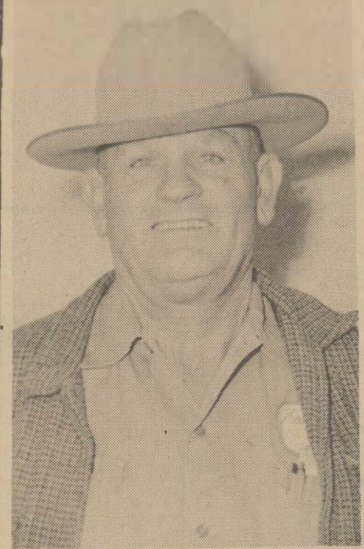

Halfback Larry Lee brought his season total up to 120 points by scoring two touchdowns and two conversions for Hart at Hart Friday night. Dennis McLain scored from the one yard line to open the scoring for Hart. Lee carried for the conversion to give the Longhorns an 8-0 lead.

On a 20-yard spurt in the second quarter Lee scored six points and he also ran the conversion. He ran 48 yards in the third quarter to set up for Hart's final touchdown and then crossed the goal from the three yard line. A pass from quarterback Joe Rubalcaba to Johnnie Kittrell was completed for the extra points.

Lazbuddie failed to score until the final period in the game. Dwain McGee tossed to Jim Seaton for 15 yards and the only score for the visitor's was made by that pass. The same combination, McGee to Seaton, was good for the conversion.

Royce Talley and Eufemio Rubalcaba were commended for their work on the Hart Longhorn's team and McGee and Seaton on the Lazbuddie Longhorn's team.

Hart will travel to Vega Friday night for their final game of the season.

MRS. JAMES KELLY HOLLOWAY

DeShazo-Holloway Vows Said Friday

The Southcrest Baptist Church was the scene Friday at 8 p.m. for the wedding of Miss Juana Inez DeShazo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Otto DeShazo, 3010 E. 3rd St., Lubbock, and James Kelly Holloway, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Holloway of Hart. The Rev. J. Wayland Edwards read the double ring ceremony. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace. A scalloped neckline enhanced the lace bodice as did long sleeves. Scalloped lace veiled the floor-length skirt of tulle and taffeta. She wore a pearl tiara and fingertip veil edged in lace. She carried a white orchid and frenched carnation bouquet, in which the bridegroom's grandmother's wedding ring was tied, atop a white Bible. Serving as matron of honor was Mrs. Shirley Smart of Amarillo. She wore an American beauty red chiffon sheath dress. It featured brief sleeves and a scoop neckline. She also wore a white feathered hat and carried white mums.

John Ray Holloway of Hart, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Kenneth Warren of Hart and Dean DeShazo, cousin of the bride. Wedding selections were played by Mrs. Betty Thurman accompanied by Miss Shirley Cox and Jerry Wright. Members of the house party at the reception immediately following the ceremony were Mmes. Wayne Baker, Rockne DeShazo, sister-in-law of the bride; R.F. DeShazo, sister-in-law of the bride; and M.L. McGee. For traveling, the bride chose a pink wool suit with white accessories. After a short wedding trip, the couple will live at 118 Ave. V. in Lubbock. Mrs. Holloway graduated from Tom S. Lubbock High School in 1959 and is employed by Texas Department of Public Safety. Her husband graduated from Hart High School in 1956 and attended McMurry College at

Auction Selling Used For Cotton

Cotton has now joined livestock, tobacco, citrus fruit, eggs and fresh vegetables in using the auction method of selling. However, the monotone chant of the auctioneer which makes livestock and tobacco sales noisy and colorful is entirely missing from a cotton auction.

Plains Cotton Cooperative Association at Lubbock is selling some $7 million worth of cotton each week quietly and without fanfare. Daily sales catalogs listing from 7,000 to 10,000 bales are flown nightly to cotton buying centers in Dallas, Houston and Memphis and distributed in Lubbock.

Buyers examine the listings and make their bids. These may be presented in person, but many bidders make their offers by wire without leaving their offices. At 2 p.m. each day, Monday through Friday, the sealed bids are opened and each quality is awarded to the highest bidder. The CCC loan support and Plains Cotton Cooperative Association's own bids operate to prevent cotton from selling below market price.

Eighty-nine Plains cooperative gin associations with 137 gin plants concentrate their farmers' cotton for Plains Cotton Cooperative Association's auction sales.

Plains Cotton Cooperative Association was organized eight years ago to find better ways to sell Plains cotton to more mills. It is now selling cotton in 22 foreign countries and to many mills in the United States.

Being owned by the farmers who use it, any margins made in the competitive auction sale, in merchandising and in warehousing are paid by Plains Cotton Cooperative Association to the farmers who send in their cotton. Last season, $1,512,000 were paid as patronage refunds to some 11,000 Plains farmers.

Eighty-eight farmers, one from each gin association, sit on the board which makes policies and directs the affairs of the Marketing Association. Howard Alford, Lubbock farmer, is president of Plains Cotton Cooperative Association. Dan Davis is the Association's general manager.
