

Men Who Do
When I look at history I see it as man's attempt to solve the practical problem of living. The men who did most to solve it were not those who thought about it or talked about it or impressed their contemporaries, but those who silently and efficiently got on with their work.—J. B. S. Haldane.

ALKALIZE
I'LL NEVER GO TO DINNER WITH A BOY AGAIN UNLESS I HAVE SOME PHILLIPS' TABLETS IN MY PURSE

Often "acid indigestion" is distressing to you—and offensive to others. But now there is no excuse for being guilty.

You simply carry your alkaliizer with you—and use it at the first sign of "upset" stomach. Simply take two tiny tablets of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia when out with others. Or—if at home—you can take two teaspoons of liquid Phillips'. Both act the same way.

Relief is usually a matter of seconds. "Gas," nausea, "heart-burn," acid breath—all respond quickly. Just make sure you ask for "Phillips'."

Sentinels of Health
Don't Neglect Them!
Nature designed the kidneys to do a marvelous job. Their task is to keep the flowing blood stream free of an excess of toxic impurities. The secret of living—life itself—is constantly producing waste matter the kidneys must remove from the blood if good health is to endure. When the kidneys fail to function as Nature intended, there is retention of waste that may cause body-wide distress. One may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feet tired, nervous, all worn out. Frequent, scanty or burning passages may be further evidence of kidney or bladder disturbance. The recognized and proper treatment is a diuretic medicine to help the kidneys get rid of excess poisonous body waste. Use Doan's Pills. They have had more than forty years of public approval. Are endorsed the country over. Inset on Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.

Push Gobbler as National Bird

Los Angeles, Calif.—The American eagle will have to give up his job to the turkey gobbler, if the Northwestern Turkey Growers association gets its way. Senators and congressmen of 14 states were asked to make the turkey the national bird at the next session of congress. It was argued that the turkey, besides being the symbol of Thanksgiving, is native to America. Misses Edith Lawrence (left) and Pat Gergen are pictured above showing how the turkey would look in the eagle's place against the American shield.

Ye Council Eats Right Well After Ye Slick Barter

Deer Is Thanksgiving Meal and Indian Is Goat.

IF AMERICANS this Thanksgiving are well able to appease both their consciences and their appetites, their moral dexterity is no better than that of their forebears on the town council at Danvers, Mass., in the year 1714. Venison, rather than turkey, made up the piece de resistance on a Thanksgiving feast there, but religious complications arose, as recorded by Rev. Lawrence Conant, of that city:

"After ye blessing was craved by Mr. Garrich of Wrentham, word came that ye buck was shot on ye

Mr. Shepard's conscience was tender, and so was poor Pequot's back. Lord's day by Pequot, an Indian, who came to Mr. Epes with a lye in his mouth like Ananias of old. "Ye council therefore refused to eat ye venison, but it was afterward decided that Pequot should receive forty stripes save one, for lying and profaning ye Lord's day, restore Mr. Epes ye cost of ye deer, and considering this a just and rightful sentence on ye heathen, and that a blessing had been craved on ye meat, ye council all partook of it but Mr. Shepard, whose conscience was tender on ye point of ye venison."

In nearby Boston a few years later the arrival of autumn with its storing of the winter supply of salt pork brought mingled thanksgiving and chagrin to a boy named Benjamin Franklin, who often became restless during the long graces which accompanied Massachusetts meals. So one day after the pork had been dutifully stored away, he suggested that if his father would only "say grace over the whole cask, once for all, it would be a vast saving of time."

Bear meat is no longer generally available for the Thanksgiving dinner.

In the latter half of the same century, whenever a feast was in order in the back country of Virginia and the Carolinas, young Daniel Boone or some other hunter would go out to find venison or bear meat to mix with pork in the habitual "great stew" of such a celebration. With it were served roast pork or bear or broiled venison.

Bear and venison are no longer generally available for the Thanksgiving dinner, but turkey is still one of its mainstays.

SAGA OF SILK

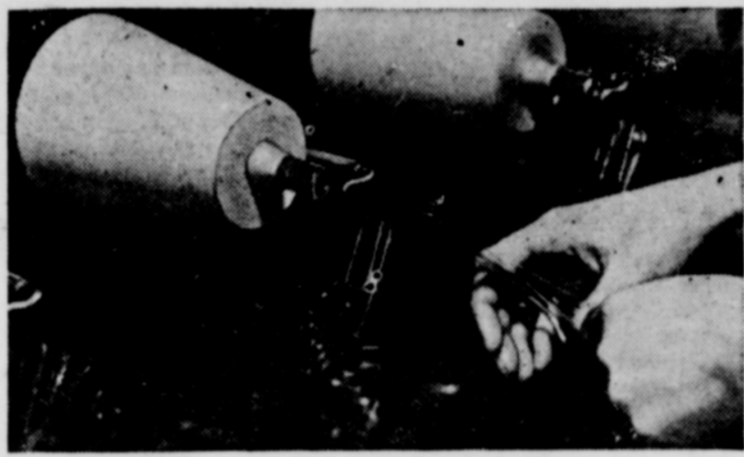

Lowly Worm Achieves Its Moment of Glamor in PICTURE PARADE

Not a pretty thing itself, the silkworm contributes to the world's beauty by spinning the raw silk for stockings to clothe lovely legs like those of June Claire, above. Below, the Picture Parade marches through a silk stocking factory.

Raw silk, as spun by the worm, arrives in American factories from abroad, braided as are little girls' curls. It is unraveled from the tight, individual bundles and once more becomes lengthy strands.

Long strands of raw silk are woven by machinery into single strands; these, in turn, are wound on bobbins, ready for the weaving machine.

Almost magically, the strands on the bobbins of the machine operated by the man and woman above turn into flat, woven silk. Coming out of the machine, they are the exact size of the finished stocking. The stocking is folded and sewed, heel and toe sewed on separately.

A queer sight are the metal driers which shape the stockings.

A Thanksgiving Prayer

For what we have, though small it be,
We thank thee, Lord.
For the simple joys of serenity,
We thank thee, Lord.
For the gentle touch of the friendly hand
Of those who love and understand,
We thank thee, Lord.

Of all thy gifts the greatest three
Are friendship, love and fidelity.
Let others pray for the harvest's yields,
For the golden grains of the fruitful fields,
Humbly our prayer to thee we send
That when we've reached our journey's end,
Someone may say, "Farewell, good friend."

NOBODY'S BUSINESS

BY JULIAN CAPERS, JR.
Special Correspondent

Austin.—Gathering momentum of public opinion in many sections of Texas may blow the lid off of one of the most bitterley controversial questions in Texas's history, namely the land vacancy problem. The vacancy question has been a recurrent issue ever since the discovery of oil in Texas, and extension of oil production into new sections has brought it into the fore again during the past few months, notably in the Texas Gulf coast area, including Polk, Matagordi, Chambers and adjoining counties.

The controversy arises from the fact that surveys of public lands in Texas in the early days were frequently rough and inaccurate. When school lands were sold off, a buyer sometimes would pay for 160 acres, but as the result of an inaccurate survey would fence and farm an extra 15 acres. The land had so little value that it was not worth the cost of a re-survey. But discovery of oil under much of this former public land made it very valuable for the mineral rights, and "vacancy hunters", men who looked up the field notes in the State Land Office, and had it re-surveyed to find these surplus or "vacancy" tracts, came into being. The discoverer of such a vacancy has the right under the law to file claim to the mineral rights, giving the state a part of the royalty, and retaining the major part of the mineral rights, at a nominal cost. The occupant of the land has a preferred claim to the surface rights only. But the oil or gas under the ground is where the real wealth lies.

FARMERS ARE BITTER
In some of the South Texas cases, the land has been farmed and occupied for 100 years by the families now occupying it. They have never known that the land they had under fence and under cultivation was not actually part of their farms. Thus, when oil is discovered, and they have an opportunity to realize substantial wealth from sale of leases or royalty, they naturally are resentful when strangers invade the community, file "vacancy" suits in the name of the State, with the Attorney General representing them, and take away the mineral rights.

On the other side of the question, is the claim in behalf of the State and its school funds, that because an error was made in the surveys years ago, there is no valid reason why the error should be perpetuated and the land, to which buyers were never entitled, should revert to those occupying it in error. The law at present provides that vacancy suits may be tried either in the county where the land is located or in Austin, and it is claimed this works an extra hardship upon the claimants, as the Attorney General usually elects to try the cases in Austin.

LEGISLATURE ACTS

The special session took cognizance of the situation, when the Senate adopted a resolution requesting the Attorney General to try some 200 suits recently filed in Polk County, rather than in Austin. In the House, Rep. Geo. Davison, of Eastland, offered a resolution commending the Land Commissioner and the Attorney General for bringing the Polk County suits. The House defeated the resolution overwhelmingly, and Davison drew caustic criticism, because of his well known personal friendship for Land Commissioner Bill McDonald, who is a former county official from Eastland County. Typical comments on the floor during debate on Davison's resolution were W. E. Jones, of Jourdanton: "These vacancy hunters who say they're trying to do something for the schools don't give a damn about the school children. They are just engaging in on the rottenest most slimy, most putrid disgrace in the State."

B. E. Quin of Beaumont: "I understand that Davison has opened a law office here in Austin. I also understand he has several relatives on the payroll of the land commissioner. He's just getting ready to represent some of the land grabbers before the Land Commissioner."

Coke Stevenson of Junction, former speaker, led a memorable fight against vacancy hunters in the Legislature several years ago, and several members have indicated that efforts will be made at the next regular session to enact some reforms that will restrict the activity of the vacancy hunters and better protect the rights of those who believe they have legal title to disputed lands.

PENSION SITUATION IN DOUBT

Gov. Allred washed his hands of responsibility for pension cuts, if they develop, and this week was in Mexico on a hunting trip, leaving Lt. Gov. Walter Woodul to act as chief executive. Woodul also left the State to give Senator Ben O'Neal of Wichita Falls a chance to be governor for a day. Meanwhile, W. A. Little, acting pension director, insisted there would have to be a reduction of 5,000 in the 114,000 pension roll in December, and another 5,000 cut in January. Members of the Board of Control, which administers the Pension system, however this inferentially, declaring no orders had been issued for a reduction of rolls, and that there is every indication pension payments averaging $14 would continue.

Congressman, Garrett Issues Statement

Congressman Clyde L. Garrett issued the following statement today relative to the forthcoming session of Congress. It is with pleasure that we present it to our readers: "Last week I closed my office in Eastland preparatory to returning to my duties in Washington. In a statement made before the adjournment of Congress on August 21 I said that I would gladly remain there, or return in the special session if the President saw fit to callone, if I thought that some form of farm legislation could be enacted which would save the heavy loss that threatened our farmers. Our great leaders felt that it was best for adjournment to take place and that then we could come back if necessary after the situation had begun to crystalize.

The president has called us to return to Washington on a program embracing the following: Wages and hours legislation, reorganization of the federal departments, organization of sectional power and flood control units, and crop control legislation. Most of my time since I have been in the district has been taken up with some litigation arising from the campaign of last year. I had to devote many long hours for the first few weeks preparing for the trial and then was in Abilene for two weeks in its hearing. It had been my plan to visit with many of our people during the time I was here but since so much time was consumed in this litigation my chance to see you and learn your problems and desires has been very limited. In the time at my disposal I have tried to see as many as I could and find out from your collective thinking just what the people of this district wanted done in this hour of their own crisis. Those whom I have contacted have been very frank in their avowals and have given me much light on what they think will work for the best interest of all the people and which I deeply appreciate. With their thoughts before me and their problems clearly set out I am not afraid to face the task for in the collective thinking of even those whom I have been able to see and talk with I believe I have a very fine cross section of the opinion of our people.

The war situation is about the most absorbing topic of the day. I said when I presented myself to your consideration last year that I was opposed to war in any form and would not vote to send any of our boys over seas to fight a gain. I still am of the same opinion and do not think there is any need for us to get mixed up in a foreign war if the neutrality laws are enforced as Congress intended them to be. We do it if we do not go seeking it by meddling in other nations affairs. To keep out of war at this time will be far cheaper and mean more for the future than to fight a winning fight and spend millions of lives and billions of treasure.

I believe that there should be some means devised to increase the income of our people and unless something better is found in a very short time there is going to be a minimum wage and maximum hours law passed. I believe that seasonal labor, such as agricultural work and processing, continuous process work such as oil field work and emergency work should be exempt from too rigorous a law of this kind. I do not think that a federal board should have the power that it is proposed to invest them with in the present bill but I am of the opinion that it should be a flexible law with the courts being the ones to handle the issues on the basis of right and wrong and not on the inflexibles of the rulings of a board of five men. However, a large part of the need for the law will be obviated when and if business continues to improve and the wage earners of the nation once more become busy with their tasks.

I am in favor of the abolition of many boards, bureaus and commissions within the departments of the government. However, I am not in favor of surrendering any of the prerogatives of the government to any group who will have the last word to say on such changes. It should be done by laws enacted by Congress and done in the open after full and complete public hearings.

I believe that there should be a comprehensive and complete flood control plan worked out by Congress. By the use of dams and flood by-ways and other means there should be some manner whereby the huge floods of the past can be prevented. Then if power comes as a by-product of such work that power should be used for the development of industry to the fullest. However flood control should be the primary purpose with irrigation as a second consideration and power with its wrangling and bitterness of the past should be the very minor consideration. Water should be controlled to keep down its destructive agency and then put back on the land for the enrichment of the soil and the prosperity of the land owner or user.

I am in favor of some crop control measure which will insure the farm the maximum price for the crop which will be produce. If this be through the debenture plan or the domestic allotment plan then I am for it. I do not believe that the land should be abandoned nor the farmers forced from it by curtailment of production. We once controlled the world market on cotton and wheat. We can do so again if we will use one or the other of the plans above and insure our farmers that the crop they raise will bring them an income commensurate with their efforts. Then put the surplus on the world market to bring the world price.

I expect to leave Eastland soon and will be in Washington and if you have thoughts along these or any other lines that might be of help to me in helping you solve your problems feel free to write them to me. They might be the force that would turn the tide for the very thing which would benefit all of us to the greatest extent.

County Agent's Column

By Ross B. Jenkins, County Agt.

1938 PROGRAM ANNOUNCEMENT

Preliminary announcements for the 1938 A. A. A. Range Program state that practically the same practices as carried out in 1937 will be followed.

In 1937 the payments were based on the number of animal units and paid $1.50 for each, but for 1938 a payment of 3 cents per acre will be allowed for all range land plus 75 cents per animal unit. Looking through some of the applications on file it seems that this will be about 80 per cent of the amount allowed for the 1937 program. In Callahan it was estimated that the land would average around 10 cents per acre. The same calculation for 1937 would indicate about 8 cents allowance per acre.

B. L. BOYDSTUN RECOMMENDS WATSON MEBANE

Mr. B. L. Boydston of Baird, well known ginnet, cotton buyer, and hardware merchant, told the county agent that he would like to be listed as one of those men who is extremely interested in growing a longer length, better maturing cotton in Callahan. He said his experience warrants him to say that Watson Bros. Mebane will do the job for this county better than any other variety. So interested is he in the "one variety cotton community" that he said he would lend every resource that he had to any communities that would be interested in planting this Mebane the coming year. He stated he would help get the most acceptable prices for the seed and help farmers to find ways of financing same if that need arose. Mr. Boydston said that not only did he believe that Watson's Mebane was the best cotton for this section but in talking to men in the oil mill business recently at Fort Worth that they, too, said this seed made a better yield, longer staple and the quality of the seed was better. The county agent is interested extremely in seeing farmers get good seed for the coming year but as a member of the Extension Service would never recommend any one variety over another because too many men have found to their own experience that certain varieties suit their sections better than others but the county agent does believe that each community should plant one variety of good proven, high quality, long staple cotton and thereby help bring back to the fields of Texas that type of cotton that is wanted by the foreign trade.

The Rest Of The Record

A few of the big daily papers and Senator Shivers of PortArthur have criticised me because I said over the radio that unless the Legislature provided revenues, pension payments would be stopped after November 1st. Now that the Board of Control has announced that payments will be made at least for the next two months these papers and this Senator are trying to make it appear that I misrepresented things.

If they wanted to be fair they would tell the people that before I made my radio speech the State Board of Control which handles pensions, made a written statement to the Legislature that payments would be stopped unless the Legislature provided money. These papers and this Senator know that I relied upon the statement of the Board of Control in making my appeal for aid.

But in any event it doesn't make much difference who made the statement first. The rest of the record is this:

For over a year now the Board of Control has owed $1,626,000 to Dallas banks on warrants issued before the tax bills went into effect. I told the Legislature last January this would have to be paid. No provision was made for it. I told the Legislature again during the special session that this should be paid. Nothing was done about it. Meantime, however, the Dallas bank had been demanding its money and the Board of Control had agreed to pay it. They told the bank pestively that they would take care of it if the Legislature didn't at the special session. This was the reason they issued the statement that payments would be stopped unless the Legislature provided more money. Now the Legislature didn't make provision for paying this money which simply meant that if the bank continued to insist upon its money then the Board of Control would have to cut payments out completely for at least two months, just as they said they would. However the Board has prevailed upon them to accept payments of $100,000 a month for November and December so that they can go ahead and make November and December payments. They are to work out other arrangements for paying the balance to the bank about January 1st.

Naturally I am pleased to know that according to the Board of Control's statement old age assistance can go on through the next two months. One member of the Board of Control, Mr. John Wallace, testified that payments not be stopped at all and there would be no reduction of the rolls. I had been hearing that they were going to cut off several thousand, and was not surprised yesterday when Mr. Little testified before a legislative committee that this was inevitable since the Legislature had failed to provide more money.

Whether the board pays the debt of $1,626,000 to the banks in installments or all at once, any school boy could figure out the board has got to cut the rolls or cut the average of $14 per month. For that reason I regret the ray of false hope which has been held out to the old people when the day of reckoning is inevitable. I am opposed to dropping any more needy aged from the rolls. I think that many of the so-called border line cases should be put on the rolls rather than lopping them off, particularly during the coming weeks when winter will be setting in. The present $14 a month payment is not enough for a pension especially with the added suffering that will result from the winter months.

Another angle of suffering is the relief problem which is linked with that of old age assistance. The aged needy who are dropped from the rolls must be cared for by someone. If they turn to the relief rolls for help, they will find the lines swollen by an estimated 325,000 people. This figure according to the relief administrator compares unfavorably with the lesser number of 166,779 last January when public works projects removed many from indigent rolls.

Neither the state nor federal governments are able to supply money for direct aid but only relief in the form of surplus foodstuffs and some clothing. With the suffering of the aged people added to that of those unfortunate without employment, it is obvious the cry of the destitute will be heard over Texas in the midst of the rainy cold winter months.

With these will be the needy blind and destitute children left holding an empty bag by the Legislature.

When this situation comes to pass the question "Why?" will be on the lips of every citizen. That question will be directed at the corporation senators—Holbrook and company—whose job of scuttling the social security financing program cost the state a $200,000 session but saved the wealthy natural resources groups from shouldering a humanitarian burden.

Their attitude "Am I my brother's keeper?" will be the target for those needy unfortunates whose faith was not kept.

Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Price and Jimmie Maltby, Admiral were in Baird yesterday Mr. Maltby is recovering from his recent severe illness.

Fred E. Allyn of Trent, Texas was a visitor in the home of Ross B. Jenkins Wednesday evening at which time he discussed with his former teacher plans for entering Texas A. & M. College at the next semester.

Mrs. B. Page of Wichita Falls has been at the bedside of her mother, Mrs. W. J. Milliron who has been seriously ill at her home south of Clyde. Mrs. Page is the former Lettie Milliron.

Mrs. Eva Whalen of Wink, spent the past weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Mullican. Mr. Mullican accompanied her home for a short visit.

Misses Adelle Bockman and Ruth Weathers of Baird spent the weekend at Eula.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jones of Fort Worth are visiting Mr. Jones mother Mrs. Dock Jones. Frank is slowly recovering from serious injuries received when he fell from a car while switching in the T and P Ry yards in Fort Worth some weeks ago.

Larmer Henry and son Billie Henry, Everette Williams, and Bill Hatchett returned Wednesday night from Marfa and Balmorhea. Billie brought home a six point buck which he killed on the Joe Kingston ranch west of Balmorhea, in the Davis Mountains. This was Billie's first hunting trip for deer and he counts himself quite lucky. He says there are lots of deer on the Kingston ranch.

Mr. Allyn graduated at the Trent High School in 1932 during the time that Mr. Jenkins was the superintendent there. This is a case of like teacher like student. Mr. Jenkins retired from the teaching profession in 1932, after having been superintendent at Trent for 3 years, and re-entered Texas A. & M. College from which he graduated in 1933. Five years later one of his last graduates decided to also become a student of A & M and to graduate with the class of 1940-'41. He was a junior at Clyde in 1939-'31. His father was depot agent

Thanks to Electric Servants
Thanksgiving
is now
a Woman's Holiday too!

If our service to you during this last year has been instrumental in providing more leisure, more pleasure, and greater happiness, then this Thanksgiving Day is occasion for us to give sincere thanks. Like many of you, we have "grown up" right here in West Texas. This is our twentieth Thanksgiving. So we can remember when the turkey season meant a holiday for every one except Mother. The Thanksgiving dinner was a long, tedious task for her... many hours in the kitchen before a hot, odoriferous stove. And there were scads of dishes to wash when it was over. This burden on her is no longer necessary, we're happy to recall. The trend toward the all-electric kitchen means complete emancipation for women. Out of this freedom is born the Neoelectress—a modern home-maker alert to this new electric age. The vista of a more glamorous future than pots and pans has become a reality, whether it be Thanksgiving or just another day. If you have not yet electrified your kitchen, we suggest that you investigate the economy of Electric Servants ere another holiday rolls around. They have made Thanksgiving a vastly happier day for many of your neighbors... and we are glad!

"I Saw It in the News Review"

is a common expression among those who keep well informed on current events. They know that in the "Weekly News Review," which appears regularly in this paper, they obtain a comprehensive interpretation of world events written by Edward W. Pickard, one of the nation's most widely-known news commentators.

Weekly News Review deals with the important happenings and their effect upon our country. It is more than news—it is an interpretation of the news, and therefore much more valuable to the person who wants to understand what is going on in the world today.

Read it carefully from week to week. You will find it interesting and helpful in your discussion of world events with your neighbors and friends.

THE NEW CARS

Each year it seems impossible that the American automobile can be much improved, but the new models always offer something added in the way of performance, comfort, and safety; the cars for 1938 are no exception to the rule; truly they are marvels of the engineering art.

The Humble Company, with its policy of continuous improvement, greets the new cars with motor fuels and motor oils ready for their use. In the new 1938 models, as in those for many years past, Humble motor fuels and Humble motor oils will deliver full performance. . . . We invite you to test this statement: Stop at a Humble service station or at a Humble dealer's, fill the tank of your new car with Humble motor fuel, its crankcase with a Humble motor oil—then, note performance!
