East

by Aaron Edgar

Thank you for not smoking.

It's been nigh onto a decade, we reckon, since we saw the first of these signs displayed in big-town establishments.

They became more prominent, to our knowledge, in the offices of doctors or specialists. The idea was to protect their patients who filled the waiting rooms from that "second-hand" breath-taking smoke caused by those who were pulling on the weed.

Oftentimes, the physician was one who was known to indulge in inhaling the burnings from a cigarette or cigar, but he'd refrain while waiting on a patient. He wanted to protect his patients from those who rudely filled the waiting room with obnoxious odors - and the only way to avoid a whiff of these was to quit breathing or leave the room.

The idea of sticking "no smoking" signs in prominent places wasn't met with enthusiasm by those who were "hooked on the weed". Their idea was that it was infringing on their individual rights, with no idea of what their obsession was doing to the rights of non-smokers.

We've known of the advancement of ideas to be respectful of the rights of others by providing smoking rooms on railway trains and in public places. But prohibiting smoking in places of business sort of made the ire rise for the habitual smoker.

But the business person was not only protecting the rights of his customers, but his merchandise as well. A reckless smoker can sometimes play havoc with merchandise displayed out in the open for the benefit of shoppers.

The idea has ballooned until it is not unusual to see a "no smoking" sign most anywhere, especially in the vicinity of inflammable substances. And we think this is as it should be.

We once had the habit in a big way!

It all started way back when we had the kid idea that it was an accomplishment to be able to inhale a big batch of smoke without choking half to death. We preferred Prince Albert, but the impression of the container on our person when shoved into a hip pocket was more detectable by our objecting parent than was the baggy Bull Durham type. The bag was easily closed, too, by catching the pull-string in the teeth, then pulling the bag closed.

We think our father knew full well that we were smoking on the sly, but he'd rather play ignorant of the fact than to engage in a full-scale battle. A crazy boy might be able to hide all the outward evidence, except the odor!

Back in the days of the Great Depression, the tobacco habit became almost too expensive to be continued. Then it was that the industry came out with a cigarette roller and a stringy type of tobacco that could be rolled by this machine into a fair semblance of the "ready made" cigarette.

The smoker might employ some of his night-time energy with this machine and "Kite" tobacco to roll up a batch of cigarettes to last him through the following day.

We used to silently take issue with those who argued that tobacco was filthy in any form - that the person who

Water Authority Customers Are Using A Heap Of Water

Even though water pumps of North Central Texas Municipal Water Authority are operating at near capacity these days, there's no cause to worry about our water supply, according to Pete Beecher, general manager.

"When we say the lake level is better than six feet below the spillway," Beecher said, "it's nothing to get excited about. You see, we completed adding three feet to the spillway level in mid-June, so this means that the original lake level is down about three feet, four inches.

"During the extended dry period in 1980, the lake level was down about 6 1/2 feet," Beecher continued, "so we still have enough water to last several years."

Consumption has been running high during most of July, and no rains have come to raise the water level to lake capacity.

As a conservative measure, many in Munday have cut down on their water consumption, and home lawns about town are showing the result. And our own city hall lawn is no exception.

Pumps at the reservoir have been operating from 20 to 24 hours a day, Beecher said, and that means we are pumping around 2,200,000 gallons per day. There is no sign of immediate relief in the area, but Beecher assures that pumping capacity can be raised to three million gallons per day, if necessary.

The City of Munday, where readings are taken daily, consumption has been increased by better than 100,000 gallons, per day, according to records kept at the city hall.

On July 15, the city consumed 415,000 gallons, and this was increased by 22,000 gallons the next two days. Then there came a jump to 515,000 gallons on July 18. The peak of consumption for the 10-day period was 556,000 gallons on July 21, then it leveled off to an average of 515,000 gallons for the following three days.

Efforts of local consumers are pointed toward staying cool and protecting their shrubbery, etc., during the intense heat. Prognosticators predict a "cooling off" period around mid-August - if you can last that long!

"Texas Football" Predicts 4th Place Finish For Moguls

The summer issue of Dave Campbell's "Texas Football" lists the Munday Moguls as number four in District 4-AA for the upcoming football season. The magazine's writers pick Paducah to take the district crown this year, as the Dragons return 16 lettermen from their 1982 team, 14 of them starters.

The Hamlin Pied Pipers are the runner-up choice, with six starters returning both ways, and Haskell is picked for third place. The Indians have only two offensive and four defensive starters returning from last year's district championship team. Seymour, listed in fifth place in the district predictions, should improve on their poor record of 1982 with 19 starters coming back, and Rotan is looking at nine returnees to help them disprove a predicted sixth place finish.

About the Moguls, Campbell writes, "Munday posted a 7-3 record in 1982 and has plans to better that mark this fall because of the presence of five offensive and four defensive holdovers. Tailback Quincy Adams has the speed and ability to elude defenders, and to go with his talent the team can look to the services of quarterback Dent Offutt, split end Kent Josselet, wingback Jim Earl Dockins, tight end Paul Wright, tackle Johnny Collier and guards Greg Urbanczyk and Pat Angerer. That all could add up to a winning combination."

Local fans are eagerly waiting the arrival of football season and will be expecting the Moguls to contradict prognosticators by turning in a winning performance each week.

SUMMER'S HERE: If you have any doubt about summer being here, just take a "gander" at the temperature reading at the First National Bank. This photo showing a reading of 104 degrees was made about 2:30 p.m. Tuesday. The thing showed us 107 degrees for a brief period of time on Monday.

Munday Firemen At Annual A&M School

Three members of the Munday Volunteer Fire Department left last Sunday for College Station, and enrolled Monday in the annual firemen's school at Texas A&M University. The school will continue through Friday of this week.

The group was headed by Ray Lynn Hardin, who has been a volunteer fireman for Munday for over twenty years. This makes his eighth or ninth trip to the annual firemen's school.

Last year, Mr. Hardin was the only one to represent Munday at the school, but this year the group was increased to three members. Others in attendance are Freddie Caram and Buford Berryhill.

During their week at A&M, firemen receive intensive and up-to-date training in the use of newest equipment and advanced methods of firefighting. The men will be fighting sample fires of all types and receive instruction in the equipment used in each type.

In addition to knowledge gained at the school, the City of Munday will also receive credit on fire insurance rates by being represented at this annual event.

Mark E. Mapston of Wichita Falls, who is with the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, gave a slide presentation on predatory animal control in this area to members of the Munday Lions Club in their Tuesday meeting.

Mr. Mapston showed several most prominent predators in the area, their methods of attacking their prey, and methods of eradication. These animals are more of a menace in the ranching area.

They included: the grey fox, red fox (mostly feared as a carrier of rabies), the bobcat, mountain lion, the ever-present coyote, and the red wolf of east Texas. He concluded his presentation with a question and answer period. Charles Baker was in charge of the program and introduced the speaker.

Mr. Jack Stewart and Mrs. David McGaughey, Sonja and Keith, left Monday morning for a five-day "cooling-off" period in the vicinity of Colorado Springs, Colo.

Moorhouse Ranch To Again Defend Ranch Roundup Titles

The Moorhouse Ranch, a 40,000-acre spread located several miles west of Benjamin will defend not one but two titles during the 1983 Texas Ranch Roundup activities in Wichita Falls on August 19-20.

The ranch lays title to the 1982 Ranch Queen, Susan Stephens, and the 1982 Best Ranch in Texas title.

Moorhouse Ranch is owned by the Moorhouse family, headed by J. C. (Togo) and Lucille Moorhouse, with their son, Tom Moorhouse, as co-manager.

After edging out the Pitchfork Land and Cattle Company and the U Lazy S Ranch teams - both tied at second - by one point last year, the Moorhouse team plans to use the same strategy which has proved successful in the past.

"We'll try to do our very best," says Tom Moorhouse, co-manager of the 40,000 acre spread. "We're also unselfish about our selection of participants. Everyone gets a chance."

"Everyone" includes a 12-person ranch team, eight of whom are from the Moorhouse family. Since grandparents, brothers and children all work on the ranch, they are included in the roundup team.

Moorhouse claims that winning helps the team strategy. "We have won the title once," Moorhouse says. "Once you do that, it just makes you try that much harder to reach the top again."

The top is something Tom Moorhouse has reached before. Voted the best all-around hand in the first roundup primarily for his breath-taking saddle bronc ride, he lead his ranch to victory last year with an equally spectacular showing atop a bucking horse.

Though a smaller and younger ranch than most entered in the Texas Ranch Roundup, the Moorhouse Ranch perennially has ranked high in roundup competition. Moorhouse says he has no secrets for winning in the roundup.

"Everyone is capable of winning that trophy," notes the cowboy. "But you have to count on the luck of the draw and then go into this event with a spirit of competition."

That spirit of competition was the catalyst for Moorhouse's joining the Texas Ranch Roundup in the first place.

"We felt that the roundup resembled chores and activities which we had done all our lives," Moorhouse explains. "We felt if we could compete against other ranches on the same level, cowboy to cowboy, we would find out if we were really as capable as we thought we were."

The other ranches facing the Moorhouses at the Mounted Patrol Arena will include R.A. Brown Ranch, Cowan & Son Circle Bar Ranch, Double U Hereford Ranch, Four Sixes Ranch, Lewis Ranches, Pitchfork Land & Cattle Co., Scharbauer Ranches, Renderbrook Spade Ranch, Swen R. Swenson Cattle Co., Tongue River Ranch Corporation, U Lazy S Ranch, and the W. T. Waggoner Estate.

In addition to such roundup events as team branding, the ranches will also compete in a ranch cookin' contest and queen and talent contests.

The event begins Friday night at 7:30 p.m., followed by a country and western dance at 9 p.m. Saturday's afternoon events include the cooking, talent and queen contests, followed by the evening roundup performance at 7:30 p.m. and the 9 p.m. dance.

Tickets are available at Wichita Western World, The Cow Lot, Holts Sporting Goods, Cruse Western Wear and Cuttys, all in Wichita Falls; Hughes Western Wear in Vernon, and Frontier

Western Wear in Bowie. The 1983 Texas Ranch Roundup is co-sponsored by the North Texas Rehabilitation Center and Budweiser. Proceeds from the 1983 Texas Ranch Roundup will benefit the North Texas Rehabilitation Center, Wichita Falls; The West Texas Rehabilitation Center, Abilene; and the West Texas Boys Ranch, San Angelo.

CATCH A CARP

Carp are generally plentiful, bite readily, are an excellent fighting fish, and offer variety for family menus, says a fisheries specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Carp are usually found around brush piles or ledges in a calm, secluded cove or below a dam. It's best to bait the site with such materials as fermented grain, cottonseed cake, rotten potatoes, range cubes or specially prepared dough at least six hours before fishing. Use at least a 15-pound test line and size eight hook or larger.

Heat Getting You Down?

Here are ways to deal with heat problems:
Sunstroke - Grave emergency. Often fatal. Act quickly to cool victim.

Symptoms: Very hot, absolutely dry skin, no sweating. Body temperature very high. Dizziness, headache, dryness of mouth and skin, and nausea. Face is flushed and skin is hot and dry. Pulse is rapid, breathing rapid, mental confusion and convulsions may occur.

Treatment: Place the person on his back with his head slightly elevated. Place him in a cool area. Wet cloths or ice packs should be placed on the head to cool it immediately. If he can't be moved to a shelter, drench his clothes with cold water, poured or sprayed with a hose. Arms and legs should be massaged toward the heart to aid circulation. Continue messaging until the skin is no longer hot or flushed. NO STIMULANTS. If conscious, the person may have cool drinks.

Heat Exhaustion - This is different from heat stroke or sunstroke.
Symptoms: Face is pale, perspiration is profuse and the entire body may be clammy. Pulse is weak, breathing shallow, weakness extreme. Nausea, vomiting, dizziness and unsteadiness are almost always present.

Treatment: The person should lie down with his head level or slightly lower than heart level. He should be in a airy and ventilated place if possible. He should be lightly covered and given 1/2 teaspoon salt in 1/3 glass of water. Repeat 2 or 3 times. He may drink warm coffee or tea.

Prevention of Heat Sickness
Frequent rest periods, salt tablets, drink at least 12 glasses of water each day. Wear light, loose clothing and hat. If nauseated or dizzy, go at once to cool area and sit down. Don't hesitate to call your physician.

Fall Webworms In Pecans

Fall webworms are not commonly a problem for most commercial and home pecan producers in Knox County but more infestations are being observed than usual. This past winter was very mild and that is one possible reason for the greater abundance of this pecan pest.

The female fall webworm moth lays masses of greenish-white eggs on the pecan leaves. The egg masses are covered with scales from the females body.

When the eggs hatch the larvae begin to feed on the leaves. At the same time they produce a loosely woven dirty-white web. As the larvae feed and grow they continue to construct the web and eventually the web can cover entire branches. The larvae feed for 4 to 6 weeks.

After completing their development the larvae crawl down the tree and pupate in loose cocoons in debris, under the bark or in loose soil.

There are two generations each year. The larvae of the summer-fall generation after completing their development, pass the winter in the pupal stage.

Light infestation of fall webworms can be controlled by pruning out affected branches and destroying the larvae.

Fall webworms rarely cause economic damage to managed groves. At what level fall webworms will cause economic damage has not been determined. When fall webworms are causing excessive foliage loss, trees that are infested should be spot sprayed directing the spray at the web. The insecticide must penetrate the web to be effective. Suggested chemicals for fall webworm control are listed in L-1350 "Suggestions for Controlling Insects and Diseases in Commercial Pecans." This publication is available at your County Extension Agent's Office.

Police Report

Police Chief Gerald Saffel The week of July 18-July 24 was a busy one for the police department. We issued three traffic citations and investigated two accidents, neither of which involved injuries.

One subject was arrested on a civil warrant. There were two felony complaints handled. One of these involved a family disturbance that resulted in a warrant for aggravated assault being issued for a male subject who beat a female and stabbed her with a knife. Also, one charge of felony criminal trespass is to be filed on a male subject who walked into an unlocked residence.

We assisted Knox City in one arrest and assisted the county in one family disturbance in Goree.

The Law Enforcement Explorer post wishes to thank all local people and businesses who donated to the Explorer cause by buying emergency stickers. The Explorers need over $1000 to buy uniforms, and they had collected over $700 by Saturday. If you wish to donate and have not been contacted, call Chief Saffel at 422-4223. Thank you again for your help. The Explorers hope the emergency stickers for telephones will aid someone if they need quick service in an emergency.

Time Nears For Fall Gardening

Although there is still plenty of hot weather ahead, it's time to start getting things in shape for your fall vegetable garden.

Much of Texas is well suited for year-round gardening, and fall vegetables generally have better quality and flavor than those grown in the spring, says Dr. Sam Cotner, horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Many popular warm-season vegetables such as tomatoes, peppers, eggplants, pole beans, potatoes, okra, cucumbers and squash can be planted during the coming weeks.

Also, the so-called "winter" vegetables such as broccoli, cabbage, cauliflower, greens, parsley and carrots can be planted now for early harvesting. Later plantings of these cold-hardy crops will supply fresh vegetables well into winter.

What are some of the important aspects of fall gardening?

First of all, get the land into good shape, suggests Cotner. If you had a garden this spring and fertilizer was applied, little if any additional fertilizer will be needed before fall planting.

For new gardens, apply two to three pounds of a complete fertilizer such as 10-20-10 per 100 square feet and work it into the soil, recommends the horticulturist. If plants make slow growth, apply a light amount of fertilizer between rows and water it into the soil.

Adequate water is vital for a successful fall garden, particularly for seed germination and early plant growth. Cotner suggests "pre-irrigation" before planting followed by subsequent, light waterings three or four times a week to keep soil from drying and crusting. Water stress during early growth of plants can reduce later yields.

Transplanting is a good practice in the fall since this allows seed to be started in areas sheltered from high temperatures and drying winds. Check at garden centers for recommended varieties of vegetables and strong, vigorous, healthy plants. Or you may want to grow your own transplants, notes the horticulturist.

Weinert Baptist Church To Observe 75th Anniversary

The Weinert Baptist Church will celebrate its 75th anniversary on Sunday, September 11, and members are busy making preparations for the occasion.

Several former pastors will speak throughout the day-long celebration. The present pastor is Rev. Steve Peace.

Members, former members, and friends are urged to make plans to attend the activities scheduled for this special day.

LOOK TO THE EAST

smoked was just as nasty as the one who chewed.

The smoker never left any of those dark-brown spots on his shirt front or other portions of his clothing, but in time he'd find those burned spots on a shirt or suit caused by sparks that fell from his cigarette. A chewer used a spittoon at times, but an ash tray filled with "dead" cigarette butts and ashes can smell just as foul.

We were somewhat apprehensive that day when our doctor said: "The smartest thing you can do is quit smoking", but we accepted the challenge on February 25, 1963, when we smoked our bedtime cigarette at 10 p.m.

Years and years passed, then one day a brother-in-law said: "You used to smoke, didn't you?" We replied in the affirmative; then, he came back with: "What would it take to get you started smoking again?" "Brother," we answered, "you just ain't got enough money to entice me!"

The fact that cigarettes are health hazards is well known. It doesn't take a decision from the surgeon-general to convince us.

Even now, our body says to us at times: "Thank you for not smoking!"

CAPITOL UPDATE

John Tower
U.S. SENATOR for TEXAS
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20510

The serious economic problems Mexico is experiencing have affected Texas, particularly areas along the border, in a number of ways. One of the most serious is the steady increase in the number of illegal aliens crossing Texas' 899 mile border with Mexico.

This problem has created a burden for border area school districts, which already had been responsible for providing free public education to thousands of alien children in the United States legally and illegally. During a two-year period, for example, Brownsville alone experienced a 4,000-student increase in enrollment, primarily from alien children.

The Texas lieutenant governor's office estimates there are currently about 29,000 illegal alien children enrolled in Texas schools, an increase from about 25,000 last year. Because of the difficulty in counting illegal alien residents, the actual number could well be higher. Additionally, many alien children who reside in this country legally also attend Texas public schools.

The rising number of illegal alien children is of particular concern, since school districts must provide not only teachers, books and materials for these students, but also buildings and other facilities as well. An increase in enrollment caused by additional alien children, then, may make it necessary for a district to build new facilities.

Since most school districts along the border already have relatively high property tax rates, this additional burden is difficult to absorb with the local tax base.

The number of alien children enrolled in our schools is an effect of federal immigration policy -- and the government's inability to enforce its immigration laws. Therefore, the federal government has a responsibility to help affected school districts.

I am sponsoring legislation to provide federal assistance to school districts with large concentrations of alien students. My bill would provide up to $1,000 per alien child for school districts in which these children account for 500 students or 5 percent of the student body, whichever number is lower.

The federal government already provides similar assistance to school districts with large concentrations of children from military families, because we have always believed that local school districts should not have to bear sole responsibility for educating children whose parents work on federal reservations.

Certainly, the federal responsibility for alien children, particularly those here illegally, is comparable to that for military families.

I strongly believe my legislation is of tremendous importance to all border states, and the nation as a whole. At my request, the Senate Education Subcommittee will hold a hearing on my bill during the coming week. I will participate in this hearing, as will Texas state and local school officials.

It is my hope that my colleagues will understand the federal responsibility to these school districts and pass this important legislation.

Takes Trip To Hill Country

Joseph Decker of Rhineland recently took an interesting trip to the San Antonio area, during which he visited several relatives and did some sightseeing. On July 12 he saw a cousin who is a sister at the Ursuline Convent in San Antonio, and later in the week he visited other relatives in Beeville and a cousin, Hilda Hoffman, in Hopson.

He toured the Zimmer Nursery in Beeville, and saw several antiques in Fredericksburg, including an old zither like the one Mr. Decker owns, a honey extractor and some screen doors like his that were made in 1905. He also got to see a building in Fredericksburg in which he worked for a short time in 1914.

Coming home on July 16, Mr. Decker talked to an old soldier, aged 83, in Brady who knew where Rhineland is. They had a good visit.

Mr. Decker was accompanied on his trip by some of his family.

Remember To Donate At Bloodmobile

Every minute, more than 25 units of blood or specialized blood components are transfused. That's nearly 37,000 units each day. With its voluntary blood donations, the American Red Cross Blood Services fulfills the blood needs of some 130,000,000 Americans, half the total of the U.S. population. The Red Cross Blood Services is based on the philosophy that blood should be available to all persons who need this life supporting substance regardless of ability to donate, place of residence, race, economic status, or membership in a specific group.

Red Cross Blood Services has two major objectives: to meet the blood needs of the 57 regional areas, which Red Cross serves; and to help meet the blood needs of Americans nationwide.

To accomplish these two objectives, Red Cross Blood Services needs volunteer blood donors who are willing and medically able to donate blood. Community responsibility makes each eligible person equally responsible for meeting not only his family's blood needs, but also the blood needs of his community. Each person needs to accept this responsibility and help provide blood for those who need it.

Be a part of your community. Give blood when the Bloodmobile visits our town on Monday, August 8, at the Munday Community Center. They will be open between 2:45 and 6:30 p.m. and they need your help.

Helping Your Doctor Keep You Alive

ALCOHOL AND YOU
Heavy drinking of alcoholic beverages can raise blood pressure. High blood pressure is second only to smoking as a factor that increases your risk of heart disease.

Overweight drinkers should remember that beer and mixed drinks are high in calories.

To find out if you have high blood pressure, see your doctor.

Tough But Pretty Periwinkles

For a plant that withstands summer heat, has few insect problems, tolerates city smog and at the same time offers beauty to the landscape, try the Madagascar periwinkle. The periwinkle is finding its way into more and more yards and gardens each summer because it's tough and heat tolerant, says a landscape horticulturist with the Agricultural Extension Service. In addition, periwinkles come in a variety of colors and have narrow, dark-green, glossy leaves which will give a boost to any yard or garden where other plants may languish.

A kernel of corn must be heated to 400 degrees Fahrenheit before it will pop.

Food Spending Soars But Farm Income at 1930s Low

Source: Economic Report of the President, 1983

"In spite of the steady growth of food spending by American consumers, the net income of American farmers has not kept pace in recent times, falling now to the lowest level in real dollars since the early 1930s," says Texas Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower. "It's easy to see that farmers haven't always benefited from greater food spending, which instead has been absorbed by the supply, processing and marketing sectors."

Power Plant Costs Less Than Expected

The estimated cost of West Texas Utilities Co.'s Oklahoma Power Station, now under construction in North Texas, has been reduced by $127 million.

The announcement was made Friday by Durwood Chalker of Dallas, chairman and chief executive officer of Central and South West Corp., WTU's parent company, at a presentation before the Utility and Telecommunications Securities Club of Chicago.

The reduced cost estimate results primarily from being able to negotiate better contracts in today's market with manufacturers and suppliers for practically all of the equipment needed for Oklahoma, Chalker said. The cost had been estimated at $525 million a year ago, but now is estimated at $398 million.

The Oklahoma Power Station will have a net generating capacity of 640 megawatts and will be the first power plant in WTU's system to burn coal as a boiler fuel. The plant is scheduled for completion in December 1986 and will be in full operation before the summer of 1987.

It will be owned jointly by WTU and two other CSW subsidiaries, Public Service Co. of Oklahoma and Central Power and Light Co. WTU will own 55 percent of the plant and will be the operating partner.
