Our Seniors

"Where are the grave old Seniors?
Safe in the wide, wide world."

Juanita Reid entered Munday Public School in the first grade in 1915. Though she is a straight language student, Juanita is one of the quietest girls in school. She is a good student, as well as a co-operating member of her class. Juanita intends to attend C. I. A. next year, where she will major in home demonstration work.

Helen Smith entered school here in the first grade in 1915. Helen has two credits in both Latin and Spanish, and is an accomplished musician. She will attend Simmons next year, where she will major in music.

Chapel Program

Medals Awarded County Winners.

On last Thursday afternoon the school body assembled in the community auditorium and were delightfully entertained for some twenty minutes by the Vaughn male quartette. Though the program was brief, it was a good one, and we all conceded the fact that the boys could really sing.

The remainder of the program was turned over to Mr. Rhodes, who brought to our attention several trophies won by the Munday Public Schools in recent interscholastic tournaments. He displayed the loving cup for county championship in literary events, which was won by Munday in the county interscholastic league meet, and a banner for the best display at the county fair.

Medals were presented to several Munday representatives, who were successful in winning first places in the county meet. The majority of these medals were for literary events, only one medal being presented for an athletic event. Those receiving medals were: Louise Aycock, senior girl declaimer; Hubert Isbell, junior boy declaimer; Marvourcen Reeves, junior girl declaimer; Lillian Burns, sub-junior speller; Rex Holder, junior boy's broad jump; Chase Eiland and Gaynor Kendall, senior boy debaters.

Latin Club

A regular meeting of the Latin Club was held Monday, May 2, 1927. The old and new business was disposed of, after which, a program, "Roman Children and Their Playthings" was given.

The program: Playthings—W. A. Wyche, Jr.

Pets and Games—Thelma Newsome.

Home Training—Annie Matt Tate.

Schools—Eloise Phillips. Subjects of Elementary and Grammar.

Schools—Roy Warren. Schools and Holidays—Madeline Craig.

The School Curriculum—Christine Chapman.

The End of Childhood—Bonnie Milam.

The Exposure of Infants and the Celebration of a Birth—Oneita Blanton.

Gillespie 11—Moguls 7

The Moguls journeyed to Gillespie only to be defeated 11-7. In the sixth inning the Moguls jumped on Nix for four runs. This was the only rally for the Moguls. Bowden and Aycock led at the bat with three hits each for the Moguls.

Sub-Juniors

The gun has fired for the last lap and the Sophs are putting everything they have into this last month to win. We all intend to finish above the passing mark and we may do it.

Joe and Sebern visited in Wichita Falls and Electra Sunday and report a very pleasant trip (including two punctures).

W. A. Wyche spent Sunday with Elkin and Roy Warren. We understand W. A. tried to run down a "Jackrabbit" but failed in the attempt.

The Junior class met at recess Monday afternoon for the purpose of electing a president. Otis Burnett was unanimously elected president.

Seniors

The Seniors want to take this opportunity to thank those present at the "Vaughns quartette," last Thursday night, for their attendance and liberality in not accepting their money when it was found that the crowd was too small for a performance. Of course, it meant no money to us, but in as much as we were instrumental in bringing the quartette to Munday, we very deeply appreciate the generosity shown them by those present.

We wish to cordially invite every one to our class play on next Friday night, May 6. It is entitled, "A Family Disturbance."

'N We Laughed

The Barber (conversational): "Married?"

The Flapper (absently): "Shingle."

Stanley: "I heard that over a hundred bootleggers were arrested today?"

Cecil: "What were they accused of?"

"Be yourself, Bill. Be yourself!"

"That's what I am bein' baby."

"Well, for Pete's sake, be somebody else, then."

Otis: "The doctor says I've got to have my appendix, tonsils and adenoids taken out and a piece of bone removed from my nose."

Charles: "Gosh, you won't have much left, will you?"

Otis: "Not a cent."

Mr. Bass: "I'd give anything if my wife wasn't so wishy-washy."

Mr. Starling: "I'd be satisfied if mine just wasn't so wishy."

Maggie: "Gosh! That speaker must be older than he looks."

Jewel: "Yes, he surely is. Why he said he could remember when there was more baking powder sold than face powder."

The shopper had nearly everything hauled down from the shelves.

Mrs. Bass: "I don't see just the right thing I want to surprise my husband on his birthday."

Clerk (exhausted): "Why don't you hide behind the door and shout 'boo' at him?"

Eloise: "It runs in the best families, I hear."

Ruby: "What runs in the best families?"

Eloise: "Why, the faucet in the kitchen sink."

FLYING HURT BUSINESS

Boston had its Babbitts in the early days, as may be inferred from an order prohibiting a "flying" exhibition in 1757, because it attracted so much attention as to take people from their business.

The Boston Gazette of September 12, 1757, carried a notice saying that "John Childs has flown off most of the highest steeples in Old England, and does intend this day, and two days following, to fly off Dr. Cutler's church, where he hopes to give satisfaction to all spectators."

Later the same paper stated that the "flight" was satisfactory, it consisting of sliding down a rope sloping from the steeple to a point on the ground about 700 feet away. But, the paper added:

"As these performances led many people from their business, John Childs is forbid flying any more in the town."

Have you ever made good on one job... for 39 years?

THE extra mileage you get from Dunlop tires starts with the fact that Dunlop has had thirty-nine years of tire-building experience—more than any other tire-maker.

Each part of each Dunlop is built right. Dunlop owns its own cotton mills to spin selected long-fibre cotton into the special Dunlop cable-twist cords.

These cords mean extra strength—an added factor of safety against constant load and pounding of roads—longer life and greater mileage.

They mean extra "stretch"—so the tire carcass will give under blows, and come back to its original shape without the slightest injury.

Every Dunlop you buy has extra miles built into it because Dunlop knows each part of its job. That is why we recommend you put Dunlops on your car.

Constitutional Amendments

H. J. R. No. 32
Proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas by adding thereto Section 60, Article 16 so as to provide that the Legislature may fix the compensation of certain county officers by salaries in lieu of fees, commissions and other prerequisites; providing for an election and making appropriation to pay expenses.

Be it Resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas: Section 1. That the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by adding thereto another section to be known as Section 60, Article 16, to read as follows, to-wit:

Section 60. The Legislature may provide compensation for certain district and county officers, to-wit:

The District Attorney County judge, County Attorney, Sheriff, County Clerk, District Clerk, County Tax Assessor and County Tax Collector, by prescribing their duties, and fixing salaries in lieu of fees, commissions and other prerequisites as now provided by the Constitution.

Sec. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at an election to be held on the first Monday in August, A. D. 1927, at which all ballots shall have printed thereon "For amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas giving the Legislature power to provide compensation for the District Attorney and county officers through salaries in lieu of fees, and commissions and prerequisites as now prescribed by the Constitution," and "Against amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas giving the Legislature power to provide compensation for the District Attorney and county officers through salaries in lieu of fees, commissions and prerequisites as now prescribed by the Constitution," leaving the one expressing his vote on the proposed amendment.

Sec. 3. There is hereby appropriated out of any money on hand in the State Treasury not otherwise appropriated the sum of five thousand ($5,000.00) dollars or as much thereof as may be necessary to defray the expenses of the holding of this election, including the expense of printing notices and advertisements.

Sec. 4. The Governor shall issue the necessary proclamation for said election and have the same published as required by the Constitution and laws of this State.

lature of the State of Texas: Section 1. That Article 8 of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by inserting therein Section 1-a, as follows: Section 1-a. The Legislature may separate the objects of taxation for State purposes from the objects of taxation for the support of the counties, districts and political subdivisions of the State and counties; and may provide for the levy of an ad valorem tax, or other form of tax, on certain classes of taxable property, or other objects, for State purposes only (including school purposes); or upon certain classes of property, or other objects for county or local purposes only (including school purposes). In no event shall the rate of such taxes exceed the sum of the limits of such taxes fixed by this Constitution for State, county and other local purposes. The Legislature may provide for the classification of objects of taxation. Taxation shall be equal and uniform.

Sec. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State, at an election to be held the first Monday in August, A. D. 1927, at which all ballots shall have printed thereon the following:

"For the amendment to Article 8, inserting Section 1-a, providing for changing the taxation system so that the State may derive its income, in whole or in part, from other sources than the ad valorem tax."

Sec. 3. The Governor of this State is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation ordering an election to determine whether or not the proposed constitutional amendment set forth herein shall be adopted, and to have the same published as required by the Constitution and laws of this State. And the sum of Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000.00) or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated from any funds in the State Treasury, not otherwise appropriated to defray the expenses of printing said proclamation and of holding said election.

S. J. R. No. 24
Proposing an amendment of Section 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, and 7 of Ar-

Article V of the Constitution of Texas for the purpose of providing a more efficient judicial system.

Be it Resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas: Section 1: That Sections 2, 3, 4, 5, 6 and 7 of Article V of the Constitution of the State of Texas, be amended so as to read as follows:

Section 2 (of Article V): The Supreme Court shall consist of a Chief Justice and eight Associate Justices, five of whom shall constitute a quorum, and the concurrence of five Judges shall be necessary to the decision of the case. No person shall be eligible to the office of Chief Justice or Associate Justice of the Supreme Court unless he be, at the time of his election or appointment, a citizen of the United States and of this State, and unless he shall have attained the age of thirty years and shall have been a licensed lawyer for seven years and, during that time, shall have been a practicing lawyer or Judge of a court of record, or such practicing lawyer and judge together. Said Chief Justice and Associate Justice shall be elected by the qualified voters of the State, at a general election, and shall hold their offices six years, or until their successors are elected and qualified, and shall receive such compensation as may be provided by law. In case of a vacancy in the office of Chief Justice or Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, the Governor shall fill the vacancy until the next general election for State officers, and at such general election the vacancy for the unexpired term shall be filled by election by the qualified voters of the State. The Judges of the Supreme Court who may be in office at the time this amendment takes effect shall continue in office until the expiration of their terms of office under the present Constitution and until their successors are elected and qualified. When this amendment takes effect, the Governor shall immediately appoint six additional Associate Justices of the Supreme Court for terms of office so that the terms of two of such appointed Associate Justices shall expire with the term of office of each of the present members of the Supreme Court, and, upon the qualification of such new Justices, the Commission of Appeals of the State of Texas shall terminate.

Section 3 (of Article V): The Supreme Court shall have appellate jurisdiction only, except as herein specified, which shall be co-extensive with the limits of the State. Its appellate jurisdiction shall extend to questions of law arising in the cases in the Courts of Civil Appeals in which the Judges of any Court of Civil Appeals may disagree or where the several courts of civil appeals may hold differently on the same question of law, or where a statute of the State is held void, and to questions of law arising in such other cases of which the Courts of Civil Appeals have appellate jurisdiction as may be prescribed by law; provided, that the Legislature may authorize direct appeals from the County and District Courts in any case where a statute of the State has been declared void. The Supreme Court and the Judges thereof shall have power to issue writs of habeas corpus as may be prescribed by law; and, under such regulations as may be prescribed by law, the said Court and the Judges thereof may issue the writs of mandamus, procedendo, certiorari, and such other writs as may be necessary to enforce its jurisdiction. The Legislature may confer original jurisdiction on the Supreme Court to issue writs to quo warranto and mandamus in such cases as may be specified except as against the Governor of the State. The Supreme Court shall also have power, upon affidavit or otherwise, to ascertain such matters of fact as may be necessary to the proper exercise of its jurisdiction. The Supreme Court shall be open at all times and shall sit at the State Capital for the transaction of business at such times as may be designated by the Court. The present statutes defining the jurisdiction of the Supreme Court not in conflict herewith shall continue in effect until repealed or altered by the Legislature. The Supreme Court shall appoint a Clerk, who shall give bond in such manner as is now or may hereafter be required by law, and he may hold his office for four years, and shall be subject to removal by said Court for good cause entered of record on the minutes of said Court, and who shall receive such compensation as the Legislature may provide.

Section 4 (of Article V): The Court of Criminal Appeals shall consist of three Judges, provided that the Legislature may increase the number to five, and a majority of the Judges shall constitute a quorum, and the concurrence of a majority of the Judges shall be necessary to the decision of any case. Said Judges shall have the same qualification and receive the same salaries as the Judges of the Supreme Court. They shall be elected by the qualified voters of the State, at a general election, and shall hold their offices for a term of six years. The Judges of the Court of Criminal Appeals who may be in office at the time this amendment takes effect shall continue in office until the expiration of their terms of office under the present Constitution and laws.

Section 5 (of Article V): The Court of Criminal Appeals shall have appellate jurisdiction co-extensive with the limits of the State in all criminal cases of whatever grade, with such exceptions and under such regulations as may be prescribed by law, and the Legislature may confer original jurisdiction upon it to issue writs of mandamus, procedendo and certiorari in criminal cases. The Court of Criminal Appeals and the Judges thereof shall have the power to issue the writ of habeas corpus and, under such regulations as may be prescribed by law, issue such writs as may be necessary to enforce its own jurisdiction. The Court of Criminal Appeals shall have the power, upon affidavit or otherwise, to ascertain such matters of fact as may be necessary to the exercise of its jurisdiction. Said Court shall be open at all times and shall sit at the State Capital for the transaction of business at such times as may be designated by it. Said Court shall appoint a clerk, who shall give bond in such manner as is now or may hereafter be required by law, and he shall hold his office for four years, unless sooner removed by the Court for good cause entered of record on the minutes of said Court, and said Clerk shall receive such compensation as may be prescribed by law.

Section 6 (of Article V): The Legislature shall, from time to time, divide the State into such number of Supreme Judicial Districts as to it may seem necessary, not exceeding twelve at any one time, and shall have the power to re-divide the State at any time, and shall establish a Court of Civil Appeals in each of said Districts which Court shall consist of a Chief Justice and not less than two Associate Justices as the Legislature may provide, who shall have the qualifications as herein prescribed for Justices of the Supreme Court, provided that the aggregate number of Judges of all of the Courts of Civil Appeals shall never at one time exceed thirty-six. Each of the existing Courts of Civil Appeals shall continue until otherwise provided by law. The Courts of Civil Appeals shall have appellate jurisdiction co-extensive with the limits of their respective districts, which shall extend to all civil cases of which the District Courts or County Courts have original or appellate jurisdiction, under such restrictions and regulations as may be prescribed by law; provided, that the decisions of said Courts shall be conclusive on all questions of fact brought before them on appeals or error. Said Courts of Civil Appeals shall hold their sessions at such places as may be designated by the Legislature and at such times as may be prescribed by law. Said Justices shall be elected by the qualified voters of their respective Districts, at a general election, for a term of six years, and shall receive such compensation as may be provided by law. Said Courts shall have such other jurisdiction, original and appellate, as may be prescribed by law. Each Court of Civil Appeals shall appoint a Clerk in the same manner as the Clerk of the Supreme Court, which Clerk shall receive such compensation as may be fixed by law. The Judges of the Courts of Civil Appeals who may be in office when this amendment takes effect shall hold their offices until their respective terms shall expire under their present election or appointment.

Section 7 (of Article V): The State shall be divided into as many Judicial Districts as may now or hereafter be provided by law, which may be increased or diminished by law. For each district there shall be elected by the qualified voters thereof, at a general election, a Judge, who shall be a citizen of the United States and of this State, who shall have been a licensed lawyer for four years next preceding his election, and during that time shall have been a practicing lawyer or Judge of a Court of record or such practicing lawyer and Judge together, who shall have resided in the District in which he was elected for two years next preceding his election, who shall reside in his District during his term of office, who shall hold his office for the term of four years, and shall receive for his services such compensation as may be prescribed by law. He shall hold the regular terms of his Court at the County seat of each County in his district at least twice in each year, in such manner as may be prescribed by law. The Legislature shall have power, by general or special laws, to authorize the holding of special terms of the court or the holding of more than two terms in any County for the dispatch of business. The Legislature shall also provide for the holding of District Court when the Judge thereof is absent or is, from any cause, disabled or disqualified from presiding. The Supreme Court or the Chief Justice thereof may assign any District Judge to any District in the State other than that for which he was elected, with all the powers of a resident District Judge of the District to which he is assigned, under such regulations as may be prescribed by the Legislature, or by the Supreme Court in the absence of such regulations enacted by the Legislature. The District Judges who may be in office when this amendment takes effect shall hold their offices until their respective terms shall expire under their present election or appointment.

Sec. 2: Said proposed amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the electors of this State qualified to vote on constitutional amendments at an election to be held throughout the State on the first Monday in August, A. D. 1927, at which each voter opposing said amendment shall scratch off of the ballot with pen or pencil the following words printed thereon:

"For the amendment to the State Constitution amending Sections 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, and 7 of Article V of the Constitution of Texas for the purpose of providing a more efficient judicial system;" and each voter favoring said amendment shall scratch off of the ballot in the same manner, the following words printed thereon:

"Against the amendment to the State Constitution amending Section 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, and 7 of Article V of the Constitution of Texas for the purpose of providing a more efficient judicial system."

If it shall appear from a return of said election that a majority of the votes cast have been cast in favor of said amendment, it shall become a part of the Constitution of the State of Texas.

Sec. 3: The Governor shall issue his proclamation calling said election and have the same published and said election held in accordance with this resolution and the Constitution and laws of this State; and return shall be made and the votes canvassed and counted as provided by law; and if said amendment is adopted by the required vote of the qualified electors of this State, the Governor shall issue his proclamation as required by law.

Sec. 4: The sum of twelve thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of the State Treasury to pay for publication of the proclamation calling said election and any expense of the State in submitting said amendment and holding said election.

Approved March 10, 1927.

FARM BOYS' TRAINING

More extended instruction in the handling of machinery, and particularly in the use of electricity, is advocated for farm boys by the Federal Board for Vocational Education, according to I. D. Maltby, southern regional agent.

He declares that electricity is rapidly becoming used to a greater extent of farms, particularly in the South and in other sections where waterpower is available. For this reason he urges the necessity for requiring vocational agricultural teachers to study the operation of electrical equipment, so that they may teach the boys under their charge how to employ it in practical farming.

Recently a specialist in the Department of Agriculture pointed out that mechanical power can be produced at less than half the cost of animal power. The increased cost of man power is also an important factor in hastening the employment of a greater number and a larger variety of labor-saving machines.

The farmer of the future must have a certain amount of mechanical knowledge, hence the farm boy should begin as early as possible to master the practical operation of power-operated machinery, which he must inevitably use if he hopes to be a successful farmer in the future.

Friday, May 13

This month we have another Friday the 13th, long regarded by the superstitious as a particular unlucky day, as both Friday and the number 13 are supposed to have a sinister portent.

But so far as the history of America is concerned, it appears that this idea entirely fails to hold true. Columbus sailed on his voyage of discovery on Friday and sighted the New World on Friday. The Pilgrim fathers sailed from England on Friday; George Washington was born on Friday; the battle of Saratoga, turning point of the Revolution, ended with the surrender of Burgoyne on Friday; Cornwallis surrendered at Yorktown on Friday; just to mention a few of the incidents favorable to us which occurred on that day of the week.

Our 13 stripes in Old Glory, representing the 13 original states, have been carried to victory in every war in which we have ever been engaged; France determined on the 13th of June, 1778, to aid the American colonists in the struggle for independence; the cornerstone of the White House was laid on the 13th of October, 1792, and so on.

America's greatest living soldier, General John Joseph Pershing, was born on Friday, September 13, 1860, and he could hardly be classed as unlucky, either personally or in his achievements in behalf of his country.

So, don't worry over what may happen on Friday, May 13th, unless you just have to worry about something and have nothing else to worry about.

THE CIVIL LEGION

Composed of civilians who rendered service to the government during the World War, the new Civil Legion has been organized with a view to cooperation with the military forces of the country in the event of another national emergency.

Among those eligible are the war governors of the several states, members of the war Congress, members of selective service boards, and of national and state councils of defense, Y. M. C. A., Salvation Army, Jewish Welfare Workers and others who ministered to the needs of soldiers and sailors during the war. A recent pamphlet says:

"Composed of such material, the Civil Legion constitutes a practical defense league against attacks by enemies bent upon destroying the American ideal, the equality of rights, regardless of race or creed. It stands four-square against bolshevism, pacifism, racial and religious intolerance. The Civil Legion is not a rival, but a corollary of the American Legion, that splendid band of fighting men who wore the uniform during the World War and are now doing a wonderful work in constructive patriotism."

None can deny that the service rendered by this "civilian army" in organizing industry for war, in selling Liberty Bonds, in providing relief and comforts for the combatant army, and in many other ways, was an indispensable part of America's mighty war effort. By standing ready to perform a like service, should it be our misfortune to require it in future, the Civil Legion will fulfill a high patriotic duty.

LEVEES TOO WEAK

As a chain is only as strong as its weakest link, so is a levee only as strong as its weakest point. That there were many weak points along the levees of the Mississippi river and its tributaries is evidenced by the terrible toll in lives and property exacted by the recent floods.

Levees which are too weak to withstand any possible flood pressure are worse than none, because they give to the menaced population a false sense of security. Many lives were lost in the recent floods because people trusted the levees to hold, and they did not hold. Then when they gave way it was too late for the victims to escape.

If the people of the Mississippi Valley are not to live under a constant menace, it appears that the entire system of flood control must be revised and enlarged. The damage wrought during the past month is staggering. It represents an amount which would have gone far toward affording adequate protection to this fertile region.

How to prevent the recurrence of such a calamity presents a serious national problem.

COTTON AFFECTS ALL

Considered offhand, it might appear that the present plight of the cotton farmers affects only themselves, or at most only those portions of the country where cotton is the principal crop.

It requires but a little reflection, however, to understand that when the buying power of the cotton farmer is reduced, his ability to absorb the products of industry is likewise curtailed, and the manufacturers of all commodities, wherever located, are correspondingly affected.

The movement to find new uses for cotton, therefore, deserves the support of manufacturers of the North and East, and of the producers of any commodity whatsoever which finds a market in the cotton belt.

Experiments are to be made to determine whether cotton can be used instead of jute, of which we import 700,000,000 pounds a year, in the manufacture of cord, twine, burlap, bagging and the like. Many articles of wearing apparel now made of other material might be satisfactorily fabricated from cotton. Government economists assert that uses for an additional 2,000,000 bales of cotton a year might be found if the public generally would cooperate in the movement.

A greater consumption of cotton will benefit the whole country.

DAWES VS. BRYAN

Vice-President Dawes and the late William Jennings Bryan clashed violently in politics, although they were personal friends. Their first encounter, however, was not in the political arena, but in the court of a Nebraska justice of the peace, where they met 40 years ago as opposing attorneys, according to Silas Brent in Scribner's.

The suit was one involving $1.27 claimed by a shipper to be an overcharge on a lot of horse-collars transported by the Missouri Pacific railroad. Mr. Brent says that the case was fought through to the United States Supreme Court, but fails to tell who finally won.

The strange part of the story is that Mr. Bryan, who afterwards became the recognized champion of the "common people," in this suit represented the railroad; while Mr. Dawes, who later espoused the cause of "big business," was on the other side.

Both managed to get rich, however, and while Mr. Bryan consistently fought "predatory wealth" this did not prevent his accumulation of an estate worth considerably more than half a million dollars during his lifetime.

WHAT OF HEALTH FADS?

The subject of how to live long is always of interest, which perhaps accounts for the eagerness of the average mortal to seize upon various methods which are recommended for promoting health and longevity, such as doing daily exercise to radio music and the like.

In spite of all the propaganda on the subject, however, there are many who are skeptical regarding the real benefits of strenuous physical activity. One of these wrote a letter to the Cleveland Press, pointing out that Walter Camp, famed athlete and originator of the "daily dozen," died at 65, while he, the writer, had never taken any kind of exercise to speak of and was still in excellent health, although a great-grandfather. He added that "the longest-lived people are the physically lazy but mentally alert."

Commenting on the letter, William Feather, a well-known editor, declares that several years ago he adopted a vigorous health program, including vegetarianism, cold baths and the daily dozen, with this result:

"Acute indigestion led to the abandonment of vegetarianism on doctor's orders. Another doctor recommended discontinuance of cold baths. The daily dozen are still pursued, but faith in them has been shaken by the untimely death of their inventor."

Still, we may find many who swear by the health fads and feel that their lives have been saved thereby. As the proverb has it, "What is food for some is black poison to others."

WILL SPEAK HERE IN BEHALF OF FARMERS UNION SATURDAY

O. F. Dornblazer of Cleburne, Texas, special organizer for the Farmers Union, will deliver an address here on Saturday afternoon at the Union hall in the Tull building, and the farmers of this section are extended a cordial invitation to hear him. Both members of the union and those who are not members are invited to hear him, and may be assured that he will have a worth-while message, as he has been engaged in organization work for the Farmers Union for many years. The speaking will begin at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

Misses Rose and Olive Thibodeau, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Wren, left for their home in Detroit, Michigan, Tuesday morning. They had also spent some time visiting with Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Wren in the Rio Grande Valley. Miss Rose had visited here twice before and says Munday always looks good to her.

Misses Bertha, Dora Etta and Ruby Manual visited relatives and friends in Wichita Falls the past week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Bowden and Misses Naomi Keel and Lorene Parker spent the day Tuesday in Wichita Falls.

William Fritz, a member of the famous Cowboy Band, accompanied that organization here last Saturday and remained over until Monday afternoon for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Fritz.

Fran Augusta von Bittman of Berlin horsewhipped Elsa Boschen, a young dancer, for flirting with her husband, an aged banker.

Town Talk

Mrs. Edwin Heald of Silverton was the guest of Mrs. W. A. Wyche and other friends here the past week-end.

Mrs. E. E. Akers had as guests for the week-end her sister, Mrs. Joe Smith and two sons of De Leon.

Mrs. A. D. Starling visited her parents at Cisco several days this week, and was accompanied as far as Baird by Mrs. U. S. Rogers, who is visiting with her daughter, Mrs. Lavoy Burton.

Mr. and Mrs. T. I. Phillips accompanied by Mrs. Otis Phillips spent the past week-end at Faxon, Oklahoma, visiting their daughter, Mrs. Morrison, who accompanied them home for a visit.

Joe Burton, a student in Simmons University at Abilene, was among the visitors here Saturday, having accompanied members of the Cowboy Band here for the concert.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Osborne of Goree were visitors Sunday in the home of their daughter, Mrs. S. E. McStay. The many friends of the family will be glad to know that Mrs. Osborne is recovering from her recent severe illness.

Mrs. G. A. Craft left on Wednesday morning for Oklahoma City, where she will visit in the home of a niece and attend the graduation exercises in which a granddaughter is a member of the graduating class.

Dr. and Mrs. Arthur A. Smith returned Saturday from El Paso, where they attended the annual convention of the Texas Medical Association, and report a most enjoyable trip. They stopped at Pecos, Texas, for a brief visit with a brother of Mrs. Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Alexander and Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Linthecum left on Wednesday morning for Dallas, where they will visit relatives and friends and Mrs. Alexander will purchase a new line of millinery for The Hat Shop.

Miss Estelle Murphy, who has been associated with the district offices of the West Texas Utilities Company here for some time, has been transferred to the offices of the company at Crowell, and her position here will be filled by Mrs. R. H. Neff.

J. C. Elliott, who has been teaching near Lamesa, returned home the latter part of last week, his school term out there having terminated, and he has been elected as a member of the faculty of the Munday Public schools next year.

Dr. Arthur A. Smith went to Nocona on Monday of this week in response to a message advising him of the death of an uncle, Dr. R. A. Foster, at his home at Nocona. Dr. Foster was 64 years of age and was one of the pioneer physicians of Montague county, having located there 29 years ago. He was born at Cave City, Ky.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Linthecum of Little Rock, Arkansas, are here visiting in the home of her aunt, Mrs. R. M. Stevenson. Mr. Linthecum until recently was secretary of the Wholesale Grocery Association of Arkansas, and for the past two months he and Mrs. Linthecum have been on a trip along the Pacific coast and are now taking a view of West Texas, and express themselves as greatly pleased with Munday and the Munday country. Mr. Linthecum states that from letters received from Little Rock telling of the great flood in Arkansas state that the loss cannot be estimated, and farmers living along the flooded area will be unable to make a crop this year, as they have nothing with which to start farming and by the time the lands are dry enough to work it will be too late to begin this year's crop.

H. C. Griffith, who some three years ago headed the admonition of Horace Greely to go west, has returned to Munday to reside, and will be followed by his family within a few days. Mr. Griffith has been located at Lamesa since leaving Munday, and states that the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce out there—one Willie Wilson by name—lamented some days ago his regrets that Lamesa was using Munday for a dumping ground in the removal of Mr. Griffith from that village to Munday, but Little Willie may console himself by the fact that Munday has played a similar role with Lamesa in the past, and we're fair enough to reciprocate in all things, and we're glad to have Mr. Griffith and family back with us, and would welcome "some" of the others who have sought their fortunes in the Lamesa country, and found them not.

Avis Maples, Frank Bateman and Sam Fitzgerald left on Monday morning via automobile for Los Angeles, California, where they go to seek their fortunes, and their many friends in this city will wish them much success.

Mrs. W. A. Hobbs Hostess to H. D. Club

The Red Top Home Demonstration Club met with Mrs. W. A. Hobbs on Wednesday afternoon of last week. We deeply regretted the absence of Miss Mamie Maxwell, due to the fact that she was away attending the convention at Abilene. Also the absence of our secretary, Mrs. Lewis Floyd, due to illness. The house was called to order by the president, Mrs. E. T. Cluck. Roll was called by Mrs. E. B. Frasure, acting as secretary, which was responded to by seven members. The subject, "Home Laundry," was discussed. Miss Mamie being absent, there was only the laundry savers that some of us used in our homes exchanged. Then the president asked Mrs. Bill Henderson to give a talk on the subject of our last meeting, "Milk and the Selection and Care of Utensils," as so many of the members were absent at that meeting. The button-hole contest and butter judging was omitted. Secretary, Mrs. Lewis Floyd, wanted to resign her office on account of having to be absent from so many of the meetings. A motion was made and seconded that she retain her office on account of her good work, motion carried unanimously. Members present, Mesdames W. T. Strange, Felix Franklin, Tom Henderson, E. T. Cluck, E. B. Frasure, Medames J. S. Wardlow, R. H. Grimes, S. J. Banks, W. A. Hobbs; visitors, Mesdames W. T. Hutchinson and E. L. Cluck. A motion was made and seconded that if we could not have a called meeting and have "Home Laundry" that it be substituted for the subject, "Bed Room Improvement" in our May club meeting, which meets at Mrs. Tom Henderson's the fourth Wednesday in May.

The club adjourned, after which a snapshot of all members was made and one of the visitors in a group. We are always delighted to have visitors. Hope to have more members, also visitors present at our next meeting. Remember the date.

Beautifulizing the Home Subject of Meeting

The 4-H Club of Cotton Wood met with Miss Maxwell April 25th. There were 16 members present. Miss Maxwell gave a demonstration on "Beautifulizing the Home." We are trying to improve our homes. We are sorry to say all the girls' gardens were killed by hail last week. We shall all try again.

Munday H. D. Club Met With Mrs. Raburn

The Munday Home Demonstration club met Friday, April 29th in the home of Mrs. Kate Rayburn with 25 members present.

Miss Maxwell met with us and gave us some very useful points on home laundry.

We are very proud of our club and are anxious to make a go of it. Every woman that is interested in that kind of work, we would be glad to have you join us and help us make a success of it.

Picnic Party Honoring Mr. and Mrs. Bass.

About a hundred members of the adult department of the Baptist Sunday school met at the Broach Lake on last Tuesday evening for a picnic social, honoring Mr. and Mrs. J. Horace Bass, who are leaving our community soon. We arrived at the lake about 7:00 p. m. and the picnic spirit being upon us, the fun soon started. First in order was the supper. What at first sight looked like enough to feed ten such crowds dwindled almost to the vanishing point under the gastronomic assault of the assembled multitude. The supper was served piggle-wiggley style, and if anybody went away hungry he had only himself to blame. Besides the meats, cakes, pies and other such edibles, there were about ten gallons of home made ice cream, which was dispatched with relish by old and young alike. After the eats we gathered around a camp fire where we had music, told jokes, made speeches, sang songs, gave readings, etc. for more than an hour.

Mr. Bass made the principal address, in which he stressed the idea that they were leaving Munday very regretfully, and since they were not going far we might expect them back often. Mrs. Bass refused to speak on the grounds that her heart and mind and soul were too full for adequate utterance. Mr. Raymond Reeves with his guitar and Mr. Warren with his fiddle and the writer with a borrowed mandolin attempted to play some old fashioned tunes. The crowd was kind enough to act like they enjoyed it. The male quartette sang a number of songs, which were well received. Miss Delphine Hendrix and Mauvourne Reeves gave some humorous readings. All of this we all enjoyed thoroughly. Then some of the new members of our Sunday school and church were introduced, each responding with appropriate speeches. We had as our guests Mrs. McGlothlin, Mr. Chester Bowden, Mr. Chas. Haynie, and there were probably others whose name do not occur to us now.

All in all we had a very enjoyable time, and we have it in mind to have such meeting often. So mote it be.

Farwell Party for Frank Bateman and Avis Maples

Mesdames J. D. Kethley, W. A. Wyche and P. V. Williams entertained on Wednesday evening of last week in the home of the former, honoring Avis Maples and Frank Bateman, who left on Monday for Los Angeles, California, and those taking part in the recent play of the Sunshine Class.

Spring flowers in colorful shades were artistically used throughout the rooms, where "84" was played at three tables, and at the conclusion of a most enjoyable evening delicious refreshments consisting of sherbet and cake were served to the following: Misses Thelma Atkeison, Mary Langford, Eula Crawford, Claudia Hodge, Francis Atkeison, Charlotte Williams, Faye Briggs, Kathleen Mabry and Gladys Johnston; Messers Ike Huskinson, Avis Maples, Frank Bateman, W. C. Newsom, George Spann, Palmer Barton, F. E. Starling and Harvey Lee, Mr.

and Mrs. H. T. Maples, W. A. Wyche, Sr., and Mr. and Mrs. U. R. Houser.

Munday Club Girls Hold Interesting Meeting

Last Monday evening at 3:15 o'clock the 4-H Club girls of Munday met.

The house was called to order by the president and the minutes were read by the secretary. We said our club prayer and repeated our pledge and motto. After all the business we began our cooking. We cooked escalloped corn and canned sweet potatoes.

We have seven enrolled and all were there. Had a good meeting and everyone enjoyed their own cooking.

THE MILLIONAIRE WHO DID NOT FORGET

By Phebe K. Warner

How many of us have made big, bold assertions as to what we would do if we were millionaires? But not many of us ever live to demonstrate our statements. But there is one millionaire in Texas that has done what he said he would do if he ever did become a millionaire.

On December 17, 1841, a little boy was born on a small farm near Helsingborg, Sweden. This little boy's name was Peter Swenson. His father died when he was nine years old. After the death of his father, his mother, with the help of the children, carried on the farming under the tenure system until 1863. When she passed away, the land then reverted to the fee holders, and Peter Swenson, then a young man 22 years of age determined to try his fortune in a big, free, new world.

In June, 1864, he landed in New York City to discover himself in the midst of the great Civil War, and for two years he remained in New York State. When the war clouds cleared away Peter Swenson started west in search of his elder brother whom he located at Redwood Falls, Minnesota, in 1867.

There the brothers spent ten years together, blazing new trails, developing a new community in the midst of their Indian neighbors, fighting prairie fires, pests, drought, and the rigorous winters of that northern region, with starvation of men facing them. And one Indian massacre was experienced, near Swede's Forest, which was the name of the new post office that they had established.

But the pioneer life such as that was not without the beauty of love and romance, for it was during those ten years that Peter Swenson met and married Miss Christina Finneon, whose birthplace had been near Lillehammer, Norway.

It was during those years of hardships that Mr. and Mrs. Swenson had heard of the great, broad prairies of the Lone Star State and in 1877, they decide to again set out for a newer and warmer country. One Summer night, just fifty years ago, 1877, a covered wagon pulled up by the side of the road near Red River which marked the boundary between the State of Texas and the Indian Territory. And in that wagon were Peter Swenson and his brave wife, and their two little children and all their worldly possessions. After scouting about for a while the family drifted as far west as Bosque County, and two years later moved on to Stephens County where Mr. Swenson still resides with his four children, one son and three daughters, on their wonderful ranch near Caddo, Texas.

Little did Peter Swenson and his family dream during that long nine weeks' drive from Minnesota to Texas that they would ever be the possessors of 3,500 acres of Texas soil, 800 head of well bred cattle, with sheep and hogs, wild flowers and oil wells scattered all over their fields.

But all through those years of toil and hardship and patient waiting for the country to grow into a safe civilization, Peter Swenson vowed if he ever did become a rich man he would do ONE THING. And that was—he would plan a way for the children of West Texas to have more fruit to eat. Through all those years of deprivations the one picture that hung in his memory more clearly than anything else was the picture of his father's orchards in Sweden and the big red apples that were the joy of his boyhood.

With such memories clutching his heart, Peter Swenson lived and toiled and struggled to give his children as good a home as he had known in his boyhood back across the seas. And one morning, a few years ago he awoke to the fact that he had become a millionaire because his ranch had become a great oil field.

Did he forget? Did he go wild with reckless enthusiasm? No. He simply said: "Now, I can develop a nursery that will give to my State all the fruit its five million people can eat." What is the result? Today the Swenson Nursery at Siloam Springs, Arkansas, under the management of W. T. Lafollette is the realization of that dream.

In the pools of oil that pour out on Peter Swenson's ranch he did not think of himself as the chief benefactor of their possibilities, but instead, he saw mirrored in those glittering pools of liquid wealth, orchards of apples and row upon row of peach and plum and pear trees, acres of peaches and berries of every kind trailing over the garden fences of the West that have not yet been built, and hundreds of thousands of happy children that have not yet been born feasting on the wholesome food that he had made possible for them, and he rejoiced in the possibilities of his dream.

But today his dream has changed. And like every mirage of the future when you reach one goal it brings into view another and a greater one. So it is with Peter Swenson's dream of a wonderful nursery. And now his plan is not a nursery only to produce trees and plants for all the people but a SCHOOL.

A horticultural school right there in his nursery where young men may go and work for a few hours every day and go to school the rest of the day and study every branch of the nursery business. And not only the nursery business but landscaping for the home, the towns and cities and the whole community and county, and city parks and school grounds and every public place. And the farm itself. Can you think of a more useful and beautiful Forestry Week idea than the establishment of a real horticultural school that is to be made just as nearly free to worthy young men as it can be made? Where their practice work in the field will pay their way and at the same time be training them for a great service to their country. For what public servant do we need today more than a first class horticulturist and tree doctor and landscape engineer in every town and county to teach us all what to plant, how to plant it and how to care for. Think of the years of time and useless toil such a servant would save us and what a blessing he could be to the comfort and health and beauty of all our homes. To make such a service possible for his State is the next dream of Peter Swenson, 86 years young, the Texas millionaire who did not forget.

There may be no Paramount University but—on a field with Yost in charge—there's real honest-to-goodness Paramount spirit!

Acting as temporary assistant to the casting director, Ed Garvey, formerly of Notre Dame, had picked some husky looking chaps to play on the "Colton" and "State" teams. Their costumes lasted a whole day; their make-up—only thirty minutes!

Yost wanted action. "Take about four running steps, jump into the air, come down on your elbows and forearms and grab your opponent by the legs," he shouted.

An extra followed orders and was kicked in the nose. He got mad and accused his fellow player of having done it intentionally.

Then "Hurly Up" took the other man aside and told him to put his knee in the stomach of anybody who tried to rush him. By mid-afternoon, half the players acted as though they were afflicted with boils. Each kept looking for a way to take surreptitious bangs at the nearest man.

The second day of practice was a lot worse. All were nursing bruises, sprains and grouchiness. It looked like "good old school spirit."

During the noon recess, one of the men casually informed Yost that the work was becoming "most strenuous."

What did he say? Well—coaches have vigorous vocabularies as well as physiques.

The third morning the cameras were put in action. It was a football game and a half. A number of men lost their movie ambitions but they sure did put up a whale of a scrimmage!

Director Fred Newmeyer expressed his admiration of the methods Yost used and intimated that he thought they might be put into operation on the studio stage. Esther Ralston, featured opposite Dix, allowed her silence to speak for itself. As for Richard—he collected as many bumps as the rest!

GRAND FIREWORKS C. C. CONVENTION MAY 16

Wichita Falls, Texas, April 16.—One of the greatest fireworks display that has ever been offered in the Southwest will be presented Monday night, May 16, the first day of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Convention with the presentation of Miss West Texas, Miss New Mexico, and sponsors who will be here for the convention. This feature will be presented at the baseball park. Registered delegations wearing badges will be admitted as one of the courtesies to be extended visitors at the convention. Other courtesies are also being planned so that every registered delegate will be value received for the badge he wears. Within the next few days the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce will be ready to register delegates who desire to do so before leaving their cities.

All Paris policemen who are in the habit of betting are to be discharged from the force.

THEY LEARNED ABOUT FOOTBALL FROM YOST

Fielding H. ("Hurly Up") Yost, Michigan football mentor, was showing a group of young men the "ins and outs" of the game for scenes in Richard Dix's latest Paramount picture, "The Quarterback," which comes to the Peoples on Wednesday and Thursday. One of the players walked toward the sidelines for a cigarette. "He'll never make that mistake again. Practice is practice with Coach Yost even though some of the men thought it was only acting."

MILES and More MILES

BEFORE your next week-end trip, fill your tank with Summer Conoco Gasoline. Then keep tab on your mileage. When you arrive back home, figure up your miles per gallon. That's the way to check our claims that Summer Conoco is packed with extra miles.

This summer make your gasoline deliver—make it deliver miles. And we promise you this: that—provided your car is in good condition—you'll never be disappointed when you use Conoco.

It pays to be particular when you buy gasoline. Careless motorists penalize themselves every time they allow inferior fuels in the tank.

Their cost per mile of motor operation is out of all proportion to what it should be. They are paying a premium simply because they never take the trouble to figure out the miles they get per gallon.

So play fair with your pocketbook. Use Conoco regularly and keep down your motoring costs.

Just look for the Conoco sign on service stations and garages.

WAYS TO BLOCK CROOKED PROMOTERS

By W. R. MOREHOUSE
Public Relations Commission, American Bankers Association
(This is one of a series of articles exposing the wiles of sharpers who are after your money.)

MANY reliable corporations, firms and individuals are engaged in developing mining properties, drilling for possible new oil wells and promoting new inventions and enterprises. On the other hand many unreliable persons are ostensibly engaged in the same pursuits, but in reality are only promoting frauds. Therefore, every investor should first divide the sheep from the goats before he hazards his savings. Because there are many dishonest manipulators using mining, oil, invention and promotion terms to deceive does not mean that all promoters in these fields are crooked. The truth is, there are many trustworthy men engaged in promoting enterprises that are honest investments. The problem is to know the difference between promoters of the reliable type and the high-pressure variety. The former are engaged in legitimate business. The other group is engaged in fleecing the public.

The number of those who deliberately scheme to defraud is large and they are shrewd and deceitful. For this reason those who cannot afford to lose their savings should not trust entirely to their own judgment in making investments.

In order to divide the sheep from the goats—to distinguish between reliable and unreliable promoters, to tell the good investments from the worthless—the inexperienced investor should consult his banker or let the National Better Business Bureau, whose headquarters are in New York City, advise him. It costs nothing to get such advice from either source. It is safe to say that if those who have lost their savings through fraudulent schemes had followed this simple course they would still be in possession of their money.

Get the Facts
Invariably, get the facts and take no substitute. There is nothing better and nothing just as good as the facts when it comes to withdrawing your savings from the bank and investing them. The facts about an investment either strengthen its position or show it up to be risky—often times too risky for the person who cannot afford to lose.

Good Advice that Prevented Disaster

New schemes to defraud are being hatched daily. The unscrupulous promoter never sleeps but is continuously plotting new methods of attack on the savers' hard-won accumulations. The liberties he takes with the law and the schemes he designs for belittling the sound advice of responsible persons makes it even more essential for investors to get the facts.

Remember that anything that is worth investing in is worth knowing about as to its safety, its income, and its marketability. Any investment which is enshrouded by a screen of glowing promises or is so complicated that neither you nor your banker can fathom it and get the hard facts isn't an investment you can afford to put your money into.

Make it an unbreakable rule to get all the facts, whether the investment be large or small, and you will save yourself the heartaches and bitter disappointment of losing your savings. Millions of dollars which have unfortunately been lost through poor investment might have been saved if the investors had taken time to investigate before investing. There is always need for capital in safe, honest business and so great is the legitimate demand for investors' funds that no one-cent need be wasted by them on fraudulent schemes.

Don't exchange your investments for a future article will tell of more schemes by which people are defrauded of their savings.

NEXT SUNDAYS LESSON

P. D. O'Brien
Subject:—Peter and the Resurrection.
21: 15-17.

Scriptures:—John 20: 1-10; Golden Text:—Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who according to His great mercy begat us again unto a living hope by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead.—I Peter 1: 3.

We do not know how Peter spent the Saturday which Jesus lay in the grave. He had been so humiliated by his sin of denying his Lord, that it is to be supposed that he went off alone, and spent much of the time in weeping, in profound despair. In through shame he must have avoided John who knew all about the denial. The Gospel writers were kind to pass over this period and hurry to the morning of the resurrection, when Peter was privileged, with John and the woman, to be among the first to the empty tomb. Let us attempt to draw some lessons from the events that follow.

Mary Magdalene, with some other women came real early on Sunday morning to the tomb where Jesus had been hastily buried. He had been buried late Friday evening and Saturday was the Jewish Sabbath, so this was the first day since the burial that they were privileged to come to embalm the body. Evidently these women did not know that a Roman guard was keeping the tomb. But they did know that a large stone was over the mouth of the cave, and as they made their way there through the gloom of the early dawn, they were bothered about how they were to remove the stone. Here is a good lesson for those who worry about things before there is any necessity for worry. Most of our troubles never happen. We find that most of the stones that we fear will be too much for our strength are removed when we come to face them. When they got to the tomb to their surprise the stone was put aside, and the tomb was empty. Mary ran as fast as she could to tell Peter and John what they had found. When Peter and John heard the strange story they ran as fast as they could to the tomb. John being the younger of the two, outran Peter. When he got to the grave he stopped and was attempting to look into the semi-dark cave, when Peter arrived, and with characteristic boldness, rushed right on into the tomb. Then John followed him in, where they found the grave clothes, folded and laid to one side, and no sign of a dead body to be seen. John admits in his Gospel that he and Peter did not yet understand that Jesus was to arise from the dead. In spite of the teachings of the Scriptures and the teachings of Jesus for three years, their minds were still blinded to this greatest of all spiritual truths. How impossible it is for the natural mind to grasp spiritual truth. In great amazement the two disciples go back to their home to await further developments. A little later in the morning, Mary Magdalene returned to the grave, and there she met Jesus who told her to return to town and tell the disciples to meet Him up in Galilee at a place where He had appointed. On their second trip to the tomb the woman had seen the two angels who had told them that they were seeking in vain among the dead for the body of Jesus, that He was alive forevermore. This message they take joyously back to the down-hearted disciples who leave at once for Galilee, where they are to meet their risen Lord.

But when they get to Galilee they wait in vain for several days, and finally Peter decides to give up all hopes and return to his fishing business. When he makes known to the others what he is planning to do they decide to go with him. So they get their nets and boat and go out with the other fishermen to try their luck at their old business. But in spite of their best efforts, they toil all night and take nothing. When God calls a man from his own business to follow, and work for Him, that man may feel assured that he cannot make a success of anything except what God has called him to do. As they return the next morning, tired, defeated, discouraged, Jesus is waiting for them on the shore. He has a warm breakfast ready for them, and invites them to come and eat with Him. Here around the campfire, early in the morning He re-organizes His disciples for the work He has for them to do after He has returned to the Father.

SEVENTY-FIVE BANDS TO COMPETE FOR MORE THAN $5,000 IN CASH PRIZES

Wichita Falls, Texas, April 30.—Indications are there will be at least seventy-five bands in Wichita Falls May 16 and 17 for the ninth annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and the Stand Band Contest. L. V. Lawler of this city is manager of the contest. Many entries have already been received. The West Texas Chamber of Commerce and the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce are giving $5,000 in cash prizes. There are six divisions and indications, according to Mr. Lawler, are there will be many entrants in each class. Hundreds of inquiries, Mr. Lawler says, have been received, and this leads him to believe that almost one hundred bands will be here. High School bands thus far are in the lead for entrants. This band contest has always been a big feature at the convention and this year is attracting more interest due to the fact that it is for all bands in the state. The band contest proper will take place on the second day of the convention in order that all may have part in the great convention parade which will be held on Monday, May 16.

Still another feature in musical lines will take place Sunday evening, May 15, when it is expected more than fifty high schools, junior and senior college glee clubs and church choirs will have part in a contest to be given at convention headquarters. Many entrants have already been received by Mayor R. E. Shepherd, Chairman of this special committee. Cash prizes are being offered in this contest and at least fifty musical organizations have indicated entrance.

THAT'S MY BOY

That's my boy—down the road he goes
To school, Lord, how that baby grows—
See how he struts, clothes just like Dad's,
Head up, chest out—Ah, there's a man
Who'll lead the quacking Galahads
To grails that dazzle brighter than Those I have dreamed of, and the joy
Will be half mine for he's my boy.

That's my boy! Valetictories
Come every year, but if you please,
Show me a high school boy or girl
Who'll put the world to rights as quick
Or make Old Glory's folds unfurl
As grandly as he turns the trick.
That's my boy! Proud? I'll say I am.
His kind's the pride of Uncle Sam!

That's my boy! Down the lane he flies,
He leads! He leads! The shouts arise,
The great stands rock with cheers and Jim
Comes flashing, winner, to the line—
A University for him is hoarse. Great lad, that boy of mine!
I know, no matter what the race
Of life, my boy will set the pace.

Theory of So-Called Scientist Regarding Finding of Bones Exposed As Fake By Reliable Citizen and Facts Are Revealed.

To The Editor of The Munday Times:—I have just read the article in your last week's issue by Dick O'Brien, in which he quotes an interview with a scientist of your city by the name of Bengé. My first impression upon reading the interview was that the interviewer had possibly misunderstood the interviewee, but judging from the similarity of the names I judge that both are Irish and hence there is little doubt that the brogue of the scientist could have been misunderstood, and the information is therefore forced to the conclusion that the whole story was a deliberate effort to unquestionably established the credibility of our authority for our story, we shall proceed. This story was told to us many years ago when, as we were strolling down one of the shady roads on this particular section of East Texas, we were overtaken by Mr. Davy, who at that particular time vended his remedies from a wagon, and incidentally was known as Mr. Davies. Being a stranger in that section we soon learned that he was one of the reputable citizens of the community and had for some twenty years been referred to by the populace as ex-mayor Davies, he having been elected at one time as chief executive of Hickory Creek, a thriving village, and was permitted to serve in this capacity for a portion of a term, it is said. But, for fear that we have given too much attention to the preliminaries of this story, we shall proceed.

Being asked to ride on the apothecary wagon, we mounted and took our seat beside the venerable gentleman and accompanied him for several miles down the tree-lined roadway, and our conversation finally turned to the Indians, and the fact that the white man had robbed the Indian of all this great country seemed to weigh heavily upon his mind, and he wondered why the white man had taken it and if there were no way by which the Indians could be made to take it back, and then he proceeded to tell me the sad story of the then extinct Rexall Indians, a peace loving tribe that had in years gone by inhabited that area now known far and near as "The Famous Knox Prairie."

"That was a great tribe of Indians," said our host as he applied the long willow switch to his old and underfed gray horse, "and as chroloe players they had no superiors," said he, as he stopped and greeted one of his patrons who had emerged from a log cabin and hailed him down. After exchanging her a 25c box of Dr. Watkin's Arnica Salve for four large dominecker fryers he resumed his place beside me and continued his story. "Yessiree, those Rexall Indians were great sports, and as chroloe players they had the world backed off the board," said he, "and coming generations will have many theories as to the meaning of the peculiar instruments with

Now, that we have disposed of this matter, we shall turn our efforts toward placing the real facts concerning the find on the golf course. These facts are presented only after close investigation and verification of every detail that might be questioned by an intelligent list of readers as is possessed by your paper. The information that we have gathered on this find are of great historic value and should have a tendency to discredit and bring into disrepute the statements made by your local so-called scientist.

We would not infringe upon the intelligence of the reading public by presenting facts that could not be substantiated by reliable persons, and in this connection let us say that much of the data compiled and given herewith concerning this gruesome find were given to us by no less an authority on ancient mythology than Col. R. B. Davy, who for many years was a vender of roots, herbs, boxberries and gums and other spontaneous products of the earth for the alleviation of pains and aches of humanity—many of which were handed down to him from that tribe of Indians which roamed the woodlands of East Texas in the dim and distant past, and who at this time is engaged in compounding these remedies in your city, as well as the many soft beverages that have played so important a part in alleviating the thirst of the weary wayfaring man since the enactment of a certain law by a Mr. Volstead.

Now, that we have fully and which this fascinating game was played, and in future years when the meddling white man shall invade the sanctity of the tombs of the Rexalls many ignorant and uninformed so-called scientist will give their views on the use to which the distinct Red man put the utensils which have accompanied them to their happy hunting grounds since time immemorial, and many theories will be advanced concerning the utensils with which they played their favorite game of chroloe."

At this juncture we were halted by a gentleman wearing a long beard and a wide mustache, who demanded of our host that he produce a certificate showing that he was really competent and qualified to ply his trade—or profession—among the populace, and upon being unable to do so he was taken into custody, and we were thereby deprived of gaining further information concerning the life, traits, characteristics and games of the now distinct Rexalls, but we believe the casual observer can easily see from the above interview that there is utterly no foundation for the contention of some that there ever existed such characters as "Parthree" and "Fairaway," and since they did not exist, or at least there is no evidence to show that they existed except the mute and speechless bones, then it is our candid opinion that neither did there exist little "Dodo," "Caddy" and the other children of Old Chief "Parthree" and Squaw "Fairaway," and our contention in this matter is based altogether on scientific research.

But, we believe it is only justice to say that the good Samaritan who gave us a lift on the apothecary cart that he later learned to read and write, stood the required examination with flying colors, and is now a very highly respected citizen of "The Famous Knox Prairie," but still he stoutly contends that he has never gone under the name of Daves and states further that he has never practiced dentistry, as some former citizens of East Texas have claimed, and it must be said to his credit that he has furnished the one connecting link between modern civilization and the Ancient Rexalls which refutes and discredits that theory advanced in these columns last week that the ancient Indians were addicted to the golf habit, and this theory is further fortified by the fact that, notwithstanding the many faults and shortcomings of the Red Man, it must be said to his credit that he was truthful, therefore it has been proven conclusively that the present game of golf was entirely unknown to the Indians, and especially the Rexalls, and we believe you do them a great injustice by publishing the article that appeared in your columns last week, and it is with a view of getting this little matter of history corrected that these lines are written, and we believe that these facts should be handed down to posterity in order that there may never be the slightest chance of connecting the Red Man with the game known as golf.

The ancient game of chroloe has survived the Rexalls, and members of the local chroloe club are arranging a tournament on the local links at an early date. Watch for further announcement concerning same in this paper.
