Views From Another Point

by Joyce Beecher Greenwood

Don't you wish presidential candidates felt they could win elections on their own merits without all the mud-slinging?

When I listen to political debates, I'm reminded of something my dad told me once when I was crying over a remark someone had made about me.

"Sometimes," he said, "people seem to think they can make themselves appear better by tearing someone else down. They usually only wind up hurting themselves."

If we are to believe everything we've heard, we can draw the conclusion that if we elect Michael Dukakis, he'll take away all our guns and then open all the prisons so we'll have our throats cut while we sleep in our own beds.

On the other hand, we're told that George Bush will allow the contamination of all our lakes and streams and send our tax dollars to terrorist countries so we can expect to either be poisoned by our own water or have our heads blown off with weapons we've paid for with our own money.

That tends to put us somewhere between a rock and a hard place, doesn't it?

The vice-presidential debate of a couple of weeks ago was no better. I doubt that Lloyd Bentsen cares what I think, but I lost some respect for him when he said to Dan Quayle, "Believe me, you're no John F. Kennedy."

I thought the remark was uncalled for—even if Quayle did seem unsure if he should reach for the red telephone or run and hide if America was suddenly under seige.

Debates like that only reinforce the kind of attitude one man has when he said, "Neither one of them is worth a darn and I don't even intend to vote."

Is that cutting off your nose to spite your own face or what?

The first time I remember being aware of a president was one day in early spring when I was about eight years old. We were driving swiftly down a country road as I hung over the seat of the car, wondering why my mother was crying. She said we were on our way "to tell Mary Belle the president is dead."

"Can we get another president?" I remember asking.

"We already have one," she answered. "His name is Harry Truman. But we've just lost the greatest president we've ever had."

When Daddy came home, I was full of questions. He told me about the Depression and how people had put cars up on blocks because there was no money for gasoline or tires. Millions of Americans were out of work and a lot of men were forced to either beg or steal just to feed their families.

Franklin Delano Roosevelt became president during those dark days. He set up "soup lines" to feed hungry Americans and started work programs and government assistance programs to put America back on her feet.

He had led us through a world war and was elected to a fourth term in office—something no other president had ever accomplished. Then, less than three months into his fourth term, he had died suddenly of a brain hemorrhage.

I more or less lost interest in presidents and elections after that until almost twenty years later when John F. Kennedy became president. There was a certain boyish, "good

General Election November 8

Tuesday November 8, millions of Americans will be going to the polls to cast their vote in the General Election.

Following numerous hours of debates by both the presidential and vice-presidential candidates, many Americans have already made up their minds as to their favorite candidate while many others are still undecided. Many citizens feel their vote will not matter, but remember, it could make a big difference in an election if enough people failed to vote just because "one vote doesn't matter". So be sure to get out and cast your vote on Tuesday, November 8.

Candidates for president and vice-president are Republicans George Bush and Dan Quayle; Democrats Michael S. Dukakis and Lloyd Bentsen; Libertarians Ron Paul and Andre Marrou and Lenora B. Fulani and Rafael Mendez representing the New Alliance party.

MEMBERS OF THE Munday Volunteer Fire Department responded to a call at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday, October 26, at the home of Chris and Brenda Brown in Rhineland. A room housing a firing kiln, used by Brenda in her craft business, was completely gutted and greenware crafts received considerable smoke damage. Cause of the fire still remains a question.

MUNDAY DEFEATS VALLEY 42-7

Knox City Greyhounds Coming To Town Friday

It was the second time the Munday Moguls had faced the Valley Patriots and the results were identical. In 1985 when Munday squared off against Valley at Childress in a zone playoff contest, the score was also 42-7.

The Moguls lit up the scoreboard on the second play of the night as Terry Collier raced 40 yards off right tackle with 34 seconds gone on the clock. Lowell Hutchens kicked the PAT.

Valley, unable to generate any offense, fumbled an attempted punt on the 32 yard line. Quarterback Marc Andrade hit Perry Collier on a 32 yard pass play with 8:01 left in the quarter. Hutchens kicked, making the score 14-0.

Brandon Stark, senior back for the Patriots, carried the ball four straight times and picked up one first down against the stubborn Mogul defense. After Valley punted, the Moguls were penalized 15 yards back to their 35 yard line. In a four play drive, Tyler Thompson carried for seven, Perry Collier ten and then Terry Collier scored his second TD on a 49 yard run around right end. Hutchens kicked for an early 21-0 lead with 3:44 left in the quarter.

The fourth score came after the Moguls returned a 23 yard Valley punt to the 39. Tyler Thompson ran 39 yards up the middle with 1:15 to go in the quarter. Hutchens kicked. 28-0.

With the games outcome already decided, Coach Edwards began substituting, letting the junior varsity get much needed game experience.

In the second quarter Valley was able to move the ball against the Moguls for four first downs but was stopped on the Mogul one yard line.

Terry Collier carried to the eight then Andrade hit Terry Collier on a 29 yard pass. Valley received a 15 yard penalty moving the ball to the Patriots' 44. Terry Collier raced around end to score with 1:31 left in the half. Hutchens kicked, making it 35-0 at halftime.

In the third quarter, Munday drove to the Valley 12 yard line but Coach Edwards' second unit was unable to score. The Patriots made two quick first downs before Kent Sanlers recovered a fumble on the

IN STATE MARCHING CONTEST

Munday Band To Compete At Austin

They've done it again! The Munday High School Purple Cloud Band qualified Saturday for the Class A state marching contest to be held Monday, November 7 in Austin. For the third consecutive year, the band won top honors at the regional contest Saturday in Wichita Falls and was chosen along with Wheeler to represent the region at the state competition. Last year the Munday band was judged the fifth best Class A band in the state of Texas.

Class A preliminary competition will begin at 8:30 a.m. in Memorial Stadium on the University of Texas campus. Defending champions Sundown will take the field first, followed by Wheeler, Menard, Grand Falls Royalty, Nueces Canyon, Munday and Falls City. Munday's time slot is 9:30. Of the seven bands competing, the judges will choose five to advance to the finals, which will be held at 2 p.m. at Memorial Stadium.

"The kids performed well Saturday, however it was not as good a performance as the district show the week before," said band director Rodney Bennett. "The overall musical sound though was much better at regional."

"The judges were extremely detailed in their criticism, and they gave us some very constructive comments," Bennett continued. "One judge commented, 'You have an extremely fine band and any mistake in the program is glaring'. A couple of the judges thought the band wasn't mentally on top of things, and made small mistakes because of mental lapses," Bennett continued.

"Overall, I was pleased with the kids performance and the judges thought it was good enough and that's what matters," Bennett concluded.

Chartered buses will carry students and parents to Austin for the contest, and as of Tuesday morning, all seats were filled. The band and its fans will leave Sunday morning at 8:30 and return on Monday night.

AT TUESDAY MEET

Cross-Country Teams Take District Trophy

The Munday Mogul and Mogul-ette cross-country teams captured the District 9-A championship at the meet held here last Tuesday, October 25, at Lake Creek Golf Course. The win was the second in as many years for the girls and boys' win was their first district competition and first district win.

The Munday girls were the lone team in girls competition; the boys competed with teams from Goree and Paint Creek. Lueders-Avoca fielded one individual.

Crossing the finish line first for the girls was junior Mindy Myers. Behind her were junior Robin Reneau, second; sophomore Kacy Longan, third; freshman Bridgette Beaty, fourth; junior Alicia Cook, fifth; senior Denise Kuehler, sixth and freshman Missy Reneau, seventh. Kathy Welch, a freshman, also participated, but her place was not counted since she was number eight and seven girls constitute a team.

The boys' race was more of a contest with Munday easily taking first place with 27 points. Goree was a distant second with 40 points and Paint Creek finished third with 61.

Benny Jarvis, Lueders-Avoca's only competitor in the event, took the first place finish for the boys with a time of 18:25, over the three mile course. Jarvis, last year's first place finisher in the district, bettered his time this year by more than two minutes.

Isais Campos, Munday's leading runner, came in a close second, with a time of 19:17, followed by brother Massey Campos with a time of 19:19. Fourth place finisher was Mike Yzaguirre with 19:35. Other runners on the Munday team were Kenny Forehand finishing seventh with 20:21 and Jerry Valencia, sixteenth, 24:02.

Both teams now advance to the regional meet to be held Saturday, November 5, at Lubbock.

Valley 18 yard line. Four plays later Bobby Dockins passed 10 yards to Sanders for Munday's sixth touchdown. Hutchens kicked.

Valley returned the kickoff to the 31 and took 15 plays to score against the Moguls. With 13 seconds left, Brandon Stark scored from one yard out. Chad Isbell kicked. Final score was Munday 42, Valley 7.

Friday night Munday faces the Greyhounds of Knox City. It's a must win for Knox City since they lost to Paducah last week 27-23. A Dragon win Friday over Valley and a Knox City loss to Munday puts Paducah in the playoffs.

COACHES COMMENTS

The Moguls played well last Friday night at Valley. I thought Marc Andrade did a great job of executing the offense.

The Knox City game will be an intense struggle. I know that their kids will be ready to play and ours will be ready to play and it should be a great game. They have the biggest players of any team we have faced this year. Billy Large is a fast quarterback and Alex Ledesma is a very quick and agile halfback.

We must be intense and prepared to battle for four quarters. This is a must win for both teams. They must win to reach the playoffs and we must win to beat Knox City.

guy" charm about him that endeared him to most Americans. He was family oriented and straight forward and America seemed to gain new respect from other countries because of some of his "stand firm" policies.

Are we really all out of Franklin D. Roosevelts and John F. Kennedys? Do you suppose we ever stand a chance of redeeming ourselves from the image we've shown the rest of the world in our--"Don't look at me. I didn't do it"--"I know nothing"--"It was all done behind my back"--attitude concerning the Iran-Contra business?

With all her imperfections, America is still the strongest, most impressive country in the world. It is our country and it can remain strong only if we help to keep it strong. We can do that--only if we support it with our right to vote.

Sometimes, I wonder if we put too much emphasis on the party a candidate is associated with and not enough on the individual. My granddad would have voted for Larry, Curly or Moe if either had run for office and been a Democrat. My dad voted for the man who made the most sense, no matter what his party affiliation.

What I know about politics would rattle around in a thimble, but it seems to me that the important thing is to study the platform of both men. Decide if you support George Bush with his "Chevrolet and apple pie" approach or Dukakis who leans more toward allowing the individual the freedom of choice concerning some of the moral issues.

We're really just spinning our wheels when we take the approach of one man who said, after the last presidential election, "Well, I guess the ##!# Republicans are in for four more years."

"Lost your vote, huh?"

"No, I didn't lose my vote. I was busy and didn't have time to fool with it."

Kids are learning about presidential elections now in the first and second grades. The "Weekly Reader", a little school paper that helps to inform kids about what is going on in their world, contained a brief description of both Dukakis and Bush with a little sample ballot for kids to pretend to vote.

Our third grader, Tanya, took hers home and soon after, her sister--our littlest angel, two year old Heather--came to visit.

"Mymom," she said, conversationally crossing her legs and pulling her little dress down over her knees--chocolate milk all around her mouth, "who 'e gonna vote for? Dukakis?"

"Maybe," I answered. "Who will you vote for?"

"I think I vote for Bush," she answered, thoughtfully.

Heather can't vote for another sixteen years, but we can vote on November 8.

Let's do.

MUNDAY HIGH SCHOOL twirlers, Alicia Cook, left, and Angie Offutt, will compete in the state UIL twirling contest to be held in Austin in June, after receiving I ratings on their solo performances at district competition. Alicia, a junior has been to state competition twice before and Angie, a sophomore, has competed once at state. Parents of these girls are Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Cook and Mr. and Mrs. Dan Offutt.

He is survived by his wife; a son, Jayson; his mother, Annie J. Floyd of Munday; two brothers, Harold Floyd of Munday and Joe Floyd of Mesa, Arizona; and a sister, LaCresha Phillips of Munday.

E.) Stovall of Abilene; and a brother, Joe John Ejem of Roscoe.

Texas Delegation Helps Correct Ag Tax Problems

The Texas delegation to Congress was "very supportive" in correcting two of agricultures most nagging tax problems--the diesel fuel and so-called "heifer" taxes, Texas Farm Bureau President S. M. True said in a letter to county Farm Bureau presidents.

"Your hard work has paid off, and our top legislative priorities for 1988 have been accomplished," the state farm leader told the leaders of 216 organized county units. The 100th Congress completed work on the Technical Corrections bills on its last day of work, including provisions for resolving the two tax issues.

For many years, up until April 1 of this year, farm-used diesel fuel was exempt from taxes at the retail level. Last December, the budget Reconciliation law changed the collection point for the tax to the wholesale level, thus forcing farmers to pay the tax and then apply for a refund. In some cases, they would have to wait a year to collect. This has now been repealed by the technical corrections bills.

The repeal of correction of the so-called "heifer tax" restores preproductive expensing of livestock. It also wipes out complex Internal Revenue requirements.

"Prior to the end of Congress," True told the county leaders, "key leaders were publicly stating that the diesel fuel tax issue was the 'engine' that was driving the overall tax bill. That is quite an accomplishment for Farm Bureau."

DPS Accident Report

Texas Department of Public Safety troopers investigated a total of 126 accidents during the month of September, according to Captain L. A. Reinhart, District Supervisor of the Lubbock Highway Patrol District. There were eight persons killed and 51 persons injured in these accidents.

Knox County figures showed only one personal injury accident and three property damage accidents investigated during September.

This information is furnished by Region 5 Safety Education Service, Texas Department of Public Safety, Lubbock.

Anyone interested in renting a booth to display and sell their crafts may call Stella Caram, Dean Nuckols or Mary Cartwright for more information.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:
We want to thank all the Munday residents, the officers in charge of the Homecoming activities, and especially our local classmates who invited us into their homes for class meetings.

The parade was a fantastic success. We both enjoyed every minute of the fun-packed day and evening and are looking forward to 1992.

Great job,
Joan and Jackie (Sohora)
Note: We have just begun receiving your paper and enjoy reading it very much. I especially enjoy Joyce Beecher Greenwood's "Views From Another Point".
Yours truly,
Joan Blake

We would like to express our deepest appreciation to the Munday Volunteer Fire Department for its quick response Wednesday when fire broke out in our house. A special thanks to Dutch Young and the highway department for reporting the fire.

"Munster Family" Wins Costume Prize

The "Munster Family" was $100 richer following the Chamber of Commerce Halloween dance and costume contest held Saturday. Members of the Munster family who shared the prize money were Debbie Harlan, Morticia; Steven Smith, Grandpa; Gary Kuehler, Herman; and Jason Zeissel, Eddie.

Runners-up in the contest and receiving $40 cash were the Halloweenist, better known to area residents as Jeremy and Holly Hutchinson.

Honorable mention went to Richie Smith as the Grim Reaper; Stan Decker, the Red Devil; and Mike and Ellen Wulf as the Budweiser Couple.

GARDEN CLUB JUDGES chose the home of W.R. and Wynette Moore at 360 South 11th as their Yard of the Week. The neatly kept lawn and the beautiful bouquet of fall chrysanthemums on the south side of the house caught the eye of the judges.

The Lord's Corner

by Dr. Pete Bradfield, pastor
First Baptist Church

The most bored people in the world are often not the underprivileged. In the Christian life, every blessing from God comes with a corresponding responsibility to God. Are you young? Then God holds you accountable for the way you use your strength and vitality. Are you "young at heart?" Regardless of your chronological age, God holds you accountable for the years of experience you have accumulated, and the way you use them.

Life at any age apart from God is empty and futile, regardless of how wise, wealthy, or industrious you may be. Possessions and pursuits can never fill the void which only the person of Jesus Christ was designed to fill.

Spend a few moments taking a "personal inventory" of your life: what you do... what you have... what you are. Is Jesus Christ the focus of your activities? Is He more important than your possessions? Is He the center of your being? Focus on these thoughts for a moment.

See you next week, and remember: every opportunity from God is an obligation, every possession a duty.

Emergency Response System Offered By WCTCOG

The West Central Texas Council of Governments, Area Agency of Aging, offers an emergency response system that allows local residents to signal for 24 hour emergency assistance from their homes simply by pressing a button.

With ERS, senior citizens can continue to live at home and know that help can be obtained by simply pushing a button that is worn on a chain around the neck. When the button is pushed a signal is sent to Hendrick Medical Center where a staff of highly trained personnel will identify the emergency and send help to them fast.

Persons 60 years of age and older can apply for this service and other services offered by West Central Texas Council of Governments Area Agency of Aging.

These services include congregate and home delivered meals, transportation, telephone reassurance, information and referral, senior employment, health screening, and Ombudsman activities for nursing home clients.

For information on any aging service program sponsored by the Area Agency of Aging, contact WCTCOG, P. O. Box 3195, Abilene, Texas 79604 or telephone 915-672-8644 (collect calls accepted).

★ Weinert News ★

By Mrs. Myrtle Phemister

After a day of fog and mist, we were blessed with over an inch of rain on Sunday night. The gins continue, with all the modules that have been hauled in, and only the farmers have time off from the harvest due to the inclement weather.

Special "thanks" from me to Mrs. Bellinghausen, Arthur Garza and Felipe Castorena, with the rest of the Junior High students, who did such a superb job of writing the Weinert News while I was away on the foliage tour to the Northeastern U.S. and Canada.

I know each of you appreciate them too, for without them there would have been no Weinert news for the whole month of October.

Our sympathy is extended to the family of Henry Ejem upon his sudden and untimely death last week. Henry was reaching his 65th birthday and was excited about retiring from farm labor, which he had been doing all his life. But on Thursday morning, after going to the farm to start work, he suffered a massive heart attack and died.

Henry's memorial services were held at the First Baptist Church on Saturday, October 29. He is survived by his wife, one daughter and a son.

There were so many birthday parties in town, everyone around must have heard the celebrations.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Yates hosted the Yates and Guess families with a Sunday dinner, honoring their son, T.J. and brother, Hal Guess on their birthdays.

Twenty-three family members and guests were counted, as they gathered around the honorees to sing the birthday song. Out-of-town guests were Linda and Ricky Wade, and Taylor of Kermit, Mack Wade and Annette Ancil of Abilene, and Christi Herricks of Throckmorton.

Twenty-seven family members stormed the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Hutchinson on Sunday, not just for Lester and Cherie Hutchinson's birthdays, but also to welcome their two aunts, sisters of their father, Robert Hutchinson (deceased). They are Callie Mack of Dallas, and Jessie Roberts of Champaign, Illinois.

Out-of-town guests included Boyd Lynn and Christine Meers and Todd, Grace Hutchinson, Helen Hutchinson and son Charles, Jerry and Joan Hutchinson and Bobby Hutchinson, all of Munday. Others attending the dinner were Mike and Cherie Cox and Jean Curd of Arlington; Holly and Jeremy Hutchinson of Lubbock, Jimmy and Eunice Cox and Mark of Breckenridge, Debbie Hutchinson of Junction, Jamie Newberry of Stephenville and Angela and Todd Herricks of Haskell.

Helping with hostess duties were Wayne and Cherie Hutchinson of Weinert.

The home of Ricky and Karen Harlan was the scene of a birthday celebration honoring their children, Jeremy and Lynzie. Twenty-four relatives signed the guest register and ate the dinner especially prepared for the occasion.

Counted among the relatives attending were the great-grandparents, Chester and Frances Smith of Goree and Mrs. Elmer Shackelford of Munday, all former Weinert residents.

Congratulations are in order for Kenny Forehand and his cross-country team who won the district meet in Munday on Tuesday, October 25, and who are eligible to compete in the regional meet to be held in Lubbock on Saturday, November 5.

We also congratulate Denise Carroll, Molly Estrada, Missy Alexander, Anthony and Andrew Garza for their part in helping the Munday Purple Cloud band to win first place in the regional contest held in Wichita Falls on Saturday, October 29. The band will proceed to Austin for the state competition. We are so proud of you all!

Happy birthday greetings go to Tina Briscoe, Faye Jetton, Ruth Jimenez, Clyde Mayfield, Jeremy Harlan and Marty Earle.

Robert and Bennie Horan will celebrate a wedding anniversary on November 4 but it may be in another state, as they spend many days in that 18-wheeler truck Robert drives. Happy anniversary wherever you are.

Woody, Georgia and Greg Turnbow carried their birthday party to Weatherford this weekend as they went to celebrate with their daughter, Twyla, and her family, husband Tommy, and children, Luke, Levi and Tabitha Sorrells.

The son, ERIC, will finish his basic training in the Navy this week and is awaiting orders for advanced training.

AROUND TOWN

R.S. and Betty Sanders were in Winters on Wednesday to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ras Gideon.

Helen Boykin met her son Doyle and family of Texas City in Abilene on Saturday and they all attended the ACU Homecoming festivities.

They reported the musical "Oklahoma" was an outstanding production and though the Wildcats didn't win the game, it was a good game.

Her grandson, Michael Boykin, is a senior student majoring in accounting and will graduate in May.

Crystella Raynes attended a "Grandmother" pink and blue shower hosted for her daughter, Delores Stewart, in Munday on Saturday afternoon. The party was held in the home of Margie Stewart, and was a complete surprise for the honoree, who is expecting a grandchild in November.

Marvin and Myrtle Phemister are announcing the birth of a great-granddaughter, who arrived on October 26 in ShaRawe, Botswana, Africa. Her parents are Rosalinda and Wimore Walker, and she was welcomed by her brother, Martin Andrew and sister, Marcella Celeste. She weighed in at seven pounds, two ounces and will answer to Marissa Beth. Her parents are missionaries. She is the granddaughter of Lola Williams of Harlingen.

Mr. and Mrs. J.T. Alexander welcomed a visit from their daughter, Charlene and Bill Harlan of Galea Park, for the weekend.

Terry and Beth Sanders, David and Kerri, of Hamlin, were guests in the home of his parents, Alton and Mildred Sanders. The report is they spent most of the day gathering corn and preparing it for the freezer.

Wayne and Linda Phemister, Lincoln and Laura, of Avoca and Ricky Phemister of Haskell visited relatives in Weinert on Thursday.

The Weinert Extension Club has received permission to use one of the classrooms at the high school for their quilting project, and the members gathered on Monday to put the quilt in the frames.

The quilt is an annual gift the club makes for the West Texas Rehab auction. Anyone is welcome to visit, or help with the quilt.

We are happy to announce the reopening of the Weinert Grocery and Cafe that was recently closed. Praise and appreciation is due Roy Herricks for purchasing the building and keeping Weinert going by reopening the business.

The store is fully stocked and open from 7 to 7, with Ann Horan as manager. The cafe is a great boon to farmers and other workers in our area and serves "homecooking" by Daisy Horan.

They truly appreciate your trade. Come see!

An oil rig has moved into place on the Weinert land west of town. We are all praying for a "gusher". Have a nice day!

Funeral Services For Ira Cook Held In San Angelo

Ira Valentine Cook, 86, of San Angelo, died at 6:15 p.m. Thursday, October 27, 1988, in Shannon Medical Center in San Angelo. Funeral services were held Monday, October 31, in Johnson's Funeral Home Chapel with Rev. Larry Altman, pastor of St. Luke United Methodist Church, officiating. Burial was in Fairmount Cemetery in San Angelo.

Mr. Cook was born February 14, 1902 in Scranton, Texas. He graduated from Hardin-Simmons University in 1924 and married Mary Phillips on July 14, 1927 in Roswell, N.M. He was a past member of the Masonic Lodge Commandry, Scottish Rite and Shrine, and Lions Club. He lived in Plainview for 25 years where he was district manager for an automobile business. He moved to San Angelo in 1981 and was a member of St. Luke United Methodist Church.

Survivors include his wife; one daughter, Mrs. Bill (Pat) Lockett of San Angelo; three grandchildren, Larry Hardin of Odessa, Mary Hardin of Cleveland, Ohio, and Jim Lockett of New York City, N.Y.; two great-grandchildren, Jennifer and Amy Hardin, both of Odessa; and one sister, Mrs. James A. Cotton of Beaumont.

A young child may be able to hold onto a drinking glass better if you place two tight rubber bands around the glass an inch or so apart. This makes it easier for little hands to hold.

Flu Season Poses Threat To High-Risk Individuals

As winter quickly approaches, it's flu and pneumonia season and for many Texans this is a matter of life and death.

People in high-risk categories are in the greatest danger from flu and its complications, according to the American Lung Association of Texas. People in high risk include older adults, especially those over 65; adults and children who have chronic illnesses such as long-term lung or heart problems, kidney disease or diabetes; patients who are being discharged from a hospital; and residents of nursing homes or other long-term health care facilities.

For healthy children and adults, flu typically is a moderately serious illness.

However, for those in high-risk or those who already are not well because of underlying illness, serious complications can set in - most commonly, bacterial infections - because the body can be so weakened by flu that its defenses against bacteria are low.

In 1987, flu and pneumonia killed 3,484 in Texas, according to the Texas Department of Health.

"Yet this number could be substantially reduced if people in high-risk groups would get their flu shots and their pneumococcal pneumonia vaccination," said Cinda Davis, program administrator of the American Lung Association of Texas.

Flu and pneumonia combined are the sixth leading cause of death in Texas. "That's why we are making a major effort to reach people with this information," Davis said.

The best time for vaccination is well before mid-November. This allows time for antibodies to build up before peak flu season. Flu shots are needed every year, since the strains change, but you need to get the Pneumococcal Pneumonia vaccine only once.

Contact your physician for further information. Flu and pneumonia educational materials are also available from the American Lung Association of Texas. For more information, call 343-0502.

Texas Criminal Court Of Appeals...

...has a history of freeing convicted murderers and rapists for the slightest technicality.

- CASE #1 A man convicted of drowning his wife was released because the paperwork didn't specify "in water".
- CASE #2 A man convicted for murder had his case overturned because the paperwork stated "shot with a deadly weapon"; not "shot by a gun".
- CASE #3 Donald Eugene Franklin was convicted by three different juries after he raped and repeatedly stabbed a nurse. Miraculously she lived to personally identify Franklin before she died. Twice the Court of Criminal Appeals overturned the decision on technicalities. Now, after 13 years the U.S. Supreme Court has upheld the original guilty verdict.

JANE'S NEWS NOTES

THE ELECTRIC BLANKET EVOLUTION

Some of the very first electric blankets were developed in 1921 for tubercular patients who had to sleep outdoors. Sleeping in the fresh air was considered therapeutic to their condition, and the electrically heated blankets kept the patients warm in cold weather.

An automatic electric blanket was introduced in 1936. A control automatically cycled the blanket on and off in response to changes in room temperature. Safety thermostats were also used to shut off the blanket whenever an area became too hot if tucked in, folded over or bunched up. The blanket would stay off until the heat in the overheated area had dissipated. The blanket wires contained thermostats frequently referred to as "lumps" in the blanket with the number varying by blanket size.

Few changes occurred until about 1984. High technology was introduced to automatic blankets. A unique wire system eliminating the need for thermostats was developed. The system responds to body temperature as well as changes in room and bed temperatures. For example, if your shoulders are cold, the wire senses it and sends more warmth to that area while responding simultaneously with less heat in another part of the blanket, perhaps at the feet. Because the system is so sensitive, the blanket does not turn on and off if it is folded over, bunched up, or tucked in. The result is a greater comfort level.

Solid state controls have another state of the art development. Dual controls that operate independently of each other enable two people sleeping in the same bed to select the level of warmth that each prefers. Queen and king size blankets are available with dual controls that are optional for a full size bed.

The blankets are available in a variety of fibers with the most popular of acrylic or a blend of polyester and acrylic. Sizes range from twin, full, queen to king.

Although the technology for electric blankets has changed over the years, machine washability continues to be an inherent quality. An electric blanket, like others, calls for the easy care of automatic washing. The blankets cannot be drycleaned because the dry cleaning solvents can affect the wiring.

The Soap and Detergent Association suggests the following laundering procedure, if the manufacturer's instructions are not available.

Disconnect the controls from the blanket. Add a sufficient amount of laundry detergent to the washer first. Fill washer with warm water and agitate to dissolve a granular detergent. Stop washer and completely submerge the unfolded blanket in the water. Soak 10 to 15 minutes. Gently agitate for 1 minute. Stop washer and manually advance the timer to drain and spin at normal speed for about 1 minute. Stop washer and advance the timer to the deep rinse cycle. Add fabric softener and allow washer to finish the wash cycle automatically.

To dry the blanket, first place 3 or 4 dry towels in the dryer. Set dryer to medium setting and turn on, letting the towels preheat for about 3-5 minutes. This helps to absorb moisture and dry the blanket quickly to avoid pilling. Place the blanket in the dryer with the warm towels. Tumble for about 10 minutes. Remove while still damp. Then smooth the blanket and spread over two lines or place on a flat surface to finish drying.

Fold the blanket to store, but do not use mothballs. They, too, can affect the wires.

Knox Retired Teachers Meet

The Knox County Retired Teachers met Tuesday afternoon, October 25, with nineteen members and one guest present. Pledges to the American and Texas flags were given. Larue Reeves was welcomed as a new member.

President Jessie Roberts reported that she and Mary Groves attended the District meeting in Vernon October 18. Members shared views about amendment #3 to be voted on November 8 and encouraged others to become acquainted with this amendment before election day. An appeal was made for people to assist with duties preparing for the Knox County Museum.

Mary Beth Smith introduced Dennis Duke of Benjamin, a member of the U.S. Corps of Engineers. Mr. Duke shared information about the Corps and showed a film depicting its history, beginning in 1775, to the present. He also told of his work with the Truscott-Red River chloride control, a South Wichita pilot project whose mission is to clean up salt water. The work has proved to be 86 percent successful.

Hostesses Mary Beth Smith, Margie Clonts and Sammie Carpenter served refreshments of layered finger sandwiches, cheese toast, wedding cookies, piourettes and punch.

The first record featured inventor Thomas Edison singing "Mary Had A Little Lamb."

He Is Alive!

by Rev. Wayne Varnell,
First Baptist Church, Goree

Once upon a time there were four men named Everybody, Somebody, Anybody, and Nobody.

There was an important job to be done and Everybody was asked to do it. But Everybody was sure that Somebody would do it. Anybody could have done it. But Nobody did it. Somebody got angry about it, because it was Everybody's job. Everybody thought that Anybody could do it and Nobody realized that Everybody wouldn't do it.

It ended up that Everybody blamed Somebody and Nobody did the job that Anybody could have done in the first place.

At last report, these four men were still arguing and the job they were supposed to do still wasn't done.

Parade participants will assemble at the American Legion Post and proceed from there down the main street of Knox City. All participating veterans will be introduced over a speaker system as they parade past the viewing stand.

This is what Michael Dukakis stands for. Michael Dukakis admitted that he is a card-carrying member of the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU).

Christmas Losing to ACLU

Richard and Susan Vigilante, both members of the ACLU, who think it has gone way too far wrote:

If the ACLU is not hostile to religion, the objective effect of its efforts has been to reduce the place of religion in American life and to restrict religious speech in a way the ACLU would never allow other forms of speech to be restricted. And on occasion the ACLU's scrupulous pursuit of the separation of church and state has led it to the point of the absurd.

A perfect example is the ACLU's view of Christmas celebrations. Most cities and towns in the United States give Christmas some kind of public nod—wreaths on office buildings, fir trees strewn with colored lights, city sidewalks dressed in holiday style, silver bells, and so on. But the ACLU is constantly vigilant lest these holiday celebrations violate the establishment clause. In 1981 the Rhode Island affiliate of the ACLU sued the City of Pawtucket to stop the display of a creche of the Christmas nativity scene. The ACLU lost the case this spring, when the U.S. Supreme Court ruled that portraying a historical event does not constitute an establishment of religion. In 1979 the ACLU sued the public schools of Sioux Falls, Iowa, to stop the singing of "Silent Night" at the annual Christmas assemblies.

The ACLU is relentless even outside the Christmas season.

In Minnesota the organization sued a high school to force it to cancel plans to have a prayer recited at its graduation ceremonies. (The school backed down, as do many potential defendants faced with ACLU lawyers.) In April 1982 the superintendent of a school district in Spanaway, Washington, was lectured, if not threatened, by the local ACLU chapter for permitting a high school to put on Jesus Christ, Superstar as its spring play. The ACLU president informed him that Bethel High School was "engaging in religious instruction," and that "further violations of this kind may result in more direct and more drastic action by the ACLU."¹¹

They Do Not Hate Only Protestants

Patrick Buchanan, a highly respected conservative columnist wrote, "In recent decades the Supreme Court, responding to ACLU lawsuits, has turned our First Amendment upside down."¹²

While the ACLU protests that it only seeks to keep church and state separate, its track record is that of an organization steeped in anti-religious bigotry and motivated by an implacable hostility to Christianity in general and Catholicism in particular. As William Donohue of the Heritage Foundation writes in the January issue of Crisis, the "Anti-Catholic Liberties Union" has lately sought to:

- A. Deny tax-exempt status to all churches and synagogues;
- B. Terminate all military and prison chaplains;
- C. Deny parochial school children access to publicly funded counselors;
- D. Eliminate Nativity scenes from public property;
- E. Repeal all blue law statutes;
- F. Halt government funding of religious foster-care programs;
- G. Prohibit Bible reading in public schools even after school hours;
- H. Prevent the singing of "Silent Night", and posting of the Ten Commandments in public school classrooms;
- I. End the practice of allowing public school children to leave class to attend religious services;
- J. Halt public funding of buses for Catholic school children;
- K. Terminate all voucher programs and tuition tax credits;
- L. Prohibit census questions about religious affiliation;
- M. Purge the words "In God We Trust" from our coins and "under God" from our Pledge of Allegiance.

That is not a record of tolerance. While the ACLU contends its lawsuits are simply upholding the First Amendment prohibition regarding an "establishment of religion," their effect has been to confine and constrict the "free exercise" of religion, as guaranteed by that amendment.

Clearly, the ACLU's purpose is nothing less than the de-Christianization of the United States.¹³

Unless an army of Christian activist attorneys is mobilized to oppose these ACLU secularizers every time they try to use our courts to remove all vestiges of God, moral values and religious freedom, this nation's public policy will be as secular as the Soviet Union by the year 2000.

Three Major Criticisms of the ACLU

1. That many members of the organization are anti-religious, with some carrying their hostility toward conservative religious denominations to the point of bigotry; and that the organization itself has sought to intimidate or penalize the exercise of religious belief;

2. That in the sphere of social conduct the ACLU has gone beyond advocating tolerance and now works to actively undermine traditional moral standards;

3. That in its foreign-policy cases the ACLU has consistently worked to hamper U.S. efforts to contain Communism.¹⁴

TWO THINGS TEXANS DON'T LIKE ARE BAD HIGHWAYS AND BROKEN PROMISES.

The money we send to Washington every time we fill up our cars comes back to Texas. The government promises that this money will be spent to build, repair and maintain our highways.

Diverting those Federal Highway Trust dollars to some other purpose could devastate our highway system for years to come.

- It would halt vital road construction;
- Cancel needed safety improvement;
- End repairs to roads and bridges.

Texans can stop this threat by voting for Proposition One which makes certain that highway dollars are spent on highways. Let's keep the promise to Texans.

On Election Day look at the bottom of your ballot and find Proposition One, the Highway Amendment. Proposition One continues the Texas plan for good jobs, economic growth and safe roads without raising taxes and most importantly . . . keeps your family safe.

A lot is riding on the promise of good Texas roads.

Keep highway money for highways and the jobs they create. Proposition One is endorsed by the Texas Highway Commissioners, local and statewide officials of both political parties, and hundreds of civic groups because they know that building good roads keeps Texas moving.

Keep Texas Moving.

at the bottom of the ballot

KEY STEPS OUTLINED FOR HARVESTING COTTON

As cotton producers in the area are harvesting cotton, there are some important tips that should be remembered to assist in being sure of a high quality crop.

Follow a good harvest-aid program. The acreage treated at any one time should not exceed harvesting capacity. Strive for good coverage with careful sprayer calibration, and do not apply harvest-aid compounds ahead of unsettled weather.

Use a defoliant first and then a desiccant under the following conditions: high lint yield and large stalks, low yield and large stalks, when a hairy variety is used or when any variety is difficult to clean at the gin, or with a high plant population that increases the ratio of vegetative material to lint.

Harvest dry cotton. Seed cotton should be below 12 percent moisture for efficient harvest and safe storage. If seed coats are brittle and lint springs back after a hand squeeze, cotton is dry.

Maintain a daily harvest period that will ensure that dry cotton is being harvested. Do not harvest too early or too late each day.

Avoid getting into the field too early after a rain or harvest-aid treatment. Allow time for defoliants and desiccants to work. The time period required will vary with weather conditions, especially temperature.

Do not mix damp cotton with dry cotton. Also, the lint portion can lose and gain moisture much more rapidly than cottonseed.

Make sure the harvester is adjusted properly to maintain high efficiency with changes in varieties and field conditions.

Brush strippers should not be set to operate too aggressively. It's better to tag some cotton in the field to minimize trash content and reduce barmy bales.

A well-shaped bed improves harvesting efficiency. Try to provide an adequate ridge for the header to operate.

Adjust ground speed as field conditions change to maintain high harvester efficiency.

ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION

Saturday afternoon L.D. and Loys Welch were honored on their 50th wedding anniversary by their family and about 115 guests at a reception at the Gilliland Community Center.

They were married October 29, 1938 at the Vera Baptist Church by Bro. John Evins. Her parents were Mr. and Mrs. E.S. Allen and his were Mr. and Mrs. Barney Welch, all of Vera. The Welches lived at Vera for about 10 years, then moved to Gilliland in 1947.

Their children are Lloyd Don Welch of Munday and Wanda Beth Welch Partridge of Arlington. They have four grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

A special gift to the honorees was a large gold-framed portrait of their children and their families.

Anniversary colors of yellow or gold and white were used throughout the decorations in the reception room. The table was covered with a delicate white lace with an underlay of gold. It was centered with an arrangement of yellow roses flanked on either side by a tiered cake and crystal punch bowl. Coffee was poured from a silver service at an adjacent table. Forming a background for the serving area was a white garden lattice frame decorated with yellow flowers.

Loys said she and L.D. wanted to thank everyone for coming and making their anniversary such an especially happy occasion for them.

Austin visited her mother, Mrs. Fannie Lois Bayars, the weekend of October 15. They also attended the Munday homecoming.

Doyle Wayne Parnell of Paducah and Bill Klapper of Pampa visited Jack Krupper and Harold Barry on Sunday.

Several from Truscott and Gilliland attended and helped with the Halloween carnivals at Crowell and Benjamin Saturday night.

Plans are developing for the next Grandma's Sunday dinner on November 13. It will be a turkey and dressing meal with special holiday recipes to fill out the fruit, vegetable and dessert sections of the menu.

Powder Puff Game Planned At Goree

The Goree High School student body will reverse roles Monday, November 7, at Buster Chamberlain Field in Goree as the girls don full football pads and the boys shake pom-poms in a Powder Puff football game.

The freshmen and sophomore girls will take on the juniors and seniors in play action beginning at 7 p.m. while the boys, in full cheer-leading outfits, will cheer for their respective teams.

Admission is $1 per person with proceeds going to the athletic program. There will be a pep rally in the gym at 12:45 p.m., November 7, with faculty members leading cheers for the football girls.

Make plans to come to the game on Monday night as the girls engage in real tackle football for a Powder Puff championship game.

Teenagers' Food Choices May Lead To Bad Eating Habits

Most teenagers know what constitutes a healthy diet, but still tend to make food choices that may lead to a lifetime of poor eating habits.

According to a recent Gallup poll of 375 12 to 17 year olds, 87 percent of teens surveyed said they put "a lot" or "some" effort into a healthy diet.

However, the teenagers listed potato chips, corn chips, cookies, candies and ice cream among their top snack food choices. Hamburgers, cheeseburgers, pizza and luncheon meats ranked among their top lunch choices.

About 63 percent of the teenagers said they learned about cholesterol in school, but less than a third were able to identify cholesterol-rich foods, such as butter and eggs.

"Skipping meals, snacking, eating away from home, eating fast foods and going on fad diets are common teenage eating patterns," said Dr. Mary Kinney Sweeten, a nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at Texas A&M University.

In spite of their eating patterns, Sweeten said the nutritional status of teenagers as a group is good, except for a few problem nutrients. For example, adolescents have higher requirements for iron and calcium, but many teens, especially girls, don't get enough.

"Teenage girls tend to drink soft drinks instead of milk, which may contribute to low calcium status. Yet they need the calcium to build bone mass which will help prevent osteoporosis late in life," she said.

"While teenagers' eating patterns may do little harm while they're young, they are also forming habits which probably will not serve them very well as adults," said the specialist.

Parents can help insure their teenager's nutritional status by making sure that meals eaten at home are balanced, containing lean meat, poultry or fish; vegetables and fruit; whole grain products; and dairy foods, Sweeten said.

Offering plenty of nutritious snacks, such as fruit, low-fat yogurt, unbuttered popcorn or oatmeal cookies rather than high fat snack foods, may also encourage better eating.

"It's not too soon for older teenagers to begin thinking about their cholesterol intake either," said the nutritionist. "Health authorities recommend that adults get no more than 300 milligrams of cholesterol per day, but by the late teens many boys are getting 500 milligrams or more and girls intake levels are at about 300 milligrams per day."

Teenagers can start gradually reducing cholesterol intake by choosing low-fat or skim milk and other reduced-fat dairy products; eating a plain hamburger instead of a bacon double cheeseburger or cutting back on chocolate bars.

All teenagers, and especially those from families with a history of heart disease, high blood pressure or obesity, can reduce their future health risks by working on a healthier diet today, said the nutritionist.

THESE MUNDAY VOLUNTEER FIREMEN prepare to enter the burning room at the home of Chris and Brenda Brown last Wednesday. The room was completely gutted in the blaze, but no damage was reported to the living quarters of the home. Craft items in an adjacent room received smoke damage from the fire.
