Aiming for the moon

Dillman program offers students career choices

By MARTHA TOLES FROST
City Editor

Dillman Space Center was activated last week as crews of Dillman Elementary School kindergarten "astronauts" boarded Vicki Surret's space bubble for the launch of their lives!

The space bubble—made of thick gauge plastic, folded and taped on three sides, then filled with air from a fan—held up to 15 students at a time.

Kindergarten student Jonathan Heron described the imaginary space trip: "We got to get moon rocks. And we saw our own world up there. I saw Mars."

Mrs. Surret said she wanted to teach her students about space—to make it real for them with lights for stars and planets on top.

"We had to get permission from Mission Control for everything," she said, "and we had to count down before we blasted off."

Mrs. Surret even played the theme from "Star Wars" while students pretended to walk on the moon and gather moon rocks.

"They (the moon rocks) were really candy," Johathan said. "We took them back to earth, and then we ate them."

Garrett Riley, Kelesy Tipps and Colby Carpenter told Mrs. Surret, "It's just like 'Apollo 13'" (the movie).

The experience was part Dillman's annual kindergarten career awareness activities.

Six Dillman kindergarten classes spent 30 minutes in each kindergarten room, rotating to experience possible career choices.

Various traffic signs and names of businesses over each door transformed "kindergarten hall" into a community called "Kidville."

Kindergarten student

Maribel Tafolla liked the food best: "I got to play in Mrs. (Lynne) Walker's room (the Pumpkin Patch Cafe). I ate muffins—pumpkin muffins."

Teacher Cindy Cargile set up Dillman Hospital and Veterinary Clinic, where students gave stuffed animals shots and carried around "newborn babies."

Students iced and served cookies at The Cookie Factory—the classroom idea of Donna Wiley.

Betty Lacefield set up a Mini Mall in her room—a beauty shop, clothing store and bank. And Pam Mitchell opened up a post office.

Kindergartener Courtney Mardis said she enjoyed mailing "pretend" letters, using dinosaur stamps.

MISD exploring alternative school

By MARTHA TOLES FROST
City Editor

At Muleshoe Independent School District's last board meeting, Superintendent Bill Moore introduced the idea of an alternative "boot camp" campus for Muleshoe and neighboring schools.

Counties with a population of 125,000 or more already are being mandated by law to provide boot camp campuses for students with serious and persistent misbehavior, Moore said.

Moore sees the mandate approaching for small schools in sparsely populated counties, and he wants MISD to be ready. The numbers (of students) don't make it feasible for a small district to handle financially, Moore explained.

The boot camp would be a cooperative effort by the same nine districts that have combined to form the Pep alternative academic campus.

But the boot camp campus would serve as an alternative discipline campus to meet the needs of students with serious behavior problems, who are "falling through the cracks."

Pep was never intended to be a discipline campus, Moore said. "We don't want to blur the line. We don't want to confirm a mis-impression (about Pep School)."

Current education laws have increased the authority of teachers to remove disruptive students. But re-admission of expelled students as part of their probation often places the school district in a difficult position.

Moore said recent revisions in the educational code and the juvenile justice code have made "The first hurdle is the funding. If we can get funding, then we can start thinking about what it (the campus) will look like and find out if all nine school boards want to sign interlocal agreements..."

possible a coordination of efforts between the entities.

Although existing regulation demand that the alternative discipline campus be located in the district that funds it—Sundown, in this case, has volunteered—Amherst has an old hospital within its city limits which Moore believes could be transformed into a boot camp campus.

The nine cooperating schools would need to use an existing facility. "The less amount of work required, the better," Moore said.

The facility would provide counseling as well as physical and academic training and counseling and would involve cooperation with juvenile probation officers and county judges.

"The first hurdle is the funding," Moore said. "If we can get funding, then we can start thinking about what it (the campus) will look like and find out if all nine school boards want to sign interlocal agreements..."

"We can get serious about employees and visiting other alternative boot camp campuses."

Late TD crushes Mules' upset bid

By RICK WHITE

FLOYDADA — Six Flags over Texas couldn't build a roller coaster ride bigger than the one Muleshoe took here Friday night in a gut-wrenching 35-34 District 2-3A loss to Floydada.

The Mules were within moments of erasing that ugly zero in the win column, scoring with 1:18 to play for a 34-28 lead. But they could only watch in horror as Ramon McCann returned the ensuing kickoff 79 yards to tie the score. Zack Abshier then kicked the deciding extra point.

"I don't think I can remember a game any more exciting than that," Muleshoe head coach Randy Adair said. "It was such a series of ups and downs."

"I don't know why this is happening to these kids. They deserve so much more, yet they have to suffer so much."

Muleshoe (0-8, 0-3) appeared to have the game in control for much of the second half, taking a 27-14 lead late in the third quarter on a 35-yard run by quarterback Daniel Garbarino.

Grabarino was a man among the boys most of the night, gaining 311 all-purpose yards while running for two touchdowns and passing for two more.

"He's the best athlete in the district," Floydada head coach Bryan Davis. "We knew he'd be tough to contain, with his speed and athletic ability... he's hard to contain."

Floydada (3-5, 1-2) pulled within 27-21 with just over eight minutes left in the game when Abshier hooked up with

Wilson claims Power Points top prize

Expansion teams aren't supposed to win often, if at all, in their first year of competition in the National Football League. And if the contestants in the Muleshoe Journal's Power Points football contest had their way, they wouldn't.

But the expansion Jacksonville Jaguars and Carolina Panthers are on a roll and giving pigskin prognosticators fits along the way.

In the local Power Points contest, R.G. Wilson survived a tough week with 93 points to win the $10 first prize, as well as a gift certificate from Leal's Restaurant.

Wilson had a hunch about the Panthers, picking them over the Saints. But like many others, he logically (but incorrectly) picked Buffalo over New England and Miami over the New York Jets.

Second with 92 points was Scott Brown of Rt. 3, Box 435, Muleshoe. He also correctly picked Carolina, but suffered from losses by Cleveland (to Jacksonville) and Tampa Bay (to Atlanta) and Buffalo (to Atlanta) wins $7.50.

Third and $5 goes to Elizabeth Torres of 814 W. Second, Muleshoe, with 91 points. Hurt by most of the upsets, her upset special of the week, Baylor over Texas A&M, didn't pan out either.

Honorable mention went to Crystal Casto and Johnnie Miller, both of whom had 90 points. Last week's winner, Alan Harrison of Muleshoe, finished with 84 points.

The statewide winner of $1,000 was Damon Compton, a deputy sheriff in Reeves County, who entered through the Pecos Enterprise. Compton hit an amazing 129 of 136 in a week that saw very few get above the 100-point mark.

Compton went with both expansion teams and lost just two points on the Jets' upset of Miami. His only other miss was St Louis' loss to San Francisco, a five-pointer.

Chad Hinkle on a quick post on a fourth-and-goal at the MHS eight-yard line.

But Muleshoe responded with a clock-chewing drive, moving 35 yards on the ground to the Whirlwinds' 35 with a little less than four minutes left.

But Garbarino fumbled, and Floydada scored on the next play. A 72-yard halfback option pass from Vernon Cooper to Hinkle gave the Whirlwinds their first lead, 28-27.

Back came the more-stubborn-than-a Mules, Garbarino going up top with a 38-yard pass to split end John Embry.

Four plays later, Garbarino drew the defense on a bootleg and lobbed a 12-yard touch-down pass to a wide-open Doug Fields. Jesse Gonzales kicked the extra point (which Adair later admitted was a mistake) to give the Mules a very short-lived 34-28 lead.

With Garbarino stretching the defense from sideline-to-sideline on bootlegs and Jake Adair (124 yards on 24 carries) working between the tackles, the Mules gained 428 yards of total offense.

DECA mailing surveys

All City of Muleshoe customers will receive two surveys with their October water billings. Muleshoe High School DECA students will be using the data collected for written events to be entered in district, state and national competition this year.

Information from one of the surveys will be compiled by DECA student Lesli Radford who is entering the Entrepreneurship Written Event. She is writing a proposal for a radio station. The written event will include a self-analysis, an analysis of the community needs and desires, as well as the use of business principles and practices in starting the business.

The other survey pertains to the Retail Marketing Research Event which is being written by the team of Angelica Diaz, Sylvia Alvarado and Sylvia Norman. These DECA students are developing a marketing plan for a new customer service within an existing business. They are studying the feasibility of a drive-through, fax, and call-in services for ALCO to increase sales and accessibility.

DECA appreciates your help in completing the surveys you find in your water bill and returning them with your City of Muleshoe payment this month. We extend a special thanks to the City of Muleshoe for allowing us to distribute and collect the surveys in this way. DECA- Developing Future Leaders in Marketing and Management

MHS theatre students feuding in 'Blood Wedding'

By MARTHA TOLES FROST
City Editor

Muleshoe High School theatre students will present "Blood Wedding" in the high school auditorium at 7 p.m. Oct. 30-31 and Nov. 2.

Considered Spain's most powerful and passionate tragedy, the drama by Federico Garcia Lorca is about feuding families, "bad blood" and prejudice in Spain during the early 1900s. Admission is $2 for the full length play.

Director Kerry Moore, who has headed up Muleshoe's drama department 36 years, said he selected the Spanish tragedy because of the complexity of its plot and characterization. "I chose it because of the skills the actors can learn by performing it."

Leonardo, played by Carlos Rojas, is desperately in love with the bride-elect, played by Holly Hutton. But he is already married to her cousin.

"He is not a good son or a good husband or a good father," Moore said.

Moore describes Leonardo as a selfish man with an evil father and a poor background—an envious man who would like to have the possessions of other men. He covets the best land, the most attractive women.

Because of Leonardo's interference in the approaching marriage, the prospective groom's (Kermit Prices's) mother—played by Chanda Weatherbie—is afraid of losing her entire family to Leonardo's kinsmen, the Felix family, which has already killed her husband and son.

The brides' father, played by Tyson Moncrief, also sees Leonardo as no good. He and the groom's mother are appalled when Leonardo shows up at the wedding.

Kenzie Brown plays Leonardo's wife, and Melissa Mata plays his mother-in-law.

Other cast members are Mark McGuire, Adrian King, Scotty Mills, Stephanie Sexton, Kayna Puckett, Nathan Keller, Luke Bruns, Molly Woodworth and Holly Whipple.

The costumes—seven rented and the other nine fashioned by Amber Bruns, Erin Wilhite and Tarrah Bell—are period costumes of Spain in the 1900s. These three costume designers also handled the make-up and props.

The stage crew consists of James Cox (lighting), Aaron Faver (sound), and Adam Graves, Jake Caswell and Darren Box (crew).

Moore said the theatre department will begin working on the one-act contest play in January, with tryouts in December.

Mule JV silences Whirlwinds, 26-0

Dustin Cleavinger scored on both sides of the ball and Louis Hines scored a touchdown in his first game of the season as the Muleshoe High School junior varsity beat Floydada, 26-0, Thursday at Benny Douglass Stadium.

Cleavinger caught a 10-yard pass from quarterback Matt McClanahan to give the Mules (2-5-1) a 7-0 lead in the first quarter.

On the next series, Cleavinger intercepted a Whirlwind pass from his defensive end position and returned it 25 yards for the score. Cleavinger's second-straight extra point made it 14-0 at half-time.

Hines scored from 12 yards out in the third quarter.

Toby Villa capped the scoring late in the fourth quarter when he intercepted a batted Whirlwind pass in the Floydada backfield and raced 75 yards for a touchdown.

Mule 8th loses late

FLOYDADA — Clint Black had 204 yards of total offense, but it wasn't enough as Floydada late and beat the Watson Junior High School 8th-grade Mules, 26-20, here Thursday.

Black rushed for 137 yards on 24 carries and scored three touchdowns.

WJHS (3-3-1) took a 14-6 halftime lead on a nine-yard run by Black and a 27-yard halfback option pass from Jesse Reyes to Black.

Black's one-yard run gave the Mules a 20-12 lead in the third quarter.

The Whirlwinds pulled within 20-18 later in the quarter on a 65-yard run on a fake punt and then scored the game-winner on a 35-yard run with a minute left in the game.

Jeremy Tosh gained 48 yards on seven carries for the Mules, while quarterback James Barrett was 2-for-6 for 42 yards.

On defense, Reyes had two sacks and six tackles, linebacker Mitch Green had seven tackles (six solo), linebacker Rhett Green had six tackles and caused a fumble, cornerback Judd Glover and defensive end Brett Clements each had five tackles and free safety Jeff Bruns had an interception.

WJH 7th stays unbeaten

FLOYDADA — Zack Barrett and Jerrell Otwell each threw touchdown passes to lead the Watson Junior High School 7th-grade Mules to a 36-12 win over Floydada here Thursday.

WJHS took a 14-12 halftime lead on a 20-yard run by Chris Vela and a 35-yard pass from Otwell to Danny Ramirez.

The Mules (5-0-1) outscored Floydada 22-0 in the second half.

Darrell Lewis started the outburst with a one-yard run in the third quarter and Lindy Pineda capped the scoring with a 45-yard interception return.

In between, Barrett and Jeff

Shelburne combined on a 20-yard scoring strike.

Otwell ran for two two-point conversions and Vela added one.

On defense, linebacker Cade Hooten had an interception and the WJHS coaching staff said defensive tackle Manuel Flores and linebacker Blake Bates both played well in the loss.

Lazbuddie's Lueras wins second-straight 5-1A title

AMARILO — Daniel Lueras of the Lazbuddie High School won his second-straight District 5-1A boys cross country title Tuesday at Thompson Park.

The Longhorn senior posted his season-best time of 18 minutes and 54 seconds, finishing almost 30 seconds in front of the field.

"He hasn't been running as well as he did last year," Lazbuddie coach Gary Grahn said. "He's finally put it together. Now I think he has a shot at state."

Texline placed four runners in the top ten and won the team title with 18 points.

Adrian was second with 58 points and Channing third with 69 points.

Lazbuddie, the defending district champion, did not field a complete team.

Amherst won the girls meet with 36 points. Lazbuddie was fifth with 106 points.

The top two teams and top five individuals at the district meet advance to the regional meet.

The top three teams and the top 10 runners at the regional meet Nov. 4 qualify for the state meet.

Fish & Wildlife News

The U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service has given conditional approval of bismuth-tin shot for hunting migratory birds during the 1995-96 hunting season only.

Studies to date suggest that bismuth-tin shot is nontoxic when ingested by waterfowl.

Bismuth-tin or steel shot may now be used when hunting waterfowl and coot.

Nontoxic shot is not required while hunting sandhill cranes.

The 1995-96 hunting for sandhill cranes in Zone A, which includes the South Plains Region, is Nov. 11 to Feb. 11.

Texas awarded $6 million

Continuing a conservation tradition spanning more than 60 years, state fish and wildlife agencies will share $268 million in excise taxes paid by America's hunters, target shooter, boaters and anglers.

The state of Texas received $6 million.

The agencies will use the money for wildlife conservation through land acquisition, habitat improvement, research, education and other projects.

The funds will also help pay for hunting education programs and wildlife-related recreation projects.

Farm animals in history

BAXTER BLACK
ON THE EDGE OF COMMON SENSE

Mankind from prehistory to space exploration has always depended on animals for help in their quest for advancing civilization. Granted, often as bait or as guinea pigs, but we have depended on them, none the less.

After extensive research of my cerebral micro file, I've discovered several remarkable case histories that have affected the course of our world.

For instance, Admiral Perry carried a Canadian goose on his Arctic trek to find the North Pole. Whenever the magnetic field messed up his compass, he would tie the goose to a sled runner with a 50-foot piece of baler twine. The goose, being the only one with enough common sense to fly south would try and take off. Perry and his parakeets would mush in the opposite direction.

Everyone, of course, is familiar with Magellan's pig, who sniffed his way through the Straits. In Magellan's defense, he did name them the Straits of Yorkshire. But the name was already taken by a group of heterosexuals from the North of England. So he named them after himself.

The Trojan Horse is legendary, but where do you think the Greeks got the idea? That's right ... the Trojan Goat. Two years previous, a football team from Texas A&M had tried the same strategy to invade a bar called the Dixie Chicken. Problem was, they could only get two players in the goat at one time so only half the team got dragged into the bar before the bartender got wise. That left five guys still outside.

Even part of our language is derived from famous farm animals. During the medieval crusades, King Arthur was dickering with a nomadic Mexican sheepherder. Art asked what he called these beasts. The herder misunderstood and thought he was asking the price. He replied "Cheap". So 'sheep' was added to our English vocabulary.

The Great Jamboni performed at the Colossus in Rome. He had an act that involved jumping his famous cow, Yerk, over a bonfire. One night Yerk stumbled and was consumed by the fire. Next morning the groundskeepers were cleaning up the remains and noticed dry, tough remnants of meat clinging to the bones. To this day we still remember that famous cow by naming the discovery in her honor ... Yerky.

General Custer always carried a mongrel Blood Hound named Huey, who could smell pemmican and warpaint for miles. As the cavalry approached the Little Bighorn, Custer sent Huey over the hill to check it out. Huey returned agitated. "Well?" asked the impatient Custer. Huey pointed back the way he came. He raced back and forth like he was chasing cars, then grabbed the General's wallet and scattered his business cards and took his money. Then he grabbed a stick and shook it. Custer grabbed his wallet back, kicked the dog and yelled, "Charge!"

He never understood the message which was "more Sioux than you could shake a stick at". If Custer had only been a lawyer he would have known Huey couldn't spell sue and therefore prevented disaster.

The dog survived the battle, was adopted by the Sioux and spawned a long line of camp dogs.

But his offspring always told the tale of the battle and Chief Sitting Huey.

Minding your own business

By Don Taylor

Sled Dog Philosophy

Someone once made the observation that only the lead dog in the sled dog team has an unobstructed view of what's in front of him. You can say the same thing for the typical small business owner. Usually, he or she is the only one in the organization who knows where the team is headed.

In a small business, the owner exchanges the great view for the responsibility of setting the pace and establishing the direction for everyone else. It's tough to be the leader because you're often out front by yourself. Here are some tips that will help you set the pace, establish direction and motivate the team.

Doggone good ideas

Pick good dogs

President Franklin D. Roosevelt admitted publicly that he wasn't the brightest or most talented leader this country ever had. To compensate, he surrounded himself with the best and brightest in our nation. Then he empowered his "brain trust" of key employees with the authority to make decisions in their areas of responsibility.

I've observed that most small business owners hire too quickly and fire too slowly. By spending more time on the selecting and hiring process, you'll get better employees. Reward them well, and let them help you pull the sled.

Plan before you pack

Too often I see bright talented men and women load their sled, harness a team and then ask themselves where they are going.

By planning first and implementing later, you can get a good idea of how large a sled you'll need and how many dogs it will take to pull it. You also have time to plot a safe, comfortable course or select a trail to follow.

Following your plan all through the journey will keep you from getting lost along the way. Which reminds me of the two-sled dog drivers who were hopelessly lost in the Yukon. The first one asked, "Do you have any idea where we are?" The second replied, "No, but we're making great time."

Teach old dogs new tricks.

Every team member can benefit from building new skills and learning new techniques. No dog is too old to learn. Some are more stubborn than others and resist change with all their might, but with proper motivation you can teach them.

Some of the strongest, most effective business teams are cross-trained so there is never an empty slot in the harness. If

Stay out in front

There are many styles of leadership. Some leaders are pushers. They lead from behind the whip. Some leaders are yellers. They holler "hurry up" from the back of the pack. The best leaders are those out front. They are always in sight of the team, they don't get too far ahead and they make certain that the team is following.

Share the view

When you're out front, you truly have the unobstructed view. The leaders communicate their vision to the rest of the team.

Even the dogs at the back of the pack want to know where the team is headed. How long is the journey? How rough is the trail? Who else is in the race? Can we win? Do I get a bigger bone if we do? (I'll leave the translation of dog questions up to you.)

I believe in open-book management, where leaders share not only the mission and vision of the company, but also its financial performance.

Then they give every employee a stake in improving the operation. The team concept works best when all team members know where they are headed, what is expected of each of them and how they are doing.

Kiwanis News

The Muleshoe Kiwanis Club met for their weekly meeting Friday, Oct. 20 at Viola's Restaurant.

The meeting was called to order by the vice president Clay Kidd. The prayer was given by R.G. Bennett and the pledge was led by the sweetheart Michelle Williams. The friendship coin was passed from the sweetheart, Michelle Williams to Sonny Bennett.

J.O. Parker, a volunteer with the Muleshoe Volunteer Fire Department, gave a program on the fire department and its commitment to the community. He discussed their many activities and fund-raising projects.

The Muleshoe Kiwanis club is proud to support the Fire Department and included a check to help them in their efforts to help each other and the community. Thanks J.O. for a great program.

Members attending the meeting included R.G. Bennett, Sonny Bennett, Ricky Railsback, Mark Huddleston, Eddy Morris, Bryan Morris, Jim Lutz, Joe Flores, Roy Anzaldua, J.O. Parker, and sweetheart, Michelle Williams.

POWER POINTS OFFICIAL RULES

- Object of the game is to amass as many of the 136 possible points as you can. Simply review the week's schedule of games, listed on entry form, and decide which game you are surest of picking a winner in. Write the name of your projected winner on the 16-point line. If that team wins its game that week, you win 16 points. Write the name of your second-surest winner on the 15-point line, and so on down to the 1-point line, which game you figure to be a toss-up. Next, fill in Tiebreaker 1, the total points scored by both teams in the week's Cowboys or Oilers game. If this step fails to produce a winner, the judges will apply Tiebreaker 2, total offensive yardage from scrimmage in this game. If a winner still doesn't emerge, a drawing will be held among those contestants still tied. Decisions of the judges are final.
- Any entry form that does not contain a legible name, address, etc., will be disqualified.
- Entries that fail to forecast a winner from each and every game will be disqualified, as will entries that fail to distinguish between the Jets and Giants of New York and, when necessary, between the Houston Oilers and the Houston Cougars.
- No points are awarded on tie games or in case any game is not played for any reason during its scheduled week.
- Entering POWER POINTS constitutes permission by contestant for his or her name and photograph to be used for news and reasonable promotional purposes at no charge.
- Employees of this newspaper and their immediate families are ineligible to participate.
- No purchase necessary. Facsimile game entry forms will be accepted and are available at all outlets of participating co-sponsors. Enter contest by dropping entry form into POWER POINTS container at participating co-sponsors.
- Weekly deadline for entry will be 2 p.m. Fridays except when noted otherwise on weekly entry form.
- Neither this newspaper nor any co-sponsor will be responsible for illegible entry forms or those lost, stolen or damaged in any way.
- Limit: one entry per person per week. Each entry must represent the original work of one entrant; "group" entries, "systems" or other attempts to enter multiple entries will be disqualified. Filling out extra forms and putting your friends' and relatives' names on them violates this rule. Any such entries are destroyed prior to grading.
- Contestants must have reached the age of eight (8) years by the Sunday of any week's play.

WJHS students adopt non-gender specific school song

If you were a boy and your school song started, "Arise ye women of Watson Junior High," wouldn't you feel just a little bit confused? Or kind of left out?

Male and female students at Watson Junior High School in Muleshoe decided this month to abandon their traditional school song which begins, "Arise ye men of Watson Junior High," and adopt a new one.

There were two anonymous submissions in WJHS Student Council's school-song writing contest. All three songs were sung at the last pep rally, and one of the new songs won over the old song.

When asked why the lyrics were changed (the tune is the same), Watson Junior High principal Sheila Joyner said, "If you want to know the truth, the students thought then song was sexist. They thought it should include all students, not just a segment of the students."

Gender all-encompassing terms which happen to be masculine—like "man-kind"—almost go unnoticed, unless you happen to be a girl.

"Obviously, 'mankind' refers to both genders," we girls were told in elementary school, because—even back in the 50s—we needed an explanation. We noticed the term did not apply to us.

Consider for a moment being grouped with "woman-kind" if you are male. It just doesn't fit, and it's a little ridiculous to say it fits.

Martha Frost

City Editor

(Being called a "tomboy" is regarded as acceptable for a girl, but calling a boy a "sissy" is considered an insult.)

The words people use to describe us have an impact on who we think we are. So shouldn't the words at least be fair and accurate?

The lyrics of the Watson Junior High School song may have needed changing because of additional factors besides gender bias. Most area school songs were written at the turn of the century, when schools were just forming. Some of the words in the old school song may seem a little archaic today.

Being faithful is not outdated, but "faithfulness" is not a term most modern day junior high students would use to describe "loyalty" to their school.

And the song ends with words we can imagine our grandparents singing: "Arise ye men of Watson Junior High through eternity." Think of it. A junior high school in heaven or the other place.

The old song also contains words that are out of normal sequence, to fit the tune—a poetic practice of our ancestors: "We'll forever stand

WATSON JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL

Lyrics to school song as approved by students October, 1995

Rise and Stand
To praise and honor
Watson Junior High Rise and sing our school's true glory
pledging loyalty.

Conquer all with dedication,
Black and White — our strength!

Rise and stride

Lyrics to "old" school song

Arise ye men of Watson Junior High
Arise ye men today;
We'll forever stand beside you in our Junior High way.
Through the darkness we'll be faithful
Faithful to our school;
Arise ye men of Watson Junior High
Through Eternity.

beside you," instead of "We'll stand beside you forever."

The lyrics go on to describe the way we will stand beside you as "in our junior high way," which seems a little age biased these day, (as if the "junior high" way might be less important or less valid than, say, the "high school" way or the "senior citizen" way).

Another downside to the song is its negativity: "Through the darkness we'll be faithful." (The new song has a more positive way of saying the same thing: "Conquer all with dedication.")

Also on a positive note, the new song mentions the school colors.

The WJHS students have boldly gone where no one in Muleshoe has gone before by just saying "no" to their old school song.

The new one begins with

Obituaries

Ashton Pope Obenhaus

MULESHOE—Graveside services were held at 1 p.m. on Thursday, Oct. 26 at the Muleshoe Memorial Park Cemetery Baby Land for Katie Ashton Pope Obenhaus, infant daughter of Jeff Pope and Candal Obenhaus of Muleshoe.

Ashton was stillborn on Wednesday, Oct. 25. Survivors include her parents and her big brother Aaron Scott, all of Muleshoe.

Grandparents are Gary Pope of Muleshoe, Evelyn Pope Davis of Lubbock, Terry Obenhaus of Muleshoe and Betty Poynor of Muleshoe.

Surviving also are lots of loving great grandparents, aunts, uncles and four adorable cousins.

W.C. "Mutt" Benham

MORTON—Funeral services for W.C. "Mutt" Benham, 78, were held Sunday, Oct. 29 at the First United Methodist Church in Morton with the Rev. Ken Peterson, pastor officiating. The Rev. Al Jennings, retired Methodist minister, assisted.

Burial was in the Morton Memorial Cemetery under the direction of Ellis Funeral Home of Morton.

Mr. Benham died Oct. 27 at Cochran Memorial Hospital after an illness. He was born May 19, 1917 in Cecil, AR. He married Cassie Formby Nov. 29, 1939 in Fort Smith, AR.

He had been a resident of Morton since 1955, moving here from Mulberry, AR. He was a veteran of World War II, serving in the U.S. Navy.

He was a farmer and a member of First United Methodist Church.

Survivors include his wife, Cassie of the home; one son, Jack Benham of Muleshoe; two daughters, LaVelle Hawkins of Lubbock and Linda Bunga of Edmond, OK; two sisters, Gladys Wiechmann of Hobbs, NM and Pauline Eilers of Ransom Canyon, TX; four brothers, D.E. "Gene" Benham of Morton, Raymond Benham of Slaton, Glendon Benham of Ruidoso, NM and Truman Benham of Slaton; seven grandchildren; and three great grandchildren.

He was preceded in death by his daughter, Nancy Carol Benham, in 1968.

The family suggests memorials to the First United Methodist Church in Morton or to a favorite charity.

J.D. (Jeff) Gray

CLOVIS, NM—Graveside services for J.D. (Jeff) Gray, 75, were held Saturday, Oct. 28 at the Old Muleshoe Cemetery in Muleshoe with the Rev. Curtis Tucker and the Rev. Stanley White officiating.

Burial was under the direction of Steed-Todd Funeral Home of Clovis.

Mr. Gray died Oct. 6 at Lubbock Methodist Hospital in Lubbock. He was born March 9, 1920 in Lorenzo, TX. He married Frances Harner Feb. 17, 1940 in Clovis.

He served in the U.S. Navy during World War II. He farmed in the Muleshoe area until 1965. He then moved to Clovis, where he worked for the Clovis School system until 1985, when he retired. He was of the Baptist faith.

Survivors include his two sons, J.D. Gray Jr. and Mike Gray and his wife Sandra, all of Clovis; grandchildren Mikala and Kenny Davis of Albuquerque and Kristal and David Gray of Clovis; one sister, Thelma Byrd of Lubbock; and one brother, John Gray of Corona, CA.

He was preceded in death by his wife, Frances, in 1991.

Casket bearers were Gorman Byrd, Bob Byrd, David Gray, Jesse Gray, Chris Lopez and Chuck Tipton.

The family suggest memorials to the Bethel Assembly of God building fund.

Cotton market not as bad as once feared

The outlook for Texas cotton is not as bleak as it once seemed. Although yields are significantly lower, cotton prices are marginally higher.

Texas cotton yields are lower this season with most irrigated cotton producers reporting yields around 600 pounds-per-acre compared with some irrigated cotton yields of up to 900 to 1000 pounds-per-acre last year.

Cotton prices are markedly higher than the same time last season, easing the blow from exorbitant expense of this year's Texas cotton crop. According to one West Texas cotton analyst, West Texas cotton producers will not have a banner year, but the crop is not a devastating disaster as once feared.

Moreover, USDA's Weekly Crop Condition and Progress Report for the week ended Oct. 15 showed a slight improvement in the condition of the Texas cotton crop.

Seventy-nine percent of Texas' cotton was reported to be in fair to excellent condition, compared with 77 percent the previous week. According to USDA, 33 percent of the Texas crop had been harvested by October 15, versus 28 percent previously reported.

The threat of a freeze in West Texas captured the attention of the market for a short time this week. Producers sighed of relief, however, as no freeze took place.

Although some in the market feel a freeze in West Texas at this stage in the game would not adversely affect the cotton crop, others in the industry disagree.

"The cotton crop picks up a few more pounds each day of warm weather, thus improving yield," according to one analyst.

"On the other hand, a percentage of the cotton was planted late and reached senescence a month early. No matter how late a freeze comes, some of the bolls will be lost due to immaturity," he added. Nevertheless, most producers in the area would prefer a late freeze.

Weather continues to cooperate in the principal cotton areas of the U.S., and the 1995-96 harvest is quickly nearing the midway point.

USDA announced 40 percent of the U.S. crop had been harvested as of Oct. 15, slightly above the five-year average of 38 percent. Market attention has shifted away from weather concerns once again, focusing now on weak demand and ideas that crops in Pakistan and China could be larger than USDA currently estimates.

"The yarn market is weak internationally, higher cotton prices have not been absorbed in the marketplace and mills have curtailed production rather than operate at the current price levels," said one cotton analyst.

True Confession: I Once Hated the School Nurse!

As I recall, it was only one year after the year I fell into love with my second grade teacher that I fell into hate with our school nurse.

"If only the old bandaid pusher had minded her own business..." I muttered something to that effect with all the indignation a myopic eight-year-old could muster. In fact, our school nurse was a savvy lady who minded her own business quite well. Her business was to give eye exams to third-graders like me. I should have thanked her, but I was in no mood.

Focus On Faith

to become, I was sure, the first bespectacled spectacle to walk down the hallowed halls of San Jacinto School. Not a disobedient child normally, I felt forced to take drastic action. I would not wear those things! I'd resist for all I was worth! Oh, I'd wear them to school, but then I'd lose them until time to go home.

There was, however, a fatal flaw in the plan. The hated spectacles had to be put on at least briefly, and I discovered to my amazement that the world surely looked good in focus! I hadn't realized what I'd been missing!

I remembered all of this years later when I came across the title of a book by Edith Schaeffer, A Way of Seeing. I haven't read the book, but I like the title.

A way of seeing. In many ways, that's what Christianity is. It's a way of seeing the people, places, and events that make up the stories of our lives. For fallen human beings who haven't always seen the world very clearly, it is a wonderful thing!

Isn't it strange, though, how strongly most of us resist 20/20 vision? Living in what is so often a dark world, we hardly know how to react to the new light and vision offered by Christ. When we finally allow him to illumine our lives, we are amazed to find that life takes on new color as it comes more and more into focus.

Curtis Shelburne is minister of the 16th & Avenue D Church of Christ in Muleshoe.

Rotary News

The Muleshoe Rotary Club held its weekly meeting at the Bailey County Civic Center on Tuesday, Oct. 24.

The meeting was opened by president Mike McDearmon. Curtis Shelburne provided the invocation and Ed Cox led the group in the Pledge of Allegiance.

One visiting Rotarian was present, Past District governor Ed Self, from the Plainview Club. J.D. Cage brought his wife, Julie and Jerry Hicks brought Jason as their guests.

In old business, Mike expressed his appreciation to Bill Moore, Lary Hooten, and Dan Lusk for their help over the weekend in the painting project at DeShazo school. The project, An Authentic Learning Experience, consists of three businesses. The club provided the labor to paint the structures. Lonnie Adrian was solicited to run the paint gun on a couple of large items to complete the task at hand. President Mike passed around a sign up sheet for judging assignments at the Fall Festival that will be held on Oct. 28.

A report on James Bell was given concerning his recent surgery. He is at home recovering and all appears to be going well. It was also learned that Buck Johnson, an inactive member, had just undergone surgery and the prognosis was also good in his case.

J.D. Cage presented the program for the week on behalf of James Bell. James had procure a tape documenting the history of the United Nations and the involvement of churches over it's life. It was a very appropriate program as we celebrated the 50th anniversary of the formation of the United Nations. President Mike was selected as the Polio Plus winner for the week and led the group in recitation of the Four Way Test.

Members present for the meeting included Lonnie Adrian, Nick Bambert, Ted Barnhill, Harvey Bass, J.D. Cage, Buck Campbell, Don Carter, Kid Castleberry, Vic Coker, Ed Cox, Todd Ellis, Jay Feagley, Clifton Finley, Bob Finney, Jerry Hicks, Lary Hooten (drop by his business and ask him about his school nickname), Terry Hutto, Max King, Larry Kirk, Robert Lepard, Bill Liles, Dan Lusk, Adrian Meador, Mike McDearmon, Don McElroy, Bill Moore, Charles Moraw, mark Morton, George Neiman, Bruce Purdy, Curtis Shelburne, and Paul Wilbanks.

Senior Citizens Dance Group opens winter schedule Oct. 31

The Senior Citizens Dance Group in Muleshoe met Oct. 23 to set dance time for the winter months.

The group will gather at the American Legion Hall on Tuesday nights from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. beginning Oct. 31.

Reporter Thresia Davis said the Tuesday night event provides lots of good dancing, food and fellowship. There is no drinking and no smoking, but a smoking room is available in the building.

The Senior Citizens Dance Group welcomes participation by the community. Music is furnished by Jimmy Espinoza, "The Wrangler," and a buffet is served at halftime.

"We've been having crowds of 80 or more from all over the country," Davis said—including Amherst, Bovina, Farwell, Friona, Labuddie, Earth, Sudan, Levelland and Brownfield, as well as Portales and Clovis, NM.

FACTS ABOUT FAMILIES

(NAPS)—Whether tragic events touch your family personally or are brought into your home via newspapers and television, you can help children cope with the anxiety that violence, death and disasters can cause.

Listening and talking to children about their concerns can reassure them that they will be safe. Start by encouraging them to discuss how they have been affected by what is happening around them. Even young children may have specific questions about tragedies. Children react to stress at their own developmental level.

The Federal Center for Mental Health Services offers these additional pointers for parents and other caregivers:

- Encourage children to ask questions. Listen to what they say. Provide comfort and assurance that address their specific fears. It's okay to admit you can't answer all of their questions.
- Talk on their level. Communicate with your children in a way they can understand. Don't get too technical or complicated.
- Be honest. Tell them exactly what has happened. For example, don't say that someone who has died has "gone to sleep"; children may become afraid of going to bed.
- Find out what else frightens them. Encourage your children to talk about other fears they may have. They may worry that someone will harm them at school or that someone will try to hurt you.

• Focus on the positive. Reinforce the fact that most people are kind and caring. Remind your child of the heroic actions taken by ordinary people to help victims of tragedy.

• Pay attention. Your children's play and drawings may give you a glimpse into their questions or concerns. Ask them to tell you what is going on in the game or the picture. It is an opportunity to clarify any misconceptions, answer questions and give reassurance.

• Develop a plan. Establish a family emergency plan for the future, such as a meeting place where everyone should gather if something unexpected happens in your family or neighborhood. It can help you and your child feel safer.

If you are concerned about your child's reaction to stress or trauma, call your physician or a community mental health center.

For more information on children's mental health, call the Center for Mental Health Services, Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration, one of the Public Health Service agencies in the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services at 1-800-789-2647.

Doctor's discovery may end obesity

HILTON HEAD, S.C. — A doctor has discovered that an ingredient found in a small fruit grown in Asia, combined with an ingredient praised by the U.S. Department of Agriculture can help cause significant weight loss.

In a study published in a prestigious American medical journal, Dr. Anthony A. Conte, M.D. reported that the formula, now called Bio-Max 3000, caused patients to lose more than twice as much weight as a control group on the same fat reduced diet. Neither group was instructed to decrease the amount of food they ate or to increase their exercise levels. An article published in the American Journal of Clinical Nutrition confirms that you don't have to reduce the amount of food you eat to lose weight, provided that you limit the fat.

Scientists suggest that the mechanism behind the weight reduction includes decreasing sugar cravings and interruption of the "Krebs Cycle", an important step in the body's fat storage process. "The best part of this unique discovery is that it is not a drug, but a safe dietary food supplement" says Dr. Conte. The Asian fruit, called garcinia, is similar to citrus fruit found in the United States with one big exception-- it may help some people fight obesity! While Dr. Conte's study may be preliminary, the exclusive North American distributor, Phillips Gulf Corp., is calling the Bio-Max 3000 supplement "Nature's Ideal Diet Aid."

According to a spokesperson for the company, Bio-Max 3000 is now available on a limited basis through pharmacies and nutrition stores or call 1-800-729-8446. © 1995 Phillips Gulf Corp. Bio-Max 3000 is available locally at: DAMRON DRUG STORE 308 Main St. Muleshoe 272-4210

Author's Note: This statement has not been evaluated by the FDA. Bio-Max 3000 is not intended to diagnose, treat, cure, or prevent any disease.

PIRATES NEAR?

The jolly roger, the ancient flag of the pirates, threw fear into every ship that sailed the high seas. These armed robbers sought to raid every ship they came across. None was safe when they were near.

The Bible teaches that there is a devil called Satan who is a robber and a thief, who "goes about like a roaring lion seeking whom he may devour." (1 Peter 5:8) But when the pirate threatens, we need not be afraid. We are encouraged by Romans 8:38 & 39: "For I am persuaded, that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor powers, nor things present, nor things to come; nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature, shall be able to separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus our Lord."

Our faith in Christ can overcome Satan's fiery darts. Through Him we can overcome all. We invite you to attend the Church of our Lord this week.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Top club members recognized for efforts

The 1995 Bailey County 4-H Achievement Banquet was held on Sunday, Oct. 15 at the Bailey County Coliseum.

The Banquet was a noon luncheon and there were some sixty persons who attended, reports Curtis Preston, County Extension Agent-Agriculture.

This special annual event is to recognize Bailey County 4-H'ers from both the Muleshoe 4-H club and the Three Way Club for their achievements during the past year. In addition, the 4-H adult leaders are also recognized for their leadership in various 4-H projects.

The Master of Ceremonies, Russell Pollard, began the invocation. Following her prayer, Justin Lee led the pledge of allegiance and Misty Angeley led the 4-H motto and pledge.

Mrs. Billie Graves welcomed the youth on behalf of Bailey County Electric Cooperative Association. Bailey County Electric has sponsored the banquet for the past 34 years and Josh Tooley, in responding to her welcome, expressed to her the appreciation of all the members of the Bailey County 4-H Clubs for their continued encouragement.

He stated that, "In addition to pledging the Bailey County 4-H Clubs' best efforts toward preparing for tomorrow's leadership roles, we will, in turn, pledge to support and encouraged those 4-H'ers who will follow us."

As the 4-H members, families and guests enjoyed a catered barbecue lunch, Pollard turned the program over to Preston for his presentation of certain awards of recognition. His first group of awards were for record books which were completed for the year.

Those recognized were:
Junior I: Andy Sain—food

nutrition. Junior II—Robin Tooley—housing and home environment. Seniors: Justin Lee—beef. Kim Griswold—citizenship, Josh Tooley—public speaking.

For livestock judging: Senior team: 1. Josh Tooley; 2. Justin Lee; 3. Joey Smith. Junior individual was LeAnn Altman.

For 4-H clothing—District Level: (Note: They must go through County first, then advance to district.) 1. Mickey Bowen; 2. Christy Holt; 3. Audra Lee.

For 4-H food show—District Level: 1. Andy Sain; 2. Ben Angeley; 3. Belle Angeley; 4. Stephanie Kirk; 5. Candace Hutto; 6.; Buck Angeley; 7. Robin Tooley; 8. Audra Lee; 9. Josh Tooley.

There were a number of club and project leaders recognized for their work.

Included were: Patricia Angeley, Brenda Black, Dani Heathington, Lindy Schuster, Jan Tooley, Linda Lee, Howard Tooley, Tracy Angeley, Dr. Steve Kennedy, Alec Schuster, Rex Black, Cheryl Lewis, Terry Pollard, Cheryl Altman, Kathy Bowen, Sherry Harrison and JoEllen Cowart.

All of projects require some time and effort from adult leaders. Appreciation was extended for the dedication these 4-H leaders have given... some over a period of several years. some just now beginning.

This year's Outstanding Family Award went to the Tracy Angeley Family (Tracy and Patricia Angeley, and their children, Buck, Ben and Belle), a family that has been involved with the program for at least 6 years. Each of the children are and have been very active in all phases of the 4-H program. The parents are and have been leaders in several projects during these years and have been role models for their children as well as numerous others." He then presented the plaque to the Linda Lee was named the Outstanding Leader Award for 1995.

The award is given to the "leader or leaders who have devoted much time and energy to the 4-H program."

The next awards, the "IDare You" awards, are presented annually to two Bailey County 4-H'ers and is one of the highest awards that can be received on the county level. The award is made available through the "I Dare You" committee of the American Youth Foundation and the Bailey County Extension Service. The recipients of this award are chosen because of their outstanding 4-H careers to date.

The 1995 winners were: Amande Hahn, daughter of Mike and Terri Hahn, and Joshua Tooley, son of Howard and Jan Tooley.

"The Gold Star Award, stated Preston, "is the highest award that can be received on the county level. It is given normally to two Bailey County 4-H members who have shown outstanding leadership and citizenship abilities. The Gold Star winners are recognized, along with recipients from the other 19 South Plains District counties, at the District Gold Star Banquet in November. This year, we had one Gold Star recipient, Kimberly Griswold, daughter of Dale and Kay Griswold."

The final awards given were general achievement award pins for project work over the past year.

Recognized 4-H'ers who were present at the banquet were: Cody Altman, Lindsey Altman, Belle Angeley, Ben Angeley, Buck Angeley, Misty Angeley, Brady Black, Kymie Black, Marlie Black, Kim Griswold, Amanda Hahn, Kyle Hahn, Krystal Heathington, Myndi Heathington, Tatom Heathington, Amy Hooten, Cade Hooten, Keila Kennedy, Ky Kennedy, Audra Lee, Justin Lee, Russell Pollard, Scott

Pollard, Joshua Tooley, Robin Tooley. New members recognized who were present were: Ashley Beggs, Kelcey Beggs, and Erin Gallman.

Russell Pollard recognized Marlie Black and Erin Gallman, who registered the guests for the day.

The closing prayer, which was the 4-H Prayer, was led by Kimberly Griswold, after which the guests were dismissed.
