AHA announces May as Stroke Awareness Month

Paralysis, loss of speech and loss of memory are among the disabling outcomes of brain attack, commonly known as stroke. Among the estimated 500,000 people each year who survive brain attack, many were unaware of the warning signs, according to the American Heart Association.

American Heart Association volunteers are working year-round and particularly during Stroke Awareness Month in May, to reduce the incidence of brain attack. The theme for this special month is "Stroke is a Brain Attack. Learn the Warning Signs." Brain attack is the third leading cause of death in the United States, following heart attacks and cancer.

AHA volunteers across the country are pooling their efforts to conduct awareness campaigns about brain attack -- the leading cause of serious disability in the United States. Stroke Awareness Month is designed to alert the public about stroke's warning signs, how it might be prevented and resources available through the American Heart Association.

"Much of the general public is unfamiliar with the warning signs of a stroke," said Shannon Campbell, Regional Director. "Stroke must be treated with the same sense of urgency as a heart attack. In order to receive immediate treatment, people must be able to recognize the warning signs of stroke."

The warning signs associated with stroke are:

- *Sudden weakness or numbness on one side of the body,
- *Sudden dimness or loss of vision, particularly in one eye,
- *Loss of speech or trouble talking or understanding speech,
- *Sudden severe headaches with no apparent cause,
- *Unexplained dizziness, unsteadiness or sudden falls, especially when combined with any of the previous symptoms

If you experience one or more of the warning signs of brain attack, get medical help immediately. Early intervention can minimize damage, and preventive care may reduce the risk of stroke, according to the American Heart Association.

A brain attack occurs when the blood supply to the brain is cut off. Both brain attack and heart attack are diseases of the circulatory system caused by rupturing or blocking of arteries. During a brain attack, the brain is starved for oxygen and brain cells begin to die within minutes. That is why immediate medical attention is crucial. Most brain attacks are caused by blood clots. The rest are caused by bleeding, or hemorrhage. Hemorrhagic strokes have a much higher fatality rate than those caused by clots.

In recent years, several groups have been formed to help survivors of stroke and their families. The Stroke Connection, an AHA network of more than 960 stroke clubs, is one example of groups which offer support, counseling and other services.

For more information on brain attack prevention and treatment or information about local stroke clubs and Stroke Awareness Month activities call your local American Heart Association at (817) 761-5994 or 1-800-AHA-USA-1.

The Christian Life

Jeff Christian - Minister
Munday Church of Christ

When is the last time you talked to an ex-boyfriend or girlfriend from high school? Looking back on my high school years (which were so long ago), I remember a girl I loved very much. As the days went by I said, "I love you", and she told me that she loved me too. But as the years passed, we grew apart, and we lost touch with one another. The last time I saw her was about two years ago. This is not to say that I did not love her. It's just that in this world, there are many different kinds of love.

There is one kind of love that does not fade. This kind of love cannot be separated from us, nor can it become a love that simply loses touch. Because as Psalm 136 reassures us, "His steadfast love endures forever". People may come and go in our lives. People we once considered friends may now only be "hello" relationships we seldom see. Nevertheless, we know that no matter what happens in life, God's love is big enough to cover it all. If you have trouble overcoming something in your own life, do not forget that His steadfast love endures forever. No matter what direction our life takes, He is always there.

Worth makes the man, and want of it the fellow. Alexander Pope

Special Olympics

By Hilda Kunkel

The fun began when the first individual boarded the van in Knox City after a pleasant visit with his parents. The excitement intensified with the send off at the courthouse in Benjamin. Excitement continued to be high as the remainder of the athletes gathered at Seymour Industries in anticipation of going to compete in Special Olympics at Sheppard Air Force Base.

Prior to that anticipated event the group joined other contestants at Lucy Park where they were entertained with a wonderful meal, opportunity to ride a fire truck and dancing on Friday evening. It was then on to Hampton Inn for a night of rest. Visits with Cindy One and Cindy Two, who were receptionists at the desk, added to the enjoyment of the trip as did the beautiful smile extended to all by the motel staff member that saw to it that all were provided with food for breakfast Saturday morning. Another positive addition was a visit with a man from Hawaii who had just helped with Special Olympics in his home state.

After breakfast Saturday morning one Seymour Super Sport, Kevin Reed of Knox City, joined torch bearers at the police station to run with the torch from that location to Sheppard Field's track field. Kevin was honored by carrying the torch for two divided distances.

Other athletes reported along with coaches at the track field at 7 a.m. Coaches went to the gym and picked up waiting materials. Within ten minutes those in the gym were told to evacuate the building. A call had been received so a bomb search had to be made of the gym.

Teams were placed in position for a parade along the track field.

Kevin made it in the nick of time. The group carried the Seymour Super Sports banner with pride. Candice Gray was unable to march in the parade because she awaited the torch bearers bringing in the torch so she could participate in it being carried around the track field before the Olympic Flame was lit. Candice participated in the first leg of distance around the track.

After opening ceremonies, teams reported to tents to wait for the call for events at 9:15. Shortly before time for the first call was sounded, lightning flashed and everyone headed for the gym. After a couple of hours of awaiting the passing of the threatening cloud, it was announced that there would not be a contest but athletes could go out and do their thing without times and distances being kept with no trophies being awarded.

The Seymour Super Sports, along with coaches and family members, decided to complete the day with a meal at Davenport's which was thoroughly enjoyed.

Athletes and their anticipated competition were as follows:

Candice Gray as a demo in standing long jump, softball throw and 50 meter dash.

Shari Brown of Benjamin in 50 meter dash, softball throw and tennis ball throw.

Sheri Pitcock in 50 meter dash, softball throw and tennis ball throw.

Kevin Reed of Knox City in 400 meter run, softball throw and tennis ball throw.

W. L. Yoe in 25 meter wheelchair, softball throw and tennis ball throw.

Partners for the Seymour Super Sports athletes were Joe Bob Gray, Ann Heathe Hortin, Patrick Barber, Kim Robinson, Chris Christensen, Phil Rogers and Aaron Smith. Their help was deeply appreciated.

Family members joining the athletes for the day were Charles and Fay Reed of Knox City, Stanton Brown of Benjamin, Kayleen Pitcock of Seymour and Kim Pitcock of Lubbock.

Coaches participating were Connie Gray, Rick Barrick and Hilda Kunkel.

Although the weather and no contest was a great disappointment for the athletes I left the base with good thoughts receiving a hug from partner Patrick Barber and voiced message, "I want to be a part of your group next year." Something we would like along with good weather.

Rookie of the Year announced

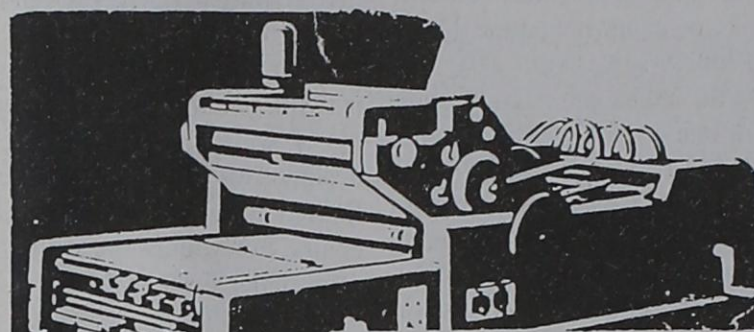

A unanimous decision was reached on Thursday, April 27, at 6:33 a.m. for the 1995 Rookie of the Year Award. This great honor was awarded to Cameron Grant Coffman. The one foot, nine inch, eight pound phenom made his triumphant debut at Hendrick Medical Center in Abilene.

Grant, however, does not take full credit for this award. He "hoop"la'd many thanks to his great teammates Drew, Jordan, and Riley Coffman for helping make him such a sensation. He also attributed a part of his success to his very proud grandparents Jo and Don Coffman of Goree, and Dot and Billie Jake Myers of Rhineland. Credit was also given to his great-grandparents Ruth Coffman of Goree, and Pud and Susie Brockett of Munday.

With the powerful combination of experienced teammates and the rookie wonder, winning championships will be old hat for his parents, Coach Mark and Darla Coffman of Haskell.

Special guests were: Regional Manager Richard Schroeder; and sales representative for Scotland and Windthorst, Ray Lindemann, and his wife, Mildred. The Branch #10 sales representative, Alvin Jungman of Seymour, was also present.

Lots of door prizes were given and lots of fun was had by all. We would like to thank all those who helped make this event successful and those who attended the meeting.

God bless you all!

Health officials issue warnings about state's skin cancer risks

The Texas Department of Health (TDH) each year warns that skin cancer is the most common type of cancer in the United States. Because of its latitude, Texas is exposed to higher levels of cancer-causing radiation than are some other states.

In 1995, there will be about 34,000 new cases of malignant melanoma, and about 800,000 new cases of basal and squamous cell skin cancer in the U. S. Experts estimate that about 7,200 deaths from malignant melanoma, and about 2,100 deaths from the other types of skin cancer will occur in the country this year.

However, according to Dr. Daniel A. Goldman, a physician with the TDH Bureau of Chronic Disease, "All types of skin cancer occur more frequently in fair-skinned individuals who have been repeatedly exposed to the sun, ultraviolet light or X-rays."

He explained that the danger from sunlight is increasing, according to scientists, since air pollution continues to deplete the protective ozone layer of the earth's atmosphere. The incidence rate for malignant melanoma, the most deadly form of skin cancer, has been increasing at a rate of 4 percent per year, and the death rate for all skin cancers has nearly doubled during the last 16 years, he said.

"However, skin cancer is mostly preventable, when precautions are taken, and virtually 100 percent of skin cancers are curable, if diagnosed and removed early," Dr. Goldman said.

Dr. Goldman added that people should regularly examine their skin and their children's skin. Any changes in the size or color of moles or other features warrant a doctor's opinion.

"Anyone who must be in the sun should use a sunscreen rated 15 or higher, and apply it at least half an hour before going out into the sun. Use a waterproof formula, or reapply after swimming or heavy perspiration," Dr. Goldman advised. "Commonly-used chemical sunscreens block ultraviolet B, but are virtually transparent to ultraviolet A, and may not be as effective in preventing skin cancer as previously thought," he cautioned. Other things people can do to lower the risk of skin cancer include:

- *Wear protective clothing - hats, long sleeves and gloves.
*Avoid the sun's most intense rays, between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m.
*Never use sunlamps, tanning booths or tanning pills.
*Avoid prolonged sunbathing.
*Take care that your children are not subject to excessive sun exposure.

The National Weather Service produces a daily UV index for meteorologists to use in forecasting the amount of ultraviolet sunlight for 58 major U. S. cities. The UV index is a scale of 0-15, with higher numbers indicating higher levels of UV radiation and more risk of sunburn, skin damage and skin cancer.

Getting rid of the washday blues

A stain doesn't necessarily mean an outfit is destined for the trash. Many stains come out quite easily if you take the proper action. Treat stains right the first time, and you may be able to save time and money - and that outfit!

*Never let a stain set. The longer you let it go before treating, the likelier it will be that the stain will set and be impossible to remove.

*While some people think that milk is good for ink stains, it really isn't. In fact, milk may add to the problem because it can leave a protein stain. Instead, try hairspray and blot with a clean dry cloth. Use a stain-remover stick on the spot and launder.

*The best stain remover for grass stains is shampoo - oily hair formula.

*If you discover a stain after the garment has gone through the wash, don't dry it. Heat may permanently set the stain. Pretreat it and rewash.

*When hand washing dark items for the first two or three times, add one tablespoon salt or vinegar to the water. This helps set the color and prevents bleeding and fading of the fabric.

Emergency Medical Service dedicated to saving lives

National Emergency Medical Services (EMS) Week, a celebration to honor approximately 750,000 EMS providers nationwide who deliver lifesaving emergency care, is scheduled for May 14-20. The 1995 EMS Week theme is, EMS: We're There For Life, emphasizes the significant role career and volunteer EMS providers play in saving lives.

"National EMS Week honors the lifesaving care EMS providers offer nationwide. The men and women in this field deserve to be recognized and honored for their heroic efforts, and EMS Week is an opportunity to say thanks," according to Stephen Kuehler, administrator of Knox County Hospital District.

"EMS providers are available 24 hours a day, 365 days a year standing ready with their commitment to human life in cases of emergency," Kuehler said. "EMS personnel are rigorously trained to be ready in any emergency, regardless of circumstances. Because of the vast spaces in the state, Texas has one of the most highly developed networks for emergency care. Residents in Knox County and the surrounding area depend on the skills of Knox County Hospital District's Emergency Medical Service to provide lifesaving emergency care. The assurance that our EMS personnel are standing watch over our community is very comforting."

"Agreeing to serve the community as a member of the Emergency Medical Service is a commitment to excellence," Joel Greenwood, EMT-P said. "We don't get a second chance to do procedures correctly," he said. "We have to be right the first time, every time. Our commitment to the community has to be that our training and skills practice prepare us to do whatever is necessary in emergency situations."

Some days at the EMS are quiet, with routine matters. But other days may bring a wide range of emergencies, and the EMS personnel must stay in a state of constant readiness to deal with them. The EMT's and paramedics may be called on at any time to care for victims of car wrecks, heart attacks, chemical spills, house fires, domestic violence, assaults, tornados, or industrial accidents.

"The Oklahoma City bombing was a reminder to all of us that preparedness is the key factor in how effectively EMS personnel perform on the site of an emergency. To do our job well, we must sustain a high level of training at all times. We maintain a regular schedule of skills practice and training in which mass casualties are expected in the most grueling circumstances. We are trained extensively in preparation for mass casualties and triage and though we hope that circumstances such as were exhibited in the Oklahoma City disaster never occur, we are confident that we are ready to perform our duty under any circumstance," Richard Bird added.

The Knox County Hospital District's EMS team maintains an extraordinary level of communication with other first response units, such as the Police and Fire departments as well as neighboring first response units. "When an emergency occurs communication means life or death," Lissa Myers said. "You never know exactly what you'll find on the scene. We may have to help extricate the victims from the wreckage or be faced with a fire in an automobile, building or residence. Every call is different, and every call demands our best."

"Our profession is very rewarding," Dana Hendrix said. "We get a deep satisfaction knowing that we have saved a life, or prevented needless suffering. People are usually so grateful to see calm, efficient professionals there to help them in an emergency."

The team of the EMS consists of full-time staff members: Joel Greenwood, EMT-P; Richard Bird, EMT-P; Lissa Myers, EMT-P; and Dana Hendrix, EMT-P.

Completing the EMS support team are volunteer members.

EMT-I's are: Mary Beth Bird, Roland Marion, Sue Marion and Jan Rolston. EMT-B's are: Betty Bailiff, Belinda Brown, Lane Davis, Ted Felts, Lara Steen, Keith Rogers, Mickey Jackson, Pam Reed, Bill Williams, Sheila Morgan, George Gross, Traci Ramirez, Danny Parker, Dwayne Redder, Michelle Parker, Jai Reed and Harry Steen. ECA's are: Charlotte Brown, Ronnie Brown, Mike Echols, Deanna Greenwood, Jimmy Harlan, Bill Myers, Grady Weaver, Larry Welch, Connie White.

Purpose of the meeting is to elect officers for the 1995-96 school year.

Delta Kappa Gamma meets May 7 at Rule

The Beta Chi Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma Society International met Sunday, May 7, at the home economics room of Rule High School.

President Vida White called the meeting to order. Betsy McManamon, recording secretary, read the minutes from the last meeting, Margaret Chafin gave the treasurer's report and Sara Hogdin read correspondence to the group.

President White introduced Lynn Burton, superintendent of schools in Rule, who gave vital information to the Beta Chi chapter on education code such as school discipline, textbooks, salaries and retirement, school prayer, school facilities, vouchers, sex education, and the no-pass/no-play rule.

The Texas legislature has set May 24 as the target date for the changes. After his very informative talk, Mr. Burton allowed the group to ask additional questions.

Cathy Bartley presented the Red Rose salute to treasurer, Margaret Chafin, and the Beta Chi Woman of the Year Award to President Vida White. Jackye Leonard presented the President's pin to Mrs. White to signify the end of her first year as Beta Chi president.

The Delta Kappa Gamma Song was led by Mary Martin and President White adjourned the meeting. Delicious refreshments were served by the Rule members.

Thank you for your services. This is the last article on DKG until October.

Continuous movement makes a big difference in T-L performance.

Does each tower on your pivot system move continuously? They do on a T-L. And, that's important, especially with the concentrated water patterns of low-pressure systems for irrigation-applied fertilizer, herbicides and pesticides.

With a T-L system, a constant flow of hydraulic power keeps each tower moving continuously in unison with others. Water application is more uniform and efficient. The drive system lasts longer without the stress of frequent stops and starts. In addition, the steady pull of a T-L gives better traction through wet spots and over rough terrain.

The choice is simple.
