13th Annual Pecan Show December 10

A large number of entries from throughout central and west Texas, as well as local nuts, are expected at the 13th annual Eastland County Pecan Show at Cisco, Dec. 10 and 11, according to officials in charge of exhibits.

Both the Cisco Chamber of Commerce and the county pecan growers organization, co-sponsors of the show, advise that a greater number of entries than shown in recent years is expected, due, perhaps, to the excellent large crop now being harvested.

Besides the 33 different improved or papershell varieties there will also be many entries of both the native seedlings as well as the hybrid varieties now being tested through horticultural research.

According to Oscar Shaefer, Cook, president of the grower group, the rules this year have been relaxed to permit anyone with pecans anywhere in the state to have an entry of their nuts. A quart jar or more containing at least 35 nuts constitutes an entry.

Ribbons and other trophies will be awarded the winners. Growers are requested to have their entries in by 12 noon on Dec. 10. They may be removed by their owners at 4 p. m. the following day except the first three place entries of each variety which will be entered in the state pecan show at A&M University and will not be returned. The show will be held in the Corral Room of the Victor Hotel in downtown Cisco.

A pecan queen contest, a bake show, and a centerpiece division are other sections of the annual affair it was explained by Jim Smothers, Manager of the Chamber of Commerce.

The pecans are to be judged on their size, color, shell thickness, cracking quality, kernel quality and percentage of meat to shell, as well as other factors. Judges will be from the horticultural department of A&M University.

American Legion Adopts Resolution

Two Callahan County veterans organizations have unanimously enacted resolutions of support of America's policy in Viet Nam and condemned public burning of draft cards and protest demonstrations in a number of the nation's larger cities.

Eugene Bell American Legion Post at Baird adopted the resolution in session Thursday night and Callahan County Veterans of World War I approved the measure earlier.

"We're behind our fighting men who are today locked in a death struggle with forces of Communism and believe that national defense should remain non-partisan, as leader of both great political parties have repeatedly declared," said a joint statement issued by C. H. Lunsford, Legion post commander, and C. B. Harris, commander of the local Barracks of World War I Veterans.

"Strength of America is dependent upon whole-hearted support of people on the homefront; if we are to remain the bulwark and last great bastion of freedom, there must be no wavering of our loyalty or patriotism," they concluded.

"It is gratifying that farmers are showing so much interest in these diversion programs," the Chairman said. "However, there are many details to be taken care of before field offices are in position to answer questions about how any of the programs may apply to a specific farm and to accept applications showing the grower's intention to participate.

"When the signups do start, farmers will be reminded in plenty of time to file program applications before a stated deadline. Normally, such signups continue for about 6 weeks."

Collision On Highway 36 Leaves 1 Dead, 3 Injured

Funeral was held at 3 p. m. Wednesday in Cross Plains for James Levy Settle, 71, who was killed in a car-truck accident about 10 p. m. Monday.

Rev. Roy Sefeldt of Dallas officiated. Masonic graveside rites were held in Cross Plains Cemetery.

Three other Cross Plains residents were injured in the accident, near Denton Valley on Highway 36.

The car driven by Mrs. Settle smashed into the rear end of a truck loaded with soybeans which was parked on the road shoulder, according to Highway Patrolman Bob Favor.

Driver of the truck was Kenneth Mack Seal, who escaped injury. He was standing beside his truck opening one of the saddle-tank gas valves at the time of the accident.

The patrolman said that Seal had all of his truck's lights on and that there was no other traffic on the road when the accident occurred.

Mr. Settle's wife, who suffered a fractured wrist and head and facial lacerations, was in fair condition Tuesday night in Hendrick Memorial Hospital.

Jim Barr was in fair condition with facial lacerations and his wife, who had multiple bruises was in good condition.

Mr. Settle was born April 3, 1894 in Collins County and had lived in Cross Plains 39 years.

Survivors in addition to his wife are a son, James B. of Amherst; and a daughter, Mrs. Emma Jean Hilb of California.

Social Security Administration Tightening Up On Requirements

"We are tightening up on our age proof requirements, effective Nov. 22," announced R. R. Tuley Jr., Abilene district manager for the Social Security Administration.

He added that completion of a study, conducted on a random basis for the past several months, has led to this change. Heretofore, almost any proof of age that was recorded 5 or more years before a claims application was filed would suffice. Now, the best and oldest evidence in existence must be secured.

"First, we must find and use any evidence established before the claimant reached his 5th birthday, or be able to show that no such evidence exists," Tuley said. "Failing that, the same research is made for evidence recorded before the applicant reached age 11."

"If there is no record as to age or birth prior to age 11, then the two oldest records made after that date will be used," he stated.

Among sources that must be explored are city, county, or state birth records, infant baptismal records of certain churches, early school records, 1900 and/or 1910 census records, hospital or medical records dating back to early childhood, etc., according to Tuley.

Prior to about 1920, only a small percentage of births were recorded promptly in Texas.

He added that the study just completed indicated that about 5 per cent of the aged applicants using recent proofs set up wrong ages, with about two out of every three such changes being to the benefit of the applicant. Applicants benefited when the early proof made them older than they now thought they were by either getting additional checks or higher amounts or both.

"So, when you file for your social security from now on, bring the oldest possible proof; if you have no old proof, we'll help you try to locate some," concluded Tuley.

Calories are units of energy found in all foods. If the foods you eat contain more calories than your body uses in daily activity, the excess is stored as fat. To reduce, you'll have to cut your caloric intake or exercise more.

People who lead moderately active lives need about 15 calories per pound to maintain their weight. To estimate your daily needs for a slimmer figure, multiply your ideal weight by 15, or by a slightly lower figure if you are not very active. Keep your caloric intake at that level.

When you're subtracting calories, don't subtract all the nutrients you need. Your body still needs the proteins, carbohydrates, fats, vitamins and minerals that are contained in the basic food groups -- milk; meat or substitutes; fruits and vegetables; breads and cereals. Cut down on your portions, but balance the diet. If your stomach cries for a larger amount of food, fill in the spaces with low-calorie food such as celery, radishes and consomes.

Americans waste $100 million annually in phony reducing products. Forget this nonsense and stick to will power.

Exercise will help in your campaign. Remember: Weight control is a matter of balancing food intake with activity output.

Weight Reduction Must Come Slow

Are last year's clothes easier to forget than to zip? Is your belt tighter? If so, you may be on the "weigh" to more pounds than you need.

Instead of wishing for a slimmer you, try reducing. The best diet plan takes more backbone than wishbone, but the formula is simple: eat less, exercise more, say a new leaflet from the American Medical Association.

Plan to lose no more than one to two pounds each week. Rapid weight loss may leave you tired, irritable and vulnerable to disease. What's more, pounds that are shed in a hurry often return just as quickly. If you are more than ten pounds overweight, consult your physician before beginning to diet.

Fog Hazardous To Cotton Stripping In Union Community

BY VEDA YARBROUGH

Hi neighbor! Well, at last the fog we have been having every morning for most two weeks seems to have vanished. Anyway it wasn't very foggy this morning, but there was a big dew.

John McIntyre started stripping cotton here at my place since noon, and seems to be getting along pretty well.

Mrs. Mary Ramsey spent about ten days with Mark and Ollie Burnam and went to Walter and Reba Francisco's Sunday to spend a few days. She is doing fine but will go back to her doctor Tuesday. She is getting anxious to go home but she can't stay by herself and hasn't been able to find someone to stay with her as yet.

John and Roma McIntyre spent the past weekend in Levelland visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Stagner and son Mike. They also attended the football game in Lubbock Saturday.

I went to Cisco last Thursday to see my sister, Fay Wood and Emmett. Fay and I attended the funeral of Mr. Drue Sprawls Thursday afternoon in Scranton Baptist Church. Mr. Sprawls passed away at Graham Hospital in Cisco. We had known Mr. Drue all of my life. We are very sorry of the passing of Mr. Drue. Our deepest sympathy to all his family.

Mrs. Mary Ramsey went home last Tuesday. Her sister, Mrs. Annie Bishop is staying with her a few days. We are so glad she was able to be home and that Aunt Annie was able to spend a few days with her.

Mark and Ollie Burnam attended funeral services in Big Spring for Joseph Clifton Burnam, who passed away last Wednesday. We were very sorry to hear of the death of Mrs. Joe Burnam of Abilene, Sunday.

Mrs. Albert Johnson of Farwell visited with me from Monday till Wednesday morning. I was so glad to have her.

I spent last Thursday with Mrs. Mary Ramsey and Aunt Annie Bishop. Burette and Johnny May Ramsey and Mabel Carrico and I attended a luncheon Saturday in Abilene for Central-West Texas Milk Producers' Assn. Mabel and I were guests of the Ramsey's. It was a very nice affair and everyone seemed to enjoy it very much. I don't know how many registered but I would guess somewhere close to 1,000.

John McIntyre machined the cotton at my place last week. So much dew he could not get started till afternoon. He pulled five bales in the afternoon. Cotton was good. He has the cotton on the Bailey place, as we call it, ready to pull this week and it is really good and the cotton on the Park place as we call it, is still better.

I visited a while Friday afternoon with Nancy Chapman.

They were getting ready for a wiener roast for the 4-H boys. Am sure they had a good time from all the goodies they had and a big pile of wood to burn. Travis was putting up a big light so they could see and not get on a rattlesnake which are prowling around now. One of the big old fellows was here at my house two weeks ago today. I called for help to kill him.

Numerous Guests In Oplin; Attends Appaloosa Horse Sale

Boy, oh boy. Roy and I had company this past weekend. On Thursday night, my sister, her husband and two youngest daughters arrived. Then Friday night their married daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harris and baby daughter, Robin, and my sister's daughters Sherri, who is in school at Sam Houston State Teachers College in Huntsville, arrived. Of course, our visitors were a drawing card to get other members of my family over for a visit. Oh, the Floyds know how to entertain company the easy way, for Friday we all went to the creek and picked up pecans. Saturday was spent in preparations to attend the big Appaloosa Sale held in Abilene Saturday night. It was a must that we attend, for my niece's husband, Charles Harris was auctioneer at the sale and besides, we just had to see the World's Most Famous Stallion, Joker B. sell. Now I had read of Joker B, but I never dreamed that a 25-year old stallion would sell for $26,500. Anyway this is what the old man sold for and I admit there were lots of pretty horses at this sale. Sunday climaxed our weekend of visiting and Ray and I were honored to host the Sunday dinner. Guests were Mr.

and Mrs. Johnnie Giesinger and daughters, Sherri, Marilyn and Tina; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harris and daughter, Robin; Mr. and Mrs. Cotton Barrett, Arnold Barrett, W. S. Barrett, and John Reese of Oklahoma City, who was a guest of my niece Sherri Giesinger. P. S. As of now, I have a good case of dishpan hands.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Campbell were hosts Sunday for a birthday dinner honoring their daughter-in-law Mrs. John D. Campbell. Present were Mr. and Mrs. John D. Campbell and children, Douglas and Lynda, and Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Campbell of Brownwood.

Even if this greeting is a little belated, I want to say Happy Birthday to Herbert Rogers, who celebrated his 70th birthday last Friday. Herbert is like a second daddy to me for I practically grew up in his home and it is hard for me to believe that he is seventy.

TECUMSEH TOPICS

BY LILLIAN CRAWFORD

Sunday afternoon was a nice day for taking a drive in the country, or I am supposing that the two families I saw driving along a country road were just enjoying a quiet and peaceful drive.

As I came nearer the two cars I finally decided that the driver of each of the cars were just young teenage boys driving for practice in hopes of being able to pass a driver's license test in the near future.

This one thing I wonder about is how David Booth made his parents believe he would be a careful driver and would return home at the appointed time. Sure he did after attending Denton Valley Church and visiting the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Crawford.

Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Harris slipped away this afternoon, went to Abilene and are spending the night with Mr. and Mrs. James Mullen and family.

Sorry to learn that the Bross family of Dudley having serious sickness the past week. Mr. Bross was placed in the intensive care room at Hendrick Memorial Hospital. Last report was that he could probably come home in a few days.

Mrs. Robert Windham was hostess for a Stanley party at her home last Thursday afternoon.

COLD WEATHER DRIVING EXPERT PREPARES FOR WINTER.

Why more motorists switch to the Tiger when it gets cold.

Many cars that ran just fine all summer get into trouble when ear-muff time rolls around—stalling at stoplights and coughing and chugging halfway into town.

That's when a lot of people switch to the Tiger, Winter-formula Enco Extra gasoline is blended to match the weather conditions in your area—including a special additive to help guard against icing. Result: easier starting, faster warm-up and a lot less worry about stalling.

You'll like the way new Enco Extra behaves on the open road, too. It's the High-energy gasoline with the: (1) cleaning power; (2) firing power; (3) octane power to help preserve the performance of new cars and restore lost power and mileage to many older cars.

Switch to the Tiger and get that nice warm feeling. Happy Motoring!
