We've often wondered if they don't hold a rehearsal ahead of the real performance.

It is customary in a large church wedding, you know, to hold a rehearsal, followed--or maybe preceded--by a rehearsal dinner prior to the wedding itself. That is, we imagine, to try to head off any real boo-boos once the wedding gets under way.

And we're not going to bicker about that. This is as it should be. All dotting parents want their lovely daughter's wedding--the son's, too--for that matter--to go off without a hitch.

But we just got to wondering about these press conferences that originate from the White House in Washington. The one that was performed on "prime time" via the tube one night last week was held without a hitch for most people.

One who has publicly dissented, accusing the president of inaccuracies, is House Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill Jr. He is "Tip" to most of us.

"Unfortunately," he said, "the president's defense of his program was not only misleading, but in several cases, completely inaccurate."

In a number of instances during the news conference, Reagan defended his administration against charges that harmful cuts were being made in domestic programs. O'Neill said the president was wrong.

But this doesn't alter the fact that the news conference, in our opinion, was performed without too many hitches.

Once he entered the conference room amid applause and cheers of those present, the president got into his preliminary remarks. In this he decried the state affairs, and America's displeasures, amid such nations as Nicaragua, El Salvador, the Israel-Egypt mess and calling attention to the Camp David agreement between these two nations, the affairs in Poland, our concern about the Soviet Union, and a dozen or so other concerns.

The question and answer part of the conference seemed to show a sort of relaxed president, although some detected a sort of nervousness in his responses to questions.

But he was on first-name basis with most of the newsmen as he pointed to them and called their names. Too, we couldn't fail to reflect on his promptness in answering the questions, as if carrying the program on as rehearsed.

If not rehearsed, we marvel at his mind being so active as to retain enough information to enable him to be so prompt in answering them.

It occurred to us, however, that he showed more concern about U. S. affairs with other nations than about those right here on his doorstep, such as unemployment, factories and businesses forced to call it quits, and farmers helping to feed the nation--and the world--without receiving enough rewards for their labors to keep the proverbial wolf away from their doorsteps.

"You don't increase taxes in a recession," he said, pointing out that the most important thing that can be done to help suffering people due to the economic slump is to continue the drive to reduce federal spending.

Acknowledging the economic setbacks during his time in office, he said there are also areas of economic progress, and added that the recession is nearly over.

"I think we are bottoming out and I believe we're safe in saying there's going to be an upturn in the second half of the year," he said.

He offered some sympathy, no immediate relief, and very little hope for the American farmer in his plight. He showed some concern that unemployment has reached the highest peak since World War II, with better than 11 million people out of work.

His attitude seems to be: "Hold on a little longer." The paramount question is: How much longer?

To our thinking, a recession is a depression that backfired. A "bottomed out" recession means it's a slow upward climb to full recovery. Maybe all we can do is "hold on a little longer!"

Munday Re-elects Mayor; Names Two Aldermen

In a surprising turnout of voters in last Saturday's city election, Mayor James W. Reid was returned to office for another term. Being the only contender for this office, he received the approval of 270 of the 338 voters casting ballots in the election. Larry Smith and Ray Ford each received one write-in vote in this race.

Two new aldermen were elected to replace Larry Smith and Dr. A. Dale Selzer, who did not seek another term.

Weatherman Hits Nail On The Head!

Warning of a rather severe thunderstorm for Knox County flashed across the TV screen Thursday night, with the watch being in effect until 7:45 p.m. At no time could the weatherman have been more accurate!

Soon after the warning, rain began falling in Munday, although slowly at first. It finally developed into full force, and a smattering of hail was detected. The storm was over almost "on the button" at 7:45 o'clock.

The rainfall was beneficial, with an official 1.07 inches recorded for Munday, 1.50 at Goree, 1.50 southeast of Munday, with lesser amounts to the west and southwest.

This was followed by an old-fashioned duster; but fortunately, the larger portion of dust appeared to be overhead instead of being right on the ground.

Before you buy any irrigation system, see us for a ValCom energy analysis.

A sure way to avoid a devastating irrigation fuel cost mistake.

The simple fact is that energy costs determine the economics of center pivot and linear irrigation.

It's been proven that the most energy-efficient system will often pay back its initial price difference over an inefficient system 10 to 50 times.

Maximum energy economics involves more than the choice of a fuel source. It results from matching the right pipe diameters, water pressure, sprinkler package and other advanced technology.

To analyze and compare systems on paper takes time. A ValCom energy analysis will do it in minutes.

Local School Faculty, Staff Honor Myers On Friday Evening

A tribute to Mr. Douglas Myers, retiring superintendent of Munday Schools, was hosted by members of the school faculty and other employees. A large group gathered at the Munday Community Center on Friday evening, April 2, at 7:30 p.m. for this purpose. The occasion was to be a surprise to Mr. Myers, and with the help of his wife, Dorothy, the surprise element was a success. He came to the gathering supposing it was a game night, and even brought his dominoes.

The entire program was focused on "School Days of Douglas R. Myers" from 1949 to 1982. Presentation of a plaque was made by Mr. A. B. Martin Jr., principal of elementary and junior high school.

Dan Sloan, with assistance from his wife, Nell, narrated pictures and newspaper articles which revealed the happenings during the years Mr. Myers served both the Weinert School and the Munday Schools. Together with these mementos and the fact that arrangements had been made for all the Myers offspring to be present, it proved to be a very touching program.

"The Texas Gents" performed several musical numbers for the group. Coaches Bill Dennis and Russell McLeskey were on guitars; Stan Decker, piano; Junior Andrade, drums; and Coaches Rogers Lankford, Dennis and McLeskey were vocalists. The music was enjoyable and a couple of "prime selections" were dedicated to Mr. and Mrs. Myers, which brought a great deal of laughter from the crowd.

Messrs. Dan Sloan, A. B. Martin and Doug Donoho, high school principal, all cooperated in causing portions of the occasion to be somewhat of a "roasting" and portions to be a "This is Your Life", type presentation. A number of good natured gifts were presented, and received quite well. Mr. Myers was especially pleased with a check presented by Mr. Martin made possible by "everyone chipping in." The check is to be used on the Myers' upcoming trip to Hawaii, and was in the amount of $1.23. Mr. Myers thanked them graciously and said it would indeed come in handy.

Phillip McAfee, president of the local school board, spoke to the group, and presented Mr. Myers with a gold pocket watch, complete with inscriptions, from members of the school board, who were special guests. The school employees' gift was a beautiful camera.

All in all the evening was a very entertaining, lighthearted and fun-filled occasion, and one Douglas Myers assured everyone that he would never forget.

Mrs. Alta McGuire gave the benediction, and in closing, the group in attendance sang the Weinert School song and the Munday School fight song.

Benjamin FFA Dual Winner At Seymour

The annual Tri-County Land and Grass Judging Contest was held in Seymour Tuesday, March 23. The Wichita-Brazos, Miller-Brazos and Throckmorton Soil and Water Conservation Districts jointly sponsor the contest annually. District and Soil Conservation Service personnel cooperate in setting up the contest, carrying it out and grading the contestants' work.

The contest is open to all FFA Chapters and 4-H teams in Knox, Throckmorton and Baylor counties. Winners in the Land Contest this year were:

1st place, Seymour FFA;

2nd place, Benjamin FFA, 3rd place, Benjamin FFA.

Winners in the grass contest were: 1st place, Seymour FFA; 2nd place, Throckmorton FFA.

Mr. Dickson, the new Ag teacher at Benjamin, is to be commended. The two teams he trained for this competition were the first teams entered from Benjamin in many years, with both teams taking honors in the land judging contest.

The Why Of High Interest Rates

Interest rates are made up of two different components, an inflation premium and real return to capital, says a Texas A&M University agricultural economist. The inflation premium is the amount of interest it takes to compensate savers for the expected decrease in purchasing power of their savings over the loan period and is based on inflationary expectations. Real return to capital is the amount of interest savers require for deferring current compensation until later when the loan is paid off.

With current restrictive monetary policies and huge projected budget deficits, the calculated real return (cost) to capital has increased substantially. And the government is crowding out private demands for debt capital by paying a higher price than potential private borrowers can afford. As inflation falls or remains low, the inflation premium in interest rates also falls. But increases in real return to capital may be more than offsetting so that overall market interest rates may be unchanged to higher.

FCIC, ASCS Offer Services And Information To Producers

"The Federal Crop Insurance Corporation (FCIC) and the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS), both agencies of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, are providing cooperative as well as individual services to farm producers," says F. W. "Ted" Couch Jr., Field Operations Office for FCIC.

ASCS has announced an April 16 deadline for sign up in the 1982 acreage reduction programs for wheat, barley and oats. Producers who have already reported planted acreage for All-Risk Crop Insurance can revise their acreage report by April 16 if they participate in the ASCS acreage reduction program.

According to the provisions of the new Farm Bill, ASCS disaster payments will not be available on acreage eligible for All-Risk Crop Insurance (including All-Risk Insurance issued by a private insurance company and re-insured by the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation).

All Risk Crop Insurance may now be available through an individual agreement with the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation on cropland that was previously considered uninsurable. The request for coverage should be made through the local agent or service office before the sales closing date for the crop. The sales closing date for Cotton and Grain Sorghum is April 15.

ACS Issues 1981 Annual Report

The growing number of patients who are recovering from cancer - the 5-year survival rate now is variously estimated from 41 to 46 percent - is bringing about subtle but important changes in the overall approach to the cancer problem, national leaders of the American Cancer Society indicated in the organization's 1981 annual report which was issued recently.

In the context of a detailed review of medical gains against cancer made primarily during the past ten years, Dr. Arthur I. Holleb, the Society's chief medical officer, stressed the need for better psychological backup of cancer patients and their families.

"Coping is the most important because we are curing more patients than ever before," he declared, "and when cure is not possible, productive life is being extended."

"Finding the causes and cures for cancer are medical and scientific problems, but eliminating the causes - prevention - may well be personal, social and political problems. If you have any doubt about this, just think about cigarette smoking and cancer. The Society's new role in public issues and cancer must be one of an aggressive advocate of prevention," stated the president and the chairman of the board of directors of ACS.

The Society already has 2,300,000 volunteers in 3,128 community units, but plans to increase the number of units in 1982. It will place renewed emphasis on door-to-door programs of fund raising and education, and its successful outreach to black Americans will now be followed by similar outreach programs for Hispanics and native Americans.

Reviewing scientific progress of the past decade, Dr. Frank J. Rauscher Jr., the Society's senior vice president for research, described the nation's expanded attack on cancer as "the most important, intensive research program in the biomedical history of any nation . . . and also one of the most successful."

He said that "a new research strategy called chemoprevention," currently under study, may counter potential carcinogens and lead to the use of natural substances to prevent cancer.

In addition, FCIC has initiated an Individual Yield Coverage (IYC) program, which ultimately will permit policyholders to purchase insurance coverage based solely on their production records. An IYC participant must have verifiable acreage and yield records for at least the three most recent consecutive-planted crop years. Recorded yields may be used for up to 10 years, if available.

Crouch further states, "Those producers who were insured on a spring-planted crop for the 1981 crop year, but canceled their insurance, may reinstate their All-Risk coverage and maintain any premium discount they may have earned for good experience if they do so before April 15."

Cystic Fibrosis Bike-A-Thon Upcoming

Mrs. Paula Nuckols, Cystic Fibrosis chairman, announced this week that plans are fairly complete for the Cystic Fibrosis Bike-A-Thon on Saturday, April 24. She stated, "The children, ages kindergarten through fifth grade, are now contacting sponsors. Adult volunteers are needed, however, and I would appreciate you calling me at 422-4734 if you are able to help."

Parents need to understand that it is essential for their child to bring the official form on April 24 with the parent's signature giving permission for the ride. Riders will meet at the school football field and the bike-athon will begin at 9:00 a.m. Cash prizes will be awarded to the children getting the most sponsors, etc.

Riders are invited to bring sack lunches so they may have a picnic together after the hard work is finished. Drinks will be furnished.

Clouded Picture For Cotton

Cotton farmers face a tough year ahead as huge cotton supplies will likely keep the lid on market prices. Last year's bumper crop in the U. S. and abroad coupled with a sharp drop in American consumption has led to huge stockpiles, notes an economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Domestic carryover on July 31 is expected to double at some 6 million bales. Farmers will likely have few opportunities to contract their crop at prices above production costs during the first half of 1982. Any type of price recovery in the second half will depend on the weather, economic activity and size of the new crop.

After April 23, sample copies of the new textbooks up for adoption for use in Texas public schools beginning September 1, 1983, will be available for review in the Professional Library at the Center.

The new textbooks will include five elementary subjects: English as a second language, kindergarten through the fifth grade; vocal music, grades one through six; health education, grades four through eight; civil government, grade eight; and homemaking, grades six through eight.

Thirteen high school subjects to receive new materials include: accounting; advanced accounting; record-keeping; personal finance; band I, II and III; orchestra I, II and III; choral music I, II and III; fundamentals of mathematics, I-II and III-IV; marine science; physiology and anatomy; German I, II and III; world geography studies; and V. I. E. cosmology.

The 1982 state textbook proclamation approved March 13 by the State Board of Education will carry a price tag of $34,923,054.

Additional costs, including readoption of current textbooks in 11 elementary and high school subjects, additional purchases of new books now in use, Braille and large type books and freight will boost the estimated 1982-83 total to $56,721,147 or 118.64 per student.

Materials submitted for adoption by the nation's publishers will be reviewed by the new State Textbook Committee throughout the summer. The 15-member committee, all professional educators now serving in Texas Public schools, will be appointed by the Board at its May 8 meeting in Austin.

Texas Commissioner of Education Raymon L. Bynum and the State Textbook Committee will hold a joint public hearing on the proposed materials beginning August 9 in Austin.

Letter To The Editor

This letter is to commend the Munday Housing Authority board for the action taken and publicized on April 1, 1982, in the Munday Courier. This action named the 24-unit apartment addition to Munday Housing Authority "Patterson Apartments" in memory of the late L. B. Patterson, Sr.

I wish to express thanks for myself and the citizens of Munday to the family of Mr. Patterson for his dedication to the town of Munday.

When we turn on the water tap and good water flows, many of us remember the many months and years Mr. Patterson spent to see plenty of good water a dream come true for him. His foresight, perseverance and ability to work with others to accomplish an almost impossible task now assure Munday and other area towns a good dependable source of water for many years.

For out-of-town business, picking up a phone can cost less than dropping a line.

The stamp on a letter is only a small part of the cost of doing business by mail. You have to include the cost of secretarial time, materials, mail handling and overhead. That adds up to something like $6.63* You can do a lot of business with long distance for that amount, take care of orders faster, and save time and energy as well.

Plus you never have to lick stamps.

Grain Sorghum Farmers To Get Deficiency Fund
Grain sorghum farmers will receive deficiency checks of 48 cents per hundred pounds on their 1982 production. Commodity Credit Corporation will mail checks totalling approximately $22 million. Texas sorghum producers will receive the largest share with $71.5 million, while $65.4 million will go to Kansas growers and $44.8 million to Nebraska.

"USDA has informed us that the checks will be mailed on, or about, April 10," reported Elbert Harp, executive director of Grain Sorghum Producers Association (GSPA). The payment is the difference between the national average loan rate and the sorghum target price. The 48 cent payment is the maximum amount permitted by law because the average price to farmers during the first five months of the marketing year (Oct. 1, 1982 - Feb. 28, 1982) was below the loan level. The payment is a result of a provision written and sponsored by GSPA in the 1977 farm bill. This provision sets sorghum target prices in relation to corn according to the relative cost of production. Payments are determined by multiplying the rate (48¢/cwt.) by the farm acreage by the farm yield (48¢ x acres x cwt. per acre). A farm with a 1982 planted acreage of 100 acres and a yield of 6000 pounds per acre, would receive $2,880. There will be an allocation factor of 99% for those who planted more sorghum in 1981 than previous years. When the allocation factor is applied to the example above, the payment will be $2,851. *****

Farm And Ranch Report

by CHARLES SIEPEL, Knox County Extension Agent

Steps To Obtain A Brucellosis Free Herd

Many Texas livestock producers are expressing interest in obtaining a certified brucellosis free herd, but are not certain about procedures to follow in achieving this goal. To achieve a certified free herd will require a time frame of 10 to 14 months, and will also require a retest annually.

"Costs will depend on what your local veterinarians will charge for testing your eligible cattle. If your herd is under quarantine for brucellosis clean-up, you will be able to get your first herd certification without any charges from the Texas Animal Health Commission." A certified brucellosis free herd classification is available for both dairy and beef breeds.

In dairy cattle, a milk ring test may be used. A minimum of three consecutive negative milk ring tests conducted at not less than 90 day intervals is needed. This is followed by a negative herd blood test conducted within 90 days after the last negative milk ring test. A complete herd blood test is required for beef cattle. It involves two consecutive negative blood tests of all test-eligible cattle, tested not less than 10 months or more than 14 months apart.

To maintain certification, a test of eligible cattle is required within 60 days of the annual anniversary date. Cattle within a brucellosis free herd are able to move more freely within the control areas, as well as from one control area to another in the state. A certified free herd should also provide more profit potential for the owner.

At General Telephone... We're Not Simply Talking About Service Improvements We're Making Them In Munday

At General Telephone, better service isn't just a goal, it's a solid commitment. General Telephone spent over 354 million dollars in 1981 on capital expenditure projects (i.e. new electronic switches, expanded cable projects and modernization), and GTE will spend over 400 million dollars in 1982 to provide you the best telecommunications available.

For you, as a valued customer, this investment in service improvement is working as shown below. General Telephone is working hard to continually provide you with the best of service.

The Texas Public Utility Commission (PUC) has established certain standards in public hearings, and our service results are listed against those standards.

Girls Track At Hamlin Saturday

Varsity girls participated in the Hamlin meet last Saturday. We placed sixth behind Hamlin, Haskell, Breckenridge, Coleman and Jim Ned.

We were third in the 800 meter relay with a time of 1:52.45. In the 400 meter relay we did not place in the finals because the baton was dropped.

Holly Hutchinson was fifth in the 800 meter run. Her time was 2:44.32. Regina Jones was second in the 200 meter dash with 27.27, and Deedee Kuehler was fifth in this event with 27.64.

Our other points came from field events with Darla Myers in first place in the shot put competition with a throw of 34'6 1/4". Janet Myers placed sixth in this event with a 30'7 1/2" throw. Regina Jones was fourth in the long jump with 16'5 1/4". Kelli Smith placed fourth in triple jump and high jump. Her triple jump totaled 32'4", and her high jump was five feet even.

I can only say the Hamlin meet provided learning experience for us, and of course it was good for us to compete. All our meets have served this purpose - to prepare us for district.

My main objective during the district meet will be to see how many we can place in the regional meet. We invite all local people who can travel to Quanah on Thursday and watch the girls perform. We are always pleased to have you.
