Look To The East

By AARON EDGAR

Why do we do it? Maybe a better phrasing would be "Why don't we do it," we don't know. Why do we habitually stay away from invitations of our governing bodies to attend meetings and become better acquainted with the problems facing these bodies?

Sometimes these meetings are such that an opinion from constituents would be welcomed and appreciated. An idea dropped in a friendly manner here and there might be a great help in solving the problems confronting people who are on our governing boards.

We're talking about people whom we elect to places on our city, schools and county organizations who must conduct the affairs of office to the best interests of our town, county and community.

By law, these organizations publish notices in our papers of "budget hearings" and other public meetings to which our appearance would be appreciated.

Why do we stay away? Why is it that most every time we, as individuals or a group of individuals, appear at any type of city, school or county board meeting is to protest?

We just rock along with a feeling of apathy toward our governing bodies until something is done to arouse our ire then we pounce on the board, or boards, with all four feet.

We admit we're of the old school that believes we helped to elect people to our city council, school board, or commissioners court. Therefore, we believed them to be capable of carrying on the business of these respective bodies, so we never attend a budget hearing or other meetings to try to become more informed of the problems confronting them.

On the other hand, we've never met with any of these bodies in protest of actions taken by them.

We kinda think we're just being a good citizen by not bothering them, even when we receive an invitation via the printed word.

We've had no voice in determining the budget for another year. We've remained mute in regard to disposition of revenue sharing funds, and such things.

Maybe we're not such a good citizen, after all! We're certainly not informed as to the problems.

We're not alone in this attitude by any means.

Recently, we had occasion to read in the Wichita Falls paper a letter from County Judge Tom Bacus. It began with an awakening fact:

In recent budget hearings, Judge Bacus said the public had the opportunity to hear some of the best organized budget presentations ever presented to the commissioners' court, that is, had anyone bothered to appear. Only one citizen was present at each hearing!

"Will Rogers said that all he knew was what he read in the newspapers," Bacus wrote, "and I guess most Americans, including citizens of this county, have pretty much fallen into the same rut. If you want newspapers and the electronic media to run the county, then just keep abdicating to them the responsibility for showing up at public meetings that are set aside for you to attend..."

"Without first hand knowledge, you are literally voting blind when you are called upon to decide an issue."

He called upon citizens to attend the hearings that provide the opportunity for education and input regarding this governmental system that, at present, is the best in the world. He then concluded:

"You may have better things to do with your time now, but you won't in the future if government is continually left without individual public scrutiny!"

The judge is right, you know.

Wouldn't our city council, our school board or commissioners court be pleasantly surprised if their meeting places should be filled with interested citizens for public hearings they've been invited to attend? Yet, we should do it!

It's a means of telling our officials that we're backing them in their efforts to provide better conditions for our town, school, community and county.

Goree To Hold Community Wide Garage Sale

When a job needs to be done in Goree, the citizens of that community join forces and accomplish the task. Their present project is a community-wide garage sale to be held on main street for four consecutive weekends, beginning July 17-18 and continuing through Friday and Saturday, July 31-August 1, from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

A NEW EAST MUNDAY: Trailer homes of Munday people parked on the shores of Miller Creek Reservoir take on the appearance of a miniature city. Five local couples have established residence there for about a month.

Miller Creek Lake Scene Of Enjoyment For Local Couples

The popularity of Miller Creek reservoir for camping, boating, skiing, fishing, swimming or just plain camping out for enjoyment of the great outdoors, has been on the increase for several years.

Five local couples have learned that is the ideal place for just "having the time of our lives," and have established a new "East Munday" in miniature on the west shores of the lake.

They have parked their trailer homes there, where they "established" home some four weeks ago. The couples are: the Bobby Ensors, Troy Moores, Joe Lanes, Dorse Collins and Ralph Cyperis.

"Are you out there for fishing, camping, or whatever?" we asked a member of the group, who replied: "We just sit around, lay around, enjoy life and have a big time." He admitted they catch some fish, including a lot of carp, some catfish, and others, but the main purpose is to just enjoy the great outdoors. Coffee breaks come quite often!

While picture taking a few days ago, the photographer managed to get Ralph Cyperis to pose with an 8-pound cat which he took off a trotline.

All of their trailers are self-contained, which makes them "homes away from home", yet pretty close to home. Refrigerators are fueled by butane, and there's a generator that makes enough electricity for electric lights, air-conditioners, etc.

"It's been cool and pleasant out there most of the time," one of the campers reported, "but if we get hot, we just go inside and turn on the generator."

Occasionally, it becomes necessary to come into town for supplies, like groceries, butane, bait and other necessities. When this happens, they just can't wait until they get back out there!

They kinda take turns coming to the post office, where they gather up the mail for the entire group.

Some tend to their businesses in town during the daytime, then head for the lake to spend the night!

This has all the evidence of being just one big fun-fest, as the five couples continue to prove that "life is just a bowl of cherries!"

"Rodeo Time" In Munday Upcoming

Munday will be filled with rodeo activities for three days beginning Thursday, July 23, and ending Saturday, July 25. According to a spokesman from the Lake Creek Riding Arena Association, this year promises to be one of the biggest and best rodeos hosted here. Expectations include 600 entries and well over 300 contestants.

This year's rodeo is sanctioned by the American Junior Rodeo Association (AJRA) and all current world champions are expected to compete. To compete in the rodeo, one must be a member of the ARJA, or reside within a 75 mile radius of Munday. The events are divided into three age groups, 12 and under, 13-15, and 16-19. Points accumulated at this rodeo will help determine the champions at the end of the year. Year end finals will be held in Snyder on August 11-15.

All standard rodeo events will be featured at the Munday rodeo including tiedown roping, breakaway and ribbon roping, barrel race, pole bending, steer roping, bareback riding and, of course, bull riding. Anyone interested in obtaining an entry blank should contact Sharron Kiser, 422-4711, by July 16, 1981, (today).

A special event is planned this year for all children ten years of age and under. A calf scramble will be held nightly for this age group, and cash prizes will be given to first and second place winners each night. Entry for this event is free.

Munday Ambulance volunteers will handle the concessions this year. Hamburgers will be served Thursday and Friday. On Saturday, they will have barbeque sandwiches with all the trimmings. Serving time will begin at 7 p.m. The rodeo begins at 8 p.m. nightly. Everyone is invited to come for supper and stay for the rodeo.

Admission is $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for children ten and under. Members of the Arena Association urge the people of this area "to come and join the fun."

Potato Harvest Completed

The rush, rush of the 1981 potato harvest in the Munday area became history this week when the last field of spuds was dug and processed. The harvest continued over a period of about five weeks, having been started around June 7.

The first to complete the harvest here was Colville and Wilson, who finished during the weekend of July 4. Jack Colville moved his operations to the Hereford area, it was stated.

Bill Kingston, manager of Munday Vegetable Growers, Inc., stated their operations were brought to a close last Saturday afternoon.

Following closely in their operations were B. E. Smith and Sons, who also processed their last harvest at the end of the week.

Still operating on Monday were Kiser and Sons, although Jean Kiser said they were aiming at mid-week completion when she was contacted at the office.

Excellent yields were reported by a majority of farmers. Mrs. Kiser reported an excellent yield, with the weather cooperating nicely during the harvest period.

Bill Kingston said Munday Vegetable Growers lacked only a few bags of processing 125,000 bags this year, by far the biggest yield ever. Some 60 acres were not harvested, he said, because of poor quality.

Good yields were also reported by B. E. Smith and Sons, and all were happy for the excellent weather during the harvest season.

Prices were also reported as good, although a large majority of the acreage was contracted ahead of harvest.

'Texas Football' Picks Moguls To Win

Dave Campbell's "Texas Football" is now on the newstand and has the Munday Moguls picked as the District 7-AA champs. Mr. Campbell featured Lester Adams' photo in the article.

The Moguls' strong offensive line returns four members among five offensive and six defensive starters. The team ended with a 6-3-1 season in 1980.

Lester Adams will be back as tackle and so will Eustacio

Ramirez. Guards Gary Adams and Bryan Kuehler are returning with Lawrence Collier as the only returning back.

Defensively, Robert Murray and Victor Shields will be back as ends and Moses Dena and Chris Moore will be with the Moguls as linebackers.

Other teams in District 7-AA include Paducah, Seymour, Quanah, Crowell, and Haskell. Mr. Campbell puts Paducah in second with Seymour third; then Quanah, Crowell and Haskell.

Paducah will have all but four of their starters back from last year, which will include the entire offensive unit. Last season the Dragons had a 4-4 season.

The Seymour Panthers will garner four offensive and six defensive starters from last season's group. They also had a 4-6 season in 1980.

Quanah went 9-1-1 in 1980, but will need extensive rebuilding. Only one defensive starter will return, and only two experienced defense players will be back with the Indians this year.

Crowell will benefit from nine starters on each unit from last year's squad. They had a 1-8-1 season.

Haskell had a 2-8 mark in 1980. They have six defensive and five offensive holdovers.

Congressman
Charles W. Stenholm

Congressional Comment

WASHINGTON, D.C. — On June 25, the House of Representatives passed a austere federal budget and I, along with nine other Texas Congressmen stood firm against much opposition and supported that budget.

It was not an easy vote. My colleague from the neighboring 13th District, Congressman Jack Hightower, eloquently expressed his views on that vote in the following article: "Hard National Choices"

In 1776, Thomas Paine, a great patriot, wrote: "These are the times that try men's souls. The summer soldier and the sunshine patriot will, in this crisis, shrink from the service of his country."

There have been many such times in this country in the last 205 years. We are in such a time at this moment.

On Thursday, June 25th, the House of Representatives came face to face with the issue of federal spending. Our government has grown so big, it has found so many ways to spend tax dollars, the economy has become so complex, inflation has become such a monster, that many were seriously questioning the willingness and the ability of Congress to make the hard decisions necessary.

The question we faced was whether to make a series of judgements on programs that are individually popular and have their own entrenched constituencies working to protect their programs, or to group them together, face the issue, bite the bullet, and embark on a program of governmental reform that could possibly be a solution to many of the economic problems we must deal with. All can agree that "something must be done," the question was "what, specifically, to do" and in reducing spending, "where the cuts were to be made."

I have never had to make a more difficult decision because this vote will inevitably involve people on a very personal basis, as well as taxpayers in general.

Last year in my campaign, I pledged to the people of this district that I would work with all my might to bring inflation under control. I am a Democrat, but the Democratic candidate for President was not elected. Mr. Reagan is now my President and your President. As President, he is head of the Executive branch of government. As an elected Representative, it is my responsibility to: 1) represent the 13th District of Texas in the Congress and 2) work with other elected officials to achieve the goals we all share for the strength and prosperity of America.

If we are to stop inflation, lower interest rates, make our economy strong again and compete more effectively with growing foreign competition, all of us, Democrats and Republicans, the Congress and the President, must work side by side.

I will continue to support the President when I think he is right, such as on government spending; however, as any responsible representative of a congressional district should do, I will oppose a presidential proposal when I think it is wrong — such as Mr. Reagan's social security cuts to present recipients and his weak farm bill. That is how our system is supposed to work. That is how this system of checks and balances was designed. And it has served us very well for 205 years.

I do not want it said of me that as your elected representative, I was a "summer soldier" or a "sunshine patriot." I will continue to speak up for this district and its people both in Congress and in meetings with the President.

The hard issues have to be faced and I will continue to make those hard national choices that require sensitivity to people as well as common sense about taxes and spending.

I have great confidence in the American people's ability to accept change when necessary and, if sacrifice is called for, to make it. One of Congress' challenges is to make sure that if sacrifice is called for, it is fair and as equitable as possible. That is also a challenge President Reagan must face, and meet, successfully.

Well-said, Congressman Hightower.

Texas Forests Declining

Forest production decreases each year in Texas while the demand for forest products increases. That dilemma is due mainly to encroachment from urbanization and land clearing for agricultural needs for a growing population, says a forestry specialist with the Texas University System.

While Texas' eastern forests occupy more than 23 million acres or 13 percent of the state's total land area, only 13.5 million of these are capable of commercial timber production. About 30 percent of this forested land is owned by the forest industry while private landowners own about 60 percent. Another 6 percent is owned by the National Forest System.

Leather bound books need special care, starting when new. Once a year, apply white petroleum jelly, lanolin or saddle soap.

Bernard Pang Shows Slides Of Hong Kong

Members of the Munday Lions Club took an interesting trip to Hong Kong, China, last Tuesday means of a slide presentation given by Bernard Pang, a native of that city of five million people.

Pang, who is pharmacist at the A. L. Smith Drug, showed colored slides of many picturesque scenes on the island of Hong Kong. These were aerial views, night scenes, street scenes, interesting buildings, means of transportation, etc.

Bernard made the presentation even more interesting by calling attention to many important and scenic places by means of his narration. This gave the viewers a feeling of having made a miniature trip to this historic city.

Two guests were present at this meeting: Bud Hummel of Sterling, Ill., who was visiting Mr. and Mrs. Chan Hughes, and Rev. Jim Way, who has assumed his duties as pastor of the First Baptist Church in Munday.

Health Tips On Water

Eight are great! Eight cups of water are what a person needs each day. Water is the medium for virtually all the body's chemistry. It's used by your body constantly, whether you're working hard or just relaxing.

Water is basic to balanced nutrition. It helps in your digestive process to break up, soften, and transport food particles from your mouth through your intestines. Then your body's blood (which is approximately 90% water) circulates nutrients throughout your body.

The installation of additional long distance equipment in General Telephone Company's Seymour office will be completed this week, according to Bill Drennan, Division Manager.

The equipment being installed will enable more long distance calls to be placed by customers served from the Seymour office. Drennan said the new equipment is an electronic ticketer and increases the simultaneous calling capacity from 100 to 150 calls. The new ticketer occupies about 1/20 of the space near the old equipment utilizes.

In addition to the ticketing equipment, Drennan said 13 additional long distance circuits have been added between Seymour and Wichita Falls. The installation of this equipment has required over 8,000 manhours to complete.

Canned Fish On A No Sodium Diet

On a sodium-restricted diet? and you wash off regular tuna so you can still eat it?

Washing regular canned tuna or other fish will not reduce the sodium content, says Mary K. Sweeten, a food and nutrition specialist with Texas A&M.

On the other hand, buying dietetic tuna or salmon prepared without oil or salt will allow you to have those items without the sodium, she says.

It could be beneficial for citizens in the community to be aware of the fact that Edwin Leatherman of Floydada killed a rattlesnake near the area owned by the City of Munday where harvesters' mobile trailers are parked each year. Knox County Cancer Society Members Continue To Work

Members of the Knox County Unit of the American Cancer Society now have a successful 1981 cancer crusade behind them. However, that has not ended the work which they are doing for the organization.

A group of ladies met recently in the fellowship hall of the Vera Methodist Church to complete a quilt to be given away as their "special event project" to help the Cancer Society.

This year's quilt is very colorful and has a very unusual design. The pattern chosen is "The Drunkard's Path". It will be given away on August 14th at the BK Electric annual meeting in Seymour.

Quilters were Frances Coffman, Loyd Clark, Maddie Hardin, Lou Shipman, Dora Patterson, Nora Mae Townsend, Sabra Rice, Katherine Smith, Bertha Faye McKinney, Lona Feemster and Wilma Feemster, all of Vera; Kittie Plummer of Red Springs and Glenn Feemster of Seymour. Gas discoveries in the sixth month of the year included 24 in deep South Texas, 23 in Southeast Texas, 20 in the Refugio area, 17 in West Central Texas, six in the San Antonio area, five in North Texas, four in East Texas, three each in the San Angelo and Midland areas, two each in the Panhandle and Lubbock areas, and one in East Central Texas.

Cantaloupe And Watermelon Season Is Here

Cantaloupes are being grown by a number of people in this area, varying from one acre plots to six or seven acres. The early plantings were lost by some of the growers, but the ones that survived are now ripening and ready for market. Dr. W. H. Stewart planted at two different intervals to have cantaloupes ready for harvest at different times.

Other growers known to The Courier are Dan and Lonnie Offutt, James Smith, Joe Decker, Kenneth Hendrix, Kenneth Whittemore, Alvin Adams, Victor Vasquez (grower for H. H. Partridge), Leon Johnson, and Donald Johnson.

Watermelons are being grown by Leon Johnson, Joe Tidwell, James Smith, and Dan Offutt, and possibly others. James Smith had "yellow meated" melons ready for gathering the first of the week with the red ones to follow by the end of this week.

This is more proof of the excellent farmland in this area. A tremendous wheat and potato crop are recent history, with the melons now ripening. Joined with the marvelous variety of vegetables grown in home gardens helps determine a fact about our fertile soil—we truly are in a "land of plenty".

Patrick and Paul Birk of Iowa Park visited their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Travis Lee, over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Troy Moore returned home Sunday from Pampa, where they visited Troy's mother, Mrs. Cleo Meadows, for a few days.

Good As Gold

Since the beginning of recorded history, men have traditionally given gifts of gold jewelry to the women they loved. Today, a gift of gold is equally appropriate for women to give to the men in their lives.

Some of the most popular choices are 14 or 18-karat gold money clips, pens, key rings, personalized belt buckles and collar clips—gifts that are useful as well as beautiful, and sure to please even the most discerning man.

The brightness of gold, like the love it celebrates, doesn't dim with time. Impervious to tarnish and wear, a gift of real gold may be enjoyed not only for a lifetime, but can be passed down through the generations as a treasured family heirloom.

What's as good as gold? Perhaps the person who gives it.

Decisions . . .

Danny Jr., age two, of Carrizo Springs, is in a dilemma. First there were delivered to his home five little black puppies. Then, a week later, a little pink bundle arrived.

What is the dilemma? When guests appear, he does not know which to show off first. So he rushes them to the back porch to take a quick peek at the puppies, then he takes them to see his new baby sister, Amber Lynn, and beams when they say, "She looks just like you!"

Amber arrived June 16, 1981 at 4:01 p.m. in San Antonio. She weighed 7 pounds and measured 21 inches long. Her parents are Danny Louis and Carol Lynn Edrington.

Grandparents are Barbara and Bob Garrett, Leroy Fajkus, Homer and Mary Edrington, all of Carrizo Springs, and Claude and Maidee Tunstall of New Braunfels, Texas.

Great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Homer Edrington, Sr., of Munday; Jane and John Taglarino of Helotes, Texas; and Olga Fajkus of Schulenberg, Texas.

Others included in this dilemma are Bobbie Sue Fajkus of Carrizo Springs, Dana Edrington of San Marcos, Darla Edrington of New Braunfels, and Ronald and Donald Edrington of Munday.

April's Advice

Vitamin Supplements- Do You Need Them?

Are you one of the 35 million Americans taking unprescribed vitamin supplements?

Do you take them because a friend told you about these or just as an "insurance policy"?

You could be poisoning yourself. There are times when vitamin supplements may be necessary. These involve cases in which there is a sub-normal intake of food.

For example, a physician may prescribe vitamin supplements for some patients more than 65 years of age or for some expectant mothers or for some mothers breast-feeding their infants. Other instances include malabsorption or an acute illness which decreases the appetite.

Before taking unprescribed vitamin supplements, however, check with your physician.

Massive doses of vitamins and minerals reach beyond the realm of nutritional therapy. This practice, then, becomes drug therapy, and it requires the supervision of a physician for safety.

Excessive amounts of the fat-soluble vitamins (A, D, E, and K) can be toxic (poisonous), because these vitamins are stored in the body.

The term "megavitamin therapy" refers to treating the person with doses of vitamins a thousand times greater than the requirement for those vitamins as set forth by the Recommended Dietary Allowances of the national Food and Nutrition Board. Again, this massive-dose therapy requires a physician's supervision for safety.

So why take vitamin supplements without a physician's advice?

There are not any known advantages to taking excess amounts of any nutrient, except in cases such as those described above in which the body is not getting enough food.

On the other hand, the best way to obtain vitamins and minerals the body needs is by eating a variety of foods selected from the Daily Food Guide every day.

Eating habits based on moderation and variety can help keep good health, and they may even improve health, especially if ideal weight is achieved.

Finally, vitamin supplements, except in cases as described above, are an economic waste when eating a balanced diet is possible.

According to a recent broadcast sponsored by the Columbia-Presbyterian Medical Center and The Prudential Insurance Company, walking is one of the best activities for promoting fitness and heart health.

Dr. Lenore Zohman, a New York cardiologist and author of The Cardiologists' Guide to Fitness and Health Through Exercise, says many people view walking as conveyance, overlooking its role as useful exercise. "Walking briskly is a very suitable exercise for staying fit and building stamina and cardiovascular endurance," states Dr. Zohman.

Dr. Zohman adds, "Walking in our business lives or carrying out household activities does not make one fit." She advises a brisk walk every day for forty minutes or more at a three mile-per-hour pace.

Walking can also be important in calorie-counting weight-control. Dr. Zohman explains, "That's what weight-loss is all about - decreasing the calorie intake or increasing the calorie expenditure. Walking increases calorie expenditure as much as jogging if you cover the same distance."

"There are people who are lacking coordination, balance or stamina to perform many activities yet they can walk," said Dr. Zohman. "This is why walking is such a unique fitness activity."

CANCER ANSWER LINE American Cancer Society M. D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute

A regular feature, prepared by the American Cancer Society, to keep you informed about cancer.

A woman writes: I have heard that some ways of cooking food can influence health and even cause cancer. Is that true?

ANSWERline: Method of food preparation can affect nutritional value (for example the loss of vitamins through overcooking of vegetables) or safety (for example high heat may be used to kill dangerous bacteria). Method of food preparation can also create possible hazardous substances. For example, in Iceland wood smoke is used to preserve fish. This creates benzopyrene, a cancer-causing chemical in animals. Iceland has a high rate of human stomach cancer but whether or not benzopyrene is responsible is not established. Nonetheless, the way that food is prepared, the diet that people follow, and the possible link between food intake and cancer - both in terms of development of the disease and the outcome of treatment for people who have cancer - are important areas of cancer research today.

A retired businessman asks: "What jobs have the greatest exposure to asbestos?"

ANSWERline: Shipbuilders, miners, construction workers and mechanics who install and replace brake linings are most likely to come into contact with asbestos. Occupational asbestos exposure has been modified since research has pointed up its health hazards. Present workers have available to them many safety measures and safety equipment for protection against such hazards, thus greatly reducing the risk.

A woman in her 40's writes: "My mother has had breast cancer and I am therefore worried about developing the disease myself. What precautions can I take?"

ANSWERline: Because of your family history, you are at a somewhat higher than usual risk of developing breast cancer, although this by no means indicates that you will actually get the disease. It will be wise however, for you to become especially well informed and vigilant. Breast cancer that is detected and treated in an early stage is the most amenable to successful treatment. Ask your medical team about an individualized schedule of physical checkups including mammography (breast x-rays). Also be sure to learn and practice monthly breast self-examination. Your American Cancer Society Unit can provide you with free instructions. If you do both these things - have regular checkups, follow up with self-examination you will be doing a great deal to safeguard your health.

replace brake linings are most likely to come into contact with asbestos. Occupational asbestos exposure has been modified since research has pointed up its health hazards.
