ABILENE FAIR.

Abilene, Texas, August 18-Everbody is coming to Abilene Oct. 10 to attend the five days exhibition of the third annual Central West Texas Fair, which will be grander, bigger and better than ever.

The remarkable progress made by the Central West Texas Fair since its inception into the spotlight three years ago has been something wonderful until today there in not another sectional fair which can excel it. Ten thousand dollars in premiums and purses have been raised towards increasing interest to the various departments. No efforts have been made since the last exhibition to improve the grounds, buildings and the program. The fair management has no hesitancy in recommending it to all people and every patron means a boost for the biggest thing in Central West Texas. The racing department has been extensively in creased until the races to be pulled off here in the fall will be the best and most numerous of any fair in the state this season. The acquisition of the largest carnival company in the country for the Midway attractions insures to all the greatest jollity and merriment. The exhition hall space is being sold rapidly and the exhibits this year will far exceed those of last both in variety and beauty and excellency. The various departments have been increased in efficiency until there is hardly anything further to be done toward making this third annual fair the greatest ever held outside of the Texas State Fair.

Unusually low excursions will be announced on all railway lines. Hotel accomodations at Abilene are adequate for the large crowds expected. Make arrangements now for the great Abilene fair and do not be dissappointed. The fair that is near your home and the fair that speaks out the crop virtues of your own section is the exhibition you should attend. Your friends will be here. How about you?

ON THE GREGORIAN CALENDAR

ny There Was Confusion About the Date of Shakespeare's Death— Papal Edict Resisted.

In connection with the interesting coincidence in date between the death of Shakespeare and that of Cervantes, I am under the impression that in the year 1616 Spain was using the Grego-rian calendar, while England still held to the Julian. Will you tell me if this is correct, and whether it affects the coincidence between the two dates?

Yes, to both of your questions. The following brief resume will explain the deply: Pope Gregory's alteration of the Julian calendar by the deduction of ten days was ordained in the year 1582, and was immediately and exact ly followed out by Spain, Portugal and parts of Italy, and very soon in France and the Low countries. But most of and the Low countries. But most of the Protestant states resisted the papal edict for more than a century. In 1585 a bill was brought before the British parliament, proposing to adopt the Gregorian calendar, but it does not the Gregorian calendar, but it does not appear to have passed beyond its second reading in the house of lords. It was not until 1751, after nearly two centuries of confusion and inconvenience, that England and Ireland adopted the Gregorian calendar. As for Cervantes and Shakespeare, Cervantes died April 23, 1616; Shakespeare also died April 23, 1616, but it was by the so-called "old style" that the latthe so-called "old style" that the lat-ter date was counted. By the "new style" or Gregorian calendar, the death of Shakespeare would have occurred

WHY NOT COMMUNITY MUSIC?

Offers Fine Possibilities for Weltling Neighborhoods Together-Value Not Seen in America.

Now the possibilities in music to about using it directly to that end we should find out how valuable it is in breaking down artificial barriers. By choral singing people in any one locality can be brought into a certain sympathy with each other. Groups who attend the same church, the fathers and mothers of children whom the settlements reach -wherever there for singing. It needs only a person who believes in it and who will rigidly select only the best music. And where neighborhood groups have been singing the same fine music, any great gathering of people would find every-music to those who cannot afford to attend concerts knows that such people are as keen for the best as are those who can afford it. There is no one so quick to appreciate the best as the person who lives apart from all these social usages of ours which con-stitute our silk-spun cocoons.

VALUE OF TRUE FRIENDSHIP

Beware That Person Who Avoids His Acquaintances When They Are Ready to Help Him.

A man's friends ought to be his fortifications in time of distress, and they usually are. At any rate, when you find a man in trouble who is afraid to go to his friends, or those who ought to be his friends because he has lived with them and worked with them, there is good reason to be suspicious. Especially is this true if he is asking strangers for relief. There is, you may be sure, something in his life that he is ashamed of—some habit or some action that he knows is sufficient to alienate those who know him best.

We are all liable to misfortune, but We are all liable to misfortune, but if we have done our best there is noth-ing to be ashamed of. We can look those who best know us squarely in the face, tell them our story and conf-dently expect that the helping hand will be given. That is the way, thank God, that men and women are con-structed. They admire the strong, but they are sympathetic with those whom they are sympathetic with those whom adverse circumstances have overborne. They would rather see a worthy man thrive than bid him go in want. They like to know that a man has done his best, and they are willing to help that he may do his best, even if his failure has come through some fault of his own. But there is not much for them to hope for in a man who avoids those who know him and asks help only of strangers. He may say he is too proud to tell them he is in straits. But he is deceiving himself; it is not pride, but shame, that moves him.

TAKE AN EFFICIENT SHAVE

Usual Method Is Full of Lost Motions and Wasted Time-Many Needless Flourishes.

One of the most fantastic persons in the world is the public official who, be-fore he can write a postal order or a tax receipt, has to make preliminary curls of penmanship in the air. Ob-served by the scientific eye, we are much more fantastic ourselves. If our effective, rottons, could be veryistered effective motions could be registered on a visual target, our record would be found to resemble that of savages who found to resemble that of savages who use ammunition without a sight on their guns. If we think that the ordinary soldiers' marksmanship is wasteful, we may well look to ourselves. Our life is peppered with motions that fly wide and wild. It begins on awaking. We ought to utilize that gesture for polishing our shoes. We should rub our eyes on Sunday for the should rub our eyes on Sunday for the should rub our eyes on Sunday for the rest of the week. But it is in processes like shaving that scientific management is really needed. Men flatter themselves that they shave with the minimum of gesture. They believe that they complete the operation under five minutes. But, excusing their inaccuracy, do they know that under the inspection of the scientific management. the inspection of the scientific manager their performance would look as jagged as their razor blade under the miscroscope? The day will probably arrive when a superman will shave with one superb motion, as delightful to the soul as the uncoiling of san orange skin in one long unbroken peel.

Recreation.

It is to be feared that the recreation for children, so much talked about these days, will, if not closely watched, interfere with their education, says Columbus Journal. It is well to do a Columns Journal. It is well to do a little thinking in this direction, seeing that youth has its own way of providing for recreation and does not depend upon the new methods of enticing it to fun and activity. Besides, it is good for a boy to rig up his own methods of amusement. Catering to boys and girls with all sorts of devices to amuse them does them more harm than good. Turn them loose, give them weld together socially disorganized communities have never been fully they will be stronger and better for it. Were we to set In these days of pleasure and amus ment it would be better for the youth if it were restrained a little rather than encouraged. Making a boy dependent upon others for fun will tend to make him dependent for his needs in afterlife. Education without self reliance is a failure.

Lesson IX.-Third Quarter, For Aug. 27, 1916:

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Acts xx, 16-27. Memory Verse, 24-Golden Text, Acts 32-Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

After the uproar of Ephesus, Paul bade an affectionate farewell to the disciples there and crossed over to Macedonia, whither Timothy and Erastus had preceded him (xix, 22; xx, 1). After comforting the disciples, prob ably in all places where he had preached the word, he and his party recrossed to Troas, where he first heard the call to Macedonia. He had tarried three months in Greece, and now they abode seven days at Troas (xx, 2-6; xvi, 8, 9) There they had an all night preaching service, at which one young man who sat in a window slept so soundly that he fell out from the third story and was killed, but the Lord restored him through Paul, and all were comforted Paul must have been full to overflow ing with messages which he felt would be his last to them (xx, 7-12, 25). While all the party went by ship to Assos Paul walked across country to meet them there (verse 13). While fellowship with the brethren is often refreshing. there is nothing so grand as to be alone with God, and this lonely walk would give Paul opportunity for the communion he desired.

Paul desired, if possible, to be at Jerusalem by the day of Pentecost, so instead of visiting Ephesus again he sent for the elders of the church there to meet him at Miletus, and the prin cipal part of our lesson today is the (verses 14-17). He reminded them that for three years he had faithfully testi-fied to Jews and Greeks repentance toward God and and faith toward our Lord Jesus Christ, testifying the gos-pel of the grace of God and preaching the kingdom of God (verses 21, 24, 25 These are the truths which all need to know, and there is nothing so grand to tell as the grace of God which bring-eth salvation to all and justifies freely all who truly receive him (Rom. iii. 24; Eph. ii, 8, 9; Tit. ii, 11; iii, 4-7). Since all are guilty before God and the righteousness which He requires no mortal man has nor can obtain by his own efforts it is surely good news that God has provided this perfect righteousness in Christ Jesus and ofrighteousness in Christ Jesus and of-fers it freely to every pentient sinner (Rom. iil, 19; II Cor. v, 21; I Cor. 1, 30; Rom. x, 4). Humility becomes us all ways, for we are nothing and know nothing and can do nothing apart from Him, and there is no room for boasting except in the Lord. If we realized how good is the world from without here has great is the wrath from which we have been delivered and which still rests upon and awalts those who are not aved there might be more prevailing tears on our part for lost ones about us (verse 19; I Thess. i. 10; John ili, 36). Then there is the building up or edifying of the saints so necessary for the glorifying of God on the part of His saved ones (verse 32), and nothing can do this but the word of God, which is the only food for the soul (John xviii 17; Jer. xv, 16). Paul could say what many a preacher cannot say: "I kept back nothing that year prefetcher." back nothing that was profitable unto you. * * * I have not shunned to de clare unto you all the counsel of God' (verses 20, 27). Although it is written that "all Scripture is given by inspira-tion of God and is profitable," that there is a special blessing upon all who there is a special blessing upon at war-read or hear the book of Revelation that our Lord said that it was foolish not to give heed to all that the proph-ets had said (II Tim. iii, 16; Rev. i, 3; Luke, xxiv. 25), yet there are those who turn away from all prophecy and spe-cially from the book of Revelation and encourage others to do so. Such would do well to consider what is written of those who feed themselves instead of the flock and are called wolves, thieves, robbers, hirelings (verses 29, 30; Ezek xxxiv; John x).

Paul was always speaking of the kingdom of God, as was also our Lord Jesus (verse 25; xxviii, 23, 31; Matt. iv. 23; Acts i, 3), but of all Bible topics perhaps none is more misunderstood than that of the kingdom, which is yet to be set up on this earth at the second coming of our Lord and which cannot be till He shall come, as He Himself taught (Luke xix, 11-13). Will all who read these notes please bear with me in my oft repeated assertion that this is not the age of world conversion nor of subduing all things to Christ? But, as James said at the council at Jerusalem, it is the time of taking out from the gentiles a people for His name, that so He may come again with His church, His bride, as the Messiah Israel for their conversion as a nation, and then through them the winning of and then through them the values all nations (xv. 13-18).

The only business of believers is to give the good news to others as quickly as possible that the church may be completed—cause all Jews and gentiles to hear, as Paul did n. Asia (XIX, 19), then instruct the saved ones as to the purpose of God, that they may win others, for every sinner saved brings joy in heaven (Luke XY, 7, 10) and helps to complete the church. A readiness to earn our own living while doing this, if precessary would be doing as Paul if necessary, would be doing as Paul did (verses 34, 35). He was ready to suffer or be imprisoned or be killed, as God might will, if only he might finish his course with joy and the ministry he had received of the Lord Jesus (verses 22-24; xxl, 13). He desired only the approval of God.

Editor Gilliland of the Baird Star Colquitt last week. He is not in danger of being misunderstood as to his desire to have Mr. Colquitt elected to the United States senate Mr. Colquitt is to speak in Abilene Monday-. Abilene Reporter.

News comes from Washington by Culberson's partisan that Culberson has completely recovered his health. That is political bunk. Senator Culberson, himself, said he was too ill to take part in the campaign. The fact that Senator Culberson does not come and take part in his own campaign proves that he is too ill to do so. This elaim of devotion to Wilson is all bunk too, Senator Culberson and nine other Democratic senators bolted the senate caucus last Monday and voted with the Republican minority to take up the immigration bill against the wishes of President Wilson. Senator Stone denounced the ten bolters as traitors Read Tuesday's dailies.

Gov. Ferguson has turned against Colquitt and says he will support Culberson. This need not alarm Gov. Colquitt's friends. Gov. and work in the interests of the Democratic Party, I have always supported the nominees of the Democratic Party, including William Jennings Bryan in 1896 when Woodrow Wilson went on record with the statement that he desired to see Bryan knocked into a 'cocked

This statement of ex-Governor Colquitt plainly outlining his position towards the National administration, has already had the effect of of off-setting many voters who have previously been prejudiced against him on the basis of his opposition to the Wilson administration. In his address to the gathering he further stated that he had merely exgave his paper over to Ex-Governor pressed himself in opposition to certain acts of the administration and in so doing had only exercised the prerogative of Democracy, the right to free speech and free thought.

> "I dare any man to show a better record than mine in support of Woodrow Wilson and the Democratic nominees. I raised $10,000 for the national campaign fund and I offered to be one of a number of citizens who would guarantee $750,-000, each singer to be pledged to raise some $30,000 or $40,000 in his state or section for the campaign fund for the election of Wilson and Marshall four years ago.

> "And I have never asked a favor of the administration except that it give the Texas border the same military protection it gave the Rockefeller mines in the Colorado strike and that it give the Texas cotton farmer the same protection it gave the stock gamblers in New York City," he said and closed with "I won't apologize for either."

> These statements further tend to bear out that actions of the ex-Governor have been for the people of Texas rather than against the National Democratic administration

CULBERSON AND COLQUITT

Sherman Man Discusses Present Senatorial Contest

To The Dallas News.

Sherman, Texas, Aug. 19 .- For four years C. A. Culberson held the office of Attorney General of Texas; for four years he held the office of Governor of Texas. He faithfully and with ability filled both offices.

For four years O. B. Colquitt held the office of Railroad Commissioner of Texas; for four years held the office of Governor of Texas. He faithfully and with ability filled both offices. Both Culberson and Colquitt were elected as Democrats and by the Democratic voters of Texas. Both Culberson and Colquitt have been lifelong and are today loyal members of the Democratic party and its doctrines and practices. In the contest to be decided on Aug. 26 between Culberson and Colquitt it is altogether personal.

For three years and now Culberson is physically and mentally afflicted with an incurable disease, unable to labor for the people of Texas. Colouitt is in the meridian of strong manhood and capable for the great work to be done in Washington for Texas. No man has to be a soldier with gun and sword to be a patriot. To be a patriot a men has to serve his State and county loyally. If a man is to select for himself for six years' labor a man, would he select or elect a man hoplessly diseased, unable to do the work? To be a patriot, should not every man be as Collection honest in selecting men to serve Texas? The writer voted for Culberson and Colquitt when they were elected to State offices. They for many years have been personally known to him.

COTTONWOOD LOCALS

22, 1916.—After an absence of ten days we are at home again. Now to say we had a good time would be putting it mildly. Our people, whom we visited vied with each other in trying to be good to us and the result was, we "liked to have enjoyed our fool selves to death." We dessected watermelon, after watermelon, and picked the bones of numberless pullet's brothers. I tell you Uncle Billie, we had a time but we are suffering in the flesh now, the "grub" is the make out kind, and the peaches are all gone, and someone dictates when to cut the melon, and we separated from our cash capital on our trip, but we took in the Primitive Baptist Association at De Leon on the end of our trip, when we feasted on the good things for the inner man and had the pleasure of hearing a number of good sermons, and before you make any remarks about the old people, Uncle Bill, or any reader, let us inform you that your Uncle Jimmie is one of them.

The fourth protracted meeting is in progress at Cottonwood now, under the auspicies of the Christian Church. Some interest is being manifested.

W. W. Everett attended the singing convention at Iredell, Bosque County, Texas last Sunday. He reports a good time, plenty of singing, and lots of "yaller-leg" chickens, well prepared for the palate.

ECONOMY IS THE WORD AND IT'S DEFINED

It's cheaper in the long run to buy a car like the 3400 r. p. m. Chalmers-at $1090 Detroit.

A low-priced car often doesn't pay. Somewhat like the man who wanted to fence his farm and said he wouldn't spend more than a certain sum of money.

"Well, for that price I can build you a fence two feet high that will keep the pigs out," said the hardware man.

"Now, for just so much more I can build a fence three feet high that will keep the sheep out. And for this amount I can build a 5-foot fence that will keep anything out."

You had better pay a couple of hundred more, and get a regular car. Get a car that fulfills exactly every wish.

One that does a good workday on Monday; that takes you anywhere on Tuesday; runs you 200 miles on Wednesday; does the errands on Thursday; takes the family to call on Friday; one that's not only got the 5-year endurance, but gives you a feeling of pride as well.

That, sir, is my definition of Economy. This new 1917 Chalmers with the 3400 r. p. m. engine—the car that increased Chalmers sales 792% in six months—is one that'll lure you the minute you sit behind the wheel.

THREE CLASSES OF HIGHWAYS

Classification is Prime Step in Fed-eral Aid to Good Roads, Says Congressman Borland.

Nith various bills before congress for federal aid to road building the classification of highways so that important through routes may be outlined clearly from the country's maze of thoroughfares of one kind or an-

of thoroughfares of one kind or another, becomes a question of more and more interest. Congressman W. P. Borland of Missouri, a good-roads advocate, has expressed himself on this subject as follows:

"It will be necessary, in my judgment, to classify all existing highways into at least three classifications. The first class is that of the great cross-state or interstate highways. The second consists of the main feeders or great country roads; and third, the by-roads, local roads or lanes. These various classes of roads should be built, improved and maintained with a view to the amount of traffic that they can bear and must bear. The first class should and must bear. The first class should be of the most permanent and scienbe of the most permanent and tific construction. The second class could be of a less expensive nature and would need less maintenance. The third class could be improved The third class could be improved only to the extent that the community required. The expense of building and maintaining these roads should be distributed upon the same basis.

"The roads of the first class should be supported by the taxing power of a large area of country. The second class of roads should also have a wide taxing power at least co-extensive with the county and possibly with a group of counties or with some state aid. This would leave the small road district or local comthe small road district or local community only the burden of the smaller or purely local roads. However much politicians may twist and turn and argue about the question we must eventually come to some scientific solution of the problem. I realize that when we begin to talk about real road improvement political difficulties of all kinds are encountered; what the people will demand in the next few years in this country is good roads and not politics."

shows that state control is the best. Indiana needs some form of central Indiana needs some form of centralized power over highway construction and maintenance. In isolated cases it is excellent. Wayne county, for instance, has a capable superintendent of roads, and its highways are models. But this does not obtain over the whole state.—Richmond Palladium.

Dirt Roads in United States.
Two million miles of dirt roads have been built in the United States.
The total length of public roads of all kinds in this country is estimated at 2,250,000 miles.

Roads Indicate Prosperity.

In regions where the roads have been improved the farmers are the most prosperous and community life has been developed. In regions where the roads have not been improved, the schools, the churches and all other civilizing agencies have run down.

NEW SORGHUM VARIETIES FOR CENTRAL AND SOUTHERN GREAT PLAINS

Four new varieties of sorghum which are worthy of trial in the Central and Southern Great Plains of Agriculture. These varieties are crop breeding work of the Depart.

Dwarf hegari is primarily a grain sorghum, but like Blackhull kafir it is valuable also as a forage plant. In general appearance it is intermediate between Blackbull kafir and feterita. It is almost, if not quite, as early in maturity as feterita, and and at the Chillicothe (Texas) Field Station, where it has been under test for five years, it has produced better seed crops than any other variety of sorghum, and has become quiet popular with the farmers in that locality. Many farmers prefer it to Dwarf mile on account of its higher forage value and the greater ease of harvesting, due to the erect Improved feterita is a late importation of this variety of sorghum, having been obtained from Africa in 1908, two years after the first successful importation of feterita. It has been selected for uniformity and leafiness, and shows a higher yielding power than the earlier importation.

Dwarf feterita originated from a plant which was only 2 1-2 feet high and two weeks earlier in maturity than the general crop of feterita. It has not fully retained either its dwarfness or its earliness, but has made consistently high yields of grain and appears to be of some value where an early maturing grain crop is desired.

White milo is a variety of sorghum which has been grown to a small extent throughout Oklahoma and Texas for a number of years. A dwarf strain of this variety has been obtained by the department, which very much resembles the ordinary Dwarf Yellow milo. White milo has given evidence of greater drought resistance than even the
