FOR SHERIFF

Members of the Knox City Fire Department enjoyed their annual Banquet at the Lawson Cafe, Wednesday evening, January 12, together with regular meeting of the following officers were elected for ensuing year; Chief, Lee Smith; Assistant Chief, Casey Jones; Second Treasurer, Henry L. White.

A delicious chicken dinner was served to members and the following guests, S. L. White, City Commissioner; City Secretary John Dutton; and Ex-Commissioner S. M. Clonts. Johnnie Wyatt was added to the department as a new member. Retiring Chief Ancil Waltrip acted as toastmaster and after reviewing the activities of the department for the past year, thanked the local boys for their fine and loyal cooperation which he stated, is the basis for any well functioned organization. We have had but a few calls this year and only one loss which was possibly around $200.00.

Casey Jones was sent to the training course, offered by the A. & M. College at College Station, and thru his efforts and the training instructions, it is estimated that the policy holders of this City will enjoy a saving of some $150.00 per year. The Fire Department wishes the advice of every citizen of the town and it is their aim to do any constructive work that will better the conditions of the town.

SCHOOL SUPPORT

January 6, 7, 8 in the Knox City High School gymnasium the second annual boys basketball tournament was held and was met with overwhelming success. We wish to take this means of thanking the entire student body, town visitors, and the guests of the surrounding towns and communities for their participation in the grand sportsmanship shown in our tournament.

The tournament was not only successful in moral but in financial status as well. The gross profit was $93.60. The net profit was $87.60 and will be used for girls and boys basketball and girls volleyball ball sweaters. All gate receipts except tournaments will be used for payment on a back debt.

We wish to commend the pep squad on their especially good hacking and their loyalty to the Greyhounds. Keep up the good work.

Once again may we say "Thank you." We enjoy having you, and "Come back to see us soon."—Dorothy Shaver.

THE FISH BOWL

Answering some of the questions asked by the upper classmen,

What boy in the Freshman class gets to play in all the junior team games?

Joe King.

Why is "Whimpy" Jones trying to reduce?

Maybe he's trying to be popular.

Why did Jaunell tear her picture up?

It's probably because the O. A. O. had another girl's picture in his billfold.

Why does one of our Fish, when going to another class pause at the east windows?

It's said she likes poetry a lot—maybe the scenery—but we have drawn our own conclusions.

Why does Billy Dean practice his music so much?

Don't fool yourself he doesn't do it of his own accord.

How can Lynwood ride a bicycle so long at a time?

Oh, he's used to that.

Why does Jean Anne come back to school at noon eating an orange?

Didn't you know she is trying to gain some weight?

Has Marjorie started having "swell" times on Sunday afternoons?

We will leave that entirely up to by Helen Ruth's left eye band?

Can't get the wrong impression, she has a sty.

—KCH—

The Freshman class welcomes one of their old pupils, John Robert Gooch, back after an absence of two months.

All the Fish think it swell being host and hostess to the surrounding schools that came to the basketball tournament. Everyone "almost" wishes we could have tournaments every week-end.

All of us are scratching our heads nervously trying to get that contraption called the "brain" started working for these mid-term exams.

FOUND!

A girl's class ring of the year 1933 was found on the school ground on Thursday afternoon. It consists of a gold crown on a silver base and has the letter "G" mounted on the crown. If the owner of this ring will kindly report their loss, the ring will gladly be returned to its rightful owner.

RESULTS OF THE KNOX CITY HIGH SCHOOL TOURNAMENT

With apparent ease and great skill the basketball team of the Sunset Rural school system carried away the winners' gold cup. The runners-up were the Weinert team and the team from Seymour carried away the consolation cup. In the final game Sunset thoroughly trounced Weinert with a score of 40 to 22. Seymour grasped the consolation cup from Mattson with a score of 32 to 14.

The tournament opened at six-thirty with a complexion of lovely green and a very winning manner, except at the times when it decides to be stubborn.

We all wish the very best of luck always to this teacher and wish to express our appreciation as a class for what she has done and is planning to do in behalf of our Junior Class.

THE GREYHOUND BARKS

By a Guest Columnist

It seems that tall blond guard once had the idea that she would like to be shorter. But after the midnite show Saturday night it seems that she may have changed her mind. We wonder why?????

It seems that Geneva Walker likes barbers. (But spell it with a capital B if you please.)

Bertha Mae McKinney, do you always go into the show laughing on Sunday nights? Or was it just because you were in Rule?

It seems that the Knox City pep squad helped one of our neighboring schools Saturday night. There must be a catch somewhere.

We wonder why that three Knox City girls enjoyed a little visit they had in Munday so much Sunday afternoon.

We heard a certain senior girl say that she wouldn't be out done by any Moore Munda girls. She says, "Just watch my smoke."

Maurice, why did you say that you were "froze out" Saturday night?

You poor boy!

We wonder why Marie Drar had to call on her brother to fix her car Saturday night. What is the matter PeWee, isn't your boy friend capable?

And by the way, why is it that here of late you can't seem to enjoy the ball games without watching the entrance to the gym.

Bugie, we hear that there is a certain boy from Stamford that is just crazy about you. Why don't you give the poor boy a break?

We wonder why Ann is so mysterious about her Saturday night escapade.

Doris, you and J. E. seem to be over most of your difficulties. And maybe I'm wrong—but everything looks like it is running smooth as glass.

Faye, how do you feel since Sunday about getting serious?

It seems that John Byron White is still haunting Haskell. Well, we will all wish you luck.

Dickie, do you practice being careless? Or was it just Saturday night?

Inaleen, do you specialize in Fords? Or is it just anything that comes from Benjamin so long as a certain blond boy is in it?

Hazel Cyvert seems very contented since all of the girls have started leaving her boy friend alone. That's O. K., Hazel we know that "three's a crowd."

It looks as if that "Old Feelin'" doesn't go any more with Edna Warren. She seemed to find another car just as comfortable.

Paul Edward, you had better "make hay while the sun shines" because you know that that sun won't shine here very much longer. We wish that "it" would stay too but kinda changing it around a bit you know "WE" can't have everything."

Rowena, where on earth did you disappear to Saturday night? Don't think that you were missed o cause you surely—were.

Bill McDonald and Jimmie Allred Are Fussing Again

MCDONALD PUTS BEE ON ALLRED IN LEASE TIFF

Land Head Contends He Only Followed Precedent in Renewal Of River Bed Tract

AUSTIN, Texas, Jan. 11.—Land Commissioner W. H. McDonald Friday charged Gov. James V. Allred with responsibility for the controversy over the Evinnes Oil Company lease in the K. M. A. field through his failure to act while Attorney General.

The dispute involving the right of the Land Commissioner or the Board of Mineral Development, of which the Governor is chairman to renew a river-bed lease, has been taken to the courts in a trespass to try title suit filed by the Attorney General at the Governor's request. McDonald canceled his disputed renewal so a court test could be had. Subject to Forfeiture.

The Governor contends that holders of the lease were required by it to pay annual rental in advance in addition to oil production royalty. McDonald reviewed and failure to pay rental made the lease subject to forfeiture.

"The record shows that in January 1933, the company tendered a rental check and the Land Commissioner returned the check with the statement that, under the statutes, rental was not required from a lease that was paying royalty and he cited an opinion from the Attorney General's department," McDonald said. "That opinion was rendered while Mr. Allred was Attorney General and it held that rental was not required. But his department rendered another opinion that rental was required."

Says Mind Aerobic.

The Land Commissioner asked why Allred as Attorney General did not sue for the lease when rentals were not paid for "that would have made the State the full owner of the four wells thereon and the State would have received a total of $24,856.96 from the oil produced in 1933, 1934, 1935 and 1936 instead of $3,107.12 in royalty which it did receive. This represents a loss of $21,749.84 to the people and all this happened before I became Land Commissioner, so even a man with a mind as aerobic as Allreds could have saved for the people, if we kept his present position as correct."

McDonald contends he followed precedents of the office in renewing the lease under its original terms.

Organizes Texas Birthday Balls

Jesse H. Jones, Chairman of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, will head the President's Birthday Ball organization for the State of Texas. Mr. Jones has already commenced actively organizing every county in the State for the celebration of President Roosevelt's birthday, Saturday, January 29, with balls or other entertainments in every city and town. County chairmen are being appointed by Mr. Jones, who in turn will organize their various counties. The President's Birthday celebrations, held throughout the United States, are for the purpose of securing funds for the treatment of children crippled by infantile paralysis.

THE METER RACKET

There are many kinds of meters. They're used in every town. The busiest little workers.

That has ever yet been found. The merchant has a measure, And it's called a meter too. Because it counts the yardage.

While the cloth is passing thru. There is another kind of meter. It's usually in the dark.

And when you switch a light on, The thing in motion starts.

The taxi has a meter too, Which sets up in the front.

But the passenger sitting in the back, must pay without a grunt.

Then there's the parking meter, you find in larger towns.

If there you park your car too long, you'll find it in the pound.

Then there's the one that measures gas, the kind that burns you know. The colder gets the weather, the faster it will go.

And there is the water meter, 'tis found in every town.

We find it hasn't been idle, when pay day comes around.

And there's another meter, the one the poet uses.

He sets his verse in measures, and the meter where he chooses.

But the greatest meet'er of them all,

and the only sweet one known.

It's when you meet your sweetheart and meet'er all alone.

This meet'er you can clearly see,

The WEEKLY CONSTITUTIONAL by MAX BERNS

The People's Protection

Have we any protection against acts unauthorized by our Constitution?

Under our Constitution, "we the people" are supreme. We are the principal and we create the Congress and make it our agent with power to act within the limitations we enumerate in our charter, but with no power to go beyond those limits. In addition we specifically prohibit it from certain acts.

Under these conditions, what recourse do "we the people" have if the Congress, as our agent, exceeds the limits we specify or enacts legislation which we specifically prohibit? If left to itself to determine such a case, the Congress naturally would approve its own acts. It would not pass an act and disapprove it. Thus the agent would authorize what the principal prohibits.

To prevent this, "we the people" in our Constitution, provide the simple means commonly provided where the principal challenges the acts of his agent in court. The court—in the case of our Constitution, a federal court and finally the Supreme Court—tries the case by hearing both sides. If the Court finds the agent's act in accordance with the agent's power, the act is upheld. But agent had power to exceed the people's Constitution, such a Constitution would be useless. To prevent this and protect ourselves against unauthorized acts by our agent, "we the people" make our Constitution "the supreme law" and we create and empower the Supreme Court to construe or pass upon it.

Texas Poll Tax Keep 70 Per Cent of People From Voting

Folks Are Funny

By E. V. White, Dean
Texas State College for Women

The biggest thief is one who robs another of joy.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Warren and Guy Goodyear of Hobbs, N. M., were weekend visitors here.

Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Jones spent Sunday and Monday in Ft. Worth.

Mrs. J. B. Janes of Abilene is visiting this week with friends and relatives.

Many from Knox City attended the funeral services for Tom Hudson held Monday afternoon in Benjamin. Mr. Hudson, a Knox County pioneer, died suddenly Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Withrow of Fresno, Calif., are visiting friends here this week.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The poll tax payable in Texas not later than Feb. 1 this year, disfranchised 70 per cent of the otherwise eligible white voters of the state in the national election of 1936, according to Simon Michelet, Washington attorney and political analyst.

His national study of the poll tax shows it is rapidly disappearing as a condition to suffrage. Florida abolished it last year and Arkansas this year is submitting its repeal in a constitutional act. The action of those two States reduces the number of poll tax States to seven.

Arguing for repeal of the poll tax which he terms a relic of barbarism Mr. Michelet cites its effect in Texas. According to his figures Texas in the last census had a total white electorate of 2,430,432 which by 1936 exceeded 2,500,000.

The total vote of Texas for all presidential candidates in 1936 was only 843,482 of which President Roosevelt and his running mate Vice-President Garner, received 734,485 votes. From that Mr. Michelet concluded that 70 per cent of the State's potential voters were barred from voting because they did not pay their poll tax.

Registration Barely 1,000,000.

"But under the ban of a poll tax," said Mr. Michelet, "the Texas poll tax registration barely reached 1,000,000 and the result—Texas polls a vote only one-half that of Massachusetts, Michigan, Missouri, Indiana and even a Democratic vote less than half that of the former Republican States of Pennsylvania, Illinois, Ohio or California."

Virginia was cited as the worst example of poll tax disfranchisement.

Comparing it with West Virginia, which has no poll tax requirements, Mr. Michelet said:

"In the census of 1930 Virginia had 1,300,893 citizens of voting age against 900,987 in West Virginia. In 1936 Virginia polled only 334,590 presidential votes as compared with 829,945 in West Virginia. In other words, poll taxed Virginia admitted only 25.7 per cent of its potential electorate to vote while West Virginia, poll tax free led the States in polling over 90 per cent of its electorate."

"Beginning 1920, there were eleven States in the poll tax group. Under the poll tax ban the combined vote of these eleven States during the twenty-year period 1896-1916 had shrunk 18 per cent during the period when the electorate had grown by 50 per cent.

"North Carolina in 1920 quit the poll tax group. Louisiana later joined her.

Menace to Solid South.

"In the presidential election of 1936 there were nine poll tax States. With a combined electorate of 12,472,245 citizens twenty-one years ago, these nine states in 1936 cast only 3,005,177 votes for all candidates for President and Vice-President.

"They polled only 24 per cent of their potential electorate as compared with 72 per cent as the average of thirty-nine States free from poll tax.

"Repeal of the ancient two-thirds rule by the Democratic national convention and the 1940 apportionment of delegates may be based on the votes of the respective States put the poll tax States in a tough spot.

"The combined vote of the present seven non-poll taxed States for President Roosevelt in 1936 was only 2,457,000 or less than 10 per cent of the President's 27,751,000. It is plain that, on this as the basis of representation in Democratic national conventions, the so-called solid South would quickly pass into partial eclipse as a power in the Democratic party."

Jesse H. Jones, Chairman of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, will head the President's Birthday Ball organization for the State of Texas. Mr. Jones has already commenced actively organizing every county in the State for the celebration of President Roosevelt's birthday, Saturday, January 29, with balls or other entertainments in every city and town. County chairmen are being appointed by Mr. Jones, who in turn will organize their various counties. The President's Birthday celebrations, held throughout the United States, are for the purpose of securing funds for the treatment of children crippled by infantile paralysis.

Mrs. John R. Brice of Cisco, Texas was the weekend house guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Jamison. Mrs. Jamison entertained for Mrs. Brice Saturday afternoon with a small informal tea. Tea was poured by Mrs. O. L. Jamison from a lovely table laid in pink and crystal, tall pink tapers in crystal holders and pink sweetpans in a crystal bowl were table appointments. Mrs. Brice greeted friends whom she had not seen since she moved away several years ago. She returned to her home in Cisco Sunday afternoon.

SUNSET SENIORS WILL PUBLISH A YEAR BOOK

For the first time the Sunset High School will have a high school year book this year. It will be called "The Eagle's Echo," and it will be published by the Senior class. The Class with Mrs. Cash and Mr. Kimbrough as sponsors, made a contract with the Inter-Collegiate Press of Kansas City for supplying materials for a novel annual, much of which is to be printed in the high school by the mimeograph process.

The following students have been elected as staff officers for the 1938 "Eagles Echo."

Nell Nix, Editor-in-Chief; Frances Gray, Assistant Editor; Dorothy Gammill, Business Manager; Dorothy Garrett, Art Editor; Inez Vernon, Production Manager; Buddy Bumpas and Faye Marie Partridge, Sports Writers; Nettie Griffith, Society Editor.

Every class in school will be represented in the book. Also, all athletic teams and clubs will receive recognition.

Early in the term, Mr. Kimbrough suggested the making of the annual as a project in Civics. The class became interested and wrote for information. The representative came and the contract was signed. This annual will be an invaluable keepsake. With the school's mimeograph the annual will be turned out with little expense. The books are now being sold for $1.50 each. Now's your chance to buy one. It has not been decided whether or not the pictures will be in cuts or pasted in. There will be pictures of the building, faculty, classes, from eleventh to first, basketball teams, track, volleyball, basketball teams, Music department, and most popular boy and girl.

KEEPING TAB ON THE EAGLES
By Buddy Bumpas

Sunset Cagers Vict. again

The Eagles have had the fighting spirit for the last week. Their first game was with Mattson last Wednesday night. The Eagles won very easily with a score of 27 to 13. Then Thursday night they played Benjamin in the first game of the invitation tournament given at Knox City. This was another Eagle victory and Sunset's little men, Floyd Frost and Howard Payne Shannon showed their ability to make goals. Friday night the Boys took a game from O'Brien with a score of 29 to 16. Bomarton was next to fall into the Eagles' clutches. Although the other games had begun to show their effects on the Sunset Lads, they came out of the game with a twelve point lead. The Eagles went into the finals with the Weinert Bulldogs, and really went to town. Herbert Partridge had chalked up eleven before any of his teammates' opponents had a chance to throw one through the lace. The Eagles played a defensive game as well as an offensive one. It was well into the second quarter before Weinert scored, and they probably wouldn't have then if Orville Strickland, one of Sunset's most valuable players, had not come out of the game with a wrenched knee. This seemed to slow up the Sunset Boys. Strickland went back into the game after the half, and with the passing and shooting combination of Couch, Partridge and Strickland, the Sunset Boys made the Weinert Lads look sick. Partridge scored more points than the opponents made. Stogner and Shannon, Sunset guards, did a swell job of guarding and they also made a good many points. The game ended with a score of 40 to 23.

Coach Kimbrough and his Eagles want to thank Knox City for their swell hospitality and sportsmanship.

GIRLS BASKETBALL

The Sunset girls let another week pass with two defeats in basketball. Tuesday night, January 4, the girls went to Matison. The teams were evenly matched and both teams were working hard. No one could tell who would win until the final whistle blew. The Sunset girls lead with a margin of one point until the last three minutes of the game when Mattson made a field goal. This gave them a one point lead, and the game ended with the scores eight to seven in Mattson's favor. The Sunset girls are going to try to show Mattson how they can play ball on their home court Wednesday night, January 12, when Mattson is due to play at Sunset.

Friday night, January 7, the O'Brien girls paid the Sunset Eagles a visit, and they left in high spirits as their game ended with the scores 27 to 17 in O'Brien's favor. O'Brien made the first goal, and remained in the lead through the entire game. The Sunset girls began working hard during the last quarter, and they got within three points of the O'Brien team. O'Brien started some of their fast playing and soon gained the lead again. The Sunset girls play at O'Brien Tuesday night, January 10. Come on girls and show the Sunset fans what you really can do.

BRIDAL SHOWER

Thursday afternoon, in the Music room, the teachers of Sunset School entertained with a bridal shower honoring Mrs. I. R. Williams, Nee Miss Virginia Curry. After the guests had registered in the Bride's book, they were entertained with a short program. Cleta Jones, Katie Belle Sweatt and Virginia Parkhill sang "There's a Gold Mine in the Sky" and "I Love You Truly." Nell Nix read "If for Brides," and Barbara Jane Almonrode, Margie Lowery, John Voss and Weldon Walling (pupils in Mrs. Williams room) sang "School Days." The forty children then brought in a wagon filled with gifts and presented them to their teacher. After the many lovely gifts were opened and inspected by both bride and guests, hot ginger punch and ice box cookies were served. Mrs. Underwood gave a toast to the bride and Miss Spraggins gave one to the girls left behind, after which the bride replied with an appropriate answer. There were thirty eight guests registered and several other gifts were sent. Out of town guests were Mrs. Joe Curry, Mrs. J. F. Curry and Miss Gladys Curry of Rule.

JUNIOR REPORT
It is hard for some of the Juniors

to decide whether they are just dumb or whether Mr. Kimbrough is just good to them. (He let them read history the other day before he began the discussion) However they do not think that they are the only ones that have been napping on the job. Just ask some of the Seniors about some of their civics grades.

The Junior class is very glad to have their old class mate, Ralph McBeth back in school with them again. Ralph has been a student in the Weinert school since 1936, but he moved to Sunset this year to be with the "old bunch" again.

Traphene Wren and Winters Groves are back in school with us after an extended visit to South Texas where Traphene visited her relatives during the Christmas holidays.

YEAST BREAD CAN BE PREPARED AND SERVED IN ONE HOUR AND 30 MIN.

Contrary to the traditional belief that hours must be spent in preparing hot rolls, the Home Economics girls at Sunset School prepared and served hot rolls in one hour and thirty minutes.

Following a demonstration given by their instructor, Miss Spraggins they undertook the attempt to make the rolls in the designated time. They began at 10:30 and at 12 o'clock the rolls were ready to serve.

Every attempt at the project was successful. Each girl judged her rolls and all of them compared favorable with the characteristics of a student product.—Dorothy Gammill.

SOPHOMORE JINGLES

The Sophs have been told that they are the "rowdies" class in high school. We don't know whether we are or not, but the teachers said we were; so, we must be. (We all remember that what the teacher says is always correct.)

We don't think that this is a very "swell" compliment, so we are going to try to be "better children." (I hope)

We also hope that we can have a Valentine Party. We may be getting ahead of time but we say, "The sooner the better."—Reporter.

HERSCHEL KIMBROUGH HAS BIRTHDAY PARTY
William Herschel Kimbrough, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Kimbrough and mascot of the Senior boys basketball team, was given a birthday party by his mother at her home at the teacherage Wednesday afternoon January 5. Due to the fact that William Herschel was only one year old January 5, this was his first birthday party.

Those attending the party were Royce and Ivana Harber, Gerald Ray Myers and Roby Lee Walling, accompanied by their mothers.

The children were entertained with various games until time for the refreshments to be served.

William Herschel made a great attempt to blow out the one candle on his cake, but he did not have any success.

Refreshments of cake and ice cream cones were served to those present.

Just before the group separated to go home, Mrs. Kimbrough took pictures of them.—Inez Vernon.

REGULAR FELLERS Where Ignorance Is Bliss

THE REST OF THE RECORD

By James V. Allred Gov. of Texas

The Secretary of State recently invoked the "tramp" corporation doctrine, the effect of which was to discontinue the policy of granting permits to "tramp" corporations for the transaction of business in the State of Texas.

"Tramp" corporations as defined by Edward Clark, secretary of State, are corporations whose charters have been obtained in a foreign state by citizens of the State of Texas for the purpose only of transacting business in Texas and with no bona fide intention of transacting business in the state from which their charter was obtained. It was felt that the practice of granting permits to foreign corporations of such nature was a discrimination against those corporations incorporated in Texas because the stockholders of the "tramp" corporations are not required to comply with the capital stock requirements as prescribed by the Constitution and laws of this State for domestic corporations. Such foreign corporations also found it easier to evade the jurisdiction of the state courts.

Under the "tramp" corporation doctrine, a charter obtained under such circumstances from another state confers no rights upon the corporation and is not within the rule of comity between states which permits corporations chartered within one state to transact business in another.

At the present time a total of approximately 500 "tramp" corporations are now doing business in Texas. Under the policy invoked by the Secretary of State, such corporations will be requested to surrender their permits and organize corporations under the laws of this state. Since these corporations had paid their franchise taxes up to May, 1938 they will not be expected to surrender their permits and form as domestic corporations until the end of the present fiscal franchise tax year. It would be an unfair demand upon these corporations to request the change to be made at a time which would cause them to pay double franchise tax for a part of the taxable year.

Under this new policy, the Attorney General will be requested to file suits against those corporations which fail to comply with the law or which may be exempt from the "tramp" corporations rule and any money which may be tendered by such corporations to the Secretary of State for 1938 franchise taxes will be held in suspense pending disposition of such suits.

It is expected that this new policy not only will eliminate the present discrimination against domestic corporations and bring the corporations under closer jurisdiction of the state courts, but it will increase the revenues to the state by the additional incorporation fees under Texas laws.

Doubtless the policy will arouse some opposition on the part of those who have been operating under the old rule, but its invocation should be received with favor by the stockholders of domestic corporations who have had to comply with the capital stock requirements of this state while in a sense competing with those of the "tramp" corporations who escaped the requirements of the Texas law.

Winner in Paralysis Fight Is Buyer of First Ticket to Ball

Doris Harrell, restored to normalcy from an infantile paralysis attack, which left her apparently a hopeless cripple ten years ago, started the campaign for the President's Birthday Celebration in Texas this week by buying the first ticket in Chairman Jesse H. Jones' State organization from George Waverley Briggs, vice chairman. Miss Harrell, freshman at Denton's Texas College for Women, now plays tennis, rides horseback, shoots a rifle, and plays the piano. "I wish the new foundation to fight infantile paralysis every success," Doris Harrell says, "I know that without the skilled treatment given to me without cost I would still be unable to walk or use my right arm." President's Birthday celebrations will be held in county and city in Texas January 29.

will represent the entire citizenship in a way that will not only reflect credit upon the district but the entire state.

He expects to make a close canvass of the district and will tell the voters how he stands on all important questions. The office of representative is an important one and we feel sure that if the voters of this district elect Grady Roberts that they will never have cause to regret the vote they cast.

McFARLAND TO CAPITOL

CONGRESSMAN W. D.

McFARLEN RETURNS

FOR BUSY SESSION

Predicting that the new session of Congress will be the most important and busiest of the Roosevelt Administration, Congressman W. D. McFarlen on the eve of his departure for Washington Tuesday gave a representative of the Graham Leader the following statement about his plans:

"I would like to remain at home longer. There are several matters I would like to further investigate and attend to, but Congress convenes on January 3rd and this will be the most important session of this administration. The President's whole governmental policies and program face the test of congressional and public approval. I have and will continue to heartily support the President in enacting into law the policies of the democratic platform as announced in the President's Madison Square Garden speech before the last election. Much has been done this year. It is true, but many of those policies have been turned down by the Congress, following the bitter opposition of 'big business,' supported largely by the same crowd who opposed us in the last election. I will stand squarely behind the President in his efforts to make good the promises made to the people in the last campaign. I believe that he will win."

When asked about the work of the Appropriations Committee, the Congressman said: "I am on the agritural subcommittee and have just received notice to be present for meetings as soon as possible."

When asked about his announcement for reelection, he said: "I will be a candidate for reelection next year and my announcement though the press of the district will follow early next month."—Graham Leader December 30, 1937.

STATEMENT OF SENATOR TOM CONNALLY OF TEXAS REGARDING THE ANTI-LYNCHING BILL JAN. 6

The public is often deliberately misled. Misbranding and false labeling is a common abuse. An appealing and gaudy objective often cloaks an unwholesome scheme. The so-called anti-lynching bill is a case in point. The public is told it will prevent lynching; that those who oppose it are opposed to this desirable objective. Both are false.

The bill makes no effort to punish individual members of a mob.

Its authors admit the Federal government has no such constitutional power. Instead of punishing members of a mob it proposes to punish state sheriffs and state peace officers, who may be unable to prevent a lynching. It further proposes to punish the innocent taxpayers of a county, whether the lynching occurs in it or whether the seizure is made in such county. Though the taxpayers may be law-abiding and anxious to prevent mob violence, they may be assessed not less than two thousand nor more than ten thousand dollars, which funds are awarded to the relatives of the person lynched. It makes the Attorney General of the United States the agent to collect such damages and pay same to the family.

The bill is purely a political gesture. It is a gratuitous insult and thrust at the Southern States. It deliberately exempts from its operation gang murders, though committed by a mob of gangsters or law-breakers. The bill contains the following provision in Section 2:

"That lynching shall not be deemed to include violence occurring between members of groups of law-breakers such as are commonly designated as gangsters or racketeers."

Lynching in the South has almost disappeared. Sentiment against it and the vigilance of courts and peace officers are doing the job. In 1936 there were only 8 lynchings in the entire United States. In 1937 there were only 8. Criminals charged with the most heinous and diabolical crimes have been protected by peace officers and the national Guard and troopers according to law have been had. In 1937 in 56 instances officers prevented lynchings. Fifty-one were in the South and five were in the North. A total of 72 persons were protected by brave state officers. The South will stamp out lynching. The bill is plainly, palpably, admittedly a political gesture to capture the colored vote in Harlem and in a few so-called pivotal states. Its admitted purpose is to pillory and insult the South, gather a few colored votes in a sort of political game.

The bill is wholly unconstitutional. It is a plain invasion of the police power of the states. We who oppose the bill do not condone lynching. It is murder. We are against it. If the Federal government can punish one kind of murder it may punish all kinds of murder. It may take over the enforcement of the entire criminal laws of the states. If it may control the courts and state officials in this case it may control them in all cases. It may wipe out the governmental and judicial systems of the forty-eight states.

We are against the destruction of the states. We are against the consolidation of state courts. We are against subordination of state officers and state authorities. We believe that through the responsibility of state officers supported by public sentiment lynching is being suppressed. Lynching has almost vanished. Gang murders—organized murders in the great cities and in many other sections, have increased rapidly and defiantly. This bill exempts by specific terms gang murders. It encourages and accelerates the mad waves of crime in other sections while insultingly pointing the finger of scorn at the South, where lynching has almost entirely disappeared.

CLEAN UP THIS WEEK

Mayor Hoge and the City Council have asked the citizens of Knox City to assist in cleaning up the town this week of all tin cans and rubbish. The city has made arrangements to have all the refuse removed from the town including all alleys. They only ask the property owners and the business men to gather their cans and trash and place in sacks or boxes and leave same in the alleys and a city truck will call for same and remove it to the dump grounds. The mayor and the council are to be congratulated on taking this step and it is their desire that every citizen in the town will co-operate and help make Knox City one of the cleanest towns in this section of the state.

From Bronco to Concerto—and Return!

By Daniel L. McNamara

DAVID W. GUION, musician-composer, whose "cowboy song," "Home on the Range," is a White House favorite, is the only member of the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers who is equally at home before the keyboard of a grand piano and astride a bucking bronco. Famous in the music world for his symphonic transcriptions of traditional melodies of the cowboy West and the negro South, he is still more celebrated in his home State of Texas as a rodeo champion.

Charles J. Finger, the author, was Guion's first music teacher. Finger, a young Englishman, had opened a music studio in San Angelo, Texas, in 1902, when the seven-year-old Guion began his weekly train trips of sixty miles to take lessons. But before he had mastered the intricacies of written music, the child could play by ear the unwritten songs heard among the cowboys and the soul-stirring spirituals sung in the church of his negro mammy.

His musical studies led him abroad at the close of his formal schooling in Whipple Academy in Jacksonville, Illinois, and in Polytechnic College, Fort Worth, Tex. At the Royal Academy in Vienna, he studied piano for three years under Leopold Godowsky, then returning to New York, spent two more years in study, chiefly self-instruction in composition. Then he returned to Texas as director of the Daniel Baker College School of Music in Brownwood.

His research into the unpublished native songs of the South and West soon bore fruit. "The Bold Vaquero," published in 1919, is credited with being the first published arrangement of an American cowboy song. Soon followed his widely discussed symphonic arrangement of "Turkey in the Straw," which was played as a piano concerto by Percy Grainger. He has made arrangements of words and music of a great number of cowboy and negro songs, and has produced more than one hundred original compositions in various forms from simple songs to full symphony arrangements.

David W. Guion is of French Huguenot stock. His grandfather, John I. Guion, was governor of Mississippi. His father, of the same name, was among the most distinguished lawyers of Texas at the turn of the century. His mother, Armour Fentress of Tennessee, was a gifted pianist and singer.

He is in perfect physical trim, five feet five, erect and alert, wiry, tanned and distinguished-looking. He is an outdoor enthusiast, loves to ride spirited horses, is fond of English bulldogs and is a collector of antiques of the Southwest.

His home in Dallas is one of the town's finest residences, while his apartment in Washington Square East is one of the most colorful studios of that habitat of the intelligentsia.

Take—and Like—Your Medicine

I burn when I see somebody driving a car down our street faster than he should.

Yet, I'd burn if I were doing the same thing and a cop caught me and gave me a ticket.

But I oughtn't to.

I ought to remember that my little Hildegarde crosses that street several times a day and plays on the other side, and that traffic regulation and enforcement are for her protection.

I ought for her sake, to be so loyal to traffic regulations that I would feel good about getting a ticket.

There is always injustice in any ticket we get for a traffic violation. Let's just have sense enough or sense of humor enough to remember that our own ticket is invariably going to seem unjust... and let's have sportsmanship enough to take our medicine in the name of a good cause.

At the present rate, according to estimates made by The Travelers Insurance Company, one out of every three children faces the PROBABILITY of death or maiming from motor accidents in the course of a lifetime.

So what we need is more tickets, not fewer tickets. And no "FIXING".

I like the spirit of that wife of a New York magistrate who some time ago appeared in traffic court and paid a fine.

I think some types of patriotism and public spirit are apt to be the bane, but I believe we should all lean over backwards to take what's coming to us for traffic rule violations.

Lost Flashlight, Frozen in Puddle, Saves Three from Death by Train

CLARENCE BERG, fire switch foreman, of Superior, Wis., is the hero of a railroad near-tragedy he faced when an automobile with three people in it stalled on the tracks ahead of a heavily loaded box freight. Berg flagged down the train with the beam of a flashlight when wind snuffed out his lantern, bringing the train in a half a few feet from the terrified motorists. The switch foreman had gone out with his crew for a "drag" of coal. It was snowing and a gale was blowing. Berg set his lantern down to couple up an air hose. It a frozen puddle by the tracks, he saw the flashlight which was later to figure in the crisis.

Berg said he didn't know whether being frozen in that ice had ruined the light or not, but he slipped it loose and stuck it in his pocket. The crew made up the train and Berg swung on the step of the caboose. The engineer began backfiring to get a start for the hill between the yards and the docks, "We knew," Berg said, "an automobile came down the highway and turned toward the crossing ahead of us. There were warning signs there, but in the darkness he failed to hear them or the train. Then, just as he got on the track, he saw us. He was so frightened he stepped too hard on the gas and stalled his motor.

"I swung my lantern out to warn the engineer, but a gust of wind and snow hit us and the light went out. Right there my chances of saving the folks in the car seemed to have gone. But the next second I thought of the flashlight. I pulled it out of my pocket, touched the switch, and it lit. The engineer caught the signal, jammed on the brakes, and we came to a stop. At that, the caboose was almost nosed up against the nose.

"The people in the car were unscathed they hadn't even tried to get out and if the batteries in that flashlight hadn't been fresh when they were put in, we would have had a tragedy on our hands. As it was, the light had warned up to my pocket while we were making up the train and it worked when we needed it."

Berg and others of the train crew worked for several minutes to pull the car off the tracks and onto the station nerves of the drivers.
