School Attendance Gain Points To More Teachers

On Braceros

Olton Men Rap Labor Proposal

Four Olton area farmers who last week attended a Labor Department hearing at Midland on Bracero wages described farmers as being "up against a well-oiled machine" in their battle against a minimum wage in agriculture.

"The Midland meeting seemed to be cut and dried," said Cleo Smith, one of the four.

The other three--Tom Carlisle, Kenneth Ray and William DeBerry--joined Smith in saying they believe the hearings are only a formality.

The minimum wage in agriculture is coming, they said, unless the picture changes drastically.

Purpose of the Midland hearing was to hear testimony on what the wage scale for Mexican Nationals should be and whether the present pay scale has an adverse effect on domestic workers.

Approximately 15 to 20 Olton area farmers were in the crowd of 1,500.

The meeting was conducted by Asst. Labor Secretary Jerry Holleman, former Texas AFL-CIO chief. He said the Labor Department was trying to determine whether 70 cents an hour is the proper wage for Braceros.

Farmers now pay about 60 cents an hour, plus insurance, housing and other benefits. Most feel they actually pay more than 70 cents already, considering the extras.

"We're not so much opposed to the 70-cent wage as we are to the principle of the thing," said Smith. "We don't want to deprive anyone of an opportunity to better himself, but we don't want it forced down our throats."

The group felt that if the 70-cent wage is approved now, it would open the way to things much worse.

However, Ray quoted Holleman as saying: "We're not here to discuss the adverse effect on farmers, but the adverse effect on domestic workers."

Carlisle was a speaker at the hearing, representing the South Plains Pickle Growers.

School Week Attendance Good Here

School principals reported "an exceptional" turnout of parents Tuesday night for an open house at the schools. Approximately 100 were served punch, coffee and doughnuts at the Home Economics cottage after the tour of rooms.

Elementary, junior high and high school teachers displayed samples of students work in each room. Some of the displays were special projects in science, English, history and mathematics.

After the reception in the home economics cottage, a play entitled "Freedom Means All Of Us Everywhere" was presented by the American history classes in the auditorium. Essays on How I Can Help Promote and Preserve American Democracy were read by Sandra Cox, Clyde Galloway and Paul Hernandez.

This was followed by a performance by the OHS choir at 9 p.m.

Trustees Approve Teachers, Books

Olton schools, if they maintain their current pace in average daily attendance, will qualify for three additional teachers in 1962-63.

That optimistic word came Tuesday night from Supt. Johnny R. Clark Jr. at a regular school board meeting.

Clark told trustees that average daily attendance this year continues to show a marked increase over the figures of 1960-61.

Attendance is up in both white and Negro schools, Clark reported. He compared figures for the fourth six weeks period of this year with those of the same period last year.

Total attendance for the school system during this period was 1,191, including 1,061 in white schools and 131 in Negro schools. This compared with a total of 1,106 in 1959-60, including 1,001 in white schools and 105 at Bohner.

"If we can maintain the present trend, we should qualify for two more teachers in Anglo schools and one more for Bohner," Clark told the board.

Of the 1,061 attending white schools, 582 are in elementary, 263 in junior high and 216 in high school. This compares with 159-60 figures of 535 in elementary, 259 in junior high and 206 in high school.

Clark's report on attendance topped a trustee meeting in which board members also re-elected 38 classroom teachers the school nurse and two librarians.

The board also heard a report on the lunchroom and approved a textbook committee's selection of books to be adopted by local schools.

All but two teachers were re-elected. One of these, Thomas Rawlins, junior high science teacher, asked not to be considered for re-election.

The other, A.C. Whittle, junior high reading and spelling teacher, could not be considered because he has not completed requirements for a permanent teaching certificate. He is teaching on an emergency certificate this year.

Lunchroom report heard by the board showed it operated in the black in February. The operation was $5,008 in the red at the start of the month and $4,918 at the end.

Teachers re-elected included:

ELEMENTARY SCHOOL -- Allie Aikman, Kathryn Bledsoe, Eloise Galloway, Leta Jenkins, Alicia Reeves, first grade; Eunice Hardy, Ruby Sturch, Freda Worley, second grade; Bettie Daniel, Ruth Franks, Ethel Gordon, Barbara Tollet, third grade; Lea Belle Hooper, Pearl Moore, Juanita Adams, LaNelle Waldrop, fourth grade; Grady Cope, Kathryn Cope, Esther Graham, Vivian Williams, fifth grade.

Girl Scout Cookie Sale Underway

Brownie and Intermediate Girl Scouts begin their 1962 cookie sale this afternoon in advance of Girl Scout Week which starts Monday. The Scouts will be celebrating a fiftieth anniversary of girl scouting.

The cookie sale, offering vanilla thin, creme filled sandwich and chocolate mint cookies, will continue through March 22. They will sell for 50 cents per box.

Olton has nine Girl Scout troops, with 43 Brownies, 75 Girl Scouts and 28 adult workers.

A part of the proceeds will be used to help put a swimming pool at Camp Rio Blanco. Each troop will keep eight cents from each box sold for its own use.

Girls will wear uniforms or pins while selling cookies. They will collect money as they sell and give purchasers a window sticker stating "We Buy Girl Scout Cookies."

Adult leaders in Olton are Mmes. George Brown Jr., Dwayne Wilks, Leo Ross Bryant, Paul Burrus, Tom Carlisle, K.Y. Givens, Bill Langford, Wayne Carson and Buster Nicholas.

The first girl scout troop was started by a little southern lady named Juliette Gordon Low in March of 1912 when she put her 12 little charges in bloomers and middie blouses and taught them the art of catching runaway horses, ducking cars, milking cows and eating out of knapsacks.

Preliminary Sites Picked

Low-Rent Housing Plan Raising Eyebrows Here

Two developments this week on Olton's low-rent housing project put the government-financed operation back in the news:

1. Word came that the 12 units approved for Olton will be set aside for Latin American and Negro families only.

2. At the same time, it was learned the federal government's preliminary choice for a site for the Latin American units is the second block east of the square, behind Thomas Speed Wash.

Both announcements drew criticism. Basil Sherman, chairman of the local Housing Authority for the project, said the local board has asked for another survey of needs for low rent housing.

The first survey, taken last year, apparently failed to show a need for low-rent housing among the white populace.

"I believe there is a need for some units designated for whites, and I think the rest of the board believes there is a need, too," Sherman said.

Announcement of the choice for the site of the Latin American units drew criticism at a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture board Tuesday morning.

Eight of the 12 units have been proposed for Latin American families. The other four will be for Negro families.

The C-CA board was told that the site for the Latin American project was selected because it is on paving. The site for the Negro units is designated in the Negro section of town, off paving.

Several board members said they did not understand why the government picked the near-downtown spot for the site for the Latin units, saying they felt the project would be better located in the Latin American section of the city.

Sherman, interviewed later, said he believes a new survey will show the need for units for whites.

"A government official told me that, if we are allocated units for whites later, the Housing Authority can ask that the site now set up for Latin American units be switched to a site for whites," he said.

"Our housing board is going to sit tight until we get the results of another survey," he added.

Sherman also said that there are alternate site selections for the proposed Latin American units, in the two blocks further east.

Members of the local Housing board are scheduled to meet with the city council Tuesday night to discuss the entire project and its latest developments.

The low-rent project is set up on a 40-year government-financed program. The units will be duplexes of brick veneer with cooking facilities. Rent will be from about $24 per month to $37.50 per month. Only families on low incomes could qualify as tenants.

Chamber Banquet Scheduled Tonight

John McKee of Dallas, regional civic and governmental affairs manager for Ford Motor Company, will address the annual Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture Banquet here tonight at 7:30 in the school cafeteria.

McKee will discuss ways in which businessmen may improve the community business climate through participation in political and governmental activities.

He is president of the Texas Scottish Rite Hospital for Crippled Children in Dallas, member of the President's Conference on Education, member of the advisory committee of the Texas Employment Commission and director of the Texas Bureau for Economic Understanding.

One highlight of the banquet will be the naming of Olton's Man Of The Year.

Tickets are $2 per person.

Johnston Takes Post

Allen Johnston, grain elevator operator here the past six years, this week announced plans to move to Wichita Falls, where he will be associated with Bolin Grain Co.

Johnston and his family will move to Wichita Falls April 1. He will head the grain merchandising division of the Wichita Falls company, which operates mainly in Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas.

Johnston, partner and manager of Harrison-Johnston Co., will retain his interest in the Olton firm.

Last year, Johnston and Hubert Harrison of Mexia took over operation of the elevator.

Johnston and his wife, Joy, have three children, Kent, 6, Jana, 3, and Lori, 17 months. The family attends the First Methodist Church.

Banquet Speaker Says . . .

Good Schools Up To People

Most people who complain about their local schools have only to gaze into a mirror to find who's at fault.

A Floydada Methodist minister used that thought here Monday night, as he urged some 200 people attending the annual Teacher Appreciation Banquet to "be thankful" for their school program.

The Rev. Charles Lutrick, pastor for First Methodist Church, Floydada, was principal speaker for the event, which was staged in the school cafeteria.

"We get what we pay for," he said. "On the Plains, we are football-minded. It's a sad occasion when we build fine stadiums and outfit our teams with the best in uniforms. . . and yet our libraries don't have enough of the right kind of books. . . our labs are short of equipment and some of our schools are overcrowded."

"If there is fault with our schools today," he said, "it is because we have abdicated from our responsibilities."

The Floydada minister said

taxpayers should "consider it a privilege to support the system which educates our boys and girls."

Earlier in the program, certificates of honor were presented to Mrs. Garland Long, president of the P-TA, and Mrs. Melvin Hines, president of the Lamb-Balley Bi-County P-TA and immediate past-president of the local P-TA.

Supt. Johnny Clark Jr., in making the presentation, said the P-TA is "the Quarterback Club of the school," comparing its efforts to those of the Quarterback Club in boosting athletic teams.

The awards were given in appreciation for the P-TA's contributions to the school, from the teachers, administration and school board, Clark said.

The Rev. Lutrick said in his address that the public should express its appreciation to teachers for:

1. Their profession, because it is a "calling";

P-TA HONOREES---Honored at the Annual Teacher Appreciation Banquet here Monday night were Mrs. Melvin Hines, right, president of the Lamb-Balley Bi-County

P-TA, and Mrs. Garland Long, president of Olton P-TA. The two were presented certificates by Supt. Johnny Clark Jr. as a token of appreciation for the P-TA's work.

Stash That Trash

"Every litter bit hurts."

This is one of the many slogans being used by local clubs and organizations in the Litterbug campaign now underway here.

The campaign was started by the Olton Garden Club and now has the support of many local groups.

Objectives listed in the program are:
1. To create a public awareness of litter.
2. To stimulate public participation in cleaning up existing litter.

3. To prevent future litter by education, public opinion pressure and law enforcement.

We feel that this is a project which every individual can, and should, support. It takes very little extra effort to see that trash is disposed of properly, but this little effort on the part of most of us would produce a big result.

Perhaps the first step is to set a good example by keeping our own property clean and covering trash barrels so that trash won't blow over on the neighbor's property.

Much of "litterbugging" is due to thoughtlessness, which a tactful hint or two can take care of. Obstinate violators should, of course, be reported to the proper authority.

Farmers can help in the program by informing employees living on their farms of the proper place to put their trash and informing them of the law against dumping litter along the roadsides.

Many of us toss trash out the windows of our cars not realizing how these things mount up and the costly effort that is required to remove it.

One candy paper or gum wrapper on the highway doesn't look like much, but multiply that by every car that passes along that highway and you have a mess that somebody has to clean up.

A simple, efficient way to handle this problem is to have a litterbag in the car. Most of us empty the trash baskets in our homes and our offices every day and it only takes a few minutes. Try letting it pile up for a week or so and it would become a job.

In the same way, small pieces of trash thrown on our streets and highways by so many individuals has become quite a job. If each one had only to empty a litterbag in the car, it would be a simple matter. Let's stash that trash in the proper place and put our tax dollars to better use.

Tax Attorney Discusses Deductions For Depletion Of Underground Water

Several aspects of the Marvin Shurbet case, filed in behalf of the High Plains Under-ground Water Conservation District to obtain a tax deduction for water depletion, are generating considerable interest among local landowners and farmers.

One area of interest concerns the question of who owns the groundwater rights if the court determines that water is a mineral and the land has a mineral lease.

According to Clarence P. Brazill, tax attorney for the High Plains Under-ground Water Conservation District, there is little doubt in Texas that the landowner, and not the lessee, has the right to the water.

In the recent cases of Fleming Foundation vs. Texaco and the Estate of Geneva O'Brien vs. United States, both the Texas and Federal courts held that in Texas, even though water is technically a mineral, a mineral lease does not include water.

Brazill said this is because, under the ordinary oil, gas and mineral lease, the parties do not intend for water rights to be transferred.

If the tax deduction for ground-water depletion eventually becomes a reality, it would become the tool through which a considerable amount of money that presently leaves as federal taxes would remain in this area.

Brazill said, however, that there is another reason that directors of the Water District feel that depletion program would be of such great value.

"If a depletion program is eventually obtained, some formula will be devised that will involve the measuring of static water levels to determine the amount of water used during the preceding year," he explained.

Under such a program each individual would determine annually the amount of depletion he has experienced. Some feel that such a practice would serve as an incentive to water conservation. It would, in many cases, "serve to bring the facts home."

The possibility of control or regulations by the federal government or by the Texas Railroad commission has been raised by some farmers.

"There is absolutely no basis for such control by either the federal government or the Railroad Commission," Brazill said.

He said that the control of the oil and gas industry in Texas is exercised, not by the federal government, but rather by the Texas Railroad Commission which alone has the power to control the rate of production, or stop production completely to prevent waste.

"It should be noted," he added, "that regulation of the oil and gas industry in Texas did not arise because the federal government allowed a tax deduction for depletion but rather because the state legislature invested the Railroad Commission with authority to regulate oil and gas production by law."

He said that the state legislature, in order to avoid control by a state-wide agency, had adopted a system whereby the administration of ground water affairs would be placed at the local level.

"There is no federal body or agency which has jurisdiction over the production of ground water in the southern High Plains of Texas. Nor does any highly-centralized state-wide agency, such as the Railroad Commission, have jurisdiction to promulgate rules and regulations within, or for, the High Plains Water District, which is a local and not a state-wide organization," Brazill said.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Sir:

The faculty and students of Bohner School, along with the family of Mr. George Thomas, wish to express their appreciation of the donations given to the benefit game to raise funds to help pay the medical and doctor expenses of George R. Thomas, who received a broken jawbone in a basketball game between Bohner and Levelland.

Thanks are due to the Olton High School faculty and students, junior high faculty and students, H.P. Webb Elementary faculty and students, the Lions Club, other organizations, and all good citizens of Olton.

The Lions Club and Bohner faculty were defeated by the faculty of the high, junior high and elementary schools by a score of 31 to 30 in a very tight game.

The door receipts came to $196.85. As of today, the entire bill amounts to $200.

We are happy to announce that the entire amount has been paid, and we are quite appreciative again of the kindness displayed by all good citizens of Olton.

your savings account, whether or not you withdraw it. Gross income does not include amounts received by you as Social Security or Railroad Retirement pension benefits, gifts, inheritances or workmen's compensation benefits.

The specific form you use to submit your return is a matter of personal choice with you based upon the type of income you have, the type of exclusions you claim, and the amount of deductible expenditures you have incurred.

This year there are only two income tax forms available, the 1040 and the 1040A. Form 1040A, the "punch card" form, is by far the simpler of the two. However, it may only be used if your income was less than $10,000 and consisted entirely of wages reported on your withholding statement (Form W-2) and not more than $200 total of dividends, interest, and other wages not subject to withholding. A husband and wife may file a joint return on Form 1040A if their combined incomes do not exceed these limits. Form 1040A also may not be used if you itemize deductions, claim a dividend received credit or a retirement income credit or claim an exclusion for "sick pay".

Form 1040 has been revised this year, and the old 1040W has been eliminated. The new form has only two pages, similar to pages 1 and 2 of the old Form 1040. A new separate Schedule B replaces the items (except the summary of capital gains and losses) which formerly appeared on pages 3 and 4 of the old form. If your income is only from salary and wages and not more than $200 of dividends and interest, you need only file page 1 and 2.

The appropriate separate Schedule B (Supplemental Schedule of Income and Credits), C (Profit or Loss from Business or Profession), D (Gains and Losses from Sales or Exchanges of Property) or F (Schedule of Farm Income and Expenses) should be used if your income is not all of the type described.

Our tax laws are self-assessing in nature. This means that you, as the taxpayer, have a duty and obligation to report the facts and circumstances surrounding your receipt of income.

Gross income refers to all amounts which you received for work you perform and also includes income and profits which you received from the investment and sale of property or savings. Income from savings includes interest credited to Hiccups Anyone?

The remedies that have been suggested for hiccups are unlimited. Everyone has hiccups now and then, and everyone has had "helpful suggestions" from friends and acquaintances on how to stop them.

Hiccups are spasmodic contractions of the diaphragm. They occur in healthy people spontaneously or from trivial causes. In rare cases hiccups will continue for long periods and control becomes difficult. In these instances, medical attention is required.

Babies often hiccup after rapid feeding, or swallowing of air. Sometimes hiccups are noted along with neurosis and with certain diseases, such as flu.

Today's Health, the magazine of the American Medical Association, offers several suggestions for curing the hiccups --

In the case of babies, administer sips of warm water; take the child in your arms, patting his back.

One of the best remedies for simple hiccups in older children and adults is to lie down and relax.

Raul Fuentezes Have Baby Girl

Mr. and Mrs. Raul Fuentez are the parents of a baby girl, Maria Elena, born Feb. 27 at the Community Clinic.

The infant weighed five pounds, 14 ounces at birth.

Other measures that sometimes help include: Drink water slowly, trying both warm and cold water in necessary; if an upset stomach sets off the hiccups, take a teaspoonful of baking soda in water; breathe in and out into a paper bag, so that the carbon dioxide level in the blood is raised.

The important thing in stopping the hiccups is to relax, and any prudent thing that helps the subject relax and gets his mind off the hiccups may be helpful.

There are occasional cases in medical history of individuals whose hiccups have persisted for hours or days. If hiccups don't go away after a reasonable period, say, an hour or two, call your doctor.

Tips On Taxes

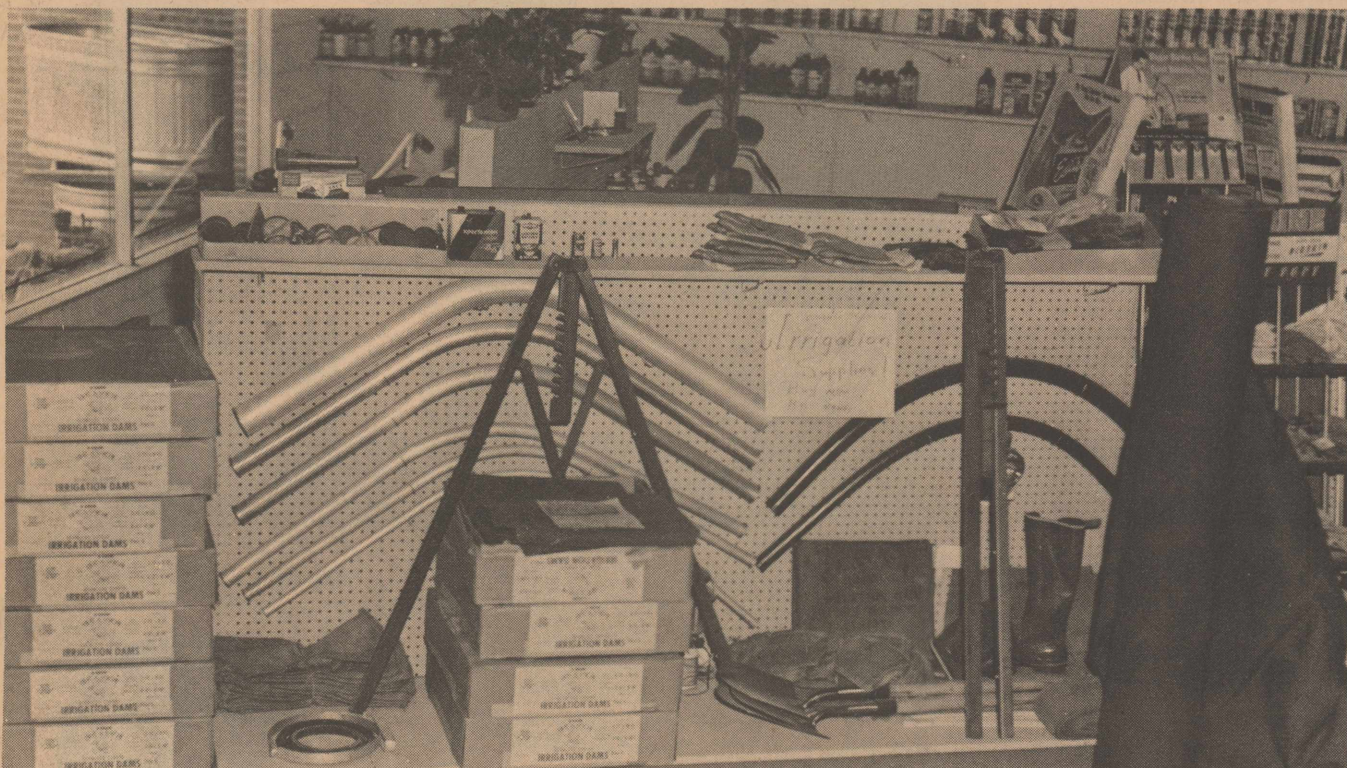

The preparation of income tax returns requires that you do a little thinking, a little reading of rules, and a little searching for the books and records you should have been keeping during the taxable year. This is the first in a series of articles designed to assist you in accomplishing your task.

Generally, you must file an income tax return if you receive gross income of $600 or more during a calendar year. However, if you have reached 65 years-of-age by the end of the calendar year for which you are filing your return, you need not file a return unless you received over $1,200 in gross income. These rules apply whether you are married or single, a minor or an adult.

Gross income refers to all amounts which you received for work you perform and also includes income and profits which you received from the investment and sale of property or savings. Income from savings includes interest credited to

Casualty And Theft Loss May Be Tax Deductible

Casualty and theft losses may be deducted on federal income tax returns under certain conditions, John J. Sloan, administrative officer Internal Revenue Service, Lubbock, said today.

Deductible casualty losses, he said, include losses of property resulting from storm, flood, hurricane, auto accident, fire, or similar event.

Deductible theft losses, he said, include losses of money or other personal property due to theft in the year of discovery, but not those resulting from losing or mislaying articles.

He continued: "A deductible casualty loss can result from complete or partial destruction of the taxpayer's property; generally speaking, it must result from an identifiable event of a sudden, unexpected, or unusual nature, such as a hurricane, flood, or fire.

"Damage to your own car resulting from a collision or accident can be deducted if not due to your willful negligence or willful act. You cannot deduct amounts you pay for damage to another car with which you collided.

"On personal or nonbusiness property, the amount of the loss is computed by comparing the decrease in the fair market value with the adjusted basis. The loss you have sustained for tax purposes is the lesser of these amounts. From this amount you must subtract the insurance or other compensation which you receive or expect to receive. The amount which is left is the amount you may deduct as a nonbusiness casualty loss.

"Some of the loss items for which you cannot claim a deduction are personal injury to yourself or another person; accidental loss of cash or other personal property; damage due to rust or gradual erosion; and property lost in storage, or in transit."

Taxpayers with additional questions on this subject may get free Publication No. 5174, "Casualties, Thefts, Condemnations," by contacting the Internal Revenue Service.

Price, spice and everything nice!

Who ever thought a car that saves like this could have so much sizzle? Chevrolet engineers, that's who! Liveliness and luxury for a low, low price were exactly what they had in mind to begin with. And they began from scratch with a whole carload of ingenious new ideas designed to give you more for your money. That spunky 6 with gas-sipping stinginess is just one example. Another: a new unitized Body by Fisher that's fit for a full-size family inside, easy to park outside. Still another: tough but gentle one-piece Mono-Plate rear springs that outdo many a bigger car for quiet comfort. Any wonder Chevy II won Car Life magazine's 1962 Engineering Excellence award hands down? Heritage Program Wins George Washington Medal

PLAINVIEW-- The Plains American Heritage Studies Program in which Olton and Hart public schools have taken part the last two years, has won a George Washington Honor Medal in the College Campus Category from the Freedom Foundation, Valley Forge, Penn.

Dr. A. Hope Owen, president of Wayland Baptist College, Plainview, which coordinates the American studies program, has been notified that award ceremonies will be arranged in the area in the near future. This is the third medal awarded to Wayland by the Foundation.

The medal this year was awarded for the heritage program, now in its third year, which "emphasizes citizenship to some 13,000 public school students and teachers, some 650 county faculty and uncounted hundreds of parents" in Plainview, Hale Center, Cotton Center, Abernathy, Petersburg, Olton, Hart, Dimmitt, Kress, Lockney and Tulla.

Olton residents who have been representing Olton public school at meetings this year have been Robert L. Nickerson, Pat Blessing, C.L. Curry, Mrs. Wandie Hutson, Joe L. Turner, E.J. McKnight and Miss Sandra Meadows. From Hart, representatives have been Malcolm Atwood and Paul L. Kennedy.

Next meeting of the group will be at 6:30 p.m. March 12 at Estacado Junior High School in Plainview. Each school is asked to bring the top five junior high school projects, senior high school posters and essays for judging, according to Dr. John G. Chapman, head of the Wayland history department and director of the program.

After the dinner session, each school's entries will be rated, first, second and third by teachers from another school. Winners will be awarded at the annual Awards Banquet April 10 when approximately 300 persons are expected to attend the climax of the year's work.

"It is important that each school be represented at the March meeting," stresses Dr. Chapman. "Wayland encourages all schools to have entries in all three of these contests to promote the study of American history and to provide a challenge to the students to understand and preserve the rich heritage of this republic."

Wayland placed second in the nation in the campus category in 1956, winning a medal and $200 in cash for the program of "Christian education stressing the intergradation of foreign background students and their strong indoctrination in the American Way of Life."

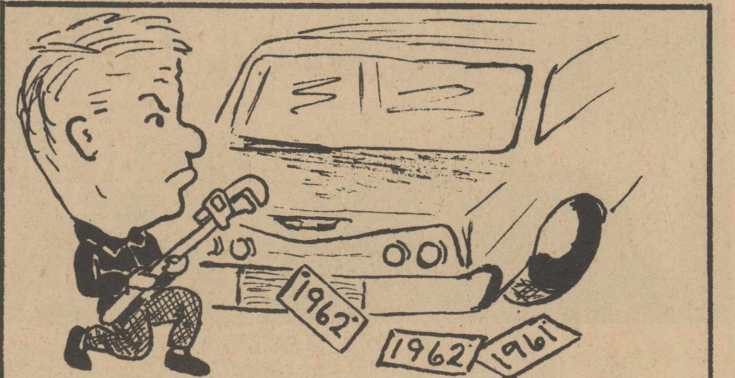

The award led to the citizenship awards for a senior man and woman who are recognized at an annual program and have their names placed on a plaque.

In 1960 an editorial entitled "Privilege and Responsibility" written for the Trail Blazer, campus newspaper, by Charles Arrendell. Houston, was given a second place and an honor medal.

In 1961 Mr. and Mrs. J.M. Willson, Floydada, nominated by Wayland, received the Leadership Award for their gifts of endowed lectureships to some 23 colleges, schools and Methodist assemblies. They are the first couple to receive the award.

Awards are given annually to colleges for special programs and to individuals who write essays, deliver patriotic speeches, write editorials, undertake spiritual values programs or in some way emphasize the American Way of Life. The non-profit, non-secular, non-political group has been organized for 13 years.

... WITH Peerless Pumps
YOU CAN REBUILD YOUR PUMP
TO THROW a full pipe
of water

Whatever the make of your present vertical turbine pump, your Peerless Dealer has the right motor and bowl combination for your pump and well. He has a plan to give a full pipe of water*. Think of all the advantages of this "Peerless Plan for Plenty" ... you'll enjoy lower energy costs, less irrigation time, and less plant wilt in hot spells when you need a fast irrigation.

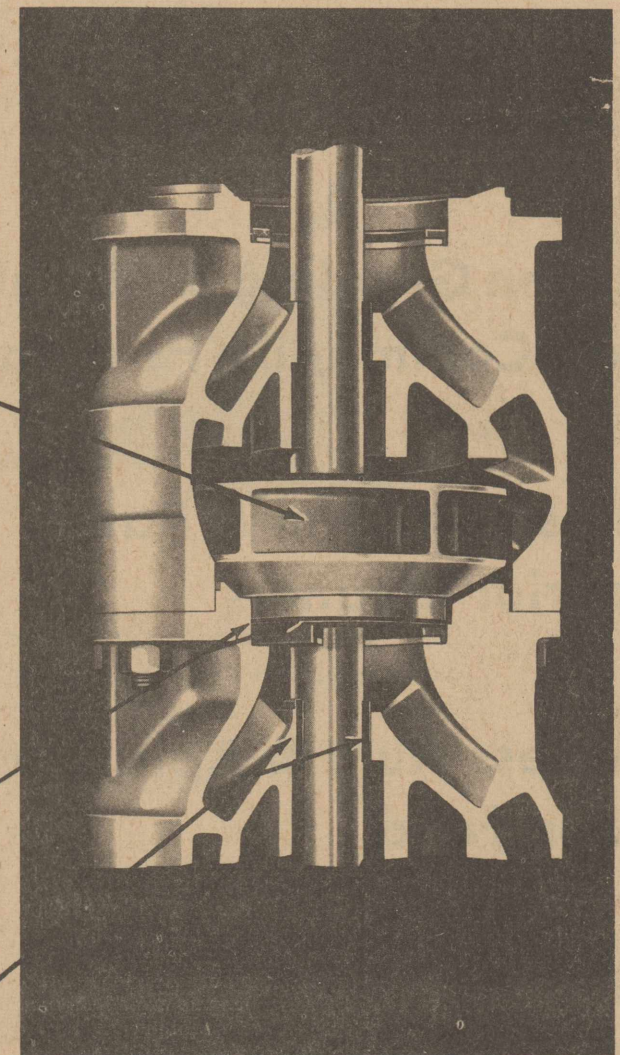

PEERLESS PUMP BOWLS ARE YOUR BEST BUY

Here's Why

Peerless Pump
Hydrodynamics Division
Food Machinery and Chemical Corporation
301 West Avenue 26, Los Angeles, California

- Peerless Impellers are fully enclosed making the impeller less subject to wear. Bronze, Cast-Iron, or vitreous enameled impellers are available (your option at no extra cost). The basic Peerless enclosed impeller design makes possible the double seal ... for higher efficiencies, reduced operating costs, and longer pump life.
- Double Seal is a feature in the Peerless Bowl to seal the Peerless impeller on the bottom ... as well as on the sides. When impellers are lowered to compensate for normal wear by use of the adjusting nut under the motor helmet, the rubber end-seals "wear-in" to the impeller ... again forming a seal to minimize "short-circuit" water loss. This single feature will increase water delivery again and again ... over the life of the pump.
- Bowls and Bearings are the heart of a turbine pump. It's important that these vital parts are well lubricated. All Peerless turbine pump bowls and bearings receive instant lubrication by the water being pumped for more dependability ... and less wear.

*providing adequate well production is available

For better values in pumps ... more water, and reduced irrigating time

Cigarette Consumption Is Up In Lamb County

As a whole, Lamb County residents do not frighten easily. Especially when it comes to smoking.

The latest tabulation shows that local people are puffing away at a record rate, notwithstanding the mass of reports from medical and health organizations to the effect that there is a relationship between cigarette smoking and ailments of the heart and lungs.

During the past year, some 2,466,000 packs of cigarettes were smoked locally, well over the 1960 total.

The count is based upon national data released by the Department of Agriculture and upon regional sales figures issued by the tobacco industry.

In terms of the local population of age 14 and up, it was equivalent to 163 packs smoked a year per person.

Throughout the rest of the United States, the average was 194 packs per person among the 14-plus group. It was 158 packs per capita in the West South Central States.

In some parts of the country, the figures show, people smoke much more heavily than in others. Residents of Utah, for example, consume only a third the quantity that District of Columbia residents do. The D. C. rate is nearly 220 packs per person.

The Agriculture Department report shows that more than 490 billion cigarettes were consumed domestically in 1961. The increase over 1960 was 4.2 percent.

The use of tobacco is other forms also rose. Sales of cigars reached 7.2 billion units, sales of smoking tobacco, 75 million pounds, of chewing tobacco, 65 million pounds, and of snuff, 34 million pounds.

Some of the increase in cigarette smoking is attributed to the rise in population. The rest, to a great extent, was due to the fact that incomes in general were higher and, therefore, more was spent for cigarettes.

How much do residents of Lamb County spend per year on this little pastime? Approximately $47 per smoker, it is estimated. For the local smoking community as a whole, it totals $732,000.

Nationally, the expenditure last year was $6.9 billion, of which $3.1 billion was for Federal, state and local taxes.

NO NEED FOR CONTINUOUS ADVERTISING?

TRAFFIC LIGHTS - Should be turned off at dangerous intersections to save electricity. Everyone knows it's a dangerous spot and that is sufficient.

TEACHERS - No need to review lessons. Tell the children just once and they'll never forget.

HIGHWAY POLICE -- Stop driving up and down the highways. No need to caution drivers by patrolling highways. Drivers know the law and should obey.

OUT OF TOWNERS - That advertise in the local paper and mail order firms that send catalogues are wasting their money. Everyone knows what is sold at stores in town and they'll shop at home.

BUT - If you are one of the foolish kind, like the Notre Dame Cathedral that has stood for six centuries but still rings the bell everyday just to let people know it is there, and believe in continuous advertising, then you will advertise in the . . .

Estate Division Explained

The death of an intestate person (one who has made no will) may give rise to many problems regarding distribution of his separate estate. In the preceding column we investigated the manner of dividing the community estate upon the death of a husband or wife. Now we shall see that, where separate property is involved, a completely different set of rules applies in determining heirship and apportioning the estate among the rightful claimants.

It may be well to recall that the separate estate of a husband or wife includes property owned by either before marriage, and that which is acquired after marriage by gift or inheritance. Any other property acquired after marriage is presumed by law to be community property until the contrary is clearly proved.

Now, here is a general idea as to how your separate property will be divided if you do not make a will with contrary provisions prior to your death. If your husband or wife survives and if, in addition, there are surviving children or descendants of previously deceased children, the children and their descendants immediately obtain a full (fee) title in two-thirds of the real estate involved. The surviving spouse received a life interest in the remaining one-third of the property, which passes on to

Educational Expense May Be Tax Deductible Item

Under one of two conditions, direct costs of education and necessary expenses for travel, meals and lodging while taking educational courses away from home overnight are deductible on that 1961 federal income tax return. John J. Sloan, Administrative Officer, Internal Revenue Service, Lubbock, revealed the two conditions:

(1) If the education was undertaken primarily to maintain or improve the skills of a taxpayer required in the performance of his employment duties when the education expense was incurred; or

(2) If the education was undertaken primarily to meet the express requirements of a taxpayer's employer, or the requirements of applicable law or regulations imposed as a condition for retaining the taxpayer's present employment, salary, or position.

The IRS representative added: "You may NOT deduct expenses for education if the primary purpose for which the education was undertaken was any of the following:

(1) To obtain a new position or a substantial advancement in your position,

(2) To fulfill your general educational aspirations or any other personal purpose,

(3) To meet the minimum requirements for qualification or establishment of your intended trade, business, or specialty.

the children and their descendants upon the death of the spouse. The rule for distributing personal property—cash, stocks, bonds, furniture, or any other items not constituting real estate—is different. Here the surviving spouse gets full ownership of one-third, and the children and their descendants inherit the balance.

Now suppose your husband or wife survives, but there are no surviving children or their descendants. In this case the surviving spouse inherits all of the personal property involved. With regard to real estate, the survivor obtains full title to one-half, and the other half is divided between your mother and father, if both survive you. If only one of them survives, he or she received only half of this portion, and the other half (or one-fourth of the entire real estate) will be divided among your brothers and sisters (and their descendants) who survive. If there are no surviving brothers and sisters and their descendants, then the one surviving parent inherits the full one-half.

Where no parent survives, but there are brothers and sisters and descendants, the full one-half is divided among these survivors. And, if there are no parents or brothers and sisters (and their descendants) surviving, then the surviving husband or wife inherits all of the real estate.

Bounty System Questioned

COLLEGE STATION — Many Texas counties are still using the bounty system in an attempt to control predators. Ed Cooper, extension wildlife specialist, says there is good evidence that this system is ineffective.

Under the bounty systems, the county or perhaps a livestock association, offers a reward for killing animals which occasionally prey on livestock or crops, or otherwise create a problem. The reward ranges from as little as 10 cents per head for crows to as much as $75 for large animals such as wolves or coyotes.

Although nearly every wild animal has some definite positive values, control is sometimes necessary. The bounty system is not the way, however, says Cooper.

There are few, if any, recorded instances where the offering of a bounty reduced predator numbers to the point where the problem no longer existed. This in itself should discourage perpetuation of the bounty system.

Another weakness of the system is that dishonest practices usually occur. For example, people have been known to bring in coyotes killed in other counties to collect the bounty, and there is no way of disproving their claim. There are known cases where dog ears have been substituted for coyote or wolf ears where bounties are paid on the scalp alone. Another scheme which worked involved an individual who repeatedly retrieved the same scalp from the court house garbage cans and received payment several times. Another operator actually operated a coyote kennel where the animals were raised and then presented for bounty payment. About all that can be said in favor of the bounty system is that people feel that something is being done about the predator problem, says Cooper.

The Texas Predator and Rodent Control Service employs professional trappers who can do effective predator control work. This program involves a cooperative effort between the federal, state and local government or organization, explains Cooper.

Running Water Draw Plan Explained To Chamber

An explanation of the proposed Running Water Draw project topped activity at a regular meeting of the Olton Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture board here Tuesday morning.

C-CA Manager Dick Whiteley told the board the project when completed, would give the Olton area a "pretty good-sized lake."

The conservation project calls for a series of dams to prevent flooding of the normally dry stream in times of excessive rain.

The dams would impound water that would be used for irrigation and the sites would provide recreational advantages.

"The Chamber and the community of Olton would be expected to help on easements and publicity," Whiteley explained.

The project involves 250,000 acres in Texas and 110,000 in New Mexico.

Plans for the watershed operation received a favorable report as to feasibility recently from a preliminary survey team from the State Soil Conservation Board.

Co-sponsors of the project would be Lamb, Hale, Castro, Parmer and Swisher counties. One of the structures would be northeast of Olton.

Running Water Draw watershed, the upper watershed of the White River, starts in New Mexico and comes to Plainview in one branch.

Under Public Law 566, the federal government would pay all construction costs and establishment of the structure.

Easements and maintenance of the structures must be provided locally. Maintenance of the structures must be provided locally. Maintenance is estimated at approximately $250 per year per structure.

Plans call for keeping from 40 to 80 acres under water at each dam. Other than the structure in Lamb County, three are planned for Parmer County, two for Castro County, three for Hale County and three in New Mexico.

The project would cost an estimated $2.5 million.
