CARLEY-MAHAN BURIAL ASS'N IS ORGANIZED

Burial Protection is Offered Those of Moderate Income

Announcement was made this week of the organization of the Carley-Mahan Burial Association, organized by Boyde Carley, Southwestern Life Insurance representative, and Wade Mahan of Mahan Funeral Home, with home offices located in Munday.

Mr. Horace Jones, of this city, is representative for Knox City and its trade territory. He will be glad to explain the plan to the citizens of this area.

Mr. Carley pointed out that in his contact with the public in an effort to insure the people of this section, he is only too often impressed with the fact that there are many people who are unprotected because either the cost of $1,000 insurance policies, the smallest written by old line legal reserve companies, is prohibitive, or many who would otherwise have this protection are too old to be accepted.

In connection with Mr. Mahan he has worked out the plan of the burial association to provide a modest yet impressive burial for members of the association at a cost within the reach of every person in this area, regardless of financial circumstances.

"This burial plan should practically eliminate the financial difficulties often experienced by bereaved families," Mr. Mahan stated, "and we believe that we can materially aid at least 1000 families in this section who are at present, due to circumstances beyond control, unable to aid themselves when an emergency arises."

Any white person living in this section between the ages of 1 month and 75 years at the date of application will be considered for membership in the Carley-Mahan Burial Association. Such membership entitles each member to all of the features of the Mahan Burial Service, many of which are exclusive in this section with the Mahan Funeral Home. Some of these services are listed in the advertisement of the Burial Association appearing elsewhere in this paper.

Special consideration will be given persons over 75 years of age. Write for details.

M'FARLANE NAMED SPECIAL ASSISTANT TO FRANK MURPHY

Graham, May 9.—W. D. McFarlane, faithful new dealer who lost his congressional seat in the last election, announced today his appointment as special assistant to the U. S. attorney general.

He said he would be stationed in Texas, assigned to litigation involving government loans. His headquarters will be in Graham but he will work with federal district attorneys throughout Texas.

McFarlane served three terms in the house before he lost to Ed Gossett.

ATTEND DISTRICT LIONS CONVENTION

COUNTY AGENT NOTES

Thirty seven boys have enrolled to do 4-H work in Knox County for 1939. The growing of cotton and feeding of calves will be the two projects carried on this year.

Forty Knox County farmers visited the Spur Experiment Station Friday, April 28. R. E. Dickson, superintendent of the station, stressed the importance of saving all the moisture where and where it falls by means of terracing and contouring.

"Most West counties get a sufficient amount of rainfall during the year to make a crop, if it can all be stored in the soil and not permitted to run off down the hillsides. It takes about 5 1-2 inches of available rainfall in the soil to make an average crop, yet if we get 25 inches and let it all run off we cannot expect to make a crop. Terracing has paid us $6 an acre more than the same land not terraced," stated Dickson. "Our terraces break about once every five years and it costs about $30 to make the necessary repairs, but our tractor and other farm equipment needs a little repair every four or five years."

Several pens of steers were on feed. They were fed Red Top Cane silage, maize and cottonseed meal, in several different combinations. The steers had been on feed for 200 days weighing 500 lbs. and costing $50 when started. They were fed for an average cost of $24 per head and were sold in Fort Worth Wednesday for 10 cents per pound, with an average weight of 1,000 lbs.

"We have tried all kinds of cane and sweet sorghums and nothing beats the common Red Top Cane or Sumae," said Mr. Dickson. "We have seen other strains come and go, but we stay by Red Top, the variety that yields the highest tonnage of roughage year after year."

One hundred and thirteen conservation checks were received this week in the amount of $23,194.22. To date 945 checks have been paid off, totaling $188,232.04.

The adjusted cotton yield per acre for Knox county has just been received from the AAA officials. The yield is set at 152 pounds per acre as compared with 164 pounds per acre for 1938. Following is a list of counties with their 1938 and 1939 cotton yields.

County	1938	1939
Archer	128	107
Baylor	121	113
Clay	130	130
Cottle	124	112
Foard	135	126
Hardeman	135	122
Haskell	161	150
Jack	105	97
King	141	132
Knox	164	152
Montague	113	113
Stonewall	145	135
Throckmorton	115	100
Wichita	161	154
Wilbarger	173	162
Wise	131	137
Young	114	100

In arriving at the 152-lb. average for Knox County, the past five years were used, 1934, 1935, 1936, 1937 and 1938. When 1933 was dropped from the average one of the best years in the history of Knox County was eliminated, as shown in the table below.

1933 produced 56,000 bales.
1934 produced 11,000 bales.
1935 produced 38,000 bales.
1936 produced 15,000 bales.
1937 produced 40,000 bales.
1938 produced 24,000 bales.

Congress recently amended the farm bill whereby farmers do not have to plant their 1939 allotted cotton acres in order to draw their full farm benefit payment. The cotton acres may be planted to feed instead of cotton, and the feed sold or handled in any manner that the operator may care to. This does not mean that the farmer can abandon his crops and still get his full farm payment. He must cultivate his land in the normal manner.

Red Top Cane may be planted on retired government land and may be put into a trench silo under the 1939 farm program. This was not permissible under the 1938 program but Congress amended the act making it permissible this year.

The present drought clearly demonstrates the need for storing surplus feed as we had last year, until droughts came on.

Farmers should make plans now to dig a trench silo and be prepared to store a bumper feed crop, should we make one again soon.

Knox county ranchers are now feeding silage to take the place of grass and are valuing it from $2.50 to $4.00 per ton. An acre of red top will make about 5 tons per acre in average years.

A group of business men met in the county agent's office Wednesday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock and made plans to attend the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Convention in Abilene May 16.

A parade has been planned, to begin at 4:30 p.m., and Knox county will be represented by five cars. Those attending the meeting were Henry Arledge, J. W. Smith, R. C. Partridge, W. E. Braly, P. C. Phillips, August Schumacher and J. A. Caughran.

A number of Knox county farmers have received reports from the Texas Livestock Sanitary Commission through their local veterinarian that their cows that had been tested for Bangs Disease were called "suspicious." In most cases this simply means that the cow has a mild form of the disease and if kept in the herd and tested in six months will have the disease probably in a dangerous stage.

Farmers are warned not to buy milk cows unless they have been tested recently for Bangs Disease and the numbers on the papers fit with the tag in the cow's ear.

ELECT MEMBERS TO ADVISORY COMMITTEE

Land owners from each precinct will elect one member to the county Advisory Committee in a meeting to be held at 3:30 p.m. May 15. This is in keeping with the recent act of the Texas Legislature as House Bill No. 20, Texas State Soil Conservation Act. Each precinct will elect one member and the four will select one member to be chairman. The chairman will attend the district meeting and represent Knox county as their delegate.

This new law makes it possible for farmers to set districts and cooperatively do soil and water projects and secure Federal aid that had been denied Texas before this bill was passed. A similar act was vetoed two years ago.

District Attorney Lewis Williams of Benjamin was here Saturday afternoon on business.

Herbert Sams of Benjamin was here Saturday afternoon on business.

SEVENTH GRADE BANQUET

Mrs. Otto Lawson and Mrs. T. P. Frizzell, Jr. were joint hostesses Thursday night at the Lawson Cafe with a banquet honoring the seventh grade, the teachers of the grammar school, Mrs. E. Q. Warren and Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Whitis.

Four courses were served to the group, during which an enjoyable program was rendered by the members of the class. The banquet was the culmination of the desire of these mothers to honor their sons and their classmates.

After the banquet a reception was held in the home of Dr. and Mrs. T. P. Frizzell. After a series of games the pupils and teachers were invited into the dining room, where punch was served by Mrs. A. M. Whitis.

Guests of Mrs. Lawson and Mrs. Frizzell for the occasion were Jimmie Lou Bohannon, Alene Cadwell, Norma Janice Coats, Pauline Goodson, Inez Kay, Letha Lynch, Bonnie Bell Snelson, Mary Ellis Stevens, Margaret Ann Wall, Billy Jo Woodward, Pauline Yarbrough, Betty Jo Peacock, Francis McGee, Billy Ben Benson, Delmar Cadwell, Virgil Dotson, Walter Dale Chowning, Tom Paul Frizzell, Jr., Paul Hackfield, Bobby Hill, Kenneth Lawson, Jim Edd Marr, W. C. Nance, J. D. Rowell, Jack Stubbs, Harold Dozier, Clifford Pettes, Duval Wallace, Richard Hunnicut and Frank Hunnicut. The teachers present were Misses Pauline Cherry, Ruth Rice, Frances Hicks and Pauline Benton, and Mr. Jack Wetzel, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Whitis and Mrs. E. R. Carpenter.

Those who assisted Mrs. Lawson in serving were Mrs. W. E. Marr, Mrs. Jack Coats, Mrs. Allen Peacock, Mrs. Frizzell, Miss McKinney, Dr. Frizzell and Mr. Otto Lawson. Flowers for the occasion were furnished by Mrs. W. E. Marr, Mrs. C. J. Bohannon and Mrs. Jack Coats. Each one present was given flowers.

METHODIST CHURCH

It is very meaningful that Mother's Day has been placed on Sunday. It is significant that the day had its origin in the church. The words Mother, Church are very appropriately grouped. It is impossible to estimate the influence the church and the Christian Sabbath have played in the lives of mothers and womanhood.

If we desire to do honor to our mothers it is not enough that we attend church once a year with her or in her memory. We should give a constant loyalty to those things that made her good. The true expression of loyalty is not in mere words easily spoken or a single deed quickly done.

Go to church Sunday in honor of motherhood, and go every Sunday in quest of the life which makes motherhood worthy of honor.

Mother's Day will be observed next Sunday at the Methodist church. Come and bring your mother, if possible. If not, come in remembrance of her.

—Allen A. Peacock, Pastor

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Miller of Lubbock spent the week end with her sister, Mrs. Thomas Ferguson.

Roy Baker of the Frizzell Drug Store will leave Sunday for Carlsbad, N. M., for a few days on business.

John Coates of Abilene spent Sunday with his mother and other relatives in Knox City.

Mrs. C. C. Coates spent the first of the week with her son Curtiss in Munday.

Austin, May 10.—A minority of sixty blocked the passage Wednesday of the proposed constitutional amendment for a sales tax and natural resource levy for social security financing, which has the approval of the Senate and endorsement of Gov. Lee O'Daniel.

Instead of gaining ground since passage last Thursday to final reading, the resolution apparently lost strength as the vote on final passage 83 to 50 with two pairs. Last week the vote for it was 89 to 58. One hundred affirmative votes are required for the House to approve the submission of a constitutional amendment.

Many members believed the resolution, which Sunday received the endorsement of the governor and the prediction it would pass, was definitely dead.

HORSES STAMPEDE AS STAMFORD BARN BURNS

Stamford, May 7.—Loss estimated at between $3,000 and $4,000 resulted from fire here late Sunday afternoon when a large sheet iron barn belonging to Buie Implement company was totally destroyed. The building was at the rear of the Buie Implement company and only a short distance from the square. The blaze was controlled and did not spread. Between 7,000 and 10,000 feet of lumber stored in the building and a large amount of baled hay burned. A dozen head of horses and mules were in the lot around the barn and one horse was burned to death. The other frightened animals went tearing down the street and out the highway when they were released.

FAMILY SAVED BY STORM CELLAR

Haskell, May 7.—A hasty retreat to a storm cellar saved from injury and possible death a dozen people gathered at the home of David Hunt for a family reunion, a short distance north of Rule Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Members of the Haskell county family ran to the cellar when they noticed the approach of a cyclone.

When the storm was over the family returned to the surface to find the home had been completely destroyed by powerful winds. Parts of the building were scattered over a large area on the farm.

A few minutes later the storm struck another farm home a short distance from the Hunt farm, turned the structure around and inflicted heavy damage.

Rain which accompanied the winds varied from one to two inches in sections of Haskell county.

THE GOLDEN RULE

"Do unto others as you would have them do unto you." As citizens and future citizens of America how many of us practice that rule? How many of us endeavor to treat others as our friends and helpmates? Let us be honest with ourselves; let us face the facts as they really stand. Let us make a confession and be true to ourselves and to others.

In this striving, cruel, business-like world of today everyone is too busy and engrossed in their own individual affairs to mind the feelings and aspirations of others. Along this highway of life the masses of the people surge forward, never stopping, never giving, but always taking, and forever forgetting the benefits and blessings that are received along the way.

Why don't we all strive to be better persons. Not better in the financial or business ways of the world, but in our own selves. When we think of the improvements that could be made in our own lives and ways we feel overwhelmed. We can not seem to realize that we have so many things that must be done to make us more likeable and worth-while individuals. Have we stopped to search our minds and memories and try to recall the wrongs we've committed, or the happiness we have caused? More than likely the wrongs have greatly outdistanced the happiness. That is sad from every point of view. There are so many small things that we could do; things that might seem insignificant to us, but would cause warmth or joy in someone we do not even consider. Think of the dreariness and darkness in this life. Why don't we try to change this, and make the world a brighter place in which to live. We can if we will!

P.T.A. PICNIC THURSDAY

Thursday afternoon the P.T.A. is sponsoring a picnic on the school campus at six o'clock with everyone invited to attend. All are urged to come and bring a basket lunch. There will be plenty of fun for all, and games and entertainment for the enjoyment of everyone who attend.

"SIS PERKINS" A SUCCESS

The Junior class wishes to thank everyone who helped to make their play a success. They want to thank those people who loaned their furniture so freely, Mr. Shumaker and Mr. Whitus for their help, and all who came to see it.

The play was very interesting and the members of the cast were well suited for their parts. The salesmanship class sold tickets for the Juniors, and the net return from that source and the box office was approximately thirty dollars.

ANNUAL BALLOT TAKEN

The annual contest for the honor of being the Best All-around Boy and Girl was voted upon Monday afternoon, May 8. The outcome of the vote will not be known until the commencement exercises, May 22. The lucky boy and girl will be the chosen representatives of the high school, and as a usual thing are members of the Senior class. This is not a set rule, however, and they may just as well be members of some of the other classes. The outcome will be kept a secret until the final night.

BAND CONCERT AND PARADE

At the P.T.A. picnic the Greyhound Band will give a concert for those attending the picnic. In addition to the concert the band will present the same maneuvers that they used in the National Contest at Abilene. This will be the last exhibition the band will present under the leadership of D. L. Dodgen. The band members plan to do their very best in order to show their sincere appreciation for Mr. Dodgen, who created the Greyhound Band and has built it up to what it is today.

Everyone is urged to come and see the Greyhounds in their final appearance for this year.

In Galveston the delegates went on an excursion boat five miles into the Gulf and enjoyed a 45-minute motor boat ride. They visited the United States Coast Guard and explored a banana freighter from Nicaragua.

After three days of complete enjoyment, excitement and education the delegates started the long trip home. They stopped for three hours at A and M. College, where they ate supper. They arrived home about two o'clock Sunday.

WHY ICE IS ALWAYS The Perfect Food Preservative

ICE IS A WET COLD—IT DOES NOT DRY OUT FOODS

One of the most important advantages gained by using ice for refrigeration is that the moisture from the melting ice provides a cold that humidifies the air and guards food against drying out. This helps keep the food fresh and moist much longer than the usual refrigerator. Investigate the advantages of ice refrigeration . . . see one of the modern ice refrigerators now on display.

HELP KIDNEYS
To Get Rid of Acid and Poisonous Waste
Your kidneys help to keep you well by constantly filtering waste matter from the blood. If your kidneys get functionally disordered and fail to remove excess impurities, there may be poisoning of the whole system and body-wide distress.
During, scanty or too frequent urinations may be a warning of some kidney or bladder disturbance.
You may suffer nagging backache, constant headache, attacks of dizziness, peevishness, nervousness, puffiness under the eyes—feel weak, nervous, all played out.
In such cases it is better to rely on a medicine that has won country-wide acclaim than on something less favorably known. Use Doan's Pills. A multitude of grateful people recommend Doan's. Ask your neighbor.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS
By Boyce House

So many have spoken or written about the letter in "Life" that this columnist feels constrained to say that he feels he made out a better case for Fort Worth than the brief quotation revealed. By way of explanation for the benefit of those arriving late: A recent issue of the national publication carried picture after picture of Texas scenes but none of my home town, so your commentator queried:

"Did you ever hear of Fort Worth? The home of the Texas Christian University, the Frogs, national football champions, who were spark-plugged by little Davey O'Brien, No. 1 star of the nation. Remember? The spirit of Texas which your article portrayed is embodied by Fort Worth to a greater degree than by any other large city in the state because that spirit is the product of cattle and oil, and Cowtown is the cattle center and the oil center of Texas.

"Over on the North Side, where the stockyards are, the Fat Stock Show is held each spring with the world's championship rodeo, and there are saddle and boot shops, mule auctions and taverns where real cowboys whoop things up. "More sophisticated is the original Casa Manana, which will be presented for the fourth successive summer on the world's largest revolving stage—3,200 persons dining and dancing under the stars.

"Fort Worth is the third largest airmail port; it is where Vernon Castle crashed; the bodies of British fliers who lost their lives in train during the World War are buried here, 'a spot that is forever England'—the only such bit of ground in the United States. And, no doubt, by this time your amnesia has lifted and you do not need to be reminded that Fort Worth is the home of Amon Carter."

Such was the communication of this self-appointed press agent for Cowtown but it was cut down to the brevity of a vacationist's post card: "Having fine time; wish you were here."

Seeing a sign on a car, "O Dan Yells Pension Candy," a cynic commented, "It must be taffy—that's what Leo's been feeding us." Macabre (that's a three-for-a-dollar word) are the signs along the highways: "Drink, drive and die," embellished by skull and cross-bones. All that is missing is "Frankenstein" Karloff.

Back from a trip to West Texas, Jerry Sadler is wearing a rancher's broad brimmed straw hat made of bear-grass, as he goes about his duties as State Railroad Commissioner around the Capitol.

Puebla, "the city of the angels," so the inhabitants of that place in Old Mexico call it—explaining that it is so beautiful because the angels helped build it. Its cathedral is grim grandeur outside; gloomy grandeur within—the most magnificent interior this traveler has ever seen. Columns supporting the lofty roof vanish in the dimness; the dome ornamented with paintings, walls with canvases of gigantic dimensions; a baptismal font of a single block of onyx; a beautiful chapel in the center of the cathedral where priests are chanting; the great altar, with its background representing heaven, angels and arch angels cleaving through clouds. Once again outside, the visitor blinks dazedly in the sunshine. Then there is the hidden convent, the guide explaining its existence was discovered only a few years ago after more than half a century—a place with hidden doors that swing open when a spring is touched; a secret passage through which you crawl; peepholes, a ladder leading into darkness; a burial vault; and a room in which the Savior and the Apostles (represented by life-size figures) are at the Last Supper, the walls on each side hung with paintings done on velvet by an Indian, the pictures taking on the soft shades of evening when the lights are dimmed—truly, an unforgettable experience.

One remembers El Rosario chapel—altar, walls and ceiling of ornately carved wood covered with gold, creating a cavern of splendor; business buildings of many-colored tile with wrought iron balconies that make one think of Moors and amours; the easy-flowing traffic, a policeman standing on a box just off the sidewalk—you can't figure out his signals but just observe the direction the others are moving; luncheon in the tiled patio of the 300 year old Hotel Arronte, with course after course, watching the slow elevator which is in a cage separate from the building itself, and listening to the tinkling music of a marimba band.

Tile and onyx are the chief products of Puebla. In the little shops are boxes, jars, letter openers, paper weights, ear rings, trays and a hundred other objects made of onyx—milky with streaks of green, or faintly pink, or tawny gold.

Sitting in the central park, one sees across the street the vendors shuffling along in sandals over the sidewalks that are shadowed by ponderous arcades on three sides of the square (the cathedral is on the fourth side) and in the shade of tall, tropical trees with strange-voiced birds, the outside world is forgotten, time stands still and life becomes a dream in the languorous, lovely lotus-land which is Puebla.

Here is one that ought to finish near the top in the oldest joke contest: A white man, seeing a baseball game in progress between two teams of little negroes, asked an outfielder the score. "It's 21 to 0," he answered. "They're beating you pretty bad," the man commented. "Naw, suh," the little darkey replied, "We ain't beer to bat yet."

BAPTIST CHURCH NEWS

Interest is growing from Sunday to Sunday. We believe we are witnessing the beginning of a great revival in our church, as well as throughout the nation. People have tried gold, and it has failed. Plans, schemes and nostrums have all been branded as failures. Generally, there is a feeling that a revival of old fashioned religion is the only thing that will save the day.

Let us honor God and our mothers by attending services next Sunday. On Mother's Day our thoughts should turn toward spiritual things, because every true mother feels the need of spiritual guidance to help her rear her children.

The pastor preaches Sunday morning on the subject, "A Great Woman." The evening service will be at 8 o'clock and the subject will be, "Eternal Life, the Present Possession of the Believer."
