ANTI TRUST LAWS

By W. D. McFarlane, M. C.
Mr. Robert Jackson, Assistant Attorney General's radio broadcast on last Sunday and Thursday nights was apparently the opening gun answering the campaign of propaganda of big business, which seems to be determined to completely sabotage the New Deal program and repeal all laws conflicting with their special privileged rights. The subsidized press continues to show teeth, and some critics ask for specific proof, when if given in detail they would be the first to howl, as shown by the reactions to Mr. Jackson's speech which gives sufficient proof to satisfy those who know these facts to be true.

ECONOMIC TRENDS

Brookings Institute figures, given by Dr. Moulton in his last book, "Income and Economic Progress," point out that during the peak year of 1929, of the fifteen billion dollars saved that thirteen billion dollars accrued to ten per cent of the population; that sixty thousand families at the top saved as much as twenty-five million families at the bottom. Certainly Dr. Moulton, writing for Brookings Institute, is known to be very conservative. Mr. Stuart Chase, another recognized economist, analyzing the Brookings report points out that during the same peak year 1929, that the five hundred odd families with incomes over a million dollars each, spent as a group only eighty-seven million dollars, leaving more than one billion dollars of their combined incomes for saving and investment.

All record evidence from all record sources reveals that during the past five years the pump priming operations of this administration to force money back into trade channels and to place buying power back into the hands of the people has seen the efforts of the Federal Government largely nullified by the same hoggish group who takes the lion share of the profits due to their monopolistic set up and their powerful hold on the country, and they offer nothing in return but criticism and abuse. There is a limit to the patience of the people as to how long they will stand this kind of treatment.

UNDISTRIBUTED PROFITS AND CAPITAL GAINS TAX REPEAL

Instead of being satisfied and offering to cooperate with the undistributed profits tax law, which no one can fairly point out has done more than to require Big Business to distribute their enormous surpluses and profits to their stock holders rather than retain them, which permits their officers and directors to pay themselves large salaries and bonuses. These officers and directors of big business are mad and they do not want to be forced to give up their large accumulated surpluses upon which they have paid the Federal Government not tax. They want to keep these large surpluses for their own private benefits. Naturally we can't blame them for that, but as representatives of the people it would be very unfair for Congress to let these captains of industry get by with any such program. Outside of giving the smaller corporations a little more liberal exemptions, the undistributed profits tax is fair and sound and should be continued. This law is of much more benefit to the stock holders of the corporations than it is in raising additional revenue for the Government.

CAPITAL GAINS TAX

The Capital Gains Tax repeal squawk, comes largely from the group of Wall Street gamblers and those who bought their stocks on the depression low of 1932 and now want to sell these stocks and pay just as little tax as possible on their gambling transactions. If the subsidized press and the plutocratic racketeers would tell the people the truth, they would be forced to admit these facts are true.

THE REMEDY

Mr. Jackson and Mr. Ickes, in their radio broadcasts have forcefully called to the attention of the people the seriousness of the situation. What are we going to do about it? Are we going to let these 500 or less families move the Capitol back to Wall Street or are we, as representatives of the great masses of the people going to stand and fight with the President for equal rights and opportunities for all and fulfill our Democratic Platform pledge to the people?

If the different well known monopolies should now offer to enter into a consent decree with the Department of Justice that they would dissolve their corporations, as a matter of fact, would this get the desired results? Looking back through the years, did dissolving the Standard Oil Company dissolve that monopoly? Did dissolving the communications monopoly dissolve that monopoly? Did the shuffling of stock among the stock holders change the monopolistic tie up and management of any monopoly through the ages? The answer is NO. It seems that we must try new methods to cope with this situation. European countries have successfully met the same problem by setting up cooperatives who have been able to combat with their big business, by furnishing better goods for less money through government help. Certainly we have not exhausted our remedy through taxation. Mr. Stuart Chase says regarding the sterile savings of the five hundred group:

"If the Government wants to soak the rich to the full extent of their unproductive savings, nothing but good can come of it, provided the taxes so collected are transformed into active purchasing power. No worker, no farmer, no productive business man can do aught but benefit by the transfer.

THE CALENDAR

The President will open the session January 3rd by personally delivering his message to the joint session of the Congress. It is believed that the President is thoroughly dissatisfied with the results accomplished as the recent special session and determined to show a more militant attitude in legislative matters during his coming session. It is well that he should for on the results of this session will largely depend the future policy and success of Democratic Government in America. We are at the cross roads. The time is here when we must either, legislatively speaking, turn right or left. Will the Congress legislate for all the people or will it fold up, back track and cringe to the whip of the privileged group?

GROCERY ON CASH BASIS

Benedict Brothers pioneer grocery Company announced the first of the year that they were adopting the cash system and will sell groceries and meat much cheaper than the old style credit system. They have secured space in the Herald and will give real live prices each week and they ask that you read their ads.

These boys have been in business here for more than twenty years and have always enjoyed a liberal patronage from the people of this section.

"THE REST OF THE RECORD"

By James V. Allred Governor of Tex.
An item in the Sunday, December 26 issue of the Dallas News is of tremendous interest to Texas.

Church men and law enforcement groups have issued a call to arms against vice. Sunday from every pulpit in Dallas, good citizens irrespective of political views, were urged to pay their poll taxes at once. The paper makes the statement that his movement was launched in answer to a direct challenge earlier in the week when "Pay Your Poll Tax Now" signs appeared in beer and liquor stores.

The News article says, "Such signs were accompanied by a whispering campaign among those favoring return of the open saloon. Legalized horse race betting and slot and marble machines."

For some time now I have known that the underworld in general is extremely dissatisfied with the fact that my administration has enforced the law; with the fact that the public Safety Commission has made a campaign on "big shot" gamblers and racketeers. These elements are talking it up that they want to elect what they call a "liberal" for Governor and perhaps two other offices. The truth of the matter is they don't want to elect a "liberal." They want to elect someone who will not molest them.

There are many "liberals" who do not believe in open saloons and in "big shot" gamblers, but all of us may depend upon it the fight for clean decent government is on in Texas.

We had better beware of soft talking, back slapping pretenders who are trying to play both sides of the fence. No man has the right to receive the support of the church people and the better citizenship in general, and at the same time the quiet but enthusiastic vote and assistance of the underworld.

All over Texas we had better organize for the fray just as they are organizing in Dallas. Regardless of whom we expect to vote for, I appeal to all good citizens to pay their poll taxes early.

When the issues are clearer, when we know who is running and how they stand on these issues, we will be in better position to cast our ballots; but it is essential that all of us pay our poll taxes, or secure our exemption certificates, so as to be ready to vote and offset the organized underworld.

NOTICE

FOR ASSESSOR-COLLECTOR

Earl Sams of Benjamin authorized us to announce him as a candidate for re-election to the office of Assessor-Collector of Knox County, subject to the action of the Democratic primary election. We will have more to say about Mr. Sams' qualifications in our next issue.

FOR COUNTY TREASURER

The Herald has been authorized to announce Chas. Moorhouse of Benjamin as a candidate for the office of County Treasurer, of Knox County, subject to the action of the men and women voters in the July primary election.

For more than thirty years Mr. Moorhouse has resided in Knox County and is well known to the voters. He spent more than twenty years in the mercantile and cattle business in Benjamin and for the past few years has been engaged in the cattle commission business. He is one of the most progressive citizens of Benjamin and has served a number of years on the local and county school board.

Mr. Moorhouse informs us that he expects to make an active campaign and see as many of the voters as possible before the approaching primary election, and he asks that the voters consider his qualifications before they select their next County Treasurer.

Miss Gretchen Howell, an instructor in East Texas Teachers College at Commerce, was the holiday guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Howell.

Miss Grace Bisbee of Benjamin was the week-end guest of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Spikes.

LONE STAR GAS SYSTEM TO ADD NEW EQUIPMENT

More protection against wintry blasts will be the result of a wide-spread Lone Star Gas System construction program to be completed early this year, at a total cost of nearly three-quarters of a million dollars, according to company officials.

The work started last summer includes more than 25 miles of pipe line, a new compressor station of 2,550 horsepower capacity, a river crossing, gathering lines to new gas fields and miscellaneous construction.

"This construction work," said L. R. Denning, president of the company, "is of the type which has been going on nearly every year as a part of our program to make Lone Star Gas service as nearly perfect as it is humanly possible to do. Many citizens will remember back 15 years ago when cold weather brought uncertainty about their gas service. But year after year we have been developing the Lone Star Gas System to the point where now all of our customers can depend upon it."

The new pipelines include a 19-mile, 18-inch diameter line into Buffalo field, Leon county, tapping two newly developed gas domes. The new line, now in process of construction, will join the company's present system about 16 miles east of Long Lake. Present plans call for completion early in January.

What amounts to a double supply line to the system east of Dallas has been achieved with a six mile tie-in line between Makoff and Trinidad which has been completed. This short line ties in the large 20-inch diameter transmission line, 100 miles long between Long Lake and Dallas, to the southern end of the Athens line. It makes gas from Leon and Anderson counties directly available to Athens, Bonham, Greenville, Sulphur Springs, Terrell and adjacent communities.

A two mile tie-in with the company's 20-inch Panhandle line near Chillicothe gives an emergency double supply to the cities of Stamford, Seymour, Rotan, Haskell and other communities in West Texas. A New quarter mile crossing of the Brazos near Rhineland will minimize flood difficulties experienced in the past on this portion of the West Texas system.

The New Year also sees completion of a new 2,550 horsepower compressor plant near Shamrock. The Panhandle 20-inch line maximum daily capacity will be increased to 25,000,000 cubic feet by this new plant. While a state law has stopped wastage in the Panhandle, company engineers found that wastage prior to the passage of the law had reduced pressure so much that it is now necessary to compress gas in order to transmit the quantity required. Dallas, Fort Worth, and Wichita Falls are some of the cities which receive gas from the Panhandle.

FOR COUNTY JUDGE

The Herald is authorized to announce E. L. Covey as a candidate for re-election to the office of County Judge of Knox County subject to the action of the Democratic primary election.

It is a pleasure for this editor to announce Judge Covey as we have known him personally for more than twenty years and have always found him to be a leading citizen in the community in which he resided and for four years he has ably represented this district in the State Legislature. We personally know nothing of his record as County Judge but his friends all say that he has made a good record and has always looked after the business for the best interest of the taxpayers.

He probably will not have an opponent at the coming election, however he expects to make an active campaign before the voters of the county.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Bledsoe and son recently moved to Haskell. Mr. Bledsoe was formerly employed here in the Red and White market.

Bob Tankersley of Arlington was a week-end visitor in Knox City.

HOME ECONOMICS GIRLS ENTERTAIN HIGH SCHOOL

The Home EC. Club entertained the High School girls and the faculty on Monday night at 7:30. Santa Claus predominated the decorative theme of the seasonal celebration.

Games were played throughout the evening by those present. Each class also prepared a skit in a contest with prizes offered. The Junior Class was awarded 1st place. Refreshments were prepared by the Home Economics Classes under the supervision of Miss Delene Reid. Chicken salad on pineapple rings with cranberry sauce on top.

Miss Alice Reese of Gore spent the week-end in her home here.

THE FISH BOWL

Everyone seemed to have had a good time during the holidays. In fact, about three-fourths of the classes came to school in a daze with the thoughts of little cars and sugar plums still floating around in their heads. But all these vanished when Mr. Dodgen mentioned mid-term exams. The old working spirit came back stronger than ever making each realize what they are going to have to conquer.

What must I do?

Dear Sir:

I want a cure for big feet and freckles.

STOP THE "RECESSION"

The hopes that were held out during the first half of this year for continued expansion of industrial production, growth of private employment, and an increasing national income have been dissipated. The United States enters the new year under the cloud of a critical business recession.

The values of securities depreciated by more than 40 per cent in a single week during October—and they are still hovering near the lows reached at that time. The unemployment totals, notably in the heavy industries, are soaring seriously. The standard indices of business activity have shown alarming and continued drops. Frightened investors reveal an increasing disinclination to place their money in productive enterprise.

Individuals, worried as to the future, are cutting their personal buying to the limit, with the resultant depressive influence on the entire business structure. The chaotic labor situation is still another barrier to the normal progress of trade and industry.

This recession cannot be accurately compared to the occasional declines which characterize almost all upward business cycles. It is, instead, the inevitable result of a long series of deliberate acts which could culminate only in what we witness today. Those whose voices were disregarded for many years, because they refused to view conditions through rose colored glasses, are seeing their prophecies and their fears come true today.

The federal government has pursued a policy of competition with private businesses, which has prevented the spending of billions of private capital.

The federal government has pursued a fiscal policy which, long enough continued, must end in bankruptcy—and has continuously put off the day of reckoning. Some two dollars have been spent for every dollar received in tax revenues. The federal debt has doubled in about five years. And the burden of present heavy taxes, plus the prospect of still heavier taxes in the future, has been one of the most dampening of all retarding factors in investment and industrial development.

The federal, as well as many of the state governments, has hampered normal competition in the field of retail trade, to the end that prices have been artificially forced upward, and the consumer has rebelled.

Business has been burdened with special taxes which, while small revenue producers, disrupt normal industrial operations, prevent the creation of the financial surpluses which are essential safeguards against business times and discourage expansion.

In brief, government has tended in late years to the enemy, not the ally, of legitimate business—a subsidized competitor, not an umpire, in affairs that belong properly in the sphere of private enterprise in a democratic nation.

What can be done to remedy this? The answer is plain—and it has been given many times by men prominent in finance, in industry, in journalism, and in the government itself.

First, business must be reassured and that means that it must be convinced that it will be permitted, under the American system of free enterprise, to carry on its functions without bureaucratic dictation, and earn a reasonable profit from its labors.

Second, it is essential that Congress take the necessary steps to remove from the bent back of industry the capital gains and the surplus profits taxes which are often called "taxes without a friend."

Third, business must be encouraged to spend in channels that create wealth, income and employment. For example, it is estimated that if the much-discussed "peace pact" between the Administration and the utilities is reached, the electric industry will spend a billion or more annually for improvement and expansion.

Fourth, our basic medium of transportation, the railroads, must be permitted tariffs that provide a fair margin of operating profit. This industry is normally the nation's greatest single employer and purchaser of supplies.

Fifth, the government must put its fiscal house in order—which means a balanced budget, and a plan for steadily reducing the national debt.

Sixth in matters that affect all industry, there must be a restoration of confidence. There must be a cooperative spirit toward our great security exchanges, instead of an inimical attitude that tends to render them impotent. There must be a rebuilding of our faith in the process and philosophy of our constitutional form of government.

The industrial and agricultural resources of this country are greater than ever. We lead the world in national wealth, in living standards, in opportunity, and in potential achievement for the betterment of the lot of all. Out of this can come a finer civilization than the world has ever known—if only we use to the fullest advantage the tools we have. And in securing this, the first essential is fairness and tolerance—on the part of industry, of government, of labor and of all other elements in our national life.

Just received a small supply of Eveready Prestone.—Ashcroft Chevrolet.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Lee of Whiteface, Texas, spent last week with Mrs. Lee's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bolin of Lubbock spent Sunday and Monday with Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Bolin and family.

SUNSET TEACHER IS CHRISTMAS BRIDE

Miss Virginia Curry teacher in the Sunset School system and daughter of the Reverend and Mrs. J. F. Curry was married Christmas night to Mr. I. R. Williams of Old Glory. Accompanied by Miss Curry's brother Rogers and sisters Gladys, and Belva the couple motored to the home of Reverend and H. R. Whatley of Haskell where, and by whom they were united in marriage.

Having received her education from W. T. S. T. C. Canyon, Miss Curry began teaching in the Munday Public Schools and after seven years in that system she began a successful term in the Sunset Schools. She is now teaching in the primary department of the Sunset Schools and she is a prominent figure among her social acquaintance, and in community affairs. Miss Curry is loved and highly respected by all with whom she has come in contact.

Mr. I. R. Williams is also well known in this section, having lived in Munday for eight years, as an employee of the Fort Worth and Denver railroad company. Mr. Williams was later stationed as an agent in Peacock, after which period he was removed to Old Glory where he is now employed as agent. While in Munday, Mr. Williams was well liked by all; and, in his new environment, he has continued to make new and lasting acquaintances.

The association of the couple has continued for several years, having begun while the two were living in Munday. The newly weds are making their home in Old Glory, although Mrs. Williams plans to continue her teaching at Sunset.

The citizens of this community and of the others where the two are well-known join in wishing the fine couple much success and happiness in their future lives.—Margaret Shannon.

SCHOOL SPIRIT

School spirit is entering into all school activities with zest, whim and sportsmanship. For school spirit and sportsmanship are akin. We do not consider our individual interests, but what is best for the school as a whole. One should forget pettiness, his own likes and dislikes and work with the student body and teachers for the betterment of the schools.

A little word here or there against our school can build it to a greater height.

It isn't always the one that makes the biggest "ballyhoo" that has the most school spirit.

Misquoting a famous quotation, "Unto our own selves be true, and it will follow as the night the day, we can't to our school be false."

Dorothy Garrett.

KEEPING TAB ON THE EAGLES

Sunset Cage Teams Win Three Games

The Sunset Loop team poked swell after the holidays by taking two games from the Munday teams. The Junior Boys marked up the final Eagle victory by taking their game with a score of 36 to 12. Victor Thomas, Sunset Center, was high point man, and it looks as if Victor is headed for a swell basketball career.

The Sunset Girls played a team of the former players of Sunset. The school girls won with a score of 28 to 21. Loveda Cheek starred for Sunset by making 22 points. Nell Nix also played a nice game by holding Margaret Shannon, former Sunset star to eight points.

The Senior Boys easily took their game from the Moguls. Coach Kimbrough substituted freely throughout the game, and each of the boys played as much as a half. The Eagles have an improved team by their fast breaking and their accurate passing. The Boys will attend a tournament at Knox City this week-end.

The three Sunset teams will play host to the O'Brien teams Friday night, January 7.

Christmas day was a happy one for Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Mayers. All the children, in-laws and grandchildren were there. This was the first time they have all been together. This same group, with a few exceptions gathered at the R. O. Partridge home for a New Years dinner Saturday. They had as guests Miss Nettie Griffith, Leroy Henderson and Oliver King.

There was great excitement at the M. G. Nix home Sunday, when all the children came home for a New Year's dinner of goose. All the children except Jerry and Dolly Nix, were present. Mr. and Mrs. R. Most of Sunset's Ex-Seniors were home for the holidays, and most of them visited school. Those visiting were: Misses Margaret Shannon, Myrtle Mae Partridge, Ruby Reeves, Mary Helen Partridge. The only difference or advantage, they could see, were the new departments which have been added.

Miss Elizabeth Shannon, who is teaching at Van Horn, Texas came home for the holidays. She returned Saturday.

The Strickland's are moving to Graham.

Due to the fact that Sunset is losing three excellent high school students and ball players, their parents were persuaded to let them stay until mid-term.

The Griffith's are moving, but will stay in the Sunset School district. They are moving where the Gate's lived.

Small Child: Yes (but she pointed to Mrs. Reed's room, Mrs. Reed was formerly Miss Gladys Williams and is still Miss Williams to many of the smaller children.)

Mrs. Davenport: No, that is Mrs. Reed's room, Mrs. Williams' room is Miss Curry's room because Miss Curry changed her name during the holidays and now she is Mrs. Williams.

Small Child: Oh! me! now don't have any girl teacher.

Thursday morning the entire student body was pleasantly surprised on hearing the report that our third grade teacher, Miss Virginia Curry was married to Mr. I. R. Williams. Mr. Williams is beginning early in playing his part as Santa Claus; for he presented his wife with a really good looking '38 Buick. The faculty and the student body of Sunset School wish the couple much happiness in their married life.

The Shannons are moving west of Sunset on the Farrington place.

Mrs. Davenport: Take this to Mrs. Williams' room. Do you know where that is?

METHODIST CHURCH

"When Jesus came to Golgotha They drove great nails thru hands and feet and made a Calvary; of thorns, red were his wounds and deep.

For those were crude and cruel days, and human flesh was cheap.

"When Jesus came to Knox City they simply passed Him by.

They never hurt a hair of Him, they only let Him die;

For men had grown more tender; they would not give Him pain.

They passed by on the other side and left Him in the rain.

"Still Jesus cried, 'Forgive them, for they know not what they do.'

And still it rained the winter rain and drenched Him thru and thru;

The crowds went home and left the street, without a soul to see,

And Jesus crouched against a wall and cried for Calvary."—G. A. Studdard-Kennedy.

As we look in up on this new year, we are reminded of the words of Paul, Col. 3:2. Set your affection on things above not on things on the earth.

The old year is behind us its record is made. We cannot change it and the page is turned, the year is gone and we stand at the top page of a new year, let us start right. Set your affection on things above.

This text gives us the secret of a grand start. Aim high, think high thoughts, set your heart on great treasures, for where your treasure is there will your heart be also, people follow their hearts, they become their thoughts, what one is thinking about, he is getting to be, what he is loving he is going after.

If one is to live a clean life during this year, he must think clean thoughts, if he is to climb high he must set his affection on things above not on things on the earth. The responsibility is on man not God, as to where he will place his affection, which shall it be above or on the earth? You have will Power, you can allow yourself to be interested in good or bad, fair or foul things on the earth or things above, pray tell me what will your decision be?

"THE REST OF THE RECORD"

By James V. Allred Governor of Tex.

AUSTIN.—It should be good news to Tom, Dick and Harry that unemployment insurance starts in Texas next Saturday, January 1st. It means to these workers that in the event they lose their jobs in 1938 they will have a windfall to help out until they can secure employment.

Who doesn't remember those depressing days of 1933 when men walked the streets searching for employment knowing that their cash reserve, if any, was rapidly dwindling? These men had no hope of help then from the government, only a blind faith that somehow we would "muddle through." To prevent the recurrence of those cruel days, something has been done about it!

1938 marks a new area as the state and federal government jointly enter upon the humanitarian program of the president by assisting out-of-work employees in finding new employment and in providing him with funds during unemployment. Already in the field are sixty employees of the Texas Unemployment Commission stationed at twelve district offices ready to serve the 12,600 employers and 875,000 employees who are enrolled under the Texas Unemployment Compensation act.

In almost every town in Texas, the Texas State Employment Service has an office where the unemployed may register for work. Every effort will be made by the service office to place the applicants. During the past few months scores of thousands have secured jobs in private employment arranged through the Employment Service.

Under the Compensation Act, if Tom, Dick and Harry lose their jobs these men must go to the Employment service office in their town and register for work. During a two week period in which time the applicants must report once a week to the office, every effort will be made to find them jobs. If the search is fruitless, these men will be entitled to receive cash benefits payable weekly. The maximum payment is $15 per week, minimum $2, but they will be eligible for benefit payments not more than sixteen weeks in one year provided that their earnings have been sufficient to allow it.

If the applicants are receiving Workmen's Compensation or Old Age Assistance, unless the assistance is a less amount than the individual would be entitled to under the law they will not be eligible for benefits.

An employee to be eligible under the law must have been employed by an employer of 8 or more persons and his wages must have been reported to the Unemployment Compensation Commission by that employer under the employee's name and social security account number. Every employer is furnished with detailed instructions concerning the proper form reports and the method for filing claims for benefits. Employees acquainted themselves with this information either through their employer or by writing directly to the Unemployment Compensation Commission at Austin.

Shortly after the enactment of the Federal Social Security Act, I commissioned two attorneys to study unemployment insurance systems in other states and countries in order to determine the system most suitable for Texas. Such a study has been worked out with particular regard for two important features: first that the system would not cause a tendency to lower wages; secondly, that no great hardship would be created for business and industrial employers.

Already a reserve amounting to approximately fifteen million dollars has been built up resulting from taxes collected during 1937. Such taxes were levied by the Federal government and would have been collected whether that state joined in the program or not. In submitting the subject at the last session in September, 1936, it was passed and signed by the Texas legislature and signed by me. Texas is insured of participation in this humanitarian program.

Thus, Texas enters a new area where a helping hand is being extended by the state to the unemployed. The New Year should bring a feeling of security to Tom, Dick, and Harry!

Santa Fe Pays TAXES of $150,453,714.00 in 10 years

The Santa Fe, during the past ten years, has paid more than 150 million dollars in taxes in support of the national government and state and local governments in the various states in which it operates.

The exact amount in accrued taxes paid out by the Santa Fe from 1927 to 1936, inclusive, was $150,453,714. Of this sum, $30,720,799 went to the federal government. Of the balance, $119,686,876 was paid to the state, county, and city governments of Illinois, Iowa, Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Texas, Louisiana, Colorado, Arizona, New Mexico and California. To other states and countries went $46,039.

Of the $119,686,876 paid by the Santa Fe to the state, county and city governments, over $50,000,000 went to support public schools which provide educational facilities for more than 7 million elementary and high school students in the states served by the Santa Fe.

The payment of so vast a sum in taxes by the Santa Fe is just another phase of the benefits accruing to the nation at large from an institution whose aim is to serve all to the best of its ability.
