

The wife tells us we haven't any business kissing any other man but her. . . to this we will agree. . . However, we feel there is a lot of difference between business and pleasure.

Most newspaper people are always hungry and ready to "put on the feed bag." On Tuesday of this week Mrs. Curtis Coates dropped by the office and presented this scribe and the Hills with some fresh fried pies. If there are any Knox Citizens who have never flopped their lips over some of the delicacies from Mrs. Coates oven . . . then you have certainly missed a treat . . . Thank you, Mrs. Coates.

Did you know that in 1958 more than 49 per cent of the traffic injuries resulted from week end accidents?

In just a few short days Knox City will lose a good citizen. He has not lived here very long . . . just a little over a year to be exact . . . but is one who has made many friends, has taken a very active part in the community . . . and has served his church, town and community in a fine way. Readers probably have guessed by now that we are referring to none other than John Waddell, who recently resigned as pastor of the First Christian Church to accept a similar position in Aiken, South Carolina.

Food for thought—Confucius say . . . man who cover chair instead of territory is on bottom all time.

Recently the Herald received an information sheet from Senator George Moffett on "How Bills Become Laws in the Texas Legislature." This scribe thinks it is one of the most valuable pieces of information regarding legislation that we have ever run across. In fact we think it so good we are passing a portion of the information on to readers of this newspaper.

The Texas Legislature meets in a regular session for about four months once each two years. About 1500 bills are usually introduced at each regular session. The House of Representatives and the Senate are separate branches of the Legislature. Any member may introduce as many bills as he desires upon any subject, except that tax bills must be introduced in the House of Representatives. Only about one-third of the bills introduced ever reach the Governor's desk. He vetoes some which do.

In order to become a law, it is necessary that a bill receive a majority of the votes in each branch of the Legislature. The Constitution requires that a bill, immediately after being introduced, be referred to the proper committee. This committee may or may not recommend the passage of the bill. If the committee takes no action on a bill it is stopped and never proceeds further. Perhaps two-thirds of the bills receive a favorable committee report and are placed on the calendar of either the Senate or the House of Representatives, depending upon the branch in which the bill was introduced. Sometimes as many as four or five hundred bills are pending at the same time.

A bill can be, and often is, amended in either or both branches. If it receives a majority vote in the first branch, it is then sent by messenger to the other branch, where it travels the same course that it did in the first branch, and, if it is amended in the second branch, it is then returned to the first branch. The latter must approve the amendments or the bill does not go to the Governor's office.

Senator Moffett says a heavy volume of mail is received daily about the hundreds of bills over in the House of Representatives. Since a House bill may be amended several times after its introduction and while still in the House of Representatives, it is almost useless for a member of the Senate to waste time on it until it comes to the Senate. Many bills never reach the Senate.

The above information explains the conditions and difficulties under which Senators and Representatives work in the brief four-month session of the Legislature.

Speed was blamed for more than 40 per cent of the traffic deaths and injuries in the U. S. during 1958.

Tornado Warnings Will Be Given

Information released this week to the Herald by Mayor Otis Harbert and City Secretary, Wesley Garrison reveals that Knox Citizens will continue to be given tornado warnings.

As a storm warning, the siren will sound twice, then be silent for a short period and then sound twice more; however it was pointed out there will not be an all-clear signal.

The blowing of the siren does not necessarily mean that Knox City will have a tornado, but is just a warning to residents that storm clouds are brewing, and they can be their own judge as to whether to head for the cellar.

City units, units from the sheriff's department, and units from towns in this area will be out watching for storm clouds, and the whistle will be blown in plenty of time for residents to seek shelter.

Mayor Harbert pointed out that telephone number 2121 is for fire only. Telephone 2921 is the business phone.

Revival Slated At Gillespie Baptist Church

Beginning Sunday, April 19, and continuing through Sunday, April 26, the Gillespie Baptist Church will have a revival meeting, with Rev. Claude B. Stovall of Abernathy as evangelist. Services will be held nightly at 8:00, with prayer meetings at 7:30.

At the Gillespie Church, too, he was ordained, first as a deacon and later as a minister of the gospel. All of the Stovall children were baptized into the Gillespie Church. Not only did Rev. Stovall pastor the Gillespie Church, but his son Truett was also pastor there for a short time. Two of the Stovall sons are in the ministry.

In view of his intimate relationship with the Gillespie Baptist Church through the years, Rev. Stovall plans to speak at the first service on the subject "Going Back to Bethel."

Music during the revival services will be under the direction of Rev. Herb Barker, pastor of the Rochester Baptist Church. E. G. Parkhill will be pianist.

STATE CAPITAL

Highlights

AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Texas — Whichever way the ball bounces, Texans can look forward to a hefty increase in state taxes for 1960-61.

House of Representatives passed a general appropriations bill calling for spending of $332,000,000, from general revenue. Senators took a more economical approach, began their work with a bill calling for $30,000,000 less than the House measure.

Even so, the Senate proposal would put spending some 21,000,000, above the present level and require an estimated $117,000,000 in new tax money.

House bill includes longevity pay raises for long-time state employees and increases in welfare checks to the aged, blind and dependent, all added during floor debate. House also accepted committee recommendations for boosts in the appropriations for higher education, state hospitals and special schools and the prison system.

GASOLINE TAX VIEWED—Gov. Price Daniel says he's ready to support a 1-cent hike in the state gasoline tax if it will be used to improve public schools, raise teacher salaries.

Neither the House nor Senate appropriations bill included public school teacher raises. Lawmakers seemed to think this, if it were to be done, should be handled in a separate bill.

Texas still would have a lower gasoline tax than other states, said Daniel, even after the 1-cent raise. He said he felt sure service station operators would "go along" with it if it were for the purpose of better schools.

Opponents say that, with practically everyone to use a car these days, the gasoline levy is about as "general as a sales tax can get."

HEALTH CHIEF RESIGNS—Recent target of lawmakers is the State Health Department, where Commissioner Henry A. Holle stepped out of his $18,000-a-year post under the glare of legislative disapproval.

Dr. Holle said he felt the department would be better off with another commissioner who could get more support in the way of legislative appropriations.

Meanwhile, both House and Senate launched inquiries into Health Department spending practices.

FLEXIBLE RATING OFF—State regulation of Texas auto insurance rates apparently will continue for at least another two years.

Senate Insurance Committee refused to approve a flexible rating plan, sent it to the sub-committee "graveyard."

Backers of the bill, mostly large out-of-state companies, claimed it would save Texas auto owners millions. Careful drivers would be rewarded with lower insurance, they said.

Opponents, including most Texas companies, fought the bill, said it would "take the lid off" rates. They said a merit rating plan, being considered by the State Board of Insurance, would take care of rewarding safe drivers.

PARTY IN FIGHTING begins—Fifteen months ahead of convention time is not too soon for Texas Democrats to start haggling over who'll receive their presidential nominating votes.

U. S. Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson is the focal point of controversy. Recent developments:

Young Democrats of Texas, currently controlled by leftwingers, declared the senator should pay more attention to the party platform. J. Ed Connally, chairman of the state executive committee, quickly announced the Young Demos did not speak for the party. He called them "immature extremists."

Democrats of Texas, unofficial liberal organization, announced it would have a convention in Austin in May. DOT, also, has "fallen out" with Sen. Johnson.

In the Legislature, the House elections committee approved a bill that would allow Senator Johnson to run for president and re-election as senator in the same general election.

NO AGGIE WOMEN—U. S. Supreme Court has upheld state court rulings that women are not entitled by law to enter Texas A&M College.

A&M officials were pleased, but Bryan-Brazos County citizens, for the most part, took a dim view of the enrollment restriction.

Their feelings were reflected in Bryan Sen. William T. Moore's prediction that "if the A&M Board continues its present policies, the time will come when A&M will have a classroom for each student enrolled there."

There is a fear that when Arlington College, an A&M branch which admits women, advances to senior college status, it may eclipse the parent institution.

LENDING BILL, FILIBUSTERED—Senate disagreement over how to improve loan shark regulation brought on the first filibuster of the session.

Uncle Ben from Benjamin says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

My experience with driving a automobile ain't too wide on account of there's too many things to go wrong with a car fer a thinking man to fool with very long. If the battery ain't dead a tire is flat or the license is due or the gas tank is empty or a hen is setting in the back seat and a feller don't want to disturb her. And I been around long enough to know driving a car ain't no sign you own it, you may be just renting it from the finance company. But I know more about cars than them automobiles associations that is advocating a law requiring anybody who hits a "unattended vehicle" to leave a written note giving his name and address.

If a woman backs her car out from the curb on a crowded Saturday afternoon and knocks the park off'n the side of the car parked to her right and the car parked to her left and maybe off the back end of the car on the opposite side of the street, this new law would require her to write three notes with her name and address and leave 'em in three cars.

If I had a car and it was scraped by a woman backing her car out, I would appreciate it if she would just keep on driving. As sure as thunder if she tries to git back into her parking space to write me a note she done it, she'll take off more paint and smash more fenders going back in and coming back out, doing three times as much damage as she would've done afore they passed a law.

I say when a woman with two or three kids in the front and back seat and a cigarette needing the ashes flicked gits her car started and out in the middle of the street, regardless of how many fenders she took with her, the thing that's needed fer peace and tranquility is to keep her going and git her home as quick as possible without stopping to write no notes.

If I backed out and dented somebody's car, I know enough about human nature to know leaving him a note ain't going to pacify him. He's going to be as mad as a wet hen in just one direction but if he don't know who done it he'll scatter his anger in all directions at the human race in general. A note would just make him concentrate on me and he'd brood over it fer months, and you know blamed well I ain't gonna pay him nothing on account of his car being parked at the wrong angle in the first place.

If they start that note-writing propoganda around here, Mister Editor, you give 'em the benefit of your editorial enlightenment on the subject.

Yours truly,
Uncel Ben

Junior Class Observes Annual "Sneak Day"

Members of the junior class, Knox City High School, participated in a "Sneak Day" jaunt to Wichita Falls, Friday, April 10.

This year the youngsters made a tour of Shepherd Air Force Base in Wichita Falls, then went swimming at the YMCA. After a swim, they made a tour of KSYD Television Station and then arrived back home that evening.

Disease Costly to Cotton Farmers

Disease took a $156 million bite out of the 1958 Texas cotton crop, report 15 cotton specialists located throughout the state.

"Cotton diseases kept at least 930,000 bales of cotton from being marketed," said Harlan Smith, extension plant pathologist, who compiled the information for the Cotton Disease Council.

Besides the $156 million cash loss to producers, there were losses of business to farm labor, rail roads, trucking companies, suppliers, compress companies, storage facilities and other phases of the industry. Diseases also were a major factor in grade reduction and a limiting factor in yield.

This loss occurred even though 1958 growing conditions were generally good as record yields were harvested in many areas, Smith said.

Major diseases and estimated loss due to their effect on yield were bacterial blight, 7.31 percent; root rot, 3.18 percent; verticillium wilt, 3.06 percent; seedling diseases, 3.0 percent; and boll rots, 0.92 percent. Other diseases causing losses were root knot nematodes, fusarium wilt and ascochyta blight.

These average figures don't give the true picture because in areas where diseases struck the hardest losses ran into ruinous figures, pointed out Smith. For example, root rot was estimated to have caused a 25 percent loss in the Central Blackland area. Seeding diseases were especially damaging in the Lower Rio Grande Valley and in some North Texas areas. Bacterial blight caused damage throughout most of the state.

Auto Accidents Take Heavy Toll

Traffic accidents on U. S. highways during 1958 caused more than 2,825,000 injuries although deaths decreased five percent, according to statistics compiled by The Travelers Insurance Companies.

The record number of injuries represented a 12 per cent increase during the year over 1957 totals—more than twice the percentage increase of a year ago.

Highway deaths for the year totaled 38,700. Travelers estimated that for every highway fatality there were 77 injuries.

In its annual traffic safety booklet, "The Luckless Legion," published annually since 1931 except for the war years, The Travelers Insurance Companies estimated that more than 60,000,000 Americans have been killed or injured since the advent of the automobile.

During the past year drivers under 25 were involved in 27.1 percent of all fatal accidents and more than 20 per cent of non-fatal crashes, the report pointed out. This record was compiled by a group which constitutes at best only 14 per cent of all licensed drivers, the report emphasized.

Passenger cars were involved in almost 80 per cent of the fatal accidents and 87 per cent of the non-fatal accidents. The Travelers report estimated that although total mileage traveled by commercial vehicles is almost that of passenger cars, private cars become involved in four-fifths of the fatal crashes and seven-eighths of the non-fatal accidents.

Red Tape Eased on FHA Home Loans

Rural communities and small-town banks may be coming into the home building field as Federal Housing Authority (FHA) loan agents.

This was the prediction recently of Edward J. Dee, FHA director for Fort Worth, and Ralph G. Campbell, also of Fort Worth, president of the Lumbermen's Association of Texas. They headed a team explaining the workings of a new FHA program to West Central Texas bankers, real estate men builders and contractors.

Dee cited Cross Plains as an example of the type of town the program would aid most. The last FHA loan made in Cross Plains, he said, was in 1950, yet he said surely someone in Cross Plains wanted a new FHA home sometime within this time. Many times a building deal is not completed because getting an FHA appraiser and inspector there takes too long.

Small banks, who could lend more money easily on livestock or farms have avoided FHA insured financing, he said, because of the red tape involved in completing an FHA loan.

Consequently, the profitable financing of home loans has gone to Eastern mortgage brokers. Dee said, and city areas have received most of the FHA loans because of the concentration of people made it profitable for lending companies to train staffs in FHA financing.

Dee said the new program would put at least one FHA inspector and appraiser in each county eligible. These inspectors would get $7.50 for each of five inspections and appraisers $20-$35 for each appraisal. These people would certify a house as eligible for an FHA loan. Simplified FHA procedure would permit the local bank to write up the loan with as little trouble as making a conventional loan. The FHA would have little more to do than to make a formal approval of the loan insurance, Dee said.

The program is called the "Certified Agency Program." Campbell, whose lumbermen's association is sponsoring a series of these educational meetings, said he expects the necessary legislation to be through Congress within two weeks. The bill will raise the amount of money the FHA can lend by five billion dollars this year. At present, the FHA is near the top of its legal limits and cannot start the program until the ceiling is raised, said A. B. Hatcher, FHA official.

In addition, the FHA will help the local banks, to find buyers for the notes on FHA-insured houses. Dee estimated the loans would produce a 6 per cent re-

Will the new farm bill encourage blending of rayon with cotton? ... we think so ... look at it this way: Mills point out that excessive cleaning and too much heat lower spinning qualities of cotton ... some mills add up to 20% rayon to reduce these spinning problems ... in the past both the ginner and farmer could oftentimes sell above the loan by ginning for spinning quality instead of grade ... seems there is very little chance of "A" cotton selling above 110% of "B" supports this year ... so the farmer will gin "for the loan" and spinning quality will go out the window ... when "A" cotton gets to the mills, spinning problems caused by the excessive heat and cleaning will show up ... mills will be unhappy ... in will go rayon and there's another lost market for cotton ... all this points up need for better methods of measuring spinning quality of cotton ... and incentives to reduce for ultimate use rather than for support prices.

Check Seed
If your cotton seed has been stored for a couple of years, you better have a germination test run on a sample ... may save tears later on.

Skip Row Planting
Skip row planting is taking quite a hold in some spots over the country ... could pay you to look into it ... oh, yes, if you do decide to try some skip row cotton, be certain to check with your ASC committee to find how wide the "skip" have to be not to count in your acreage allotment.

Cotton Lunch
Cotton and cotton seed were quite apparent at some European luncheons recently ... they were present as margarine, salad oil, tablecloths, napkins, cotton-content paper menus ... provided by Cotton Council International.

Split Grades
Bales of cotton graded "plus" or "light spot" will bring more money from government supports (either loans on "B" or purchase of "A") on this crop than in the past ... this will be the first recognized by government supports.

turn on money invested, and local banks could collect loan service fees because the payments would be made directly to their banks each month.

O'Brien Wins Third Place In District 14-B Track Meet

O'Brien, with 22 points, took third place honors in the District 14-B Track meet held Saturday at Rochester.

Weinert was winner of the meet with 61 points; Rochester placed second with 52½; O'Brien, third; Rule, fourth with 8½ points and Paint Creek, fifth, with three points. Mattson failed to score.

Rochester snared seven first places to five for Weinert. O'Brien took the other first place ... the pole vault.

Rule won the junior high division with 49½ points. Other scores in the junior division were Rochester 26½; O'Brien, 6; Weinert, Paint Creek and Mattson in that order.

Rochester won the grade school division.

Excessive Speed Is Biggest Cause Traffic Accidents

Excessive speed was by far the biggest single cause of traffic accidents that caused more than 2,825,000 injuries and 36,700 deaths on U. S. highways during 1958. The Travelers Insurance Company reported in its latest safety booklet.

It was estimated that speed killed and injured nearly 1,000,000 persons in the United States last year, more than 40 per cent of the total.

Cars that did not have the right-of-way were involved in 25.2 per cent of the accidents causing a total of 608,400 injuries during the year. Reckless driving was blamed for 10.4 per cent of the injuries; cutting in for 4.0 per cent and improper signaling for 3.6 per cent.

Crossing at intersections was the chief cause of the 7,700 pedestrians killed and 245,800 injured. A total of 10.1 per cent, or 27,040 pedestrians were injured while crossing with the signal as compared with 7.4 per cent injured crossing against the signal.

It was reported that 97.1 per cent of the drivers involved in fatal accidents had more than a year of driving experience; that 87.9 per cent of drivers involved in fatal accidents were

"Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen." (Heb. 11:1)
Faith is substance—evidence. It is something you can have such as a boat on the water. The small boat is limited in the distance it can go on the sea. The larger the boat, the farther out it is to the great ocean of God's love you can emerge.
Seek a deeper settled faith and it will bring to you a greater peace, more joyful and successful life. God will show you great and mighty things—things that were made of things which do not appear.
