Green Vegetables

Prepare green vegetables quickly in order to preserve a 11 possible food value. If you must keep them after picking or buying, pile them loosely to prevent crushing and cover lightly in a cool, damp place. Wash, but don't soak them because some vitamins will "soak out" into the water. Wash the vegetables quickly, then lift them out of the water to free them from sand

For the most in food value serve green vegetables raw as salad, relish or sandwich filler, always keeping them cold and crisp. In cooking, use just as little water as possible and cook them quickly. Leafy greens such as spinach, or others from fall gardens, need only the water that clings to the leaves. Cover the pan to hasten cooking, and cook only until the greens are tender. Save any water left from cooking and use it in soup. gravy or sauce.

Rainfall has been light in some sec tions this year, but the inkfall on polities will probably be up to normal this

Plant More Maize!

Due to the urgent need of Milo Maize for war purposes and livestock feed, I ask you to consider doing so seriously.

The manpower situation is another thing to consider in planting your crops. Milo can be planted and worked with a minimum of labor and can be harvested by machinery.

I have secured a site and will construct a modern grain elevator in Knox City to take care of your grain and to save you inconvenience in marketing.

The ceiling price of Milo is now $2.08 per cwt, to the farmer less local handling charges. The loan value is $1.69 per cwt., less freight to point of storage and handling charges.

I will be in the market for your grain at the highest market price prevailing at the time, or will handle it for you for the loan.

I will strive to give you fast, courteous, efficient service to show my appreciation for your business.
