Post Office Has Rushing Business

Monday morning we made a visit to the Knox City Postoffice. By this we mean that we really visited the office and got a little information on the work of the office. The most impressive thing was the quantity of mail in this office. Monday morning the office was full of mail, all tables loaded down and bundles piled in the floor. A great portion of this mail was placed in the Postoffice boxes to be received by the citizens of Knox City while two car loads of it went out on the two routes. Mr. W. W. Hyde loaded his car before we left the office that we might see just how much mail he was to carry. It was the most we have ever seen to go on a route in a small town. The Postoffice certainly has plenty of business said Mr. Clarke, postmaster.

Epworth League Social

Mrs. J. A. Wilson entertained members of the senior Epworth League Thursday night with a Halloween party. Spook masks were used as decorations and the same spirit carried out in all the games of the evening. All guests wore costumes with masks and were entertained by a real ghost with a real head.

Never before has Armistice Day held forth such promise of enduring peace. Now, eleven years after the stilling of the cannons, things bode well for a future untroubled by battle. The visit of Premier Ramsay McDonald to President Hoover bringing forth a joint declaration for peace by the leaders of the two great nations, inspired us all with the hope that international amity would continue for man, many years to come.

Culminating many other efforts of McDonald and Hoover ere sure to have incalculable effect. This Armistice Day, as we bow in tribute to the brave who fell in battle and express our sympathy for the bereaved, let us lift our voices in gratitude for the bright prospect of peace before us.

If our readers will hunt up the last issue of the Herald you will find that one fourth of one of the four pages is devoted by an advertisement asking for some rags. After the publication thereof we have received not only a large quantity of rags but also some of the best of them. If so, the city is some what better off than any other town in the state. We had the pleasure to live in...

Now, readers, we the Herald office, need some rags and we need them badly. We can not get them unless someone is willing to sell a few. We have used every rag available at hand and must get some more.

In case you do not understand our need for rags in the Herald office, just come around and we will touch you up with a little of the color of the printing office. Then you will understand.

We are willing to buy five or ten pounds of rags at a good price for rags and we will consider it a personal favor if our readers will respond to this call. Either telephone the Herald office at night or bring your rags around.

What! A weather bureau?

VISITORS to General Motors' 1268-acre Proving Ground marvel at the sight of a complete weather bureau and ask what it is for.

The answer is that in the testing of cars, every possible factor that might affect a car's performance is considered by General Motors engineers.

So precise are some of the tests that even the difference between a sunny day and a partly cloudy day—or between a north breeze and a south breeze—is considered.

With each day's record of the mechanical tests applied to a car on the road and hills of the Proving Ground is included a report of the exact weather conditions prevailing. The engineers then can know how weather affects performance, and can have a comparable record so that every car tested is given an equal opportunity to prove itself under exactly the same conditions.

Advance models of all the cars listed below were proved at the Proving Ground before they were introduced to the public. Read about them; then clip and send the coupon.

Make this Simple Test!
 and Decide for Yourself

Which is the BEST FEED for Your Hens

At the time when poultry feeds are cheap. Confuted by the conflicting claims of many feed manufacturers (all claiming "the best") you are apt to conclude that all feeds are alike—or else that they make have but scant regard for the truth.

Why not decide for yourself—uninfluenced by personality or propaganda?
 When you buy feed, you want to get your money's worth; you want top-making materials—not alfalfa meal and other high-fibre "fillers" which are condemned by the leading agricultural colleges and experiment stations.

How You Can SEE How Much FEED You Get!

USE any glass receptacle (two fruit jars will do). Place in one, 1/2 lb. of RED CHAIN Orange-Vitamin Egg Mash, in the other, 1/2 lb. of any other commercial egg mash. Then add 2 1/2 lbs. of water to each, stir thoroughly and allow to settle.

The difference is remarkable! In both jars the real feed settles to the bottom and the waste matter rises to top. In the RED
 CHAIN jar only a few black specks of waste (real) float in the other you'll find a float
 of alfalfa stems and other phony waste matter!

RED CHAIN because it's 'SUPERIOR' Feed

City Feed Store

Mohawk Quality

There never was a time when tire buyers would appreciate. Real Tire Quality like now—when you hear so much talk of "something for nothing." The price of Leadership in the tire business is just like any other line. The superior and off-brand is priced at a figure to discredit the genuine but Mohawk endures it truly "The world's Greatest Tire."

AIRPLANES DROP TONS OF FOOD DURING FLOOD

Army, Navy and Alabama National Guard airplanes followed twenty-five tons of supplies throughout the American Red Cross to flood refugees who were completely cut off from any other aid, during the extreme floods in the southeastern States early this spring.

The three services made an average of fifty flights a day, delivering medicine, food, clothing and blankets. Most of the supplies were dropped to the refugees who were isolated on high tops and high ground, by the flood victims.

Naval aviators made a total of 118 flights during the flood period, carrying 14,000 miles. Observations were also reported by radio where stranded refugees could be located, and a magnificent program of cooperation with the Red Cross relief service was carried forward by all three aviation services.

NURSES ENROLLED WITH RED CROSS FOR SERVICE

Enrolled with the Nursing Service of the American Red Cross at Washington are 48,000 nurses, qualified under the society's regulations, who may be summoned to service in time of disaster or other emergency. From the Red Cross enrollment were assigned 3,000 nurses in the World War. These Red Cross nurses are the standing reserve of the Army and Navy Nurse Corps of the United States, and are also called upon for service in other governmental health services.

A WELL KNOWN ANGLO PRACTICAL NURSE IS RELIEVED OF FOUR YEARS TROUBLE. PRAISES ORGATONE.

"Often my friends speak of how well I am looking these days and when I tell them I have been taking Orgatone they seem to understand all the rest," said Mrs. M. E. Long, whose address is 2 East Seventh Street, San Angelo, Tex. Mrs. Long is a practical nurse and is well known to the citizens of San Angelo.

"I suffered for four years with stomach trouble and nervous indigestion," continues Mrs. Long. "At times it just seemed like everything I would eat would sour on my stomach and form gas and I would be in such misery that I could hardly stand it. I was bothered with constipation, too, and was constantly taking something to relieve that trouble and sometimes I would have awful dizzy spells and feel light headed and I was so nervous that I couldn't sleep well at all and sometimes I would just roll and toss all night long and would get up in the morning feeling perfectly miserable from loss of sleep and rest. I suffered so much I got all run down and at times would have to lie down and I took treatments and different kinds of medicine but nothing I tried helped me and I continued to suffer as only one who has gone through it can realize.

"Then I happened to read where a woman living right here in San Angelo had gotten relief by taking Orgatone, so going on the idea that what is good for one is good for another, I concluded to give it a trial myself and had taken one bottle of it when I could notice that it was helping me. My appetite got better and the gas did not form on my stomach like it used to. So I kept right on taking Orgatone until I was so much improved that I found I could eat anything I wanted and not be troubled a particle with my stomach afterwards. I don't have and trouble sleeping now, either, and just go the whole night through without waking up once and then get up in the morning feeling rested and refreshed. I can do all my housework with ease and now am just feeling in better health than I have in years. I can certainly speak a good word for Orgatone because it surely has helped me."

Genuine Orgatone may be obtained in Kees City at the Orient Drug Store.
