Bible Study M. E. Legion Post 2 Day Celebration

Sunday, Aug. 14th
Subject Lesson for All Departments of the M. E. S. S. August 14th
St. Luke 7th Chapter

It is impossible to do justice to the several great lessons found in this chapter in the time allotted us Sunday School.

First, we find a Gentile (that is a Jew) in trouble; this Roman captain of a garrison of 100 soldiers proves himself more worthy than the studies of the Jews. He believed that Jesus could heal his beloved servant who was lying at the point of death, yet he does not approach the Master in person, but came to Him through the agency of those who are supposed to be His people. This brings to us very plainly that sinners who would know Jesus, seek Him through some friendly Christian in whom they have faith, and reminds us that we should be ready, willing and able with the leadership of the Holy Spirit to help such an one find Salvation through faith in our Lord and Saviour.

This centurian in confessing his unworthiness, proves that he understands the position and power of Jesus, an understanding that all must have before we are worthy of the mercies and blessings He is ready to bestow.

The centurian BELIEVED and Jesus marveled at his faith and answered His prayer in the healing of the servant.

Next we find the Master passing on to other fields in His Mission of love and healing, and as He is entering the little town of Nain, He meets the great tragedy of life, a funeral procession, and oh! what a funeral this was; the only son of a widowed mother, imagine the sorrow in this mother's heart, a great host of friends mourning with her, willing anxious to help bear the burden and share the sorrow. Yet, it is so little they can do; but Jesus comes to comfort the sorrowing mother and in His plenitude of power, restores physical life to the young man. And this Jesus, now the risen and glorified Lord is still the same loving, compassionate giver of life, eternal life. Young man, if you do not know this Jesus, then you are dead in sin, spiritually dead; and you will wake up one day in eternal separation from God unless you find Him on this side of eternity's shore. Mother, if your boy is out of Christ, then you may mourn his loss throughout all eternity; a loss infinitely greater than this mother of Gallilee.

And John the Baptist in prison, shut out from the world, he could not preach the Gospel; he could not see the manifestation of the power of God upon the hearts of men, doubts assail, the fiery darts of Satan are hurled, as they are sure to be; he yearns for the assuring words from the lips of the blessed Son of God; But Jesus said "Go tell your master what you have this day seen with your eyes and heard with your ears—that is sufficient" when doubt comes and sorrow and sin unbidded and unwelcome. Crowd around, why not turn to the eternal word of God, the testimony of a great host of saints gone on before, and let the Holy Spirit speak the peace of God to your heart, try it brother, it will work.

Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Vinson and daughter Miss Bertha of San Angelo arrived here Tuesday for a few days with Mrs. Vinson's brother J. W. Carter and family. Miss Bertha is a teacher in the North Ward School of San Angelo.

SHAVAR PITCHES FINE GAME
No Score to 8th Inning

Wednesday Skipper Shaver pitched one of the best games of the second half of the season against Rochester on the home field. Neither team scored throughout the first seven innings with Rochester making only one score in the 8th. Again, however, in the final inning, Rochester ran in three making a total of four scores. In fact the last half of the 9th Knox City scored twice, but losing the game 2 to 4.

Ablene—Plans have been mapped and dates are set for the annual American Legion rodeo and race meet slated this year as a two-day celebration. The dates will be September 5 and 6 the first day Labor Day, and the place will be the West Texas fair grounds.

Featuring two complete days of horse racing, rodeos, dances, minstrels and barbecues, the affair is being scheduled as one of the biggest of its kind ever held here, the committee pointed out.

Approximately $1,500 in prizes are to be given away in the horse racing and rodeo events, and the best performers and horses are to be asked to take part in the attraction.

Legion officials are planning still more forms of entertainment for the host of people expected in Abilene for these two days. They will be announced through the press at a later date.

SURPRISE LOVE SHOWER

Mother Shaver was pleasantly surprised Tuesday morning with a "love shower" presented by a few of her friends in the city, the same being sponsored by her neighbor, Mrs. H. B. Sweeney. The love gifts and letters were presented at nine o'clock with the instructions that the honoree should take only one gift or letter from the box each hour. In this manner the day was one of happy anticipation of what the next hour would bring.

Card of Thanks

We wish to thank those dear friends who were so thoughtful of our mother while she has been confined to her bed and home during the past few weeks. The "love shower" presented Tuesday has meant a great deal to all of us as well as to just the one two whom it was intended.

Mr. and Mrs. Hershell Hollibough of California drove to Ellis county Texas last week for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hollibough. Sunday the two families motored to Knox City where they visited Sunday and Monday with J. A. Hollibough's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Hollibough. Monday the two families with J. H. McGee and family and J. C. McGee and family visited John Hollibough in Vera.

W. W. Hyde and family spent Sunday with the M. F. Abbott family in Abilene. Miss Irene Abbott returned home for the week with Miss Faye Hyde. John Hyde boarded the train in Abilene for Comanche where he will spend three or four weeks with his sister Mrs. M. Spivey.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Fox of Crowell were Knox City visitors Tuesday.

SENATOR HATTIE CARAWAY IS RE-ELECTED

Senator Hattie Caraway was re-elected U. S. Senator from Arkansas with an overwhelming vote, against 6 opponents. The picture shows her in her kitchen getting ready to make candy, she had the help of Senator Huey P. Long, the "Kingfish" of Louisiana during her campaign.

AGED MAN WANDERS FROM HOME

On Friday afternoon of last week Mr. W. J. Teaff caused no little excitement at his home when he wandered off from the house and lost himself in the maize patch.

As will be remembered, Friday of last week was one of the hottest days. In the heat, Mr. Teaff decided that he might cool off a bit by walking around the house. He did and was soon in the maize patch. He was unable to retrace his steps and after an hour of wandering about in the heat was near complete exhaustion. His son, Earnest Teaff, who had been in Knox City on business, returned home and joined the family in the search for his father. He was soon located and to the joy of every one for had he not have been found soon he would have succumbed from exhaustion.

A local physician was called to see Father Teaff late Friday evening but the aged man was all O. K., just tired out.

Mr. W. J. Teaff will be 91 years young on the 29th day of next month September.

Mr. A. P. Oliver returned to Knox City last Friday.

Mr. C. B. Breedlove, Superintendent of Haskell Schools, will speak to the student body and patrons of the Sunset school Monday morning at 9:30 in the school auditorium. Patrons and friends of the school are urged to be present for the opening program. Books will be issued immediately after the program, but there will be no classwork until Tuesday.

Cotton Per Bale Higher Than Year's Low

Bank Loans to Farmers Smallest in History of This Territory

One of the finest gran crops ever harvested in this section of the State is now being cared for by Knox City and territory farmers. Barns as well as cellars are being filled to capacity. The winter looks like a dinch for the appetites.

And still one of the finest prospective cotton crops of this section of West Texas is now standing in the fields. For state conditions, the cotton crop is above normal, says the local official cotton reporter, T. E. Robbins, but for West Texas, it is about an average.

Mr. Robbins states that Knox City will have its first bale about the first of September and he predicts that it will come from the northwest section of the territory.

One-Half Inch Rain Tuesday Night

The rain of Tuesday night or early Wednesday morning, amounted to an average of 1/2 inch. It is believed that this shower was a great help to the cotton. It is keeping the cotton from shedding because of the shallow roots this year due to the early heavy rains.

In addition to the heavy fruitage of the crop, farmers have the good tidings of a raise in the market this week. So far the ascend is some $12.00 per bale. However, it is found philosophy not to become too buoyant about this early rise in market. But it is also sound to take on a new hope and begin with renewed efforts.

Bank Loans to Farmers Smallest in History of This Territory

Bank reports show an increase of only some $14,000 or $15,000 to territory farming interest since the first of the year which amount is small compared with that of others years; in fact, it is believed to be the smallest amount of money loaned to farmers in this territory in the history of the territory. This decrease in loans is certainly working an advantage to those who would borrow for they have less to pay back. What ever the cotton crop brings is much better for the farmer deposit in the pocket of a pair of worn "jeans" than refunded to the banker with interest.

REVIVAL AT METHODIST CHURCH

I hope that all who can, will be at the Methodist Church next Sunday. Brother Charlie Sargent will preach at 11 A. M. and the pastor will preach at the evening hour.

I am going to ask the same cooperation from the people for myself as I would ask for a visiting preacher. The reason I do this is that I do not believe that a visiting preacher could love the people of Knox City as I do. I have a deep interest in the lost souls of Knox City and want to see them saved and Christian friends let us do our best to bring them into God's Kingdom.

I appreciate the cooperation of the people during our meeting in the spring, and believe that we will have the same cooperation this time.

Come to all the services and come praying and trusting.

Your friend and pastor,
Jim H. Sharp

DR. MILFORD, COMMUNITY PASTOR WELCOMED HOME FROM TEXAS

Dr. John J. Milford, pastor of the First Baptist church has returned from a three weeks spent in Texas where he visited his brother whom he had not seen for 22 years, and on top of that joy he conducted a revival meeting which is reported to have been the most successful held in that community within 25 years. Two hundred and fifty letters attest that fact.

Dr. Milford is more than a leader of his flock here; he is pastor of the whole community, Baptist, Methodists, Presbyterian, Catholics, Jews, and the public at large appreciating and looking up to him as their spiritual guide. And with it all he is a most likable fellow, a man of the people, an inspiration and benediction in all walks of life.

The welcome being accorded the return of Dr. Milford is genuine and sincere. We're all glad he had such a good trip, and we are gladdened still to have him back with us.

The above article was an editorial in the Huntsville Daily Register of Huntsville Alabama. It reveals the high esteem in which those of the city of Huntsville Alabama hold the Dr. John J. Milford, brother of Knox City's Guy Milford.

Centennial Chairman for Knox Co.

Mr. Chas. Moorehouse, of Benjamin, has accepted appointment as County Chairman of the Texas Centennial Committee for Knox County and will at an early date complete County and Precinct organization for a campaign to acquaint voters with the pending Centennial constitutional amendment. The County Committee will appoint chairmen for every precinct in the county.

The State Constitution as originally framed, however, made no provision for State support of a Centennial celebration and the amendment would authorize the legislature to appropriate funds for assisting in such a celebration in 1936, but especially provides that it shall not apply to any exposition or celebration of any kind.

The Committee believes that all that will be necessary to secure an overwhelming majority for the Centennial amendment will be to inform voters as to its purpose and that with attention properly directed to it, every patriotic Texan will favor a creditable celebration of a kind to reflect the heroic sacrifices of the founders of the State, the resplendent achievements of the first century and the wonderful possibilities for the future.

J. B. MARLOW WILL SUPPORT MRS. FERGUSON

J. B. Marlow, state campaign manager for Tom F. Hunter in the first primary gubernatorial race, announces that he will support Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson for the Democratic nomination for governor at the second primary, August 27. Mr. Marlow's statement is as follows:

"In one of the most interesting elections, just ended, I was campaign manager for the Honorable Tom F. Hunter, and had it not been for the metropolitan press absolutely refusing to recognize him as one of the three outstanding candidates in the race for governor, and had they given him the publicity he was entitled to, there is no question but that he would have been in the run off, and could have defeated either of the other two candidates, for governor.

"The great race he made is a splendid tribute to Mr. Hunter and his many supporters, and I am sure thousands of voters regret having passed up an opportunity to put a real man at the head of our state government. However, it is too late now to complain, and all we can do is to choose between Mrs. Ferguson and Ross Sterling; and, believing that it will be to the best interest of a majority of the people of this state, I shall vote for Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson.

"I hope this statement will answer the many inquiries I have been receiving as to the stand I will take in the run-off on August 27.

Tunney Into Politics

James J. (Gene) Tunney, retired undefeated heavyweight champion, is being prevailed upon to enter the political arena as a candidate for congressman-at-large or senatorial toga on the Democratic ticket in Connecticut at the November elections. Both Roosevelt and National Chairman Farley favor his making the race.

THE CLAN OF ROOSEVELT

One of the most curious illustrations of the fact that most people don't seem to know what is going in the world is the receipt by Mrs Theodore Roosevelt, widow of the former President, of several hundred letters and telegrams congratulating her upon the nomination of her husband for the Presidency. It seems incredible that there is still anyone in America who does not know that Theodore Roosevelt died in 1919.

There were also a good many thousands who wrote to Franklin D. Roosevelt, the Democratic nominee for President, under the impression that he is a son of the former President. As a matter of fact, his wife is much more closely related to the late Theodore Roosevelt than Franklin than Franklin D. Roosevelt. She was the daughter of Theodore Roosevelt's brother, Elliott, and that makes her a first cousin to the present Theodore Roosevelt, Governor-General of the Philippines. One has to go back nearly two hundred years to trace the relationship of Franklin D. Roosevelt to Theodore Roosevelt, but it is there.

The first of the name to settle in America was a Dutch merchant named Nicholas Roosevelt, who came to New York in 1694. In 1742, the records show, there were two brothers Roosevelt, named Johannus and Josephus. They were great-grandsons of the original Nicholas Roosevelt. One of them was the ancestor of Theodore Roosevelt, and the other of Franklin D. Roosevelt. Their descendants in both lines accumulated wealth and acquired high social position, but none of them was very active in politics until Theodore Roosevelt, just out of college, was put up by the Republican organization in 1881 for member of the Legislature in which was supposed to be a safely Democratic district, and surprised everybody by getting himself elected. And Franklin Roosevelt, his distant cousin, made the same kind of a sensational entry in politics in 1910 when he was elected as a Democrat to the New York State Senate from a district which had been regarded as safely Republican.

A few of the intimate friends of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Thomas enjoyed quite a fish fry and watermelon feast at their home Tuesday evening. The Herald family was among the invited list but due to having other arrangements were unable to attend the affair, which fact the three members of the Herald family greatly regret.

Some of the best catfishes enjoyed by the Herald family this year came from the home of W. D. Thomas. Last Saturday we left the office a few minutes to find, on our return three large melons on the table. With them was the genuine "compliments of W. D. Thomas." Well, Mr. Thomas, they were certainly fine and we appreciate you remembering us.

COUNT YOUR CHANGE

There's no argument in this editorial. It's merely a collection of facts, incontrovertible, eloquent facts that confound those who profess to see America slipping down into a state of effortless despair.

Total bank savings today exceed $29,000,000,000, equal to more than $1,000 for every family in the land. Savings depositors number 52,000,000, nearly two per family.

The number of Americans owning stock has increased almost 40 per cent since 1929.

A group of 102 companies which had 5,539,036 stockholders at the end of the boom year had 7,675,143 this year.

One company alone today has over 665,000 since the boom. This company has assets exceeding $3,200,000.

Our stock of gold in $4,000,000,000. No other country ever possessed so much. Britain, for example, has only $588,000,000. Currency in circulation aggregates $5,464,000,000, or seven hundred million more than in the boom.

Last year $16,500,000,000 worth of new life insurance was written.

Total insurance now carried is estimated at $109,000,000,000, or not far short of $1,000 for every man, woman and child in the United States. Policies in force total 127,800,000.

Such safeguard—is enjoyed by the people of no other nation in the world.

Our total national wealth estimated at $329,700,000,000, is greater than that of a dozen Continental European countries combined.

The income of the American people comfortably exceeds $1,000,000,000 a week.

The per capita income here is far greater than any other land.

There are still six or seven persons richly employed for every person idle.

No fewer than 25,800,000 automobiles are owned by Americans. This is almost three times the number owned by all the rest of the world.

Americans possess far more telephones (19,500,000) than all other countries. Radios multiply over 16,543,000, unapproached by any other people.

How many new domestic mechanical refrigerators have been bought, would you guess? A grand total of fully 3,750,000, at an estimated expenditure approaching $2,000,000,000. In no other part of the globe do half as many homes enjoy such a luxury—Americans are rapidly coming to regard it as a necessity.

A recent survey of 29 typical small towns revealed that 71 per cent of the inhabitants owned homes, that 88 per cent had electric light, 72 per cent had baths, 51 per cent had electric washers, 55 per cent had radios, 41 per cent had vacuum cleaners.

There are more families in America than in any other land that can afford to and do send their children to high school and college. In no other land do so many average families have the means to enjoy foreign travel.

The movie still attracts a weekly average attendance of 75,000,000. The percentage of our agricultural population who, despite deflation, are acquiring domestic comforts, conveniences, labor-saving devices, improved machinery, the use of better roads is constantly increasing.

Today more than 700,000 farms are electrified, representing an increase of 400 per cent in eight years, and the total being swelled rapidly.

In industrial communities hard manual toil is being steadily abolished by the introduction of machinery. Each American worker now has at his command five horsepower, a record not even remotely approached outside our boundaries.

The average working-day a generation ago was ten to twelve hours. The standard in this generation is eight hours. The work-week used to consist of six days. Now it is five and one-half days, with the five-day week coming into vogue.

Never in the past was America so well quipped as it is today to resume an epochal forward march. Not only have we changed from a debtor nation to the greatest creditor nation on earth, not only have we vaster national wealth, not only have we an unprecedented supply of gold, but we are richer in experience, richer in inventive brains, richer in scientific knowledge, richer in machinery, richer in productive facilities, richer in managerial skill, richer in discovered mineral and oil resources, richer in transportation facilities, richer in every material wealth-creating product and process, richer in craftsmanship, richer in everything.

The country is all right. What we need is less hysteria and more confidence and courage.—Collier's, The National Weekly.

Mrs. Sims and daughter Mrs. Underwood of Gorman, both former residents of Knox City, were here over the past weekend visiting with old friends and acquaintances.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Hitchcock and Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Bradberry left the city Wednesday for Rochelle. They plan a trip to Corpus Christi before Jess' school opens the first of September.

There was a fine attendance at both the morning and evening services at the Baptist church Sunday. Brother English delivered two good sermons, using as his method scripture study throughout. Those who had the pleasure of hearing him were happy in doing so.

Brother English was accompanied to Knox City by his son Joe. They, with Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Acker and Mr. and Mrs. Horace Finley and daughter, left for Country Arkansas Monday morning where the two latter couples plan to visit some three weeks.

A group of young people of this city enjoyed a swimming party last Saturday night in Seymour. Following the swim a bountiful picnic lunch was spread. Those enjoying the occasion were Miss Sydna Edwards and Herman Pippin, Miss Nell Dean Rogers and Frank Rayburn, Miss Cleo Sims and Kenneth Edwards, Miss Alene Perry and Panny Farmer, Miss Wynell Edwards and Donald Withrow and Leo Park and Jack Wilson.

The 42 club met last Thursday afternoon with Mrs. T. P. Frizzell. In addition to the club members those present were Mrs. Steele and Mrs. Culwell both of Abilene. Following the games, the five tables of players enjoyed refreshments of ice cream, angel food cake and punch. The club meets next with Mrs. E. O. Jamison.

J. H. Carter and family spent the weekend in Vera with Mrs. Carter's mother Mrs. W. H. Rutledge. Mr. Carter says the crops in Vera are the best he has ever seen. His brother-in-law T. J. Rutledge is heading 4800 pounds of cotton; the acreage has cotton the finest in the state.

Miss Stella Cooner and Velma Barnard were weekend guests of friends in Spur Texas.

Miss Eloise Couch of Haskell is the guest of Miss Rowena Wall this week.

Mr. John Dutton and Duz Horton motored to Lorenza Sunday for Mrs. Della Barnett who has been staying with her father. Mrs. Barnett is a sister to Mrs. John Dutton, and she lives in Goree. Mrs. Dutton's father is showing some improvement from his critical illness.

It is a fact that the east side business district was snowed under in a score of 8 to 31 Monday evening by the west side business section. The game was in-door base ball.

Another game the same evening was a defeat for a team of the older men, the visitors being the ladies.

Minard Kelsor, Deaf Smith county farmer conducting a hog raising demonstration with the county agent has found that self feeders and a self-watered made out of a barrel do away with 75 per cent of the work in caring for the herd. He has produced pork this year for a feed cost of 1.71 cents per pound of pork.

These are the days dairy herd demonstrators are weeding out the poor producers. Herd records have shown J. W. Moss in Jackson county that his poorest producer charged 16 cents per pound for feed for one pound of butterfat, while his best producer charged only 8.4 cents.

Improved Bedrooms At Low Cost

Abilene—Hard times haven't kept Taylor county home demonstration club members from beautifying bedrooms this year, and big rains and high water didn't keep 65 people from making a tour late in June to inspect 4 of the improved rooms. It cost from $1.50 to $14.83 to change these rooms into cheerful and comfortable bed rooms, writes Miss Caroline Chambers, home demonstration agent, who reports 29 rooms completely improved as demonstration. The total cost of all the improvements was $197.83 or an average of $6.83 per room. Both women and girls were engaged in this work.

Brady—After selling the top end of his calves to Northern feeders, Dick Winters, rancher of McCulloch county, fed out the cut backs for a net profit above feed cost of $5.37 by J. D. Prewitt, county agent, the Introduces Strawberry Culture—calves gained an average of 1.65 pounds per day for 206 days, put on at a feed cost of 3.88 cents per pound. The ration consisted of maize heads, barley, oats, corn, bundle cane, maize, and heegart, and peanut hay. The last 100 days limestone was fed at the rate of 1 per cent of the ration. The feed consumed per head was 3090 pounds.

Introduces Strawberry Culture

Crowell—Calls for 30,000 strawberry plants for August and September (delivery and Caud Dodd to think that Foard county is going in for strawberry cultivation. Starting in March a year ago with 100 plants as a demonstration with Miss Dosea Hale, home demonstration agent, he has had all the berries needed at home this year and has sold $15 worth of berries and $59 worth of plants. Of original plants 80 lived and from these he propagated 7000 plants last fall. Few strawberries have ever been grown in the county and until lately his was the only patch to be found there.

Mr. Dodd uses the Mastodon Ever-bearing and Improved Klondike varieties. He finds some irrigation necessary in the heat of the summer but cautious against sprinkling. A good soaking twice a month is better, he says. He now has 1400-foot sub-irrigation system out of concrete tile made at home at a cost of about one cent per foot. This has greatly cut the cost of irrigation. He also uses cotton burrs as a mulch to conserve moisture and to fertilize the plants.

THE COMMERCIAL USE OF TEXAS HIGHWAYS IS A PRIVILEGE, NOT A RIGHT

● The highways of Texas are the property of its citizens. They constitute a system of nearly 200,000 miles of road of which 20,000 miles are designated as State highways and the remainder are county roads. All types of road are represented in this system, less than 5% have so-called "permanent" surface.

The total cost of these highways is unknown but it amounts to many hundred million dollars. From 1917 to 1930, inclusive, counties and road districts of the State issued $243,592,834 in bonds for the construction and improvement of roads and bridges. In the two-year period ending August 31, 1930, the State Highway Commission expended $89,032,825, of which $22,438,426 was for maintenance of the State highways.

In view of these tremendous costs the preservation of our highways from rapid wear and destruction is a matter of very vital interest to their owners, viz., the public. It is especially important that they be made to outlast the life of the bonds, which run from 20 to 30 years.

The use of the public highways for commercial purposes is not a right but a privilege which may be withheld or granted subject to such restrictions, regulations and charges as the Legislature may see fit to impose. Such regulations are intended to promote safety, preserve the highways and safeguard the interests of the public.

Texas Railroads, which pay the entire cost of construction and maintenance of their own roadbeds and, in addition, make substantial contributions to the cost of Texas highways, are thoroughly regulated with respect to their services, rates, methods and practices. There is no good reason why commercial users of the highways, built and maintained at the expense of the public, should not likewise be regulated to such extent as the public interest requires and pay such charges as will represent proper compensation for the privileges granted them.

● The statutes governing highway transportation as enacted by the Forty-second Legislature represent the wishes of the citizens of this State and express their desire to give equal rights to all and special privileges to none. These statutes should be given a fair trial and their value ascertained. Unless this is done, a chaotic condition in transportation as a whole will surely ensue.

Deep in Oklahoma lie the producing sands of the Cambrian and Ordovician Ages—in some places more than a mile below the surface. Out of these sands Sinclair takes the rich Cambro-Ordovician crude oil which it refines and blends into Sinclair Opaline Motor Oil—a product of 80 million years of Nature's mellowing and filtering treatment. In process of manufacture Sinclair Opaline is de-waxed and freed from petroleum jelly at as low as 60° F. below zero. Try a crankcaseful of Opaline—note how it lasts in the heat of hard driving.

FOR A BROADER EDUCATION

BUD 'n BUB

NOW FOLKS—THIS ROCKET PLANE CAN'T CARRY US ALL—BUT WE CAN FOLLOW BUD 'n BUB HERE EACH WEEK—THE PLACES THEY'LL VISIT AND THINGS THEY'LL SEE ACTUALLY EXIST!

BRUCE BARTON

Writer of "THE MASTER EXECUTIVE"

Supplying a week-to-week inspiration for the heavy burdened who will find every human trial paralleled in the experiences of "The Man Nobody Knows."

BOYHOOD BACKGROUND

Many leaders in history have had a superiority to personal resentment and small annoyances which is one of the surest signs of greatness; Jesus infinitely surpassed a. He knew that pettiness brings it owns punishment. The law of compensation operates inexorably to reward and afflict us by and through ourselves. The man who is mean only to himself.

The village that refused to admit him required no fire; it was already dealt with. No miracles were performed in that village. No sick were healed; no hungry were fed; no poor received the message of encouragement and inspiration—that was the penalty for its boorishness. As for Jesus, he forgot he incident immediately. He had work to do.

Theology has spoiled the thrill of Jesus' life by assuming that he knew everything from the beginning that his three years of public work were a kind of dress rehearsal, with no real problems or crises. What interest would there be in such a life? What inspiration? You who read these lines have your own creed concerning him; I have mine.

Let us forget all creed for the time being, and take the story of Jesus' life just as the simple narratives give it—a poor boy, growing up in a peasant family, working in a carpenter shop; gradually feeling the powers expanding, beginning to have an influence over his neighbors, recruiting a few followers suffering disappointments and reverses finally death.

Yet Jesus built so solidly and well that death was only the beginning of his influence! Stripped of all dogma his was the greatest achievement achievement story of all!

If we are criticized for overemphasizing the human side of Jesus' character we shall have the satisfaction of knowing that our overemphasis tends a little to offset the very great overemphasis which has been exerted on the other side. Books and books have been written about Him as the Son of God; surely we have a reverent right to remember that his favorite title form himself was the Son of Man.

Nazareth, where he grew up, was a little town. In the fashionable circles of Jerusalem it was quite the thing to make fun of Nazareth—its crudities of custom and speech, its simplicity of manner. "Can any good thing come out of Nazareth?" they asked derisively when the report spread that a new prophet had arisen in that country town. The question was regarded as a complete rebuttal of his pretensions.

The Galileans were quite conscious of the curfews' contempt but they bore it lightly. Life was no cheerful and easy-going affair with them. The sun shone almost every day; the land was fruitful; to make a living was nothing much to worry about. There was plenty of time to visit. Families went on picnics in Nazareth, as elsewhere in the world; young people walked together in the moonlight and fell in love in the spring. Boys laughed boisterously at their games and got into trouble with their pranks.

And Jesus, the boy who worked in the carpenter shop, was a leader among them.

Union Grove

(By Mrs. McMahan)

Twelve of the ladies of the 4-H Club of Union Grove attended the Encampment at Seymour Thursday and Friday of last week. The twelve arrived at the park about four thirty Thursday and found the location very attractive. After exploring the grounds and viewing the swimming pool we joined the entire group in spreading supper. The huge table was loaded with all kinds of good things to eat. Any one looking upon the table would never judge that there is such a thing as a food shortage. The Seymour club furnished a sufficient supply of ice water and iced tea at the same time putting about one hundred melons on ice for the noon meal Friday. After the feast and the table was cleared every one was asked to register. The number totaled 160 with club ladies from Knox, Haskell and Baylor counties. The remainder of the evening was given to entertainment which proved to be interesting games, songs, swimming and stunts. The Munday club received the largest vote for staging the funniest stunt. At the encampment next year, prizes will be offered for the best stunts staged. At near twelve o'clock, the various clubs retired to their respective camps but each found it quite difficult to sleep as each was too noisy for his neighbor. At seven Friday morning breakfast of scrambled eggs, bacon, bread, butter, jelly and coffee was served. Again all took a dip in the swimming pool and responded immediately to camp for the program of the morning. Several fine talks were made by prominent workers in the 4-H club work. The afternoon was given to reports from the various clubs over the three counties. These reports were received with much pleasure for they revealed the great work that the 4-H clubs are doing for the homes, the counties and for charity. The encampment next year will be held at Haskell and all Union Grove club ladies who fail to attend, will miss one of the most enjoyable and worthwhile events that they may have the opportunity to enjoy.

Alton and Paul Fitzgerald and Estelle McBrayer are Rule visitors this week.

Mrs. Lane and daughters who have been visitors in the McBrayer home for several weeks returned to their home in Wichita Falls Sunday.

Your Electric Power Supply MUST Be Flexible

Electric power, to serve any community adequately, must be flexible. It must meet all requirements, large or small—from a large factory to a small household—at any time and at any place.

Small local plants serving single communities lack this flexibility—they lack the variety of volume and demand which enables a larger system, serving a wide area by transmission lines, to operate efficiently.

The transmission line delivers larger amounts of power at once without the delay of installing additional equipment. Thus it clears the way for a rapid and permanent expanding industrial growth.

The present day industrial progress of small communities is based in a large measure on the ample and economical power supply which resulted when transmission systems replaced inefficient and expensive small local plants throughout the nation.

The West Texas Utilities Company, through its widespread 2,500 mile transmission line network, makes available to 12 progressive West Texas cities and towns over 100,000 horsepower of electric energy—ready at the turn of a switch.
