CONGRESS TO DECIDE ON FLOOD DAMAGE

Abilene — It is up to Congress to decide whether the Corps of Army Engineers can undertake to provide municipal water supplies where flood damage is not excessive, according to Major General Lewis A. Pick, in a letter written to Senator Lyndon Johnson.

The general was meeting the challenge of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in which economic loss from lack of water in West Texas is greater than flood losses. The WTCC in a report covering the West Texas water shortage damages and application of the Hoover Commission's Domestic water recommendation, the organization points out these losses in the West Texas area and is asking Congress to give domestic water first priority in all dam building programs. A copy of the report, made by WTCC Manager D. A. Bandeen was sent to General Pick by Senator Johnson.

"The need for such water appears urgent in many parts of the country, but it is obvious that the question raised by Mr. Bandeen is one of broad policy, as to whether such work should be undertaken by the Federal Government. This is a matter which can be decided only by Congress," the general wrote.

General Pick was assured the WTCC report was not prepared as a "complaint on any of the several federal agencies handling water projects, but to seek for these agencies a legislative policy wherein economic loss due to lack of water can be a criteria for dam building, and wherein domestic water can be given priority on Federal water projects."

Meantime surveys of West Texas watersheds have been authorized by the Bureau of Reclamation, using domestic water as a criteria. Principal of these is the Canadian project between Amarillo and Borger, which will serve a dozen West Texas towns. Another is the Bob Baskin dam near Rule, which previously had been turned down as an irrigation project. The WTCC believes this project can pay for itself as a municipal water supply for 25 West Texas towns.

Other areas are being considered, including the Big Spring-Odessa, Ranger-Eastland and Pease River projects. Harry P. Burleigh, planning engineer of the Reclamation Service, will be in Abilene Monday for an all-day conference with WTCC officials concerning these surveys and also the possibility of the creation of a West Texas water Association, as proposed recently by President John D. Mitchell.

Mrs. Garvin Jones and daughter, Jerry Lynn, of Gregton, have returned home after a visit with her mother, Mrs. D. F. Harp.

Near these tests a cultivated field had been stubble mulched with a moisture penetration of 24 inches.

"MAN AND THE ATOM" SHOW AT STATE FAIR OF TEXAS

The famed "Man and the Atom" show from the American Museum of Atomic Energy at Oak Ridge, Tenn., has been acquired for the 1949 State Fair of Texas October 8-23, W. H. Hitzelberger, vice president and general manager of the Fair, has announced.

This is the first display of this spectacular show anywhere in the South outside of Oak Ridge, cradle of the atom bomb, Hitzelberger said.

The exhibit will demonstrate how nuclear science is providing new tools for atomic research, and how it may help unravel some of the greatest mysteries of science.

The comprehensive Oak Ridge show is expected to be supplemented by other important exhibits from manufacturers cooperating with the atomic program and from institutions which are among those participating in the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies. The University of Texas, Rice Institute and the University of Oklahoma are Southwestern sponsors of the Institute, which operates the Museum of Atomic Energy -- first and most complete of its kind in the world.

Many of the exhibits are animated and presented in such a simple manner that grammar school children can understand the complex factors involved in the release of nuclear energy.

Among the graphic mock-ups and dioramas which will be shown at the Fair is a "Nuen" reactor model depicting the probable future of atomic energy and which looks 25 or 50 years into the world of tomorrow. It reveals the principles of the Nuen plant around which industrial and other community life of that time will be centered. "Nuen" is a coined word combining the first syllables of nuclear and energy.

A model of a uranium pile will demonstrate how radioactive isotopes are produced for use in medical and industrial research. A display of Geiger counters will measure the radiation from luminous dial watches worn by Fair visitors. There will be an exhibit which shows several of the more important types of instruments used in detecting and measuring radioactivity. A cartoon representation of atomic fission will picture how "Dagwood Splits the Atom."

The Dr. Martland display will show the effect of radiation on the human body; and an animated exhibit demonstrates, on a greatly magnified scale, just what happens in the chain reaction which leads to an atom bomb explosion.

HEALTH FACTS

The Texas State Department of Health during the first seven months of this year has a record of the examination of 2709 animal heads for rabies and of this number almost one fourth were found positive, said Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

Rabies is transmitted to man through a bite or having a cut exposed to the saliva of a rabid animal. If a person is bitten, the offending animal should be pinned, if possible, for a period of at least ten days. If the animal is in the infective stage, he will die within this time. This does not mean that he may not be in the noninfectious or incubative stage and develop rabies later. All dogs bitten by a rabid animal should be confined six months. If it is necessary to kill the animal, this should be done in such a manner that the brain is not destroyed.

When sending a head to the State Laboratory it should be put in a container, sealed and packed in ice to prevent decomposition.

Dr. Cox said that rabies is a hard disease to eradicate, but that it could be done if all owners would have their dogs vaccinated each year and eliminate all stray dogs. If you have a dog, get him vaccinated the same as you have your children immunized against diphtheria and smallpox.

Rabies is commonly supposed to be a disease of warm weather, but it is more prevalent during the spring and fall because the dogs congregate and move about more, therefore the chance of exposure is greater during this time. It is true that more dogs are killed during the summer months, but the percentage of rabies is low.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Lewis of Hubbard and Miss Eula Mae Lewis of Waco spent Saturday until Monday here with Judge and Mrs. L. B. Lewis.

 Past President, Texas District and County Attorneys Association

Editor's Note - (This is one of a series of short case histories, all taken from court records, showing how legal loopholes often enable criminals to escape punishment in Texas. Will Wilson, of Dallas, is chairman of a special steering committee of the State Bar, which is working for revision of the antiquated Criminal Code and Code of Criminal Procedure in order to eliminate these loopholes.)

John and Mary had been drinking heavily and were, in fact, drunk. In this condition they got into an automobile, with John driving, and rode out into the country. Out of town a few miles, John turned off the public highway and drove onto a farmer's private property. As the car was weaving and skidding along the farmer's road, John saw a pick-up truck coming along the road toward him. The pick-up truck was driven by the farmer, and he had his three small children in the back.

John was too drunk to avoid the pick-up. He smashed into it. The farmer's three children were badly injured and the truck itself was demolished. In an argument with the farmer, following the accident, John admitted that he was drunk. He was charged with driving while intoxicated and brought to trial. He was acquitted and went scot-free because he was driving on a private road—the farmer's own road—and not on a public highway. The State Bar of Texas is working to get rid of the legal loopholes that make such an outcome possible.

You're not going to pay more to buy from us ... and we don't blame you

So, to get your business, we're going to try to supply you with all the petroleum products you need and with the best petroleum products we can make, at prices that are no higher than those of other companies. Every other oil company in the industry is trying to do the same. They are our competitors; we are theirs. We compete in the search for oil, so that we can be in a better position to supply your demands. Our geological and geophysical crews are in the field 365 days a year seeking subsurface reservoirs which may contain oil. So are the crews of other oil companies. Sometimes we find oil where others couldn't; sometimes they get production where we have failed. Competition within the industry finds more oil than any other system. We compete in production, and the oil company with the most efficient production and conservation methods has more oil to sell. And we compete in the manufacture of the petroleum products you use. In our laboratories, and in those of our competitors, some of the world's foremost scientists are working at a never-ending task of improving gasolines and motor oils for your car, and the other petroleum products you use every day; and to discover new oil products which will be equally as useful to you. A good many of these scientists only recently have returned to their peacetime laboratories; during the war, they were on loan to the government for important and secret wartime scientific tasks. You are the beneficiary of this competition within the oil industry. It assures you the lowest possible price for petroleum products (the increase in the price you pay for gasoline is less than half the increase in the price of food and clothing); it gives you more and better gasolines and motor oils; it gives you improved service at retail outlets.

TEXAS HAS $500,000.00 QUOTA FOR USO REVITALIZATION

Austin — The strongest support is being given the revitalized USO program in Texas by the Armed Forces and numerous military and veterans organizations, Governor Allan Shivers, General Chairman of the campaign to raise Texas' $500,000 quota of the national fund, announced today.

"We have had assurance from military establishments and veteran groups alike that they would do everything possible to make our campaign for a USO for our big peacetime military establishment a success, Governor Shivers said.

Among those who have declared the need for the program and pledged the fullest cooperation are General Thomas T. Handy, speaking as Commanding General of the Fourth Army at San Antonio; Major General J. S. Stowell, Commanding General of the Air Training Command at Randolph Field; Major General K. L. Berry, who as Adjutant General of Texas heads the state's National Guard; Brig. General Carl L. Phinney, Assistant Division Commander of Texas' famous 36th Division;

Joe Spurlock, Texas Commander of the American Legion; and many others.

Legion Commander Spurlock said in a letter to post commanders throughout the state: "... It is important that everyone participate. I hope that you can assist the USO in your area. . . ."

General Handy said in a letter to all Texas members of the Army Advisory Committee: "Your support and cooperation in the forthcoming USO campaign being planned on a state-wide basis will be of great help. Your contribution of service toward the success of this campaign will be reflected in the morale of the Armed Services."

Said General Stowell in a memorandum to air bases of his command: "We are all aware of the aid USO gives us in solving our morale and community relations problems. . . . I am sure you will take steps to impress the Community Chest officials in your area with the importance of USO work to our men and ask them to include the USO in the 1949 Chest appeal."

General Berry wrote: "Our military establishment is younger and more civilian in character than ever before. More than 50 per cent of these servicemen are less than 21 years old. The USO is the lone link between the youthful service man and his home. It serves his religious, educational, recreational and personal welfare needs. It is a potent weapon against communism."

"The state-wide goal of $500,000 is small when one considers there are 98,000 in the Armed Forces from Texas and USO will serve these men and women wherever they are," General Phinney said.

The Texas campaign is part of a national drive for $10,100,000 to reactivate the USO as requested by the President and the Secretary of Defense. Texas has 98,000 men in the armed forces, and this state's subscription of $500,000 will mean just a few cents more than $5.00 toward the comfort and welfare of each of these young citizens, Governor Shivers said.

Hugh Ross left Monday noon on a business trip to Dallas and East Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Pool, Jr., of Alpine arrived last Friday to visit his parents here.

Jimmy Ashlock, Neil Hollingshead, James Warren, John H. Binkley and Mrs. D. W. Binkley attended the Methodist Junior Camp for Sweetwater, Abilene and Stamford Districts, at Bufajo Gap, August 22 through 25. Jimmy was a life guard at the camp.
