This will be Mr. Parker's first term in any elective office.

Faculty Completed For Local Schools; Bell Rings Monday

The faculty of the Knox City schools have been elected and the school is ready to open Monday, September 4 with a complete qualified faculty, as was announced by Supt. T. E. Holcomb. Tentative assignments to teachers are as follows:

Ruth Rice, Elementary Principal, and second grade; Evelyn Hollis, first grade; Claydene Steakley, third; Mrs. Lloyd Hamilton, fourth; Mrs. Louise Finley, arithmetic in 5, 6, 7, and 8; Mrs. J. H. Krause, social science 5, 6, 7, and 8; Mrs. Carpenter, english 5, 6, 7, and 8.

Mozelle Parsons, english, high school; Carroll Graves, high school Principal, science and history; Mrs. Charles Cape, commercial work; Trudie Haney, homemaking; Supt. T. E. Holcomb, mathematics.

The resignation of Mrs. Myrtle Browning is accepted with regrets and our sympathy is with her in the loss of her loved one. Mrs. J. H. Krause was elected to fill this vacancy.

There will be no opening program for the school on the morning of September 4, but a formal opening will be held on the following Monday, September 11.

Feed Producers To Make More Protein Pellets for Livestock

Details of a new program to increase the supply of protein pellets for winter feeding of cattle and sheep have been received by Emmett Partridge, Chairman of the Knox County ACC.

The new plan in effect calls for a bonus allocation of protein meal to mixed feed manufacturers who will use it during the July-September quarter to produce pellets containing at least 30 percent protein. Protein meal allocations by the War Food Administrator to mixed feed manufacturers are based upon previous production history.

The new program is expected to help materially in meeting growing demands of feeders for protein pellets and cubes, according to Mr. Partridge. Buying is usually heavy at this time of year as ranchers prepare to stock ranges before the winter closes in.

Several protein manufacturers have indicated that they will take full advantage of the protein "bonus" and will utilize pelleting facilities to capacity, Mr. Partridge said. The program also is expected to result in decreased demand for proteins to feed range cattle and sheep later, at a time when requirements for other classes of livestock seasonally increase.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mrs. T. P. Frizzell, Jr. gave a birthday party on the lawn of their home last Thursday in honor of Julie's ninth birthday. Many interesting games were played and ice cream and cake was served to the following guests:

Beneficial Rains Fall Over Entire Section

Beneficial rains in the amount 1.75 inches this week have broken a long dry spell in Knox County and saved thousands of acres of young feed and cotton. Coming at a time when the late feed crop was in a critical stage of development, the moisture means over half again the expected production had the drought continued.

Cotton will be benefitted greatly by the rain since it is still in the growing stage and plenty of time left for putting on more bolls. Rangeland will get full advantage of the moisture and a good crop of grass will help in the winter feed situation.

Knox County Grain Doing Good In Other Counties, Says Agent

Seed sales of "Bonita" by Joe Edd Sweatt, 4-H Club member of Sunset, to other counties in Texas is making something of a record in Runnels County this year as a drought resisting feed, according to County Agent J. A. Barton.

Sixty adults and 30 4-H Club boys planted a demonstration of an acre or two up to 15 acres each. Early reports indicate that the crop is holding up well under extreme dry weather.

Cecil Papp, the first to report, obtained a yield of 1200 pounds an acre combined, compared with 600 from his regular combine Martin maize. Louis Loika of the Bethel community states that his Bonita planted almost simultaneously along side a field of Hegari, will yield more than double the number of bundles expected from Hegari and a corresponding excess in grain production.

Farmers Entitled To Buy Lumber For Necessary Repairs

Farmers who buy lumber in Knox County now are entitled to buy small amounts of lumber for essential maintenance and repair of implements and farm service buildings by simply signing an application at the lumber yard, according to Emmett Partridge, Chairman of the Knox County Agricultural Conservation Committee.

Three hundred board feet is the largest amount that can be obtained from the dealer without first getting a farmer's lumber certificate, Mr. Partridge said.

Any farmer who needs more than 300 board feet of lumber should apply to the County AAA office at Benjamin for a certificate. The committee has authority to issue farmer's lumber certificates for essential maintenance and repair use and for new construction (other than residences) when the cost is more than $1,000 per farm per calendar year. The committee also will issue certificates for lumber needed for emergencies. For construction which must be approved by the War Production Board, the ACA committee receives farmers' applications and makes recommendations but does not issue certificates.

Farmers' lumber certificates rank as "certified and rated" orders, with ratings as high as any assigned to non-military users. Mr. Partridge stated. Dealers can use the ratings when they place orders. "In fact," he said "these ratings offer the only opportunity to keep enough lumber in the county to meet our essential farm needs."

Dove Seasons Opens Here Tomorrow

Local hunters lucky enough to have a few shells tucked away for a rainy day can dig them out tomorrow and get the two-row shotgun out of the corner for a little dove shooting. Open season on mourning doves starts one-half hour before sunrise, September 1.

Doves have been plentiful locally and with a slight revision of the restriction on shells, hunters may be able to have the best season in the past three years. The bag limit is not more than 10 per day and not more than 10 in possession. Sunset is the legal time to stop shooting.

As in previous years, guns must be plugged to three shells and nothing larger than a 10 gauge used. And if you see a white-winged dove, pass him up as the season is still closed.

According to a bulletin from the 13th AAF headquarters in the Southwest Pacific, Sgt. James H. Tankersley of Knox City, has completed two years of overseas service with that particular unit.

J. W. HAMM HAS SUCCESSFUL EYE OPERATION IN LUBBOCK

J. W. Hamm underwent an eye operation for cataracts in a Lubbock hospital about a week ago. When they changed the bandages Sunday he was able to distinguish several objects and although he will have to keep his eyes bandaged for several more weeks the doctors are confident of a successful operation.

Mr. Hamm was moved to the home of his daughter, Mrs. Clyde Smith, Tuesday.

Olen and Anson Ray Win First Place In 4-H Judging Tour

The 4-H Club livestock judging tour of Knox County, which took place on Saturday, August 26, was very successful and educational, to all 4-H Club boys who are feeding Hereford steer calves, which will be exhibited at the Knox County Calf Show at Knox City in February, 1945.

The tour was for the purpose of acquainting each boy with each other boys activities in calf feeding, as to which one was doing the best job. At each stop boys were given score cards on which they scored each other boy as to his ability in handling, conditioning and the equipment used in his calf feeding demonstration. Parents of the boys were very co-operative in making the trip, and assisted in furnishing transportation for the boys.

The results of the score as tabulated are as follows:
Olen and Anson Ray, Benjamin, 1st, 88 points; Leroy Davis, Vera, 2nd, 84 points; J. G. Pults, Benjamin, 3rd, 80 points; Carrol and Stanley Glover, Benjamin, 4th, 87 points; Jerrel Trainham, Vera, 5th, 81 points; Fred L. and Buddie Crenshaw, Benjamin, 6th, 77 points; Pat Hill, Munday, 7th, 74 points; John C. McFerrin, Benjamin, 8th, 72 points; Jeanette and Jerry Beck, Vera, 9th, 65 points; Phillip Escobar, Benjamin, 10th, 56 points.

The dads of each boy who made the trip were Wesley Trainham, Vera; Jim Pults, Benjamin; Clyde Davis, Vera; Freddie Crenshaw, Benjamin; Harry Beck, Vera; Pete Ray, Benjamin. Others making the tour who were interested in the calf feeding demonstration were Jack Idol, Benjamin; Tom West, Benjamin; R. O. Dunkle, County Agent, Benjamin; and G. S. Dowell, vocational teacher, Munday.

Obituary

William Mace Moseley was born on October 28, 1868, in Falls County, Texas, and died August 22, 1944, at Clovis, New Mexico. Funeral services were held at Knox City, August 24 at 5:00 p. m. at the First Baptist Church.

Mr. Moseley moved to Rochester in 1909 and then moved to Knox City in 1925 where he resided until 1939. Since that time he had been living with his son, Holt Moseley, at Melrose, New Mexico.

In 1900, Mr. Moseley was married to Mrs. Sofia Arnold who preceded him in death in 1918. Three sons were born to this union, Mabe, Holt and Claude Moseley, a 11 surviving. Two grandchildren, A. M. Moseley, and Mrs. Berne Reader, and 11 great-grandchildren, Ronald and Suzana Reader, also survive and attended the funeral services here. One brother, A. W. Moseley and wife of Lake View, Texas, were here for the funeral.

Club Members Get Credit for Introducing Bonita Grain Crop

Thirty-eight 4-H Club members of Knox County who introduced the new variety of grain sorghum "Bonita" in the county in 1943, have been given credit for having increased the grain sorghum yields in the county by over one million pounds in 1944, in spite of extreme drought.

Outstanding instances of comparative yields on the O. L. Patterson farm showed an increase of 500 pounds per acre, and on the Earl Watson farm an increase of 400 pounds per acre. The comparison in yield was made with other standard varieties of combine sorghums such as Plainsman and Caprock.

Joe Edd Sweatt and Charles Hardin, club members of the Sunset community, have developed a demonstration in which they tell and illustrate the important facts of grain sorghum production by the selection of proper planting dates according to the 30 year average rainfall chart for Knox County. The data used in constructing the rainfall chart was secured from Mr. H. P. Hill, of Munday, who has been keeping the rainfall record since before 1914.

The most important fact as determined by the rainfall chart is that the peak rainfall period for the year occurs during the month of May and during the month of September. The planting date is selected so that the extreme dry period of the year, July and August, will not occur when the grain sorghums are in the booting or critical stage of development.

The most satisfactory dates of planting in Knox County are April 15, and June 15. May planting dates are usually very unsatisfactory on account of the critical stage of development occurring in July during the low rainfall period of the growing season and when temperatures are high.

The rate of planting has also been found to be a very important factor by the 4-H Club boys. The rate of planting on the suckering or tillering types can be at a much lower rate per acre than the sparsely suckering types.

Demonstrations by Joe Edd Sweatt and Charles Hardin have been given at the 4-H district 4-H Club camp at Guanah, to the Lions Club at Knox City, and to the annual 4-H Club camp of Baylor and Knox Counties at Seymour, or a total of 320 individuals.

Parker Thanks Voters Prct. 2 for Victory

L. A. Parker, successful candidate for the nomination of Commissioner, Precinct 2, was in the Herald office Monday and in discussing his winning the office said: "I want to say a word of thanks to the voters of my precinct who were so loyal in their support and confidence. It will be a pleasure to serve this fine group of people and I want their co-operation and whole-hearted support in the discharge of my duties."

"It was a good, clean race and we shall put everything else behind us in the interest of the proper administration of the office. Again, thank you for your support," Mr. Parker concluded.

GERALD AVERITT TELLS LIONS OF WAR EXPERIENCES

Gerald Averitt, Radioman 1c, U. S. Naval Reserve, was the principal speaker at Lions luncheon today at the Methodist Church. Averitt spoke of his experiences as a raidman on a Catalina patrol plane in the South Pacific war area.

He told of being shot down by Jap anti-aircraft and spending several hours in a life raft before being rescued. He has served almost two years overseas and participated in the occupation of every major island in the U. S. drive to regain the entire Pacific. His remarks were interesting and educational and revealed the spirit of our fighting forces that are gradually hewing down the Japs.

Just about the biggest bargain a man can buy, when you consider the trivial sum involved, is a dime package of smoking tobacco. You cram a little into your pipe and your thoughts are wafted away on the puffs of fragrant smoke. At least the smoke is fragrant to you, because you're doing the puffing.

If you're smoking in a group of friends, the deliberate drawl cause you to mature your thoughts before uttering them and maybe the result will be something ripe in wisdom and rich in homey philosophy. At any rate, a pipe requires enough effort to use and it occupies man's mouth to an extent that it keeps a fellow from saying so many foolish things.

All of us can utter philosophic wisdom as long as the trouble is not our own. Kipling coined a great simile when he wrote, "As cheerful as a man watching another's house burn down." Which reminds me of the story of the individual who called on a friend in jail and, trying to cheer him up, said: "Remember what the poet declared, 'Stone walls do not a prison make nor iron bars a cage.'" The man behind the bars said, "Well, they are a pretty good substitute."

It's Major Tom King now. The former State Auditor recently was advanced from the rank of captain. He is in the Air Corps.

Major King is a Texan from Tennessee. Some of the finest Texans came from the old Volunteer State. Sam Houston and David Crockett, for example.

There comes to mind an experience that King had a good many years ago when he was auditing the financial affairs of a town in West Texas that was in pretty bad shape. The auditor questioned the man who had handled the sale of the municipality's bond

Gems of Thought

CONFIDENCE

I heard a bird at break of day
Sing from the autumn trees
A song so mystical and calm,
So full of certainties.
—William A. Perry.

Confidence imparts a wondrous inspiration to its possessor. It bears him on in security either to meet no danger, or to find matter of glorious trial.
—Milton.

It is wonderful what strength of purpose and boldness and energy of will are roused by the assurance that we are doing our duty.
—Scott.

Society is built upon trust, and trust upon confidence in one another's integrity.
—South.

Faith marches at the head of the army of progress. It is found beside the most refined life, the freest government, the profoundest philosophy, the noblest poetry, the purest humanity.
—T. T. Munger.

Faith full-fledged, soaring to the Horeb height, brings blessings infinite, and the spirit of this origin is the fruit of righteousness—"on earth peace, good will toward men."
—Mary Baker Eddy.

22c JOHN LUTHER HOBBS SENDS HAWAIIAN PAPER

In a clipping from a newspaper published in Hawaii and sent to his mother, Mrs. J. L. Hobbs, 22c John Luther Hobbs marked a special article dealing with the fact that very few young men on that island are in the armed forces.

The article went on to say that men over 22 years of age engaged in essential activities wouldn't be drafted this year. Seaman Hobbs added a postscript that the streets there were full of young men not yet in the military service.

The story is told that an Italian prisoner of war working on a peanut farm in the South recently told the owner that Mussolini had told the Italians that they would soon be marching across the plains of the United States. "What he didn't tell us," the prisoner said, "was that we'd have to pick up peanuts on the way."

It seems that when the town couldn't pay the interest on the outstanding bonds, it issued another set of bonds to pay the interest on the first—and, when it couldn't meet the interest payment on the second set, another set of bonds was issued.

The man evaded the questions as long as he could and at last blurted out:

"Mr. King, maybe those bonds are not worth what we got for them but I want you to know that I never sold a single one of those bonds south of the Mason and Dixon line."

He seemed to think, as long as it was Yankees that he skinned, that was all right.

Hundreds of Lone Star fighting men are coming home to Texas.

By plane and train, on stretchers or crutches, they arrive daily at the Army's great McCloskey General Hospital at Temple. They are the heroic wounded, the boys who know the true meaning of sacrifice in this war.

With Capt. F. J. Moss, McCloskey's affable and capable public relations officer, the writer of this column visited the hospital and spent hours chatting with the boys about their part in the fighting.

And don't get the idea that these returned wounded veterans are staying their time in the hospital griping or feeling sorry for themselves. There's not a cry in a carload!

As a matter of fact, there probably is no more cheerful group of men in Uncle Sam's army. With fingers off, feet and hands off, and other terrible wounds, the lads in McCloskey face the future with a smile and a wisecrack and the painful present with a type of courage that is an inspiration to everyone who visits them.

There are two miraculous facts that you will discover if you visit this great army establishment, where the wounded are given new health and new hope. The first is the cheerful courage of the men, themselves. The second is the consideration and skill of the officers and men who administer to them.

As we walked through the long wards, Captain Moss waved and quipped at the boys, calling almost every lad by name. And the patients quipped back, their smiles showing plainly the friendship and confidence that exists between the wounded veterans and the officers and men of the hospital staff.

We talked with many of the patients. Corporal Leland Grohman of San Antonio told of heavy fighting in Italy, but forgot his own troubles to praise the home-folks who sent USO-Camp Shows across to entertain the boys.

We met Sgt. Charlie Rummell of Waco, who spent months in a Nazi prison camp after losing his legs by machine gun wound. Charlie talked about the National War Fund, too, telling how sports equipment, books and other anti-boredom materials sent over by War Prisoners Aid helped the captured men to fight off "barbed-wire sickness."

Sgt. Henry Krolczyk, who is typically Texan despite his Polish name, crawled through a hail of machine gun bullets in Normandy and finally reached a thick hedgerow. Rising carefully, he peeked through a hole in the hedge and found himself eye-to-eye with a big Nazi soldier, who was peering through from the other side, less than two feet away.

"Hank" yelled at the man, demanding that he surrender. Just at that time, however, several other Germans started lobbing hand grenades at the Texan.

"Hank" tossed a few himself, killing four Nazis and routing the rest. During the scrap, the enemy in the hedgerow took to his heels. He did not get far, however, before the East Bernard, Texas, trooper dropped him with a single bullet.

During the same battle, S-Sgt. Homer Molina of Laredo dove into a small hole right on top of four Huns. When he came out, he was marching the Germans before him as prisoners.

When his buddies congratulated him on the feat, the Texan grinned. "There weren't but four of them," he insisted. "Four Nazis to one Texan—that's about the right odds!"

Incidentally, the American fighting men are covering ground so fast in France that one of the biggest jobs is not how to whip the Germans but how to take care of the children and old men and women freed from Nazi slavery. Field representatives of the French Relief Fund, an agency of the National War Fund, already are on the job, and will see that the aged and helpless war victims are given another chance at life.

A Liberty ship at sea consumes 6,720 gallons of fuel oil daily. In port while working cargo it uses 1,470 gallons a day, and when not working cargo, 1,960 gallons a day. There are at present over 2,200 Liberty ships.

Mental Disorders Real Problem Now Says State Health Officer

Mental disorders today represent a real problem, declares Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, and it is estimated that more than fifty percent of all hospital beds are filled by persons suffering from mental or nervous diseases.

It thus appears that modern civilization is exacting a terrific toll. High speed living, with its cruel exactions upon nature, is responsible for a big part of the trouble. But improper personal conduct must also shoulder much of the blame. The fact is that nearly fifty percent of the patients entering hospitals for mental disorders are there because of organic or toxic causes.

For example, general paralysis is the direct cause of one-fifth of the mental troubles in males entering hospitals and one-tenth of the disorders for all groups. This condition is an organic disease of the brain and in fact is one of the late stages of syphilis. It is a preventable disease. Early and effective treatment of acquired syphilis will block the end results of general paralysis in the insane.

Dr. Cox said that excesses and syphilis combined are responsible for approximately one-fifth of the hospitalized insanities. Nevertheless, improper living habits continue to impair many brains. Insufficient sleep, neglect of bodily care, and a consistent over forcing of nervous energy are the pitfalls to avoid in this connection.

"Nature demands that her fundamental laws be at least reasonably observed. A constant outraging of the physiological economy takes its toll not only in bodies but in minds also. Insanities and lesser nervous disorders could be spectacularly reduced if this fact were more generally respected. Training for mental health must be started in childhood as that is the time when corrections can be made to the best advantage."

Wheat Farmers Urged Not To Exceed 1944 Planting Acreage

Wheat farmers in Knox County and throughout the nation are urged not to exceed their wheat acreage of 1944 for 1945 harvest, as announced by Marvin Jones, War Food Administrator.

In view of the improved wheat supply situation, the War Food Administration is advising farmers that it would not be desirable to go beyond the goals in their planting for 1945 harvest. The WFA is repeating and emphasizing its previous suggestions that wheat production be kept in line with good crop balance and efficient production practices.

At normal yields, which would be considerably below this year's estimated needs—including an adequate reserve to be carried over into the next crop year. Even if yields were somewhat below normal, as a result of adverse production conditions, the goal acreage should still provide safe supplies. Under the circumstances, the WFA recommends that the goals be regarded as a maximum for 1945 plantings, and that any planting beyond the goal levels be discouraged.

The 1945 state goals are larger than the 1944 seeded acreage for some states and smaller for others, suggesting a guide for farmers in different areas in planning a balanced production program. The acreage goal as established by Texas is as follows:

1944 estimated planted wheat acres, 4,628,000; 1945 acreage goal, 4,600,000.

ders could be spectacularly reduced if this fact were more generally respected. Training for mental health must be started in childhood as that is the time when corrections can be made to the best advantage."

Wildcat Insurance Policies May Cause Texans To Regret

Com. O. P. Lockhart, chairman of the Board of Insurance Commissioners, today issued a warning that the people of Texas should be sure they know what they are buying before they pay money to out-of-state insurance companies not licensed in Texas on insurance policies that have been advertised by radio or by direct mail.

"Complaints reaching the Board of Insurance Commissioners from dissatisfied policy-holder indicate that a number of companies whose home offices are outside of the State of Texas are using the mails and radio to sell policies in the State of Texas even though such companies have not obtained a certificate of authority to do business in this State," Lockhart said.

"Such companies cannot be regulated by the laws of this State and are outside the jurisdiction of both the Texas Insurance Department and the Texas courts, with the result that Texans must go to the home state of the company to bring suit against it when disputes arise," he explained. "The policies issued by many of such companies are policies that would not be approved for the use of companies licensed to operate in this State, because they are couched in misleading terms and seem to provide more benefits than can be collected."

The Commissioner suggested that any person considering buying an insurance policy solicited through the mails or by radio should, for his own protection, find out whether or not the company holds a certificate of authority to do business in the State of Texas. The Board of Insurance Commissioners, State Office Building, Austin 14, Texas, will gladly answer inquiries in this respect in regard to any company.

Right Working Height May Help Fatigue

These hot days, sometimes just lifting your hand seems like hard work. Well, maybe it is. Lying down, of course, requires the least energy. And sitting requires four percent more energy than lying down. Standing may be more of a job than you realized, for it requires 12 percent more energy than lying. But—here's the startling thing. Bending requires 65 percent more energy than lying down.

You think that over a bit, and you will realize how important it is to have the correct height tables, chairs, or work surfaces. They save energy and they improve your posture. This advice comes from Miss Lucile King, County Home Demonstration Agent. As a home demonstration agent she has given considerable study to improving home-work conditions.

For example, working at a table too low, will put an arch in your back. Or, if you do your kitchen work at a stool that is too high you will have the same difficulty. Miss King says there are many simple improvements you can make which will remove fatigue and help eliminate a backache. Putting a long handle on the dust pan will eliminate a backache. Putting your ironing board the proper height will make one week's chore pass faster and more easily.

Now how can you tell when a work surface is the right height? For most duties a table is the proper height when the palms of your hands can be laid flat on the surface without stooping or bending. Another was to measure the distance from the table to the elbow when your arm is bent at right angles. Usually the table should be about eight inches below the elbow. This is a good height for jobs which require a good deal of forearm strength—mixing, stirring, kneading or washing dishes. Usually wash tubs should be only about three inches below your elbow. With this height you should bend from the hips not at the waist.
