

ANNUAL CALF SHOW FEB. 18th.

COUNTY VOTING STRENGTH OFF MORE THAN ONE FOURTH

A committee consisting of Roy Baker, Henry Arledge, O. L. Jamison, O. W. Caussey, G. E. Steen, Lee Smith and County Agent Walter Rice met and made plans for the Fifth Annual Knox County Calf Show. The date was set for February 18. The Knox City Lions Club is sponsoring the show and in charge of all details.

Seventy-five dollars in cash will be awarded to the boys having winning calves and a loving cup will be awarded to the boy having the grand-champion calf.

During the past four years Knox County has gained considerable recognition for its club feeding work. In 1935, 5 calves were shown in the first calf show; in 1936, 8 calves were fed out; in 1937, 15 calves were shown, and in 1938, 30 calves were shown. For 1939, 26 calves were started out but due to the prevailing high market prices, 6 cull calves have already gone to markets. Knox County had the Grand Champion calf at the Wichita Falls district show in 1937 and again in 1938. County Agent Rice has refused to comment on the possibility of having another Grand Champion calf more than to say that he has some good calves again this year. The district show at Wichita Falls comprises 17 counties in the immediate vicinity of Wichita Falls.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the district show to be held March 2, 3 and 4, and the best ten calves from the Knox County show will go to Wichita Falls to compete there. Rice plans to take five Aberdeen-Angus calves to the Fat Stock Show in Ft. Worth.

Calves will be shown representing the Hamilton Ranch, League Ranch, O. D. Propps, Ben Hunt, and Masterson Ranch, all Knox County grown calves. Rice has never fed out a calf from any other county, and insists that local calves be fed out. In doing this, the rancher can see his own calf in the finished condition, and may see where he can improve on the breeding of his own herd by purchasing different type bulls.

The feeding of 4-H calves has a three-fold purpose.

(1) It gives the boy much-needed training and provides him with useful occupation to prevent him from wasting his time before and after school hours. We should be more interested in the boy than in the calf. We are training some boys that will eventually become feeders.

(2) Farmers are watching the 4-H boys in their feeding projects and are feeding more cattle now than ever before in the history of the county. Knox County has always produced a surplus of grain sorghums that should be sold through cattle instead of being sold at harvesting time for $6 to $8 per ton to grain dealers and truckers that ship it out of the county to be fed to cattle. Knox County also produces quality feeder calves that are being shipped out of the county every fall. The farmers could profitably feed their surplus feed stuffs to the ranchers surplus calves. Recently several carloads of Knox County yearling calves were sold for 8 1/2 cents per pound and were shipped to Ohio to be fed out. The freight had to be added to the cost of the calves. Why can't Knox County farmers feed out Knox County calves with Knox County grain and make money, if the farmers in Ohio, Iowa and Illinois can.

(3) The third important phase of 4-H feeding is that it creates a desire on the part of the local rancher to watch and improve the quality of his herd so that they will finish out properly. The rancher is certainly not willing to exhibit an undesirable finished calf.

Let's all put our shoulder to the wheel and try to make Knox County a cattle feeding county as well as a cotton county. More prosperity for the county will mean more money individually for all of us.

Support our Fifth Annual 4-H Calf Show.

ERYSIPELAS IS FOUND IN HOGS OF THIS COUNTY

Dr. T. O. Booth, chief veterinarian, Texas Livestock Sanitary Commission, spent a day in Knox County recently diagnosing sick hogs with Walter Rice, county agent.

Visits were made at Truscott, Goree, and Vera to farms that had recently made purchases of feeder pigs. In every case investigated, swine erysipelas was found, and one case of hog cholera.

"Everyone knows the danger of hog cholera," Dr. Booth said, "and swine erysipelas is considered more deadly to hogs than cholera. Swine erysipelas is a deadly disease of swine characterized by fever, diarrhea, a discoloration of the skin of the abdomen to a loss of appetite. The hogs refuse to get up, and when kicked up will stagger as if drunk, later will be able to walk almost normally. The hog soon develops pneumonia and the complications result in death."

Dr. Booth stated to County Agent Rice that in all probability most of the hogs had been exposed to the disease, or had been sold from farms in East Texas where outbreaks had already occurred.

The sick hogs can be vaccinated with anti-erysipelas serum with good results, if treated in the early stages. Premises should be cleaned and disinfected, as the germs will live in the ground indefinitely, similar to blackleg in cattle.

The disease is also communicable to other livestock and to people. It can become very serious if care is not taken to cure and prevent its spread.

SOIL PROGRAM TO BE STARTED

Knox County is working out a soil conservation program with the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

The soil and water conservation committee is composed of the following:

W. E. Braly, Munday, president; E. L. Covey, Benjamin, secretary; T. H. Jones, Goree; H. D. Arnold, Goree; Austin Caughran, Munday; P. Phillips Munday; J. W. Smith, Knox City; A. Schumaker, Rhineland; O. L. Jamison, Knox City; C. C. Browning, Truscott; J. R. Spivey, Truscott; O. W. Welch, Gilliland; Harry Beck, Vera; Milton Ford, Vera; W. W. Rice, Benjamin; Charlie Hamilton, Benjamin, and J. O. Warren, Knox City.

Henry and J. V. Jones, C. W. Armstrong and Miss Haz Jones have gone to Dallas to be with Horace Jones, who had the third and last operation on his head at Baylor Hospital Wednesday. Horace is said to be doing fine and his sister, Miss Willie, will return home today and Hazel will remain with him for a while.

LARGE CROWD PRESENT AT CHURCH DEDICATION

In spite of bad weather, 359 people registered at the Baptist church last Sunday as attendants of the Dedication services held that day. Many of those who attended the services were visitors from other towns, many of whom once lived in Knox City and attended the Baptist church.

Every former pastor of the church since the building of the present biding in 1924 was present and appeared on the program. Rev. Woodie Smith of Fort Worth preached the dedicatory sermon. Rev. Joe English, Rev. C. B. Stovall and Rev. W. D. Green were the other former pastors who appeared on the program. Rev. Charles Powell, a pastor in Knox City long before the new building was erected, and now pastor of the University Baptist church of Abilene, appeared on the program in the afternoon and Rev. B. N. Shepard, District Missionary of District 17, spoke also.

The campaign to lift the indebtedness from the church was begun the middle of December. The entire amount necessary to pay off the debt was raised, and enough extra to repaint the auditorium.

One special feature of the services Sunday was the basket dinner served in the basement of the church. Both dinner and supper was served to visitors and others.

FAREWELL SOCIAL

The ladies of the Methodist church entertained at the home of Mrs. Lee Smith Monday, Jan. 30, with a farewell social honoring Mrs. Holt Moseley, who is leaving soon to make her home in New Mexico.

The Valentine motif was carried out in the games and refreshments.

Mrs. Moseley was given a lovely handkerchief shower.

MRS. D. A. DURHAM

Funeral services were held at the home Monday afternoon at three o'clock for Mrs. D. A. Durham, who passed away at the Knox County Hospital, where she had been a patient since Sunday. She was eighty-two years of age.

She is survived by one son, C. E. Durham, four grandchildren, two sisters and several nieces and nephews. Rev. W. D. Green of Ovalo, former pastor of the Baptist church here had charge of the service, assisted by Rev. H. E. East, the present pastor. Mrs. Durham had been a member of the Baptist church for many years. She was one of the old-time residents of Knox City and was respected and loved by those who knew her best.

Interment was in Gillespie cemetery, about six miles east of town.

TO GIVE BANQUET

On February 9, at 7:30 p. m., the ladies of the Methodist church will serve a Father and Son Banquet in the basement of the church.

Tickets for this affair will be fifty cents, and will be on sale beginning Monday, February 6.

A very interesting program has been planned, including a prominent speaker. The purpose of the banquet is to promote a better fellowship in our community and to help finance the improvements in the church kitchen.

COTTON CENSUS

Census reports show that there were 24,345 bales of cotton, counting round bales as half bales, ginned in Knox County prior to January 16, 1939, as compared to 40,057 to the same date in 1938.

JOBLESS EMPLOYEES RECEIVING CHECKS

Austin, Jan. 27.—One year ago today, January 27, Texas launched its program of paying jobless benefits with a check for fifteen dollars to an unemployed Austin electrician.

Today, on the anniversary of that date, more than ten million dollars has been put in the pockets of eligible jobless Texans by their cashing more than a million checks on the Unemployment Compensation commission.

Looking back over the period Orville S. Carpenter, chairman director of the commission, revealed that ninety-five per cent of the checks for total unemployment were issued in less than three weeks time between the end of the first compensable week and the date of the first benefit payment.

Under the law a claimant for jobless insurance must serve a two weeks waiting period in which every effort is made to help him secure suitable employment. Texas has been acclaimed No. 1 state both in job placements and in promptness of benefit payments among the states now paying jobless benefits. No bad record for admittedly the biggest bookkeeping and administration job in the state.

Less than one per cent of the checks were delayed more than four weeks. These delays according to Chairman Carpenter were necessitated by the failure of employers to report correctly the wages of their employees covered by the act.

According to Tax Collector Earl Sams there were issued up to Tuesday night 1657 poll tax receipts in this county. However, there were more than a hundred letters in the box which had not been opened which will no doubt boost the number up to 1750 or more, according to Sams.

Last year there were 2476 poll tax receipts issued which is a decrease of more than 700. It is estimated that the vote this year will not exceed 2500, counting the overs and unders. This is an important election year as there will be several constitutional amendments to vote. Among them will probably be O'Daniel's transactions tax. There will be hundreds of people in the county who will regret that they failed to pay their poll tax when the time comes to vote this summer.

GOES TO DENTON

Miss Marilynn Herring, who has been attending Sul Ross in Alpine, is spending a few days with her parents before enrolling in N. T. S. T. C. at Denton where she will begin work on her Smith-Hughes certificate in Home Economics. This certificate is not offered at Sul Ross, and entering her Senior year, she feels the necessity of the change.

Mrs. Stanley Carter and daughter, who have been here for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Odie Karr, have returned to their home in Crosbyton. Mrs. Carter is Mrs. Karr's mother.

A meeting of the State-wide Cotton Committee of Texas, composed of over 300 of the outstanding agricultural and business leaders of the State, has been called to convene in the Hall of the House of Representatives in Austin on Feb. 17 by Burriss C. Jackson, General Chairman of the Committee, and President of the Texas Cotton Association.

A resolution passed by the House has offered the use of the Hall to the Committee, when members of that body will consult with the State-wide Cotton Committee of Texas on the general cotton situation. Mr. Jackson has invited not only members of the Committee but all people in Texas who might be interested in the cotton problems to attend this meeting. Speakers of national prominence will appear on the program.

"It is high time that the people of Texas should give serious consideration to the cotton problem," Chairman Jackson said, "because this State has carried the burden of the great loss of foreign markets for the American cotton." He points out that Texas exports 90 per cent of the cotton it produces, which is unequalled by any other state in the Union, and that the cotton farmers and the cotton industry of Texas have a vital stake in foreign markets.

The general question of improving the quality of cotton in Texas, the better ginning movement, the insect control problem, and cotton consumption will be the main topics of discussion at the Austin meeting.

LISTEN TO THIS

By TOM FIZDALE

According to those people who make a business of analyzing what the radio audience listens to each week, comedy is still supreme on the air-waves despite predictions of wisecracks who said that people were tired of comedians and that the cycle would swing to something else. The funny part of it is, people are not even choosy about the type of comedy they listen to—whether it is the sophisticated comedy of Jack Benny, the unsophisticated comedy of Fibber McGee or the mixture of the two that marks Eddie Cantor's show. Evidently, people still want to laugh and they'll turn to the program that not only lifts them from their mundane affairs but which will give them a chuckle as well. Even those shows with a variety of big stars rely upon Una Merkel, Charlie Ruggles, Charlie McCarthy or other comedy names for a lot of their punch.

Joan Blondell

Joan Blondell, lovely comedienne of the films, is being considered for a radio spot by a national sponsor. Whether or not she can add airwork to her already crowded film and home-making schedule is the problem that her acceptance of the new job depends on.

Music history will be made in New York on Christmas Night when Paul Whiteman, Dean of Modern Music, takes his world famous orchestra to Carnegie Hall for his first concert in those music-sacred precincts since 1923. American composers will hold the spotlight.

Ray Noble, British orchestra leader for Burns and Allen broadcast, bought one of Gracie's famous surrealist paintings sold for the benefit of needy Chinese children, but refuses to hang it in his living room. He says there is a limit to the sacrifices he will make even for needy babies.

Charlie Ruggles, whose mad antics enliven the Star Theatre broadcasts these Wednesday nights, has only one hobby—dogs. Charlie relates that he used to raise both dogs and turkeys, but the dogs ate up the act. He gave up the turkeys.

Charlie Ruggles

You never know when a dime you send for a fan picture of a star will make him grateful for life. Bob Hope ran out of gas while driving home from his Tuesday night rehearsal this week. He didn't have a penny. Waiting for someone he knew to come along, he absent-mindedly started opening fan mail. Out fell a dime sent for a photo. It enabled him to phone his wife to send help—and he's eternally grateful to the fan.

Benny Goodman is being sponsored by the League of Music Lovers (a classical group) these days. Anyway they sponsored the concert he played with the famous Budapest String Quartet the fore part of this month and he's lined up for another concert with them in January. Oh, yes, he'll continue to direct his swing cats for a regular living in the meantime.

Jack Haley was walking down the street the other day on the way from his picture studio to his radio rehearsal. His director met him with a flattering remark. Haley blushed a deep crimson. "Gosh," remarked the director, "it's a good thing we aren't shooting your picture in technicolor. You'd be a terrific technical problem."

Someone asked Fibber McGee if he knew a certain actor with a shoney English accent. "Oh," cracked Fibber, "you mean the guy who always goes off half cockney?"

WORDS OF WISDOM

Good will is a mighty driving power.
 Those who like people are always likeable.
 If you don't give approval where and when it's due, it soon won't be due.
 A bargain is successful when you and the other fellow profit.
 No man will work for your interests unless they are his.
 Hope of reward is essential to effort.
 Loyalty to you starts within yourself.
 What was practical yesterday may be foolish tomorrow.
 Never wait for an inspiration but always expect it.
 Manage yourself first and others will take your orders.
 People who don't command themselves are always dominated.
 People squeeze a sponge.
 Doing things well is a habit, not a happenstance.
 Repeated effort becomes automatic.
 If you don't manage yourself someone else will.
 He who can be interrupted always will be.

In every life there should be thinking times and doing times.
 Put first things first or the rest will make a muddle.
 A good executive is one who doesn't become an office boy.
 Who doesn't consider himself is seldom considerate of others.
 Few people know what to do at first, fewer still how to do it.
 A central idea only comes when you've stopped to find it.

ONE ACT PLAY TRYOUTS

The Knox City High School Interscholastic League one act play entry has been sent to the state headquarters. The entry this year will be Vera Hamm-Hafer's farce, "Luncheon for Six."

The play requires a cast of seven characters, six seen on the stage and one heard backstage. The play is full of amusing situations and clever lines portrayed by characters that will require ability to play by those chosen for the cast.

The girls in the play have already been chosen and the boys will be selected this week when all of the characters will be announced. The play is under the direction of Mr. Charles Shumaker.

Last year several last minute changes were made in the cast 'the week before the contest', but the play still came out third. It is hoped by everyone that the play this year will meet with better success.

GUESS WHO
 By Geneva Walker

She has light brown hair; brown eyes fringed with brows; curly lashes; two moles on her left cheek; weighs one hundred and ten pounds, and is five feet and five and one half inches. She likes John Tarleton uniforms, holidays, whipped cream, and spaghetti with tomato sauce. She dislikes all finger nail polish. Her favorite song is "F. D. R. Jones"; her favorite sport is basketball. Her main habits are popping her chewing gum and giggling.

Watch for the answer in next week's Kennel.

SPORTS BY SPITTERS
 By Billy Dean Davis and Marjorie Propps

Last Tuesday night Knox City played Rochester at Rochester. With the Knox City Greyhounds not playing up to par the team was defeated.

Friday night Knox City encountered Munday in the home gym. The Greyhounds were successful in both the Junior and Senior boys' games. The Juniors defeated the Moguls by a score of 11-4. The Senior boys won by a score of 22 to 18. The game promised to be a close one during the first quarter of the game, but as the half was reached the Greyhounds fast gained a lead over the visiting team.

The volleyball team has been doing some good work during the past week. The girls met the team from Rochester last Tuesday night and won by scoring two straight victories.

When the girls met the Munday team they had a bit of bad luck and lost the first two games. The girls played a hard game and it was only by much work that the Munday team reaped their victory. The Greyhounds are sure to meet with better success at their next encounter.

ARLEDGE HERDSMAN HELPS CLUB BOYS

Dave Little, herdsman at Arledge Stock Farm, Knox City, and formerly at Texas A. and M. College, believes he can qualify for a merit badge as a 4-H club boy.

He has figured definitely in the calf feeding projects of boys in Knox and Baylor counties. Little cut ties on 17 club calves, putting in two days at the work. And his work was 100 per cent successful.

Little, herdsman for 10 years at A. and M., has the finest lot of cattle he has had since starting to work at the Arledge farm.

GOSSETT WINS DRAW FOR BETTER OFFICE

Washington, Jan. 30.—Congressman Gossett had a new office Monday.

It is one of the better ones in the new House Office Building.

By being lucky at drawing straws, Gossett took over the office of Representative Thomas, who left for larger quarters when he became chairman of an elections committee.

Another Texan, Representative Kilday, was in on the drawing, but missed the short straw. Three other members also participated.

"FINGERPRINTS" TO BE PRESENTED AT RHINELAND

Special arrangements have been made with Mr. John J. Hoffman, superintendent of the Rhineland school, for the presentation of the Senior play, "Fingerprints." The play, under the direction of Miss Frances Diersing, will be staged in the Rhineland High School Auditorium at 7:45 p. m., Friday, Feb. 3. The Rhineland Lone Star Band will perform in concert before the play as well as between acts.

"Fingerprints" was presented in Benjamin last Friday night. Those who saw the play declared it one of the best and most realistic plays presented in our school. Consequently, we do not hesitate to extend individual invitations to those who have seen the play as well as to those who were unable to attend the first performance.

To the people of Rhineland and adjacent communities, we issue a special invitation and we assure you a pleasant, entertaining and laughable evening.

SENIORS

With only ten weeks of preparation, the play "Fingerprints" was presented Friday night by the Seniors. The play was a great success.

The Senior class treasury was enlarged by a sum of $35. This money will help carry the Seniors to Carlsbad Caverns, and perhaps into Mexico.

The Seniors wish to thank the students for their splendid cooperation, and also all the teachers for their assistance.

Immediately after the presentation, all of the Seniors went to the home of Supt. and Mrs. Cunningham, where they were served refreshments. The Seniors greatly appreciate the kind thoughtfulness of Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham and of their room mother, Mrs. Snalum.

The Seniors wish to thank Miss Diersing for her splendid efforts in helping to present the play.

JUNIORS

SOPHOMORES

Most of the Sophomores went to the Senior play and are now declaring that it is the best play they have ever seen.

BOYS' WEEK

In observance of the week set aside as National Boys' Week, Feb. 8-14, a program is being planned for the high school boys. The boys will run the city and county governments. A boy will be elected to each city and county office and will have complete charge of the office. If any business comes up, the boy must attend to it, with the advice of the real officer. The purpose of this is to teach the boys how to run their government.

On the following Sunday, the boys will attend church in a group. On Tuesday, a barquet will be given for fathers and sons. The purpose of this is for the boys and their fathers to become better acquainted.

Watch Your Kidneys!

Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste

Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and speed the whole body machinery.

Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength.

Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder may be burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a nation-wide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your neighbor!

JULIA SMITH

DENTON, Texas.—Julia Smith, a young Texas composer who is rapidly making a name for herself in the East, is coming home to Denton this week to assist in the rehearsals of her opera, "Cynthia Parker," which will have its world premiere on February 16-17 at the North Texas State Teachers' College.

Leonora Corona, former prima donna soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company, will fly down next week to sing the title role. The production, the first opera premiere ever to be held on Texas soil, will be presented by a joint student and professional cast. Other leading roles will be filled by Margaret Finney, former Julliard student and professional singer who is a member of the music faculty of Temple Junior College, and Roger Harris of Dallas, graduate student in music at the Denton Teachers' college.

What Does the Future Hold for The Smaller Towns in Texas?

What must inevitably be the fate of the small towns and communities in Texas?

This question is being asked in literally hundreds of interior places over the state where today "For Rent" signs clutter the windows of numbers of empty business buildings! It is a question of increasing serious importance, not only to these small towns and communities, but to the state as a whole.

These once busy places of community life, around which has largely grown the progressive development of Texas, are being dried up by the operation of heavy trucks over our highways. Their local business firms and enterprises, the dry goods, hardware, drug and fruit and vegetable stores, retail lumber yards, wholesale grocery houses, bottling plants, feed mills, oil mills, grain elevators and cotton compresses are unable to meet the competition of the larger business centers because of the almost unrestricted and promiscuous use of Texas highways in the delivery of goods by trucks from the larger cities holding the quantity-purchase advantage.

The absorption and manipulation, in varying degrees, of the cost of transportation by highway for competitive purposes, if not restricted, will inevitably drive dealers and wholesalers in the smaller towns and communities out of business. They must succumb to the inequality of opportunity with which they are burdened and thus contribute further to our growing economic chaos.

The plea now being made by certain interests to increase the load limit on trucks operating over Texas highways will hasten the end of local enterprises in smaller Texas communities, if under the present statutes herein already has been done the small town merchant and property owner, what then must be the effect of any increase in the allowable truck load limit? Certainly the larger the load limit the greater will be the distance over which goods can be hauled from the larger distributing centers, and the greater will be the harmful effects on dealers and enterprises in the smaller towns!

The burden of taxation borne by the business interests of the smaller towns and communities throughout Texas will, as a natural result, be shifted more and more to the shoulders of the remaining property owners. Those who have invested in homes and business buildings must sacrifice their investments to what some might mistakenly call "the march of progress."

The thousands of families, for so many years dependent upon employment by these business enterprises as a means of livelihood, must be forced to the cities in quest of work, and falling in that add further to our burden of relief and unemployment!

Inroads by long distance truck operations on the traffic of the railroads must necessarily result in the abandonment of more and more railroad mileage, with consequent loss of payrolls and taxes to these communities and an increase of tax burdens to their citizens.

Texas Railroads, who seek no favors and advantages, but who willingly pay their own way to render efficient, dependable and economical transportation service to Texas communities, have felt the ill effects of unfair and subsidized competition in the same way and measure as the small town business men and, in the interest of our mutual preservation, join with them in urging that existing legal truck load limits be not increased!

Orson Welles
Mon of the Year

he has made history in the theatre in New York and on the air. His Friday night broadcasts are undoubtedly the dramatic high spot of the week.

The Fibber McGee Company have taken up their new residence in Hollywood but they are looking forward to a lot of script readings in Phoenix. Reason: boss agencyman J. J. Louis has a beautiful ranch there, swimming pool and all.

Some weeks ago artist Nicholas A. Barbieri chose Alice Frost, radio's "Big Sister," as his model because she had "ideal features for cameras." This week Alice saw herself, in cameo form for the first time. The cameo will be distributed nationally in the form of a Renaissance brooch.

Rosemary Lambright, who plays Thelma Casey in Arnold Grimm's Daughter, says that she has overcome her greatest handicap in radio. It was proving that because a girl is beautiful she isn't necessarily dumb. Since the audience can't see her on the air it didn't make any difference.

Gracie Allen

Gracie Allen started a new fad recently when Frank Parker broke a cuff-link during rehearsal. As a gag, Gracie found two small bolts and nuts and presented them to him. The combination was so effective that other players have taken up the idea.

First Nighter Bras Morrison is known for his ability to dress correctly for any occasion. He stopped the cast the other day when, after he had slashed his foot badly with a speed skate while performing for some pictures, he turned up at the broadcast with dress crutches—polished mahogany.

Edward G. Robinson and Claire Trevor, stars of Big Town, were hosts recently at a party for Aunt Jenny, held on the occasion of her second anniversary as coast-to-coast radio personality. Many of the numerous stage and radio stars Aunt Jenny has presented on her program during the past two years were present to greet her. Bosquets, including one from her most loyal fan, her sponsor, bedecked the "backstage" of the Ambassador Theatre in New York, scene of the festivities.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS . . . .
By Boyce House

Ben Woodal, former Harrison County prosecuting attorney and new assistant attorney general, had a brief and amusing experience as a newspaperman. He was correspondent for one of the State dailies and, one day, hearing a whistle, he asked an acquaintance what it meant. "The railroad shops are on fire," was the answer. So Woodal dashed to the telegraph office and sent a message: "Marshall shops on fire; will send details." The newspaper issued an "extra," but meanwhile the ambitious young correspondent found the whistle had meant only a fire drill. He telegraphed his resignation.

News from the literary front: Stark Young, who wrote "So Red the Rose" (best-seller a few years ago) is on the 11th floor of an Austin hotel, working on another novel.

J. Frank Dobie ("Vaquero of the Brush Country" and "Coronado's Children") is out in the Chisos Mountains gathering material for more writing. J. Evetts Haley ("Life of Colonel Goodnight") returned a few days ago to his ranch duties after considerable time in Austin assembling data for a biography of Major Littlefield.

Incidentally, some wealthy oil man could become a patron of letters—and at no more expense than a trip to the World's Series (with incidentals, of course): no more than he puts up without hesitation for a "cut" in a wildcat well that chances are 87 to 1 will be dry. A capable writer, with a real subject, often finds himself without the amount needed for food and shelter during the time necessary to write the book, and so it is unwritten. Wealthy men of ancient Rome and Greece used to endow writers who, in turn wrote a poem in honor of their patron or dedicated a volume to his posterity.

A note of informality was injected into a session of the State Railroad Commission recently. For years, even the one called Ernest Thompson, a member of the "Colonel" class, has been known to dress in a suit and tie. On the day of the session, however, he appeared in a striped shirt and a dark hat. "What's the matter with you?" called Ernest Thompson. "I'm not a member of the 'Colonel' class," he explained. "I'm a candidate for the legislature."

drawing Jerry Sadler, newest member of the commission, the other day greeted him as "Red." Thompson beamed and said: "That's the nickname all the fellows had for me when I was a boy and, after all, the war is over, isn't it?" So, next time you see the Colonel—be it in the garden, we should have said "Red"—greet him with his old time title, revived by Jerry Sadler.

The new Governor's transactions tax measure is very careful to exempt the fees of lawyers but levies a tax on newspaper advertisements. The lawyers hold more offices and do more talking about affairs of government and pay less than any other class. Some time somebody is going to run for office on a platform to put the lawyers on the same basis with the rest of us folks—and that candidate will be elected, we do believe. Come to think of it, it's such a good idea, believe I'll run myself.

Also the Governor has made a remarkable series of nominations—for labor commissioner, a man who doesn't belong to any of the generally recognized labor unions; for another high position, a carpetbagger; for chairman of the highway commission, a man from Dallas—giving that city two members of the commission, the rest of the State, one member.

New State officials have all been sworn in although, as we write these lines, James V. Allred hasn't taken the oath as federal judge. With all the inaugurations, there comes to mind a story (it is told simply as a joke, of course): An uncouth sort of fellow ran against a county judge who was highly educated, and beat (thunder out of the judge. So, on Jan. 1, the successful candidate called at the office of his outgoing rival and said: "Well Judge, I want you to qualify me." The official said: "I'll swear you in but all h— can't qualify you."

"Oldest joke" contest entry: A revivalist called on all who wanted to go to heaven to rise. Everybody stood but one man. The preacher then called on all who wanted to go to the infernal regions to rise, but still the man kept his seat. "Why didn't you get up on either of the propositions?" the evangelist demanded. "Well, you see," the other explained, "I'm a candidate for the legislature."

and I don't want to commit myself; I've got friends in both places."

"I Give You Texas" is a year old this week. The columnist thanks the editors of nearly 200 newspapers who are carrying this feature and thanks also the folks who read it and sometimes send in comments—mainly complimentary, glory be!

FARMERS ADVISED TO TEST SEED

County Agent Walter Rice this week warned Knox County farmers to test all their seed before planting. A great deal of time and money are wasted each year by farmers planting seed that will not come up, due to lack of germination. Any farmer can test a handful of his own seed now by planting them in a box of sand and keeping the box in a warm room. For example, if a hundred seed are planted, and only 60 come up, then the seed will have a germination test of 60 per cent. The State Department of Agriculture at Austin will run official germination tests free of charge by mailing them a small sample of the seed. One pound is sufficient.

This official germination tag is required on all seed sold in many states as a protection to the farmers.

BURDENSOME TAXES

That's How We Do It in Business

(To be sung to the tune of Beautiful Texas)

You've all heard the fantastic stories,
Of the State that would be tax free.
But this was a tale Lee was telling
To get votes from you and me.
Now some folks who still love the truthful,
And want to be honest and fair
Will not tolerate an outlandish rate
That is more than business can bear.

CHORUS

Burdensome, burdensome taxes,
In the land where the bluebonnets grow:
Taxes on ten generations
Of the Sons of the Alamo.
If you live on the plains or the mountains
Or down where the sea breezes blow
You're taxed on every transaction,
Taxed till you can't pay "no more."

We have builded our beautiful highways
With taxes from city and farm,
But you can't pyramid these taxes
Without doing our Texas great harm.
White cotton, green forests, blue rivers,
Golden wheat fields and trees taxed bare,
We'll be taxed till doomsday—the business way
For Wilbert has taxes to spare.
(Repeat Chorus)

In this song about burdensome taxes,
There's something we just have to say—
A half a million people
Regret they voted that way.
But there's still the high court of impeachment
And may God forbid him that fate
So let us all pray for that brighter day,
When we redeem our beautiful state (from)
(Repeat Chorus)

PATROLLING THE DEATH CORRIDORS

Remarkable success was attained by the Texas state highway patrol in 1938 in reducing the number of fatal automobile accidents on certain highway "death corridors." Instead of attempting to patrol all the highways of the state, thereby spreading its personnel over too great a territory, the patrol early in 1938 decided to concentrate on 19 major highway sections where the death toll was unusually heavy. Officers were instructed especially to guard against speeding and reckless driving.

A report on this work from Homer Garrison Jr., state safety director, shows a reduction of deaths on the 19 highways of 57 per cent. Where before the rate had been 315 persons, in 1938 it dropped to 134.

The decline in the number of deaths was too sharp and too common to all roads under special patrol to be attributed to anything but the safety campaign. On the Wichita Falls to Vernon link of U. S. 370, for instance, the number of deaths dropped from 10 in 1937 to one in 1938. While the state as a whole showed a decline of 11.31 per cent in fatalities, the decrease on the 19 patrolled road sections was 57 per cent.

The highway patrol has made a striking success of this first experiment in an entirely new method of enforcing highway safety. Apparently it has hit upon a much

DIES, NEGROES OPPOSE ALLRED CONFIRMATION

Bitterly attacked last week was former Governor James V. Allred by one of his most insistent enemies, loud-talking, Red-baiting Congressman Martin Dies of Orange.

Scene was a subcommittee of the U. S. Senate's judiciary committee which was considering Allred's nomination to the Federal district bench for the Southern district of Texas.

Reason for Dies' attack was his assertion that because Allred did not live in the southern district at the time of his appointment, it was an instance of "carpetbagging."

"I don't think it's fair or right and don't think the people of the district approve of it and I think it's the beginning of a vicious system," Dies shouted.

Joining hands with Dies in opposing Allred's nomination was R. R. Grovey, member of the Negro Citizens Committee of Texas, who opposed the former Governor on the grounds that he played politics with the racial question.

In spite of the objections urged by Dies and the negro committee, it was a good bet that Allred would be confirmed. Both Texas Senators, Morris Sheppard and Tom Connally, said they would not oppose confirmation, and in the United States Senate it is nigh unto impossible to block confirmation of an appointee approved by both senators from his home state.

STILL AFAR OFF

Several proposals are pending at Austin looking to the rewriting of the state constitution. Those who look with concern upon such moves may as well let their fears abate. There is not the remotest possibility that the legislature would approve the idea. The legislators are aware that a new constitution would surely include provisions to make the legislature more responsive to the public's wishes, to eliminate the abuses that now exist. They are not going to open the door, being too apprehensive of what the constitution-writers would do to them.

State senators, for example, know that a new constitution would forbid the practice of accepting retainers from concerns interested in legislation. They have no desire to abandon that practice or to see it brought to the public's attention.

There is no chance for Texas to have a new constitution until such a time as the public demand for one becomes irresistible. That time, apparently, is still a long way off.

The majority of the Senators and Representatives were home this last week conferring with the people on the transactions tax that was submitted by the Governor. From press reports about sixty-five per cent of the people are opposed to the transactions tax, but a majority will favor a two per cent sales tax.

A National Youth Administration Project got under way in Knox County last week which will provide part time employment to approximately 15 boys. These boys will work under the supervision of the State Highway Department, and will assist in improving and beautifying roadside parks, school bus stops, side road approaches, slopes, and shoulders.

Representative Grady Roberts of this district has been appointed on the following committees by Speaker Morse: Agriculture, Conservation and Reclamation, Fish and Game, and Public Printing. As he is a young member, Roberts is not the chairman of any of the committees.

APPLICATIONS FOR LOANS NOW BEING RECEIVED

Applications for emergency crop and feed loans for 1939 are now being received at Benjamin by A. H. Sams, Sr.

The loans will be made, as in the past, only to farmers whose cash requirements are small and who can not obtain credit from any other source. The money loaned will be limited to the farmer's immediate and actual cash needs for growing his 1939 crops or for the purchase of feed for livestock.

Farmers who can obtain the funds they need from an individual, production credit association, bank, or other concern are not eligible for crop and feed loans from the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Section of the Farm Credit Administration, formerly known as the Resettlement Administration.

As in the past, farmers who obtain emergency crop and feed loans will give as security a first lien on the crop financed, or a first lien on the livestock to be fed if the money borrowed is to be used to produce or purchase feed for livestock.

Where loans are made to tenants, the landlords, or any party having an interest in the crops financed or the livestock to be fed, are required to waive their claims in favor of a lien to the Governor or the Farm Credit Administration until the loan is repaid.

Checks in payment of approved loans will be mailed

GRASSHOPPERS TO BE WORSE

County Agent Walter Rice just received word from extension service offices that it is estimated that the grasshopper infestation will be worse by 28 per cent in 1939 than it was during the past season.

farmers should use this information in planning their planting this year," said Rice. "Their cotton and feed crops, where near pasture land, could be protected by a border of red top cane. The grasshoppers will feed on this sweet sorghum in preference to cotton and feed crops."

Motor Makers Optimistic As '39 Cars Find Favor

ZOOMING over the horizon in sleek new streamlines, the 1939 models of the nation's favorite automobiles are making their bows at the coast-to-coast series of automobile shows. Public reception at the National Show, in New York City, made manufacturers optimistic, caused them to predict greater sales, heavier employment.

NOT SO MADDENING CROWDS. Young and old, the motor minded flock to the season's premier show, as this glimpse of a corner of the New York exhibit attests.

ALL PRESENT—Great and small, famous and insignificant, all put in an appearance at the mecca of motorists. Here, for example, is Mary Pickford at the wheel of a smart sports roadster...
