

WE HAVE BEEN initiated, but good, into offset newspapering. You'll notice the change in our headline type starting with this issue. It's part of our overall change to the offset process of printing.

For the past week, we've had new equipment humming, and despite all the pitfalls which accompany something new, we've managed to get the paper out.

That's saying a lot, when you consider that probably almost anything that can happen to newspaper people has happened to the Olton Enterprise staff this week.

We've turned the "good old eight-hour day" into some 18-hour days during the week.

First, our society editor became ill Monday and her doctor ordered a complete rest from the hazards of getting out a newspaper.

Then, our brand-new headliner machine went down late Monday, and we lost about four needed doing the most.

Something happened to it again Tuesday afternoon, and we lost a little more time. It's running fine now.

Then Wednesday morning, my head cold turned into a chest cold and my temperature started to rise—strictly from sickness, mind you, not from me boiling about the way things were going.

All this was going on with a staff (including me) which was getting its first real test with offset procedures.

You've heard this before: "They said it couldn't be done". Well, for awhile, it looked like they were right, as far as this week's Enterprise was concerned.

THE CITY COUNCIL came through last Friday night's paving hearing without a scratch.

Like I said before, that's saying a lot, because sometimes folks get riled pretty easily if they're afraid something they don't want is going to be shoved down their throats.

Quite a few people protested their individual cases, but everyone of them did it good naturedly. Some of the folds that showed up were there just for information, and told the council before they left that they were "for" the paving.

The council apparently made it clear that it will do what the majority of people in any block wants.

Regardless of the fact that everybody at the hearing knew each other, things were carried on as "official business."

For instance, everyone was asked to state his or her name for the record.

When the council reached the case of Ann Bythe, Mayor James asked that she state her name for the record-keeper, city secretary Berniece Smith. She turned to Berniece and grinned: "Why Berniece, you've known me for 30 years!"

All through the hearing, the council listened to one reason or another why this or that property owner didn't want paving.

The council simply listened, made notes and then explained the benefits of paving, or the ways in which the property owner could pay for it.

So the councilmen were a little bit unprepared for the last two people who appeared at the hearing, Howard Hall and Charlie McLain figured they'd do a little needling. "How come," grinned Hall, "we voted on this thing seven months ago and still haven't got any paving?"

NEW CHURCH CLASS

Primary and Junior Sunday evening classes of the Olton Methodist Church will begin a new course in study, "Into All the World With the Bible," on Feb. 5 at 6 p.m.

STUCK IN THE MUD—Jose Garcia, who drives a garbage truck for the city, wouldn't mind seeing Olton's alleys paved, much less the streets. Here, he tries to figure a way to unstick a city truck which became mired near the Enterprise office. Heavy snows followed by warming conditions have turned many city streets into mud holes like this.

Paving Sign-Up To Begin Tuesday

The official sign-up on Olton's paving project will begin Tuesday at the city hall.

That word was given last Friday night by representatives of First of Texas Corporation, which is handling the financial end of the city's program.

Tom Anderlitch of FOT said letters will be mailed to property owners, telling them they have been included in the project and inviting them to come to the city hall to sign up.

The announcement by Anderlitch came after about 30 persons appeared at the city's paving hearing last Friday night.

Some were there to protest, while others were there to get information.

A snowy night may have been a reason for the crowd not being larger.

The council opened the hearing by calling G.H. Bley and C.A. Cox a councilman, as witnesses. They testified they felt the paving would enhance the value of lots at least as much as the cost of paving, whether the lots were 25 feet or 100 feet.

After that, about 30 persons appeared before the council.

The council explained to each that the paving can be paid in five equal installments, one sometime in mid-summer when the paving is accepted by the city, and four others to be paid in a four-year period.

Crooks Will Run Wild In Annual Senior Play

Crooks and burglars and shady characters of all sorts will be on the prowl Friday morning and Saturday night.

Sugar Beet Association Formed Here

About 30 Olton area farmers organized an Olton Sugar Beet Growers Association Tuesday night, electing W.T. Hall Jr. as president.

The group also named Cleo Smith as secretary and appointed a committee to contact other groups in the county and study possibilities of forming a county wide organization.

Members of the committee are Archie Sorley, Max Malone, George Redinger, Lacy Armstrong and Hall.

Speakers at the meeting here were Lee Benefield and Austin Rose Jr. of Hereford, leaders in the area's attempt to get sugar beet quotas.

Next meeting of the Olton association will be Tuesday, Feb. 14.

Sugar beet organizations in this area are seeking passage of a 4-6 year law which would allow 400,000 acres of sugar beets to be grown in this country.

W.E. (Bill) Thomas Jr., Olton real estate man, was appointed last Friday to serve the unexpired term of late F.L. Burrow, who was precinct 1 justice of the peace.

The action was taken at a meeting of the county commissioners court.

Rosses' Alaskan Dog Found Shot To Death

Just a little over a month ago, a man and his dog had a heart-warming reunion here.

"Red", an Alaskan sled dog, and Tom Ross, his master, got back together after the dog disappeared 10 days prior to the reunion.

Saturday morning, "Red" was found dead, the victim of a 22-caliber slug which entered his brain.

This week, Mr. and Mrs. Ross were trying to understand why someone would shoot the dog. They are anxious to learn who fired the shot.

The case also is of interest to Police Chief Emmett Burrows. He would like to know who is firing a .22 in the city.

"We want to put a stop to it before someone is hit by a bullet," said Chief Burrow.

The dog was found dead just outside the kitchen of Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Paschal, mother of Mrs. Ross.

The Rosses, who are staying with the Paschals, are at a loss to explain why someone would kill the dog, who was chained to concrete blocks and apparently bothered no one.

The shooting occurred about mid-morning Saturday. Earlier, "Red" had been fed and was in good spirits.

The Paschals and Mrs. Ross were home all morning, but they heard no shot. Possibly this was because they were watching TV and the noise of the shot blended in with the TV program.

The Rosses described "Red" as "friendly." He had been acquired by Tom when he was in Alaska.

A big dog, "Red" resembled a German Shepherd. He weighed about 65 pounds and was three years old.

FARM BUREAU...

WHAT IS IT?

Farm Bureau is a free, independent, non-governmental organization of farm and ranch families united for the purpose of achieving collectively that which they cannot secure individually.

Farm Bureau is organized on the county, state and national levels. The Texas Farm Bureau, with 81,000 members, is affiliated with the American Farm Bureau Federation, largest farm organization in the world with more than 1,600,000 members in 49 states (all except Alaska) and Puerto Rico.

HOW ITS POLICIES ARE MADE

Farm Bureau policies are made at the "grass roots" level with each member given an opportunity to participate in policy development. Policies are not made by taking a poll. Instead, they are adopted after discussion, debate and exchange of ideas at county, state and national conventions. A majority vote is required for adoption of policies. Thus, Farm Bureau's policy-making process guarantees that the majority shall always rule.

HOW MEMBERS GET ACTION ON POLICIES

The power and influence of Farm Bureau is not at the county court house or in Austin or Washington, but out where its members live and vote. Members get action on policies by keeping informed on issues affecting those policies and by expressing their desires to their elected political representatives. Legislative staffs are maintained in Austin and Washington to inform the Legislature and Congress on Farm Bureau's position on issues and to call for action on the part of the membership when necessary. Farm Bureau is the only national general farm organization which can exert influence on elected representatives from 49 states. In Texas, the Farm Bureau is the only general farm group which maintains a full-time legislative staff in Austin.

Lacewells, Lee, Spain Attend DeKalb Meeting

Attending the annual DeKalb Agricultural Assn. contest awards dinner in Lubbock Jan. 24 were Don Spain, Olton Farm Supply owner, J. O. Lee and Mr. and Mrs. Witt Lacewell of Olton.

Lacewell received a plaque as the top-ranking DeKalb grain producer in Lamb County. Lee was ranked fourth in Hale County.

Stressed at the banquet, in addition to DeKalb's corn and sorghum programs, was the company's latest research, in which hybrid cotton seed is being produced.

Cross-pollination in DeKalb's new cotton hybrid was carried out with bees. Cotton pollen is too heavy to be wind-borne, and must be carried from one plant to another by bees to make hybridization possible.

Object of the DeKalb research was to utilize hybrid vigor which results in faster growth, earlier maturity, more and larger fruit and greater yields.

Tests at various research centers across the south showed that hybrid cotton produced by DeKalb to yield 8 to 12 per cent more than standard varieties.

The new hybrid will be tested here in 1961, but is not expected in market quantity in this area until 1962.

Save On Dry Fertilizer CAPROCK Premium Grades
 With X-Tra Trace Minerals

1. Caprock X-TRA grades have an additional combination of secondary elements added. This product is known as Sul-Po-Mag.

2. Sul-Po-Mag is a balanced combination of water-soluble magnesium and premium Sulphate-of-Potash, and contains 18% magnesium and 22% Sulphate of Potash.

3. Unfortunately magnesium deficiencies are hard to detect in crops until it is too late. For example, your cotton plants may look healthy when they are small, but at harvest time a magnesium deficiency has taken its toll. Results are fewer squares, smaller bolls, lower yields of inferior-quality cotton. When lower leaves turn purplish-red with prominent green veins and drop prematurely, it is probably too late for top profits.

4. Caprock X-TRA premium grade fertilizer contains an ample quantity of Sul-Po-Mag to prevent these deficiencies and poor yields from occurring. If you believe deficiencies exist in your soil, ask for Caprock X-TRA premium grade fertilizer.

Ad-libs By my

FOR SALE

"Registered Beagle puppy, only $25.

"Owner absolutely will not give more than that to have it taken off his hands."

This is one ad you will probably never see in the classified columns of this paper. And there are some pretty interesting things in those columns, by the way.

However, since I do not fancy a untimely death at the hands of my three children and husband, I fear that Tip, the Beagle in question, is a permanent member of the Turner household.

Sad-eyed Tip came howling into our lives this past Christmas morning as a present from my benevolent brother-in-law who is a member of that strange clan known as "dog lovers." After a 500 mile and 500 stop trip back to West Texas Tip surveyed our household and to allay any anxieties we might have had, made himself quickly at home. In fact, he made himself quickly at home in every room in the house.

I must admit, however, he has certainly given an added incentive to my ad-selling. We have a contest going now to see if I can sell enough ads to pay for the things he tears up. At present, I'm running a little behind.

From our experiences the past month, I would like, as a public service, to give a bit of advice to the prospective buyers of puppies.

Make a budget-----a DOG BUDGET!

First, of course, is the purchase price which runs from $10 up---usually up. This is an insignificant item in the long run, however. The main thing, in fact, the only thing on my budget is FOOD! And for this you should allow $214.67 per month.

Anticipating that this might seem exorbitant, I have composed a list of those things which have whetted the appetite of our flop-eared friend during the past month.

Start with an appetizer of one living room chair at $100 spiced with a toothbrush at 59¢ and a wastebasket, $3.

Main course would consist of three pair of children's pajamas, $3.98 each; one pair of ladies' house shoes (my favor-

Methodist Youth Will Conduct Sunday Service

Youth at the First Methodist Church, Olton, will conduct the Sunday morning services Sunday, Feb. 5, in observance of Methodist Youth Day. Sunday School Superintendents Ronda Robertson and Gary Blizzell will be in charge of the Sunday School classes to be conducted by young people.

Speakers during the 11 o'clock service are: Gary Blizzell, "What is Youth Day"; Becky Hall, "What I Believe to Be The Immediate Needs of the World"; Ronda Robertson, "What the Church Can Do About These Needs"; and Rea Horn, "What I Can Do About These Needs."

The youth choir will be directed by Nita Gaede. Ushers include: David Carlisle, Jimmy Tollett, Johnny Schenck, Robert Struve, Joe McKnight and Kenneth Hooper.

Brownie Troop Plans Fly-Ups

Brownie Scout Troop 132 discussed plans for the Girl Scout Fly-Ups at a regular meeting Tuesday, Jan. 31 at the Brownie Scout House.

Members present were Debra Walden, Kathline Carson, Francine Offield, Cherie Thompson, Gayle Williams, Vickie Evans, Paulette McFadden, Cherie Dorris, Judy Stanley, Judy Nelast, Carol Scribner, and Brenda Ellis. Troop leaders are Mrs. Wayne Carson and Mrs. C. J. Dorris.

Items $6; three little boy's shirts $2.98 each; one pair little boy's boots (new), $8; one child's chair, $5; two pair little girl's pedal pushers, $5.98 each; two pair of little boy's trousers, $3.98 each; three sheets (not new), $2.98 each; one bedspread, $20; ten pair ladies' hose (part mine, part visitors), $1.69 each.

For dessert, Tip fancies ten wooden pencils at 50¢ one box crayolas at 29¢ and one comb at 15¢.

Of course, you must add an occasional can of dog food which would cost you about $2 and about 15 rolls of tissue at $1.50. The tissue is for the "training" period and it's anybody's guess as to how long that period lasts. Add a good mop (that's self-explanatory) at about $1 and you have a grand total of $214.67---for one month.

Taking into consideration that dog is man's best friend, I guess what it amounts to is just how bad do you need a friend.

Personally, I think I've got just about one too many!

Food, Cars Take Half Of Lamb Retail Dollar

NEW YORK, - Just how the average Lamb County family spent its retail dollar during the past fiscal year, trimming on some kinds of purchases and expanding on others, is revealed in the latest market data findings.

All in all, it appears county residents did not become so disturbed at signs of the current recession as to curtail their purchasing generally. As a result, most retail lines stood up well.

HART CAMP NEWS

BY MRS. BLANTON MARTIN

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hukill are making some changes inside their home and building a garage.

J.W. Johnson and J.W. Johnson Jr., have rented the R.T. Frederikson farm.

Ruth Hurt and Emmett and Linda were weekend guests of Ruth's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Loman.

A farewell party honoring Mr. and Mrs. C.E. Timmins, Larry, and Jerolyn was held at the Baptist Church Friday night. Refreshments of coffee, cookies, and hot chocolate were served. In addition to the guests attending, a host of friends sent gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Worley of Olton are moving to a farm a few miles west of Olton. The Worleys are the new owners of the farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hill of Lubbock visited in the Baptist Church here Sunday morning.

Attending the quarterly Woman's Missionary Union Meeting at Anton Thursday were Mrs. Jack Moore, Mrs. Elmer Bureson, and Mrs. Blanton Martin.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerry Langford and Kathy of Artesia, N.M., visited in the community Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Ivy Thompson drove her parents to Mesa, Ariz. last week. The Hendricks will spend the rest of the winter there. Thompson went Saturday to bring his wife home.

New residents in the Hart Camp Community are Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Prentiss and daughter, who farm the Watt Clifton

The details are from the comprehensive study of consumer buying made by the Standard Rate and Data Service on the basis of Federal, state and local reports. All sections of the country are covered.

The study shows that the nation's consumer, despite considerable unemployment, spent $218 billion in retail stores in the year as against $209 billion in fiscal 1959.

In Lamb County, a major portion of the retail dollar went for food and for automobile purchases and operation. This combination received 50 per cent of the dollar.

The total so-spent in county stores in the 12 month period was $15,710,000.

A breakdown shows that $6,854,000 of that amount was spent for food in the county. This is exclusive of expenditures made in restaurants.

Dealers selling cars, trailers, boats and other automotive equipment of a non-industrial nature had sales of $6,900,000.

Gas filling stations accounted for an additional $1,956,000 in the year.

The rest of the retail spending picture in Lamb County appears in the totals recorded by the other types of stores. Most of them compared well with the fiscal 1959 figures.

The principal ones, as shown in the SRDS reports, are: General merchandise stores, with a sales volume of $1,689,000, apparel shops, $1,362,000, home furnishings stores, $832,000, and drug stores, $995,000.

The overall total of retail sales locally was $31,260,000. It was equivalent to $4,915 per household as against $4,129 in the United States as a whole.

According to a recent consumer-interview survey made by the University of Michigan, while people are uneasy about current business they are not alarmed. They are confident that an upturn is not too far away.

Pvt. Wimberly Will Participate In Winter Shield

Army Pvt. Clyde D. Wimberly, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Wimberly, Olton, is scheduled to participate with other personnel from the 25th Artillery in Exercise Winter Shield II to be held Feb. 2-8 at the Grafenwohr-Hohenfels training area in southern Germany.

Winter Shield, an annual Seventh U. S. Army winter field training maneuver, will involve 60,000 U. S. Army, German and French troops and will mark the highpoint of a year's training for NATO's "Pyramid of Power".

The maneuver will provide training under simulated combat conditions for the individual soldier and leaders at all command levels, and will include intensive training in the employment of advanced weapons.

Wimberly, who is regularly assigned as a wireman in the artillery's Battery C in Stuttgart, entered in Army in May 1960 and arrived overseas last September.

He attended Floydada High School.
